The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. The assessor shall place upon the black-and-white copy of the official assessement map of the borough, within the lines enclosing the various lots shown thereon, the name or names of the respective owners of such lots, on or before August first, 1898, and shall on or before the first day of each succeeding August make such changes in said names as changes in the ownership of such lots may make proper.

Sec. 2. The assessor shall enter each year, upon a field book to be furnished him by the Council, in each and every case, the information indicated by the following several headings, viz:

"Owner," "Location," "Dimensions of Land," "Description of Buildings," "Value of Land," "Value of Buildings," "Personal Property," "Deductions," "Total Assessed Value," "Dog" and "Poll."

Sec. 3. The assessor shall complete the field book mentioned in the preceding section and also make annually an original duplicate of his assessments for such year, and a true copy thereof, and present such field book, copy of assessment map, duplicate and copy thereof, at the first meeting, regular or special, of the Council in August of each year, and continue to so present them at any adjourned or other meeting of the Council, at the pleasure of the Council until the duplicate is finally corrected and approved as required by law: For the purpose of this section the said duplicate and copy thereof need contain only the names of owners, the location of property, the assessed value and the character of property, whether real or personal.

Sec. 4. Before any duplicate is finally approved as required by law, the copy thereof mentioned in preceding section shall be compared with the original and made to correspond therewith in the particulars specified in said section by the Borough Clerk, and shall thereafter remain in the custody of the Borough Clerk without further alteration, subject to such use as the Council may, from time to time, by resolution determine. After any duplicate shall have been finally approved by the Council, no change in the amount of any assessment contained therein shall be made by the Assessor or Collector except first authorized by resolution of the Council.

Sec. 5. The Commissioners of Appeal shall annually make and certify under their hands or the hands of a majority of them, duplicate reports in writing in detail of all allowances and deductions or other changes in assessments made or allowed by them, and shall deliver within five days after their meeting in each year one copy of such report to the Borough Clerk and the other copy to the Collector, and said Clerk and Collector shall severally file and preserve every such report.

Sec. 6. No exemption from taxation shall be allowed to any soldier, sailor, member of the national guard, or active or exempt fireman, except on property owned by and assessed to such soldier, sailor, member of the national guard, active or exempt fireman, and no exempt fireman except such as shall have earned his exemption in the service of a fire department within the limits of the Borough of North Plainfield shall be allowed any such exemption as exempt fireman.

Sec. 7. No allowance or deduction shall be made from any assessment by the Collector except by virtue of resolution of the Council or the certified written report of the commissioners of appeal on file with the Collector.

Sec. 8. The Collector shall charge and collect interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum on all delinquent taxes (as provided in state law) unless the Council shall by resolution direct him to accept a less rate, which said Council may do in any particular case without otherwise changing this provision.

Sec. 9. The Collector shall keep a full and correct record in a proper book, of all property sold for taxes, and report all such sales with a description of the property, name of owner, name of purchaser, term and amount for which sold, in writing to the Council at its next regular meeting after such sale is made, and whenever thereafter the tax on any such property is paid shall in like manner report that fact to the Council.

Sec. 10. The Collector shall report in writing to the Council at each regular meeting thereof the amount of money by him collected since the previous meeting, and in such report shall specify in each instance, in addition to the year for which the money collected was assessed, the name of each person assessed, the amount assessed, the date when paid and the amount of interest, if any, collected.

Sec. 11. The Borough Collector shall deposit, as soon as possible after the same shall come into his possession, all checks and moneys of the Borough hereafter collected or received by him for any purpose, in such bank as the Council shall from time to time by resolution designate, in the name of "The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield," which moneys so deposited shall be subject only to drafts thereon signed by the Mayor, attested by the Borough Clerk, and countersigned by the said Collector.

Sec. 12. The Borough Clerk shall file and preserve every report made by the collector pursuant to the preceding section, and shall enter each month upon the proper copy of the duplicate in his possession the date when each item of tax shown on such copy was reported by the Collector paid and such further facts in relation thereto as may be proper.

Sec. 13. The Borough Clerk shall immediately before the regular October meeting of the Council in each year, compare his copy of the duplicates for all preceding years with the Collector's duplicates for the purpose of determining whether or not such copies agree with such duplicates up to the thirtieth day of September then next preceding, and shall report the result in writing to the Council at such October meeting.

Sec. 14. The Committee on Taxation shall compare each year immediately prior to the regular February meeting of the Council the Collector's duplicate with the Clerk's copies thereof, and report the result to the Council at said meeting.

Sec. 15. All special school taxes collected by the Collector shall be transferred to him as the legal custodian of the school money belonging to the school district in which the borough is situated, as soon as the same are reported collected to the Council, and for that purpose the Mayor, Borough Clerk and Collector shall have power to draw their warrants from time to time for, and not exceeding the amount of special school tax so reported collected, without the passage, by the Council, of any resolution for that purpose, and the Collector shall, at each regular meeting of the Council, report the amount of such warrants drawn since the last preceding regular meeting.

Sec. 16. Every person who shall violate any provision of this ordinance, or shall fail to perform any duty required thereby, shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to a fine of one hundred dollars for every such violation or failure, and such penalty shall be in addition to any other liability or penalty which is now, or may hereafter be, provided by any law.

LONG RECEIVED REPORT.

It Gave the Casualties of the Engagement on the American Side.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 12, 1:35 p. m.—Secretary Long has issued the following report, just received at the Navy Department:

"Key West, to the Secretary of the Navy.—In the action near Cardenas Harbor yesterday between the Spanish gunboats and shore batteries and the American blockading vessels, the following were killed on torpedo boat Winslow:—

Ensign Worth Bagley.
Oiler John Varveres.
Firemen J. Ieneefem.
Cook Eliza Brummel.

"The dead and wounded arrived here on the Hudson this morning. The dead will be buried today.

Secretary Long has wired Remey for details of the engagement which are anxiously awaited.

DAMAGE TO THE WINSLOW.

The Boat Making Repairs at Sea and Will Return to Key West.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 12, 1:30 p. m.—Further particulars of the bombardment of Cardenas have been learned from the officers and crew of the revenue cutter Hudson which arrived in this port this morning.

The torpedo boat Winslow, the gunboat Wilmington and the revenue cutter Hudson engaged the forts yesterday afternoon.

The firing continued without intermission on either side for thirty-five minutes. During that time a six-inch shell from one of the shore battertes passed through the forward boiler of the Winslow.

The shell also exploded seventy-five rounds of ammunition for one of the small-calibre rapid-firing guns.

The Winslow was hit many times during the engagement and is reported to have been severely damaged. She had no armor.

The Hudson was struck twice while the Wilmington was never hit. The American injuries were due to a masked battery close to the water that suddenly opened fire.

The American vessels continued their fire until the fortifications were destroyed and the Spanish were driven out of them.

The Winslow is now making repairs while at sea and will return to this port tomorrow.

AMERICANS KILLED.

Met Their Fate on the Torpedo Boat Winslow Which was Blown Up.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 12, 12:15 p. m—The revenue cutter Hudson has just arrived from the blockading fleet off the northern coast of Cuba. She tells the story of the bombardment of the port of Cardenas by the Americans.

On board of the Hudson are the victims on the American side of the engagement, seven killed and one wounded. They are all members of the crew of the American torpedo boat Winslow.

Those killed were:

Ensign William Bagley, executive officer of the torpedo boat.
Fireman Daniel.
Oiler Varvanee.
Cook Grinnee.
Seamen Patterson, Meek and Berans.

The vessels that took part in the bombardment of Cardenas were the steel gunboats Wilmington and Machias and the composite gunboat Annapolis, all third-rate, and the revenue cutter Hudson. No serious damage was done to the ships.

The steel torpedo boat Winslow, 142 tons burden, was struck by a shell from the batteries. She is commanded by Lieutenant Bernadou.

The shells from the American ships set fire to the city of Cardenas which was reported to be burning when the Hudson left the fleet.

TUG TECUMSEH BLOWN UP.

A Spanish Shell Struck Her During the Bombardment of Cienfuegos.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washingtyn, May 12, 12:20 p. m.—Meagre accounts of the bombardment of Cienfuegos, on the southern coast of Cuba, by the blockading fleet, have reached the navy department.

The auxiliary cruiser Tecumseh, which took part in the bombardment, is reported to have been blown up by a Spanish shell. The report has not yet been officially confirmed.

It is feared by the naval authorities, however, that the report is correct, as it comes from several reliable sources.

The Tecumseh was formerly the ocean tug Edward Luchenbach, of New York. She was not armored and carried several rapid firing guns of small calibre.

BOMBARDED CARDENAS.

The Spanish Were Able to Repulse the Advance of the Americans.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

London, May 12, 11:15 a. m.—The report has reached here of the bombardment of Cardenas, the eastern gateway to the capital of Cuba, by an American fleet.

A fleet of six American war-ships appeared off the city yesterday morning at an early hour. They at once engaged the Spanish defences with a well-directed fire.

The bombardment was simultaneous with that of the port of Cienfuegos on the southern coast.

Under cover of the fire from the war-ships in the offing the Americans landed a boat near Cardenas and captured the signal station. The American warships then entered the bay and opened a raking fire on the shore batteries.

Many of the shells from the American fleet fell into the city.

The Spanish gunboat, Antonio Lopese, began a feeble resistance to the attack but a shell from an American warship sent her to the bottom of the bay.

The Americans atttempted to land several more boats but the Spanish vigorously repulsed them.

Several bands of Cuban insurgents were in the neighborhood and attempted to co-operate with the American but with little effect.

It is believed that the two companies of the First Infantry of the United States Army that left Tampa, Fla., in the transport Gussie Tuesday afternoon, participated in the fight.

COULDN'T LAND TROOPS.

A Terrific Battle Reported to Have Occured at Cenfuegos.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Port Antonio, Jamaica, May 12, 11 a. m.—A report reached here this morning of a fierce engagement between four vessels of the American blockading fleet and the shore batteries of the Spaniards at Cienfuegos.

Cienfuegos is the principal seaport on the southern shore of Santa Clara province, 150 miles southeast of Havana. It is the principal Spanish stronghold on the southern coast of Cuba.

Early yesterday morning three American gunboats and one armed yacht steamed within range of the fortifications and opened fire.

Under cover of a terrific fire from the American warships, several barges of marines attempted to land. They were towed to the shore by steam launches from the warships.

The shore batteries replied with a heavy fire. The armed Spanish vessels in the harbors also took part in the fight. A murderous artillery fire was opened on the barges.

The Spanish garrison sent repeated volleys from their Mauser rifles at the approaching boats. The fire was so heavy that the Americans were forced to return to the gunboats.

Later in the day, the Americans made two attempts to land troops on the other side of the bay in a small stream. Both attempts were repulsed by the heavy fire from the Spanish batteries.

The battle lasted eight hours. The losses on both sides are reported to be heavy. Twenty Spaniards are known to be wounded. The American loses are unknown.

The vessels that took part in the bombardment were the small gunboats of the blockading fleet. None

AGAIN DIRECTOR OF THE COUNTY SOLONS.

J. F. Hubbard at the Head of New Board of Freeholders.

CHOICE WAS UNANIMOUS.

W. R. CODINGTON ALSO RE-ELECTED COUNTY ATTORNEY.

Both of the Honored Plainfielders Expressed Appreciation for Their Selection—New Freeholders Sworn in—S. Rusling Ryno Elected Clerk—Mr. Codington Told How Union County was Patterned After by Other Bailiwicks—Appropriation Committee was Named and the Official Papers Chosen

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 12.—J. Frank Hubbard, of Plainfield, who has been a member of the Union County Board of Freeholders for thirty years, and has been Director of the body for several years, was yesterday again chosen to preside over the new Board that organized with eleven Republicans and six Democrats. The fact that Mr. Hubbard was unanimously elected shows his popularity as a presiding officer.

William R. Codington, of Plainfield, who has been county attorney for several years, was also re-elected to that position.

The new members are Joseph McCandless, Elizabeth; F. T. Higgins, Linden, and Moses W. Scudder, Westfield, all Democrats.

Freeholder Farrell nominated Mr. Hubbard for director, and Freeholder Brucklacher, of Elizabeth, representing the Democratic minority, seconded the nomination.

The clerk was instructed to cast the ballot, and Mr. Hubbard was declared re-elected director by a unanimous vote. He briefly returned his thanks, and stated the pleasure it gave him to know that he had all the members with him at the beginning of the work of the year.

S. Rusling Ryno was elected clerk for the third term unanimously.

The salarias of the clerk and county attorney were each fixed at $900 per annum.

Director Hubbard administered the oath to Clerk Ryno, and the board proceeded with its routine business. Freeholders Roll and Burnet were appointed a committee of two to escort the county attorney elect into the board room.

Mr. Codington was found in the court room, and when ushered into the presence of the board he gave expression of his thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He said he felt it a high honor, and it had been an extreme pleasure to associate with the members of the board. He spoke of the high standing of the county, and how it has been patterned after by other counties in many important actions in which Union county has taken the initiative steps, notably the county road improvements.

The rules of order governing last year's board were readopted on the resolution of Freeholder Miller, and the board meetings were fixed for the first Thursday in each month.

The minutes of the board were ordered published in the following papers:

Plainfield—Courier-News and Daily Press.
Rahway—Advocate and Union Democrat.
Summit—Herald and Record.
Westfield—Leader and Union County Standard.
Elizabeth—Daily Journal, Daily Leader, Freie Press and New Jersey Contractor.
Cranford—Chronicle.

Director Hubbard appointed as the committee on appropriations, Freeholders Farrell, Huiskamper, Roll, Brucklacher and Burnet.

The board was adjourned to May 19th, Thursday next, when the appropriations will be acted upon.

County Surveyors Bauer and Hubbard were present at the board meeting, and were introduced to the new members.

After the meeting a banquet was partaken of at Louis Miller's restaurant.

This is the eleventh time that Mr. Hubbard has been chosen Director of the Board of Freeholders.

Will Go To Boynton Beach.

The Daughters of Liberty of New Jersey have settled upon Boynton Beach as their outing place this summer. The members of Lucetta Council, of this city, will go the first Wednesday in August. William Stratton, of East Third street, went over the grounds yesterday and noted the improvements.

DATE OF MURDER TRIAL

MANSHANDA'S CASE WILL BE TAKEN UP JUNE 16TH.

A Sudden Change of Determination by the Judges Took Place—Mr. Marsh Will Do His Best to Save Manshanda.

[Special to The Daily Press.]

Elizabeth, May 12—Though it was expected that the trial of George Manshanda, for being an accomplice of Louis Roesel in the murder of James C. Pitts, the old farmer living between Scotch Plains and Summit, would not be set till the fall term of court, a sudden change in the matter occurred yesterday when Judge VanSyckel opened court. After conferring with County Judge Vail, Judge VanSyckel stated that it had been decided to fix a date for Manshanda's trial immediately.

The calendar of civil cases was gone over, and it was finally agreed that the date for trial should be set down for Thursday, June 16th, and Judge VanSyckel directed that such an order be issued.

The Supreme Court has not given an opinion yet, as suggested by Judge VanSyckel Monday, and the day appointed is fixed subject to a decision as to the course of procedure. The Supreme Court will act in the matter immediately at the beginning of the June term.

Craig A. Marsh, counsel for Manshanda, will make an effort to have a plea of murder in the second degree accepted, but the State has not given any promise, and it is believed will insist on a trial for murder in the first degree.

Roesel, who was convicted Friday last, will be sentenced tomorrow morning.

RUNNING THE BLOCKADE

JOHANNA HALEY WAS BREAKING THE QUARANTINE LAW.

In This Case a Growler of Beer Was the Contraband—Johanna Takes a Three Months' Trip to the County Jail

"It was a shame," said Johanna Haley, "that they should sit on the back steps a drinking beer while the child had the scarlet fever in the house." That's what she told City Judge DeMeza, but the police said differently.

According to the story of Chief Grant the city has been compelled to spend $2 a day to keep a policeman in Paradise alley while Johanna was in town. The child of Mrs. Martha Stevens in the alley has the scarlet fever. The police claim that Mrs. Stevens and "Maggie" Benford meet at the Stevens' home while Johanna runs the "growler" through the quarantine. Patrolman Cash was placed there with orders to arrest Johanna if she tried to run the blockade.

Yesterday afternoon Cash sighted the blockade runner six points off the port bow. She was under full sail. Then Jerry started in pursuit and compelled her to come about. Then he locked her up for the night.

This morning the Judge declared her a nuisance to the city and sent her down to Elizabeth for sixty days and to work off a fine of $25. She has already served several terms of considerable length.

STREET WORK ORDERED.

Madison, Stelle and Woodland Avenues to be Macadamized at Once.

The street committee are asking for proposals from the contractors of this city to macadamize Stelle, Madison and Woodland avenues in compliance with the ordinance passed for that purpose. The residents along Madison avenue from Ninth street to Stelle avenue, and on Stelle avenue from Madison to Plainfield avenues, and on Woodland avenue from South to LaGrande avenues, have agreed to do their share towards paying for the work, and the city has ordered it done.

A strong effort is being made by the residents of West Fourth street near Liberty, and on East Ninth street from Park to Watchung avenues, to have similar work done. The bids for Stelle, Madison and Woodland avenues will be opened May 26th, and work will be begun on the streets at once.

Rode on the Sidewalk.

William Hanglighter and James Siorah, young men employed in the Pond Machine Tool works, were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, for riding on the sidewalk. Sentence was suspended.

Mrs. O'Donnell's Case Put Over.

The case of the city against Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell, who is charged with illegal liquor selling, was laid over Tuesday morning in the city court for two weeks.

THE HUSBAND SURPRISED

THIRD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF MR. AND MRS. DRYDEN.

Mr. Dryden Dined Out and When He Went Home He Found the House Full of His Congratulating Friends.

The third anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dryden, of Hillside avenue, was celebrated last night very delightfully, and to Mr. Dryden very unexpectedly. Assisted by some of her friends, Mrs. Dryden arranged a dance in honor of the occasion, of which Mr. Dryden was kept in ignorance up to the last moment. The surprise was a complete one, and that added to the general success of the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Dryden dined at the home of Mr. Dryden's parents on Watchung avenue, where a family party was gathered in honor of the anniversary. Then the party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dryden, where the guests were all assembled and waiting to receive them. There were numerous congratulations and then the evening was spent in dancing.

Mrs. P. Schultz and Mrs. C. Beard received the guests before the host and hostess returned. The rooms were patriotically decorated with flags of all sizes and tri-colored bunting.

Among those who were present at the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dryden, Miss Fannie Dryden, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. R. Thiers, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Moore, Miss Ethel Green, Meredith Dryden, Curtis Beard, Godwin Beard, Miss Lillian A. Force, Miss Todd, of Landsdowne, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett, Laurens H. VanBuren, Miss Florence R. Beal, Miss Ella Hammond, of Easton; Miss Leila Hackett, of Easton; Mrs. DeWitt Ramsey, of New York; H. Oscar Nightingale, Wm. Austin, of New York, and Harry L. VanEmburgh.

VERDICT AGAINST CONSOLIDATED TRACTION COMPANY.

Charles A. Sturtevant, of Plainfield, the Successful Plaintiff—Craig A. Marsh Was His Successful Lawyer in the Case.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 12—The case of Charles A. Sturtevant, of Plainfield, against the Consolidated Traction Company for damages claimed by Mr. Sturtevant on account of an injury to his left hand received in Newark in July last, came to an end before Judge VanSyckel and a jury at Elizabeth yesterday, the verdict being in Mr. Sturtevant's favor for $1,000.

At the conclusion of the case Judge VanSyckel remarked that the trial was a model one, referring to the manner in which it had been conducted by the two lawyers, Craig A. Marsh as counsel for Mr. Sturtevant, and Frank Bergen as counsel for the Traction Company. There was no lack of energy or spirit on either side, but the case was tried on a high plane.

The experts in the case were Drs. Adams and Endicott, of Plainfield, for the plaintiff, and Drs. Mravlag and Green, of Elizabeth, and Roloford, of Newark, for the Traction Company.

The jury was out about three hours.

TO HELP FRESH AIR WORK.

Seventh-Day Baptist Endeavorers Pledge Their Support.

The monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh Day Baptist church was held last evening in the church parlors. It was decided not to pledge the society to assist in the proposed Fresh Air work as the pledges of the society are large enough already. The society decided to assist in the work as much as possible.

Asa Randolph, the corresponding secretary, was elected delegate to the Eastern Association of Seventh Day Baptist churches will meet at Rockville, R. I. A nominating committee composed of Miss Ernestine Smith, chairman, Mrs. H. M. Maxson, Miss Ida Spencer, Miss Jessie Utter and Asa Randolph was appointed. Their report will be presented before the election which will be held at the June meeting.

Officer McCue's Mistake.

Since the New York papers have been coming to this city early in the afternoon, carrying war news, the boys of the public schools have been playing truant in the afternoon, and "cutting" school to sell war extras. Yesterday afternoon Officer McCue arrested a twelve-year-old boy and locked him up in the station house until he found out that there was only one session yesterday, when the lad was released.

STATE CLUB WOMEN GATHER HERE TODAY.

200 DELEGATES PRESENT.

WELCOMED TO PLAINFIELD BY MRS. FLORENCE HOWE HALL.

Convention Opened in a Patriotic Manner by Mrs. Fanny Crosby, the Blind Hymn Writer, Singing the Star Spangled Banner—Miss Cecelia Gaines, President of the Federation, Responded in a Felicitous Manner—Encouraging Reports Made by Committee Chairmen—Several Interesting Addresses Made.

Representative women from all over the State met in this city this morning at the semi-annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held in the Park Avenue Baptist church and in the Union County Country Club Casino. Delegates were present from about seventy clubs, and before the morning session was ended, nearly 200 had been registered. The morning session was taken up with addresses and reports from heads of departments, and after lunch, which was served at the Casino, the programme was continued there.

Women's Clubs from Arlington, Bayonne, Bound Brook, Camden, Cranford, Roselle, Jersey City, Newark, Verona, Montclair, Metuchen and other places were represented and besides the president, Miss Cecilia Gaines, of Jersey City, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, Mrs. Fanny Crosby, Dr. M. E. Greer and Miss Florence A. Mulford, of Newark, were present.

This meeting was in charge of five clubs of this city—Monday Afternoon Club, Parliamentary Club, Rasores, Current Events Club and Town Improvement Association. Mrs. S. R. Krom was in charge of the meeting at the church and was assisted by a decorating committ and corps of ushers. Mrs. Charles McCutchen was chairman of the decorating committe, with Mrs. H. M. Maxson, Mrs. George Babcock and Mrs. George Dupee as her assistants. The decorations were a large American flag draped over the pulpit, with a quantity of flowers and potted plants below. Miss C. R. Yates was in charge of the ushers, who were Miss Van Boskerck, Miss Hunter, Miss Cahoone, Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell, Jr., Mrs. Frank Clawson, Miss Murphy, Miss VanDeventer and Miss Dumont.

The session was opened with prayer by Mrs. Fanny Crosby, the blind poetess and hymn writer. This was followed by singing "The Star Spangled Banner" by the ladies, who sung the anthem with vim and spirit. The delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, in a few trite remarks, and the response was made by Miss Cecilia Gaines, of Jersey City, president of the State Federation. Miss Gaines suggested that there is a large field for work for women in this State, especially in the Legislature, where women can wield a great influence in law-making. The speaker said that the ladies needn't think that the men are rapidly going to the dogs now that they are enlisting so rapidly in a war that means plenty of hardship and little glory.

Miss Ada D. Fuller, of Jersey City, corresponding secretary, stated that at the present time there are seventy-three active clubs in the State Federation, which means a membership of 4,000.

In the absence of Mrs. E. B. Horton, of Cranford, Mrs. Margaret J. Yardley, of East Orange, read the report of the committee on the department of libraries. The Traveling Library Bill has passed the legislature, and become a law. Unfortunately no appropriation can be made this year, but a vote of thanks was given Governor Voorhees, and those gentlemen who were instrumental in pushing the bill through the legislature. A beautiful bouquet of lilies of the valley, the State flowers, was sent to Mrs. Horton by the executive board of the federation.

Miss Vermilye, of Englewood, reported the work of the Committee upon Palisades. At the present time, very little can be done to save the Palisades, but Miss Vermilye advised the ladies to adhere to the purpose and insist upon the Palisades being saved and national reservations made of them, as has been done with Niagara Falls.

Mrs. John Gifford, of Princeton sent her report upon the forestry department. It was read by the president. Mrs. C. W. Butler, of Montclair, reported upon Town Improvement Associations. The pioneer Town Improvement Association was founded

NO WORD FROM SAMPSON

Navy Department Is, However, Not Committed to Their Final Adoption—Belief in Key West that Our Fleet Will Return to that Port—Active Movement Against Cuba

Washington, May 12.—The Navy Department is in almost hourly expectation of advices from Admiral Sampson. What the character of these advices will be the officials do not intimate, but they expect interesting and important news.

It is rather a matter of surprise to them that the President has not already received news from the squadron via St. Thomas and the fleet dispatch boats which accompany Sampson's squadron.

Plans for an Assault Upon Havana.

The Strategy Board is carefully preparing its plans for an assault upon Havana by sea in connection with the regular army movement by land, the work being rather of a preparatory nature and not committing the department in any way to a final adoption of this plan.

It has been represented that the fleet with safety might assemble to the extreme east of the Spanish fortifications at the entrance of the harbor. In that position it would be exposed to attack by only one battery at the end of the line. The entire fleet could enfilade this battery and destroy it in short order.

The attack would be followed down the line on shore, taking one battery at a time, and thus reducing to a minimum the exposure of the ships while bringing the terrible concentration of fire upon the batteries in turn. One naval officer who was consulted upon the subject guaranteed that the fleet could knock out all of the fortifications one after another within two hours. "It would like knocking down a row of bricks," he said.

Gen. Schofield's Views.

According to Lieut. Gen. Schofield the fact that Spain has centred her fleets at Cadiz will only cause our government to move all the more rapidly in executing its already formulated plans for the attack on Cuba and Porto Rico. To a correspondent Gen. Schofield said, and he wishes it to be distinctly understood that in thus expressing his views he does so not as a member of a war board or as one in possession of the secrets of the department, but merely as a military expert:

"The possession of Porto Rico is of more importance to us now than Cuba. It occupies the same relative position in the West that Manila did in the east. It is the key, the gateway, to the Spanish possessions in this part of the world. It marks the extreme point of Spain's possessions, and with the loss of Porto Rico her rule on the western hemisphere is ended for all time.

Early Capture of San Juan Expected.

"Undoubtedly our military experts realize this fact and I look for an early announcement of the capture of San Juan by Admiral Sampson's fleet. We will the undoubtedly send a large body of soldiers to take possession of the island. I judge that before we are through at least 20,000 troops will be sent to Porto Rico.

"One thing must be borne in mind in this connection, and it is that Porto Rico has a pleasant Summer climate and there will be no danger to our troops there from yellow fever or disease. With Porto Rico lost to her Spain's fleet will be powerless in American waters, for without a coaling station and a base of supplies she could not continue an effective naval warfare against us.

"I believe also that the Army will move upon Cuba at once, and I wish to take this opportunity of stating that in my judgment the army has accomplished everything that could be expected of it. Of course there has been some criticism of the changing of orders from day to day, but this has been unavoidable. The same thing occurred at the beginning of our civil war in '61, although things were in very much worse shape then than they are now at the War Department.

No Further Delay Will Be Had.

"It has been, of course, impossible for the army to begin operations until the volunteers are ready to take the field. They are now about ready, and therefore there will be no further delay. There were not enough regular troops to hold Cuba or Porto Rico, and therefore the army has been obliged to wait until the volunteer force was in position to reinforce it.

"With Porto Rico in our possession, it will be a very much easier matter for us to attack the Canary Islands and Spain than for Spain to come over here and attack us. The War Department will take care to send out a good reinforcement from the artillery branch of the service to Porto Rico, and place it in charge of the land fortifications and guns of the island.

"These, handled and manned by our expert artillerymen, will be of great service to us in case of attack. The uncertainty as to the position of the Spanish fleet has also, of course, made it necessary for the War Department to change its plans frequently of late, but it would have been foolish to have expected our War Department to go right ahead on any specially mapped out programme and carry it through without change, for it must be remembered that although the navy was ready the army was not, owing to the delay in mustering in the volunteer force.

"Now that it is definitely settled that the Spanish fleet is in Spanish waters we can get our transports over from Tampa to the Cuban coast without being obliged to have them accompanied by any large naval escort. I look for a vigorous and sharp campaign from now on, and a speedy termination of Spanish rule both in Cuba and Porto Rico."

Don Carlos Nearly Ready.

Montreal, May 12.—Senor Diaz de Cortina, the American representative of Don Carlos, the Spanish pretender, has arrived here. He will leave on Saturday, he says, to join Don Carlos at Brussels. He declares that the time is not far off for Don Carlos to make a move for the Spanish crown. Senor Polo and his party have declined all social attentions owing to the news from Manila. It is probable that the party will sail for home on Saturday.

More Troops for Philippines.

Washington, May 12.—A much larger number of troops will be sent to the Philippine Islands than was intended when the first plans for the expedition were made. Orders have been issued directing that the regiments of volunteers in Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, which it was intended should mobilize at Chickamauka and Washington, proceed as soon as possible to San Francisco.

FATAL PHILADELPHIA FIRE.

Three persons Burned to Death and a Loss of $500,000.

Philadelphia, May 12.—Three persons lost their lives in a fire which originated in the wholesale toy and fireworks establishment of McCadden Bros., 619 Market street, yesterday.

The killed are: Miss Caldwell, typewriter, for McCadden Bros., William McCadden, a brother of a member of the firm. Michael Quinn, an employe. The fire originated from an explosion of fireworks.

There were about 100 persons employed in the McCadden store, and nearly all managed to make their escape before the flames reached the upper floors. The three bodies were found on the second floor of the burned structure. On account of the inflammable nature of the contents, the big six-story structure was a mass of flame in less than half an hour. The fire spread to the adjoining buildings, occupied by the Reading Hardware Co., the National Wall Paper Co., and the Brainerd and Armstrong Spool Silk Co.

The McCadden Building was completely destroyed, and the other two were badly damaged. The entire stock of the wall paper company and the silk company was rendered worthless by smoke and water. The damage to the stock of the Reading Hardware Co. is nominal, but the loss on the building amounts to about $50,000.

The total loss will reach about $500,000, well covered by insurance.

AMMUNITION FOR DEWEY.

The Cruiser Charleston Leaves for the Philippine Islands.

Washington, May 12.—The cruiser Charleston has sailed with ammunition and relief supplies for Admiral Dewey. She left San Francisco yesterday without waiting for the rest of the relief steamers and supplies.

The order to the commandant of the navy yard at Mare Island was to put on board the Charleston all the ammunition she would carry so long as her steaming capacity was not retarded. It is understood here that at least 150 tons of ammunition were put on board.

By extraordinary efforts on the part of the authorities here, all the powder, shot and shell requisite for this relief expedition had been assembled at San Francisco, though it was thought at first it would take until after May 15 to draw these supplies together.

The Charleston is a protected cruiser of 3,730 tons displacement, built of steel, and mounts eight guns in her main battery. Her trip to Manila will take about two weeks. She has a crew of about three hundred men, and was augmented by a marine guard of a few hundred men.

The City of Pekin, which will follow her, is a fleet merchantman, capable of being pushed to eighteen knots or more, so that she may overhaul her and reach Manila first.

THE CITY OF PEKING READY.

Turned Over to the Navy Department to Be Loaded To-day.

San Francisco, Cal., May 12.—The City of Pekin has been turned over to the Navy Department. After going on the dry dock she will be loaded with supplies for Admiral Dewey's fleet. There will be stores for the vessels of the Asiatic squadron and ammunition to take the place of the powder shells that did such good work in Manila.

The Navy Department is not doing anything about coal, however, and the supposition is that Dewey has all he wants. It is known that there was a large amount of coal stored at Manila and this must now be in Dewey's hands.

So far no provision has been made to transport troops on the Pekin. At the navy pay office it is given out that the navy is fitting her up as a supply ship and is doing nothing for the accommodation of troops on board, though it is expected that before she sails the army officials will arrange for the transportation on her of a portion of the troops assembled here.

DELAY AT SAN FRANCISCO.

It May Be Two Weeks Before Troops Are Ready to Go to Manila.

San Francisco, May 12.—Volunteer and regular troops here complain that they have not received suitable clothing for a campaign in the Philippines. They say that the War Department has not made an effort to provide proper outfits for the men who are to go on the expedition to aid Admiral Dewey.

Bids received here for rations for the expedition were telegraphed to Washington, and all were rejected by the War Department. Unless the local officers of the army and navy are permitted to purchase supplies at their discretion it is not probable that the troops intended for the Manila expedition will be ready to start under two weeks. Contractors here complain that red tape at Washington makes it impossible to fill requisitions promptly.

SPANISH VESSEL LOST.

Boilers of a Torpedo Boat Destroyer Reported to Have Burst.

London, May 12.—A dispatch to the Globe from Gibraltar says that an English steamship has arrived there and officially reported that on Monday night she passed one of the Spanish torpedo boat destroyers detailed to guard the port of Algeciras and the Strait of Gibraltar.

Shortly afterward all of the lights on board the destroyer were extinguished. This was followed by a terrific explosion, and the destroyer vanished. The disaster to the vessel was apparently due to the bursting of her boilers and it is believed that all on board were lost.

Was It the Destructor?

London, May 12.—The Spanish torpedo boat destroyer reported blown up near Gibraltar is probably the Destructor.

Powers May Urge Spain to Yield.

Washington, May 12.—Owing to the Spanish defeat at Manila, leading members of the diplomatic corps, representing the most influential of the great powers of Europe, have unofficially exchanged views on the opportuneness of a movement, dictated by the most friendly spirit and in the interest of peace, toward urging upon Spain the futility of prosecuting the war further, and inducing her to sue for peace on the basis of the relinquishment of Cuba, the promise of a war indemnity and the occupation of Manila by Admiral Dewey until the war indemnity is paid.

Moral Defeat for Spain.

Berlin, May 12.—The concensus of opinion of the German press is that the return of the Spanish fleet to Cadiz, although wise from the point of view of war tactics, constitutes a grave moral defeat for Spain.

ARMY AT TAMPA IMPATIENT.

Feeling that the Sending of a Large Force Will Give Good Results.

Tampa, May 12.—The reported purpose of Gen. Miles to transfer his headquarters to this place by the close of the week has created quite a stir among the officers and men. With the news that the Spanish fleet has taken to its heels across the Atlantic, there is a renewal of the restless desire for immediate movement toward Cuba. It was thought that we would get away this week, but to-day that does not seem so probable. Even the official dispatches from Washington, however, are mystifying, for rooms for Gen. Miles and his staff have been twice engaged and as many times countermanded within the last twenty-four hours.

The plan to mobilize a large army here and transport the men rapidly to Cuba is heartily indorsed by the officers of the small division which it was at first intended to use as an invading force. Many of the most experienced officers have openly declared against any attempt to descend upon Cuba with a force less than 20,000 men, as much doubt has been expressed as to the success of such an expedition.

Officers who have studied the situation in Cuba say that a small force would undoubtedly be pounced upon by Gen. Blanco and made to fight desperately to sustain its position, while a large force of Americans would not be challenged to battle by the Spaniards. Gen. Blanco would remain on the defensive. The news that a large force is to be thrown into the island at once, therefore, has not been unwelcome here.

Stacks of guns and carloads of ammunition are being transferred to the transport ships night and day. The bulk of that work is now completed. More transports are needed, however, before the force now here can start.

The Gussie expedition will take two weeks to finish the work mapped out for it in furnishing fighting materials and hospital supplies to insurgents. The men will then join our landing force in Cuba and not return here.

The engineer corps is out selecting a site for a camp for the troops ordered here. Two cavalry regiments are expected from Chickamauga to-day.

GERMANY AT MANILA.

Story that She Proposes to Obtain Control of Philippines.

London, May 12.—A story is published here to the effect that Germany is actively preparing to signify her disapproval of a lasting occupation of the Philippines by the United States. The German Consul at Manila is said to have been instructed to make representations to Rear Admiral Dewey differing materially in character from those of the representatives of other powers.

Very heavy claims, it is added, are being encouraged upon the part of the Germans who have suffered from the bombardment of Cavite, and Germany, it is further said, proposes to obtain control of the Philippine Islands, guaranteeing the payment of Spain's indemnity. It is believed this plan is acceptable to Francis Josef, of Austria, and it is understood to have been passively accepted by France, which country is so strongly interested financially in the rehabilitation of Spain.

MR. GLADSTONE GIVES UP.

England's Grand Old Man Certain that Death Is Near.

London, May 12.—A letter written by a member of Mr. Gladstone's family, says the patient has not left his room for a fortnight. It adds:

"It had been hoped he might have some sense of enjoyment as the warm weather returned and turned the whole earth into a garden; but the truth is, he has taken leave of all portions of the earth. He is possessed with a sense of departure.

"His body, mind and soul ask for no food of any kind. His one desire is for peace. He has longer times of quiet sleep, or rest with closed eyes, than when the morphia treatment began; but, though he has considerable physical strength, he is unable to listen to anything but a short message of one or two sentences. Even this is often an effort. He has seen three or four friends outside of the family; but no conversation occurs. Nothing but a farewell blessing for each of them."

THE ARMY'S BREAD SUPPLY.

St. Louis Bakers Asked to Furnish 60,000 Loaves Per Day.

St. Louis, May 12.—The Quartermaster's Department of the army is negotiating with bakers of this city to furnish 60,000 loaves of bread a day to the Government forces encamped at various places throughout the South.

Three propositions are under consideration. One is that the bakers build a plant at Chickamauga Park, with a capacity of 60,000 loaves a day, and furnish bread to the army at the market price. Another is that the bakers turn the bread out of their ovens in this city, and ship it to the army at Chickamauga, Tampa, Mobile and elsewhere.

The third is that the bakers make the bread here and deliver it to the trains, all responsibility ending when the bread is turned over to the railroad or express companies. The last proposition was made by the bakers as a compromise.

To Ship 400,000 Tons of Food.

New York, May 12.—Bids were opened in the Quartermaster's Department in the Army Building yesterday for 1,000 lanterns, and shoes to be furnished in lots of 25,000 pairs. The number of shoes to be purchased will probably be about 100,000 pairs. Bids for the transportation of 400,000 tons of provisions from this city to Tampa and for 700 wire cutters were also opened. The wire cutters will be used by the army of invasion in Cuba to cut, if necessary, the barbed wire used by the Spaniards in the construction of the trochas.

The War Revenue Bill.

Washington, May 12.—The Senate Committee on Finance has decided to increase the tax on manufactured tobacco in the War Revenue bill, from 12 cents, the House rate, to 16 cents per pound, and exempt the stock on hand from the operations of the act. The Finance Committee has also decided to recommend a reduction of the tax on cigars from $4 to $3.50 per thousand and on cigarettes from $2 to $1.50.

Great Grumblers.

Grumbling Will Cease if Plainfield People Will Follow This Citizen's Advice.

When the kidneys are sick they grumble.

You hear them clear through the back.

You feel them clear through the body.

They grumble when overtaxed.

Know how the kidneys grumble?

It's a simple thing; your back will tell you.

Backache is the first grumbling warning.

The kidneys give it and if you heed it not,

Look out for trouble, it will surely come.

Urinary trouble, kidney trouble and many miseries.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

They cure every form of kidney ill.

The experience of Plainfield people proves this.

Here's a case in point:

Mrs. R. A. Martin, of No. 70 Jackson Ave., says:—"I have had pains in my back and loins for about one year or more, no doubt caused by my kidneys being out of order. I felt it more in the morning just after getting up or if I did any stooping or lifting. Notwithstanding the fact that I took all kinds of medicines I never found anything which helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at L. W. Randolph's drug store. They not only removed the pain but they have strengthened me in other ways. I can cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering with a lame back."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price 50c per box. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

DOUBT IN WASHINGTON

No Certainty That Spain's Fleet Has Arrived at Cadiz.

WILL TAKE NO CHANCES

No Attack on Porto Rico to Be Made in the Absence of Spain's Fleet Until After Our Army Is Landed in Cuba—Both Sampson and Schley to Make the Attack on Havana.

Washington, May 12.—There is no absolute certainty that the dispatches announcing the arrival of the Cape Verde fleet at Cadiz are reliable. It is realized that it would be entirely possible for both Ambassador Hay and the Naval Attache at London, from whom the dispatches were received, to have been deceived. The mere fact that a dispatch making that announcement to the press and to the American officials at London could be sent from Cadiz gives ground for suspicion as to its accuracy. The censorship at Cadiz is very strict, and it is regarded as not likely that any information could be got from there by wire unless the Spanish authorities were perfectly willing that it should go out.

Consequently, there is a great difference of opinion as to the reliance to be placed on the information. While the department is acting on this information, this is largely because the movements in contemplation would have to be made anyhow, in view of the failure of Admiral Sampson to find the Spanish fleet in West Indian waters, and precautions against surprises are being as carefully taken as if the Cape Verde fleet had not been reported at Cadiz.

Would Injure Government.

The authorities, who have held all along to the theory that the Spanish fleet would return to Cadiz, accept the report as conclusive, but others still doubt. It is said by the latter that if the fleet has reassembled at Cadiz, it cannot be expected to remain there, since Spain must either do something with her navy very soon, or else give up the war. The belief is that the Spanish people would resent with violence this retreat on the part of the fleet, which was depended on to relieve Cuba and Porto Rico, and that its arrival at Cadiz, when publicly known in Spain, would the signal for the overthrow of the Government.

Misinformation and treachery is always expected from Spanish sources, and while it may be true that the Spanish fleet has arrived at Cadiz, the department will take no chances which would not be warranted in any case, unless the advices received are supplemented by more certain information.

No Fear for Dewey.

The apprehension of the Spanish fleet going to the relief of Manila or to attack San Francisco is very slight. Should such a move be made, it would be a foolhardy venture on the part of Spain, exposing the Spanish coast, giving up the struggle in Cuba and Porto Rico.

Our navy would probably make an immediate attack upon Spanish ports, compelling Spain to sue for peace, and put an end to the war before the Spanish fleet could reach the Philippines.

Spain will have to do something with her navy, however, to satisfy the demands at home, unless the Government is prepared to give up Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and devote its energies entirely to the settlement of affairs in the peninsula, and it is thought that if the Cape Verde fleet has returned to Cadiz, there will be assembled at that point the entire effective force of the Spanish navy for an aggressive move upon our fleet or against some port. It is either this or the end of the war. Whatever move Spain may make, however, we are fully prepared and no apprehension is felt on account of uncertainty as to the Spanish intentions.

Admiral Sampson's Orders.

Admiral Sampson is acting under alternative orders, and without reference to the information from Cadiz, his failure to come up to the Cape Verde fleet would lead him to proceed upon the second alternative, which, it is intimated, is to return to Cuba, possibly after detaching two vessels to meet the Oregon.

It is regarded as extremely doubtful that an attack will be made on Porto Rico in the absence of the Spanish fleet in those waters until after our army of invasion has been landed in Cuba, and probably not until after Havana has been reduced. If the Spanish fleet is at Cadiz, there will be ample time for operations in Cuba before that fleet can reach Porto Rico, and Sampson's fleet, having returned to Cuban waters, an attack from the combined Spanish fleet upon us in that quarter is not to be dreaded.

If, after operations have begun in Cuba, it is learned definitely that a strong fleet has sailed from Cadiz, a sufficiently strong naval force can be organized to meet the Spaniards without in any way hampering our operations in Cuba.

The patrol of our scout cruisers has shown that there is no Spanish fleet in any quarter where we have any reason to dread it, and nearly every possibility has been so well prepared for that the departments are not hampered in aggressive operations by any apprehension as to our own defenses. In fact, it is felt that we can very nearly see the end of all possibility of effective aggressive movements on the part of Spain.

It appears that there is some little hesitation and uncertainty in high quarters, threatening a little delay in putting into complete operations the plans already determined upon with respect to the invasion of Cuba. This is caused by the failure to communicate at once with Admiral Sampson's fleet. It is understood, however, that Commodore Schley's Flying Squadron will go to Cuba, and that both fleets will be used for the attack upon Havana.

Another Call for Volunteers.

Washington, May 12.—It is reported at the War Department that the President will shortly issue another call for volunteers and that 70,000 men will be asked for. The necessity of sending a large force of soldiers to Porto Rico is one of the main reasons for the alleged necessity for additional volunteers.

Pennsylvania Troops to Move.

Mount Gretna, Pa., May 12.—Gov. Hastings has officially announced that six regiments of Pennsylvania volunteers, now at Camp Hastings, will be on their way to Tampa within twenty-four hours.

Orders to have the regiments in readiness to move in that time reached the camp yesterday. Major Thompson, the United States Army officer commanding, immediately began the work of mustering in the companies of the various regiments necessary to make up the required number, and by nightfall about thirty-five companies had been sworn in. It was definitely decided to-night that the regiments to go will be six of the seven mustered in. They are the Fourth, Col. Case; Sixteenth, Col. Hulings; Third, Col. Ralston; Fifteenth, Col. Kreps; Ninth, Col. Dougherty, and Fifth, Col. Burchard.

Spain Will Fight It Out.

Madrid, May 12.—In the Chamber last night Senor Sagasta replied to Senor Salmeron's attacks on the present regime, retorting that the state of anarchy which existed in Spain during the short lived Republican regime under Salmeron made Spain the laughing stock of the world. The Premier defended the policy of the Government in "doing its utmost to avoid war, while the Yankees were playing a foul game." He repeated his appeal for union, adding that whoever sowed discord was not a patriot. He concluded his speech by declaring that the Government would prosecute the war a outrance.

No Wheat for Flour Mills.

Reading, Pa., May 12.—Owing to the inability to secure wheat several of the large flour mills in this part of Pennsylvania have shut down, and others will probably be compelled to do the same. There are immense quantities of the cereal in this section, but the farmers all refuse to sell at prevailing figures, holding it in anticipation of a further rise.

This Is for Spanish Consumption.

London, May 12.—Special dispatches from Madrid say it is officially declared that the Government of Spain has no intention of allowing Rear Admiral Dewey to rest on his laurels. About 400,000 men of the reserves of the Spanish army have been ordered to rejoin the colors, and it is added that a formidable expedition is being organized for dispatch to the Philippine Islands.

Gen. Miles Will Leave To-Night.

Washington, May 12.—A final decision has been reached by Gen. Miles to leave Washington for Tampa to-night. The special orders on this subject have been issued, and provide that the General and his staff, and others officers who accompany him, shall proceed to Tampa and other points that may be designated "for temporary duty."

Sword for Admiral Dewey.

Washington, May 12.—The House Committee on Naval Affairs has ordered a favorable report on the Senate resolution granting a sword to Rear Admiral Dewey and suitable medals to the officers and men of his squadron.

Blanco Raises the Blockade.

Madrid, May 12.—An official dispatch from Havana says: "The enemy's squadron has disappeared. Five warships have gone eastward."

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The prolonged drought in California has seriously damaged the wheat crop.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee resigned as Consul General to Cuba, having qualified as a Major General of United States volunteers.

Spanish spies are suspected of having placed two bags of arsenic, which were found in a stream supplying water to the troops at Camp Mobile, Ala.

The Mexican Minister at Washington has been informed by his home Government that all precautions have been taken to prevent a Spanish filibustering expedition invading Texas from Mexico.

After a voyage of fifty-three days the steam yacht Windward arrived in New York yesterday from London. This is the vessel presented to Lieut. Peary, in which he expects to make his next Arctic expedition.

All the Rome correspondents of the Paris papers agree that a revolution in Italy is imminent, and that a popular uprising throughout the country cannot long be delayed. The news caused great satisfaction in France, where a republican Italy is regarded as a natural enemy of the Dreibund.

"The only way to put a stop to the unspeakable barbarities practised in Cuba is by the force of arms; we are doing for Cuba what the moral sense of our people demanded that the great powers of Europe should do for Armenia," said Bishop Whittaker.

There are three conditions: When the blood is poor; When more flesh is needed; When there is weakness of the throat or lungs.

There is one cure: that is Scott's Emulsion.

It contains the best cod-liver oil emulsified, or digested, and combined with the hypophosphites and glycerine. It promises more prompt relief and more lasting benefit in these cases than can be obtained from the use of any other remedy.

SPAIN'S CADIZ FLEET

Fourteen Warships, Besides Torpedo Boats, Reported There.

SQUADRON HAS PUT TO SEA

Lieut. Colwell, Naval Attache of American Embassy in London, Is Not Convinced that the Two Fleets Have Combined—Troops to Leave for Canary Islands.

London, May 12.—The Globe publishes a dispatch from Cadiz, dated Saturday last, which says the following ships, which are all ready for sea, with the exception of the Pelayo, are at that port:

The Pelayo, Vitoria, Carlos V., Almirante Oquendo, Viscaya, Maria Teresa, Cristobal Colon, Alfonso XIII., Pluton, Proserpina, Osado, Audaz, Furor, Terror, and also several torpedo boats, transports and the Normannia and the Columbia, formerly of the Hamburg-American line, which have been renamed Patriota and the Rapido.

The correspondent of the Globe adds that he believes the squadron sailed yesterday, and says a number of troops leave for the Canary Islands on Sunday, while three battalions of marines are quartered at San Fernando ready for embarkation.

Lieut. Colwell, the Naval Attache of the United States Embassy, said that he was by no means convinced that the Spanish Cape Verde squadron is really at Cadiz.

MUCH MYSTERY ABOUT THE FLEET.

Spanish Minister of Marine Declares It Is Not at Cadiz.

London, May 12.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Admiral Bermejo, Minister of Marine, denies that the Cape Verde Squadron has returned to Cadiz. He affirms that this fleet at the present moment 'is where it ought to be, according to the instructions given it.'"

Admiral Bermejo's statement need not be construed to mean that Admiral Villamil's squadron is speeding westward to seek a fight with Rear Admiral Sampson. It would not be surprising to the navy strategists, however, if this were the fact. They are acting as if the information from Cadiz, made public on Tuesday, were a Spanish ruse. They guess that perhaps Bermejo is trying to deceive the turbulent people of Spain. There is nothing to show that the squadron should be off Porto Rico now, if it "is where it ought to be according to the instructions given it," because there is no record that when it left Cape Verde the squadron had instructions to sail westward.

NOTHING KNOWN IN LONDON.

Only Two Auxiliary Cruisers and Two Torpedo Boats at Cadiz April 20

London, May 12.—Nothing is known here of the whereabouts of the Spanish fleet. Only two auxiliary cruisers and two torpedo boats were at Cadiz on April 29.

Inquiries on board ships which have recently arrived from the Canary Islands, the Island of Madeira, Teneriffe and Gibraltar, show that nothing has been seen of the Spanish fleet. The British steamer Galicia, Capt. Bird, which left Cadiz on April 29, reports that the only Spanish war vessels there were the auxiliary cruisers Normannia and Columbia, two torpedo boats and an armed yacht, possibly the Giralda.

The British steamer Tetuan, which has just arrived here from Gibraltar, after leaving Las Palmas on April 29, Teneriffe on April 30, and Madeira on May 2, saw no signs of the Spanish fleet. She reports, however, that great excitement prevailed at the Canary Islands when she was there.

Stock Exchange Incredulous.

London, May 12.—On the Stock Exchange here the report that the Spanish Cape Verde squadron had returned to Cadiz was generally discredited, though the opinion was freely expressed that, if the rumor was true, it indicated the intention of Spain to throw up the sponge and leave the West Indies to their fate, thus opening the way to an early peace.

This is understood to be strongly desired in certain quarters, and the effect of the seeming backdown of Spain was beneficial.

Mobs Work in Madrid.

London, May 12.—A special dispatch from Madrid says a mob burned a huge grain warehouse yesterday. The structure is reported to be a total loss.

A serious riot has taken place at Logrono, capital of the Spanish province of that name, on the Ebro, sixty miles from Burgos. The grain and provision stores were attacked and pillaged by rioters, who included numbers of women armed with axes, choppers and cudgels.

The cavalry charged the mob, but the soldiers were repulsed by the determined onslaught made upon them.

Who Should Be Our Allies?

The most important, perhaps also the most glorious, sign of the times is the drifting together of the nations toward harmony among themselves. Even the alliances of the powers of Europe, maintained as they are by force of arms, are favorable to peace and prosperity. Before the inauguration of these alliances Europe was split into a host of little countries perpetually warring on one another and snapping at one another.

The day of small things, even of small nations, is over. Little countries have united and formed great ones, either peaceably or by conquest. Thus Germany has done; thus also have Russia and Austria. The next step will be a still wider co-operation and welding together of nations. Where the small countries agreed to work together the next thing will be that the great powers will do the same. This understanding may come through war and tribulation, but it will come. Then will begin the real republic of man.

In this co-operation of the nations where will be the place of the United States? We cannot longer stand aloof from the responsibilities of a mighty power; we must bear our share for good or for ill henceforth to the end. Already the nations of Europe are putting forth feelers on the subject of alliances with us and making bids for our favor. Which of the nations of Europe is our natural ally, if there is such nation? Many would reply at once that it is the English, our kindred in blood, our own kind in language, institutions, push and grit.

Perhaps. Yet there is Russia the great, Russia who stood by us as our fast friend during the dark hour of our civil war, when even England turned her back on us. Let us never forget the friendship of Russia. There, too, is Germany. There is among our people almost as much of the manly, vigorous German blood as of English, and the children of the fatherland have been among the most important builders of our free civilization. Why shall we not be good and fast friends with Germany? France, too, the one leading power that is a republic, the nation that befriended us in the Revolution against England and made it possible for us to be a republic—shall we forget the service rendered us by our sister of France?

The powers of Europe are all our allies. We need them and they need us. We are the friend of them all.

Various educational associations have come to the conclusion that a determined effort should be made to teach children morality in the schools. This conclusion is the correct one. The object of all education as well as of the experiences of later life is character building, the formation of a noble human being. In teaching morality in the schools, however, the danger lies in the liability of the teacher to mix his or her particular theological creed with the ethical instruction. The teacher must continually bear in mind that theology is not morality at all. The proof of it is that we find persons of diametrically opposite religious creeds to be equally good citizens, moral, upright and useful. In the purely ethical teachings of either the Old or New Testament there is not a trace of theology, unless belief in a reverence for a Supreme Being may be considered such. Teachers whose task it is to inculcate morality in schools cannot do better than to follow the lead there indicated.

Under the municipal law governing London, when a new street, a sewer or other public improvement is to be put upon a piece of ground within the city limits the expense of the improvement is not borne by the owner of the ground, but by the tenant of the property. Thus the renter must pay the tax or "rates" for the improvement, while the wealthy landlord escapes. The richest ground owners in London are consequently bitterly opposed to the Progressive party. In spite of their opposition, however, the voters of London stand by the Progressist county council.

When the United States government accepted the naval cadets at Annapolis, it bought their work and the use of their brains so long as they remained in its service. Naval officers who are patriots will therefore joyfully give to their country any inventions that will help it without demanding extra compensation. Think of Washington or Lincoln haggling for big money for something he had invented which would have been useful to his country!

The notable reply of Colonel Ingersoll when asked how he thought one could best succeed as an orator is commended to all who hope in future to thrill the earth with thoughts that breathe and words that burn. "In the first place," said the colonel, "I would advise him to have something to say."

The United States treasury contains at present $500,000 in prize money won by men of the navy in the civil war, but which was never claimed by them. Well, the United States will be able to make excellent use of the money if they never do claim it.

Don't talk of your ailments, your wrongs, your poverty and your bad luck. Don't carry a funeral around with you. All your friends have troubles of their own, every one.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The bitterest and most malignant of Frank Bergen's enemies would find it difficult to put him in a more unenviable light than do his own words as reported in the Plainfield Press. The language attributed to Bergen is a strong impeachment of his intelligence or his truthfulness. Any man who says that "the great majority of the respectable property owners of Cranford are heartily in favor of the county trolley, despite the noise made by Bigelow and his selfish coterie," is too ignorant or too mendacious to deserve attention. And the prophecy that "their screaming will not do them any good, as the projected improvement of Westfield avenue will go ahead just the same, no matter how much they rant," need create no alarm when its source is considered.—Cranford Chronicle.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

Dr. Mattison, of the borough, feels proud of the fact that he was among the first in this State to volunteer his services to his country in the present war with Spain. The doctor is 75 years of age, and early in March, before hostilities had begun, wrote a letter to Governor Voorhees offering the State his services in any capacity. He received a very cordial letter from Gov. Voorhees in reply, in which the latter expressed himself as well pleased with Dr. Mattison's patriotic sentiments, and said that he would not fail to call upon him at any time his services were desired. The doctor has not yet received the word, but holds himself in readiness to go at a moment's warning.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Comedy and vaudeville—always a combination that favorably touches the public fancy in the theatrical line—was produced in Music Hall last night in a new form. The novelty came with the introduction of the Acme Comedy and Vaudeville Company. Instead of mixing up the two lines of entertainment in one continuous show, the first part of the evening was given up to the presentation of a clever legitimate comedy, and after the curtain had been rung down on that feature several refined specialities followed one another in quick succession. In this way the interest in the comedy, in which there was plenty of dramatic action and climaxes, was obtained without marring the effect by interspersing specialties incongruous to the piece. Then by bunching the specialty acts together under an olio the full strength and talent of the entertainers was appreciated by the audience. The company is a clever one in both their combined work in the comedy and their individual vaudeville efforts. The company will appear every night and a Saturday matinee the rest of this week.

After the Ash Carters.

The Board of Health has determined to enforce the ordinance against ash and garbage collectors using wagons which are so old and rickety that the contents are scattered all along the streets. There have been several complaints recently to the Board and to the City Judge about this matter. The Board does not want to be hard on the men, as they are all poor and needy, but are determined to respect these complaints and insist upon a strict observance of the regulations.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

New Market, May 12—Regarding Mrs. Ann Soulsby, who died a few days ago at her home in this place, there are many interesting facts. She was formerly Miss Ann Harris, and was born and lived nearly all her life in Piscataway. A portion of her life was spent in California. She was 85 years old, and last June she was married to George Soulsby, aged 80 years, also of Piscataway Township. They were married by Rev. Frank Fletcher, and both were so feeble that they were obliged to sit down during the ceremony. Mrs. Soulsby suffered from a paralytic stroke, while her husband is a sufferer from rheumatism. The funeral of Mrs. Soulsby was held today from her late residence and Rev. Frank Fletcher officiated. Interment was at Samptown.

The strawberry festival that was held in Friendship Hall last Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Father Lights Missionary Society of the First Baptist church was a great success, and everything on sale was disposed of. The president of the society, Mrs. John Brokaw, had the matter in charge and she was assisted by Miss Emma Nelson, Mrs. Robert Giddis, Miss Lulu Boice, Miss Edna Boice, Miss Minnie VanMiddlesworth, Miss Anna D. Lloyd, Miss Estella Sofield, Miss Cora Dayton and others. The festival was arranged to raise money to refurnish the pulpit in the church and a sufficient amount has now been secured.

Harold Wilson, aged seven years, is considered quite a curiosity in this vicinity owing to the fact that he weighs about 103 pounds. He attracted considerable attention at the strawberry festival held Tuesday evening last.

Mrs Estella Blackford is confined to her home as a result of a paralytic stroke which she had a few days ago.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CHURCH FIFTY YEARS OLD.

American Reformed Society at Raritan Will Celebrate the Event

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 12—The American Reformed church, of Raritan, will, commencing next Sunday, celebrate its fiftieth anniversary with appropriate exercises. On Sunday the services will be held more for the members of the church, but on Monday general exercises will be held in which several prominent pastors will take part. All of the former pastors, with the exception of one, Rev. Mr. Cornell, of New York State, will be present, and he is too feeble to attend. The other pastors who have served the church are Rev. Mr. Stryker, of Asbury Park; Rev. Charles Poole, of New York; Rev. LaFevre, of Middlebush.

The present pastor is Rev. Wm. H. DeHart, a man of much power and influence. During the existence of the church great good has been accomplished, and the church stands as a monument in the denomination for all that is righteous and good.

Among the speakers from out of town will be Rev. Frank Fletcher, of Dunellen, and possibly Rev. Cornelius Schenck, of Plainfield. Delegations of members from other Reformed churches throughout this section are expected to be present on Monday

Edward White.

HE DIDN'T CARE FOR FLATTERY.

But Thought His Wife Would Be Pleased by a Newspaper Ad.

Years ago a member of the Indiana Legislature, in a brand-new suit of broadcloth and a silk hat, gold-headed cane and white lawn tie, wandered up into the sanctum of the Courier-Journal, stood around in a listless way, looked over the papers, went downstairs and came back several times. He was asked to take a seat, which he declined elaborately, and ended by drawing his chair in a confidential way up to the "Roundabout" man's desk.

"Couldn't you," he said, "put in the paper that I am at the Galt House with my bride, and just fling in something about my being a prominent Indianian? I don't care anything about this sort of thing myself, but you know how the women are. I want fifty copies of the paper sent to this address." And he laid down $2.50, grinned, got red in the face, said "Good morning" and vanished.

Next morning he read that "Mr. John Huckleberry requests us to say that he is at the Galt House with his bride; that he is a prominent member of the Indiana Legislature and that he himself, personally, cares nothing for newspaper notoriety, but that a society note would be very gratifying to Mrs. Huckleberry. He added that he wanted fifty copies of the paper for distribution to his constituents."

TRADE IN KANGAROO SKINS.

About Eight Thousand Received Each Month in New York.

Kangaroo skins have been on the market for about ten years. There are some 8,000 kangaroo skins received in New York every month. They are tanned in one large establishment in Newark, N. J., and are then made into fine shoes. They come from Australia and New Zealand. Up to 1869 the kangaroo were killed and eaten in Australia, and only certain parts of their hide were cut up into shoestrings. But an Englishman named Brown in that year discovered the remarkable character of the leather and brought several thousand skins on speculation to this country.

He tried to sell the hides to various tanners, but they were shy of the novelty, and he had to sell them at a sacrifice to a bookbinder. The latter made triangular corner pieces for ledgers and commercial books out of them and so ascertained the good qualities of the leather. It was in this way that several large leather factories were first attracted to the valuable properties of kangaroo hide. The skin is found to be very tenacious, and the compactness of the grain prevents its absorbing water, while the acids in blacking meet with an almost impervious substance.

Remarkable Twins.

Henry O. and James M. Nevill, twins, who were born on June 15, 1815, in Barron county, Ky., are remarkable in the similarity of their careers. They married sisters; each was the father of seven children; each has lost one child; each was a county Judge; each entered the Federal army as Captain, and each was mustered out of service as a Colonel. In 1850 the brothers moved to Missouri, settled in Harrison county, and have made their homes there from that time to this. Their father, James Nevill, a Virginian by birth, served as a private during the Revolutionary War, and died at the age of 99 years and 8 months.

Gave the South the Daisy.

A Southern man tells the Washington Post that the daisy was never known in the South until after the war. Now every part of the South visited by the Union army is covered with daisies. "Sherman brought them to us," he said, "and the march to the sea can be followed in the Summer time by keeping where the daisies grow. The seed seems to have been transported in the hay that was brought along to feed the horses. This is the only explanation that has ever been made of it."—New York World.

He Buys the Trousseau.

The bridegroom in Mexico finds marriage a very costly business. He is expected to buy the trousseau, and he is fortunate if he can satisfy the extravagance sanctioned by custom and prompted by ardent passion. Young men from the country are said to be often seen in the City of Mexico purchasing all sorts of finery for the ladies of their choice, and the spectacle they present as they consult the measurements, which they carry with them for all sorts of garments, is very amusing.

Pay of French Convicts.

Many of the convicts in French prisons are paid for their labor, and earn about one shilling and five pence a day. Half of this they are allowed to spend for extra food, postage, etc., and the rest is saved, to be given to them on their discharge.

AN ORDINANCE

relative to the assessment and collection of taxes, and the duties of certain borough officers in relation thereto.

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. The assessor shall place upon the black-and-white copy of the official assessment map of the borough, within the lines enclosing the various lots shown thereon, the name or names of the respective owners of such lots, on or before August first, 1898, and shall on or before the first day of each succeeding August make such changes in said names as changes in the ownership of such lots may make proper.

Sec. 2. The assessor shall enter each year, upon a field book to be furnished him by the Council, in each and every case, the information indicated by the following several headings, viz:

"Owner," "Location," "Dimensions of Land," "Description of Buildings," "Value of Land," "Value of Buildings," "Personal Property," "Deductions," "Total Assessed Value," "Dog" and "Poll."

Sec. 3. The assessor shall complete the field book mentioned in the preceding section and also make annually an original duplicate of his assessments for such year, and a true copy thereof, and present such field book, copy of assessment map, duplicate and copy thereof, at the first meeting, regular or special, of the Council in August of each year, and continue to so present them at any adjourned or other meeting of the Council, at the pleasure of the Council until the duplicate is finally corrected and approved as required by law: For the purpose of this section the said duplicate and copy thereof need contain only the names of owners, the location of property, the assessed value and the character of property, whether real or personal.

Sec. 4. Before any duplicate is finally approved as required by law, the copy thereof mentioned in preceding section shall be compared with the original and made to correspond therewith in the particulars specified in said section by the Borough Clerk, and shall thereafter remain in the custody of the Borough Clerk without further alteration, subject to such use as the Council may, from time to time, by resolution determine. After any duplicate shall have been finally approved by the Council, no change in the amount of any assessment contained therein shall be made by the Assessor or Collector except first authorized by resolution of the Council.

Sec. 5. The Commissioners of Appeal shall annually make and certify under their hands or the hands of a majority of them, duplicate reports in writing in detail of all allowances and deductions or other changes in assessments made or allowed by them, and shall deliver within five days after their meeting in each year one copy of such report to the Borough Clerk and the other copy to the Collector, and said Clerk and Collector shall severally file and preserve every such report.

Sec. 6. No exemption from taxation shall be allowed to any soldier, sailor, member of the national guard, or active or exempt fireman, except on property owned by and assessed to such soldier, sailor, member of the national guard, active or exempt fireman, and no exempt fireman except such as shall have earned his exemption in the service of a fire department within the limits of the Borough of North Plainfield shall be allowed any such exemption as exempt fireman.

Sec. 7. No allowance or deduction shall be made from any assessment by the Collector except by virtue of resolution of the Council or the certified written report of the commissioners of appeal on file with the Collector.

Sec. 8. The Collector shall charge and collect interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum on all delinquent taxes (as provided in state law) unless the Council shall by resolution direct him to accept a less rate, which said Council may do in any particular case without otherwise changing this provision.

Sec. 9. The Collector shall keep a full and correct record in a proper book, of all property sold for taxes, and report all such sales with a description of the property, name of owner, name of purchaser, term and amount for which sold, in writing to the Council at its next regular meeting after such sale is made, and whenever thereafter the tax on any such property is paid shall in like manner report that fact to the Council.

Sec. 10. The Collector shall report in writing to the Council at each regular meeting thereof the amount of money by him collected since the previous meeting, and in such report shall specify in each instance, in addition to the year for which the money collected was assessed, the name of each person assessed, the amount assessed, the date when paid and the amount of interest, if any, collected.

Sec. 11. The Borough Collector shall deposit, as soon as possible after the same shall come into his possession, all checks and moneys of the Borough hereafter collected or received by him for any purpose, in such bank as the Council shall from time to time by resolution designate, in the name of "The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield," which moneys so deposited shall be subject only to drafts thereon signed by the Mayor, attested by the Borough Clerk, and countersigned by the said Collector.

Sec. 12. The Borough Clerk shall file and preserve every report made by the collector pursuant to the preceding section, and shall enter each month upon the proper copy of the duplicate in his possession the date when each item of tax shown on such copy was reported by the Collector paid and such further facts in relation thereto as may be proper.

Sec. 13. The Borough Clerk shall immediately before the regular October meeting of the Council in each year, compare his copy of the duplicates for all preceding years with the Collector's duplicates for the purpose of determining whether or not such copies agree with such duplicates up to the thirtieth day of September then next preceding, and shall report the result in writing to the Council at said October meeting.

Sec. 14. The Committee on Taxation shall compare each year immediately prior to the regular February meeting of the Council the Collector's duplicate with the Clerk's copies thereof, and report the result to the Council at said meeting.

Sec. 15. All special school taxes collected by the Collector shall be transferred to him as the legal custodian of the school money belonging to the school district in which the borough is situated, as soon as the same are reported collected to the Council, and for that purpose the Mayor, Borough Clerk and Collector shall have power to draw their warrants from time to time for, and not exceeding the amount of special school tax so reported collected, without the passage, by the Council, of any resolution for that purpose, and the Collector shall, at each regular meeting of the Council, report the amount of such warrants drawn since the last preceding regular meeting.

Sec. 16. Every person who shall violate any provision of this ordinance, or shall fail to perform any duty required thereby, shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to a fine of one hundred dollars for every such violation or failure, and such penalty shall be in addition to any other liability or penalty which is now, or may hereafter be, provided by any law.

Sec. 17. This ordinance shall take effect on the 20th day of May, 1898.

Approved May 6, 1898.

JOHN F. WILSON, Mayor.

INCREASE OF CATHOLICS.

Some Interesting Statistics of the Strength of the Catholic Church.

It is customary every two years for the propaganda to issue an "Annuary of Catholic Missions." The increase in numbers of Catholic adherents is interesting. Thus the increase in Great Britain is stated as 37,203 souls, the total number of Catholics accordingly being 5,283,059. In Holland and Luxemburg there is an increase of 62,338 Catholics, and a total of 1,854,340. In Denmark, increase, 1,900; total, 7,000. In the German mission provinces, increase, 57,487; total, 207,180. Increase of Catholics in the Balkan peninsula, 82,112; total, 686,210. In Greece, 8,000, the total being 34,710. The following official returns show very marked progress in the number of Catholics: United States, 9,479,250; Canada, 2,184,480; Antilles and Guiana, 339,200; Patagonia, 50,287; Oceanica, 897,980. The Catholics of Latin rite in Asia are enumerated as follows: 120,680 in Turkey, 1,500 in Arabia, 1,178,325 in India, 872,680 in Indo-China, 801,410 in Japan and Korea. In north Africa and the islands there are 458,170 Catholics. The oriental Catholics are divided according to rites: Abyssinians or Ethiopians, 30,000; Armenians, 107,000; Copts, 25,500; Greek Rumenians, 1,048,690; Greek Bulgarians, 13,000; Greek Ruthenians, 3,543,600; Greek Melchites, 116,700; Syrians, 720,000; Syro-Maronites, 277,000; Syro-Malabarites, 260,329. Among the acts of the sacred congregation of the propaganda within the last two years may be mentioned the erection of the vicariate apostolic of Wales Feb. 5, 1895; of the vicariate apostolic of Tonquin April 18, 1895; the new delimitation of the diocese of Vizagapatan in India in July, 1895; the division of Madagascar into two vicariates in June, 1896; the erection of the prefecture apostolic of William's Land in Oceanica in January, 1896; the transformation of the vicariate apostolic of Arizona into a diocese under the name of Tucson in March, 1897.—Catholic Review.

NEW SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH

The Postulants From Ireland Have Begun Their New Life.

The first formal step in the new life chosen by the 45 young ladies who came to America from Ireland to join the order of Sisters of St. Joseph, was taken recently, when they entered the novitiate. Until recently the young ladies were housed in the dormitories occupied by the girls of the St. Joseph academy. The other day at noon they were moved to another building, west of the big open court, where they take up the duties of their novitiate. This means that they will rise early and retire early. They will eat of plain food and give up much time to prayer and self denial. Under the guidance of the more learned sisters they will fit themselves for teachers, the highest work done by the sisters.

It is not expected that all of the young ladies will take the same course or that they will make the same progress. On the contrary, their duties will be individual, and each one will be trained along the lines to which she is best adapted. The girls' ages range from 16 to 22 years and the advantages they have had vary. Some of them are excellent musicians. Of these, some are expert with one instrument and others with another. In whatever accomplishment they are most proficient will they be given opportunity of further cultivation. The work done by the sisters covers a very wide field. They are known best as teachers of young girls in the different boarding schools or academies established by the order. However, they have hospitals, orphanages, deaf and dumb institutions, and engage in almost every possible charity. In this diversified field it is possible to allow the girls to choose duties to which they are best adapted and fit themselves accordingly.

Papal Economy.

The pope has just issued an order in connection with the internal economy of the Vatican which has given no end of offense to the prelates and the dignitaries of his court. He suddenly became aware that the enormous quantities of fruit grown in the gardens of the Vatican have been distributed until now among the cardinals and the prelates of his entourage. He has now stopped this, and by his directions all the fruit that he does not use himself is sold to wholesale dealers, and can be bought in the piazza of the Campo de Fiori. "How different from the gay days of Pius IX," sigh the old prelates and retainers, who recall the fact that the genial predecessor of Leo XIII was a foe of everything in the shape of frugality or economy.—New York World.

Valuable Jesuit Document Found.

A discovery of great importance to Canadian history has recently been made at Quebec among the old manuscripts in the archives of the archdiocese. Vicar General Marois, while going through these, discovered a document in three parts written in 1672 by Pere Francois de Crepieul, a Jesuit missionary who spent part of his life among the Indians of the Saguenay region. Historians have believed in the existence of this document because of allusion to and extracts from it, but no trace of it could be found until now, though it was frequently and diligently searched for.—Boston Transcript.

Widow of Windthorst.

The widow of Windthorst, the most illustrious German Catholic of modern times, deserves to stand among the noblest heroines of the fatherland, for Dr. Windthorst himself repeatedly avowed that without her sympathy and assistance his public career would have been impossible. She lately passed to her reward at the venerable age of 93.—Boston Herald.

MOTHER KATHARINE.

MISSION OF THE NUN WHO WAS FORMERLY MISS DREXEL.

Her Work Among Negroes and Indians. Children of Both Sexes Are Trained by Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament—An Institute Founded by Miss Drexel.

It was stated recently that Mother Katharine, formerly Miss Drexel of Philadelphia, had purchased the sanitarium at Cascade, in the Black Hills, S. D., for the religious community which she founded. This report is doubted by persons who should know the facts, but it serves to draw attention to the work she is now doing.

In 1891 Miss Katharine Drexel founded the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament with the object of converting and educating Indians and negroes. According to an article in the April number of The Messenger of the Sacred Heart, this order is unique among American sisterhoods. Miss Drexel entered the novitiate of the Sisters of Mercy at Pittsburg in 1889, intending to devote her life and her great wealth to the elevation and conversion of the aborigines. To her original purpose she later added the conversion of the colored race. The Institute of the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament was the result of her endeavors, and it practically dates from February, 1891, when Miss Drexel was appointed mother superior of the community of 13 novices by Archbishop Ryan. About two miles north of Eden Hall, at Cornwells, Pa., St. Elizabeth's convent, the mother house of this order, was immediately erected. It was not formally opened until December, 1893, but in the meantime Mother Katharine and her coworkers were not idle, having established themselves in St. Michael's, the Drexel residence near Eden Hall. The sisters have now in training 165 colored children in the Holy Providence House, adjoining their convent. These children are of all sects and are mostly orphans and foundlings from all parts of the country. Girls are in the majority, and they have the benefits of a home and a school until they are 21 years old. They receive a training of the head and hand intended to make them independent and self supporting after leaving Cornwells. They receive a good common school education, one half the day being spent in school and the other half in domestic service. Each girl is thoroughly instructed in all the branches of domestic economy. Some take a course in dressmaking, others learn in a well equipped laundry all the details of laundry work, while baking and cooking classes are provided for still others. The boys are transferred to other trade and industrial schools in their twelfth year. Until that age they are educated like the girls.

The same work is being done for the Indians in St. Katharine's Indian school at Santa Fe, N. M. Nine sisters went there from Cornwells in 1894. They have about 120 children under their care, and from time to time visit the various pueblos about their school for a radius of 80 miles.

A branch school was opened at Rockcastle, Va., in the center of a thickly populated colored district, three years ago. This school is known as the St. Francis de Sales School For Girls. The Christian Brothers have an industrial school for boys near by.

Ecclesiastical Cycling.

It is to be regretted that the Vatican does not issue some definite pronouncement with regard to the use of bicycles by the clergy. Considerable confusion prevails upon the subject, the cardinals and bishops all laying down the law in different fashion. Thus the cardinal archbishops of Milan, Venice and Paris, as well as the bishops of Nancy and Grenoble, have forbidden the use of the pastoral wheel under any pretext whatsoever. The bishop of Pavia goes still further. He fines his already impecunious clergy the sum of 10 lire—that is to say about $2—for every ride they take. The cardinal archbishop of Milan, wishing to have the views of the pope upon the subject, asked recently for an official pronouncement, but received in reply nothing but an unofficial message in Latin to the effect, "Non sunt inquietandi," which may be interpreted as "Let them alone"—an indication, therefore, that Leo XIII sees no objection to priests wheeling.—New York Tribune.

What Faith Does.

Faith links us with the eternal; makes us one
With God itself. Its attitude sublime,
It o'erlooks endless reaches; sees the sun
Outchase the flying shadows we call time.

Faith grandly cries unto the human soul.
It molds us in the image all divine;
Holds up Christ's likeness as our final goal
And says, "This thrilling beauty shall be thine!"

Faith conquers life by its unmeasured trust.
To all his paths there is a goal we know.
No human soul need ever fear the dust
Placed by our God where best 'twill thrive and grow.

Fate is an heir to nothing which our God
Cannot regenerate, soften or restrain.
Love puts a misty veil before our eyes
That faith may part its folds and see again.

Faith takes away the commonness from life.
It shows us that all human things are God's,
Sees flashing the divine, pities the strife
And answers "Nay" to doubt's depressing words.

God shapes our life's events with perfect love.
Standing today in silence and the shade,
We listen for his kindly voice and move
Only in paths he marks for us to tread.

Oh, thought supreme, that we so weak, so small,
Tempted, distressed, weeping and overcome,
Shall gain the heavenly sweetness waiting all
As surely as the earth flowers fade and bloom!

The truest life attains by faith alone,
Building all life upon eternal aim.
Take all we have and are! To thee we come
Rich, radiant, supreme, if faith remain!

Leave but our faith, the centuries in their way
Across the sky of time shall fade and flee,
The seas shall be no more, but thou alway
Sublime, triumphant, evermore shalt be!
—Nellie Hart Woodworth in Boston Journal.

THE YOUNG CHAPLAIN.

The Work He Accomplished at West Point Among Cadets and Officers.

One night in 1825, a clergyman was taking tea with John C. Calhoun, then Secretary of War. Suddenly Mr. Calhoun said to his guest:

"Will you accept the place of chaplain and professor of ethics at West Point? If you will, I will appoint you at once."

The clergyman was Charles P. McIlvaine, then but 25 years of age, and subsequently known as the "Bishop of Ohio." He accepted the appointment because West Point then had an unsavory reputation. There was not a Christian among officers and cadets. Many of them were skeptics, and the others were coolly indifferent to religion. He was received as gentlemen receive a gentleman, but no one showed the least sympathy with him as a clergyman. For months his preaching seemed as words spoken in the air. His first encouragement was an offensive expression.

He was walking home from church one Sunday a few feet in advance of several officers. "The chaplain's preaching is getting hotter and hotter," he heard one of them say.

In a few days he received another bit of encouragement. He was dining with a company at the house of an officer. A Lieutenant, a scoffer, hurled a bitter sneer at clergymen. The officers threatened to send the Lieutenant to "Coventry" if he did not apologize. He called and asked the chaplain's pardon.

Another officer took offense at one of the chaplain's sermons and wrote him a bold avowal of skeptical opinions.

The chaplain, seeing in these incidents that the chronic indifference was giving way to opposition, persevered. But opposition was all the encouragement he received during the year. Not a cadet had visited him or even sought his acquaintance.

But one Saturday, the only day the cadets were allowed to visit an officer without special permission, one of the most popular of the cadets knocked at the chaplain's door. He wished to begin the Christian life then, and asked for counsel. In a day or two another cadet called on a similar errand; then another and another. Then several officers came. A meeting for prayer was appointed twice a week. It was the first public prayer meeting held at West Point. Officers and cadets crowded in, though all who came professed thereby to begin a religious life. At first it required as much courage to enter that room as it did to lead a forlorn hope.

One of the cadets was Leonidas Polk, afterwards Bishop of Louisiana. Intelligent, high-toned and commanding in person, he was the conspicuous cadet. Seeing that it was his duty to make a public confession of his faith in Christ, he asked for baptism.

After baptizing him the chaplain made a brief address, closing with a charge to be faithful. "Amen," responded Polk, in a voice that rang through the church. The "amen" was from the heart. Immediately the baptized cadet became a missionary to his comrades.

A solemnity pervaded the academy during the remaining two years that this clergyman served as chaplain. Half the corps became Christian men. Several of them, leaving the army, were promoted to the ministry. Many of those who entered the army rose to eminence. They adorned their profession and the Christian religion.

This era in West Point was created through divine aid by a young man who simply did his duty patiently and left the result with God.—Christian Worker.

JUBILEE STAMP.

Issued by One Department of the English Gov. and Repudiated by Another.

There is a curious complication in regard to the stamps that were issued to commemorate the diamond jubilee. They were proposed by the Duke of York, were engraved and issued by the treasury department but the postoffice department declined to recognize them for postal purposes because the proceeds were to be devoted to the hospital fund of the Prince of Wales. The edition was comparatively small and the plates were destroyed by the Duke of York in the Bank of England the other day. While they lose much of their value to collectors because they were repudiated by the postmaster general and cannot be used for postage, it is predicted that they will be all the more precious in future years for the same reason. They are the only stamps that were ever issued by one department of the British government and repudiated by another.—Chicago Record.

Shocking.

"No," said Miss Murdock. "I shall never speak to Tom Parker again! He insulted me yesterday."

"The wretch!" exclaimed Miss Dulwich; "how was it?"

"You know, he and I met at the seashore last summer. We became very well acquainted—went in bathing together, nearly every day, and—well he gave me to understand that he loved me."

"Yes?"

"So I happened to be passing his office, yesterday, and I thought I would stop and invite him out to take tea with us some evening next week."

"And you found that he had merely been flirting with you?"

"Oh, it was awful! I never was so shocked in my life! Why, the horrible creature came out from behind his desk in his shirt sleeves! I just fled without saying a word!"

SPANISH GUNBOAT SUNK.

The American Gunboat Concord Destroyed Her Without Loss to the Americans.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Hong Kong, May 12, 12:10 p. m.—A trading vessel has just arrived from the Philippine Islands with fresh news of Admiral Dewey's operations there.

Those on board the vessel saw the American gunboat Concord attack a Spanish gunboat off Iloilo, a prominent seaport in the Philippines.

The Spaniards fought desperately, but their vessel was sunk after two hours engagement. As the ship sunk the Spanish flag was still flying.

No Americans were killed in the battle and the American vessel escaped unharmed. Many Spaniards were killed and wounded. Others were lost when the ship sank.

There are now only two Spanish war vessels in Asiatic waters. One lies at this port disabled. The other is reported to be trying to escape with the American cruiser Boston in full pursuit.

It is reported that Rear Admiral Dewey proposes to capture the Spanish strongholds at Iloilo and Cebu, the only important ports in the Philippines outside of Manila.

Mr. McCann said that the cost of the round trip would be $54 20, with additional charges for berths and meals. The New Jersey Federation is entitled to five delegates.

The business being finished, the regular order of the morning was resumed. Mrs. Mary E. Green, M. The Neutrality of Austria.

Budapest, May 12.—Emperor Francis Joseph, replying to the addresses of the members of the delegations, who were received in audience by His Majesty yesterday, declared that Austria's relations with all the powers, especially with the neighboring States, were of the very best. The Emperor also referred with regret to the hostilities between the United States and Spain, and said that while he had resolved to maintain strict neutrality, he hoped the "distressing struggle will soon be ended."

50,000 Volunteers Ready to March.

Washington, May 12.—Fifty thousand volunteers are ready for the field, according to the Adjutant General's office. Responses to the hurry orders issued for the volunteers to go to the coast have been prompt. The Governor of California wired that he had two full regiments ready to go and wanted to know if he was not the first in the field. The Department replied that Montana was entitled to the honor. Massachusetts says that its regiments ordered to Tampa are fully equipped and waiting for the word. Similar responses are coming from many other States.

Refused $100,000 for an "Idea."

A few years ago, says the Boston Transcript, an inventor who had devised a new sleeping car took his plans to Mr. Pullman. The latter, after looking over them, said: "There is an idea there. I will give you $100,000 cash for your patents." The inventor was a poor man and he would not accept the terms. He said that if the idea was worth $100,000 to Pullman it was worth millions to him. The car was built and proved a financial failure, and it is believed that even to this day the inventor does not know where the "idea" was whose presence Mr. Pullman discerned in the working plans.

SPORTS

AROUND THE BASES.

The Bachelors' Club will play its postponed game with the baseball team of Leal's school on Saturday afternoon on the Washington avenue grounds. The Bachelors are getting quite expert in the National game.

The Crescent Oval has been completely put in order for the game on Saturday afternoon. An excellent diamond has been laid out and the grand stand has been repaired and put in order. The grand stand has a great advantage over that of last year in that it is in the shade during the afternoon.

Manager Momford is very enthusiastic over the showing that the Crescents will make this season. He claims that it will equal the old Crescents as they were under the management of T. H. Kellar. His team is considerably strengthened since last year and can be counted on making a good showing at the opening day.

Saturday afternoon will see the opening of the Crescent Oval as a baseball field with a game between the Plainfield Crescents and the Seventh Regiment team, of New York. The boys of the "gallant seventh" do not need any introduction to the baseball loving public of this city. It is not the same team that played here last year under the name of the West End Field Club, although several of the same players will appear here on the Seventh Regiment team. The Seventh Regiment team will continue their season only until the end of June, when the team will disband for the season. The game is called for 3:30 o'clock, and will be opened by Mayor Charles J. Fisk, who will throw the first ball across the home plate.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company has just received a shipment of new Cleveland wheels.

The Frank L. C. Martin Cycle Company have been appointed as the official L. A. W. repairers for Westfield and this city.

Horace Martin, Jr., of West Front street, has accepted a position as salesman in the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company in the place of E. H. Bogardus, resigned.

Improvement in the county road between Plainfield and Westfield would be very acceptable, particularly in some places. The road has not yet recovered from the effects of the winter's frosts and rains.

The county road between New Market and Stelton is still in poor condition on account of the numerous ruts in the roadway. Many wheelmen who have been over that road complain of sundry spills that they have taken as a result of too close acquaintance with these same ruts.

The Bachelors Club Wheelmen held a meeting on Tuesday night and elected the following road officer: Captain, Benjamin O. Bowers, Jr.; first lieutenant, Carroll L. Runyon; second lieutenant, Goodwin Beard; color bearer, Albert Finch; bugler, Edward Kline. Henry W. Brower, Harry Woltman, and the captain were appointed a committee to arrange for a series of runs.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

In the make-up of Yale's 'varsity crew, Raymond A. McGee, of Orchard place, North Plainfield, has been chosen. The New York Mail and Express says of the fortunate men who rowed last year and who have been selected for this year's crew, "Seldom is it that one class has ever made such a record at Yale. Every one of last season's freshman oarsman has now received his 'Y'." McGee is one of the three substitutes who are pronounced "an able lot." Yale crew substitutes and attendants will leave for New London and Gales Ferry early in June. The men will have over two weeks' practice on the Thames, according to the present schedule.

BASKET BALL

A game of basket ball is being arranged between the Senior High School basket ball team, of this city, and the Teachers' team of the Elizabeth school. The Seniors have accepted the Teachers' challenge, but the dates are yet to be arranged. Two games will be played, one in this city and the return game in Elizabeth. Admission will be by complimentary tickets.

Cadets Will Attend Divine Service.

It has been the custom for the last two years to have the cadets of the Plainfield High School attend divine service at some local church during the spring months. This year the High School cadets and the Leal School cadets will unite and attend service together. The date has been set for next Sunday when the two companies will march in uniform to the Grace P. E. church, where a special sermon will be preached to them.

A Patriotically Decorated Store.

VanEmburgh & Son, the West Front street merchants, have probably one of the most patriotic decorated stores in this city. Their place is just filled with every known patriotic emblem and a person can purchase anything in that line from a tiny flag for 2 cents to a large flag for decoration at a reasonable price. Their show windows are excedingly attractive and patriotism is evidenced on every side.

A Trip Postponed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 12.—On account of the rain yesterday, Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company deferred returning Gazelle's hand engine to the Exempt Firemen's Association at Plainfield until tonight. This evening a number of the firemen will take the old engine to that city and it will be received by Chief Doane, of the committee, and stored in a vacant store on East Second street.

Summer Camp.

Reception to Plainfielders.

The Star Club, of Somerville, gave a reception last Sunday evening in their rooms to the members of the Park Social Club, of Plainfield. The affair was one of the most enjoyable ever given by the club. Those present from Plainfield included Frank Nelson, J. H. McRay, H. Huff and J. Anthony.

Improvements On Park Avenue.

The Street Commissioner has begun work on two new culverts across Park avenue at Randolph road. The gutters across Park avenue have always been open, and in rainy weather are filled with water. The culverts will be appreciated by horsemen and wheelmen alike.

SAMPSON HAS LOCATED THE SPANISH FLEET.

Reports Say San Juan Has Surrendered to Americans.

Message Received at Washington From the Rear Admiral—Invasion of Cuba Postponed Indefinitely—More Arms For Insurgents Landed—Troops to the Front.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

SAMPSON WIRES HOME.

He Has Located the Spanish Fleet and is Awaiting a Battle.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 13, 1:20 p. m—Although the Navy Department had a fair idea of where Rear Admiral Sampson and his fleet are, definite information was watched with eagerness.

The looked-for message has arrived and brings with it the intelligence about the Spanish fleet. It also tells that another naval engagement is at hand, perhaps today.

A message was received from Sampson this morning by the Navy Department. It came by cable. He wired that he had located the Spaniards.

A battle was probable today, he said. He also told the department that he had not landed marines on Porto Rico but had left the monitors to guard San Juan.

Secretary of State Day has demanded an explanation from France for allowing the Spanish fleet to coal up at the French port of St. Pierre, Martinique.

PALACE ROOF BLOWN OFF.

Further Details of the Bombardment of San Juan, Porto Rico.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, May 13, 11:30 a. m—Advices have been received here regarding the bombardment of San Juan by Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet yesterday.

The Journal correspondent says Seaman Widemark, on board the cruiser New York, was killed and four others of the crew of that ship were wounded.

A shell from one of the big guns on the New York exploded in the palace of the Governor-General, tearing off the roof.

The Governor-general remained at his post and tried to rally the panic-stricken Spaniards who had deserted their arms and fled for the interior.

The city is reported to be in a state of panic. The inhabitants are wild with terror for they fear the fire of the American war-ships on one side and the insurgents on the other.

The Spanish torpedo boat destroyers Terror and Furor arrived off Fort de-France, one of the principal seaports on the west coast of the French Island of Martinique, yesterday. They are part of the Spanish fleet from the Cape Verde Islands.

A LANDING WAS MADE,

The Transport Gussie Finally Landed Arms and Supplies for the Insurgents.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 13, 12:20 p. m—The transport Gussie which left here last Tuesday with arms and supplies for the insurgents in Cuba, has accomplished its mission.

Word has come from the blockading fleet that after the lively skirmish between the blockaders and the shore batteries yesterday, that the remainder of the expedition for the Cuban insurgents was landed.

It is stated that the landing was made near Cardenas after several lively engagements.

Arms for Insurgents Landed.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 13, 1:20 p. m—Further details of the landing of supplies on the Cuban coast by the transport Gussie have been received.

Seven thousand rifles and a quantity of ammunition was landed at Cardenas yesterday, the auxiliary gunboats Wasp and Mangrove assisting.

The Spaniards fired heavily on the landing party, wounding one American sailor.

DECISIVE CONFLICT AT HAND

The American Fleet is Waiting For Approaching Spanish Warships.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, May 13, 11:50 a. m—Further advices from San Juan confirm the report that Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet utterly destroyed the Spanish defences at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Sampson's fleet is reported to be cruising about seeking the Spanish fleet which has been reported off Martinique.

One of the decisive battles of the war will undoubtedly be fought near there today.

The vessels of the American fleet are reported to have an ample supply of ammunition and coal on board.

San Juan Has Surrendered.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, May 13, 10:30 a. m—It is reported here that the city of San Juan, capital of Porto Rico, surrendered to Rear Admiral Sampson and the American fleet this morning. Details are lacking.

Capture Confirmed in London.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

London, May 13, 12:15 p. m—The capture of San Juan by the American fleet has been confirmed. The London Evening News publishes a despatch announcing that San Juan surrendered to Rear Admiral Sampson at six o'clock last evening.

Invasion of Cuba Delayed.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 13, 1:55 p. m—According to the Cabinet officials, the arrival of the Spanish fleet at Martinique has postponed the invasion of Cuba indefinitely.

Dewey Still Blockading Manila.

(The Union Associated Press.)

London, May 13, 1:45 p. m.—Lloyd's agent at Manila cables from Hong Kong that Rear Admiral Dewey is blockading the port very strictly. Several Spanish ships are reported captured.

WHERE WOMEN HAVE SWAY IN POLITICS

State Club Women Hear Interesting Reports from Colorado.

WOMAN'S WORD GOES.

CLOSING SESSION OF THE STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Miss Carrie Louise Boylan Told of a Halcyon Condition of Affairs That Existed in Colorado for Women Who Participated in Public Affairs—A Woman Legislator Whose Word Went—An Original Poem Recited by the Blind Hymn Writer—Many Other Interesting Features Were Enjoyed.

The meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs was continued yesterday afternoon in the Casino of the Union County Country Club. The afternoon session was an informal one, and was called to order soon after 2 o'clock by Miss Cecelia Gaines, of Jersey City, president of the Federation.

An elaborate luncheon was served to the visitors at 1 o'clock in the Casino to which over 300 delegates stayed. The Casino presented a pretty appearance, and the platform and side walls were set off with spring blossoms and potted plants.

A choir from the Monday Afternoon Club, consisting of Mrs. George Chapman, Mrs. Frank Clawson, Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Irving Howard Browning and Mrs. William L. Saunders, rendered two short selections, "Spring and Love," by Gall, and the "Owl and the Pussy Cat," by Ingraham. Next came the greetings from the five clubs of whom the State Federation were guests. The greeting from the Monday Afternoon Club was given by Mrs. Isaac L. Miller; for the Woman's Parliamentary Club, Miss C. Yates; Club of Current Events, Mrs. M. E. Dwight; Town Improvement Association, Mrs. Pierre Malli; Razores Club, Mrs. Horace Kimball.

Mrs. Fanny Crosby, the blind poetess and hymn writer, recited an original poem, and Miss Imogene Clark followed with selections from "Will Shakespeare's Little Lad." Miss Crosby, who is totally blind, was led to the front of the platform by Miss Gaines, and recited her lines with feeling and expression. She was warmly applauded, but would not consent to recite again. Miss Clark is a native of this city, and had many admirers in the audience.

There were three patriotic guests present, Mrs. Louis Barolt, who is known as "The most famous woman in Cuba;" Mrs. J. D. Bedle, president of the Colonial Dames of this State; and Mrs. Washington Roebling, chairman of the New Jersey Washington Memorial Association. Each of these ladies had something interesting to say, which was listened to with attention. Miss Carrie Louise Boylan, State chairman of correspondence, spoke of the General Federation meeting in Denver, which occurs next month.

Miss Boylan had a great deal to say about the state of affairs in Colorado, and especially of the active part women and women's clubs play in the political matters in that state. The speaker said that nothing is done in Denver until the advice of the club to which Miss Boylan belongs, has been asked, and that the men show such a deference to them that almost everything the club asks for in the line of improvements is granted at once.

Such a halcyon condition of things does not exist in this State, so the President said, upon Miss Boylan's conclusion, and mentioned an incident in a conversation she once had with a Colorado lady, in which she expressed a desire that such and such a thing be done.

"Of course it will," this Colorado lady said, "for I am a member of the Legislature myself, and whatever I say, goes."

Denver is the destination of the Federation members in a few weeks, and the President and officers hoped all who could would go, whether delegates or not. The meeting closed with singing "The Red, White and Blue," and thus enclosed one of the most brilliant as well as patriotic assemblages of club women that has ever been gathered together in this State.

Enough to Buy the Eagle.

The bronze eagle that is to surmount the city flagpole will be a gift of the school children of Plainfield. Yesterday afternoon the returns were made from the different schools to Superintendent Maxson. The amount raised is $55, the exact amount necessary to pay for the eagle.

WERE WEDDED SECRETLY

DODGE-MORRIS NUPTIALS OCCURRED APRIL 17TH.

The Groom a Plainfield Merchant and the Bride a New Brunswick Girl—There Was No Parental Objection.

Tomorrow morning the marriage of Miss Sadie E. Morris, of New Brunswick, to Daniel Dodge, of Lincoln place and Duer street, is to be announced at the home of the bride. It was on Sunday, the seventeenth day of last April, that the couple went out for a drive in the afternoon. They went over to Somerville and were quietly married by a clergyman in that place.

The marriage has been kept a secret ever since. The reasons for secrecy were not, however, on account of any objection on the part of the families of either of the interested ones. On the contrary, all were well pleased that the young couple should go together. They have been well acquainted for some time and Dodge has been a frequent visitor at the Morris home.

It will be remembered that Dodge, as senior member of the firm of Dodge & Overbaugh, only started in business a few months ago and he wished to get firmly settled before the announcement of the marriage was made. Then, too, both of the young people preferred a quiet wedding.

Wednesday, Mrs. Dodge came to this city, where she is visiting at the home of Louis Mohring, of West Fifth street. Tomorrow morning she expects to return to her home in New Brunswick, when she intends to announce her marriage.

PATRIOTIC ADDRESSES.

DELIVERED AT THE AFFAIR GIVEN BY DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA.

The Remarks Caused Much Enthusiasm Among the Auditors—Were Followed With an Entertainment and Dance.

An entertainment and dance was given in Washington Hall last evening under the auspices of Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America. This is the first affair of the kind given by the council in some time past and it was in every respect a success. The occasion was marked by two addresses of a patriotic character given by State Council Secretary J. R. Bollinson, of Rahway, and District Deputy VanCamp, of Newark. Both addresses were attentively listened to and created much enthusiasm in the patriotic audience.

The programme for the evening was an excellent one and consisted of recitations by Miss Cora Hand, Miss Murphy, Miss Ella Hand, of this city, and Miss VanCamp, of Newark; vocal duets by Miss Knight and Miss Bird and the Misses Gullberg. The appearance of John Moran was a feature and his singing of popular songs received cordial applause. The instrumental selections on the piano by Miss Cortwright were greatly enjoyed by all, and in fact every number on the programme was well received. During the evening Prof. Naylor's orchestra rendered patriotic airs and music for dancing which followed the entertainment.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Joseph Randolph, Mrs. Daniel Page, Mrs. Mattis, Mrs. Gullberg and Mrs. Riker. The committee also attended to the refreshment stand and dancing, while Walter Higgins very kindly officiated at the ticket box. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the council and a goodly sum was realized through the earnest efforts of the members.

"Jack" Carney appeared on the programme and gave some of his German dialect. He took for his subject the present war question, and he disclosed a small cannon upon which he spoke at some length. His jokes were good and he displayed his old-time wit and humor. During his speech the orchestra played "Hail Columbia."

A DOUBLE EXCURSION.

Central Lodge and G. A. R. Will Go to Asbury Park Together.

Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., held a meeting last evening. One candidate was initiated, and three propositions were received. The excursion committee reported that as the grand encampment of the G. A. R. and the Supreme Lodge of the A. O. U. W. met at Asbury Park the same week, the joint-committee of Columbia and Central Lodges advised that they combine with Winfield Scott Post in an excursion June 23d, as both organizations had already planned to go on that date. The committee was given full power to act in the matter.

Deputy Grand Master Workman Clark T. Rogers gave an account of his visit to Fraternal Lodge, Phillipsburg.

ROESEL TO DIE JUNE 3D.

SENTENCE OF DEATH PRONOUNCED THIS MORNING.

The Prisoner Brought Into Court in Custody of Sheriff Kirk—Roesel Undisturbed and Had Nothing to Say.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 13.—During the three weeks of life still left to Louis Roesel, the convicted murderer of Farmer James C. Pitts, he will be a firm believer in the unluckiness of Friday, the thirteenth day of the month. This morning Roesel was sentenced to be hung by the neck until dead in expiation of the terrible crime he committed.

There was an unusual stir in the Union County Circuit Court this morning, for it was sentence day. Judge VanSickle was on the bench. Shortly after 10 o'clock Sheriff Kirk entered the courtroom with his prisoner, Louis Roesel, the murderer.

Roesel stood before the court utterly unmoved. He showed no trace of agitation, and his eyes wandered curiously about the ceiling. He did not look at the court.

In a solemn voice, the Judge summed up the case. He told Roesel that he had been duly tried and found guilty by a jury and read the punishment according to the statute. He then asked Roesel if he had anything to say. Roesel made no sign although he apparently understood the question. His expression never changed.

The Judge then sentenced him to be hung Friday, June 3d, between the hours of 10 in the morning and 2 in the afternoon. The prisoner was then led back to his cell utterly unmoved by the sentence.

EARNED FOUND GUILTY.

Jury in Somerset Court Convicts Him of Assault.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 13—There is now only one more criminal case on the calendar in the Somerset county court. This is really a continuation of John Earned's trial, ended yesterday. This time it is his father, Alexis Earned, who will answer to the same charge, atrocious assault.

The beginning of the trial of John Earned has already been noticed in these columns. The case was continued yesterday morning. The county's legal representative, Assistant Prosecutor John Riger, and the defendant's counsel, W. A. Coddington, of Plainfield, summed up. Then the Judge charged the jury.

After retiring for an hour the jury brought in a verdict of guilty to the charge of assault and battery.

Former Judge Coddington wanted the case against the father tried at once, but the Assistant Prosecutor refused and the case will come up Monday.

There will also be started at that time a civil suit against father and son for $2,000 damages, brought by Mrs. Anna Thompson, the complaining witness in the other cases, for injuries she is alleged to have received in the general scrap that followed the throwing of the dead hen into Mrs. Thompson's yard. It will be remembered that both parties reside on farms near Bound Brook. They quarreled over a hen of Mrs. Thompson's that found its way on Earned's farm. Earned shot the hen for trespassing.

Today will be sentence day and all those who have pleaded or are found guilty will come before Judge Bartine for sentence.

CARDS AND PATRIOTISM.

Last Gathering of Thursday Night Euchre Club for the Season.

The Thursday Night Euchre Club was entertained last evening by Miss May MacLaughlin, of Somerset street. The American colors were prominently displayed on the tally cards and the napkins used were also of the same colors. Eugene MacLaughlin took the place of an absent lady member and he took first prize. Miss Clara Williams won second prize for the ladies, while Robert Clark and George Neumann were awarded first and second prizes for the men. This was the last meeting of the club for the season. The members of the club decided to attend in a body the concert to be given by the Queen City Band in Music Hall the evening of May 26th. They will occupy a private box.

All He Knows About Being Made Postmaster is What the Papers Have Said.

A representative of The Daily Press saw Collector E. H. Bird this forenoon and he said that as yet he had not received any word officially about the appointment of postmaster, and knew nothing more than what he had seen in the local papers.

MARRIED FORTY YEARS.

A PLEASANT GATHERING AT A SCOTCH PLAINS HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Sr. Celebrate an Auspicious Event—Mrs. Paff's Father and Mother Were Present.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 13—There was a great gathering of relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Sr., on Park avenue, yesterday, for it completed the fortieth year of their wedded life, and they deemed it an event well worthy of celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Paff were married at Hempstead, L. I., May 12, 1858, by Rev. L. D. Rushmore. They lived at Hempstead for ten years, then moved to Plainfield from whence they subsequently moved fifteen years ago to this village, where they have resided ever since.

The celebration was made an all day affair. The bright skies of the morning allowed a part of the festivities to take place outdoors. The shower of the afternoon drove them indoors but it did not spoil the pleasure of the occasion. There was a great gathering of relatives from all sides. The father and mother of Mrs. Paff, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Radford, of Plainfield, were present. Mr. Radford is 83 years of age, but still hale and hearty.

Then there were present, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Paff, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, Mrs. Emily Ransen, Mrs. Mary Harold, all of Plainfield; Mrs. Morton Noble, of Newark; Mrs. Carrie Vanderhoff and family, of Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gere, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. William Hazel and Mrs. William Martin, of Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Frentz, of Scotch Plains, and others.

A CLUB RECEPTION.

A PLEASANT TIME GIVEN IN THE CATHOLIC CLUBHOUSE.

Rev. Father Murphy One of the Guests and Was Cordially Greeted by His Old Parishoners—Patriotic Decorations.

The members of the Catholic Club gave a sociable and reception last night in their clubhouse to the newly-elected honorary and associate members. The occasion was made one of patriotic display and the club members and their guests thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

A short programme, which closed with dancing, began the evening. Rev. Fathers Smyth, Murphy and McCormick were present, and each one spoke a few words of encouragement to the members of the club. Father Murphy, who is now stationed in Paterson, was able to run over to this city for a little while yesterday and to stay to the reception. As Father Murphy was a special favorite with his parishioners, when he was here, they were very glad to see him, and he had a little reception all to himself.

The programme opened with patriotic selections by George Rogers, piano and Eugene O'Reilly, violin. Miss O'Keeffe, of Brooklyn, sang two solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Fannie Hillman. James Ward, of California, an actor of considerable note, was present and entertained the audience with a few selections, paying a high tribute to the church and especially to the clergy in a short speech. "America," sung by Miss O'Keeffe, Miss Flannagan and Miss Keely, ended the programme.

The floor was then cleared for dancing, which was kept up until a late hour. Music was furnished by Rogers and O'Reilly. The hall was gay with American flags and bunting, the national colors being displayed on the walls, platform, and even the President's table was covered with the colors. A picture of Rear Admiral Dewey, framed in red, white and blue, hung at the back of the stage.

The committee in charge of the reception consisted of T. J. Comerford, chairman; James Hibbits, Thomas Owens, E. Flynn, H. H. Hillman, John Wade and M. Higgins. An elaborate supper was served during the evening.

A Delightful Luncheon.

A luncheon was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Ella C. Benedict, of East Fifth street, in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Read Benedict, of Staten Island. Covers were laid for twelve, and there were guests present from Staten Island, Jersey City, Newark and Plainfield.

Held For the Grand Jury.

John Crowley, who was arrested early this week charged by Captain William Hand with stealing a pair of whiffletrees from him, was given a hearing before Justice Nash yesterday afternoon and held on his own recognizance to await the action of the grand jury.

HORSE THIEF CAUGHT AT POINT OF PISTOL.

A Desperate Criminal Captured by Constable Pangborn.

HIS WAS A CLEVER GAME.

POSED AS A FOREMAN OF WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

Went to Bound Brook and Hired a Horse and Dray Belonging to John King, Ostensibly to Make Repairs on a Telegraph Line, But in Reality as a Ruse to Steal the Horse—Arrested by Constable Pangborn After a Desperate Encounter on Somerset Street—Crook Now in Jail With Serious Charges.

It was only at the point of a revolver that Constable William N. Pangborn yesterday succeeded in capturing one of the most desperate and clever horse thieves ever arrested in this section of the country.

Wednesday afternoon three men entered a Bound Brook hotel and registered as "J. Clark," "M. Hunt" and "P. Edgar," all of New York. Clark announced himself as a foreman of a construction gang of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and stated that he had come to Bound Brook to get material that had been sent by freight which was intended for repairs on the line running back over the mountains towards the Passaic valley.

Soon after arriving "Clark" called up John King, a contractor, on the telephone, and engaged a horse and truck of him for three days, for the ostensible purpose of transporting assistants and material with which to make the repairs. He also engaged three or four men in Bound Brook to help him with the work.

Considerable material had arrived at the Central freight depot that morning for the Western Union Company, and "Clark" told the railroad employes that he would be around early yesterday morning with a team for the freight. From the clever manner in which the crook worked it showed that he had a thorough acquaintance with the plans of the telegraph company.

As arranged, he appeared at the freight depot and loaded the dray, which he had hired from King, with cross-pieces for telegraph poles. Then he started out over the route of the telegraph line, distributing the cross-pieces every few hundred feet, and bossing his assistants in a thorough manner. By noon they arrived at Pettiflou's Hotel, three miles from this city, where "Clark" ordered dinner for his men. He told Pettiflou that he had got to go to Summit yesternoon to arrange plans at that end of the line, and asked him if he would not loan his light buggy for the trip. Pettiflou agreed to do so, rendering his bill to the telegraph company. The assistants were told to go back to Bound Brook and remain there till "Clark" returned. About 1 o'clock "Clark" left Pettiflou's with the horse and buggy.

During the morning, however, the regular foreman of the Western Union Company arrived in Bound Brook and was much surprised to hear of "Clark's" proceedings. It was soon realized that the latter was a crook, and word was telephoned to Constable Pangborn to be on the lookout for the man and arrest him on sight.

Constable Pangborn was walking along Somerset street, near Grandview avenue, when he saw coming towards him a man driving a horse answering the description of the one rented by King. He ran out in the road and commanded "Clark" to stop. The latter paid little heed to the constable, and then Pangborn grabbed the horse by the head.

"Clark" plied the whip on the horse in a vigorous manner, and though the animal plunged forward, Pangborn pluckily hung to the bridle and prevented the thief from escaping. Then "Clark" turned his efforts to the constable and lashed him in a terrible manner.

Pangborn saw that he had a desperate man to deal with, and he pulled a revolver from his pocket and jumping into the buggy thrust the revolver in the cornered man's face. "Clark" made a motion for his hip pocket, as if to draw a revolver, but the constable quickly told him to throw up his hands or he would shoot his head off.

"Clark" realized that the game was up and surrendered. He was taken before Justice Mattison and arraigned on the charge of larceny for having taken the material of the Western Union Company from Bound Brook. He was committed to the Somerset

ENEMY NEAR OUR COAST

Spanish Torpedo Boats Sighted Off the North Atlantic Coast.

NEW ENGLAND IS READY

Navy Department Informed That the Spanish Ships Were Near—Strategy Board to Take Action at Once for Our Protection—Rear Admiral Erben Believes That It Is the Cape Verde Fleet.

Washington, May 13.—Many rumors reached the Navy Department yesterday of the supposed presence of the Spanish ships in American waters. These reports came from different sources, but were of the same tenor. It was alleged that the enemy's scout ships had been encountered off the New England coast. It is believed the vessels sighted were British ships from Halifax. If the Spaniards are in that quarter, their presence will undoubtedly soon be announced by our own scout vessels. The Naval War Board has provided for this contingency by putting several swift cruisers on scout duty in the North Atlantic.

Commodore Schley's Flying Squadron at Hampton Roads is prepared to sally forth the moment the enemy is reported and give him battle. The war boards have been unwilling to believe that Spain would send her ships against our northern coast, and have weakened the Flying Squadron, keeping only a few ships for an emergency. If the Cape Verde fleet should strike the New England coast while Sampson is in Porto Rico, they would gain advantage. The Flying Squadron would be outclassed and might be overpowered.

Chased by Spanish Warships.

Halifax, N. S., May 13.—Captain Brunst, of the German steamer Sophie Rickmers, reports that while crossing the Newfoundland Banks, he was chased by a Spanish warship.

The latter was very speedy and fired three shots at the Rickmers, but the latter being an 18-knot boat and the weather becoming hasy when things were becoming warm, she got away.

Captain Brunst says this Spaniard was a torpedo boat with three funnels and was very low in the water. The Rickmers proceeded to New York.

Ships Report a Fleet.

New York, May 13.—Rear Admiral Erben, who is in command of the patrol fleet of the Atlantic coast, said yesterday afternoon after an interview with Capt. Amand, of the British steamship Menantic, who reported sighting two torpedo boat destroyers off Nantucket Shoals:

"I am convinced that the vessels Capt. Amand saw were Spanish torpedo boat destroyers, and I believe that the Cape Verde fleet is somewhere off our coast. I have notified all the Navy officers stationed at different points on the coast to look out for them and send in reports immediately in case any of them is sighted."

It is believed, on good authority, that Lieut.-Commander Field, who has charge of Division No. 3 of the patrol fleet, which includes New York harbor, has received orders to despatch several of the fastest vessels of the fleet in quest of the Spanish flotilla.

Many reports have come in from various parts of the North Atlantic coast to the effect that strange looking war craft had been sighted.

When Capt. Amand of the British steamship Menantic arrived in port yesterday he sent a letter to Hogan & Sons, the ship's agents, in which he inclosed the following report:

"A long, low lying craft was seen approaching under the shadow of the Menantic's smoke at 1 o'clock yesterday morning while off Nantucket Shoals. She came along rapidly, and was seen to be a torpedo boat. The boat flashed a light on us and crossed under our stern, going to the east-northeast, and fired a rocket, which was answered to the southward by dot and dash flashes. The night was too dark to distinguish anything or to determine the nationality of the stranger.

"When we were about twenty miles east of Nantucket South Shoal Lightship, at daybreak, another torpedo boat was seen in the line of the sun, which dazzled the water too much for us to make out her colors. She was one of the destroyer class of torpedo boats, and had one funnel. Guns were mounted on the bow. She appeared to be one of the recent English type of torpedo boat destroyers, and I am sure that there is no vessel of her class in the American Navy."

Hogan & Sons sent the report to Rear Admiral Erben. The Admiral immediately sent for Capt. Amand and had an interview with him in the Army building, as mentioned. Admiral Erben said that he considered it trustworthy.

The Alesia was compelled to discharge 500 tons of sulphur before leaving Hamburg, it having been decided contraband of war.

Spanish Ships Reported Again.

Philadelphia, May 13.—The Hamburg-American Packet Company's steamer Alesia, plying between this city and Hamburg, has arrived here and reported that she was overhauled by a westward cruising Spanish privateer on May 5, while proceeding along the southern edge of the Grand Banks of Newfoundland. The privateer mounted four guns.

It was 8 o'clock in the morning of May 5 that Second Officer Jochheim sighted from the bridge of the Alesia a Spanish warship abeam. Although the Alesia was proceeding at good speed, the Spaniard bore down upon her and soon came under the liner's stern.

Capt. Krich, the Alesia's master, slowed down and brought out the German flag. The flag did not satisfy the privateer, for she drew close to the Alesia and passed under her quarter, to read her name and hailing port. This satisfied her, for she then saluted the German colors and turned, steaming rapidly away.

On the same day, just before dark, the Alesia sighted a second Spanish warship off her starboard bow. The warship was described by Second Officer Jochheim as a four masted steamer, with yellow funnel, marked with a white band.

New England Is Ready.

Portsmouth, N. H., May 13.—Rear Admiral Carpenter, the Commandant of the Navy Yard here, received a dispatch from Rear Admiral Erben from New York yesterday afternoon, informing him that the Rear Admiral had information which he considered accurate, that the Spanish ships were heading toward the New England coast.

Mayor Tilton at once telephoned Gov. Ramsdell and telegraphed the authorities at Washington for the necessary orders to bring the New Hampshire troops to Portsmouth as soon as possible.

Nothing has been seen off this coast or reported by incoming vessels at this port to furnish a foundation for Rear Admiral Erben's message, but the authorities are moving quickly and trying to take every precaution in view of the possibility of correctness.

AGAINST BOND ISSUE.

Senate Committee Ready to Report the War Revenue Bill.

Washington, May 13.—The War Revenue bill, as presented to the Senate Finance Committee yesterday, shows almost 200 amendments, and fully half of it is original matter.

The most striking features are the omission of the provisions for bonds and time certificates and for a tonnage tax on foreign shipping, which the bill carried when it passed the House. These are all stricken out, not a trace of any of them being left.

Next in order of importance are the provisions for the issuance of greenbacks, the coinage of the seigniorage and the taxation of corporations, inserted at the instance of the Democrats, with the assistance of Senator Jones, of Nevada, and for an inheritance tax placed in the bill by the joint effort of the Democratic Senators and Senator Jones, of Nevada, and Wolcott, of Colorado.

The seigniorage provision authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to coin not to exceed $42,000,000 of silver immediately, and to issue certificates based upon it.

The greenback section is an authorization to the Secretary of the Treasury to issue during the next fiscal year, to defray the expenses of the war with Spain, not exceed $150,000,000 in United States legal tender notes. They are to be redeemable, the same as are the greenbacks in circulation.

The provision for the taxation of corporations enumerates railroads, sleeping cars, canal boats, steamboats, express, telegraph, telephone and insurance companies of all kinds, including life, fire, and accident; gas, electric light, electric power and steam heat companies and also sugar and petroleum refineries.

To these specifications is added a general provision for taxing "all corporations."

The rate on all is made one-quarter of 1 per cent. of the gross receipts.

A penalty, or fine or imprisonment is imposed for evading the tax. It is made the duty of the managers of such institutions to make returns of their receipts monthly.

The tax on legacies is made on a double sliding scale, the rate increasing with the amount of the bequest, and also being governed by consanguinity. No legacies below $5,000 are taxed. Those between $5,000 and $250,000 are taxed at the rate of 75 cents for every $100 in cases where the beneficiary is a lineal descendant or ancestor or brother or sister of the testator.

The rate is augmented as the beneficiary is removed in relationship, until it reaches $5 on the hundred where he is a stranger. The tax is increased on larger legacies. Those made to husband or wife are exempted from the operations of the act.

The tax on bankers is levied at the rate of $100 a year on all banking institutions which have a capital stock of $50,000, and $2 is added for each additional $1,000 of stock.

Brokers are assessed at the uniform rate of $50. There is also a tax on pawnbrokers, insurance agents and on the properties of theatres, circuses, bowling alleys, etc.

The tax on boards of trade and exchange operations is made at the rate of 1 cent for each $100 to be represented by memoranda.

Brokers evading the giving of these are liable to be made the subject of criminal proceedings.

SAN JUAN BOMBARDED

Spain's Stronghold in Porto Rico Battered to Pieces.

OUR FLEET UNINJURED

Shot and Shell Bring Down the Fortifications of San Juan in Crumbling Ruins—Morro Fort Made Little Effort to Respond and was Silenced Immediately — Sampson's Great Guns Do Terrible Work.

Port au Prince, May 13.—The American fleet bombarded Porto Rico yesterday.

The bombardment began yesterday morning. Rear Admiral Sampson, with nine warships, arrived before San Juan just before sunrise. As a signal the battleship Iowa fired the first shot, which took effect.

Then the battleship Indiana opened fire, and in a few minutes Morro Fort was reduced to a heap of ruins.

The fort made little effort to respond and was silenced almost immediately.

Again American marksmanship has shown its deadly efficiency against Spanish fortifications. Once more victory has been won without the loss of a single American ship or the life of a single American hero. San Juan is at Sampson's mercy, just as Manila is at Dewey's.

Morro fired but three shots from her heavy guns.

There were but seven shots fired from the big guns of the American squadron. These left Morro Castle a crumbled ruin. Her guns were mute, her gunners killed or in flight.

Then began the attack on the land batteries and fortifications about the Government buildings and the palace.

Here the cruisers did effective service, and soon the post office and the palace of the Governor were tumbled about the ears of the officials, the guns dismounted or abandoned, wreck, ruin and death everywhere.

The Spaniards pluckily served their guns as long as there was any hope, but their fire was slow and wild.

Not a single American ship was harmed. Not an American seaman was killed or injured.

But at the last accounts the city itself had not surrendered, though it was completely at Admiral Sampson's mercy. It had been deserted by the merchants and non-combatants. The foreign consuls had followed the refugees into the country and the troops were reported panic stricken. The volunteers had fled.

The Spanish steamer Rita was captured by the United States auxiliary cruiser Yale, which took her crew on board.

SPANISH SPY'S SUICIDE.

George Downing Hangs Himself in the Cage Where He Was Confined.

Washington, May 13.—George Downing, the American arrested here as a Spanish spy, hanged himself yesterday at the Washington Barracks. He had not yet been tried.

Downing was arrested last week by the Secret Service agents of the Treasury, charged with having furnished information as to American fortifications, &c., to the late Spanish Minister, now in Canada. He was turned over to the War Department and was confined at the barracks awaiting trial.

The Attorney-General had been asked for an opinion as to the legal points involved in the question of the War Department's jurisdiction, but had not yet decided the case.

Downing's body was discovered shortly before noon suspended from one of the steel bars which ran over the top of his cage. He had made a rope of a towel and part of his clothing, which he had torn into strips. Downing was not quite dead when discovered by the sentry, but all efforts to revive him failed.

Downing is said to have communicated information to Lieut. Caranza of the Spanish Legation. He was found by Secret Service detectives in Toronto and traced to Caranza's room, where a conversation was overheard between them revealing a plot to obtain United States military secrets. He was followed to this city and a letter to Caranza was intercepted.

His arrest by a party of soldiers then took place and several important papers were secured. He lost his nerve Wednesday and broke down completely, but refused to give any information as to his accomplices.

Downing was an Englishman by birth and was employed in several clubs in New York. He afterward entered the Navy and rose to be a ship's yoeman on the Brooklyn, from which ship he was discharged about two months ago. At that time he declared that he would revenge himself for his discharge.

Army to Build Roads.

Washington, May 13.—The Cuban army of invasion will be equipped with supplies and machinery for the construction of roads and railways. The matter is now receiving the attention of the War Department. General Roy Stone, director of the office of road inquiry of the Department of Agriculture, has been detailed to co-operate with the War Department in the matter and he will probably join the army which invades Cuba. The roads will be put in shape for quick communication and movement of troops and supplies.

A WORN-OUT FAD.

"Spring Medicines," "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics" an Old-Fashioned Idea.

Pure blood, strong nerves and muscles, firm, healthy flesh, can only come from wholesome food well digested. "Blood purifiers and "nerve tonic" do not reach the cause of the mischief. The stomach is the point to be looked after. The safest and surest way to cure any form of indigestion is to take after each meal some harmless preparation of this kind composed of vegetable essences pure pepsin, golden seal and fruit salts, sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and these tablets taken after meals assist digestion wonderfully because they will digest the food promptly before it has time to ferment and sour, and the weak stomach relieved and assisted in this way soon becomes strong and vigorous again.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are superior to any secret patent medicines because you know what you are taking into your stomach.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50c per package. Write F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for book on stomach diseases, mailed free.

JAMES BURNS.
Ex-Collector of the Port of Kansas City.

Of the men who have occupied positions of public trust in Kansas City, either by gift of the people or by appointment, none has a more enviable reputation for ability, honesty and efficiency than James Burns, Collector of the Port of Kansas City under Grover Cleveland. He lived to the letter the maxim "a public office is a public trust," and when he retired he carried with him the respect of everyone in the community—Democrats and Republicans alike.

James Burns has used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and he does not hesitate to say that they have accomplished wonders.

"I suffered with dyspepsia for twenty years," said Mr. Burns yesterday. "Never knew what it was to enjoy life—in fact, living seemed a burden, as it does to all who suffer severely with dyspepsia. A few months ago I began taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. From the first I felt relief, and now, although I am still taking them, I feel entirely cured. For the first time in twenty years I can eat anything I want and suffer no ill effects from it. You can't imagine the pleasure of this unless you have been a dyspepsia sufferer.

"I never gave a testimonial for any medicine before, but I feel as if every body ought to know of this remedy, and while it is personally distasteful to me to appear in print in this connection, I feel as if I had no right to shirk the opportunity to, perhaps help some other sufferers from dyspepsia. I have been recommending the Tablets to all my friends. Only recently I took James H. Lillis, the father of Father Lillis, down to get some, and I understand he also is being wonderfully benefited. I can't recommend it too highly." 5 9 11 13

FATAL NAVAL FIGHT

Five of Our Sailors Killed in an Engagement Off Cardenas.

ENSIGN BAGLEY'S DEATH

Bodies of First Victims of the War Brought to Key West—Our Vessels in the Fight Were the Gunboat Wilmington, the Winslow and the Auxiliary Gunboat Hudson.

Key West, May 13.—The first engagement in Cuban waters in which Americans were killed or wounded occurred Wednesday afternoon inside the harbor of Cardenas, north coast of Cuba. Five Americans, all on the torpedo boat Winslow, were killed and five were wounded.

The dead are: Ensign Worth Bagley; John Varveres, oiler; Josiah Tunnell, cabin cook; J. V. Meeks, fireman; John Denfee, fireman.

The wounded are: Lieut. John B. Bernadou, commanding the Winslow; R. E. Cox, gunner's mate; D. McKeown, quartermaster; J. Patterson, fireman; F. Gray. All were slightly wounded except Patterson, whose condition is serious.

Ensign Worth Bagley was appointed from North Carolina on Sept. 7, 1891.

The United States vessels participating in the fight were the gunboat Wilmington, Commander C. C. Todd; the torpedo boat Winslow, Lieut. John B. Bernadou commanding, and the auxiliary gunboat Hudson.

The Wilmington, Winslow and Hudson entered the harbor to attack three Spanish gunboats which were known to be there. But the latter were not discovered by the American force until the Spaniards opened fire. The land batteries of Cardenas supported the fire of the Spanish gunboats.

The engagement commenced at 2:05 p. m., and lasted for about an hour. The battle, while it lasted, was terrific. The Wilmington and the Hudson were ahead, and opened fire on the Spanish boats, which were lying at the docks. The firing began at a range of 3,500 yards.

A few minutes after the firing began the Winslow came up and also opened fire. In an instant the entire attention of the Spanish gunboats and land batteries was directed upon her. From all sides shot and shell seemed to pour in upon the little torpedo boat.

The Wilmington and the Hudson still kept up their fire, but they could not turn aside the terrible storm of fire and death pouring in upon the torpedo.

The crew of the Winslow, however, never faltered for a second. At 2:35 p. m., a solid shot crashed into the hull of the Winslow and knocked out her boiler. In an instant she began to roll and drift helplessly.

Then there was a moment of awful suspense. A fierce cheer of triumph went up from the Spaniards on the gunboats and in the batteries, and again a storm of fire was opened upon the helpless boat.

The gunboat Hudson, which was lying near by, started to the assistance of the Winslow. She ran alongside the torpedo boat and tried to throw a line to the imperiled crew.

Up to this time, with the exception of the one shot which disabled the boiler of the Winslow, the firing of the Spanish gunboats had been wild; but, as the Winslow lay rolling in the water, the range grew closer and shells began to explode all about her.

It was difficult for the Hudson to get near enough to throw a line to the Winslow's crew, so terrible was the fire all about her. Finally, after trying for about twenty minutes, the Hudson approached near enough to throw a line.

Ensign Bagley and six men were standing in a group on the deck of the Winslow.

"Heave her! Heave her!" shouted Bagley, as he looked toward the commander of the Hudson and called for a line.

"Don't miss it!" shouted an officer from the Hudson, and, with a smile, Bagley called back:

"Let her come! It's getting too hot here for comfort."

The line was thrown, and, at the same instant, a shell burst in the very midst of the group of men on board the Winslow.

Bagley was instantly killed and a few others dropped about him. Half a dozen more fell groaning on the blood stained deck. One of the dead men pitched headlong over the side of the boat, but his feet caught in the iron rail and he was hauled back.

Bagley lay stretched on the deck with his face completely torn away and the upper part of his body shattered. It was a terrible moment.

At 3:50 p. m. the Hudson managed to get another line on the deck of the Winslow; but there were only three men left there at that time to make it fast.

The line was finally secured and the Winslow was towed up to Pedras Island, where she was anchored, with her dead and wounded on the decks. There some men from the Hudson went on board the Winslow and took off the most seriously wounded men. Three of the latter were taken on board the gunboat Machias, and died there shortly afterward.

Commander Bernandou, of the Winslow, was wounded in the left leg, but not seriously. Lying in the cabin of the Hudson yesterday, he received a representative of the Associated Press and told the latter the story of the fight. He said:

"We went into the harbor under orders. The torpedo boat Winslow was the worst injured. She had five of her men killed and I don't know how many injured.

"The Winslow was ordered by the commander of the Wilmington to go into the harbor of Cardenas and attack the Spanish gunboats there. We steamed in under a full head and were fired upon as soon as we were in range. The Spanish boats were tied up at the docks, and had a fair range on us. The batteries on shore also opened on us, and I think we received most of the fire. I don't know whether anyone was hurt on the Wilmington or on the Hudson, but I think not.

"I have no fault to find with the Winslow's crew. They acted finely all the way through. The men who were killed all fell at the same time. We were standing in a group, and the aim of the Spanish was perfect. The shell burst in our very faces."

The dead and wounded were brought here yesterday morning by the Hudson. The bodies of the five men were lying on the deck of the tug, covered with the Stars and Stripes. The dead and wounded were taken ashore, in small boats, to the dock. This was the first news of the engagement to reach Key West.

No time was lost in ministering to the wounded. A quick call was sent to the Marine Hospital, and an ambulance came cantering down to the dock.

The dead were taken to Baker's undertaker shop, and the wounded were conveyed to the hospital.

In the meantime the news had spread and crowds gathered about the dock, but there was no sort of a demonstration.

It has always been a foregone conclusion here that the torpedo boat men would be among the first to fall, as their work is most hazardous. But, in spite of this, when the fleet was stationed here and changes in assignments were frequently made, all the young men of the service were eager for torpdo boat duty.

The Hudson shows the effect of the fight. Her smokestack is punctured with bullet holes, and her cabins and decks are smashed and splintered.

The wounded this morning were resting easily in the Marine Hospital. The dead have been removed to the morgue. They will be buried to-day.

The engagement at Cardenas was not a lost fight by any means, although the ships withdrew in caring for the Winslow. The Spanish loss in killed and wounded is not known, but the chances are that it will be soon. It is said that the Machias and Wilmington were to enter the harbor and shell Cardenas at once.

The death of these men has cast a gloom over the people here. All flags are at half mast. Ensign Bagley is well known, and while the fleet was here was a general favorite. He was known as a fearless young officer and was well thought of by his superiors. Capt. Todd of the Wilmington, who gave the order to go into Cardenas harbor, was especially fond of Bagley, and more than once, in speaking of the young officer, said: "He's got the right material in him."

Lieut. Bernadou was also fond of Bagley. The men on the Hudson say they never saw greater courage than Bagley and his men exhibited while standing unprotected on the Winslow, waiting to catch the Hudson's line. The air was full of shots, and every instant was fraught with danger, but Bagley coolly stood by his men, knowing that unless a line was gotten the Winslow would be shot into ribbons and sunk.

Describing the fight, Capt. Newcomb, of the Hudson, said:

"We were in a trap. There were masked batteries at several points, and neither the Machias nor the Wilmington could aid us much, owing to the shallow water. Batteries opened on us from all sides—behind trees, bushes, houses and other places. I think the guns used by the masked batteries were field pieces."

IMPORTANT SIGNS ABROAD.

St. James Gazette Thinks It Sees a Combination of Powers Against United States and England.

London, May 13.—The St. James Gazette says: "Important signs of the uneasiness of Europe, of its fear of anarchy at home and aggression abroad, are reflected in London financial circles. Russia is raising a loan of 12,000,000 and more significant still, she is raising it in Germany.

"The Bank of England is directing its energies to the accumulation of a gold reserve, a fashion without recent precedence, while Japan, not content with the vast sum she received from China on Saturday, is preparing for a fresh loan of 15,000,000.

"The rapprochement between Germany and Russia and Russia and Austria is very marked."

All this the St. James Gazette believes portends a combination against America and Great Britain, as we are universally regarded as forming part of the Transatlantic aggression on Europe, and warns Great Britain to prepare for a struggle which may involve the most important events since the fall of Napoleon.

In conclusion the St. James Gazette remarks: "Europe believes America is trying her strength on Spain and that her inevitable victory will be followed by similar acts of aggression toward other powers with interests in the Atlantic and in the Pacific."

Grant to Command "Minute Men."

San Diego, Cal., May 13.—U. S. Grant, Jr., son of General Grant, has been elected colonel of the San Diego regiment of "Minute Men." The regiment consists of eight companies of fifty men each, and is composed of the best citizens in the Bay region. Colonel Grant said he is undecided whether he will accept the position or not. He would prefer to serve in the ranks as a private.

Navy Department's Information.

Washington, May 13.—Assistant Secretary Allen of the Navy has received information from private sources that a number of torpedo boats are now off the New England coast. The President was informed and Mr. Allen was instructed to place the facts before the War Board at once. It is not known how accurate is the information given Mr. Allen.

Tried to Blow Up a Prize.

Key West, May 13.—A fireman aboard the captured steamer Buena Venture, it is learned, tried to blow up the vessel on Saturday night and came near being successful. The secret was so well guarded that it has not reached the ears of the Government officials. The information comes from a source that your correspondent regards as entirely reliable.

A Million Dollar Fire.

Chicago, May 13.—Grain elevator D, belonging to the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss will aggregate about $1,200,000. The elevator contained 1,115,000 bushels of grain, valued at $890,000, the property of P. D. Armour. The grain was fully insured.

War Revenues.

Congress proposes to get money to carry on the war from two sources, taxing and borrowing. The taxes, with one exception, are an affair of internal revenue, the duties on foreign goods being considered to be at present as high as it is expedient to make them. The entire sum to be raised by internal revenue taxation will be something over $90,000,000. It is to come from fermented liquors, tobacco and stamp taxes. Beer will be taxed $2 a barrel instead of $1. The tax on beer will bring in, it is expected, $40,000,000. The added taxes on tobacco are expected to produce $20,000,000.

Third, there is the stamp tax. This will mean that deeds, drafts, wills, checks, mortgages and legal documents generally, insurance policies, telegrams, express receipts, patent medicines, perfumery, cosmetics, etc., must have a stamp affixed for which a sum of from 1 cent to $20 has been paid. The stamp tax is expected to bring to the government $30,000,000.

The one exception to the raising of the war tax from domestic sources is the proposed tonnage duty. This would mean that all foreign vessels bringing goods and passengers to the United States should pay a tax of 20 cents per ton of their capacity. Many are of opinion, however, that it would be far wiser to drop this feature of the revenue bill. Foreign vessels arriving in American ports already pay a light tonnage duty. The first effect of the mere proposal to levy such a tax caused an irritation against us in Europe, particularly in Germany, where we are accused of trying by this tax to make European nations pay the expenses of our war with Spain. We want the sympathies of the European powers at present, and it will not be well to alienate them by a petty tonnage tax, especially as it will raise only $2,000,000, a sum not worth irritating even Emperor William for. A tax on tea and coffee may come later.

The bond issue for the emergency of a prolonged war is the large thing. The sum to be raised by government bonds is $600,000,000. The plan proposed is to allow the government in its discretion to pay $100,000,000 of this money in a year or less, the rest to run 10 and 20 years at interest.

Spanish compliments to Americans are numerous. They fill the weary air. The favorite name for us among the lower classes is "swine," and when the Spaniard is drunk, and consequently braver than usual, he swaggers around with a knife, boasting that he wants to "stick American pigs." De Lome long ago showed the typical high bred courtesy of the Spanish don when he wrote in a private letter that President McKinley was a low politician. Blanco further expressed the common Spanish estimate of our country when in a proclamation he styled us a "nation of nobodies." The same idea was put into yet more artistic language by the eloquent governor of the Philippines when he hurled at us the words a "nation of social excrescences." This was just before Commodore Dewey paid his little visit to the islands. Spain certainly whips us all to pieces in the abuse of language. We cannot cope with her in aiming and firing torpedoes of the tongue or the heavy projectiles of thundering talk. The English vocabulary is not equal to it.

The experiment in municipal government now under trial in London is watched with peculiar interest in our large new world cities. The last city election gave the London county council an unqualified indorsement in the re-election of many of the old members and of new ones favorable to its policy. The London county council corresponds to the various boards of aldermen and councilmen in American cities. A majority of its members belong to what is called in London municipal politics the Progressive party. This party is in favor of control by the people through their duly elected representatives of gas and water works, street railway and other public franchises. Since it came into power four years ago the Progressive party has done much for the sanitation of London and the convenience of the people. It has constructed, among other things, a free tunnel under the Thames river.

The literary canon of the Norwegian author Bjornstjerne Bjornson is respectfully commended to those young men and women of the pen who consider pessimism and horrors a mark of genius in a writer. It is this: "What we want in the future is a literature which will make men better."

Rev. Dr. C. S. Swallow, Prohibition and independent candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, is making his canvass on the platform, "Thou shalt not steal." This is awfully suggestive, but we hope Dr. Swallow does not mean to insinuate that only his own party is honest.

It is possible to regard any sort of merchandise on the sea as goods contraband of war except perhaps jewsharps and French bonnets.

The Spanish warcry, "Down with the American pigs!" The American warcry, "Remember the Maine!"

The running expenses of one of our big battleships amount to as much as $1,500 a day.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The Board of Freeholders loses a valuable member in Mr. Barkalew, whose term expired yesterday. As a contractor, Mr. Barkalew was peculiarly qualified for much of the work which the Board has to do, and as a member of the bridge committee he gave great assistance. Few members have left the Board with more regrets on the part of his associates.—Somerville Unionist-Gazette.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

A better entertainment than that given by the Acme Comedy and Vaudeville Company, now playing at Music Hall, could not be desired and is something remarkable for the price. We have had many high price attractions here which have failed to give the satisfaction expressed by many who were present at the performances last night and the night before and amusement seekers should avail themselves of the opportunity offered to witness first-class performances at remarkably low prices. Tonight an entire change of bill will be given, a new play, new specialties and new pictures. The play will be the laughable comedy entitled "Kisses in the Dark," and following this will come the programme of specialties, chief of which will be the new act of the clever Barringtons. Messrs. Ely and Lender will give some new "coon" illustrations, Miss Aida Rivers will sing some new selections, Mr. Addison will do a sketch entitled "Klondike Sam" and the dancing comedienne, Miss Nellie LaSelle, will appear in new terpsichorean evolutions. A grand family matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon and ladies will do well to secure seats in advance.

POLICEMAN GOES TO WAR

PATROLMAN M'CARTHY HAS ENLISTED IN COMPANY H.

Mayor Fisk Promises the Officer That His Position Will be Kept Open for Him Until He Returns From War.

Patrolman Florence McCarthy, of the police force, enlisted in the militia yesterday and is now in camp with the boys in blue at Sea Girt, training for active service in the south.

Officer McCarthy is the first officer from the Plainfield force to enlist, but it is said that there are more to follow.

Officer McCarthy has been thinking about offering his services to his country for several days. Wednesday night he asked Mayor Fisk if his position on the force would be kept for him while he was away. The Mayor told McCarthy that it would, and so early yesterday morning, without acquainting any one with his purpose McCarthy took a train for the State camp.

At Elizabethport McCarthy sent a telegram to Chief Grant telling him that he had gone to enlist, and at night sent another message saying that he had been accepted. His place on the force will be filled by a special while he is away.

McCarthy has entered Company H, Third Regiment, which is made up of Somerville boys. Edward Day, of this city, is also in the same company

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Westfield, May 13—At the Township Committee meeting this evening it is expected that the Union Water Company will notify the Committee that as they have broken faith with them they will shut off the water from the hydrants. The Union County League Issue a Circular to Stir Opposition to "The Avarice of a Grasping Private Company."

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, May 13.—For the purpose of pushing with systematic vigor their fight against the "Squire Union County Trolley Law" a large number of property owners of Union county, N. J., have formed a permanent organization under the title of "The Union County League."

This organization has issued a circular letter addressed to the owners of real estate in Cranford Township. Attention is called to the fact that the so-called "Squire Union County Trolley Law" gives absolute power to the Board of Chosen Freeholders of any county in the State of New Jersey without the consent of owners of abutting property or the permission of any township board to "widen, straighten, change the grade or location of, or otherwise improve any public highway under its control or part thereof," and also with the consent of the township boards "to authorize the construction and operation of a street railroad thereon." This act, it is explained, was framed with special reference to Union county and North avenue, and the Chosen Freeholders of Union county are the only ones in the State who have taken action under it.

The circular further says: "We estimate the total cost of this proposed desecration of homes and destruction of property at fully $900,000, which deducting the sum to be paid for the trolley franchise, must all be paid by the county by taxation and assessment, and this not on account of any public need or demand for such boulevard or trolley road, but wholly to gratify the avarice of a grasping private company." The co-operation of other property owners in Cranford Township is desired for the protection of mutual interests.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 15. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Our bodies God's temples.—I Cor. iii, 16-23. (A temperance topic.)

Christians, both collectively and individually, are referred to in the Scriptures as the temples of God. It is well for us to remember that not only as churches but also as individuals we are God's temples. The Corinthians were forgetting the former. Factions and contentions were marring the church of Christ, and Paul asks them if they did not know that they, as a church, were the temple of God, and reminded them that God destroyed those who defiled his temple. We may forget that our bodies are the temples of God, God's habitation, God's dwelling place, and may defile them, but we should not forget it. It is too important a fact to be forgotten, and its constant remembrance would be a strong barrier to defilement. Who either by meat or drink could defile his body while he remembered that it was the temple of God?

1. The body, as God's temple, should be dedicated to God. It should be given to Him. Both the tabernacle and the temple were dedicated to God when completed. The body should be dedicated to God. It should be used in His service and for His work, and if so dedicated and so used it could not become the tool of appetite or of passion. It would be used temperately in all the relations of life.

2. The body as God's temple should be the dwelling place of God in the person of His Holy Spirit. The temple was the dwelling of God. It was not erected as a place of meeting for the people, but as a house for God to dwell in and there at the mercy seat in the holy of holies He dwelt. "The spirit of God," says Paul, "dwelleth in you." God's Holy Spirit makes our weak and imperfect bodies His habitation, His dwelling place. What a condescension! But how can He dwell where there is sin or defilement?

3. Our bodies as God's temples should be free from defilement. "If any man defile the temple of God, him will God destroy." This was the law in Old Testament times. Those who defiled God's dwelling place were punished by Him. The sacredness of God's temple had to be emphasized, and it always was. Wherever God dwells there should be no defilement and no uncleanness. If, therefore, He dwells in our bodies, they should be every whit clean. The tongue, the hands, the heart, every organ of the body, should be kept clean and pure for God's spirit. This would make intemperance in any direction impossible — intemperance in thought, speech or action. It would forever destroy drunkenness, lust, passion, excessive worldliness or whatsoever would tend to make unclean or to defile.

May this be our aim—to live a life of such purity that our bodies may be a fit dwelling place for God's Holy Spirit.

Bible Readings.—Prov. xx, 1; xxiii, 29-32; Isa. i, 16; v, 11, 12; xxviii, 7-10; Rom. xiii, 12-14; I Cor. vi, 9 13; II Cor. vi, 14-18; Eph. ii, 19-22; Gal. v, 19-26; Heb. iii, 6; I Pet. ii, 1-5.

His Equals In Beauty of Soul.

As there is a higher and holier state for the church, so there is a fairer form for human society, industry and government. It is impossible to set before man an ideal of individual character which attracts him and lifts him up without his soon perceiving that the individual ideal includes a social ideal, and if he be a true man he will be true to both. If as he learns more of Christ he discovers that the only righteous course is one that will diminish profits, lessen influence and alienate friends, will he hesitate? Not for a moment. He will recognize the call of the cross and go forward, toiling up a new Calvary, to the coming crucifixion.—Rev. Frank G. Tyrrell.

The Curfew Custom.

An encouraging "sign of the times" is the somewhat unexpected success which has attended the revival of the curfew custom in some 300 cities in this country. The plan is to require all children under 15 years of age to be in their homes by 9 o'clock in summer and by 8 o'clock in winter. The reduction of arrests of young people has in some places been 75 per cent. May we be speedily delivered from false notions of liberty which do not give young people the wholesome attention which they so much need. Young people who receive street education as "toughs" and "flirts" will make poor citizens.—Moravian.

The Tree of Life.

If any man or woman, any sinner, however unworthy, will begin now and faithfully hereafter shun evils as sins against God (meaning by "God" Him who was the incarnation of unselfish divine love), that same God will dwell with him and be his God and fulfill for him all the promises written in this book, wipe away all tears from his eyes, give him to drink of the water of life freely, lead him in by the gates into the city, but, above all, will impart to him His own life of unselfish love, plant in his heart of hearts the tree of life.—Helper.

The Church and the Congregation.

In the minds of many Christians, congregation begins with a capital C and church with a small c. Nothing is needed so much just at present as to teach them the reverse of this distinction. The church is the greater thing and the congregation many times the lesser. The one is the whole of which the other is but a part, and a part should never seem greater than the whole.—Lutheran.

Trust Him.

Trust Him for a way when there is no way, for light when there is no light, for all things when you have nothing, for joy when there is only sorrow, for life when you are in the midst of death. Thus you will find at last that faith is not only righteousness, but life and joy and peace.—T. T. Munger, D. D.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning May 15. Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M. Topic, Look Up and Lift Up.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Ps. cxxi; Acts iii, 1, 8.

The League birthday is celebrated this week. Well may we exclaim, as did John Wesley at the growth of the Methodist movement, "What hath God wrought!"

The important thing is not the increase in numbers. Statistics can never gauge real power. Pride too frequently lurks under the statistical tables.

Are the young people of Methodism more devoutly looking up to God than ever before and are they more patiently and devotedly lifting up their voices for the right and stretching out their hands in helpfulness to those round about them? These are the tests of efficiency and the signs of prosperity.

Christians are recognizing that it is not enough for them to believe certain things which the church has been teaching as truth and to go through with a certain round of ceremonies called religious exercises in order to be a true follower of the Christ. If this world is to be saved, indeed if we are to be saved, we must enter determinedly upon a larger, broader and deeper work. Men need to be regenerated in spirit, but this is not all. They need to be helped in body and mind and in social life. Christ helped men in their physical infirmities. His healing of body often aided in salvation of the soul. He went into the world. He did not wait for the world to come to Him. He asked for the world a better physical life, purer homes and better society. Honesty, pureness of tongue and deed, helpfulness, kindness, gentleness—these are the rules by which men are to guide their conduct. Each had been seeking his own good and defending his own rights and property. Christ showed us that we are to seek the uplifting and good of others. We are to protect their rights and secure their advancement. We are to learn that the universe does not center on us, but we are to make Him our center and obey His influence.

I Don't Want To!

This is a common complaint of children and comes as naturally as chicken pox and measles. Like them, it needs good care and proper medicine. It is only dangerous when it settles into a state of "I won't" and becomes chronic. Coaxing, driving and letting alone are the usual old fashioned remedies. Sometimes they are successful in effecting a cure. More often they do more harm than good. It is always best to find out how the complaint arose. In many cases the child is right. In such an event it is wisest to plainly withdraw the command. To press it is unjust. To allow it to be ignored is unwise and destroys confidence in your justice and honesty.

If the command is reasonable and necessary, explain it as far as seems best and kindly, but firmly insist upon obedience. Make it easy for the child to obey. Remove hindrances, aid in real effort, reward prompt obedience, but don't "coddle" and don't "nag."

Invitations.

Most people appreciate a personal invitation. An attractive card arrests attention. We are learning the value of artistic effect in printing. Sensationalism is little valued. Handbills are at a discount. The League has done much to cultivate taste in this direction. Topic cards and service folders in the best style of the printer's art are none too good. It is a serious mistake to use an article of which we would be ashamed in private life or in business. Then again the League cards need to be supplemented by a courteous and pressing personal appeal. We must persuade the young people outside to come inside. They will come if the invitation shows them that they are desired. Get them in and keep them in.

The Outlook.

Korea has come into line. Chemulpo has a Ninde chapter at Wesley church. This is the first one organized in the country. Later ones are named Mallalieu, Goodsell, Warren and Joyce. Some photos of mission life in that land have been received by Rev. W. J. Yates, Rockville, Conn., and in the form of slides for the stereopticon are available for League use by those who desire them.

Tieng Ang Dong, the Church of the Heavenly Rest, is one of our chapters in Fuchau, China. Nearly $200 has been raised by the League for self support. The native literary examinations occur in this city triennially. Under Miss Bonafield's management the members of the chapter sold nearly 9,000 books required in these examinations. Books are also supplied to passengers on the launches running from the city to Cukan.

A Methodist Episcopal church has been built in Dyea, Alaska. We have preachers there and Leagues will surely be formed.

One of the most fascinating works in which the League can engage is a study of the mission fields of our church. Literature is abundant. Study one field for three months. Take Japan for the first. Let some one prepare a "talk" or paper on the ancient history and condition. Let others present briefly the geography, present form of government, social life and customs, industries, religions and moral condition, scenes, scenery and travel, missions and their work. Illustrate occasionally with the stereopticon.

Some Sunday schools own a stereopticon and use ten minutes of each weekly session in showing the scenes connected with the lesson. This is done in some of our largest churches. The League can make excellent use of the lanterns to develop the literary and missionary interest. Rightly used the stereopticon is valuable. Slides of all our mission fields have been obtained by the writer of this column at the request of Bishop McCabe and are available for League use.

MESSAGE FROM DEWEY.

Keeps a Strict Blockade and Is Saving Spanish Guns.

Washington, May 13.—The Navy Department yesterday afternoon received the following despatch from Admiral Dewey, dated Hong Kong, May 12:

"There is little change in the situation since my last telegram. I am transferring to transports steel breech-loading rifles from sunken Spanish men of war, also stores from arsenal in my possession. I am maintaining a strict blockade. Add Azores to list of destroyed vessels. El Correo probably El Cano. DEWEY."

This despatch shows that cable communication has been restored with Manila Bay.

DEWEY POWERLESS TO ACT.

Anarchy in Philippines British Warship Reports.

Hong Kong, May 13.—The British second class gun vessel Linnet has arrived here with news from the Philippine Islands. She left Manila on Monday last and reports that the insurgents are uncontrollable. The whole country, it appears, is in a state of anarchy and Rear Admiral Dewey is powerless to restore order.

The officers of the Linnet add that even if Spanish rule is abolished, it will require a large force, with special training, to restore order in the interior.

In the meantime, the Spaniards in Manila refuse to submit and Admiral Dewey is unwilling to bombard the town. He hopes to starve the place into submission, but the Spaniards are confident of being able to hold out. They allege that they have ample supplies for 25,000 regular troops and thousands of volunteers and that they are beyond the range of the United States warships. They are defying the Americans in the hope of European intervention.

Two German warships, one French warship and a warship of Japan are now at Manila. A Russian vessel is expected here shortly.

A strong anti-British feeling exists among the populace at Manila and the people are desperate and starving.

To Increase the Philippine Force.

Washington, May 13.—The Navy Department yesterday received disturbing reports from Manila to the effect that Commodore Dewey is unable to obtain order there, and that the insurgents are running things with a high hand.

Upon the receipt of this intelligence it was determined to again increase the number of men to be sent to Philippines. The original force was to consist of 5,000 troops, but this estimate was later increased to 10,000. Secretary Alger has now decided to send a strong detachment of 15,000 men to Manila. It is thought that this number will be capable of restoring and maintaining order.

The Department also decided to send three major generals to Manila. Major General Merritt is to be in command of the expedition and with him will go Major Generals Otis and Graham.

It is said that, in accepting the command of this expedition, General Merritt stated to the President that he wanted these two generals to accompany him. His request was promptly acceded to and Generals Otis and Graham were ordered to proceed to San Franciso, there to join the transports that are to convey the troops to Manila.

Merritt to Be Military Governor.

Washington, May 13.—The United States will establish a temporary government over the Philippine Islands. Orders have been issued for Major General Wesley Merritt, commanding the Department of East, at New York, to proceed to Manila with the least possible delay for the purpose of assuming the office of military governor of the Philippines.

Orders were also issued for the organization of an army corps of about 12,000 men for immediate duty in the Philippine Islands. This corps will be made up of regulars and volunteers stationed on the Pacific coast and in the far Western States.

Prompt action will be had in the matter with a view of having the troops make an early start on the long voyage across the Pacific.

General Merritt, who left here yesterday afternoon for New York to arrange his official and private affairs preparatory to departure for San Francisco, said that it was his purpose to sail from San Francisco as soon as possible. The troops for the expedition probably will depart before General Merritt reaches the Golden Gate, and the probability is that General Otis will command them at the Philippines until the arrival of General Merritt.

Complete arrangements have been made for the equipment, transportation and subsistence of the troops and they will depart for Manila shortly after their arrival at San Francisco.

No Move by the Powers.

Washington, May 13.—It is stated authoritatively at the State Department that there is no truth whatever in the London newspaper allegation that three of the European Ambassadors had made friendly representations to the United States against an extension of the war to the Philippines. No representations whatever in that line have been made to the State Department.

Spanish Fleet at Martinique.

London, May 13.—Inquiries made at the United States Embassy here, as a result of statements made regarding the whereabouts of the Spanish Cape Verde squadron, show the Embassy officials have conflicting reports on the subject, nothing really definite being known.

The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail, telegraphing late last night, says: "Admiral Bermejo admitted to-night that the Cape Verde squadron is now at Fort de France, on the west coast of Martinique, French West Indies."

The Government has received information that the voyage to Martinique was uneventful. The route to be taken to Porto Rico is not known here, but it was embodied in the Admiral's secret instructions. He was instructed to coal at a neutral port, and probably selected Fort de France for that purpose."

CHAPLAINS IN THE NAVY.

Branch of the Service About Which Little is Known.

Beyond the main fact that a clergyman is always to be found on board a man-of-war the public knows hardly anything of chaplains in the navy. This is not due, however, to the unimportance of the corps. At present every chaplain with a single exception, is actively employed either on a man-of-war or at an important shore station.

There are but twenty-four chaplains in the entire service and acquaintance with the personnel of the corps leads one to believe that the standard of fitness has been kept high by the appointing power. The regulations require that an applicant as chaplain be between the ages of 21 and 25 years and a minister in good standing in his denomination. In addition to these qualifications practice requires the hearty and unequivocal indorsement of high ecclesiastical authorities, who are willing to assume a good degree of moral responsibility for the appointment. Political influence of a high order may be used to bring the applicant to the attention of the President and Secretary of the Navy, but can avail very little beyond this. The chaplain, once appointed, ranks as a commissioned officer of the staff, messes in the wardroom when on shipboard and is entitled to a private stateroom in the wardroom quarters.

He wears no uniform and in this is the sole exception to the rule which obtains on all the ships of our navy and applies to all officers an enlisted men, from the admiral of the fleet to the humblest mess attendant. Nothing invidious is involved in this discrimination and it is to be presumed that if a majority of the chaplains were to ask for a uniform it would be granted. The chaplains as a rule dress in ordinary clerical suits, the coats close buttoned and in blouse or frock, according to circumstances. In conducting divine service each chaplain is permitted to employ the order used in his own denomination and may also use the vestments of his church, if any.—Chicago Chronicle.

IN SIR WALTER SCOTT'S MAILBAG.

Curious Offers Made to the Great Author by the Gentle Sex.

Some letters from the fair sex caused Sir Walter Scott at least as much amusement as annoyance. In his earlier years "a mad woman from about Alnwick," by dint of letters and plans, first extracted from him a guinea for a charity, then sent him the manuscript of a curious novel, which he was to publish in his own name, and of which he was to take half the profits; finally, on his declining the partnership, that he should take shares in a patent medicine for babies, her own invention. Dread of participation in "such a Herod-like affair," drove Scott to decline the honor of future correspondence with the lady.

On a March day in his fatal year, 1828, Sir Walter answered two modest requests from widow ladies. One of these, presuming on a former slight acquaintance with his mother, desired that he should impress on Peel, then Home Secretary, the merits of her second son, whom he was to represent as "fit for any situation in a public office." The second lady, who had already perused "Marmion" and "The Lady of the Lake," engaged, in return for a suitable provision for her son's education, to read all her benefactor's other works. After dealing with these letters Scott felt himself constrained to record his conviction that "your destitute widow, especially if she hath a charge of children and one or two fit for patronage, is one of the most impudent animals living." Nor did advancing age protect the too-celebrated author from more dangerous designs. In his sixtieth year Sir Walter received a letter from "a certain young man of sapient family," conveying to him the information that a woman of rank, his sister, "had so far mistaken his intentions as to suppose that he was only prevented by modesty from stating certain wishes and hopes, &c." Sir Walter's reflections were not flattering to the lady, and he excused himself "with little picking upon the terms."—Temple and Bar.

LADY TENNYSON'S CHARACTER.

Of Great Help to Her Husband in His Literary Work.

In 1830, says Mr. Mabie in the Atlantic, on a path in a wood at Somersby, Tennyson came unexpectedly upon a slender, beautiful girl of seventeen, and impulsively said to her, "Are you a dryad or an oread wandering here?" Six years later he met Emily Sellwood again, on the occasion of the marriage of his brother Charles to her youngest sister. The friendship ripened into love, but for lack of means the marriage did not take place until June, 1850; the month in which In Memoriam was published. The cake and dresses came too late, and the wedding was so quiet that Tennyson declared it was the nicest wedding he had ever attended. Of his wife he said, many years later, "The peace of God came into my life before the altar when I wedded her." Of this marriage the son writes: "It was she who became my father's adviser in literary matters. 'I am proud of her intellect,' he wrote. With her he always discussed what he was working at; she transcribed his poems; to her, and to no one else, he referred for a final criticism before publishing. She, with her 'tender, spiritual nature' and instinctive nobility of thought, was always by his side, a ready, cheerful, courageous, wise, and sympathetic counselor. It was she who shielded his sensitive spirit from the annoyances and trials of life, answering (for example) the innumerable letters addressed to him from all parts of the world. By her quiet sense of humor, by her selfless devotion, 'her faith as clear as the heights of the June-blue heaven,' she helped him also to the utmost in the hours of his depression and his sorrow; and to her he wrote two of the most beautiful of his shorter lyrics, 'Dear, near and true,' and the dedicatory lines which prefaced his last volume, The Death of Oenone."

His Admiration Waned.

The Philadelphia Record tells the following tandem idyl: "He was an estimable young man in every way, and she was more than estimable—in his opinion—so, with the idea of wheeling his way into her heart, he saved and hoarded his shekels and purchased a fine tandem. But 'the best-laid plans of mice and men gang aft agley.' They had ridden some fifteen miles, and after slowly and laboriously pedalling to the top of a long hill, he, after mopping his dripping brow, gasped out convulsively: 'M—M—May, you c—c—can p—p—put your feet on the c—c—oasters now.' 'Why,' said his companion, 'I've had them on ever since we started.' He said nothing, but set his teeth grimly' and she has wondered ever since then why he has not called on Sunday evenings."

SPORTS

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Henry W. Brower, of the Plainfield High School, has been appointed one of the marshals for the games of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association, May 28th, at the N. J. A. C. grounds.

The athletic team of the Plainfield High School has met with an unexpected loss. Joseph DeForeest, who was looked on as a probable candidate for honors in throwing the dicus, has left school and will therefore be unable to take part in the state games as a High School boy. DeForeest was already entered for the games and has been in training for them for several weeks.

A special meeting of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association will be held Wednesday afternoon at Pingry's school, Elizabeth. The principal business will be the voting on the two amendments proposed at a meeting of the faculties of the interested schools. One provides that no official at the state games shall be a member or graduate of any of the competing schools. The other provides for an advisory board to be composed of one member of the faculty of each school in the association. The board has no power but can be consulted in any dispute that may arise. This last amendment has been vigorously opposed by Pingry's School and the Montclair High School. The chief advocates are Newark Academy and Newark High School.

OLD HAND ENGINE RETURNS.

Scotch Plains Firemen Present the Exempts With the Machine.

Despite the very heavy storm last evening the members of the Scotch Plains fire department came to Plainfield and returned the hand fire engine to the Exempt Firemen's Association. When they reached fire headquarters with the old-time machine, Chief T.O. Doane, R. B. Rogers and Jerry Moore, committee from the Exempts, were waiting to receive the present. The committee and visitors all adjourned to Findlay's hotel, where the apparatus was placed for temporary storage. A lunch was then served to the visiting firemen by the committee, after which a short time was devoted to speechmaking by all present. Then there was a visit to the fire houses, where an exhibition of calling up the fire horses was given.

The old engine looks as bright and clean as in days of old and is still good for work. The Scotch Plains department recently bought another hand engine from parties in New York. The engine was formerly in the service in New York city.

GIFT FOR A FREEHOLDER.

Somerset Solons Present L. E. Barkalew With a Handsome Chair.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 13—A rather unusual but very pleasant incident closed the final meeting of the old Board of Freeholders Wednesday. It was the event of presenting a retiring member, not an officer, with a gift to show the appreciation of the remaining members for his services and assistance on the Board. The honored one was L. E. Barkalew, of North Plainfield. The gift came in the form of a handsome easy chair. The presentation was made by Clerk A. P. Sutphen in a neat little speech, in which he paid a tribute to Mr. Barkalew's services as a freeholder and the high esteem and appreciation in which he was held by the other members of the Board.

Some of the members made remarks complimentary to Mr. Barkalew and that gentleman responded with much feeling and expressed his regret at leaving such pleasant associations. He then presented each member and officer of the Board with a souvenir silver spoon with the battleship Maine embossed on the bowl.

Mr. Barkalew was very popular with the members of the Board and several of them said after the meeting that they were sorry to see him leave the Board. He was regarded as a man exceptionally well qualified to the office.

The new Board was called to order by Clerk A. P. Sutphen, of the last Board, at 11 o'clock. All the new members, Messrs. Lutkins, Hoagland, Everett and Perry, were sworn in and Mr. Barkalew retired.

The Board proceeded to elect a Director and William J. Logan, of Bridgewater, was chosen by a unanimous vote. The names of Arthur P. Sutphen and Horace Codington, of Warren, were presented for clerk. Mr. Sutphen was elected by a vote of 8 to 2 and it was then made unanimous.

For counsel the names of John A. Frech, of Semerville, and Robert Clark, of Plainfield, were mentioned. The latter was placed in nomination by Mr. Codington. The result was the election of Mr. Frech by a vote of 7 to 3.

Mr. Clark had previously addressed a communication to the Board, in which he agreed to perform all the legal work without any retaining fee. No attention was paid to the communication.

Joshua Doughty, Jr., was re-elected county engineer without opposition.

Three O'Clock.

CARDENAS DESTROYED.

American Warships Bombarded Forts and City the Second Time With Dire Effect.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 14, 12:20 p. m—The destruction wrought by the Spanish shells on the American torpedo boat Winslow has been more than avenged.

The vessels of the American blockading squadron made another attack on the Spanish fortifications at Cardenas which was successful.

The facts of the second bombardment have just reached here by a despatch boat from the blockading fleet. The second bombardment took place yesterday.

The vessels of the American fleet opened fire on the masked batteries that nearly wrecked the Winslow and on the regular fortificiations of the city.

The Yankee shells destroyed the forts and batteries, causing the gunners who escaped to fly for their lives. Some of the shells passed over into the city which was soon in flames.

It is reported that the entire town was destroyed by the flames which soon gained such headway that they could not be stopped.

A landing party was formed from the American warships and several cutters entered the inner harbor and landed a force of blue-jackets and marines.

They found one hundred and thirteen Spaniards dead in the batteries and fortifications. Three hundred Spaniards are reported to have perished in the flames.

Cardenas is, or rather was, one of the principal commercial centres of Cuba. It had a population of 11,000. It was the capital of the civil district that bears its own name. It was also the headquarters of the military district.

FORTS RAZED; CITY BURNS.

American Ships Play Havoc in the Spanish Ranks at Cienfuegos, Cuba, Yesterday.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 14, 10:50 a. m—Reports of the destruction of the Spanish fortifications at Cienfuegos, on the southern coast of Cuba, reached here this morning.

The armed revenue cutter Windom, that is now with the blockading squadron on the southern coast of Cuba, arrived in port this morning with the account of the engagement.

The officers of the Windom report that the forts there have been completely destroyed by the fire from the American ships. The city is reported to be ablaze.

Two more American sailors were killed while an attempt was made to cut the cable that is laid in Cienfuegos harbor. The cable was finally cut.

Commander Washburn and Lieut. Manning of the Nashville were slightly injured by the Spanish fire.

The shells from the American guns were well directed. The Spanish loss is estimated at four hundred.

Key West, May 14, 11:30 a. m.—The losses on the Marblehead at the second bombardment of Cienfuegos is reported to have been one killed and six wounded.

Key West, May 14, 1:25 p. m—A partial list of the killed and wounded at the second fight at Cienfuegos has been given out. John Reagen, of the Marble head, was killed.

Two other sailors on the Marblehead were wounded by the fire from the Spanish guns. The other casualties occurred at the attempt to cut the cable.

Those wounded then were John Davis, New York; John J. Doran, Fall River; Robert Boltz, Carteret, N. C.; Ernest Suntzeanickle, Herman W. Hechmeister and Harry Hendrickson, all severely wounded. Many others were slightly wounded.

Four small boats were packed with blue-jackets who went out to cut the cable. Masked batteries opened fire on them to which they were powerless to reply.

The Marblehead, Nashville and Windom shelled the bushes on the edge of the harbor, but they were unable to locate the Spaniards, owing to the fact that they used smokeless powder.

The Spanish directed a terrible fire from their machine guns on the men in the open boats who were searching for the cable. The cable was found and successfully cut.

One American sailor was shot three times in the chest and once in the head but is still living. Lieutenant C. McR. Winslow, second officer of the Nashville, lost three fingers.

Boltz and Hendrickson were dying when the revenue cutter Windom left the fleet and started for Key West. A shot struck Commander Maynard, of the Nashville, after passing through the shoulder of Ensign J. E. Walker.

The Spanish forts were completely annihilated by the bombardment of the American ships.

PROGRESS OF EVOLUTION

INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE DELIVERED BY REV. A. C. NICKERSON.

It Adds Great Resources to the Power of the Mind, and is a Doctrine of Unity and a Great Inspiration.

The following is a portion of the lecture on "Progress of Evolution," delivered by Rev. A. C. Nickerson in All Souls church last night:

"The growth of the idea since 1859 has been phenomenal. Spencer was then an evolutionist, and, following him, Darwin, Tyndall, Lewes, Buxley, Hooker, Tylor and Lubback, accepted it. Soon after no biologists were to be found who were not evolutionists. Wholesale creations and destructions became generally discredited. But there was much opposition. The universities generally refused their endorsement. Agazji opposed it. Dawson hesitated. Evolution has conquered, however, an opposition of the most powerful interested and prejudiced kind.

"Progress in thought. Many have feared its supposed materialistic tendencies. It is not materialistic. It adds nothing to matter, but does add resources innumerable to the power of mind. Matter has no independent existence, and evolution practically wipes it out of existence. Everything in nature, including man, grows by help of a divine and inescapable guidance from better to best. Evolution is a way of life, a manner of thought.

"Evolution in preaching. It's doctrine of unity or togetherness, a great inspiration to the preacher. All sciences are one. The mind and the universe it studies are one. God and man are one, as Jesus taught us. History, literature, religion are all seen in a new light through evolution."

TO INCORPORATE A NEWSPAPER.

A Democratic Organ of Which Rev. J. B. Wells is to be the Editor.

Attorney John P. D. Kirch, of Park and North avenues, was called upon a few days ago by Rev. John A. Wells, of Bernardsville, and a few other prominent men of Somerset county, and asked to take steps towards organizing a weekly Democratic paper for that county, to be circulated throughout the Third Congressional district. The paper is to be known as the Bernardsville News, and the proprietors hope to make it the official organ of Somerset county. Mr. Kirch has drawn up articles of incorporation, and is now procuring shareholders.

Fell on the Fender.

Just after one of the street cars had started yesterday from the North Avenue station, a woman attempted to cross the street in front and stumbled and fell across the fender. The car was immediately brought to a full stop and the woman helped to her feet. She refused to give her name, and said she was not hurt. The escape was a narrow one, for if the car had been running at full speed the woman must have been ground beneath the wheels.

Crack Whist Players.

The members of the whist team of the Park Club, S. St. J. McCutchen, Samuel Townsend, George T. Rogers and J. H. Howell, went to Philadelbhia today where they will play on the team of the New Jersey Whist Club against the Hamilton Club of Philadelphia this afternoon. Last year, the Hamilton Club came to Newark and played a match with the New Jersey Whist Club for which this is the return game. The teams will be composed of sixteen men each.

—Malichar Watson, who was awaiting trial on a charge of illegal liquor selling, came before theCityJudge and entered a plea of non vult this morning. The plea was accepted, and Watson will be sentenced Monday.

A MONSTER BENEFIT FOR THE RED CROSS.

Affair To Be Given in Music Hall Next Week.

WEBER & FIELDS' ARTISTS

MAYOR FISK AND PROMINENT CITIZENS ARE THE PATRONS.

The Profits Will be Turned Over to an Auxiliary Committee, Headed by Miss Morton, to be Used to Aid the Sick and Wounded Who Suffer for Their Country's Cause—Under the Direction of Mrs. Berman—Music Hall Will be Patriotically Decorated for the Occasion—Names of the Patrons

Four American sailor boys rendered up their lives in defence of their country's flag last Wednesday. They were the first victims on the American side since the conflict between the United States and Spain began. Others were wounded and have been brought back to the United States. It is to care for these and other victims of Spanish shot and shell that the monster benefit entertainment at Stillman Music Hall next Thursday evening will be given.

The Red Cross Society is recognized by all the civilized nations of the globe. In this country it is recognized as the official care-takers of the sick and wounded of army and navy. The big benefit Thursday night will turn its receipts over to the Red Cross fund, which goes for the prosecution of the work of that charitable organization.

The leading citizens of Plainfield are the promoters of the benefit. Headed by Mayor Charles J. Fisk, a committee of prominent men have taken the benefit in hand and are exerting their united efforts toward making the benefit the great success that it deserves to be.

The committee has sent out the following letter to many of our Plainfield homes:

Mayor's Office,
Plainfield, N. J.
May 9, 1898.

Dear Sir:—It is proposed by a number of ladies in this city to arrange with Weber & Fields, of New York, for an entertainment to be given May 19th at Music Hall for the benefit of the Red Cross fund for the care of the sick and wounded in our army and navy.

This charity has our endorsement and support, and we trust you will do what you can to help the matter along and make the entertainment a great success.

The letters have met with an almost unanimous response. Aside from a lengthy list of patrons who have promised to use their influence and assistance, many others have promised to purchase tickets for the monster benefit.

The list of patrons are as follows: Chas. J. Fisk, W. E. Lowe, Howard Fleming, Dr. Endicott, J. Kirtland Myers, Edward White, T. S. Armstrong, G. W. Rockfellow, Craig A. Marsh, Dr. Davis, Marion Ackerman, W. D. Wadsworth, Dr. Ard, Ernest Ackerman, James Scott, W. W. Smith, Charles Potter, E. H. VanBuren, S. F. Kimball, J. W. Gavett, L. W. Serrell, Jr., C. E. Brooks, F. H. Andrews, George Chapman, J. B. Dumont, Dr. J. B. Probasco, John Barker, Harry C. Runkle, J. M. Whiton, George Wharton Edwards, E. H. Booth, J. B. Kirkner, Wm. Graydon, E. T. Barrows, T. J. Mimford, S. St, J. McCutchen, Alexander Gilbert, W. A. Pinto, W. D. Murray, A. C. Vail, W. L. Saunders, Charles A. Reed, H. M. Stockton, Dr. George Endicott and Rowland Cox.

The benefit will undoubtedly be a great social event. There is every prospect of a very large sale of tickets among the highest social circles. It is not, however, for any one particular set, all are invited and all are welcome. It is a right worthy cause in which everyone can lend a hand.

Don't get the idea, however, that those who do attend will not get the worth of their money. Weber and Fields have a reputation to keep up that which assures a delightful entertainment. It will be a vaudeville performance by one of their best companies, composed of artists who stand very high in their profession. The programme will consist of selections by the following well known people of the vaudeville stage; Harris and Field, Dutch comedians; Mary Norman, society entertainer; Adel Purvis Onri, dancing with stereopticon effects; Hiatt and Pearl, musical comedy act; Stinson and Morton, comedy sketch; Gertie Gilson, vocalist; Sylvia Teller, imitations of Vesta Tilley.

The affair is being arranged and managed by Mrs. P. P. Berman, who is well-known in New York as an expert in that line of work. She has had charge of the famous Damrosch concerts and other entertainments of equally high standing.

A PATRIOTIC SOCIABLE.

AN UP-TO-DATE AFFAIR GIVEN BY THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

Church Decorated With Flags and Tri-Colored Bunting—Rev. Mr. Goodrich was Master of Ceremonies Last Evening.

There was a patriotic air about the decorations and the whole programme at the sociable held in the Congregational church last evening. A "Patriotic Sociable" was the title applied it by the Women's Association, under whose auspices it was given.

The church and parlors were prettily decorated with a profusion of flags and tri-colored bunting. Then, too, many of the guests wore ribbons of the National colors or small flags.

Rev. C. L. Goodrich acted as master of ceremonies. The opening number of the programme was a piano duet by Miss Nellie Winkler and Miss Eva Wilkins. Then "The Star-Spangled Banner" was sung by the audience, led by a choir composed of Miss M. G. Morse, Miss Katheryn Dwight, Miss Emma LaBoyteaux, Morris C. VanArsdale and Stacy Raynolds.

A thrilling little recitation was given by Miss Lizzie Hoagland. After a vocal solo by Miss Filmer, the choir led in the singing of "The Red, White and Blue." "Scott and the Veteran" was the title of an appropriate reading by Rev. C. L. Goodrich. As an encore, he read a poem about the patriot Hale.

A vocal trio was next given by the Misses Emma LaBoyteaux, Agnes LaBoyteaux and Katheryn Dwight. Miss Hoagland gave another recitation of a humorous character, and then the programme closed with the singing of "America."

Everybody then adjourned to the parlors where ice cream and cake were served. In the centre of each dish of ice cream a small American flag was placed. They were kept as souvenirs of the pleasant occasion.

The programme was arranged by Miss Nellie Winkler. She was assisted in the decorating by Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux and Miss Winkler. The refreshments were prepared under the supervision of Mrs. F. D. Fuller.

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

West Fourth Street Will Receive Some Needed Repairs

A few loads of stone are being dumped on West Fourth street near Park avenue, to improve the condition of the road a little until the street can be macadamized. As soon as Street Commissioner Gavett can get around to it, the street will be macadamized from Park avenue to New street.

A different plan is being pursued this year in regard to using the street roller. Last season it was kept attending one gang of workmen, but year it goes from one to the other, and in this way the work can be pushed forward much more rapidly.

DEAD DOGS IN CRYSTAL LAKE.

North Plainfield Board of Health Will Try to Find the Perpetrators.

The Board of Health of North Plainfield township held a meeting at Washingtonville last evening. It was decided to take active steps against the persons who persist in throwing dead canines in Crystal Lake. The Board was of the opinion that such action was utterly uncalled for and deserved punishment. The inspector of the Board was instructed to procure detectives if necessary to discover who the people were that have been using the lake for a dumping ground.

A Surprise at White's.

Edward White has two great surprises for his customers Monday. He was a very large buyer at the great carpet sale that took place last week at W. & J. Sloane's, of New York city. They were bought thirty per cent. below their regular wholesale price, and it is needless to say that White will sell them as close as they were bought. The other good bargain is 1,900 yards of fine fancy silks that were bought from Arnold, Constable & Co., of New York.

Chose the Same Date.

Two employes of the United States Express Comany, of this city, are to take unto themselves wives Sunday, May 22d. The prospective grooms are William Albert, of East Fourth street, who will be married to Miss Christine Svenson; and William Hartpnece, of Erst Fourth street, who will marry Miss Edith Wieghman, of West Front street.

Children Have a Party.

Mrs. Laurence Myers, of East Front street, gave a party yesterday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Margaret's birthday. Several little friends from the neighborhood were invited, and the afternoon was passed very pleasantly in the "bird's nest" under the trees.

SEEN AT CAMP TRINITY.

A NOVEL WORKING SOCIABLE GIVEN LAST NIGHT.

A Martial Air Prevailed and Army Rules and Regulations Were Maintained—How the Affair was Arranged.

A martial air prevailed at Trinity last evening at the camp fire of officers and committee members of the Christian Endeavor Society.

On entering, the first thing that struck the eye was the sign: "Don't attempt to pass the guards without giving the countersign, (name of committee.") In the centre of the large Sunday-school room was a camp fire, the tripod and camp kettles and pile of wood underneath in the open space, in the centre of which were a number of lighted candles, which gave quite a realistic effect. On either side of the camp fire were stacks of muskets. The parlor was the headquarters of Commander-in-Chief H. J. Martin and staff. The committees were called companies and were given class rooms as company quarters, assigned as follows:

Co. A, lookout; Co. B, prayer meeting; Co. C, social; Co. D, flower; Co. E, Sunday-school; Co. F, missionary; Co. G, temperance and good citizenship; Co. H, reception; Co. I, music; music; Co. K, visiting.

All late comers were promptly put under arrest and placed in the guard house, for which, and the headqurters and company rooms, J. Q. Miles had kindly lettered artistic signs.

The sentinels at the door were Messrs. Charles Dolliver and Walter Emmons. They were obliged to "shoot" Charles Remsen for attempting to run by the guards. To the music of the fife and drum corps march, played by Mrs. E. E. Anthony, the commander and staff marched to the mess room, where a bountiful supper was served.

After-dinner speeches were made by Commander Martin, Dominie Schenck, F. E. Smith, A. K. Willett, Miss E. C. Benedict, Mrs. Schenck and E. E. Anthony. All then repaired to their respective headquarters, where a half-hour was spent planning ways and means of work. All then gathered around the camp fire and with no light but that of the fire an hour was most delightfully spent in earnest and helpful conference. Taps or good night were sounded at 10 o'clock and the most successful affair of the season closed.

Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., kindly loaned the camp-fire outfit and muskets. The camp-fire was under the management of Mrs. H. J. Martin. Mrs. J. E. Townsend, Miss Corinna Young, Miss Jennie Ross and Mrs. Bertha Richards, composing the social committee, who were assisted by the reception committee and twelve young people who acted as waiters.

To E. E. Anthony, who planned the affair and H. J. Martin and others who assisted in carrying it out, as planned, much credit is due.

COLLIDED WITH THE TROLLEY.

A Black Horse Driven by Adam Fritz Was Injured for Life.

For the second time this year Adam Fritz, of Somerset street, has come out second best in an encounter with a trolley car. Thursday afternoon he was driving a handsome team of black horses down Somerset street. The horses were soon to be shipped to an undertaker in Jersey City who had purchased them. A car approached from the oppoaite direction.

The east wind carried away the sound of the car from the horses and they did not hear it until they were close upon it. They shied toward the gutter, partially turning the wagon. The sound of the wheels scraping against the curb caused them to sheer back toward the car. The hub of the wheel caught in the car and soon Mr. Fritz, horses and wagon were piled in a confused heap.

One of the horses was so injured that he will probably be no use in the future. The other one was not seriously injured. Mr. Fritz also escaped injury.

Early in the year, Mr. Fritz was smashed up by a horse that became frightened at the car. He did nothing about the first case. The company will probably settle for the damage done Thursday as the team was a valuable one.

A Closing Drill.

On account of a musical to be given in Plainfield Thursday afternoon, May 26th, the Woman's ParliamentaryClub will hold its closing drill Friday, May 28th, 3 p. m. in Y. M. C. A. Club members please meet at 2 o'clock. C. R. Yates, president.

Wants a Will Probated.

On motion of Lawyer Robert M. Clark, the Orphan's Court of Somerset county issued a rule to show cause before the court why a certified copy of the will of Edward W. Milligan should not be admitted to probate.

GRADUATING HONORS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Pupils Accorded Distinction by Reason of Good Work.

AN ALUMNI RECEPTION.

HENRY PIERCE AND MISS OSGOOD RECEIVED THE HONORS.

The Young Man Will be the Valedictorian and the Young Woman Salutatorian — Both Were Chosen by Vote of Their Classmates — Wilbur F. Cornwell, President of the Class of '96, Says There Will be a Reception Given to the Graduates—A Meeting Will be Called Soon and the Details Arranged.

Two announcements have been made that are of special interest to the upper classes of the Plainfield High School. The appointment of the honor pupils of the graduating class has been made, and Wilbur F. Cornwell, president of the class of '96, has stated that the classes of '96 and '97 will continue the old custom this year and give a reception to the graduates.

It has been the custom to appoint the valedictorian and salutatorian from among the members of the graduating class for the excellence of the work during the four years of the High School course. This year, Miss Ellen Osgood and Henry Pierce were found to be equal in standing, and the question as which place they should receive was left to the class. The question was put to vote and Henry Pierce selected valedictorian and Miss Osgood salutatorian.

As regards the alumni reception, it has been decided to hold one as usual, although the movement is rather late in starting. President Cornwell is no longer a resident of this city, and is also busy with his studies at the New York Homœopathic College. He has therefore turned the matter over to the vice-president of the class, Miss Grace E. Overton, who will call a meeting at once. Details of the reception will then be settled.

BOROUGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Miss Bertha Stevens and Fred Williams Accorded the Honors.

The Borough Public School commencement will be held on the evening of June 23d in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. There will be twelve graduates and arrangements are now being made to have an attractive programme. The music will be a great feature of the occasion

Miss Bertha Stevens will be the valedictorian, and the salutatorian will be Fred Williams. Miss Smalley and Miss VanFleet, of the graduating class, it happens, have secured the same average in their studies, and they will divide the honors. It has been very difficult for the teachers to decide in the matter, but due announcement will be made concerning the selection.

MAN OF MANY ALIASES.

Desperate Horse Thief Formerly Worked For Mayor Fisk.

Constable William N. Panborn yesterday spent sometime in looking up the record of the desperate character with whom he had the encounter on Thursday, and finds that he formerly worked in this city. The prisoner has gone under many aliases. He worked for Thomas Penton, of Rockview avenue, and Mayor Fisk, as coachman, under the name of Patrick Whalen. He registered at the Bound Brook hotel as Clark, told the Central freight employes that his name was Myer and when arrested said that his name was Callan.

Plainfield Boys at Sea Girt.

The Plainfield boys in Company H, State militia, of Somerville, who are now in camp at Sea Girt, include William Havelock, Florence S. McCarthy, Benjamin F. Scribner, C. J. Sprigg and Frank Carver. Other Plainfield boys in camp who are not in Company H, include Mark Doud, Ed. Day and Herbert Overbaugh. It will be noticed that Plainfield is fairly represented already, and no doubt there will be more to go if it becomes necessary.

To Lecture on China.

Tomorrow evening in the First Baptist church Rev. C. L. Rhodes, secretary of the American Baptist Missionary Union, will give a highly instructive and entertaining lecture on "China." The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Temple Builders Association of the church. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested.

Judgment Rendered.

Justice Smalley has rendered judgment in the case of Henry Burnett against Wolf & Wolf for the plaintiff to the amount of $22 and costs. Robert M. Clark represented the plaintiff.

COURSE OF THE ENEMY

Spain's Fleet Is Expected at Either San Juan or Cuba.

FLYING SQUADRON SAILS

Commander Schley Expected to Intercept the Spanish Fleet If It Tries to Proceed to Havana—Wisdom of Navy Department in Retaining the Squadron at Hampton Roads Now Made Evident.

Fort Monroe, Va., May 14.—The Flying Squadron sailed from Hampton Roads at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

At 3.20 o'clock, when it became evident that the squadron would shortly put to sea, hurried movements were seen aboard the ships. Men were running to and fro on the decks and the smoke rolled in great volumes from the funnels of the Brooklyn, Massachusetts, Minneapolis, Texas, New Orleans, Scorpion and the collier.

Officers and men seemed wild with delight at the prospect of going after the Spaniards. It is understood that the squadron goes to meet the Spanish fleet.

The Brooklyn, Massachusetts, Texas and New Orleans were the first of the squadron to put to sea.

The squadron sails under sealed orders. The Navy Department has information that the Spanish Cape Verde fleet is at Martinique, and the Flying Squadron has probably gone South to meet the enemy.

Schley May Close Up on Havana.

Washington, May 14.—It is said that Commodore Schley's orders are discretionary to proceed according to advices of the movements of the Spanish fleet.

It is now believed to be the purpose of the Government to order Commodore Schley's squadron to close up on Havana and the troops meanwhile will be kept in readiness for a forward movement as soon as the time is thought opportune.

May Go to San Juan.

Washington, May 14.—Opinion as to the course of Spain's fleet, now near Martinique, is divided. Naval officers generally believe it will go to Cuba and that Commodore Schley and the Flying Squadron will have a hard race to get there first. It is thought Admiral Sampson would be unable to catch the Spaniards if they should wish to avoid him, because of their great speed.

The majority, as stated, believe that the Spanish fleet will go at once to Cuba, but at the Bureau of Navigation, in the Navy Department, it was stated that the official dispatches say that the Spanish fleet is westward of Martinique, "hull down," and by this time is off the south coast of Porto Rico. It was said that the fleet, having taken this course, was bound for San Juan, and would give the American fleet battle there. There is an idea among the officials of the department that our dispatches have been somewhat delayed, and that the Spanish fleet is further away from Martinique, than we think, and that the Spaniards will turn up at San Juan possibly in a few hours. If they do not arrive off San Juan in a day it will be certain then that they have gone on to Cuba.

The fact that the Navy Department has delayed the departure of the Flying Squadron from Fort Monroe strengthens the belief that the officials think that the Spanish Admiral will attack Admiral Sampson's fleet instead of going to Cuba. On the other hand, there are many who believe that the probable purpose of the Spanish fleet is to make a dash at once for Cuba. Those who hold this view expect that there will be a double race, Admiral Sampson's fleet proceeding in a southerly course from San Juan in an attempt to intercept the Spanish fleet and Commodore Schley making a race for Cuban waters so as to get there ahead of the Spanish fleet if possible. It is regarded as extremely doubtful whether, if the Spanish fleet makes a dash to Cuba, Sampson, with his slow going fleet, will be able to intercept it, and there is an even chance as to whether the Spanish fleet or Schley's fleet could get to Cuba first.

Sea Fight in Any Case.

No matter which way the Spanish fleet goes, the general opinion here is that there will be a sea fight very soon. If the Spanish fleet runs along the southern coast of Cuba it will be a very serious thing for our small vessels blockading these ports. But, if it goes to San Juan, Admiral Sampson will be fully able to destroy it.

The official information in regard to the Spanish fleet has turned interest from the bombardment of San Juan to the more serious and decisive engagement anticipated between the fleets.

In political circles surprise is expressed that our fleet should have been occupied in an attack upon San Juan while the Spanish fleet, which was the first object of Admiral Sampson's search, was at Martinique. It is explained, however, that this was due to the reports that the Cape Verde fleet was at Cadiz, and that Sampson had not been able to find any signs of it in the West Indian waters.

It is said that Admiral Sampson's fleet is in no way weakened by reason of this engagement at San Juan, and that he is fully able to meet the Spanish fleet. The chief apprehension is that he may not be able to move fast enough to intercept the Spanish fleet, if he is obliged to do this, and that the latter may be taking a southwesterly course, to avoid him and to proceed at once to Cuba.

It is said that the President received a dispatch stating that the Spanish fleet at Port de France was coaling from two large transatlantic steamers. It is calculated that this fleet, being well supplied with coal at that point, can move with great rapidity upon either Porto Rico or Cuba, and that Sampson could not catch it.

Schley to Go to Cuba.

The understanding was yesterday that Commodore Schley's squadron had been ordered to join Admiral Sampson, but this plan was changed, and the fleet has sailed for Cuba for the purpose of cutting off the Spanish fleet at the Windward passage. Schley has in his fleet the Brooklyn, the Texas, the Minneapolis, the New Orleans, the St. Paul, the Massachusetts and the Vesuvius. The Miantonomah is the only effective fighting vessel we have now in Cuban waters. The rest are small vessels.

If the Spanish fleet is going to Cuba, it is expected there will be a hot race between it and Commodore Schley's squadron. There is about an equal chance in the race, as the distance to be covered is nearly the same. The Spanish vessels are faster than ours, but the time consumed by them in coaling has to be taken into consideration. It will take each fleet between three and four days to make the run, neither being in a condition to proceed all the way under forced draught.

A Match for the Spanish.

Commodore Schley's fleet is able to cope with the Spanish fleet, and the only anxiety is as to the chances of the race. If the Spanish fleet should get to Havana first it could raise the blockade, or it might go to Cienfuegos on the south coast and establish a base of supplies. The report that some small Spanish vessels have been seen in our northern waters is not regarded as improbable, but it causes no uneasiness, since it is declared that there are no Spanish vessels in that quarter which could do much damage.

PLOT TO KILL GEN. LEE.

Revealed in Philadelphia by One of the Spanish Conspirators.

Philadelphia, May 14.—A story of an alleged Spanish plot to assassinate Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has been the cause of some correspondence between the War Department and the regular army recruiting station in this city.

On Saturday last a reputable Philadelphia merchant, whose name is withheld at his request, called at the recruiting agency and told the officer in charge that a Spanish workman in his employ had confessed to him that a plot had been formed to kill Gen. Fitzhugh Lee.

According to the man's story, the conspiracy originated in New York among Spaniards who contended that Gen. Lee was largely responsible for the war with Spain, because he had, while Consul General at Havana, persistently misrepresented the condition of affairs in Cuba, and had thus aroused the animosity of the American people against Spain.

This Spaniard had at first joined in the plot, but subsequently weakened from the fear that he might be chosen to assassinate Lee. He said to his employer that he had turned informer because he had rather be called a coward and a traitor by his associates than be a murderer.

Capt. Craigie, in command of the regular army recruiting station at Filbert street and Penn square, to whom this story was told, after satisfying himself of the good standing of the merchant and listening to the story of the Spaniard, promptly reported the matter to the War Department and was directed by Secretary Alger to make an investigation. This investigation is now going on in this city and New York, and Gen. Lee, it is said, has been warned.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN LEAVE.

Transferred from Fort Warren After Orders from War Department.

Boston, May 14.—Orders were received at Fort Warren yesterday from the War Department to remove all women and children from the fort at once to a place of safety in case of bombardment.

These orders were carried out with the utmost promptitude, and soon after noon Mrs. Woodruff and all the other ladies at the fort were sent to Boston on one of the boats running between the fort and the city.

Col. Woodruff was asked why it was that this step was taken just at this time, but all that he would say was that the orders on hand made it necessary.

Officials of high rank at the Charlestown Navy Yard place considerable credence in the rumor that a part at least of the enemy's fleet is not far distant from this coast. Their suspicions were strengthened by the fact that the United States cruiser Columbia and the ram Katahdin hurriedly left this port under sealed orders, and that the cruiser San Francisco will leave at once. The auxiliary cruiser Yankee joined the Columbia off Cape Cod and went to sea.

INVASION OF SPAIN POSTPONED.

Delay of the Military Expedition Has Been Ordered.

Washington, May 14.—As a result of the proximity of the Spanish Cape Verde fleet, the War Department has postponed the military expedition to Cuba. Orders were issued yesterday cancelling the instructions to dispatch volunteer troops from the State rendezvous directly to Tampa, Mobile and New Orleans, without stopping at Chickamauga.

The troops from Eastern and Middle Western States are now directed to proceed as soon as ready for travel to the Chickamauga National Park. There they will go into camp and receive their complete equipment for the campaign in Cuba.

The Seventy-first New York and the First Massachusetts volunteers will go South by rail. The orders issued Thursday for them to go on board transports have been cancelled. The cause of the change is the approach of the Spanish fleet and the recognized danger that the unprotected transport vessels bearing the troops would be liable to attack by the enemy. The New York and Massachusetts regiments will probably go to Chickamauga.

May Die at Any Moment.

Hawarden, May 14.—The condition of Mr. Gladstone last evening was comparatively painless; but there was evidence of increasing weakness and failure of the circulation. It was announced last evening that Mr. Gladstone was delirious on Wednesday evening; but, it appears, he recovered on Thursday. The failure of the heart action may cause his death at any moment, although the local disease may yet run the course of another three weeks.

900 Spaniards Reported Killed.

London, May 14.—According to a special dispatch received here from Havana, via Kingston, Jamaica, there has been an engagement between the Spaniards and the insurgents, during which 900 of the former were killed. The location of the battle is not mentioned in the dispatch.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

Statistics Show that Uncle Sam Can Conduct a War and Still Do Business.

New York, May 14.—Hostilities have lasted long enough to kill many predictions, if but few Americans. The European notions that the United States would begin by having a bad half hour, the theorists' notion that "everybody knows a great panic must follow the outbreak of war," the commercial buyers' notion that everybody would be ready to sell everything cheap if war came, the notion that it would pay to hoard money until the emergency had passed, have all been made laughable already. The only panic was when money lenders were wondering what deadly impossibilities the unknown might have in store for them. The only hindrance of industry has been due to waiting of buyers who looked for lower prices. American fleets are complaining only because the Spanish Armada has been more invisible than invincible.

Railroad earnings for April have been 15.9 per cent. larger than they were last year. Speculators paid on Wednesday an average of $1.51 per share more for railroad stocks than a week ago, and $2.05 more for Trusts, and since their dismal predictions the day war was declared the average advance in railroad stocks was $5.51 per share, though closing 22 cts. lower. The foreign speculators who sold 100,000 shares early in the week, and bought 40,000 later, had a bad half hour themselves.

In harsher forms the same experience has come to unbelievers in American prosperity who sold what they did not own. Years of experience had made them believe that $1.20 was a price for wheat which could not be held at New York, and foreign and other sales above that point were large. But the highest regular quotation for twenty-five years was reached at $1.91 this week, though for No. 2 Milwaukee $2 was paid in 1877. The reaction to $1.50½ was not surprising in view of Western receipts, which were 3,928,767 bushels during the week, against 2,165,622 a year ago.

Nothing disheartening can be seen in the industrial situation except the closing of some cotton mills owing to overproduction, and the fall of print cloths to 1.87 cts.

Money is easier, since the policy of contraction has ceased, and only $1,700,000 went to the interior during the week, while the new loans of the chief banks averaged 45 per cent. of the total to commercial interests, against 25 per cent. one week and 15 per cent. two weeks ago, with rates much lower than were quite recently refused. Government is paying gold over the counter largely, because it needs notes more than coin, and $7,000,000 gold have been ordered during the week, $2,500,000 from Australia, making $78,363,350 ordered, of which about $11,000,000 has yet to come. Failures for the first week of May have been $2,978,980, against $3,995,894 last year, and $4,138,271 in 1896; manufacturing $1,411,275, against $1,949,536 last year, and trading $1,472,727, against $1,289,858 last year. Failures for the week have been 246 in the United States, against 264 last year, and 24 in Canada, against 31 last year.

ONE EXPEDITION LANDED.

Capt. Dorst Delivers Arms to the Insurgents After a Hot Fight.

Key West, May 14.—The transport steamer Gussie, which left here with a big expedition for Cuba on Wednesday night, had a lively engagement with the Spaniards at Cabanas, Province of Pinar del Rio, Thursday, but succeeded in accomplishing her mission.

The Gussie, which came here from Tampa, carried 7,000 rifles and a large quantity of ammunition intended for the Cubans. The expedition was directed by Capt. J. H. Dorst, of the United States Cavalry, who took with him over one hundred members of the First Infantry, and ten Cuban scouts.

After a rough voyage the Gussie was met off the Cuban coast by the auxiliary gunboats Wasp and Manning, which escorted her in. As they approached the shore a large body of Spanish soldiers opened fire upon the expedition, and the gunboats replied with effect, enabling the expedition to land.

On shore the battle was renewed. The Spanish troops had retired to their works and to the woods, and directed a constant but inaccurate fire upon the landing party.

The latter, later, was reinforced by a body of armed insurgents, who had been informed of the coming of the expedition.

Then, assisted by the fire of the gunboats, the Spanish force was compelled to withdraw, and the mission of the Gussie was accomplished.

One of the American party was shot in the arm. The Spanish loss is not known, but must have been heavy.

Denied by France.

This Yarn Still Unconfirmed.

Madrid, May 14.—An unconfirmed rumor was in circulation and was flying about the Chamber last night that "after its defeat before Porto Rico the American squadron encountered the Spanish squadron, which inflicted considerable damage on the enemy."

MAHER KNOCKED OUT.

Joe Goddard Did It in the First Round.

Philadelphia, May 14.—Pugilistic history was made rapidly in the Arena here last night, when, in one minute and fifty-one seconds of combined sparring and fighting, Joe Goddard, the "barrier champion," retired Peter Maher, with a sort of pivot punch, which was delivered so suddenly that hardly a spectator realized what had come off.

Up to the time he received his quietus Maher looked like a winner. What few punches had been landed were in his favor. As a matter of fact Goddard landed the punch which proved so disastrous to Peter, while trying to escape from one of the latter's vigorous onslaughts near the ropes.

It was evident that Goddard was in the better physical condition of the two. He looked two pounds lighter than on the occasion of his memorable encounter with Peter before at Coney Island, which he won, and displayed a shiftiness that was surprising in one of his years.

There was the usual fiddling at the opening, both men apparently being desirous of drawing the other into a lead. Maher took the initiative, essaying a left that fell short. Goddard also tried, but his effort was also short. Goddard, however, invariably followed up his lefts with his right toward the body, which saved him from at least one good stiff counter.

Maher finally landed with his left hard on Goddard's jaw. Goddard swung for the body and landed, but it did not amount to much, and a clinch followed. As soon as the men broke away, Maher again took the offensive, landing with his long left on Goddard's face, the "barrier champion" retaliating with the right on the body. Maher rushed Goddard to the ropes, and there was a slight mix up.

Suddenly Goddard, who appeared to be breaking away, brought his right arm around in a backward movement. The heel of his glove caught Maher on the jaw about the face, whether on the jaw, where Goddard says it did, or on the cheekbone, where Maher says it did, will probably never be revealed. As Maher received the punch he was partly tripped by Goddard, whose right foot was covering one of Maher's. Peter fell face forward, striking the floor with a great deal of force.

When Maher went down the spectators thought it was only an ordinary knockdown, but the referee tolled off the fateful ten seconds, and Maher was still on the floor. It was fully ten seconds beyond that time before he rose to his feet.

N. W BUILDING COLLAPSES.

Five Workmen Killed and Several Others Badly Wounded.

New York, May 14.—Through carelessness, or something worse, on the part of a building inspector and the greed of a contractor, the lives of perhaps a dozen or more men were snuffed out yesterday by the collapsing of a building in the course of erection at Nos. 18 and 20 East 110th street.

Five bodies have been recovered from the ruins, five men are in a dangerous condition in Harlem Hospital, and three men are missing.

Forty men were at work on the building. About one-half of them have been accounted for. Until the debris is cleared away no one can say safely whether one or a dozen bodies are still in the ruins.

There have been badly constructed buildings put up in New York, but in the opinion of men competent to judge the building which collapsed yesterday was a death trap equal to any ever constructed.

A WARSHIP OFF NEWFOUNDLAND!

Strange Craft Displaying No Flag Observed Yesterday.

St. John's, N. F., May 14.—The telegraph operators at Cape Race and Trepassey Bay report that a strange steamer, apparently a warship, has been hovering off the south coast of this island. She first became visible about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and remained in sight until 5 in the afternoon, about ten miles off and cruising slowly.

The stranger had two masts and two funneis, but showed no flag. Arrangements have been made for a Trepassey fishing boat to ascertain the nationality of the steamer if visible to-day.

Longs to Aid Poor Spain.

London, May 14.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: "I understand, though the Spanish Government has not yet received an official communication on the matter, that it has ground for believing that Germany will positively allow the United States to know that it would not view with pleasure any permanent occupation of Manila or the Spanish archipelagoes by America, or any cession of the same to any European power at the end of the present war. This step is considered as foreshadowing some further action on the part of Germany in favor of Spain."

Spain Secures a Loan.

London, May 14.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The Banque de Paris has concluded a loan of 10,000,000f. to Spain, and in consequence Spanish exteriors are firmer. The impression, however, is general on the Bourse that the next coupons, due July 1, will not be paid, or, rather, that pesetas will be offered instead of francs.

SAN JUAN SURRENDERS

Much Damage to the Batteries and Portions of the City.

ONE OF OUR SAILORS KILLED

And Seven Wounded—Dispatch to London Paper Says the Iowa and Detroit Fired 430 Shots with Terrible Effect—Sampson Did Not Attempt to Take Possession of City or Destroy It.

Washington, May 14.—At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Secretary Long announced that President McKinley had received an official dispatch announcing the surrender of San Juan to the United States fleet under Rear Admiral Sampson.

This will enable Admiral Sampson to hold or destroy as he thinks best the entire coal supply that was placed at Porto Rico for the use of the Spanish fleet.

London, May 14.—The Evening News publishes a dispatch from St. Thomas saying San Juan surrendered at 6 o'clock Thursday evening.

Immense damage was done to the city, and a number of important buildings collapsed. The Iowa and the Detroit fired 430 shots with terrible effect.

The Americans did not attempt to take possession of or destroy the town beyond razing the fortifications.

All the American warships, the dispatch continues, except the Montgomery, steamed in elliptical formation before the forts, which fired twenty to thirty guns, seven of which were good guns. The fleet first fired too low, but at the second discharge they got the elevation and soon silenced Morro Castle, and set fire to the town, driving the Spaniards from their guns repeatedly.

The shore guns fired hundreds of shots. The New York was hit once and a seaman was killed, and four were wounded. The Iowa was hit once and two men were slightly wounded.

The dispatch concludes with announcing that the American fleet under Rear Admiral Sampson is now outside of San Juan de Porto Rico, awaiting the coming of the Spanish fleet, commanded by Admiral Cervera, which was last reported off Fort de France, Island of Martinique, French West Indies.

SAMPSON'S REPORT.

It Does Not Indicate that He Bombarded the City.

Washington, May 14.—Yesterday the Navy Department received the following dispatch from Admiral Sampson, It is dated St. Thomas, May 12, and is as follows:

"A portion of the squadron under my command reached San Juan this morning at daybreak. No armed vessels were found in the port.

"As soon as it was sufficiently light I commenced attack upon the batteries defending the city. This attack lasted about three hours and resulted in much damage to the batteries, and incidentally to a portion of the city adjacent to the batteries.

"The batteries replied to our fire, but without material effect. One man was killed on board the New York and seven slightly wounded in the squadron.

"No serious damage to any ships is reported.

"(Signed). SAMPSON."

Admiral Sampson's statement that he attacked with only a portion of his fleet is taken to indicate that he did not find it expedient to take the entire squadron into the harbor, though it is not believed he has separated his fleet.

The fact that the Admiral gave notice of his intentions to bombard San Juan, as is reported from St. Thomas, is an indication that the movement upon San Juan was not a suddenly conceived project, but part of a well matured plan.

Whether or not the orders to the Admiral included a bombardment is not disclosed at the Navy Department.

Indeed, there is nothing in Sampson's report to indicate that he really did bombard the place. He merely attacked the forts at the entrance of the harbor and if any shells struck within the town itself they were stray shots.

It is surmised that Admiral Sampson's object in making the attack in this fashion without a landing force of troops in reserve to occupy the town if it were captured was to destroy the fortifications and make the harbor useless to the Spanish flying squadron as a place of refuge.

MADRID HEARS OF VICTORY.

The Americans at San Juan Were "Gloriously Beaten Back."

Madrid, May 14.—An official dispatch from San Juan says:

"The American squadron was repulsed off Porto Rico. Although eleven warships bombarded the place the attackers were gloriously beaten back. The Spanish batteries, armed with 6-inch Krupp guns, were especially effective."

This alleged victory of the Spanish has aroused great enthusiasm here.

Another official dispatch from Porto Rico says:

"The bombardment only caused slight damage to the barracks. Four soldiers were killed and several were wounded. The squadron retired, having received severe injuries. One big warship had to be towed."

SPANISH COMMANDER REPORT.

Says the Damage Done by Our Fleet to the Forts Was Inconsiderable.

Havana, May 14 (via Kingston, Jamaica).—Capt. Gen. Blanco has received a dispatch from Gen. Macias, the Spanish commander at Porto Rico, reading as follows:

"Eleven of the enemy's ships appeared during the early hours (Thursday) before Porto Rico and opened fire without giving warning. The port battery replied, and a severe cannonade was continued until 9 o'clock in the morning. The damage done was inconsiderable and the loss is insignificant."

Bahia Honda Bombarded.

Madrid, May 14.—A dispatch from Havana last night says the Americans have bombarded Bahia Honda, Province of Pinar del Rio, west of Cabanas

Then give him more flesh. Give him more power to resist disease. He certainly needs a fat-forming food.

Scott's Emulsion is just that food. It will make the baby plump; increase the weight; bring color to the cheeks, and prosperity to the whole body. Thin children take to it as naturally as they do to their milk.

WILL ATTACK DEWEY

Second Spanish Fleet Now at Cadiz to Go to Manila.

TROOPS TO BE SENT ALSO

Bombardment of Manila Expected If Spaniards Attack Dewey's Squadron—Strict Blockade Is On—Berlin Paper Says Insurgents Have Secured All the Arms in the Cavite Arsenal.

Gibraltar, May 14.—The second Spanish fleet now at Cadiz consists of the battleship Pelayo, the armored cruiser Emperador Carlos V., the cruiser Alfonso XIII., the Rapido and the Patria, auxiliary cruisers, formerly the Hamburg-American steamers Columbia and Normannia, and three torpedo boats.

It is reported that a strong military expedition is being organized at Cadiz and that it will shortly proceed to the Philippine Islands, escorted by the Cadiz fleet.

It is claimed that submarine mines have been placed so as to protect the entrance of the harbor of Cadiz.

RUMORS FROM MANILA.

Spaniards Said to Have Massacred Americans.

Hong Kong, May 14.—A private letter received here from Manila says the insurgents are divided, and that many resent American intervention. It is added that they profess loyalty to Spain, and only hate the priests and demand reforms. But, it appears, they are willing to combine to defend the country and settle their local differences afterward.

It is reported that a party of insurgents attacked some Americans near Cavite, killed a few of the Americans and drove the rest from the village, tearing down their flag and hoisting the Spanish colors.

Another letter from Manila says a party of Spaniards pretended to be insurgents, fraternized with the Americans and then treacherously massacred them. Both these reports are unconfirmed.

Insurgents Get the Arms.

Berlin, May 14.—The North German Gazette says it learns that the Philippine insurgents have secured all the arms which were stored at the Cavite Arsenal. The paper adds that a bombardment of Manila is imminent should the Spaniards attack the American blockading squadron. All the Germans at Manila are safe.

Manila Strictly Blockaded.

London, May 14.—Lloyds' agent at Manila cables from Hong Kong that the blockade of the capital of the Philippine Islands is strictly maintained, and that the cable is on board an American vessel. Several local steamers, Lloyds' agent continues, are reported to have been captured, but there is no confirmation of the reports.

To Carry Troops to Dewey.

Seattle, May 14.—The War Department has chartered the steamship Centennial to transport troops to the Philippines. She has a passenger capacity of 1,000 and a speed of twelve knots. It is understood that the Second Washington Battalion and the two Idaho battalions will be ordered to rendezvous here, and will be sent directly to Manila. The steamer Pakshan, it is said, has also been chartered as a transport to the Philippines.

COUNTERFEITERS CAUGHT.

Secret Service Men Break Up a Gang of "Shovers of the Queer."

New York, May 14.—What is believed to be the biggest counterfeiting conspiracy that has been successfully carried through in this country for years has been unearthed by Chief Hazen, of the United States Secret Service Bureau, in this city, and his assistants. Adolph Schuermacher, the agent of a daring and clever gang of counterfeiters who have recently flooded the country with thousands of spurious Austro-Hungarian ten-gulden pieces, was arrested by Chief Hazen and Secret Service Agents Henry and Flynn Thursday night at his home, 84 Avenue B.

Schuermacher confessed his part in the scheme to Chief Hazen and told the whole story of the operations of the gang. The names and descriptions of all of the members of the gang are in possession of the Secret Service agents, and all of them will be arrested if they have not left New York.

The members of the gang are all Austro-Hungarians and have not been in New York longer than two or three months. During that time, however, an enormous quantity of the counterfeit notes were passed on Austro-Hungarians on the east side, probably upward of $100,000. Where the gang operated before it came to New York is not known. It is probable that its agents have been circulating the spurious notes extensively in the mining districts of Pennsylvania and the West, where Austro-Hungarians and Slavonians are employed.

Stages of National Growth.

History shows that nations and races, like individuals, have their childhood, youth, prime and old age. The leading countries of the earth represent the various stages of national life and duration.

If there is one country that exemplifies the prime of life, that country may be said to be England. Science and art flourish. The land is prosperous. It has the greatest navy and the largest commerce of any country. Today the real greatness of a country is measured by the strength of its navy. Great Britain could conquer in a sea fight any two other nations of the globe. Her people are free, intelligent, wealthy and full of pluck. The quaint old inscription written of Nuremberg in her day of glory may be applied to Great Britain today:

England's hand
Goes to every land.

Our own country is entering on its prime. Its childhood is past. It is passing from its athletic and promising youth and taking what will be perhaps the greatest place ever held by any country in the world's history. It will be so if we follow out the traditions of the founders of this republic, if we do not let wealth, luxury and corrupt old world ideas suck the lifeblood and manhood out of us.

Russia is in her youth, emerging now from barbarism. All children are barbarians. Russia will be the next nation after the United States to rise to grandeur. China, country and people, is decrepit, shriveled up and feeble, going down into old age and death. Spain is a dying old nation; so is Turkey, perhaps also Italy.

In all Asia only one nation is alive and throbbing with red blood. That is Japan. The most singular race spectacle of the time is the Chinese on the one hand, a dying people, and the Japanese, and next door to them, belonging to the same one of the great racial divisions, as full of pluck and all conquering energy as any people of the northern blood.

Finally the trend of historic events shows that the ruling peoples of today, the nations present and to come, belong to the northern regions of the earth. Those whose glory is past are of the south, chiefly. Again, only the nation owning a great geographical area can today figure in history. The small country is nothing but a little country.

The remarkable speech of Senor Silvela in the cortes showed that at least one Spaniard has a grain of common sense left. His assertion that while honor demanded Spain should fight before surrendering Cuba there would be nothing dishonorable in stopping the fight when she found she had nothing to gain by it, really pointed a way out for the queen regent and her advisers. The Latin nature is a curious one. The "honor" of south European nations requires a fight when Americans or English would not think of it. When private individuals of the south European blood fall out, nothing short of a duel will satisfy their honor. It does not matter much which gets the worst of it. So that there is a slight scratch and blood is drawn that is enough. They shake hands and are friends. Applying this reasoning to Spain, she can now stop any time and withdraw honorably to herself from the fight with the United States. Cuba is certainly lost to her anyhow, as Silvela pointed out, since by the granting of autonomy she gave up the right to tax it as she pleased.

The benighted ignorance of the Spanish masses is shown by the fact that the majority of them, with the possibility of getting a republican government in the event of the downfall of the present monarchy and with a free choice before them, actually prefer another fool king to the liberty enjoyed by an independent people. They would rather have the profligate old Don Carlos for king or even Butcher Weyler for a dictator than to govern themselves. What can be expected of a people like that, a people, moreover, among whom only one woman in six can read and write?

There is considerable truth in the statement made by a recent writer that "there can be no general prosperity in this country that is not born and sustained in the west." The writer should have added also the south. From the south and west come most of the original raw material on which are based the manufactures and commerce of the nation. When the producers of this raw material are prosperous, manufacturers and merchants will likewise be prosperous.

A late ruling of the United States supreme court is directly in line with the sentiment of all civilized individuals. It affirms the legality of the New York law prohibiting persons who have been convicted of and punished for crime from practicing medicine in New York state.

The editor of a good newspaper has as much influence in his day and generation as any man living, and we care not who he is.

In teaching morality to school children a sufficient foundation on which to base all the rest is simply the golden rule.

The most disagreeable people on this earth are those who consider their own opinions on all subjects absolutely correct.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Amos Moffett, of Plainfield, who has been regularly appointed a court constable at Elizabeth at every term (with one exception) for forty years, has been left off the list by Sheriff Kirk for the present term. The veteran officer naturally feels quite chagrined over it.—Rahway Democrat.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

Mr. Holmes, of West Second street, who started for Sea Girt yesterday to enlist, reached Elizabeth and then decided to return home. He said that he was not going to pay his car fare to serve his country.

Louis McIntosh, of West Seventh street, has a large number of English pheasants which he has raised during the past year. Mr. McIntosh bought a few pheasant eggs in Connecticut, paying 60 cents a piece for them, set the eggs under a bantam hen, and reared a brood of little pheasants.

* * * * *

Mrs. Amelia Barber made a trip from her home, in Point Norris, to visit friends in Williamson yesterday. She is a widow, over 70 years of age, and this was her first ride on a steam car. In conversation with a friend she said: "I never rode on a train before, and I had no idea it was so nice. It's just grand."

"Compressed Air," a monthly publication issued by Former Mayor W. L. Saunders, of the borough, contains in the April number a very complete and accurate account of the famous Holland torpedo boat. Compressed air forms an important part in this boat and without it the success of the sub marine boat would not be in it. The descriptive article is very interesting and accurate photogaphs of the boat are given.

* * * * *

A business which seems to be quite profitable to those engaged in it is being practiced by the hoboes who frequent the tracks of the Central Railroad. In each of the journals of a car is a large brass cap, weighing twelve or fifteen pounds, which not only eases the weight upon the journals, but keeps the bearings hard and firm. Hoboes have found out that the brasses are valuable, and can be sold for 5 cents a pound, and are giving the railroad detectives a great deal of trouble to watch their property.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

—A meeting of the joint committee of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., and Columbia and Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., will be held this evening to arrange for the joint excursion to Asbury Park.

—The choral service which was to have been rendered in the Church of the Heavenly Rest Sunday last, owing to the stormy weather, was postponed until tomorrow, weather permitting. Service at 4 o'clock.

—The Unionist-Gazette, of Somerville, says: "Dr. J. T. Fritts, of Plainfield, has put an incubator on his farm, Whitehouse, of 350 eggs capacity. His tenants are arranging to extensively hatch early spring broilers."

—It is expected that the City Council will have Washington avenue, between Front street and the brook, macadamized at an early date. Substantial stone walks are now being put down to replace the old board walks that have been a disgrace heretofore.

—One of the workmen digging the ditches for the Telephone Company on Park avenue yesterday afternoon struck a stone in such a way that it was thrown against one of the plate glass windows in the Eldridge Bicycle Company's window, breaking the glass. Manager Runyon promptly ordered the glass replaced.

PLEADED NON VULT.

Case of John Barre for Slaughtering Cattle Within the City Limits.

John Barre, of Netherwood, pleaded non vult in the City Court this morning to violating a health ordinance against killing cattle within the city limits, and sentence in his case was reserved until Monday.

Health Inspector Addis suspected that Barre was carrying on a slaughter house near the Netherwood depot, and last week visited the place just as Barre was killing calves. His arrest followed. When arraigned in court Barre pleaded not guilty, but this morning changed his plea to one of non vult. He was represented by Frank Blatz, of the firm of Murphy & Blatz.

Do It Today If

You have the faintest suspicion that your eyes are not just right. If they bother you in any way, its best to have them examined at once—the longer they are deprived of the aid they need the weaker they become. I know what I'm talking about—that "friend" (?) who tells you to "put off wearing them just as long as possible" doesn't. Collier, 103 Park avenue.

Too Free With a Shovel.

John Scott, colored, of Plainfield avenue, who was arrested early in the week, charged by Justian Duruthier, a Frenchman, with kicking him, was arraigned in court this morning for trial. "Frenchie," as he is called, claimed that Scott struck him, but denied that he had struck a blow. His witnesses, however, testified that "Frenchie" had first struck Scott with a shovel, so the defendant was discharged immediately.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Fine soft cashmere veilings and delaines are used for inexpensive tea gowns, and some of these in pale pretty shades of rose, blue, corn yellow, green, gray, or fawn color are made up with white, cream, or chamois-colored guimpes and fronts. Rose pink, violet, or blue cashmere or camel's hair tea gowns are trimmed with narrow black velvet ribbon, with fan-pleated ruffles of figured net let into the skirt in a very odd and unfamiliar fashion. These have guimpes or blouse-fronts of the net to match. Plainer styles have skirt-frills of the dress fabric, but a rich effect is imparted by a handsome guimpe of brocade, tucked silk, or dotted or striped satin, and this at a very little extra outlay.

A black and white cloth gown which looks very natty has the skirt forming four full pleats at the back, very narrow in the upper part while they widen considerably as they near the hem. Over the hips and across the front it is very close fitting. Two bands of white cloth were stitched down both sides of the front and around the foot of the skirt. The jacket had revers of the material edged with white and was worn over a vest of tucked silk and insertion.

The Gaudy Hat.

The brilliancy of the looped straw, Milan braid, and zephyr straw hats now on view is, to say the least, startling. Hats of every known color are to be seen by the hundred, of startling orange yellow, scarlet, grass green, and purple in every possible shade. Such an outbreak of intense color was never seen before. How these hats will look when they are further intensified with trimming remains to be seen. But certainly never did an elegant black hat with quiet inconspicuous trimming look more attractive than it does just now, in contrast with the gaudy wares set forth by even high-class milliners, who think that a woman could as well be out of the world as to be out of the fashion.

Styles in Skirts.

In the matter of skirts, each famous Paris house seems to have its own original ideas and models, no two being exactly alike, yet all showing very clinging fronts and sides, no matter how much the skirt may be expanded by trimming on its lower portion. They all give new fabrics different treatment and new garniture different manipulations; varying their handsome models for the house, for walking, visiting, church, dinner wear, for general uses, and for special evening functions. These models have been copied by American tailors and modistes, and there is great promise that there will be an unusual display of individuality in dress among the devotees of la mode when once the season's styles are on view.

Many Flowers Seen.

minus the leaves, which are seldom pretty or natural-looking, even on expensive clusters. Another very fashionable mode of decoration is to encircle the crown of turban or toque with a thick wreath of flowers; nasturtiums in all their red glowing shades being favorite blossoms. This wreath is then veiled with tulle or other gauzy material, or white, black, or golden brown; repeating one of the colors of the flowers in the wreath, if wall-flowers or nasturtiums are used. Often not only the flowers but the entire hat is veiled with this delicate web-like textile, which, in the case of the violet-colored styles would certainly be something of an improvement. Black tulle would at least tone if it did not conceal the crudity of their dyes.

Latest in Sleeves.

All the pretty little variations possible to the inventive genius of the dressmaker are used upon the top of the sleeves which almost without exception are plain and close in effect on the forearm. Three effective styles are shown. One of a heavy material is tight fitting and has a double epaulet on the shoulder. Another model is formed of two materials; darker forms lower portion, which is trimmed with tiny edge of embroidery; lighter shade forms puff at shoulder. The last is a close fitting sleeve composed entirely of bayadere tucks, excepting at the wrists where the tucks are vertical to form a cuff.

Nearly all gowns of fine transparent material have the sleeves shirred, tucked or puffed over a net foundation. A very effective style has the material gathered at shoulder and wrist and at regular intervals held in place by bands of lace insertion or ribbon.

Jewels in Favor.

The craze for glittering ornamentation is quite as marked as ever, and new and unique designs sent from Paris and Vienna lapidaries and manufacturers of choice garnitures keep the fashion alive by the new temptations constantly offered. Jewelled ornaments set in gold and silver, sequins, gem-studded laces, applique pieces, jacket fronts, vests, and girdles, and paste ornaments of every description for utilization by modiste and milliner, all appear among the latest Easter novelties just imported. Whether it be with ornaments that sparkle in our hats and toques, glimmer on the vests and yokes, of dress-gowns for day wear, or scintillate from elaborate evening toilets, the fashionable woman can hardly glitter too much. All is certainly not gold that glitters, but to such perfection are mock jewels and paste deceptions now brought, and so general is their use, that women of wealth can now (save on special occasions) wisely keep their real gems in their safes and jewel-caskets and wear these very artistic simulations.

Latest in Boas

The latest novelty in feather boas has six ends, three on each side, and fastened at the neck with a jewelled ornament, which in general is set with rhinestones.

An Unburied King.

It will surprise most people to learn that the late King of Spain is not yet buried, but, covered with a winding sheet, lies on a marble slab in a vault of the Escurial. This is in accordance with a custom dating from the year 1700. The body will lie where it is until the present King dies. Then it will be deposted with great pomp beside the remains of his predecessors in the chapel of the Escurial.

"When I Was Abroad."

I had once a great friend who had travelled all around the world. When almost on his deathbed he spoke to me on the subject for the first time with humorous pathos. "My dear fellow, you will do me the justice, when I am gone, to say that I never told you one word about it." But he was a noble exception.

Nouveau Riche—That big fellow with the trumpet did nothing half the time. Don't let it happen again.

Bandmaster—Ah, yes, sare; but that was during the piccolo part. It was the trombone rest.

Nouveau Riche—I pay men to work, not to rest!—Truth.

Fuddy—I understand that Wigley spends most of his evenings here at your house?

Duddy—I had an impression that it was my evenings that he spends here.—New York Herald.

Mrs. Portly Pompous: "do you understand how to cook properly?"

Bridget: "Indade, mum, I do. The perlaceman who used to call on me in me last place was a regular epicac."

NEW BISMARCK STORIES.

His Affection for His Dog—A Threat Carried Out.

Henry von Poschinger, who has published ten or twelve volumes regarding Prince Bismarck's political career, has written a magazine article containing several new Bismarck stories. As new Bismarck stories are rare pieces of literature nowadays, it may be worth while to relate one or two of them. Told in Ponschinger's language they are:

"In 1877, when Bismarck's favorite dog, Sultan, was dying, the Chancellor watched over the poor creature with such keen distress that Count Herbert it last interferred and sought to lead his father away. The Prince took a few steps toward the door. Then, as he turned, he met the eyes of his old friend.

"'No, no; leave me alone,' he exclaimed, as he went back to Sultan. When the dog was dead, he looked up at a friend near by and said:

"'Our old German ancestors had a beautiful religious belief. They believed that after death they would meet in the heavenly hunting grounds all the good dogs which were their companions in life. I only wish I could believe the same.'

"In 1851—a year still in the shadow of the revolution—when the tide of political passion was still running very high, Bismarck entered a restaurant one day to get a glass of beer. A man who sat near him, and evidently was inspired by the admiration of several friends, began to abuse a member of the royal family. Bismarck looked at him coldly, and then said:

"'If you do not leave the room before I finish this beer I will break the glass over your head,"

The man did not go. Bismarck emptied his glass slowly, sip by sip. He arose, walked deliberately over to the man who had spoken insultingly of the royal family, and smashed the glass on his head. The man fell howling to the floor. Bismarck turned to the waiter and asked what the glass cost, paid the bill, and walked slowly to the street. Yet at this time he was a man of political position and the recognized leader of the Conservative party. True to his principles, however, he took the offensive, attacking his opponent with the first weapon that came to hand."

ALUMINUM MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

Mandolins and Guitars, Banjos and Violins Made Out of the White Metal.

Various musical instruments are made of aluminum, including mandolins, guitars, banjos, and violins, and drums. The advantages claimed are resistance to climatic influences and superiority of tone. Some of the mandolins are made with the body, including the top, entirely of aluminum, others with the top of spruce, the neck of wood, and the other fittings of the usual kind. Such a mandolin is sold at from $25 to $200. The prices of all aluminum mandolins range somewhat lower.

Guitars with a spruce top and the back and sides of aluminum in a single piece are sold at from $25 to $200. Banjos are made with aluminum rims, fitted with heads of the usual kind, and they are also made with aluminum heads. Such a banjo, with wire strings could be played in the rain.

The aluminum violin that is now upon the market is, in its body, all aluminum, while the neck and other fittings are of wood. All the aluminum instruments are handsome, and the aluminum violin, with its silver-gray body, and finger-board and tail-piece of ebony, is of great beauty. It is a costly instrument. The makers of the aluminum mandolins and guitars with spruce tops are now engaged upon a violin whose back and sides will be of aluminum in a single piece, the top of the instrument to be of spruce.—New York Sun.

At Wholesale.

"This is the room where you issue licenses, ain't it?" inquired the young man, after taking a leisurely survey of the apartment.

"Yes," replied the Deputy County Clerk. "What can I do for you?"

The caller pushed his hat back on his head, winked and beckoned him nearer.

"It's like this," he said, in a lower tone. "I am going to get married and go into the saloon business. How much discount can you give me on the licenses if I take 'em both out at once?—Chicago Tribune.

Dangerously Near It.

"I come mighty nigh swearin'," the deacon confessed, as he came into the house, nursing a bruised thumb.

"You don't tell me!" said his wife.

"But I do tell you. I am a-tellin' you right now. I hit my thumb with the hammer, and 'sted of sayin' 'By ginger!' like I most always do, I hollers out, 'By pepper!' I dunno how much hotter I would of made it if it had hurt a little worse."—Indianapolis Journal.

WALRUS LEATHER.

Used for Making Wheels for Polishing—Other Polishing Leathers.

Walrus leather is used for making buffer wheels, for polishing brass, steel and silver. It has a peculiar, coarse grain that holds the emery or polishing powder well. It takes about five years to tan a walrus hide. Some walrus leather is made in this country, but the bulk of it is imported from England. Leather made from the hide of a cub walrus would be about half an inch thick. The hide of an old bull might be two inches thick. The value of the leather depends upon its thickness. Half-inch would sell for about 50 cents a pound; one-and-a-half-inch would be worth $1.40 a pound; and walrus leather, from one-and-five-eights to one-and-three-quarter inches thick, smooth and well-trimmed, would be worth $2 a pound, and a side of such leather would cost about $300.

Walrus wheels are made in a variety of shapes, depending upon the work on which they are used. They are made with a flat face, grooved, cone-shaped, or of any shape that may be desired, and by cementing layers of leather together wheels of any desired thickness are made. Walrus leather is also used for valve packings.

Bull necks are used, also, for polishing purposes. Three-quarter-inch bull necks sell at about 50 cents a pound. Leather made from the hide of the sea lion is used for polishing purposes. This is a smoother and softer leather, used for softer metals. Sea lion leather of an average thickness costs about 50 cents a pound. Built-up wheels of any thickness are also made of sea lion and of bull neck leather.

A NEW HEAT CURE.

Employed by Football Players to Reduce Numerous Sprains.

There is now a new mechanical device for the reduction of sprained joints and tendons.

It is a strange looking affair, and somewhat resembles a metal barrel with a large hole through the center from end to end. It is heavily padded on the inside with asbestos, through which runs a coil of pipes.

These pipes are connected with a furnace and the heat generated in the barrel is terrific.

There are not a great many of these machines in existence at present, but the good they have done in the West among football players is already very great.

The new cure is simply the subjection of the sprain or bruise to an enormously high temperature. It is strange, too, that the patient feels no inconvenience from this great heat.

Most of the sprains are treated with a temperature of 300 degrees Fahrenheit. At this temperature meat will roast, and practically incinerate, if left for any length of time in the oven.

It is wonderful that a patient is able not only to withstand such a temperature, but to absolutely enjoy it.—New York Journal.

Why His Majesty Laughed.

During his recent visit to Paris King Chulalongkorn, of Siam, was, of course taken to the National Library. Not without a good deal of satisfaction the librarian exhibited among other valuable documents and manuscripts in foreign languages, a Siamese record which, indeed, contained the King's own signature. Cautiously the French official added that no one had yet been able to decipher this interesting and rare paper. Chulalongkorn, casting a glance on the "precious paper," broke into almost unroyal laughter, telling the perplexed librarian that it was a fire insurance policy drawn up with a Chinese company by some Siamese firm.—Baltimore Sun.

Still of the Same Opinion.

Mrs. M.——, a well known Bostonian, who talks very wittily and plays very well, once asked Prof. Blackenstein what made him so thoughtful.

"Madam," he replied, "I am wondering how it is you can make the piano talk so divinely and yourself so foolishly."

"Ah, well," retorted Mrs. M.——, "you see the piano knows it has me to listen to it, whereas I know I have only you to listen to me, which makes the difference."

"I pray you," said the professor, "play again. I like your playing best."—Brooklyn Life.

The Fair and the Brave.

"So, after they had fought for her she married the man who got thrashed, did she?"

"Yes; she reasoned that a man who would fight a man who could thrash him must be braver than a man who fought a man he could thrash."—Boston Traveler.

NOTES FOR DAILY THOUGHT.

Fretting people fuss away their best friends. Sunshine gladdens even the gloomy.

Society is interested in a man's future, not his past; as it is interested in a woman's past, not her future.—Howells.

The epochs of our life are not in the visible facts, but in the silent thoughts of the wayside as we walk.

God's blessings are given to us as the dew and rain; softly, quietly and abundantly. Many of us are half discontented that they come so, and try to provide a more noisy way ourselves. We even get to think the kingdom would be better if it would come "with observation."

Papa: "I'll get you a position in a church choir, and then you'll have some chants to learn."

SPORTS

CYCLING COMMENT.

There are already a number of palding wheels on the road in this v cinity. W. H. Rogers, who represents that wheel in Plainfield, is hearing constant proof of the excellence of the wheels of the '98 model.

The runs that proved so popular at the Plainfield High School last spring will probably be resumed shortly. They were gotten up under the charge of Ira W. Travell, principal of the High School, and were for both girls and boys.

Among those who have purchased Eldridge wheels this week are Miss Lizzie Runyon, of East Sixth street; Arthur E. Jeffreys, of Grandview avenue; J. L. Hummer, of Stone street; Paul Otto, of West Third street; C. B. Winters, of East Sixth street.

Many riders are finding it advantageous not to put graphite on their chain as a lubricant. One prominent wheelman has advised the use of a slight quantity of oil sufficient to keep the bearings of the chain oiled but not enough to gather the dust and dirt on the chain.

Next Thursday night the second Y. M. C. A. bicycle run will take place. The wheelmen of the district will divide and part will go to Rahway while those in the northern end of the district will go to Passaic. The first run was set down for Thursday night, May 5, and was postponed three times and finally had to be given up because of the rain. It is hoped that the weather will be favorable for the run next time.

Decoration Day promises to be a big day on the Irvington-Millburn road, when the annual road race takes place. This year the race will be under the auspices of the Atalanta Wheelmen, of Newark, and entry blanks are already out. There are several events, and many of the local wheelmen of this city have announced their intention to take part in the race. This race is always popular with Plainfield people.

AROUND THE BASES.

Harry Drake, the Baltimore pitcher, has injured his arm so that he will be unable to play on the Young Orientals at Bound Brook this afternoon.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team will open the season this afternoon on the LaGrande avenue grounds with a game with the team from the Bachelors' Club.

Mr. Mumford, manager of the Crescent baseball club, authorizes us to state that The Daily Press will be the only daily recognized as having the official reports of the ball games.

GOLF.

It now looks as though a golf club club will be a fact in North Plainfield. The committee in charge has received sufficient assurance from those wishing to join to go ahead and secure grounds.

Both Families to Blame.

Because Mrs. Anne Erbeek's children would persist in running over Mrs. Anne Bieter's lawn, the latter swore out a complaint, and had Mrs. Erbeek and her family in the city court this morning, charged with being disorderly. The Judge, after hearing both stories, concluded that both were equally guilty, so discharged the defendant.

Site for a New Church.

The Calvary Colored Baptist church has purchared the property known as 115 Central avenue from Randolph Stelle and expects to build a church there. The aid of the public is wished in securing the necessary funds with which to build. The property is located in the rear of Reform Hall.

A MONSTER BENEFIT.

The proceeds of the benefit will be placed in the hands of Miss Morton, daughter of Former Governor Levi P. Morton, of New York, who is a member of the auxiliary committee of the Red Cross Society in New York.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the decoration of Music Hall the night of the benefit. Flags and tri-colored bunting will be used in profusion until the building is completely transformed. Every effort is being made to make the setting for the affair as complete as possible. It is a worthy charity and well deserves the support of every patriotic citizen of Plainfield.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Special sale of seafood, for cash only, at Rogers' tonight.

—Class work at the Y. M. C. A. is about over for the season.

—The monthly meeting of the Board of Trade will be held on Wednesday evening.

—The next cross country run of the Y. M. C. A. members will take place Monday night.

—The Rev. J. L. Lancaster, rector of Perth Amboy, will preach in Grace church tomorrow morning.

—No permanent pavement will be placed on Park avenue until after all wires are placed underground and the sewer and water connections are made.

—The annual exhibition at the Boys Clubhouse tonight ought to attract everyone interested in the subject of industrial training. The results of the year's work have been very satisfactory, and it is hoped that the friends of the institution will evince their interest by being present.

Mrs. E. E. Marshall, of Fairview avenue, is detained at home by illness.

Miss Edith Hyde, of East Front street, is visiting friends in Philadelphia for a time.

HOW TO NARROW EDUCATION.

Professor Norton Illustrates with a Story on Biology.

Charles Eliot Norton, professor of arts at Harvard University, whom Matthew Arnold described as the "only gentleman in America," objects most heartily to undergraduate specializing. He believes in the English University training, which gives a man a broad education, and a liberal equipment for citizenship, which makes of him a cultivated gentleman. In one of his lecture courses last year Prof. Norton told of a student with whom he had recently talked. The young man was a sophomore; his specialty, biology. He described with great enthusiasm the character of his work and lamented the fact that he had been unable, through the regulations of the faculty, to take more biology in his freshman year. As a junior and a senior he intended to elect it exclusively, he said.

The young man's enthusiasm was rather more saddening than inspiring to the professor. Four years' devotion to a single subject was crushing to his ideals of education. So he asked:

"Don't you think that your career in college would eventually be more satisfactory to yourself, and of more profit to others, if you were to take less of biology and acquaint yourself a little with literature and history and the arts?"

The sophomore thought he was predestined for biology.

For some time Prof. Norton was silent. Then he said, rather absently:

"Do you confine yourself to any particular branch of biology?"

The face of the student brightened. It was evident that he did. To the professor there was something pathetic as well as humorous in the reply that came quickly:

"Oh, yes! My work is entirely devoted to a study of the white ant's intestines."—New York Mail and Express.

SOME POINTS ABOUT GLOVES.

They Were at One Time More for Decoration Than Utility.

Before the tenth century, English ladies wore long sleeves with pointed flaps that rested on the back of their hands, or when they went forth in winter, drew the loose drapery of their outer garment over their hands.

The first glove had only a thumb and no fingers, like the mittens of the present day. They were so proud of them that they emphasized them by bright colors, such as violets, reds, and blues. They were wondrously embroidered and starred with jewels. No gloves were finer than those of the clergy. They were mostly of white silk or linen, cunningly embroidered, and sometimes fringed with pearls.

One ecclesiastical had a red silk pair, with the sacred monogram worked on the back, surrounded with a golden glory; and later on they had gloves to match their different vestments. In fact, gloves had departed from their primary idea of utility and became a decoration. They were too magnificent for common wear, and in contemporary pictures the nobility seemed to have carried them rather in their hands or in their girders, than on their fingers.

The nikght's mailed gloves heltered his hand. It became a sign of power, and when a gracious lord meant to signify his intention to protect a town, he sent his glove as a sign of his willingness. The glove too, was a token of defiance, when one knight declared war against another, and, at the same time, as if to mark the difference between the strong right hand of man and the daintier hand of woman, he bound his mistress's delicate glove to his helmet by way of showing his fealty.

By the sixteen century gloves were common wear, together with farthingales, corsets and low gowns.—Golden Days.

GAS MADE FROM SAWDUST.

About Two Tons Used to Make Five Hundred and Forty Cubic Metres.

The town of Desoronto, in Canada, where there are several large lumber mills, is partially lighted by gas made from sawdust. The sawdust is charged in retorts which are heated by a wood fire, the gas from the retorts passing into a series of coils and thence into the purifiers, which are similar to those used for coal gas. Lime is the principal purifying agent employed. When it passes out of the retorts the gas possesses an odor much less disagreeable than that of ordinary lighting gas, and resembles somewhat that of smoke from a fire of green wood or leaves. The works in use are small, turning out daily five hundred and forty cubic metres of gas, for the production of which about two tons of sawdust are required. A man and boy furnish all the labor needed at the works. The gas in an ordinary burner gives an illumination of about eighteen candle power. The best quality comes from resinous woods. A quantity of one hundred kegs of sawdust leaves a residue of twenty kegs of charcoal.

SENSITIZING PAPER.

A Prescription Which May Benefit Amateur Photographers.

There are two ways of sensitizing paper, says Harper's Round Table, in an article on photography. One is to apply the solution with a brush, and the other is to float the salted paper on the surface of the liquid. Thin papers like Rives photographic paper take the solution quickly, and do not require so many applications of the solution if it is applied with a brush, or so long a soaking if floated on the liquid, as do the heavy, rough papers like Whatman's drawing paper or crayon paper.

The paper is first salted; and it is better to have this done by the dealer in photographic goods, as it is much easier to apply the sensitive solution than it is to salt the paper. If photographic paper is used, ask for fresh salted paper, but if drawing paper is used take it to the dealer and have it salted. The expense is very trifling, a sheet of salted paper costing only a cent or two more than the plain paper.

The sensitizing solution is made of 240 grains of nitrate of silver (60c) and 5 ounces of distilled or filtered water. Dissolve the nitrate-of-silver crystals in the water, and then add strong liquid ammonia drop by drop, stirring the solution constantly, until the brown precipitate which is formed by the addition of the ammonia has disappeared and the liquid is clear. Not more than seventy-five drops of ammonia should be added to the solution, and if it does not clear when this amount has been added, clear the solution by filtering.

Sweden's Honest People.

In Sweden a crime is an event. Theft particularly is very rare. Honesty is the fundamental quality of the race, is naturally recognized and officially counted upon. In this respect the Stockholmers show a confident carelessness which is always a surprise to strangers and causes them some uneasiness. In theaters and concert hall there are large cloakrooms where hats and furs are left without the smallest safeguard. The performance over each one again takes possession of his effects, nor does an "accident" ever occur. The inhabitants are accustomed to expect a reciprocal probity in the transactions of every-day life. Upon most of the tramways in Stockholm conductors have been dispensed with. The passenger himself deposits 10 ore in a till placed at the end of the vehicle, behind the driver.—New York Herald.

Couldn't be Converted.

It is often the case that great mathematical minds are incapable of appreciating poetry. There was once a teacher of mathematics in one of our great universities who was in the habit of boasting that he neither knew nor cared to know anything about poets or poetry, and considered it all "a lot of unpractical rubbish." A brother professor was very anxious to convert him to the admiration of fine poetry, and, by way of accomplishing this, gave him the famous "Charge of the Light Brigade" to read. The mathematician took it up and began to read aloud, thus: "Half a league, half a league, half a league onward," and then he banged down the book, exclaiming, impatiently: "Well, if the fool meant a league and a half, why on earth didn't he say so?"

THE SPANISH WARSHIPS ARE CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

American Fleets Are Approaching Them From Every Side.

President McKinley Is Not Satisfied With the Present Method of Conducting the War—Will Abolish the Strategic Board—Insurgents Defeat Spanish Near Cienfuegos.

SPANIARDS IN A TRAP.

American Squadrons Are Approaching On All Sides and the End Is Near.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 16, 1:35 p. m.—The Spanish armada is now entrapped in the Caribbean Sea by the American forces.

Information was received from Rear-Admiral Sampson this afternoon showing that he now controls the situation in northern waters, and can shut off the Spanish fleet before it can reach southern Cuba.

The Oregon, Marsitta and Buffalo are now coming along the Brazilian coast and can prevent the escape of the Spaniards southward by engaging them until the arrival of Sampson's flotilla.

The cruiser Montgomery and the auxiliary cruisers St. Louis and Yale are in the vicinity of Martinique. They will destroy the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror and save the auxiliary cruiser Harvard, now at St. Pierre.

Commodore Schley with his powerful squadron is rushing to Key West and northern Cuba to prevent the escape of the armada northward.

The Spanish fleet is the centre of a converging triangle and the end may be expected very shortly.

BLOCKADERS WARNED

A Dash By the Spanish Ships for Cienfuegos is Expected.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 16, 1:40 p. m.—The blockaders along the southern coast of Cuba have been warned of the approach of the Spanish armada off Venezuela, and ordered to redouble their vigilance.

There are powerful vessels, unnecessary to name, ready to aid the blockaders in resisting the progress of the enemy northward.

There is small chance of the Spanish fleet being able to enter Cienfuegos.

The armed tug Osceola reported this morning firing on the Spanish troops patrolling the Cuban coast near Havana. The Spaniards fled without returning fire.

A VIGOROUS WAR POLICY.

McKinley Not Satisfied With the Strategic Board and Will Abolish It.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 16, 11:45 a. m—Some startling disclosures are credited to a confidential friend of President McKinley which, if correct, promise a decided change in the present policy of the American forces.

The information comes from a very reliable source, and general credence is given it by those who are in touch with the situation at the White House.

This morning, this confidential friend of the Chief Executive made the statement that the President would abolish the Board of Startegy that is at present directing operations in the field.

Hereafter the army and navy chiefs will formulate their own plans of campaign in direct communication with the commander-in-chief.

This action is said to be the result of McKinley's dissatisfaction at the dilatoriness and general inefficiency of the present board.

This friend declared that the President had always advocated a vigorous war policy, but had been frequently hampered by the red tape of the alleged strategists.

It was asserted that the appointment of the sons of celebraties to important commands was violently opposed by the President but was forced upon him during the hurry of war preparations by pertinacious politicians.

The President's friend prophesied that the silk-stocked brigadier-generals would soon be side-tracked to be supplanted by trained leaders.

The official position of this confidential friend makes it impossible for him to consent to the publication of his indentity.

INSURGENTS VICTORIOUS.

Drove Back the Spanish From the Trocha and Fortifications Near Cienfuegos.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16, 12:44 p. m.—Reports have reached here of an engagement between the Spanish forces and a portion of the insurgent army, not far from Cienfuegos, on the southern coast of Cuba.

The report states the insurgents were under the leadership of the General Gomez. They are said to have defeated 1,600 Spaniards.

The Spaniards were compelled to relinquish the Juira-Moren trocha, the most important near Cienfuegos, and retire to the city.

The Spanish troops were also compelled to give up the outer fortifications to the city owing to the fierceness of the insurgent attack.

The planters in the viciniinity were notified by the Spanish that they would have to protect themselves.

Two weeks ago, General Minocal passed by Cienfuegos with an army of two thousand Cuban insurgents from the provinces of Puerto Principe and Santa Clara, with the intention of invading Havana province.

It was their intention to co-operate with the Americans in an attempt to land and protect their landing.

The 237 passengers of the British steamer Adula which arrived Thursday, accuse Consul M. Garr and Vice-Consul Casanova with fleeing from Cienfuegos without notifying the Americans under their charge that the steamer Beverly had been sent to their rescue.

BLANCO REFUSED TO SWAP.

So the Project to Exchange Prisoners for War Correspondents Fell Through.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 16, 10:50 a. m—The armed tug Uncas, of the American blockading fleet, arrived in port this morning without Charles Brall and Hayden Jones, the two American correspondents who were captured last week.

An effort was made by the Government to secure the exchange of these two men for some of the Spanish prisoners now held in this country.

The Uncas was sent out with that express commission and held negotiations with Captain General Blanco at Havana. The Spanish leader refused all offers of exchange.

The Spanish Cabinet Resigns.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 16, 1:30 p. m—Senor Sagasta this afternoon formally handed the Queen Regent the resignations of the members of the Spanish Cabinet She immediately ordered him to form a new one.

Senor Moret, minister of the Colonies, this morning, confirmed the statement that the change in the Cabinet would result in an aggressive Spanish policy.

The Cuban Blockade.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 16, 1:15 p. m—Senor Sagasta this morning asked the Powers to declare the Cuban blockade ineffective and unrecognizable.

The Oregon Heard From.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 16, 1:20 p. m.—Secretary Long, of the Navy Department, received word from the Oregon this afternoon, stating she was safe. The location was kept secret.

Troops For Manila.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

San Francisco, May 16, 1:40 p. m—Three thousand troops from Minnesota, Utah and Oregon will arrive here Wednesday and encamp on the Presido.

Spanish Armada Sails Northward.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 16, 11:10 a. m—Secretary Long, of the Navy Department, has been officially informed by the American consul at Willemstad, the principal seaport of Curacao, just north of Venezuela, that the Spanish armada sailed north from Curacao last night. The Spanish vessels had coaled and provisioned for a long cruise.

A Spanish Attack Feared.

Key West, May 16, 1:10 p. m—Extraordinary precautions are being taken for the protection of this harbor. Extra guards and watchmen are covering the naval station and store houses.

Only government employes are permitted to approach the government dock.

It is feared that the Spaniards know of the immense quantities of stores here and that the Spanish fleet will attempt to capture them by an unexpected swoop.

Is the Spanish Fleet There?

(The Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 16, 2:22 p. m—It is reported that the Spanish armada has been sighted eighteen miles off the northern coast of Cuba.

THROUGH MISSIONS CAN COME NATIONAL GLORY.

Christian Work in Foreign Fields Viewed in a New Light.

CHINA AN IMPORTANT FIELD.

THE FLOWERY KINGDOM JUST AWAKENING TO CIVILIZED THOUGHT.

The Chinese Have Been Taught How Weak They Are to Resist Other Nations of Enlightenment by the War with Japan, and Now There is a Developing Feeling for More Education—The People Naturally Turn to the United States Missionaries for Help and the Church People Should Help Cause All That is Possible.

Under the auspices of the Temple Builders' Society of the First Baptist church a very interesting meeting was held last evening in the church. George H. Batchelor, president of the society, presided and read extracts from two letters from Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks, who have charge of the Yerkes' chapel located in India. The work was reported to be progressing favorably. Mr. Batchelor then introduced Rev. C. L. Rhoades, secretary of the American Baptist Missionary Association, who gave a lecture of unusual interest on "China." Mr. Rhoades presented his subject in an entirely new light and it awakened new thoughts about the work. He spoke of the foreign powers, cat-like, waiting to grasp China and appropriate the lands and vast wealth for their own benefit. In the late war, he said, between China and Japan, the former was made to realize how weak she was with her vast population. Since that war China has been aroused and she wants to be instructed in that which will make her a powerful Nation.

In view of this desire she has very naturally turned to the United States and her missionaries, for they have not evidenced any desire to appropriate the lands in China at the point of a cannon as the other Nations have. She realizes that Japan has made wonderful progress in civilization and she, too, wants to do so. The vast fields of unknown wealth wherein are contained treasures are eagerly sought for by the foreign nations. It has been said that there is enough coal in China to supply the whole world and for this reason other powers are striving for possessions.

In conclusion the speaker said that the door of China now stands wide open to the United States and she has the glorious opportunity of a century. He urged the hearty support of all in the cause of China and solicited means to carry on the work.

AN INDIGNANT PRISONER.

He Will Go to Jail Because He Did Not Get a License.

Patrick Cashman, who works for Mrs. John Brown, was arrested early this morning by Officer Totten for carting garbage without a license. Cashman applied for a license several weeks ago, and the license has been awaiting him ever since April 1st.

In the meanwhile Cashman has been carting just the same, although being warned again and again to obtain the license or quit.

When arraigned in court this morning Cashman admitted carting garbage, but said he didn't charge for it, and didn't think Health Inspector Addis had a right to make him take out a license.

"Ten dollars or thirty days," said the Judge.

When Cashman heard this sentence he went into a towering rage, and as he was led back to his cell shouted, "Then down I'll go. This is a nice town, this is, where a man can't work for nothin."

His horse and wagon were sent back home.

Postponed on Account of the Storm.

On account of the very stormy weather yesterday morning, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, did not preach the sermon on "The Blessings of the Present War." It will be delivered at some future date. Notwithstanding the weather there was over 80 persons present at the service, and the pastor gave a discourse on the help and strength that comes from attendance at the sanctuary.

A WATSON IS FINED.

MALICHAR, BROTHER OF MIKE, PAYS THE CITY $50.

He Pleaded Non Vult to Selling Liquor Without a License and Gave Bonds to Conduct an Orderly Place Hereafter.

Judge DeMeza has evidently become thoroughly exasperated with the Watson tribe of illegal liquor sellers, and in court this morning he dealt severely with Malichar, brother of Mike, who had pleaded non vult with the hope that by saving the city the cost of a trial he would be taken care of in a lenient manner by the cadi. In addition to pleading non vult, Malicar also gave a bond for $500 to conduct a strictly orderly place, and sell no intoxicants in sarsaparilla bottles, but Malichar's late day penitence did not save him a fine of $50 or sixty days in the county jail.

Malichar took his sentence cooly, although he evidently expected to get off with a suspension of sentence. He paid the fine.

The two Watson brothers have given the city any amount of trouble, and Michael has been charged several times with selling beer. This last time it was the brother, Malichar, who was arrested. He promptly entered a plea of not guilty, and a date for the trial was set. When the day came, and a jury had been sworn, Watson's lawyers, Codington & Swackhamer, offered an affadavit, sworn to by Watson, stating that an important witness was out of the State. Upon this the court consented to postpone the trial for several weeks.

While waiting to the day of trial to come, Malichar offered his plea, which was accepted, and upon the recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, this sentence was inflicted. Watson said that he had clearned out his wine room, moved the bar out of doors, and promises to keep an orderly hotel there.

GOVERNORS RESIGNED.

Several Changes in the Officers of the Park Club.

The board of governors of the Park Club held an adjourned meeting last Saturday evening and accepted the resignations of Samuel Townsend and B. F. Day as members of the board. S. St. John McCutchen and B. A. Hegeman, Jr., were elected to take the places of the resigning members.

The board also received a verbal report of progress regarding the introduction of golf, and the members adjourned to meet tomorrow evening and complete the work of establishing the popular game in the borough.

DEVELOPING THE BOYS.

WORK OF THE BOYS' CLUB AT THE END OF THE FIFTH YEAR.

Closing Exhibition Showed What the Young Fellows are Taught and How Well They Accomplished Their Work

Saturday the Boys' Club closed its fifth year after one of the most successful seasons in its existence. The closing took the form of an informal reception, at which the boys and their parents and friends were invited and given an opportunity to see just what kind of instruction is given the boys of the club, and how their idle hours are spent when they are there.

The exhibition Saturday evening was the fourth annual. Under the direction of Olaf Saugstad, the superintendent, samples of the boys' work were spread out in the working rooms. The branches taught here are carpentry, mechanical drawing and designing and foundry work. All the work is done under Mr Saugstad's eye, and some of the work exhibited would have done credit to a skilled mechanic. Especially was this true in the designing department, where several of the patterns showed an originality and a thoroughness that is remarkable in boys.

The past year has been one of flattering results to the directors and superintendent. The total attendance was 5,304, against 2 217 for 1897. The lads who are taught in the club are not turned out skilled mechanics, but they are taught to be handy with tools, beginning with the chisel and the plane and being worked along through the varying degrees until when they have finished the course they have chosen they are fitted to accept positions in the machine and carpenter shops several degrees removed from the mere apprentice.

The club re-opens for its sixth term September 15th. Mr. Saugstad has been with the club for five years, or ever since its organization, and has had complete charge for the past two years. During the summer months it is Mr. Saugstad's intention to rearrange the different year's work about the work rooms so that the visitor can see at a glance what is being done.

The visitors to the club Saturday evening were numerous and were loud in their praise of what the boys are taught. For fear some might not have been able to come Saturday, Mr. Saugstad opened the rooms yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, to give all an opportunity to visit the exhibition.

D. W. CHANDLER PASSES AWAY.

Prominent and Worthy Citizen of Bound Brook is Dead.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, May 16—David W. Chandler, superintendent of the Bound Brook Woollen Mills, died at his home Saturday morning after a brief illness.

Mr. Chandler was born in northern New York of Revolutionary stock. At the beginning of the Civil War he was engaged in business at Richmond, Va. He managed to get to the north, however, and enlisted in a regiment of Massachusetts volunteers, in which he served faithfully during the war.

Mr. Chandler leaves a widow and one daughter. The funeral will be held from his late residence tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Preached Against Yellow Journalism.

The service at the First Baptist church yesterday morning was attended by seventy persons, and the pastor, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, delivered a strong sermon on the subject, "Thou Shalt Not Bear Evil Report." The doctor dwelt upon the evil and false reports given out by newspapers of a sensational character, and he also spoke against the practice of gossiping and trying to ruin people's character. The discourse had to do considerably with the present war, and he spoke strongly in favor of the righteousness of the cause which brought on the war. There were many helpful points in the discourse which were profitable to all. During the service Miss Harris and Mrs. Ward sang a beautiful duet.

Scholars Heard About Printing.

The seventh lecture in the High School course of the North Plainfield public school was given this morning by A. V. D. Honeyman, of the borough, on "Printing." The topic was treated historically, beginning with the origin of the art in Chaldea. Some ancient printed books were exhibited.

His Wheel Was Gone.

The young son of Charles Ulrich, of 318 East Fifth street, left his wheel on the La Grande avenue base ball grounds Saturday afternoon. When he went to look for it the wheel was missing. It was a Fowler wheel, No. 14033.

Samuel Kellogg, of New York, was in town Saturday visiting some of his friends.

THE GALLANT SEVENTH WENT HOME DEFEATED

Crescents Won Their First Game of the Year.

SCORE WAS FOUR TO TWO.

IT WAS A CONTEST BETWEEN THE MEN IN THE BOX.

A Crowd of Several Hundred Enthusiasts Visited the Oval and Witnessed the Inauguration of the National Sport Where Bicycling Once Had All the Glory—Manager Mumford's Team Showed That It Was a Strong Aggregation—Batting was Good and Opportune—The Score Given in Detail.

The Seventh Regiment, the "gallant Seventh" of New York, was vanquished. As the setting sun disappeared behind the cloudy forerunners of the approaching storm, they departed from the field of battle the losers in the race for victory. Decidedly it was a day for rejoicing for the Plainfield baseball enthusiasts.

This all happened Saturday afternoon when the Plainfield Crescents opened the season at the Crescent Oval. Their opponents were the baseball experts of New York's crack regiment. The result has already been suggested. It was by the score of 4 to 2, a decidedly satisfactory state of affairs to the victors.

The game was something on the order of an experiment. Manager Mumford claimed that he had a wonderful aggregation of ball players, but nobody had seen them together as yet. Then, too, it was the first game on the Oval, and the success of baseball in that location needed to be demonstrated.

Altogether, the experiment was very successful. Those who went to scoff remained to cheer. The Crescents, although weakened by the loss of two of their players, put up such a stiff game that one of the strongest of the amateur teams in New York succumbed to its prowess. While the crowd was by no means what has been seen at some baseball games in the past, it numbered several hundred people and was quite enthusiastic. The grand stands and bleachers were a decided advance over any of the past and the diamond promised much after another week's work.

There were a number of familiar faces among the Crescents when they took their places on the diamond. "Jack" Cavanaugh was at first. He is to captain the team this year. Despite the announcement that "Art" Lederer was intended for the outfield, he showed up at second according to orders and covered the base well. Metz, the new short stop, was a decided success. Cooney injured a finger Friday and Collins was brought in from the field to third to fill his place. Without any practice for the position, he did excellent work. His place, however, is in the outfield. Owing to the fact that his father was ill and likely to die at any moment, O'Brien, the former Princeton and Manhattan College man, who was to play in the outfield, did not come. Symons and Hollister filled the vacant positions and did excellent work. Clarence Vroom took Lederer's place in the outfield.

Warren McLloughlin faced the boys of the Seventh as pitcher for the home team. His arm was rather glassy at times, but he kept the ball under pretty good control and proved a mystery for the visitors. Dave Vroom was behind the bat and caught with all his accomtomed vigor.

In batting there was a distinct advance among all the local players. They showed a tendency to hit the ball that was pleasing. Lederer showed the most improvement and made the prettiest hit of the day, good for two bases.

Not only was the batting good, but it came at the right time in most instances. The visitors on the contrary were unable to bunch their hits and while their base running was much superior to that of the home team, they could not get their runners home even after they had nearly completed the circuit.

The visitors were handicapped by the loss of two men, but they put up a strong game despite that. Dissosway had good control of the ball and never gave one Plainfeider a chance to walk to first, although he did not strike out as many as Mac.

At the start the game looked like a pitcher's battle. Two men on each side were struck out in the first inning. Then the visitors opened the fun in the second. Dissosway went out at first, Donnely scored a clean hit. Four

THE CIENFUEGOS FIGHT

Doubtless Heavy Losses Among Spanish Infantry.

BRAVERY OF OUR SAILORS

The Cutting of the Cable Is a Part of the Government's Plan to Shut Off Communication Between Blanco and the Rest of the World.

Key West, May 16.—Governor General Blanco is to be cut off entirely from cable communication with Madrid and all the world outside of Cuba. This was the object of the cutting of the cables at Cienfuegos on Wednesday, which resulted in the hot little fight at that place, in which the cruiser Marblehead, the gunboat Nashville and the revenue cutter Windom participated. The purpose of the Government is to cut all the cables leading out of Cuba to the South, leaving only the cable running into Key West, which, of course, is valueless to Gen. Blanco, as any dispatch he might send over it would come into the United States.

The reason why the Cienfuegos cable was left so long was that there were several Americans and other foreigners in Cienfuegos, who were removed to Port Antonio, Jamaica, by a British steamer only a few days ago, and the authorities did not wish to endanger their lives by bringing on a fight at Cienfuegos until after they had left.

Great regret is felt that lives were lost in the cutting of the cable, but the official reports that have been received show that all the officers and men did their duty well, and the officials are well satisfied with the success of the expedition. The fact that the gunboats do not seem to have been fired at by heavy guns is interpreted to mean that the Spaniards have no considerable fortifications at this point, and that even if the Cape Verde fleet should succeed in evading Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley and seek shelter there it would not have the assistance of land batteries of any importance in the conflict which would ensue upon the arrival of the American fleet.

Men Quickly Volunteered.

Soon after the arrival of the warships off Cienfuegos the commanders of the Marblehead and the Nashville called for volunteers to man the four boats and cut the cable, and the men responded with a jump. Lieut. C. McR. Winslow, of the Nashville, took command of the Nashville's boats. The shore surrounding the entrance of the harbor was first shelled and then the boats proceeded in, while the warships remained 1,000 yards or more off the harbor.

The work of finding the cable was slowly and cautiously proceeded with. The cable was deep in the channel and was found with difficulty. One of the relays of the cable had been cut when the Spaniards opened fire.

The marines in the boats replied at once and a machine gun on the forward launch sent in a stream of bullets, while heavy shells from the warships drove the Spaniards from the rifle pits along the shore, many of them seeking refuge in the lighthouse fort, which was afterward torn to pieces by a shell from the Windom. With desperate courage, the American sailors remained calmly at their posts, and succeeded in dragging up the second relay of the cable and severing it.

It was observed when the firing began that the Spanish troops had assembled ashore, but it was not known that heavy guns had been placed in a masked battery, and that the old lighthouse, far out on a neck of land, had been transformed into a formidable fort.

The small boats proceeded cautiously and for more than an hour worked unmolested on the cables. Suddenly, just as the work was about completed, one shore battery fired a shell at the boats. It was followed by others, and the Spanish infantry opened fire with their rifles.

Then, like a flash, the Marblehead sent a shell inland, and followed it with a perfect shower of shot. The Nashville was quick to follow suit, and the little Windom cut loose with her four-pounders.

In the meanwhile, Spanish bullets fell in every direction around the small boats. The attack had come suddenly and fiercely, but the bluejackets were not dismayed, and, protected by the terrific return fire of the warships, work was continued and the cable was cut.

When the boats returned to the ships Regan, who was in one of the Marblehead's boats, was found to have been killed and six men were seen to be badly wounded.

The Spaniards had by this time suffered severe loss. Their shots from the lighthouse struck the warships several times, and, although they did not do much damage, the fire aroused the determination of the American officers to demolish the fort. Therefore, for the moment, the fire of the warships was concentrated upon the lighthouse and the improvised fort was blown to pieces. As there were great numbers of Spaniards in and behind the fort at the time, there is no doubt that many of them were killed.

The Marblehead and the Nashville used their heaviest guns as well as their small rapid fire guns, and hundreds of shots were thrown into the Spanish troops. On board the ships a number of men were slightly wounded, but it is not thought any of the latter are seriously hurt. Lieut. Winslow was shot in the hand and a number of others were more or less injured.

Capt. Maynard Hit.

On the Nashville Capt. Maynard was standing forward, with an ensign, when a Spanish bullet passed through the ensign's shoulder and struck Maynard in the chest, near the heart, wounding him only slightly.

The Marblehead was struck scores of times by bullets from machine guns, and the Nashville suffered to about the same extent.

The Windom also had many marks of the fray. Her shell, blowing up the lighthouse and scattering the Spaniards in all directions, ended the battle.

Boltz and Hendrickson, who, with four others of the wounded, are at the Naval Hospital here, are expected to die.

The body of Reagan was buried at sea.

M'DUFFIE BEATS TITUS.

Incidentally a World's Record Was Beaten at Cambridge.

Cambridge, Mass., May 15.—Eddie McDuffie, of Boston, defeated Frederick J. Titus, of New York, Saturday, in a fifteen mile paced race, breaking all world records and furnishing the finest exhibition of bicycle racing that has ever been seen on the Charles River Park track.

It was a perfect day for record breaking, and both Titus and McDuffie were out to do their utmost.

McDuffie was paced by four quints and a quad, while the New Yorker was paced by two sexes, two quads and one triplet. From the first it promised to be a pacemakers' race.

At the pistol shot Titus, headed by his triplet, darted out and tried to get a lead at once, and at first it looked as if he was going to. It took just three laps for McDuffie to close up the little gap and take the lead. From this time on it was McDuffie's race. At the end of the second mile he had gained three hundred yards on the New Yorker. At the end of his fifth mile he had broken the world's record by five and three-fifths seconds and had nearly five hundred yards lead. In the last lap of the sixth mile the little Bostonian passed Titus and went shooting out, trying to gain another lap, which he succeeded in doing in the thirteenth mile. When McDuffie went flying across the tape in the last lap of the fifteenth mile it was announced that he had broken a world's record. His time was 27m. 9 3-5s.; the previous record for the same distance was 27m. 14 4-5s.

THE CONTROL OF SEX.

Dr. Schenk Elaborates His Theory as to the Mother's Diet.

Vienna, May 16.—Prof. Leopold Schenk's book will be published in German to-day by the Vienna firm of Schallehn & Bollbruck. The work begins with a resume of the history of past theories of sex. The latest—that in which the result of all Dr. Schenk's observation and experiments is concentrated—is, as is known, that the nourishment of the mother that is to be is of the highest and foremost importance. Work and experience extended over a period of many years convinced him, he says, first, that he must devote his whole attention to the quantity of sugar secreted by the mother's system in normal conditions. When there is no sugar secreted, not even the smallest quantity, then a male child will be produced.

It is very important that, before there is any prospect of maternity, the future mother should have been receiving the nourishment best suited to obtain this result, and that afterward she should continue the same diet.

As to the general nature of the food to be chosen, Prof. Schenk says the mother should be given nourishment containing nitrogen and fat in sufficient quantities, and only so much carbo-hydrates as not to let her suffer from the lack of them. Best to begin with the treatment two or three months beforehand, and continue it for three months afterward. Some women cannot bear this treatment with nitrogen in concentrated form. Women in the country who have been fed on vegetable food all their lives will be among these.

A TRIAL FOR HERESY.

Another Union Professor Will Be Brought Before the Assembly.

Winona, Ind., May 16.—Several important questions will come up for discussion in the Presbyterian General Assembly which is to begin its sessions at Winona, on Thursday next. Chief among these will be the alleged heresy of Prof. McGiffert, a minister of the Presbyterian Church, and a professor in the Union Theological Seminary. Ordinarily the consideration of such a matter would be undertaken first by the Presbytery of which the supposed heretic is a member. But the New York Presbytery has failed to notice the controverted statements in Dr. McGiffert's book, either because it is not sure that they are open to ecclesiastical censure or because it hesitated to introduce a new element of bitterness into the Presbytery, which has been so seriously rent by the Briggs controversy. Many members of the New York Presbytery, however, think that the seminary professor should be called to an account, and they will welcome a discussion of the matter in the General Assembly. This will be brought about by the recent action of the Presbytery of Pittsburg, which voted to ask the General Assembly to entertain a charge of heresy against Dr. McGiffert.

Gladstone's Mind Placid.

Hawarden, May 16.—The following bulletin was issued last evening: "There has been little material change in Mr. Gladstone's condition since Friday. His debility is extreme and seems to be increasing. Happily he is free from suffering and his mind perfectly placid."

A Terribly Fatal Tidal Wave.

Yokohama, May 15.—Two hundred fishing boats have been swept away by a gale and tidal wave at Swate, and 1,500 men are missing.

Two flat buildings in course of construction in New York City collapsed yesterday, killing three men and injuring a number of others.

MEN EAGER FOR THE FRONT

The Seventy-first of New York, the Second of Massachusetts and the Fourth of Pennsylvania Start for the South—Other Regiments Expect to Follow This Week.

Camp Black, L. I., May 16.—To-day the Sixty-fifth and Second Provisional regiments become divisions of the Federal Army, and the Fourteenth, Third and First will follow on Tuesday. The last three will be the Forty-seventh, Twenty-second and Sixty-ninth. Col. Grant has been disappointed by the series of little hitches which have kept the enlisting of the Fourteenth back, while the Sixty-fifth and Second are in an enthusiastic mood, because they were prepared for the muster ahead of their rivals.

Capt. Schuyler says that there will be no more marching away until Tuesday, and possibly not until Wednesday. The general order to hurry all along the line will be carried out vigorously, and that is all that can be said now.

Four Men Drummed Out.

Four members of the Sixty-fifth Regiment of Buffalo were drummed out of camp Saturday. They were new members who had joined the organization for the fun they could get out of it, and who had decided that the fun would end about the time the regiment started for the South. Two were in Company I, one was in A and one in G. The I men were caught in the morning trying to sneak out of the line. The guards brought them back. The drummers were summoned, and the two deserters were marched out of camp to the tune of "The Rogue's March," while the regiment stood around in crowds and jeered. By a prearranged plan the guards looked the other way while five men broke the lines and followed the deserters. Overtaking them the five set upon the two from Company I and gave them a thrashing they will not soon forget.

The experiences of the men from Companies A and G were not more pleasant. They were obliged to run the gantlet while all kinds of missiles, hard and soft, were hurled at them, and "The Rogue's March" was played by the buglers and whistled by the privates. When the deserters reached the railroad station they found members of their regiment, who followed them on board the train, and escorted them through the cars, introducing them to the passengers as deserters.

A conspicuous case of "cold feet," by which term the soldiers designate instances of unwillingness to stick it out and go with the regiments wherever they are wanted, was reported in the Ninth Separate Company, of Whitehall.

New Jersey Men Are Anxious.

Camp Voorhees, Sea Girt, May 16.—An air of expectancy pervaded Camp Voorhees to-day. At every moment the men looked for orders sending them to the front. Since it became noised about that instructions had been received from the authorities at Washington intimating that the First Regiment might be expected to move at twenty-four hours' notice, the volunteers have been anxious. The work of mustering the men is now complete, and several of the mustering officers have, under orders, returned to their posts. All that remains to be done before the men can take the field is to complete their equipment. Supplies from Washington are looked for, and not more than two days will be required to put the entire brigade in fighting trim.

Senator Sewell Declines.

Washington, May 16.—Senator Sewell, of New Jersey, who was nominated to be a Major General in the volunteer army, has informed the Secretary of War that he will decline the honor. This action presumably is due to the belief of the Senator that in accepting a commission in the army he would be compelled to resign his position in the United States Senate. As Senator Sewell was appointed from civil life, the expectation is that the vacancy will be filled in a similar way. The Senator had also been assigned to the command of the troops to be concentrated at Washington, and his declination will compel a new selection for that command.

The First Pennsylvania Troops.

Mount Gretna, Pa., May 16.—The first regiment to leave Camp Hastings for Chickamauga was the Fourth, which got away between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday.

The other regiments are still under canvas. Last night's order was modified by the addition of another regiment, the Tenth, so that the commands which have received definite orders from the War Department, are the Fourth, Sixteenth, Third, First, Fifth, Fifteenth, Tenth and Ninth.

Massachusets Troops to Chickamauga.

Boston, May 16.—Gov. Wolcott has received a telegram from Adjutant General Corbin stating that Col. Pew, commanding the Eighth Regiment, M. V. M., has been ordered by telegraph to proceed to Chickamauga at once with his regiment.

Mr. Moody and the Soldiers.

East Northfield, Mass., May 16.—Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, is busy planning for religious work among the soldiers. He is of the opinion that the war will not continue long. "If it does continue," he says, "there will be a great demand for Christian workers." Then he added, "I plan to stay here in Northfield, if possible, during the Summer, but if necessity demands I shall go to work among the soldiers."

Continuing, Mr. Moody said: "I can't help pitying Spain. She has been forced into this war by her rulers. She is sure to be beaten. It is like a big mastiff licking a little cur. The cur may deserve whipping, but you can't help pitying the little dog while the whipping is taking place."

EXPEDITION FAILED TO LAND.

The Gussie Had Arms and Ammunition for the Cubans.

Key West, Fla., May 16.—The steamer Gussie, which left Tampa, Fla., on May 10, with two companies of the First Infantry, in charge of 7,000 rifles and 200,000 rounds of ammunition, intended for the insurgents in the Province of Penar del Rio, remained off the coast of Cuba Thursday, Friday and Saturday, convoyed by the auxiliary gunboat Manning, in a vain attempt to land her cargo.

Capt. J. H. Dorst, of the staff of Gen. Miles, and formerly United States Military Attache at Vienna, headed the expedition, which returned here Sunday morning. Her commander, who appeared to be much crestfallen, having failed to accomplish the mission intrusted to him, refused to discuss the matter beyond admitting the failure, and saying the Gussie will return to Tampa, Fla.

Previous to leaving Cuban waters, the Dorst expeditionary force had a skirmish with Spanish cavalry near Cabanas, fifteen miles west of Havana, where an attempt was made to land part of the cargo. On Friday morning Capt. Dorst abandoned the attempt at that point, and steamed eastward to Matanzas, where an arrangement had been made with the insurgents to send supplies ashore at Point Maya, a mile or so east of the entrance to the harbor.

The Gussie and her convoy Saturday morning steamed in until about two miles off shore, when the rattle of musketry from a considerable force of Spanish soldiers concealed behind underbrush ashore warned them that they would receive a lively welcome if they landed. The Spanish troops seemed to have been furnished with information of the contemplated landing at both points.

After the second failure Capt. Dorst decided to abandon the attempt to land the arms and ammunition and returned to Key West, where, as already cabled, he arrived this morning.

He did not return empty handed, however. Off Matanzas, the Gussie sighted a small Spanish fishing smack and gave chase. When the boat was overhauled, her occupants surrendered to Capt. Dorst, and the prize was brought into Key West.

Capt. Dorst says the failure of the expedition was due to the fact that the Cubans were unable to meet the landing party at the rendezvous, and the Americans could not land supplies with no one to receive them.

Capt. Dorst is convinced that the Spaniards have a good system of communication along the coast, and that they can quickly mass enough troops to prevent the landing of a small force, such as the one he commanded, and the Captain believes the only way arms and ammunition can be sent to the insurgents is to land them under the cover of warships with guns sufficient to beat off any attack. Then, he adds, the arms and ammunition should be conveyed inland by United States soldiers.

STARTING FOR THE SOUTH.

The Seventy-first and Massachusetts Men Go By Rail.

New York, May 16.—The Seventy-first Regiment of the New York Volunteers arrived at Jersey City Saturday in the steamers City of Washington and Seneca, on which the men had spent the night. The troops marched ashore, hoping soon to be on their way to Tampa. In this they were disappointed, owing to the fact that Col. Greene decided to take five days' rations. These did not arrive until a late hour, and this enabled the Second Massachusetts Regiment, which did not arrive until 7 o'clock on the Vigilanca, to get ahead of them. The New England men took only train rations, and carried them in their haversacks, so that they were ready to start at the moment they landed.

The men were marched into the railroad yards, and the guards at first attempted to keep the crowd back, but after awhile their vigilance was relaxed, and great numbers crowded into the yard and mingled with the soldiers. After nightfall, the crowd, weary of the delay, dwindled, and the tired soldiers sought refuge in their cars and went to sleep.

The regiments will go direct to Tampa, it is understood, and it is expected that the trains will have precedence over all others along the whole route.

The train carrying the Massachusetts troops was in three sections, each consisting of fourteen ordinary passenger cars and a Pullman car for the officers. The train carrying the Seventy-first Regiment was in three sections, and a fourth section, made up of baggage cars.

The Massachusetts men's trains moved at 10 p. m., and the Seventy-first started at 11.35.

Rushing Supplies to the Troops.

Philadelphia, May 16.—Great activity continues at the Schuylkill Arsenal. About three trainloads of supplies start nightly for Chickamauga, Mobile and other points. In the neighborhood of five thousand tents are being turned out daily, and this activity will continue for weeks to come. Orders for 50,000 pairs of shoes have been placed, which are ready for delivery within three days. Fifteen thousand pairs of trousers, 20,000 shirts and 5,000 overcoats are being completed weekly, and this will continue until orders are received to the contrary. Up to date about sixty thousand blankets have been shipped from the Arsenal.

BLACKMAILED THE GOULDS.

Instigated the Story of Jay Gould's Marriage.

Albany, N. Y., May 16.—Mrs. Margaret E. Cody, the aged woman arrested in New York by Central Office detectives on a bench warrant charging that she had attempted to blackmail George J. Gould and Miss Helen Gould, in instigating the story that Jay Gould had heirs by a previous marriage with a woman at Rouse's Point, is now in jail in this city. She will remain there until her trial is called.

Remenyi Drops Dead.

San Francisco, May 16.—Edouard Remenyi, who has held royalty enchanted and has enthralled audiences all over the world with his violin, fell dead last evening at the Orpheum Theatre, in this city. It was Remenyi's first appearance on the vaudeville stage here.

WOODFORD EXPECTS TO GO BACK.

Says Yankee Generals Will Make His Return to Spain Possible.

Brooklyn, May 16.—Gen. Stewart L. Woodford was tendered a dinner by the Union League Club, of Brooklyn, and by U. S. Grant Post, G. A. R., at the Union League Club, last night.

Committees from these two organizations has been appointed to perfect the plans for this occasion shortly after it was known that Gen. Woodford was to return from Spain. The purpose was to show him the high regard in which his many friends in Brooklyn held him, as also their appreciation of the manner in which he performed his official duties.

Although it had been arranged that there should be no set speeches, Gen. Woodford was carried away by the enthusiastic greeting he received, and, addressing the company, as "friends and comrades," said:

"It is more difficult to keep silent than it is to speak. I am glad to be here and very grateful for this kind reception. I am still Minister to Spain, despite the statement in your printed invitation that I am 'ex-Minister,' and when Dewey and Sampson and Schley and Miles have opened a pathway for my return I expect to go back to Madrid and sign the articles of peace. I shall not embarrass the naval or military operations of Spain by any suggestion as to what I should like."

BLOCKADE AND FAMINE

Havana Soldiers Are Disheartened and Expect American Invasion.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16.—The French cruiser Fulton, from Havana on May 8, arrived here yesterday and landed thirty-eight refugees at the Quarantine station.

The Fulton will now proceed to Santiago de Cuba with provisions for the French Consul there, who has cabled to Kingston, requesting that food be sent him and announcing that famine prices prevail at Santiago de Cuba.

The officers of the Fulton, until her arrival here, had been unable to obtain any definite news of the battle of Manila. The first bulletins received in Havana insisted that the honors were about even, as the American fleet had been unable to land men.

It appears from what the officers of the Fulton say, that the populace and soldiers at Havana are disheartened by the blockade and the improbability of any succor reaching the city. On the other hand, a great American invading army is expected to land in Cuba shortly.

Distress at Cienfuegos.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16.—Advices from Cienfuegos show that the blockade of that port by the American fleet is causing much suffering in the city. Food is selling at famine prices.

The forty-five thousand inhabitants are obliged to live almost exclusively on yams, plantains and other fruits. Flour, meal and like staples are away out of reach of the poorer classes.

Reconcentrados All Dead.

Key West, Fla., May 16.—Captured Havana fishermen say the reconcentrados are nearly all dead or have been expelled from the city.

The latter, it is added, afterward died in the suburbs.

Santiago Cables for Food.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 16.—The French Consul at Santiago de Cuba has cabled for food, famine prices prevailing there.

SPANISH CABINET RESIGNS.

Action Which Has Been Imminent for Two Weeks at Last Taken.

Madrid, via Paris, May 16.—All the members of the Spanish Cabinet have resigned.

Senor Sagasta will communicate the situation to the Queen Regent, who will intrust him with the task of forming a new Ministry.

The Liberal Cabinet, under Senor Sagasta, was formed shortly after the assassination of Senor Canovas del Castillo, who was assassinated on Aug. 8, 1897, by an Italian Anarchist named Golli.

One of the first steps taken by Senor Sagasta was to recall Gen. Weyler, the then Captain General of Cuba, who was then succeeded by Gen. Blanco.

Relief Ship Still at Key West.

New York, May 16.—Stephen E. Barton, of the Central Cuban Relief Committee, has received a dispatch from Miss Clara Barton at Key West, announcing that she expected to move soon with the relief ship State of Texas. In her dispatch Miss Barton quoted the prices of the various articles of staple diet in the markets at Key West, showing that prices there are much in excess of what they were before the outbreak of the war.

The State of Texas left this port more than three weeks ago with 1,200 tons of miscellaneous supplies for the famishing reconcentrados. Since her arrival at Key West, twelve days ago, she has not left her anchorage in the outer harbor, though Admiral Sampson has been advised by the authorities in Washington to permit her to pass the blockade line, and to have her safely convoyed as soon as he thinks it desirable. It has, however, been deemed prudent not to attempt to land the supplies in Cuba yet, lest they might fall into the hands of the Spanish soldiers.

Vote on the Currency Bill Taken.

Washington, May 15.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency Saturday concluded its vote by ballot upon the Banking and Currency bill, prepared by the Committee of Three appointed from the Republican members to draft a bill and present it for final action to the full committee. The result of the vote will be announced next Wednesday to the committee, and the bill then reported to the House. Nine Republican members have voted to report the bill. Two of these, however, voted to report solely in order to get a measure before the House, the chief object being to place a Banking and Currency bill in a position where a Republican caucus could act on it.

Prof. Frederick Starr, of the Chicago University, is reported as championing the cause of Spain, and saying that she has treated her colonies kindly.

SPANISH SQUADRON

Evidently Trying to Effect a Landing in Cuba,

BUT WILL HAVE TO FIGHT.

May Encounter the Oregon, or Sampson's Fleet, or Schley's Flyers, or the Three Combined—All Commands Are Watching the Dons.

Washington, May 16.—It is believed in Washington that Admiral Cervera is taking a circuitous course, in the hope of reaching the Cuban coast without encountering Admiral Sampson's squadron. Warning was sent by the Navy Department to the vessels of the Cuban blockading fleet.

The Spanish squadron is now 1,256 miles away from Havana by the shortest route, that through the Windward Passage, and 1,000 miles from Cienfuegos, on the south side of Cuba.

Traveling at the rate of ten knots an hour it would take Admiral Cervera's fleet fully five days to make the run to Havana, and a little over four days to Cienfuegos.

In their present position the Spanish fleet is now 500 miles from Martinique, for which point the battleship Oregon is heading, together with the Buffalo and Marietta. Traveling at the rate of ten knots the Spaniards could cover that distance in from two and a half to three days, much less time than the Oregon can reach it in from her present position. The island of Porto Rico is 500 miles from Curacoa in a direct line.

On the other hand, Admiral Sampson's squadron was yesterday only 1,150 miles from Havana, having been last reported cruising off Porto Rico, to the westward of San Juan. The American ships are only about 300 miles from Martinique, and on being advised of the whereabouts of the Spanish squadron, could easily reach there before Admiral Cervera's ships.

It is believed that Admiral Sampson, having been fully advised of the location of the Spanish fleet and its probable intention, can apprehend it before it can reach Cienfuegos.

In the meantime Commodore Schley, with the Flying Squadron, is plowing his way to Havana with all speed to strengthen the blockade or go around the west coast of Cuba and meet the Spanish squadron in the vicinity of Cienfuegos.

The race between the Spaniards and Rear Admiral Sampson for Cienfuegos is being watched with the gretest interest and anxiety at the White House and the Navy Department.

Naval authorities are confident that either Sampson or Schley will reach the objective point ahead of the Spaniards.

Should Sampson and Schley come upon the enemy in the Caribbean Sea, it is not unreasonable to suppose that the orders to annihilate the Spanish fleet will be executed with neatness and dispatch.

MANILA WILL SURRENDER.

Dewey's Blockade Is Making Life a Burden to the Spanish.

Washington, May 16.—The following cablegram from Admiral Dewey was given out by the department:

Cavite, May 13, Hong Kong, May 15.—Maintaining strict blockade; reason to believe that the rebels are hemming in the city by land, but have made no demonstration.

Probable that the Spanish Governor will be obliged to surrender soon. Can take Manila at any moment. Climate hot and moist.

Have plenty of coal. One British, one French, two German and one Japanese vessels here observing. DEWEY.

A cablegram has been received from Admiral Dewey thanking the President for his promotion and complimenting his chief of staff and the commanders of all of the naval vessels.

Dewey Took a Gunboat.

Hong Kong, May 16.—The United States dispatch boat Hugh McCulloch arrived here from Manila with dispatches for the United States Government.

She reports that the Spanish gunboat Callao, from the Carolina Islands, recently entered the port of Manila, being ignorant of the outbreak of hostilities between Spain and the United States.

An American warship fired across her bows and signalled her a demand for her surrender. The demand being disregarded, the American ship fired direct at the gunboat, and the latter surrendered.

The populace of Manila is reduced to eating horseflesh, and the prospect of relief seems far distant.

Troops Off for Manila.

San Francisco, May 16.—Three hundred bluejackets and marines left here on board the cruiser Charleston for Manila. They go to reinforce Admiral Dewey.

It is expected that the trip will take about twenty days. This is only the first batch of soldiers which will sail from this port. Within the next two weeks 15,000 will have embarked.

The City of Pekin will sail with 1,300 more troops, under command of Major Gen. Otis. Arms and ammunition of every description will be carried along.

Banker Spalding in Stripes.

Chicago, May 16.—Charles Warren Spalding, a year and two months ago president of the Globe Savings Bank, treasurer of the University of Illinois, owner of a handsome residence, respected, wealthy and influential, is now clad in the garb of a convict in the State Penitentiary at Joliet.

The last person with whom he talked before leaving was Sarah Louise Ervin, formerly his stenographer, the woman upon whom he lavished thousands of dollars. Spalding's wife obtained a divorce a few weeks ago, and no doubt is expressed that the banker will wed the young woman.

Spalding's sentence is an indeterminate one, and if not pardoned sooner he will serve ten years. He is of the opinion he will be out in five years at the most, being eligible for pardon in one year.

No member of his family called at the jail to see him before he was taken to prison. He left Chicago Saturday evening, and an hour later he landed at the Joliet Penitentiary gate.

Comic Opera Warriors.

Richard Harding Davis is the London Times correspondent with Captain Sampson's fleet. In one of his letters he gives the most picturesque description yet printed of the ordinary Spanish character. In moments of excitement or where it is to his interest to lie the Spaniard apparently cannot to save his soul stick to the truth. Blanco's dispatches as to the operations of the blockading squadron were a tissue of exaggerations. Blanco reported that the firing of our cruisers on the Matanzas forts did no damage. Davis says, "I saw the shells cut the ramparts down and lift them and throw them into clouds of earth 50 feet high." A Spanish officer captured with one of the prize vessels swore solemnly that if he had only known war was declared he would have blown his brains out rather than be taken. A middy with a sense of humor was at pains to examine this patriot's pistol and found not only that it was not loaded, but that it would not go off if it were loaded.

Mr. Davis says of the Spaniards:

They are all blown about by bursts of passion, fits of hysterics. In Madrid the mob pulls down the wooden American eagle advertising an insurance company and feels better. In Havana a man bites his arm and sucks the blood to show how he longs for that of the enemy. They are children, with all of a child's unreasonable rage. Their idea as to how civilized warfare is conducted is shown by the fact that the crew of every prize vessel we have taken receive the boarding officer either on their knees or with their hands above their heads in token of submission. Some beg for mercy, some try to leap overboard, some lock themselves in the cabins. They expect to be shot down or hung to the yardarm.

This was on a par with the cavalry troops that fired on the flagship when she was two miles out at sea. They did it because they like to hear their guns go off. They are a comic opera people. They are ridiculous, and they cannot help it. It is impossible to take them or their untruthful war bulletins seriously.

It is not necessary to say that they have no sense of honor. All is explained when you point out that they have no sense of humor.

Good Fighters.

English papers are enthusiastic over the splendid fighting qualities of American seamen and marksmen in the present war. It is not surprising. Americans are like Shakespeare's model man in peace, modest and mild behaved, in war transformed to men who can give blows so fast and heavy that none may withstand them. This is a way we have.

No individual or nation is worth being kept alive that is not a good, strong fighter. This does not mean quarrelsome. The best fighters are the best tempered people. They hold themselves in control and on ordinary occasions are as good natured and amiable as a Newfoundland dog. They do not froth and foam. The qualities that enable them to whip in a fight they control and utilize for pushing their way in the peaceable victories of industry, and they always go up head. But if their rights are trampled on it will not be healthy for the person who undertakes it.

The nation that can fight, but does not do so unless compelled to, is the one that wins. The nation that cannot fight has lost its manhood and is a sheep among governments. China is an example. With her vast population, wealth, fertility, resources and area she ought to be one of the great powers of the globe. Instead of that she is falling in ruins, and the other powers are seizing the pieces.

A man in Austria has invented a machine which transforms light into electricity. The electricity is then transmitted over wires as sound and power are transmitted. Arrived at its destination, the electric current is once more transformed into light rays. That is the principle of the invention. Now, if the rays of light that are sent electrically a long distance are rays from a picture, a house, a person or any other object, these rays will be carried faithfully to the point of destination, where they may be reflected upon a screen and seen. Thus any scene whatever may be transmitted over distances. The man in Chicago may see his friend in St. Louis by means of this device at the same time that he talks to him over the telephone. The machine by which rays of light are transmitted is called the telectroscope—literally sight at a distance. The name of the young man who invented it is Jan Szczepanik. With such a name Jan ought to be able to do anything.

THE HOSPITAL SHIP SOLACE.

The hospital ship Solace was outfitted with supplies at Norfolk preparatory to attendance upon the North Atlantic squadron. The Solace is painted white, with a green stripe along the water line. She has three large red crosses painted on each side.

Away back in the fourteen hundreds the wage laborer was better paid, according to the cost of meat, which is a fair estimate of the ratio between work and wage, than he is now. A day's wages for a laborer in the fifteenth century was one-quarter the price of a sheep, Thorold Rogers tells us. In our time it is only a little more than one-seventeenth the price of a sheep. Sheep are more valuable, men less so, than they were in the fifteenth century.

American trade is very valuable to foreign nations. If any European country should seek to interfere on the side of Spain, all that would be necessary in order to bring it up standing would be to follow out the recommendation contained in a resolution passed by the Federation of Labor and boycott in America the productions and manufactures of that country.

Commend to us the rosy optimism of that poet mathematician Mr. Edward Atkinson. More than 20 years ago he sang us the cheerful song that we of this country had not begun to develop our industrial resources. Today, brisk and happy as ever, he sings the same cheerful song still.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

A western paper recently requested answers to the question: "What do you regard as the most common fault of present day young men?" Perhaps the most pithy reply of the hundreds received was this: "Preference for a white shirt job."

Thomas Timbo, the newsman at the depot, has sent one soldier to the war even if he has not enlisted himself. Friday morning Edward Day wanted to enlist, but said he didn't have money enough to take him to Sea Girt. Tommy at once offered to buy Day a ticket, not thinking that he would take it, but he did, and was accepted. Tommy says he is willing to send a few more soldier boys if they want to go.

Should the war with Spain continue until after November 9th the 3,009 Jerseymen now in the service of the United States as part of the volunteer army would not lose their vote for Governor, Senators, Assemblymen, nor even for the smallest municipal officials to be elected in their respective town or township. The General Election laws provide a method for soldiers in the field engaged in actual war to cast their vote at any New Jersey election, no matter in what part of the world they may be on election day.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Dunellen, May 16—The Epworth League celebrated its ninth anniversary yesterday and in recognition of the event the local chapter of the M. E. church observed the same with appropriate exercises last evening. There was special music by the church choir and the members of the League. President Albert Apgar, presided at the service, and he was assisted by members of the cabinet. The Rev. Dr. E. S. Jamison delivered the address of the evening on the subject of "Spiritual Athletics." The address was listened to with much interest. Considering the weather, the attendance was large and the affair was a most profitable one.

According to the plaintive cry of the Dunellen Call the residents of the borough are wondering what has become of the promised water works. It says: "Not pipes of wine or tobacco, but water pipes, which were agreed to be furnished by the Watchung Water Company. Why, don't you see (?)—Bring along the water pipes, Charlie."

R. F. Bogardus will give a gramaphone concert at the strawberry festival to be held in the chapel of the Presbyterian church on the evening of May 19th. It will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

WESTFIELD.

(Special Correspondence of The Press.)

Westfield, May 16.—The meeting of the Township Committee proved a very exciting affair. At the close of the regular business Committeeman Dennis asked Chairman Embree if he intended to sign the contract with the Westfield Water Company which the Committee advised doing at last week's meeting. Mr. Embree stated that he did not think he should sign it. After a long and windy discussion, in which Committeeman Harden accused Chairman Embree of being interested in the Union Water Company, Committeeman Dennis said that no motion to adjourn would be considered until the contract had been signed, even if the Committee had to stay in session for a week. Mr. Embree called several lawyers on the telephone and then signed the contract. The Union Water Company will now probably turn off the water from the hydrants. The property-owners are very much displeased with the Committee's action and are all with Mr. Embree.

Guaranteed Sarsaparilla.

Money back if you want it and no questions asked. That is the way we sell Rawson's Sarsaparilla. It is too good a remedy to sell any other way. Few remedies can be guaranteed, but this one can, and there is no possible reason for your trying a blood purifier that is pretty sure to do less than this and which may do nothing at all. All the good there can be in any Sarsaparilla is in this one. It cures boils, ulcers, skin affections, debility, indigestion and liver troubles, purifies and enriches the blood, gives strength and energy.

WENT HOME DEFEATED.

balls sent Young to first. A slow grounder along the foul line to third by Furguson filled the bases. Larndon struck out. Then Mac's went back on him and he forced in a run by giving Wessells his base on balls. Dollard ended the inning by going out, Collins to Cavanaugh. Nobody scored again until the fifth although several started to make the circuit.

Clarence Vroom opened the inning by an easy grounder to Dissoway, who threw him out at first. Symons hit to far centre field for one base. Lederer drove the ball over shortstop's head for two bases. Then Hollister sent them both in on a long drive to left. He tried to stretch it to a double and was nipped at second.

Cavanaugh made a double in the next inning and reached home through an error by Frank Cadmus and a sacrifice hit by Metz. Symons scored again in the seventh on a hit by himself, a wild pitch, a sacrifice by Hollister and a single by Dave Vroom

The success of the Crescents rather dampened the ardor of the "Gallant Seventh" until the eighth inning. Will Cadmus made a vicious lunge at one of Mac's outshoots and sent Symons chasing after it. He stole second and third and scored on the throw-in of Dissoway's long fly to right field. The other attempts at scoring failed. The Crescents did not play their half of the ninth inning.

The detailed score is as follows:

Care of Plants.

One would scarcely think that it would be worth anybody's while to tamper with flowers and sell them as other than they really are. But it is an elaborate art. For instance, a matured tulip can be turned into "a young thing just on the point of blowing" by carefully plucking off the bloom, and leaving the bulb with its few leaves beneath. "Only two shillings, sir; it'll bloom in a week, sir," and the uninitated buy and wait vainly for the promised blossom. Owing to the popularity of the parsley fern, the "flower dodger" has found a most efficacious and cheap method of supplying customers. He plants a carrot in a dark place, with the consequence that its leaves at the top become fine and of a very delicate green; then cutting off the crown of the carrot and putting it in a pot he sells it as a "parsley fern." As for scented flowers all the neglect of nature is supplied by these people with a scent-bottle, and they do not hesitate to produce "new and strange varieties," by subjecting well-known flowers to the action of aniline dyes. With flowers that absorb a large amount of moisture, their work is very easy, as they change their color with extraordinary rapidity.

Published for 1,400 Years.

The oldest newspaper in the world is not, as is generally stated, the thousand-year-old "Kin Pan," of Pekin, but the "Tsing-Pao," or "Pekin News," which was first published more than 400 years before the Norman Conquest, and which has been published without intermission for nearly 1,400 years.

The "Tsing-Pao" has the appearance of a yellow-backed magazine of twenty-four octave pages, each page containing seven columns, and each column consisting of seven "characters." Two editions are published—an edition de luxe for the Court and the upper classes in China, at a cost of 24 cents a month; and an edition, inferior in paper and printing, which costs 16 cents a month.

The "Tsing-Pao" is the "Times" of China, and chronicles the wealth and movements of the Emperor, the life at Court, and the reports of Ministers. It is painfully significant that every error in printing the latter is punished with death.

The Cause of Nervousness.

"Over-work and under-exercise result in nervous diseases," said a physician recently. "Preventive measures may be summed up in two words," he continued—"physical development. Worry annually kills more people than work. One should strive, however, to avoid all things that tend to disturb the nerves. Throw away the pen that scratches and a pencil that has a hard spot in it. Discard a needle that squeaks and a basin that leaks. Use sharp tools, wear soft garments that do not rustle. Oil the hinges of the rheumatic door and fasten the creaking blind. These may seem trifles, but such trifles irritate the nerves as much as a piece of woolen does a sore. Charles Lamb once said that a carpenter's hammer on a warm summer morn would fret him more than midsummer madness."

Fashion Hints.

A handsome bodice is of burnt orange taffeta, the waist from the yoke down being made in alternate clusters of fine tucks and applique insertion. Where the bodice joins the yoke are triple revers of silk, edged with three fine tucks of white taffeta, and the top rever is covered with applique lace. The yoke is circular and in clusters of wave tucks, with a narrow insertion between the clusters, and the sleeves are small, with pointed decorations.

The visiting and reception gowns this season are gentle reminders of ages gone by, the demure quaker colors and lavenders so much worn in the old days being once more in vogue. A pretty gown is of lavender-colored crepe de chine, with a trimming of point applique lace and net.

For middle-aged women stylish gowns are made of black silk warp. Woolen goods are made with a skirt having two bias milliner's falls, headed with a fancy silk gimp. The front has an Eton effect, with square revers and belt, pointed in front, of satin. Vests and collars of white silk are covered with cream lace.

A Dainty Gift.

A dainty mouchoir is always a welcome gift and as the variety is endless there is no excuse for anybody being without one. The prettiest takes the form of a very large envelope in fine white linen, the front and back beautifully embroidered in some effective flowers of different colors, which gives a very artistic finish. In larger mouchoirs they are painted on satin or delicate silk, and when decorated with roses form a very charming case. These affairs are always well wadded and lined with soft silk, the edges often finished with a pretty lace border.

Wisconsin to Row.

It is reported that the University of Wisconsin will accept the invitation of the rowing association composed of Columbia, Cornell and Pennsylvania to row with the Eastern crews next June in the eight-oared shell races of the 'varsity and freshmen crews.

SMALL HIPS THE PRESENT FANCY.

Flounces Round Up in Front Instead of at the Back of Skirts.

(By special arrangement with the N. Y. Sun.)

The special variation in skirts which seems imminent, now that we are becoming accustomed to the circular flounce rounding down in front and up in the back, is the reverse order. Therefore, if we would have the latest mode, we must point our skirt, trimming up in front and down in the back. It may round up to the waist with a panel front, but without this, if it reaches a point just above the knee, there is sufficient curve. But whether your flounce curves up or be trimmed, it must fit around the hips as if it were moulded to the figure. Even this is not enough, for the hips must be coerced into as small a space as possible. Sylphlike and sinuous grace of outline is the motto of fashion this season, and you must heed it at any cost if you would be in the latest mode.

Small epaulets and tiny frills at the top of the sleeves are the accompanying feature of many of the new gowns, but they are gradually disappearing, and if you would have the latest mode, discard this sort of sleeve decoration entirely and apply all the trimming directly on the sleeve itself. It may be as elaborate as you like with tucks, insertions, braid or shirrings the entire length, but it must be quite small, with no unnecessary fullness at the top. Among the many other odd fancies in dress trimming is the use of embroidered linen on a foulard gown. Such a gown in red and white has three ruffles of linen across the front of the bodice. The silk is tucked into a narrow yoke, and the ruffles, overlapping each other a trifle, fall below this point enough so that the top one nearly meets with the collar band of white silk striped with black velvet. The ruffles form a trimming which falls a little below the bust, where a strap of black velvet ribbon an inch and a half wide is fastened at either side and crosses in front just above the belt of the same velvet, which is completed with a long bow of loops at one side.

It is a pretty general belief in China that women who wear short hair will in a future state be transformed into men.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Speyer. Die Protestationskirche rückt ihrer Vollendung immer näher, Um die Mittel für die Orgel zu beschaffen, hat der Pfälzische evangelische Kirchengesangverein beschlossen, alle deutsch-evangelischen Kirchengesangvereine zur Abhaltung von Kirchenkonzerten aufzufordern. Speyer, Bacharach, Frankenthal, Ludwigshafen, Neustadt, Pirmasens und Germersheim haben damit bereits den Anfang gemacht und auf diese Weise bereits 1900 Mark aufgebracht.

Dürkheim. Auf Grund einer im Januar vorgenommenen Muthung wurde dem hiesigen Buchdruckereibesitzer Julius Hinkel unter dem Namen „Südfeld" das Bergwerkseigenthum in dem in den Gemeinden Schmittweiler, Jägersburg, Kleinottweiler, Kübelberg und Waldmohr gelegenen Grubenfelde von 8,000,000 Quadratmeter oder 800 Hektaren Flächeninhalt, dessen Grenzen bezeichnet sind, zur Gewinnung aller in diesem Felde vorkommenden Steinkohlen verliehen.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Das Luther-Festspiel erzielte bei den neun Aufführungen in der Liederhalle eine Gesammteinnahme von 24,000 Mark. Der Reingewinn von 9000 Mark soll zum Theil zu wohlthätigen Zwecken verwendet, der Rest als Fonds für billige Volksfestspiele verwendet werden.

Heilbronn. Die hiesigen Mitglieder des Leichenverbrennungsvereins wollten im nahen badischen Grenzort Schluchtern ein Krematorium errichten, die dortige Gemeindevertretung war nicht dagegen. Die badische Regierung aber hat einen abschlägigen Bescheid gegeben, weil dort der Betrieb einer Feuerbestattungsanstalt mangels der erforderlichen Voraussetzungen aus sanitätspolizeilichen Gründen und im Interesse der Strafrechtspflege nicht zugelassen werden könne.

Langenburg. Dieser Tage wurde von dem hiesigen Schöffengericht in der Privatklagesache des Reichstagsabgeordneten August gegen Stadtpfarrer Brecht in Gerabronn wegen Beleidigung, sowie in der Widerklage das Urtheil verkündet. August wurde zu 70, Brecht zu 25 Mark Geldstrafe verurtheilt, jedem der Betheiligten wurde die Hälfte der Kosten auferlegt.

Saulgau. Ein gewisser Rothmund von Scheer, einem Städtchen des hiesigen Oberamts, wurde kürzlich wegen Mordes vom Schwurgericht in Ravensburg zum Tode verurtheilt. Nun hat, wie man dem „Staatsanzeiger" berichtet, eine im Brandenburgischen seßhafte Adelsfamilie von Scheer Erkundigungen über den zum Tode Verurtheilten angestellt, aus denen hervorging, daß sie in ihm einen entarteten Abkömmling ihres Geschlechtes und Namens vermuthete! Es handelte sich aber um keinen „Edelsten der Nation," sondern um einen simpeln Fabrikarbeiter.

Tübingen. Hier herrscht eine Art Selbstmordmanie. Schon wieder hat durch Selbstmord ein 17jähriges Mädchen, eine Ladnerin, geendet. Auf Besuch bei Verwandten wurde sie in einer Kammer mit einem Schuß in der rechten Schläfe gefunden. Ohne das Bewußtsein zu erlangen, starb sie in kurzer Zeit in der Chirurgischen Klinik.

Ulm. Lieutenant Vetter vom 6. württembergischen Infanterie-Regiment Nr. 124 wurde, als er vom Dienst nach Hause zurückgekehrt war, plötzlich von geistiger Umnachtung befallen. Nachdem der Unglückliche vier Tage im Lazareth lag, wurde er in eine Heilanstalt verbracht.

Wangen. Von überallher im Lande beglückwünscht, feierte Schultheiß Dentler von Sommersried sein 50jähriges Dienstjubiläum. Der Jubilar ist 84 Jahre alt und besorgt sein Amt noch in voller Geistesfrische. Nicht weniger als 43 Jahre war er auch Landtagsabgeordneter für den Oberamtsbezirk Wangen, bis er bei der letzten Wahlperiode vor drei Jahren wegen hohen Alters zurücktrat.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Der Sohn des Wiener Großindustriellen Zacharius, der in einer hiesigen Handschuhfabrik als Volontär beschäftigt war, erhielt vor einiger Zeit in Folge Unvorsichtigkeit durch einen Hebel einen Schlag derart auf das Nasenbein, daß es zerschmettert wurde. Die Heilung ließ einen günstigen Ausgang erwarten, doch ist dieser Tage der junge Mann plötzlich an Erstickung gestorben.

Konstanz. Privatier Anton Möhrle von hier wurde als Leiche aus dem Rhein gezogen. Er betrieb hier früher eine Metzgerei, mußte dies Geschäft aber wegen Krankheit verkaufen. Eine hübsche Villa, die eben für ihn gebaut wird, scheint ihm viel Aufregung verursacht zu haben, so daß man ihn schon seit einiger Zeit für geistesgestört hielt. Diese Villa hatte er Tags zuvor mit etwa 25,000 Mark Verlust verkauft.

Lörrach. Hier hat der als Sozialist in den Landtag gewählte, später jedoch von den Sozialdemokraten nicht mehr als Genosse anerkannte ehemalige Landtagsabgeordnete Stegmüller seine Stelle als Mitglied des Bürgerausschusses niedergelegt. Als Grund ist die Thatsache angegeben, daß der Bürgerausschuß seinen Anträgen in der Ortsschulfrage kein geneigtes Ohr gewidmet habe.

Preseverance! can you spell it?
And its meaning, can you tell it?
If you stick to what you're doing,
Study, work or play pursuing,
Every failure bravely meeting,
Bravely each attempt repeating,
Trying twice and thrice and four times,
Yes, a hundred, even more times,
You can spell it! You can spell it!

QUEER BOYS OF ZULULAND.

They Chase Monkeys for Work and Hunt Birds for Fun.

At the same time that our boys are started for the school, often feeling very much injured because the day is bright and they would rather play football, the Zulu boy, without any breakfast, is sent out into his father's field, where the crops are growing.

The work assigned to him there does not in the least resemble any chores that a boy might find to do here, for it consists in chasing away the monkeys and baboons which come out of the forest and prowl about with designs on the ripening pumpkins and other fruits. This is lively work, for monkeys are notably quick in their movements and unless the youngsters are on the alert the monkeys pounce upon their booty and carry it away under the boys' noses.

At other times of the year it is not the baboons but the birds that must be kept from the ripening grain. After a morning of such lively exercise the boys are ravenous for their noon meal, the first food that is given them during the day, for they only eat twice in twenty-four hours and not so much as an afternoon tea between times.

The whole aim of a Zulu boy's training is to make him a dauntless and victorious warrior. This being the case, the most important of their games is one in which they learn to throw sharpened sticks with skill. It is played as follows: One of their number ascends a small hill while the others, with their sticks in their hands, range themselves in a row down the side. The lad at the top then throws past the boys with all his force the huge, soft bulb of a large African lily. This bulb is a foot in diameter, and as it goes by the first boy he flings his stick at it. If he fails to pierce it the next boy, quick as lightning, throws, too, and if he fails, the next one tries it, and so on until one of them sends his stick into the heart of the bulb, and as a reward he is allowed to go higher in the line, displacing the boy above him.

Though they consider it a great hardship to be obliged to chase the birds from their father's crops, the boys will pursue them from bush to bush and from tree to tree, until they actually tire their game out, when they knock the birds on the head and kill them. If a Zulu boy were told to put salt on a bird's tail he would not find it such a very difficult feat.

When the young Zulu has become tired or heated from other sports he runs to the nearest river, into which he dives. It is not necessary for him to stop to take off his clothes, because he never wears any, and at such a time he must find it very convenient. Zulu boys have been in the water so much from their very infancy that they seem almost as much at home in it as the fish themselves. Many of their strokes in swimming differ greatly from ours, and they are able to make headway against the swiftest and strongest river currents. This is very necessary, because the South African rivers all flow swiftly and there are few opportunities for still-water bathing.

They are especially proud of the length of time that they are able to remain underneath the water, and they learn to swim with their shoulders. They do not use their arms at all, but simply call into play the powerful muscles of their little backs. —Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Youths' Ambition in Mexico.

In Mexico it is the ambition of every youth to become a bull-fighter. In their plays boys there mimic the bull-fighters. They use their shawls as bandoras, stickes as pikes, and a flat piece of wood as a sword. One boy acts as the bull and the others act the parts of the picadores, banderilleros and matadores. When they grow older they participate in amateur bullfights. In the country towns these are common. Blooded bulls are used, but their horns are sawed off, and the lads, rigged out in all the finery of a real matadore, enter the ring, tease the bull, and carry out all the performances except the slaughter. The Government forbids that. At these amateur fights often one of the lads is injured. If he recovers he is a hero; if he dies—oh, well, he was brave.—Augusta Chronicle.

THE PROFIT IN POSTAGE STAMPS.

How Hustling Postmasters About New York Make Money.

"There is one point," said an old inspector of the Postoffice Department, "that has not yet brought out in connection with the consolidation of the smaller postoffices around New York with the New York office. Nevertheless, it is one that by consolidating the smaller postoffices with the larger ones the department expects to do away, to a large extent, at least, with the systematic robbery which it is now unable to prevent. I mean by this the traffic in stamps by which the gross receipts of the smaller offices are swollen to undue proportions and the postmaster's salary correspondingly increased, while the larger offices do the work.

"This practice is carried on around all large cities, but especially in and about New York, and it results in great injustice to the postmaster and the postoffice of New York. As is well known, in the smaller fourth-class offices the postmasters are paid in proportion to the stamps cancelled. In the larger fourth-class offices and the Presidential offices the salary is dependent on the receipts. Take a small office in the neighborhood of New York. The postmaster depends on his cancellations for his revenue. In the same town lives the secretary of a large insurance corporation, who happens to be a personal friend of the postmaster. The latter goes to the secretary and explains that his salary is dependent on the cancellation of stamps, and says that it would be very easy for the secretary to bring down at night, on his way home from his office, all or a large part of the letters of the company which are to go in the night mail. Instead of depositing them in the office at New York, or in one of the stations, sub-stations or letter boxes, where they will do no good, why not mail them in the smaller office and thereby help a friend? The Government loses nothing and the friend gains. So, as an act of friendship the secretary often consents, and the postmaster of the suburban town is enabled to report a large amount of cancellations, and is paid accordingly.

"When the pay depends on the gross receipts another course is pursued. Instead of bringing the letters out from town the obliging friend is requested to purchase his stamps at the office and mail his letters in New York. In this way the receipts are swollen and the salary of the postmaster expanded in proportion.

"In other cases the suburban postmaster is a commuter, and has an office in the city. Here he makes friends with those in charge of large corporations and requests them to purchase from him the stamps they require, offering to deliver them on the premises. This is frequently done, the postmaster bringing into town every day several thousand stamps and selling them to the large firms and corporations. Of course the more he sells the larger his salary, and he is usually very industrious. The evil does not stop here. Sometimes the secretary does not prove so obliging or the corporation is not friendly to the postmaster. It then becomes a matter of business, which means a split in the commissions. The postmaster offers to divide his salary, or rather pays a commission on each letter mailed at his office by the representative of the concern. Where a firm is sending out a thousand letters a day this soon becomes a matter of considerable profit to both the postmaster and the obliging friend; or else the postmaster offers a small reduction on the stamps. As he is paid for selling them he can afford to sacrifice a part of the profit, and by selling ten or twenty thousand stamps in a lump he can put the price down considerably. Even if the firm saves only a few dollars, it is a reduction it could not obtain at the general postoffice, and many of the large houses in New York buy all their stamps in this way. There are a hundred concerns in New York, such as wholesale firms, commission houses, insurance, railroad and steamship companies, that use more than a thousand stamps a day, and the saving of a few dollars on each 10,000 means something in the course of the year.

"This business is well known, and there is good reason to believe that some persons in New York are shrewd enough to make a fair living by beating the department, for this is a scheme that can be worked both ways at once. Suppose, for instance, that you are the secretary of a large insurance company, using a thousand stamps a day. The postmaster at your town is paid by the amount of his cancellations. You are on friendly terms with him, as you are with the postmaster of another town near by, who is paid according to his gross receipts. You agree with the first to bring out your mail every evening, and are met by him at the train. With the other you arrange to take six thousand stamps a week, which he delivers at your house in the suburbs or at your office in town. From both you get a commission, from the one for the stamps and from the other for the mailing. Now put the two together and you will find that you are getting at least one-fourth of your stamps for nothing. The stamp bill of your firm is $6,000 a year, and you are receiving $1,500 a year for your trouble. Quite an agreeable addition to the ordinary salary, and you also have the pleasure of knowing that you are helping two friends. As there are many men in New York who are just as wise as you, the department believes that this sort of thing has been going on for years. Of course nothing can be done with the individual, and with the postmaster the department is restricted to a dismissal.

QUICKEST HORSES IN THE WORLD.

The Exploits of Joe and Dan, of the Kansas City Fire Department.

The quickest horses in the world were at one time in Kansas City, at the headquarters of its Fire Department, directly under the office of the chief, George C. Hale. To Mr. Hale's genius, more than to any other factor, the quick horse owed his first development, for Mr. Hale is the inventor of the earliest swinging harness, which made the quick horse possible. When Henry M. Stanley and his wife were in this country they witnessed an exhibition drill of the Kansas City Fire Department. The drill so impressed the visitors that an account of it was published in a London journal, and this English article brought an invitation to Mr. Hale to visit England as the representative of the American fire service at the international fire tournament.

Mr. Hale and a picked corps went to England, taking with them the remarkably quick horses Joe and Dan, and they became world-famous. As the quickest harnessing time of the London fire brigade is one minute seventeen and a half seconds, and the Kansas City horses were harnessed in one and three-quarter seconds, and were out of the engine house in less than eight seconds, there could be no competition. In Kansas City four fine bays were harnessed to the hook-and-ladder truck almost as quickly as even Joe and Dan could jump into their harnesses. It was a pretty sight to see these four well-kept horses spring to their places at the stroke of the gong, and in two or three seconds stand ready to run with the apparatus. Joe was killed by an accident, but Dan, with a new mate, is still in service and as quick as ever.

The record for quickest time from the engine house to the throwing of water on the fire is held by a Kansas City company. In this instance the horses were harnessed, a run of 2,194 feet, a little less than half a mile, was made, and water thrown from the hose in the wonderfully brief time of one minute thirty-one and a half seconds.—F. S. Dellenbaugh in St. Nicholas.

A PROPHETIC CARTOON.

Published in a Spanish Paper February 6, Before the Maine Disaster.

The issue of Blanco y Negro, the best-known of the Spanish illustrated weekly papers, contains the above cartoon. Spain claims that the horrible catastrophe in Havana harbor was due either to unavoidable accident or to carelessness on the part of American seamen in handling explosives. The issue of Jan. 29 of El Correo Espanol, a newspaper of Mexico City, which is the organ of the small but influential Spanish party in that republic, contains a significant article entitled 'Armed Courtesies." it is only a coincidence that a Spaniard in Madrid should have portrayed Uncle Sam in the act of casting explosives into the water, one of which has just burst near the water-line of the Maine, while another Spaniard in the Mexican capital was writing a yelled threat of what might happen to an American vessel in Cuban waters, were it to anchor with any other than a friendly purpose. It is remarkable, however, as a coincidence, and if there were in Spain an organization to correspond with the Mafia of Sicily and Southern Italy, there might be ground for a belief that both publications were inspired by the foreknowledge of a great crime.

THE CARTOON.

Bothered.

"What is the matter?" inquired the friend of the man who was gazing vacantly into space. "You seem troubled."

Stone Soles for Shoes.

An inventor has hit upon a method of putting stone soles on boots and shoes. He mixes a waterproof glue with a suitable quantity of clean quartz sand, and spreads it over the leather sole used as foundation. These quartz soles are said to be very flexible and practically indestructible, and to give the foot a firm hold, even on the most slippery surface.

PARK AVENUE PAVEMENT.

Business Men Are Enthusiastically in Favor of the Improvement.

Considerable interest is being awakened among the business men of this city over the proposition to put down a permanent pavement, probably asaphalt, on Park avenue, between North avenue and Front street. All but two of the abutting property owners are very much in favor of the proposition, and at the special meeting of the Common Council this evening it is thought that some action will be taken on the petition for such an improvement, which was presented at the last meeting. There is no question but what Park avenue needs some sort of a permanent improvement, and asaphalt seems to be about the best thing.

KILLED A MAN A MINUTE.

Private Fontaine of Mississippi Kept This Up for Sixty Minutes.

Lamar Fontaine, of Mississippi, killed sixty men in sixty minutes during the war. He bears a written certificate to this effect from General Robert E. Lee. Now Mr. Fontaine does not care to be called colonel.

It was in the battle of Waterloo Bridge, just below Warrenton, Va., in August, 1862, and immediately before the second battle of Manassas, that General Lee witnessed Fontaine's feat of killing "sixty Yankees in sixty minutes."

Stonewall Jackson, under whom Fontaine served, was flanking Pope. The Confederate sharpshooters had possession of a long frame building, and were pouring death into Pope's ranks, when Lee rode up.

The General had heard of Fontaine's wonderful ability as a marksman, and paid him a visit. A Federal battery was then directed on the sharpshooters.

"Train your glass on No. 1, at gun No. 1," Fontaine said to General Lee, "and you will see him jump up in the air in a minute and another man will have to take his place."

Then he went on and killed sixty men, one after another, each in about a minute, until Lee told him to stop.

"Doesn't your conscience ever hurt you when you do work of this kind?" inquired Lee.

"Why, General," replied Fontaine, "when I enlisted in the army it was with the understanding that I was to kill as many of the enemy as I could. If I had any conscientious scruples against it I would quit the army. Don't you expect us to kill?"

Fontaine served also with Generals Stewart and Johnston. He took part in twenty-seven pitched battles, fifty-eight skirmishes and over a hundred individual skirmishes. He was reputed the best marksman with rifle or revolver in either army.

Fontaine was wounded sixty-seven times and thirteen times his lungs were pierced. Twice his heart was grazed and these scratches caused that organ to be so enlarged that physicians who examine him to-day without knowing his history say that he is in danger of immediate death. But he feels well enough. So often has he been wounded that he cannot remember where he got such and such a scar without consulting the record.

The bloody and amazing incident of the "sixty men in sixty minutes" is very far from being the only astounding one in Fontaine's career. He has had more adventures and more perilous ones than any writer of romance, even Dumas, ever dared attribute to his hero.

He possesses the following startling testimonials from "Stonewall" Jackson:

"I believe that during his service with me as sharpshooter, Lamar Fontaine killed more of the enemy than any company in my command."

A Honeymoon at a Farm House.

It is no longer fashionable for the bridal couples to go to large cities or on a trip to Europe for their wedding journey, says the Indianapolis Journal. The sentimental period must be spent in some country place, a wayside inn or in some quiet old town. A couple who desired to go to a country place near by advertised in a paper that is distributed well over the state for just what they would like in the way of an ideal resort for their honeymoon. Not more than a week or ten days after the advertisement appeared they received a dozen or more answers. Previous to the wedding the husband-to-be visited several of those whose letters read the most invitingly and selected the place he liked the best. The four weeks they spent there were more like a story book than a reality. The rooms were large and airy, the table was exquisite in its cleanliness and the viands that were spread before them were deliciously tempting. A horse and carriage were at their disposal, the river not more than a mile away, and scenery and loafing spots were so plentiful that a new one could be found every day.

Advice in Lieu of Change.

Mr. N., a struggling lawyer in a small town in Ohio, received a call from a farmer who wanted legal advice. Mr. N. took down a much-used volume from his small bookcase, and gave the required advice, for which he charged the modest sum of $3. His client handed him a five dollar bill. With a troubled look Mr. N. took it. He flushed in the face as he passed his fingers nervously through his pockets, and his embarrassment increased as he continued his search among the papers on the desk. "Well," said he, taking down the law book again, and turning over the pages, "I'll give you two more dollars' worth of advice."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

HIS LAUGH HIS FORTUNE.

It Won Him Friends and Discomforted His Enemies.

"Ever hear of a man who made a fortune out of his laugh?" said a guest of the St. Charles to a New Orleans Times-Democrat reporter. "I once knew a man whose laugh was positively his fortune. His name was John D. Adams, and he was a typical steamboatman of Arkansas, and in addition to his steamboating he was a planter of extensive interests, and was connected with other business enterprises. He was the first man to run a steamboat up the Arkansas River, and his name in that State to-day is a synonym for geniality, courage and business success. He was very successful, and his friends used to attribute his success to his wondrous laugh. It was not boisterous, yet loud and was so musical and jolly that one could imagine old Kris Kringle was personified in him. Other river men would say that his laugh got him all the government mail contracts. He would go to Washington, get acquainted with the man who had charge of the contracts, and he, like all of Adam's new acquaintances, would soon come under the infection of his magnetic laugh, and form a genuine admiration for the grizzled old steamboatman.

Amazing tales were told of his courage and his steamboat experiences. On one occasion, when an accident happened to his boat and the passengers became panic-stricken, he calmed them as if by magic by calling them children, and laughing at their fear—his famous laugh compelling confidence and mirth by its very melody and jollity. He even used his laugh when very much angered, but it was of a different character, and death lurked behind it. In a steamboat quarrel with three desperadoes, once, he denounced them with a laughing accompaniment, a cynical, chilling, dangerous kind of a laugh, his eyes glittering like a snake's, and his forefinger on his revolver, ready to dash out the life of the first one who made a move. One of the desperadoes said afterward, in speaking of the occurrence, that he never felt so queerly before in his life. He said he felt as though the very marrow in his bones was being frozen."

COSTLY BALLAST.

Three Carloads of Rich Ore Spread on a Railroad Track.

Five hundred dollar ore is not commonly used for repairing railroad grades, but $40,000 worth was dumped on the Gulf track near the Arkansas River, near Pueblo, a short time ago, says the Denver Post. The ore was in three carloads consigned to the Pueblo smelter from Creede, and was turned over to the Philadelphia smelter because the former plant was undergoing repairs.

A carload of cinders and these three cars of ore were hauled out on the Gulf tracks, and a section foreman, mistaking the entire four for refuse, proceeded to strew it along the right of way. A day or two elapsed before the loss of the ore was discovered, and the excitement that resulted may be readily imagined. When it was found that the ore had been put on high ground and that water had fortunately not reached it and washed it away, the rejoicing of the railroad and smelter men was pleasing to behold. Practically all of the valuable stuff was gathered up and saved.

MONUMENT OF BRICKS.

Unique Building Owned by the United States Government.

"Very few know it, but it is a fact," explained a prominent builder to a Washington Star reporter, "that the Pension Office building is the largest brick building in the world. It has been subjected to much criticism, but it can stand it, for as time passes along there are many things seen about it that escaped notice when it was newer. In all, there are over 10,000,000 bricks in the building.

Gen. Meigs took liberties with bricks that no other architect had ever attempted. He not only used bricks exclusively for the building, but he used them in constructing the stairs throughout the building. In the matter of stair building bricks have often been used for the riser, but the step has always been of iron, wood, slate or stone. In the Pension Office both riser and step are of brick. As a brick building, therefore, pure and simple, it is unique in construction, outside of the fact that it is the largest exclusively brick building in the world."

Puzzles for Naturalists.

One of the most extraordinary puzzles that confront naturalists is the remarkable effect climate, soil food, or surroundings have upon animals. Bull-finches fed on hempseed turn quite black; Belgian horses kept in coal-mines for several years lose their natural coat, and become covered with soft, thick fur like a mole. The Thibet mastiff, who in his native highlands is protected from the cold by heavy wool, loses it on being brought down to the plains.

When you buy a Piano

you naturally want to get the very best possible for the money you are going to pay. That is what we propose to give you. There is no Piano concern in America that sells Pianos as cheaply as we do. An ordinary Piano man will say "I must make a big profit for I only sell a Piano occasionally." We have always said "We make the profit small and thereby stimulate business." It has paid us to do so, for it stands to reason that quarter the profit when you sell ten is better than the whole profit when you only sell one.

Pay us TEN DOLLARS and you can have a Piano at once.

DESTROYED A MENACE TO AMERICAN FLEET.

The Wilmington Sent a Spanish Derelict to the Bottom.

Various Reports of the Destruction—The Schooner, Loaded With Iron and Explosives, Set Adrift in the Track of the Blockaders—A Cuban Messenger Arrives.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

INGENIOUS SPANISH TRICK.

But The Wilmington Soon Put It Out Of the Way.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 17, 1:45 p. m—The Spanish schooner sunk by the Wilmington was an ingenious Spanish scheme to injure the blockading fleet.

The schooner was loaded with old iron and explosives and turned loose in the path of the blockaders with the hope that a collision might take place.

The Wilmington discovered the boat and sunk her with four shots.

A courier with messages from General Gomez left Cuba in an open boat yesterday. He was fired upon by a Spanish gunboat.

The Wilmington chased the Spanish ship and crippled her with one shot.

'TWAS A SPANISH BOAT.

The Spaniards Claimed an American Warship Was Blown Up.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 17, 11:15 a. m.—A despatch from Havana asserts that an American vessel engaged in removing the torpedoes in the harbor at Port Cabanas, forty miles west of Havana, was blown up this morning.

It was reported that the entire crew perished in the accident. The name of the vessel said to be destroyed was not given.

Key West, May 17, 12:15 p. m.—The American vessel which the Spanish reports state was destroyed by a torpedo in Port Cabanas harbor, proves to be a Spanish schooner.

Instead of at Port Cabanas, the explosion took place in the bay near Cardenas, on the other side of Havana. The Spanish schooner was blown up by the United States cruiser Wilmington.

Madrid, May 17, 1:25 p. m.—A despatch from Havana says that a small war vessel was blown up at Cardenas yesterday. Seventeen are reported to have been killed.

The despatch further states that the nationality of the warship is not known.

SENSATION IN ARMY CIRCLES

Merritt's Refusal to Head the Manila Expedition Causes Much Talk.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 17, 1:40 p. m—General Merritt has stirred up a decided sensation in the War Department. The leading officers of the department are unable to make any statement regarding the reasons therefore.

The refusal of General Merritt to lead the expedition to the Philippines unless more regular troops were assigned to his command, has caused much talk.

It seems likely that it will be made the subject of sharp controversy in the department, although none of the officers are prepared to say what action will be taken.

There was an undercurrent of criticism against the department in Washington this morning as a result of this refusal.

Concerning General Merritt's declination, the comment was made that though he should not have made the remarks in public, he was was exactly right in what he said about the character of the forces that should be placed at the disposal of such an expedition.

It is understood that General Merritt wants to command the expedition either to Cuba or to Porto Rico. His name has been mentioned in regard to the latter command.

The sentiment generally expressed in official circles is that the war will last a year.

SPAIN ARMS CUBANS.

They Join the Ranks of the Spanish Volunteers by Thousands.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Kingston, Jamica, May 17, 12:10 p. m—The Spaniards in Havana are preparing to make their last stand. In their efforts to prepare additional military strength, they have been aiding the insurgents.

Refugees that reached this island by the French steamer Fulton from Havana have told some of the details of the present situation at Havana.

Some time ago Governor-General Blanco issued a conscription order forcing into the ranks of the Spanish volunteers all males in Havana and vicinity between the ages of fifteen and forty-five years.

The Cuban Provisional Government has now directed the Cuban sympathizers in the Spanish lines not to try to evade the conscription order.

The refugees say that thousands of the Cubans in Havana are now joining the volunteers. Spain is thus arming its enemies who will be ready to rise when the opportunity comes to strike a telling blow.

Famine prices prevail in Havana according to the stories of these refugees. Eggs are selling at ten cents apiece and the poorest meat at fifty cents a pound. Flour is selling at thirty cents a pound.

These were the prices that prevailed when the Fulton left and the supply was rapidly diminishing. It is believed that they are much higher now.

PHOTOGRAPHED THE FORTS.

Then the Dons Sentenced the Young Canadian To Nine Years' Imprisonment.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Ottawa, Canada, May 17, 1:20 p. m.—The mystery concerning Freeman Halstead, the young Canadian who was reported to have been seized and shot by the Spaniards at San Juan, has been solved.

Young Halstead was at San Juan as correspondent for the London Graphic when it was repoited that he had been arrested.

When the news of Halstead's arrest reached Canada, his adopted parents communicated at once with Mr. Henderson, the member of Parliament from the district in which they lived.

They asked him to bring the case to the attention of the British Government and have it investigated.

Mr. Henderson interviewed Sir Louis Davies at once and the latter proved a sympathetic listener. He took action without delay and cabled to the British Consul at San Juan for information.

Yesterday he received a reply from the British representative at that Spanish port. It stated that Halstead had been arrested for photographing the forts there.

He had been immediately arrested and brought before a court-martial for trial. He was sentenced to nine years imprisonment.

Efforts are being made to interest the imperial authorities in Davies' view of the matter and secure a miti gation of the sentence.

NO ASPHALT FOR SOME TIME TO COME.

Council Discusses Matter of a Permanent Pavement.

PIPES MUST BE LAID FIRST.

THAT MEANS THAT IMPROVEMENT WILL BE DELAYED.

This is Thought Necessary by the Street Committee So That it Will Not be Needed to Tear Up the Thoroughfares to Lay Pipes That Will Soon be Put Down—Councilman Runyon's Plan of Establishing a Fire House in the West End Goes Through—City Officials Invited to Memorial Day Exercises.

The business considered at the adjourned meeting of the City Council held last evening was of more or less importance and all the members were present except Mr. Hetfield, who was unavoidably detained.

Mrs. Vail and other residents of Johns street asked the Council to place two electric lights on that street. The Memorial Detail of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., extended a cordial invitation to the Mayor and Council to occupy a reserved box at Music Hall on Decoration Day. The invitation was accepted. C. W. Potter and others asked the Council to repair Fourth street from Park avenue to New street and establish the proper grade. A bill of $2,502.50 was received from Frank Hubbard for work done in connection with the work of the Martin Act Commissioners, such as making maps and surveys. This amount will eventually come out of the general amount realized from the collection of back taxes.

A communication was received from Mayor Fisk in which he stated that Florence McCarthy, one of the most efficient members of the police force, had resigned to enlist in the regular army. He said that the officer enlisted with his knowledge and approval and he recommended that the officer receive $60 pay for the month of May, and that his place be kept vacant for him until he returns. This action was concurred in by the Council and Mr. Barrows offered a resolution that the officer be given the balance of the year off without pay. The same was adopted.

Corporation Counsel Marsh made a statement concerning certain cases wherein the city is interested. He said that the case of Mrs. Sarah Milliken against the city for damages claimed owing to the proximity of the sewer beds to her property, would come up at the October term of court, as would also the case of Lucy Swan against P. S. Gibson. Regarding the report of the Martin Act Commissioners he said that he would be obliged to argue for the confirmation of the report.

Mr. Barrows made a statement regarding the matter of placing the electric light wires underground. He said that the Corporation Counsel had been very busy during the past few weeks with city matters and had been unable to draw up a suitable ordinance covering the case in question. He hoped to have the matter ready for the next regular meeting of the Council.

Mr. Barrows also reported on the matter of asphalting the streets in the business part of the town. He said that the telephone and electric light wires were yet to go underground and the curb connections to be made. In his opinion and that of the street committee the matter of laying a permanent pavement cannot be considered until this work is accomplished. He said that the Council fully realizes the benefits to be derived from such a move and are anxious to give the taxpayers and property-owners what they deserve. The matter was talked of during the first part of the year and it is the intention of the Council to make as much progress along that line as possible. On a motion offered by Mr. Barrows one crosswalk was ordered laid at the corner of Fourth and Liberty streets, and another at the corner of Plainfield avenue and Eighth street.

Other resolutions offered by Mr. Barrows were to the effect that the sewer bonds reported be filed, and that Monday evening, June 6th, be set as the time when the Council will meet to receive bids for constructing sewers for surface drainage. The plans and specifications are now on file in the City Clerk's office.

Mr. Runyon offered a resolution that an amount not to exceed $5,000 be appropriated for the purchase of a lot and the erection of a firehouse in the western part of the city, and that the fire and building committee be given

TO HELP BUILD A CHURCH

A LARGE FAIR TO BE GIVEN BY CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER.

The Affair Will Continue for Three Days and Will Have Many Pleasant Features to Amuse—Those in Charge.

One of the largest fairs ever held in this city will be opened on Thursday, May 19th, at 8 o'clock at No. 20 Willow avenue under the auspices of the ladies of the Church of the Redeemer. The ladies have had this bazaar in contemplation for some time and the results of their work, will, it is certain, be gratifying to all beholders.

There are six principal booths besides other attractions. On entering the eye of the visitor will surely be attracted by the display of sofa-cushions of all kinds and descriptions, presided over by Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey and Mrs. Frank Brown. Here all styles of pillows from the comfortable hammock cushion to the elaborate drawing room ornament may be procured. Bags are also very much in evidence here, hanging from every possible place and of every conceivable kind.

The doll booth decorated in pink presents a fascinating appearance, and here miniature ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, are seated about in graceful attitudes, tempting the money of the on lookers out of their pockets. Miss Wilson, Miss Barlow, and Miss Frances Phillips are here to attend to the comfort of these small people, and incidentally to take charge of the gains accruing from them.

The fancy table displays all manner of tempting and beautiful articles, and Mrs. Samuel Townsend, the chairman, has a corps of ladies assisting her, among whom are the following: Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. George Dupee and Miss Stevens.

Numberless rare and exquisite articles are on exhibition at the china booth where Mrs. Audsley and the Misses Audsley have charge.

A bower of green and white is the candy booth where the most delicious varieties of that article may be obtained. Here Mrs. Gilbert T. Rhoades with Miss Moore, Miss Josephine Brock and Miss Phillips as aides, supply the wants of the purchaser.

The lemonade booth is also in tempting proximity and is a charming picture. Mrs. Frank Bowley and Mrs. Demarest preside here, while Miss Virginia Hegeman, Miss Dora Waring and Miss Elizabeth Curtis hand glasses of the refreshing beverage.

Last but not least comes the refreshment room, where the visitor may enjoy a most delicious meal at a moderate price. Mrs. J. O. Stevens, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Faber, Jr., Miss Davis, Mrs. Henry R. Phillips, Mrs. Brock and Mrs. Webb look after the comfort of the guests, while young ladies attired patriotically in red, white and blue serve the appetizing viands. Old Glory is prominently displayed about the supper room and the tasteful decorations are pleasing to the eye.

Grab-bags are also centers of attraction, and here articles of various degrees of value may be obtained by the payment of a small sum. Miss Clapp has charge of these entertaining features.

Visitors will all find amusement and pleasure at the bazaar which will continue through the afternoons and evenings of Friday and Saturday, May 20th and 21st. No admission fee will be charged. The proceeds of the fair will be devoted to the building fund of the parish.

HUNTERSTON OPENS TOMORROW.

Under New Management it Has Been Fitted With Many New Things.

The Hotel Hunterston at Netherwood, under the management of Messrs. Webb & Morrison, opens tomorrow for the season. The hotel has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, fitted up with new carpets, rugs, furniture, etc., and is in first-class condition. The plumbing has been done under sanitary inspection, which has delayed the work a little, but by tomorrow everything will be in first-class order and ready for the guests.

The new managers have had considerable experience in conducting summer hotels, and have been in most all the prominent summer resorts in the northern States, which insures their success in the new venture. They have taken a five-years' lease of the hotel, and expect to run it through all seasons.

A special feature is the cafe, which is removed from the bar room, and where wheelmen and coaching parties can get anything a la carte all day long. The manager has already booked thirty five families, and more are expected by the first of the week.

PLUCKY LITTLE NATION.

WELL-KNOWN HISTORIAN DESCRIBES THE CAREER OF HOLLAND.

Closing Lecture of the Present Season for the Monday Afternoon Club Delivered by William Elliott Griffis.

The club year of the Monday Afternoon Club closed yesterday afternoon with a lecture on "The Holland of Today," delivered by William Elliott Griffis, the well-known historian, in Casino of the Union County Country Club. Mr Griffis might well be considered an authority on the subject of Holland; one of his best known books is "Brave Little Holland, and What She Taught Us," which has interested many readers in the plucky little Nation by the sea.

A Nation's present can only be explained by its past, and a considerable part of Mr. Griffis' lecture was devoted to a study of the causes which have made Holland what she is today. The long wars with Spain were described, and then the speaker dwelt with admiration upon the determination and perseverance shown by the Hollanders.

A picture of the little queen, Wilhelmina, had been placed on a stand near the lecturer, and he called attention to the many excellent qualities possessed by the young sovereign, and the warm love borne for her by her subjects. Wilhelmina, he added, comes of a race not only great, but good as well.

The odd costumes of the people, and especially the ponderous head-dress worn by the peasant women, were described, and stories told of their origin. Mr. Griffis spoke warmly in praise of the beautiful home-life general among the Hollanders, and of the influence the love of home and native land have had in the history of the country.

The wonderful excellence of the art of Holland was of course spoken of at length by Mr. Griffis. In painting nature and home-life, the Dutch painters cannot be excelled.

As a lecturer, Mr. Griffis is a pleasant, easy, informal speaker. With a bright, original manner of expression, and many little touches of humor, he easily held the pleased attention of his audience, and made the final gathering of Plainfield's largest woman's club a delightful ending to a year of absorbing and successful work.

AN ANNOYING WRECK.

TWO CARS BLOCKED THE EAST BOUND TRACK FOR THREE HOURS.

They Were Being Switched to Scott Press Works When They Jumped the Rails—East Bound Trains Were Delayed.

A small wreck occurred on the Central Railroad early this morning near the Berckman street crossing in this city which delayed travel over the road for three hours and caused some inconvenience to the trainmen.

About 5:50 this morning freight train No. 469, east bound, drawn by engine No. 401, Conductor Lucker, was crossing over from track No. 1 to No. 3 to put a loaded freight car on Scott's switch. While bumping along over the switches one of the cars jumped a frog and left the track, carrying a gondola with it. The east bound trains switched over here to track No. 2, and were a little late getting into New York. The damage to the freight car was slight, and the wreck was cleared away by 8:30 o'clock.

A May Walk.

A pleasant May walk was given last Saturday by Miss Deborah Winn and Miss May Walls, of the borough. Among those in the party were Miss Marion Pierson, Miss Helen Pierson, Miss Mabel McGee, Miss Leontine Huntsman, Miss Bertha Hill, Miss Jessica Hill, Miss Anna Marquardt, Miss Henietta Winn and Wm. McGee, Norman Hill and Wm. Pierson.

Walter Thompson, of East Third street, went to Sea Girt yesterday to enlist in the army.

IT WAS SMITH DAY IN SOMERSET COUNTY.

The High Mogul of the Family Was on Trial.

AN ECHO OF THE BIG PIGNIC.

PHOTOGRAPHER REGER DIDN'T OBEY ORDERS QUICK ENOUGH.

The Photographer Wanted to Take the Pictures of Some of the Smiths, But Isiah, the President and Patriarch, Said Nay, and Then Forcibly Removed the Offending Photographer From the Picnic Grounds—The Result Was a Suit and Damages for Reger—Case Heard on Appeal By Judge Bartine.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 17—The Somerset county court yesterday echoed an incident of the famous Smith picnic at Peapack, up in the hills of Somerset, last August, which served as a magnet to draw upwards of a hundred Smiths to the tribunal of justice.

The Smith family reunion is one of the great features that annually occur in New Jersey, and the event is attended by members of that family name that range from plain every day folks to United States senators and college professors. The re-union is under the direction of the Smith Association, of which Isiah Smith is president and patrairch. Naturally there are a large number of Smiths who attend the re-union that are easy game for all sorts of fraudlent schemes, and as a result fakirs mix up pretty freely with the Smiths when they meet at Peapack. One of the supreme duties of the president of the Smith Association is to ferret out these fakirs and thus preserve the temper and morals of the great and glorious family. It was while engaged in what he considered this duty that Isiah became involved in trouble that resulted in his appearance as a defendant in Somerset court yesterday.

Henry Reger is a photographer living in Raritan. In the Smith reunion he espied a chance for a day's profitable business, as the Smiths are great for having their pictures "took" on occasions when they gather for a good time. Consequently Reger took his outfit and a tent to the scene of the Smith festivities that August morning. He erected his tent at a favorable location and was about to begin business when Isiah Smith cast his eagle eye over the landscape and saw the operation which Reger was to engage in. It is one of the unwritten laws of the Smith family reunion that no pictures shall be "took" by itinerant photographers, and President Smith immediately proceeded to Reger's tent and commanded him to pull stakes and decamp. Smith insisted that he had temporary authority over the land on which the tent was erected, and when Reger made no move to go, Smith tore down the tent and grabbing Reffer by the seat of the trousers soon had him a standing dejectedly in the road. In the scuffle that took place a lamp in Reger's dark room was overturned and set fire to the tent and material and a portion of it was consumed.

A few days after the picnic, Smith was made a defendant in a suit for damages by Reger. Reger was represented by Miss Mary V. Steele, the second woman lawyer in New Jersey, and after an exciting trial secured a verdict in his favor. Smith appealed to the county court and yesterday the case was heard by Judge Bartine, during which many Smiths were sworn.

At the conclusion of the testimony Judge Bartine said that evidently Smith had used undue force in ejecting Reger from the sight of the picnic, as there was no need to choke a man and burn his outfit to accomplish his removal. Judge Bartine, however, reserved his decision until a later date. In the meantime the Smiths of New Jersey are much concerned to learn what the outcome of the contention will be, as it will have an important bearing on how order at Smith picnics in the future is going to be maintained.

A Faithful Servant Gone.

The death of Julia Bannon, aged fifty-two years, occurred yesterday at 440 West Eight street. For twenty-five years she was a faithful servant and friend in the home of J. Evarts Tracy, and she was highly esteemed for her many excellent qualities. The funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Opposition to Martin Act.

Much progress is being made by the opponents to the findings of the Martin Act Commissioners. There is still an opportunity for those interested to join in the opposition.

THE INVASION OF CUBA

An Overwhelming Force Will Be Sent Immediately.

BLANCO IN SORE STRAIGHTS

With the Blockade Maintained Spanish Ammunition Would Soon Give Out—The President Will Likely Issue a Second Call for Troops.

Washington, May 17.—It can be stated on the authority of a Cabinet officer that the object of the new concentration order issued by the War Department is to arrange for the immediate occupation of Cuba as soon as reports shall have been received that the Spanish ships now in the Caribbean Sea have been destroyed.

To this end and owing to the fact that 30,000 troops will be sent to Manila, it is expected that the President will soon issue a second call for volunteers.

President McKinley has said rather sharply that he does not want to lose another opportunity to invade Cuba. When the moment arrives at least 60,000 American soldiers will be ready to pour into the island. This allotment will be augmented by 20,000 more, if, in the meantime Gen. Miles considers the increase necessary.

Havana will not be struck with a feeble blow. The attack upon the city as now planned will be sharp and terrific.

Ten million rations will be stored at Tampa before the middle of the week.

Blanco Short of Powder.

The Administration has reliable information that Blanco is short of powder and shot. With his present supply he could not maintain a fight for two days.

Making Ready at Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., May 17.—Final preparations are making on the transports at Port Tampa for the departure of an expedition. The little coast steamboat Tarpon is bringing water daily from St. Petersburg. It is being stored on the transports in big casks. A large force of men was engaged this morning in carrying provisions on board.

What Senator Hanna Says.

Cleveland, May 17.—In an interview here Senator Hanna says that every soldier who has been at Columbus will be rushed to Cuba as soon as Rear Admiral Sampson has destroyed the Spanish fleet. He says it would require 50,000 men to occupy Cuba, and that it is costing the Government $1,000,000 a day to prosecute the war even at the present stage.

The Volunteer Army.

Washington, May 17.—Seventy thousand volunteers have now been mustered into the service of the United States Government, and the larger part of these are ready to start immediately for the mobilizing point. A great many are already on their way, and from now on there will be a steady stream of soldiers traveling across the country and toward the Gulf, until the entire movement has been completed.

Assignment of New York Soldiers.

Washington, May 17.—The Sixty-fifth Regiment, of Buffalo, will come to Washington for camp life. The Ninth, Twelfth and Fourteenth, all of New York City, are to go to Chickamauga.

THE TERM OF ENLISTMENT.

Men May Be Mustered Out of Service at the End of the War.

New York, May 17.—The question as to the term of enlistment of recruits in the regular army has been settled by official communication as follows:

"General order, No. 40, War Department, U. S. A., May 10, 1898, authorizes recruiting officers to inform men enlisting or re-enlisting for the regular army that they may be discharged at end of war on their individual application.

"F. A. WHITNEY,
"Recruiting Officer, U. S. A."

This will be an important factor in obtaining recruits for the regular army, a branch of the work which the post recruiting stations are now giving their special attention. A man who enlists in the regular army now has the assurance that he can be mustered out of service at the end of the war by making a personal application for his discharge.

POLO WILL GET OUT.

Is Going to Leave Canada, but Not, He Says, Under Compulsion.

Montreal, May 17.—Senor Polo y Bernabe, late Spanish Minister at Washington, announced to-day that he would leave Canada on Saturday for Madrid by way of England. He says that he is not going because any compulsion has been used in the matter by the Imperial Government at the request of the United States, but because he is now ready to depart. He had hoped to get away last Saturday, but for certain reasons he could not.

Ohio Naval Reserves for Sampson.

Cleveland, May 17.—Acting Adjutant Gen. Kingsley, of the Ohio Naval Reserves, has been instructed by the Navy Department to arrange for the mustering in of two hundred men from the reserves. Engineers and seamen are especially wanted. The men will be assigned to Admiral Sampson's fleet.

The Ohio Naval Reserve consists at present of about 336 men and 24 officers. There are two battalions of two divisions each. The First Battalion is located at Toledo and the Second in Cleveland.

First New Jersey Gets Orders.

Camp Voorhees, Sea Girt, May 17.—Orders were received here for the immediate transfer of the First Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, to Washington. That the other regiments will be removed in accordance with instructions already given out there is little doubt.

The First Regiment is from Newark and musters the full legal quota. It is now commanded by Col. Edward A. Campbell. Full rations and equipments are being rapidly prepared. The regiment will probably leave to-night or to-morrow morning.

SULLIVAN THE VICTOR.

Defeats Sam Kelly at the Lenox Athletic Club Upon the Twentieth Round.

New York, May 17.—Last night saw the resumption of boxing in Greater New York at the Lenox Athletic Club. For months the sports had been awaiting this event, and every one in that line was present.

The drawing card was the twenty round bout between the featherweights, Tommy Kelly and Dave Sullivan.

The attendance when the principal bout was called was nearly 7,000.

Sullivan and Kelly entered the ring at 10.20. Sullivan's seconds were Jack Sullivan, Dan Donovan and Mike Gallagher. Kelly's seconds were Paddy Morgan, Tom West and Larry Burns.

The announcer said the original agreement was 118 pounds, to weigh in at 3 p. m. on the day of the fight.

When the men met Sullivan weighed in at 124 pounds, but Kelly was willing to proceed with the contest, notwithstanding the disparity of weights. Jimmy Dime, of Troy, was introduced as referee.

Sullivan was declared the winner in the twentieth round. Honors were easy throughout.

HETTY GREEN ASKED TO PAY.

Suit for $50,000 Begun by Her Former Lawyer.

New York, May 17.—The trial of the action brought by William H. Stayton, a lawyer, to recover $50,000 from Mrs. Hetty Green for legal services rendered her, was commenced yesterday, before Justice Bookstaver, in the Supreme Court.

Stayton claims that for nearly six years he acted as counsel for Mrs. Green, but says she refused to pay him for his services. He is represented in this suit by former District Attorney Delancey Nicol.

Mrs. Green, for whom Wheeler H. Peckham appears, denies that she is indebted to Stayton to any extent whatsoever.

Mrs. Green occupied a seat near the lawyer, and took deep interest in the proceedings in court. She wore a black beaded velvet cape and a bonnet trimmed with red velvet, and a large boutonniere of violets on her breast.

Telegraph Censorship in Force.

New York, May 17.—News concerning the movements of the American Army and Navy is not gaining much of a circulation outside the United States just at present, owing to the efforts of the Government officers. They do not want Spain to learn anything about any of our forces, and are taking care that nothing concerning them goes over the cables.

Gen. Greely, Chief Signal Officer, who has charge of the w[illegible] eral censorship in [illegible] offices, and by his order [illegible] messages are held up as soon as presented.

Merritt May Stay at Home.

New York, May 17.—It is more than likely that Major Gen. Wesley Merritt will not go to Manila. Yesterday he said that he had informed the Secretary of War of his unwillingness to go with the command that he had understood was to be assigned to him. He belives the command not only inadequate, to his rank in the army, but entirely inadequate for the duty which it will have to perform.

Porto Rico Cut Off.

New York, May 17.—The Central cable office of the Western Union Telegraph Company announces that the Spanish Government of Porto Rico has prohibited the transmission of all messages to or from the United States.

The Cuban Blockade.

Madrid, May 17.—The Government announces that the blockade of Cuba cannot be recognized as effective, and hopes that the European powers and the States of Central and South America will refuse to recognize it.

Fleet Had to Leave Curacao.

London, May 17.—Advices just received here say that the Spanish warships left Curacao on Sunday at the request of the Dutch officers.

Admiral Cervera has touched at points where he could communicate with Madrid by cable. There is a cable station at Martinique and one at Curacao.

Seven persons were burned to death yesterday at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, including three nuns and Mrs. Dr. Chagnon, of Fall River, Mass. Five other persons are missing.

A BATTLE IMMINENT

Every Move of Spanish Ships Known to Our Fleets.

CLASH LIKELY ANY TIME

The Government Withholds News of Naval Movements from Correspondents, but Other Sources Are Drawn Upon, and the Public Is Kept Well Informed.

Washington, May 17.—Secretary Long has issued his threatened order to cut off all newspaper men from getting news except by official bulletin from himself. Naval officers all over the department have been forbidden to give out news or even talk to newspaper men. The officers are fretting somewhat under the imputation that they cannot be relied upon, and resent the official order forbidding them to talk to newspaper men or visitors.

The Navy Department is guarding most jealously the movements of our fleets. Commodore Schley and his Flying Squadron are at sea. Admiral Sampson is somewhere off the Haitien coast, presumably making his way through the Windward Passage into the Caribbean Sea.

This morning's dispatches indicate that it is expected that Admiral Sampson, if he has time, will go through the Windward Passage and take a position at the south entrance, which would enable his scouting vessels to give him warning if the Spanish fleet made for this passage, or if it turned toward Porto Rico through the Mona Passage. It is also the hope of the department that it may be possible for Commodore Schley to reach Cuban waters early enough to guard the Yucatan Passage at the west end of Cuba.

To Surround the Spaniards.

If Schley succeeds in reaching the latter location before the appearance of the enemy, and Admiral Sampson gets into the Caribbean Sea ahead of the Spanish fleet, it is calculated that the vessels of these two fleets will be so distributed as to keep the Spanish hemmed in from all forward movement, leaving open to them the alternative of engaging our fleet or retreating to Martinique. The department is proceeding on the assumption that the Spanish fleet is bound for Cuba, and has no intention of going to Porto Rico, both the Sampson and Schley fleets being sent to Cuban waters.

Swift scouts patrol the Caribbean Sea on the lookout for the enemy's ships. Should they sail around the western end of Cuba for Havana, there is Schley's squadron.

Should they strike for Havana by the eastern end of the island, by the Windward Passage, there is Admiral Sampson to intercept them.

Should they seek the southern coast of Cuba—there are the scouts to discover them and notify Sampson.

The main purpose is to prevent the enemy's fleet from reaching Havana. Once the Spanish fleet had connected with the powerful modern fortifications at Havana, and where the torpedo destroyers could operate to better advantage, the problem of destroying the Spaniards would have been more difficult.

As the several fleets are now located, according to the best report, it would be practically impossible to prevent the Spanish fleet at Curacao from forming a junction with the other Spanish vessels, if there are any at Martinique, and proceeding to San Juan.

News from the Oregon.

The Navy Department has been informed of the whereabouts of the Oregon, and has also heard news from the Spanish fleet, but nothing official has been given out.

The Oregon, however, is known to be out of harm's way.

NEW ARMY COMMANDERS.

Gen. Graham to Command First Corps at Falls Church, Va.

Washington, May 17.—The President, Secretary Alger and Adjutant Gen. Corbin have selected officers to command the seven corps into which the army is to be divided.

The First Corps, at Falls Church, Va., will be commanded by Major Gen. William Graham, now commanding the Department of the Gulf, with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.; Major Gen. James H. Wilson will have command of the Sixth Corps, at Chickamauga, and Major Gen. Fitzhugh Lee will command the Seventh Corps, also at Chickamauga.

The other corps assignments have been provisionally made, but will not be announced until finally decided upon. The vacancy in command of the Department of the East, with headquarters at New York, caused by the appointment of Major Gen. Merritt as Governor General of the Philippines, will be temporarily filled by Brig. Gen. R. T. Frank, formerly colonel of the First Artillery and commander of the artillery school at Fort Monroe.

Brig. Gen. Francis L. Guenther has been assigned to temporary command of the troops concentrated at Washington for the purpose of organization.

SPAIN'S MANILA VICTORY?

It Was Elaborately and Officially Celebrated at Cienfuegos.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—Advices from Cienfuegos, Cuba, say the Spaniards at that place attended the chanting of a Te Deum at the principal church there in celebration of the "news" circulated by the Spanish Government to the effect that the Spanish forces had been "victorious" at Manila. When the first "news" was received at Cienfuegos from Madrid all the bells in the city were rung, and Gen. Pando, who was then there, and his staff, attended the Church of St. Sulpice in full uniform. In addition, a ration of wine was served out to the soldiers, and, though the American blockading ships were outside the harbor and meat costing two pesetas a pound, the city was gay and rejoiced at the announced "success" of the Spanish arms. Since then, however, ugly rumors of the defeat of the Spaniards have been in circulation; but, "officially," Spain has won a "victory" in the Philippine Islands.

HARVARD'S DELAYED DISPATCHES.

French Manager at Fort de France Says Capt. Cotton Used the English Cable to Washington.

Fort de France, Martinique, May 17.—The manager here of the French Cable Company explicitly denies the statement that a dispatch filed by Capt. Cotton, of the United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard, was delayed twenty-four hours at St. Pierre, this island. The manager explains the matter as follows:

"Capt. Cotton presented himself at the office of the company at St. Pierre and asked by what cable line cable messages were transmitted to Washington. When he was informed that such messages went by way of Fort de France and Hayti he refused to give us his dispatch because a Spanish torpedo boat was at that moment at Fort de France, and not taking into account professional secrecy, he told the American Consul, in the presence of M. Lalung, that, under these conditions, he preferred to give his dispatches to the English company, in spite of the delay of twenty-four hours which they would have to submit to on account of the accumulation of business on the lines of that company."

VICTORY FOR GOMEZ.

He Compels the Spaniards to Relinquish Forts and Retreat.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—In an engagement seven leagues from Cienfuegos last Monday Gen. Gomez defeated 1,600 Spanish troops and compelled the Spaniards to retire to the city.

The Spanish were also obliged to abandon the minor outer fortifications, and they notified the neighboring planters that they must protect themselves.

A fortnight ago Gen. Menocal passed Cienfuegos with 2,000 troops from Puerto Principe and Santa Clara on the way to invade Havana Province and co-operate in the protection of the American landing party.

Gen. Gomez is undoubtedly in possession of the Jucaro-Moron trocha, the most important one near Cienfuegos, as all the Spanish troops guarding it were recently withdrawn.

AMERICAN REPORTERS HELD.

Blanco Would Not Exchange the Two Newspaper Men.

Key West, May 17.—Lieut. Brainard, who took the auxiliary tug Uncas to Cuba under a flag of truce to secure the release of the scout Charles E. Thrall, and the artist, Hayden Jones, returned this morning. The plan fell through.

The Uncas entered Havana flying a flag of truce.

Her commander saw Blanco's aide, who said he had no authority to release Jones and Thrall without an application from the American Secretary of War or State. This the Uncas came back to obtain.

A cable message from Jones received here says he is comfortable. The circumstances permit of their being treated well.

CONNECTICUT TROOPS SLOW.

No Volunteers from That State Have Yet Been Mustered In.

Washington, May 17.—The slowness with which Connecticut is making up its quota of State troops has caused some remark at the War Department. Differences of opinion among the State authorities have arisen, and the result of this and other causes is that no soldiers have been mustered at Niantic, and not more than one-half of the required quota has even been passed upon by the mustering officer.

Representative Sperry and Col. Burpee, of the Second, called on the Secretary of War this morning for a conference. The Second is said to be entirely equipped for field service and the men are eager to go to the war.

Bitter Against Consul McGarr.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—The American refugees from Cienfuegos who came away from that place by the Adula have been released from quarantine. They reiterate the statement that Consuls McGarr and Casanova left, without notifying the residents of their departure, on the Beverley.

An English passenger on the Adula says McGarr "acted the part of a cowardly scoundrel." He came to the British Consul, Mr. Fowler, and said the Beverley's departure was a State secret and he must not let out what her mission was.

"He gave no notification to Americans, more than 150 of whom remained behind, who did not know what the vessel came for.

"Persons who knew and applied were allowed to go, but the majority did not know the vessel's object until after her departure."

Doubt a Second Fleet.

Washington, May 17.—The Navy Department takes with great allowance the report that the Spanish strategists have succeeded in sending a second squadron, under Admiral Villamil, to the West Indies, and that it also is off Martinique. Even if the alleged information did not bear the suspicious earmark of a Madrid date, the department would not be surprised to hear that Admiral Villamil, as well as Admiral Cervera, was with the Spanish force in the Caribbean Sea. The fact that the report came from Madrid satisfies the officials here that this is another Spanish ruse to centre our attention on Martinique, while their ships have passed westward.

Funeral of Ensign Bagley.

Raleigh, N. C., May 17.—The body of Ensign Worth Bagley reached here yesterday and was borne on the shoulders of a detachment of six men to the home of his mother. Along the route from Jacksonville handsome floral designs were presented.

The body lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol upon three gun cases covered with flowers. The capitol and all public buildings and stores were draped in mourning. Immense crowds viewed the body.

After funeral services in Capitol square, conducted by Dr. Daniel, of the Presbyterian Church, the body was laid to rest in the family plot at Oakwood Cemetery. The funeral procession was nearly three miles long.

THE COST OF THE WAR

Secretary Sherman Going to Alaska for His Health.

WILL RAISE SPANISH SHIPS

One Hundred and Sixty-five Millions Estimated as Required for the Volunteers a Year, and Seventy-six Millions for the Navy—The Senate Considers.

Washington, May 17.—Yesterday in the Senate, Mr. Allison (Rep., Ia.) estimated that the War Revenue bill as reported to the Senate by the Finance Committee would, independent of the Democratic amendments, produce $150,000,000 in annual revenue, and that the Democratic amendments would, if incorporated in the act, increase the amount to the extent of $75,000,000.

Mr. Allison said that Secretary Alger thought the war would cost for one year $165,000,000 for the army and volunteers. The Secretary of the Navy, for the same period, wanted $76,000,000.

This, Mr. Allison said, does not include the $35,000,000 already appropriated for war deficiency, the $50,000,000 for emergency defense, the $47,000,000 in the Navy Appropriation bill, or the $22,000,000 in the Naval Deficiency bill, pending in the house, making nearly $300,000,000 needed for war purposes. Even this was below the actual necessities, and did not include the cost of sending 15,000 men to the Philippines.

DEWEY WILL RAISE SPANISH SHIPS.

He Has Asked the Department for Wrecking Apparatus.

Washington, May 17.—The cable received by the President from Admiral Dewey was much longer than made public. The Admiral, after announcing that he was perfectly satisfied with the condition at Manila and was able to take care of himself, gave a long list of things which were necessary for him to have. He also stated that if wrecking apparatus were sent him he would be able to raise a number of the Spanish warships sunk during the battle. The Admiral thinks that there are several of the gunboats which can be easily be raised, repaired and made useful.

In view of this, the War Department has been hastening the preparations to dispatch the transports now on the Pacific coast to Manila, and they are expected to leave San Francisco by Thursday.

It is said at the Quartermaster General's office that the City of Pekin, with over 1,000 men aboard, will leave on Thursday. Brig. Gen. Otis is expected to go with the first detachment of troops for the Philippines, to be followed by Gen. Merritt, who is to be the commander in chief of the expedition and the Military Governor of the islands.

Gen. Miles has recommended to the President that two additional brigadiers also be sent, but their names have not yet been announced.

John Sherman Going to Alaska.

Cleveland, May 17.—In an interview here to-day, Senator Hanna said that ex-Secretary of State John Sherman will go to Alaska for his health about June 1.

COALING AT ST. THOMAS.

Fuel Not to Be Delivered Without the Governor's Permission.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 17.—An official announcement just issued by the Governor of the Island of St. Thomas prohibits the delivery of coal to the warships of the belligerent powers without the permission of the Governor, who will determine the amount each vessel can receive, and who will supervise its delivery.

The British steamer Twickenham, which arrived here with a cargo of coal, has cleared. Destination unknown.

The Yale returned here yesterday and is now awaiting orders.

Shot at Spaniards.

Key West, May 17.—The Government tug Osceola reports that while cruising along the Cuban coast with the torpedo boat Ericsson on Friday afternoon they saw a large body of Spanish soldiers patrolling the shore about eight miles west of Havana.

Both boats sent in a fusillade of shots which scattered the troops. It is not known whether any of the soldiers were killed.

The Spaniards did not return the fire.

Wainwright Gets a Cruiser.

Washington, May 17.—The auxiliary cruiser Gloucester, formerly the steam yacht Corsair, was commissioned yesterday in command of Lieut. Richard Wainwright, who was executive officer of the battleship Maine at the time of the Havana harbor disaster. The vessel is now at the yards of the Quintard Iron Works, where she has been undergoing alterations for the past three weeks.

Alabama to Be Launched To-morrow

Philadelphia, May 17.—It only wants one day now to the launching at Cramps' ship yard, on the Delaware River, of the new battleship Alabama, which, if the calculating prophecies of experts are to be verified, will be the most puissant fighting machine of a navy that is to have a world wide power.

Precautions in the Canaries.

Liverpool, May 17.—The telegraph office at the island of Grand Canary, near the centre of the Canary Islands, the chief city of which is Las Palmas, has been seized by the Spanish authorities. All telegrams, except the barest commercial messages, have been stopped.

Senators Have Military Friends.

Washington, May 17.—Almost a quorum of the Senate visited the President to-day. Military appointments formed the general tenor of their remarks. They tender the services of enough officers to lead 780,000 men.

The Oregon Safe.

Key West, May 17.—It can be stated on authority that the Oregon is not coming North over the regular route, and that if the Spanish fleet is looking for the battleship it will not catch her.

Why is it that nearly all aged persons are thin?

And yet, when you think of it, what could you expect?

Three score years of wear and tear are enough to make the digestion weak. Yet the body must be fed.

In Scott's Emulsion, the work is all done; that is, the oil in it is digested, all ready to be taken into the blood. The body rests, while the oil feeds and nourishes, and the hypophosphites makes the nerves steady and strong.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

SPANISH WAR POLICY.

Changes in the Cabinet Mean More Active Hostilities.

Madrid, May 17.—Senor Moret, the Minister for the Colonies, confirmed the statement that any changes made in the composition of the Cabinet would be wholly in the direction of a more active war policy. He said:

"Recent events have greatly increased the war spirit of the nation, and the greatest reliance is placed upon Admiral Cervera's squadron and upon the skill of the Spanish Admiral. The latter is not hampered by instructions, and the details of his plans are not even known to the Ministers."

Senor Sagasta this afternoon visited the palace and formally handed to the Queen Regent the resignation of the Ministry.

The Queen Regent charged Senor Sagasta to form a new Cabinet. The Premier will confer with the presidents of the Chambers and with Senor Gamazo.

A communication has been sent to the Cabinets announcing the Cabinet crisis and asking them to suspend their sessions, pending a solution. Senor Sagasta believes the new Ministry will be formed by Wednesday next.

Orders have been issued by Senor Sagasta countermanding the reception which was to have been held to-day upon the occasion of the King's birthday, and he has instructed the Captains General in all districts not to hold their usual reception.

Capt. Gen. Blanco, in a dispatch from Havana, officially reiterates the Spanish version of the so called fight between the Spanish gunboats Conde de Venadito and Nueva Espana and vessels of the American blockading fleet. He claims the two gunboats engaged five American ships and forced the latter to retreat, adding:

"I obtained the results desired, namely, to attract as many of the enemy's ships as possible. Yesterday morning there were only three here, and now there are eleven."

Admiral Camara, the commander of the Spanish reserve squadron at Cadiz, has been recalled here to confer with the Ministers respecting his intended operations.

The newspapers express fear that a secret Anglo-American alliance already exists.

Went Down in Collision.

Liverpool, May 17.—The Norwegian steamer Klondike, from Antwerp, was docked here yesterday with her bows badly damaged. The captain of the Klondike reports that on Saturday night, off Point Lynas, on the northern coast of Wales, his vessel was in collision with the British steamer Benholm, bound for Cardiff.

The captain says the Benholf was so badly damaged that she soon foundered and that twelve of her crew, including the master, went down with her. Nine of those on board the Benholm were rescued and brought to Liverpool by the Klondike.

Pennsylvania Governorship.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 17.—A dispatch from Avalon, N. J., where Senator Quay is spending a few days at State Senator Becker's cottage, says that after a conference with State Chairman Elkin, Senator Durham and other Republican leaders, the Senator pledged himself anew to the candidacy of William A. Stone for Governor.

State Chairman Elkin stated that Mr. Stone was sure to be nominated. He said 301 of the 362 delegates have been elected, and of this number he claimed 167 are for Stone. Of the 61 yet to be elected, he said 37 would be for Stone.

Princeton Gets $100,000.

New York, May 17.—By the terms of her will, filed in the Surrogate's office for probate, Annie S. Paton leaves $100,000 to Princeton University and $50,000 to the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital, of this city.

Mrs. Paton died at her late residence, No. 15 West Nineteenth street, on May 10 last. Her will was executed on June 25, 1897. The petition places the value of the real property at $40,000. The value of the personal property is not known.

Mrs. Cody to Be Tried in June.

Albany, May 17.—Mrs. Margaret E. Cody, charged with blackmail by the Gould heirs in connection with her unsuccessful attempt to prove that Jay Gould had married Mrs. Sarah Ann Angell, of Champlain, N. Y., in April, 1853, and to secure for Mrs. Angell a dower interest in the Gould estate, was arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Fursman, and pleaded not guilty.

Her case was sent to the County Court for trial in the second week in June before Judge Gregory.

Setback for Russell Harrison.

Washington, May 17.—Russell Harrison, son of ex-President Harrison, may not get his commission as Assistant Adjutant General. It was learned to-day that Senator Proctor will oppose his confirmation when the President's nominations are sent to the Senate.

It develops that Russell Harrison has not been on speaking terms with his father since the latter was married.

Those who were instrumental in persuading President McKinley to appoint young Harrison represented that he was in need of employment.

South Europe.

When the troops of a nation are ordered to discharge explosive bullets at its own subjects, things are in a bad way for that country. Italy is apparently on the verge of a revolution that may sweep the house of Savoy from its place and even compel Pope Leo XIII himself to seek asylum elsewhere. It is to be noted that the mobs that rose in the Italian cities and killed 1,000 people fired on monasteries and sacked them as freely as stores and factories. Not often has this happened in a Catholic country. When it has been done, it was the signal for a revolution so terrible and farreaching that no man now ventures to think what may happen in the immediate future. The leaders in the Italian disturbances are plainly those anarchists who would as willingly destroy church as state.

In Spain the condition of things is the same, though there it comes from actual poverty and from disappointment with the government. Italy is tottering; Spain is tottering. How is it in France? There is not much outward disturbance—yet. But those who have watched the third republic through its checkered career see signs that another revolution may be impending, with a dictator, emperor, heaven knows what, in the foreground. We sincerely hope otherwise, but can only wait and watch events.

The nations of south Europe, all of kindred race, languages and blood, seem rushing on to their ruin. Have they fallen into old age and decrepitude and are they sliding down the slope of time into decay, as the Chinese, Egyptians and so many others have done before them? Natural conditions are all in favor of the continuance of these south Europe nations. Their climate is so mild and healthful that southern Europe is the sanitarium for Christendom. Their soil is the most fertile, growing the fruits, flowers, grains and vegetables in abundance and variety unequaled elsewhere on the earth. Yet except France, the most northerly one of them, these beautiful countries stagnate and rot in ignorance, destitution and misrule. Has the finger of fate written their doom?

In all the three great divisions of the globe, on the other hand, in Europe, Asia and America, the nations owning the northern regions of the globe are rich, progressive and powerful.

The United States has done a bolder and more daring thing than even declaring war on Spain. It has snubbed a lord high Pooh Bah of the New York Four Hundred's most sacred and select circle, Duke Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont himself. Duke Belmont, actuated by a patriotic and patronizing desire to assist the United States in its present little embarrassment, offered to build a torpedo boat out of his own pocket, if not out of his own head, and lend it to the government for the war. Perhaps he wanted a torpedo boat for a pleasure yacht after hostilities cease, and so lent instead of gave the thing. The loaning of the craft instead of a gift of her outright was one string attached to the vessel. There was another. It was that Duke Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont himself should be commander of the torpedo boat. If Duke Oliver had said his wife would boss the yacht, the government might have thought twice before refusing the services of that redoubtable commander, but Duke Oliver himself—no! So our cruel and heartless naval department declined with thanks the brilliant offer of Duke Oliver. Never mind. The duke still has his valet and his beautiful clothes.

REAR ADMIRAL W. T. SAMPSON.

Captain W. T. Sampson, acting rear admiral in command of the North Atlantic squadron, is an officer of impressive appearance and one who has the love and respect of every man on every vessel in his fleet. The portrait here presented is said to be one of the best ever made of this gallant sailor.

The barb wire scheme of defense was familiar to Weyler in Cuba. His trocha was made from barb wire. Among the equipments of our troops who went to Cuba was a consignment of 2,500 wire cutters to be used in demolishing the thing. Even flat on the ground, however, the squirming, tangling things would be apt to catch the boys' legs and tear their gaiters.

Dewey's battle in Manilla bay was the greatest naval victory of modern times and it will so stand for centuries. The destruction of ten Spanish warships and the killing of 800 Spanish seamen without the loss of a vessel or even a man on our side is something unheard of before in sea fight records.

The country is so much richer and more populous now than it was in 1861 that war taxes, whatever may be finally decided on, will bring in far larger revenues than they did then and will not be felt by the people nearly so much.

It is not often that an embarrassment of honors overtakes a man as it has done Senator Sewell of New Jersey. Between being a major general in the United States army and a senator in the United States congress it was hard to tell which he wanted the more.

A man who would rather serve his country as a soldier than as a congressman is entitled to credit. Such a man is Hon. James R. Campbell of Illinois, who resigned his seat in the national house of representatives that he might take part in the war.

The saddest fact connected with Admiral Dewey and Fitz-Hugh Lee is the number of homely and insignificant babies that will be named for them. This consideration is almost enough to keep anybody from being a great man.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

There was a fashionable crowd at this wedding ceremony in Plainfield. The bride was a splendid specimen of the athletic woman; the bridegroom a little shrimp of a man with narrow face and retreating chin. Two ministers officiated; two prayers were offered.

"Two prayers aren't any too much for the poor fellow," said one of the ushers. "His wife swings Indian clubs."—New York Press.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

A man who wanted a drink attempted to enter a Park avenue saloon Saturday, but two large dogs which he had with him on a chain, pulled back so and were so determined not to go into the saloon that the man had to give it up. They must have been temperance dogs.

* * * *

One of the sons of Captain Bennett, of Lincoln place, is a seaman on the New York, and the Captain was very much alarmed Saturday night when the report was circulated that the battleship had been sunk. Captain Bennett hurried to New York, traced the rumor, and telegraphed south to find out the truth.

* * * * *

Another sadder but wiser man is suing a New York matrimonial bureau for having failed to secure for him a $40,000 wife after he had put up the requisite fee for the purpose. Perhaps the most solemn feature of the case is his offer to produce fifty persons who have been similarly bamboozled by the same agency. What fools these mortals be!

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The fashionable event of the season will be the Red Cross Society Fund Benefit, announced for Thursday night at Music Hall. The indications are that the house will be filled, and as the object is worthy, the character of the entertainment above reproach, it goes without saying almost, that it should deservedly be so. Orders for seats continue to be filled at box office. Manager Maze Edwards announces that he will keep office open until 9 o'clock every evening to accommodate all desiring seats. The best artists of Weber and Fields forces assist in the entertainment.

Monday next the American Stock Company will make their first appearance at Music Hall.

"Way Down East" at the Manhattan in New York, is the only current attraction in New York that has passed the century mark. It gives no sign of waning vitality. Three times within the past week the crush has been so great that the musicians have been crowded under the stage. There has not, for the past fourteen weeks, been a night when "standing room only" was not placarded. There is a charm about this picturesque rural play, with its tender pathos and rollicking humor, that can only be broken by the advent of the dog-days. In fact, it could undoubtedly run straight through next season at this house, if Brady and Ziegfeld had not committed themselves to other new productions. Monday Archie Boyd appeared as Squire Bartlett, succeeding Burr McIntosh, whose private business interests demand retirement. Mr. Boyd is one of the most famous exponents of rustic characters of the stalwart, rugged type, having for many years played the roles created by Denman Thompson in "The Old Homestead" and James A. Hearne in "Shore Acres."

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Destroys all odors instantly, yet is odorless itself and as harmless as dew. Used as a toilet or infant powder, or for chafing and prickly heat it is unequaled. It contains no talcum or other insoluable substances. We are sole agents.

Being Certain!

We know that many people who have bought Pianos from us have come here with the idea that, knowing nothing about Pianos themselves, they could put their trust in our judgment and feel safe.

Good reputation is a first requisite in business—especially a Piano business—and our reputation is so good that we have yet to hear of a buyer of one of our Pianos who wasn't perfectly satisfied.

Good Pianos only, and straight liberal methods of doing business, have built our immense trade.

LI HUNG CHANG'S FURS.

A Sable Skin That Surpasses Anything in Nature.

Li Hung Chang is believed to be the richest man in the world. This belief certainly gives credit from a glimpse at one portion of his invested capital which recently made its appearance in the city of London. Among other sources of income, the great Chinese satrap draws an annual tribute of precious furs from one of the northern provinces.

Li Hung Chang has immense warehouses in Pekin crammed with precious furs from top to bottom.

There is an immense demand for rare furs in China. A nation in which neither men nor women wear jewels, but which has an exquisite taste for personal luxuries, finds a substitute for jewels in costume. An Indian or Afghan prince will perhaps dress in white cotton, provided this be set off by some priceless gems on his sword, dagger and turban. A Chinese mandarin's sole jewel may be a few bits of jade or carnelian, but he makes up for this in summer by the richness of his silks, and in winter by wearing robes of furs so splendid that it needs a certain education to appreciate the full beauty of the costume. It has long been known that the Chinese furriers were the best in the world, and that except in the dyeing of sealskins, their treatment of the fur itself, especially in improving its tint and luster, was unrivaled. It was not, however, suspected that they could improve on the work of nature. An inspection of some of Li's furs recently sent to London showed that this was a task not beyond the art of the ancient civilization of the far East. There were three or four robes which raised a certain excitement of admiration, even among the purely commercial experts of the wholesale fur trade. One of these robes was constructed with a special object.

LI HUNG CHANG.

The aim of the Chinese furrier had been to make a skin of sable magnified to the size of the skin of a bear. In addition to creating a gigantic sable, this genius also wished that the animal should have fur with the hair lying all parallel; whereas in nearly every fur except that of the seal, when the long hairs are removed the grain and direction follow the anatomy of the body, and give an unevenness to the whole. To effect these objects the artist had cut out the "tit-bits" of sable skins, and divided these into tiny strips averaging from an inch to half an inch in length. These strips were all from the same part of the sable's body, ad were covered with fur of even length, luster and thickness. They were then sewn together with minute art, so that at the back the skin looked like a patchwork of tiny parallelograms like the squares on a fritillary flower, averaging from three to four in the square inch. In front the fur was absolutely uniform, homogeneous and apparently without seam or joining, the kind of giant sable skin which might appear in dreams as the ideal of a Russian bride's trosseau. But Li Hung Chang's furriers had produced something bettetr than this—a fur robe which can justly claim to be an improvement on anything that nature has given us in the rarest furs of beasts. Sable was again the material used. In this robe also the skins were divided, and rejoined so as to secure uniformity of tint, fur and setting. But in the robe so made the artist had inserted at intervals the skin of the sable's shoulder and forepaw. This, when cut out, laid flat and sewn together, with a little addition to the curves, forms an "ocellus" like a peacock's eye in sable damask, for the tint of the robe was uniform, and only the difference in the lie and texture of the fur produced the ornaments. The result was the creation of a sable skin, adorned at regular intervals with an apparently natural ornament of peacock's eyes, such as one sees in the tail of the white peacock, indicated by the same alternations of reflection and lights as in damask. The magnificence of this conception needs no comment.—London Spectator.

A Town Built of Salt.

In Galicia, in Austrian Poland, there is a remarkable underground city which has a population of over 1,000 men, women and children, scores of whom have never seen the light of day. It is known as the City of the Salt Mines, and is situated several hundred feet below the earth's surface.

It has its town-hall, theatre, and assembly-room, as well as a beautiful church, decorated with statues, all being fashioned from the pure crystallized rock-salt. It has well-graded streets and spacious squares, lighted with electricity.

There are numerous instances in this underground city where not a single individual in three or four successive generations has ever seen the sun, or has any idea of how people live in the light of day.

THE FRIGATE BIRD.

It Lives in the Upper Air and Sleeps Upon the Wing.

The frigate bird is endowed with magnificent powers of flight. His wings stretch to an expanse of about ten or twelve feet; his body is about three feet in length; his bill is very powerful, and his feet are webbed, but very small; but for these he has but little use, as his home is in the air, hundreds of leagues away from the land.

He is seen soaring high above the ocean; but on its bosom he never rests. When he seeks repose, he finds it aloft. His foot rarely touches land, except at the time for pairing, making nests and rearing young.

The expanse of his wing is so great and his body is so light that he can soar with little or no exertion. Still, it is difficult to see how this would enable him actually to sleep on the wing, as it is believed he does.

A closer examination shows, however, that his bones are hollow, and that there is a large pouch communicating with his lungs and with the cavities in the bones. This pouch he can inflate with air, and thus render himself buoyant; the sustaining power thus acquired, added to that of the wings, is sufficient to keep him up.

If his home be in the air, if he neither dives into the sea for fish, nor searches on the land for other food, whence does he derive his sustenance? Impelled by hunger, he descends from the lofty regions where it is his delight to dwell. Whether the sea be rough or calm, he glides along over the water, and any unwary fish approaching the surface is pounced upon instantly and swallowed.

But the bird has other resources; though he cannot dive into the sea to catch fish, he avails himself of the labors of birds that can. He watches one of them; sees it come out of the water and fly off with its prey. At once the frigate bird is down upon him with a swoop of terrific velocity. The frightened diver drops his fish in mid-air; the frigate bird poises himself again, darts down with another swoop, and seizes the fish ere it reaches the water.

CURE FOR HICCOUGH.

Accomplished by Pulling the Tongue Several Times a Minute.

In the last year a number of cases of prolonged and frequently fatal hiccoughs have been reported in the newspapers. Often, without any warning, persons of good health have started to hiccough, and have kept it up for weeks without cessation, until the exhaustion proved fatal. The physicians in charge have tried many things as remedies, but, as a rule, failed to accomplish anything toward controlling the disease.

Professor Lepine, of Lyons, France, has at last discovered a cure. A young soldier had contracted the disease, and was rapidly losing strength.

The new remedy consisted in pulling the tongue several times a minute, keeping it outside the mouth, and then letting it slip back again. This faithfully kept up produced a cure inside of twenty minutes. Hiccough, when continued, is a serious disease of the respiratory centre in the brain. These rhythmical tractions on the tongue seem to affect the respiratory centre in a peculiar way. There is a bunch of nerves at the base of the tongue which communicates directly with the nerve centres in the brain. When the brain centre is inactive it may be stimulated by pulling the tongue. It is inactive in cases of suffocation.

If a baby does not breathe properly when born, if the tongue is systematically pulled a few moments the baby will begin of its own accord to attempt to breathe. Pulling the tongue also helps by clearing the throat.

In cases of drowning it has been discovered that pulling on the tongue ten or fifteen times a minute acts as a more certain and powerful stimulus than any of the old methods, such as rolling the subject on a barrel, hanging him upside down from a meat hook, or "pumping" him with his arms, or blowing into his lungs.—Golden Days.

Parlez-Vous Telephone Wanted.

"We used to have the best fellow in our employ that I ever knew," declared the head of one of the biggest telephone exchanges in the country. "He could place more telephones than any other half dozen men in our employ, and I'll give you just one sample of his shrewdness.

"There was a wealthy old Frenchman with large interests that we wanted as a patron. After all the rest of our solicitors had called upon him we sent our best man. He learned that the Frenchman thought the telephone a great invention and a great money saver, but he could not be made to understand that it was adapted to any other language than English. He had to converse in French with many of his business friends and employees.

"All the others had tried to convert him, but "Olly Slick," as we had dubbed him, took the other tack and humored the old gentleman. He at once assured him that we had French receivers and transmitters, and immediately put up a temporary line, to show that he was not misrepresenting goods. When French was sent and received over the wire the result delighted the man of wealth, and 'Olly' actually sold two sets of telephones (one for English and one for French) for a dozen places where they could be made useful in the old man's business, charging $5 apiece more for the French than for the English. It was six months before the Frenchman discovered that he had a superfluous lot of telephones on hand. He laughed as heartily as any one and tried to hire 'Olly' to go on the road."—Detroit Free Press.

Die Gemeinde will ſich jetzt einen „liberalen" Pfarrer ſuchen.

Aargau. Das große eiſerne Thor im alten Kapuzinerkloſter in Laufenburg, das eine ziemlich werth- und kunſtvolle Antiquität ſein ſoll, wurde um 2000 Francs an eine Engländerin, welche in Klein-Laufenburg wohnt, verkauft.

SPEAK OUT.

The Searchlight of Publicity is Pleasing Plainfield People.

Publicity is what the people want.

Let the public speak on the subject.

There has been too much claim—too little proof.

Claims made by strangers are not proof.

Claims endorsed by strangers are not proof.

There is only one kind of proof for a citizen.

The experience of people we know.

When friends and neighbors endorse,

Make public statement of their case,

There can be no question about such evidence.

This is the proof we have,

Which backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

No other kidney pills, no other kidney remedy,

Can produce such proof.

Here is one case of the many we have:

Mr. John Lindsay, of 424 W. Front street, says: "From the effects of a bad cold which I contracted some years ago, I have been troubled more or less with attacks of backache which has caused me a great deal of suffering. My work compels me to do a great deal of stooping and bending forward which aggravated the trouble. At night I had to keep changing about first from one position then to another trying to find some way that I could free myself from the pain but it remained the same no matter what position I assumed. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend who had used them and I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. I found them just as represented and they relieved me in a short time. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone wanting a safe, reliable and convenient medicine to act direct on the kidneys."

AWFUL ALL 'ROUND.

There is a little maiden
Who has an awful time;
She has to hurry awfully
To get to school at nine,

She has an awful teacher;
Her tasks are awful hard;
Her playmates are all awful rough
When playing in the yard.

She has an awful kitty
Who often shows her claws;
A dog who jumps upon her dress
With awful muddy paws.

She has a baby sister
With an awful little nose,
With awful cunning dimples,
And such awful little toes.

She has two litle brothers,
And they are awful boys,
With their awful drums and trumpets,
And make an awful noise.

Do, come, I pray thee, common sense,
Come and this maid defend;
Or else, I fear, her awful life
Will have an awful end.

Fritz is a Graveyard Dog.

Fritz is not a prepossessing dog by any means. He is not a thoroughbred, and is not well groomed, but in his own line there is not a dog in the whole country like him. That line is graveyards, and Fritz is a "graveyard" dog. He has been to over 2,000 funerals, and will probably see as many again before he himself joins the great majority of dead canines.

Six years ago Fritz was born in the American Mechanics' Cemetery, at Twenty-second and Diamond streets. The exact place of his birth was under the little chapel where the last prayers are said over the dead, and in this melancholy atmosphere Fritz grew up. Fritz's mother disappeared after his birth and he was left alone. Since then his disposition has been melancholy.

Perhaps from disappointment, perhaps from a morbid taste imbued by his solitary life, Fritz at two years old began to attend funerals. No one objected, his behavior was above reproach, and gradually the picture of the little black and white dog, walking mournfully along in his favorite position just behind the coffin, grew familiar. Now it has come to pass that no funeral is complete without Fritz. Just as soon as the chapel bell rings, no matter where Fritz is, he rushes to the spot from where he knows the coffin will be taken. However excited he is, he never barks, and except when he is outside the cemetery, he never barks at all.

Usually, also, he lies down by the gravedigger when a grave is being opened, and a story is told of him by one of Superintendent Reel's men that during one rainy night Fritz's loud yelping, not barking, but wailing, was heard continually. No one paid any attention to it, but next morning Fritz was found beside a grave which had been made the afternoon before, and which had caved in during the night on account of the rain.

The best thing about Fritz is that no matter whether it is a $25 funeral, with just a hearse and no carriages, or a $250 funeral, with twenty carriages, he shows just as much respect for the dead in either case. He is not a snob by any means.—Philadelphia Press.

A Heroic Remedy.

There is a little boy in Colorado Springs who, according to Facts, likes to help entertain his mother's visitors, and eagerly listens to the conversation. Tommy also has an aunt of whom he is very fond and who has a bad cold, causing him much anxiety. A few days ago, while his mother was comparing notes on housekeeping with a friend, Tommy thought he heard something which would cure Aunt Susie's cold. About supper time he disappeared, which, however, did not excite any comment. The family sat down to supper and one by one the dishes were tasted and set aside until each member began to wonder what ailed the cook. Tommy's expression convinced them that he could throw some light on the subject, and when cornered had to admit that he had put red pepper into every dish while the cook was out, because Mrs. ——— said red pepper was good for the ants, and he wanted to cure Aunt Susie.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat

A Child's Philosophy.

The children had come home from Sunday-school, where they had heard something, they did not know very clearly what, but something which made them think there might be something very unusual happening soon in the way of a sudden cessation of worldly activities and a putting on of celestial garments, the latter taking form in their minds as wings. So they went to mamma to talk it over.

"I don't think it would be nice at all," said the oldest little girl, referring to the wings; "just think of having to fly and not walking at all."

"But you could walk," said the practical little sister, "don't chickens have wings and don't they walk?"

PERSONAL INTREPIDITY.

Bravery of the Duke Charles of Bavaria in the Face of Great Danger.

The bravery of battle is surpassed in the quality and fibre of its intrepidity by the courage which faces a conflagration or a wreck, because the battle fervor is helped out by patriotism, esprit du corps, and other emotions which have a distinct place in the soldier's heart. The great fire at Paris, and particularly the heroic death there of the Duchess d'Alencon, recalls a brave exploit of this lady's uncle, Duke Charles of Bavaria, many years ago.

It was in 1823, and some sort of exceptional representation at the Residenz Theater at Munich had attracted a large and brilliant audience. Duke Charles was seated in the royal box. Suddenly an attendant rushed in and whispered excitedly:

"Your Highness, the theatre is on fire! Make your escape before the panic breaks out."

This alarming announcement did not cause a change of expression on the prince's face. First satisfying himself by a word of inquiry that the stage was really on fire, the prince rose, stepped calmly to the front of the box and said to the audience:

"I am informed that a fire has broken out on the stage. There is time enough for you all to get out before the danger becomes imminent; the only thing that you have to fear is a panic. I urge you, therefore, to quit the hall in the most perfect order, and I give you my word that if you do so you will all escape. To prove that I mean what I say, I shall now sit down and shall not leave my seat until the last one of the audience is out of the house."

Duke Charles then sat down as unmoved as if the performance was to proceed. The sight of his calmness reassured the audience, and the people moved deliberately out in an orderly manner; the flames burst through the curtain to the proscenium; the people looked at Duke Charles, who still sat imperturbably in his place; no one could make a cowardly rush in the face of such an example.

In ten minutes the house was entirely emptied, no one being hurt; Duke Charles was the last to go out. In another instant, the interior was all on fire and the house was completely destroyed.—Youth's Companion

NEVER SEES MONEY.

Yet a Business is Carried on Running Up to Many Thousands of Dollars.

At Indian Point, Siberia, the principal trader, Koharri, does a business of $100,000 a year and never sees a coin. Dr. Sheldon Jackson, agent of the Bureau of Education for Alaska, found him and says of him: "He has a little frame whale house filled from floor to ceiling with tobacco, flour and looking glasses, which he has obtained from the whalers and from which he supplies the country for hundreds of miles around. This man has been known to have as much as $75,000 worth of whalebone in his store at one time. He does a business of probably $100,000 a year, and yet not a single coin of gold or silver nor a single bank note or bank check is used nor are any books kept. All transactions are by barter, furs and whalebone being exchanged for tobacco, flour and whiskey. This wholesale merchant of the North Siberian coast can neither read nor write, nor can any one associated with him. Although so wealthy, he lives in an ordinary tent and sleeps on the ground on a pile of reindeer skins."

Princes as Masons.

In Great Britain the craft is presided over by the Prince of Wales; in Sweden and Norway the Grand Mastership is held by King Oscar, who occupied that office before his ascension to the throne. As in the case of the sons and grandsons of the Queen of England, so are also the sons of King Oscar members of the craft.

In Denmark it is the Crown Prince who is the head of the Grand Orient while the late Emperor Frederick held the Grand Mastership of German Free Masons from 1855 until the time of his death. His son, although a Mason has declined to accept the Grand Mastership in succession to his father or to attend any lodge meeting since he became Emperor. In Austria, again Freemasonry is eschewed by the aristocracy and the reigning family, as it is also in Russia and Belgium, while in Holland the Dutch nobility are nearly all members of the craft.—Tatler to Free Mason.

A Telling Advertisement.

On a telegraph pole in the suburbs of a New England village was tacked this notice: "Lost—Between here and the postoffice, a real lady's hair switch black mixed with gray with shoe string tide around one end and above which please return to the postmaster and get fifty cents with thanks of owner who needs it badly and will be thankful for the kindness of any Lady or gent who will return what cannot be of no use to them, but which is a needcessity to her."—Harper's Bazar.

Still Ominous.

"Hoy still they are!" remarked Mrs. Fogg, apropos of the young couple in the next room.

"Yes," replied Mr. F., "it reminds me of my army days. It was always wonderfully quiet just previous to an engagement."—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Newealth—"And how is my daughter getting on with her music professor?"

Professor Da Capo—"Remarkably well. The only difficulty I find is in making her observe the rests."

Mrs. Newealth—"Oh, but she must. She has plenty of time!"—Punch.

SUN BONNETS FOR HORSES.

They are Worn During Hot Weather and Have Decreased the Mortality.

Horses in London wear straw hats during the warm season. For some time the English Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been agitating the question of protecting the heads of horses during the hot weather. This agitation has finally had a good effect, and nearly every horse that is compelled to draw heavy loads through the London streets is now protected from the sun's rays by a bonnet.

This plan has long been followed in France and the hat adopted in England is the same as that used in Bordeaux. It looks much like the straw hats familiar to visitors to American summer resorts and bathing beaches. The brim is wide and there are holes through which the horse's ears project. It is held in place by being tied to the bridle.

Manufacturers of straw goods are delighted with the innovation, as they have been kept busy all summer making the hats. They sell for a trifle, but such tremendous numbers are used that the total cost is considerable.

The mortality among horses has decreased greatly since the use of the hats became common. As the hats have high crowns, there is plenty of room for ventilation.—New York World.

STREET ARAB A GOVERNOR.

He Was Adopted by a Gentleman and Given a Fine Education.

John Green Brady, of Indiana, who has been appointed governor of Alaska, never knew his parents, says the Savannah News. He grew up a veritable street arab in the utmost poverty. In 1860 he was sent to Indiana with a carload of waifs. The car reached Tipton, a county seat thirty miles north of Indianapolis, and a number of the youngsters were committed to the care of residents. Judge John Green, a prominent citizen of the place, called for the "ugliest, raggedest and most friendless" in the lot. Jack, as he was afterward known, was promptly presented, and the Judge took the lad home. He appreciated his home and the kindness of his benefactors, and diligently applied himself to study. A course at the public schools was followed by a year at Waveland Academy, and that by four years at Harvard. After he had been graduated at Cambridge he was sent by Judge Green to England to pursue his theological studies. Returning to Tipton in 1876, the next year he went to Alaska as a missionary under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church, and he has since remained there.

New Way to Light Matches.

A profitable noonday pastime among the gamins who frequent the vicinity of the Reading Terminal never fails to draw a large and interested crowd, says the Philadelphia Press. One of the boys will lay ten matches in an even row on the hard asphalt. The heads of the matches all point the same way and the matches are about an inch apart. Then the youngster swings a cord on the end of which is fastened a piece of lead.

Swinging the cord rapidly, he handles it so deftly that he hits at will the head of each match and sets it blazing. He makes an agreement with the crowd that if he succeeds in igniting in this manner each of the ten matches without missing he is to have ten cents. Usually the business men who watch the performance are so well pleased that the gamin gets considerably more than a dime for his trouble and skill.

The Wrong Man.

"Hold on, gentlemen, before you adjourn; I notice that you elected Charlotte Corday as an honorary member this evenin'."

"That's all right, ain't it? She killed a man."

"Yep, it's all right that far. But th' man she killed was the biggest Anarchist in all France."

"Sho! you don't say! Gentlemen, I move that Mrs. Corday's name be stricken from the roll and thet we give her three groans. Carried."—Cleveland Leader.

A Precise Definition.

"Oi must confiss," said Mr. Rafferty, "that it ain't clear ty me what's meant by arbithration."

"It's a great t'ing," replied Mr. Dolan. "Oi'll explain it till yez. 'Spose two people hev a quar'l"—

"Which is liable to happen any day"—

"They call in three or four other people to take a hand and ixpress an opinion, an' the result is absolute peace or a gineral free fight, ayther of which is to be desired.—Washington Star.

An Unsympathetic Mood.

"Is it not sweet and inspiring," she said, "to stand on the shore where the waves sing eternally and gaze into the offing?"

"Well," replied the young man, who lacks sentiment. "I suppose that is enjoyable if you know how to appreciate it. But the last time I went to the seashore I didn't give much thought to the offing. What I wanted was an awning."—Washington Star.

Serving on the Instalment Plan.

Preacher—My man, how long are you in for?

Boozer (serving sixty days for the fortieth time)—Well, boss, dis is de way of it. If I keeps on as I have been, I'm doin' a life sentence on de instalment plan.

"What makes Bumply so down on the long distance telephone?"

"He called up a man in Toledo that owes him $2.50. They wrangled till it cost Bumply $13."—Detroit Free Press.

the Government's powder boats, six in number, which are lying in the bay between Liberty Island and the Port Liberty coal docks at Communipaw. Wagner said that on Saturday morning, between 10:30 and 11 o'clock, he saw two men standing on the shore at Port Liberty and one of them was pointing in the direction of the powder boats.

He determined, however, to keep a close watch. About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon he saw the same men in the same place, looking in the direction of the powder boats. He was only about fifty yards away from them. He was about to question them when they turned and ran away in the direction of Jersey avenue, and were soon out of sight.

TWO LIVES RUINED.

Love, Whiskers and Sorrow This Young Woman's Lot.

Whiskers have prevented a marriage and practically ruined two lives in Butler County, Ky. This sad state of affairs is the result of a bride-to-be trying to make herself more beautiful. Instead of beauty she gained whiskers, long, black, luxuriant affairs, which would adorn a man as much as they distress the young woman.

Miss Belcher, of Bowling Green, read an advertisement in a metropolitan paper which extolled the virtues of a cosmetic, asserting that a single facial application would render the skin soft and smooth. She sent for the preparation, and when it came followed the accompanying directions.

A week passed. One morning when Miss Belcher took her customary matutinal glimpse of the looking-glass she noticed unfamiliar little black specks all over her face. Greatly distressed, she waited a day for developments. Horror of horrors! The next morning she found the specks were nothing less than the ends of countless black hairs that went on growing until they formed a heavy black beard. Almost crazed by this fact, Miss Belcher at first contemplated suicide. Then she was persuaded to have her face shaved, but the relief was only temporary, for the hair continued to grow.

At last she determined to live the life of a recluse. Her affianced begged her to marry him, but she steadfastly refused, and then declined to see him at all. This almost drove the young man insane, and he too retired from the world.

Physicians are unable to aid Miss Belcher. She has given them all an opportunity to try their skill, but each one has had the same experience.—New York Journal.

Whitney and Senator Gray, of Delaware.—New York Tribune.

Complexities of Law.

Soon after Jim's admission as a learned counsellor, an old neighbor to give him a start gave him a lot of hard claims to collect, telling him he could have half that was collected. Jim soon received half that was due from one of the debtors and was called on a little later by his client for his share of the money. "Your half," said the astute lawyer. "I didn't collect your half. I only collected mine." The astonished old patron said, "Why, Jim, I don't understand such proceeding." But the lofty reply was, "There is a heap of law you don't understand. I tell you, old fellow, this law is a powerful thing."—Case and Comment.

The Lightest Known Solid.

The lightest known solid is said to be the pith of the sunflower, with a specific gravity of .028, or about one-eighth that of cork. The sunflower is extensively cultivated in central Russia, and various uses are served by its different parts, the recent discovery of the lightness of the pith essentially increasing the commercial value of the pith essentially increasing the commercial value of the plant. For life-saving appliances at sea, cork has a buoyancy of one to five, while with the sunflower pith one to thirty-five is attained. About eight hundred cubic inches would weigh as much as one cubic inch of iridium, the heaviest metal.

Would Be Satisfied with Only a Text.

At the English Church Congress the Dean of Rochester told the following story: A country clergyman went away for his holiday, and a benevolent neighbor, who had a curate, took his Sunday duties. After he had preached his first sermon he remarked to the clerk of the vestry, "I am sorry that I gave you such a short discourse, but the reason is that a dog got into my study and tore out several leaves." The clerk gazed wistfully upon the speaker and said: "Oh, sir, do you think you could spare our parson a pup?"

DESTROYED A MENACE TO AMERICAN FLEET.

The Wilmington Sent a Spanish Derelict to the Bottom.

Various Reports of the Destruction—The Schooner, Loaded With Iron and Explosives, Set Adrift in the Track of the Blockaders—A Cuban Messenger Arrives.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

INGENIOUS SPANISH TRICK.

But The Wilmington Soon Put It Out Of the Way.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 17, 1:45 p. m—The Spanish schooner sunk by the Wilmington was an ingenious Spanish scheme to injure the blackading fleet.

The schooner was loaded with old iron and explosives and turned loose in the path of the blockaders with the hope that a collision might take place.

The Wilmington discovered the boat and sunk her with four shots.

A courier with messages from General Gomez left Cuba in an open boat yesterday. He was fired upon by a Spanish gunboat.

The Wilmington chased the Spanish ship and crippled her with one shot.

'TWAS A SPANISH BOAT.

The Spaniards Claimed an American Warship Was Blown Up.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 17, 11:15 a. m.—A despatch from Havana asserts that an American vessel engaged in removing the torpedoes in the harbor at Port Cabanas, forty miles west of Havana, was blown up this morning.

It was reported that the entire crew perished in the accident. The name of the vessel said to be destroyed was not given.

Key West, May 17, 12:15 p. m.—The American vessel which the Spanish reports state was destroyed by a torpedo in Port Cabanas harbor, proves to be a Spanish schooner.

Instead of at Port Cabanas, the explosion took place in the bay near Cardenas, on the other side of Havana. The Spanish schooner was blown up by the United States cruiser Wilmington.

Madrid, May 17, 1:25 p. m.—A despatch from Havana says that a small war vessel was blown up at Cardenas yesterday. Seventeen are reported to have been killed.

The despatch further states that the nationality of the warship is not known.

SENSATION IN ARMY CIRCLES

Merritt's Refusal to Head the Manila Expedition Causes Much Talk.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 17, 1:40 p. m—General Merritt has stirred up a decided sensation in the War Department. The leading officers of the department are unable to make any statement regarding the reasons therefore.

The refusal of General Merritt to lead the expedition to the Philippines unless more regular troops were assigned to his command, has caused much talk.

It seems likely that it will be made the subject of sharp controversy in the department, although none of the officers are prepared to say what action will be taken.

There was an undercurrent of criticism against the department in Washington this morning as a result of this refusal.

Concerning General Merritt's declination, the comment was made that though he should not have made the remarks in public, he was was exactly right in what he said about the character of the forces that should be placed at the disposal of such an expedition.

It is understood that General Merritt wants to command the expedition either to Cuba or to Porto Rico. His name has been mentioned in regard to the latter command.

The sentiment generally expressed in official circles is that the war will last a year.

SPAIN ARMS CUBANS.

They Join the Ranks of the Spanish Volunteers by Thousands.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Kingston, Jamica, May 17, 12:10 p. m—The Spaniards in Havana are preparing to make their last stand. In their efforts to prepare additional military strength, they have been aiding the insurgents.

Refugees that reached this island by the French steamer Fulton from Havana have told some of the details of the present situation at Havana.

Some time ago Governor-General Blanco issued a conscription order forcing into the ranks of the Spanish volunteers all males in Havana and vicinity between the ages of fifteen and forty-five years.

The Cuban Provisional Government has now directed the Cuban sympathizers in the Spanish lines not to try to evade the conscription order.

The refugees say that thousands of the Cubans in Havana are now joining the volunteers. Spain is thus arming its enemies who will be ready to rise when the opportunity comes to strike a telling blow.

Famine prices prevail in Havana according to the stories of these refugees. Eggs are selling at ten cents apiece and the poorest meat at fifty cents a pound. Flour is selling at thirty cents a pound.

These were the prices that prevailed when the Fulton left and the supply was rapidly diminishing. It is believed that they are much higher now.

PHOTOGRAPHED THE FORTS.

Then the Dons Sentenced the Young Canadian To Nine Years' Imprisonment.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Ottawa, Canada, May 17, 1:20 p. m.—The mystery concerning Freeman Halstead, the young Canadian who was reported to have been seized and shot by the Spaniards at San Juan, has been solved.

Young Halstead was at San Juan as correspondent for the London Graphic when it was reported that he had been arrested.

When the news of Halstead's arrest reached Canada, his adopted parents communicated at once with Mr. Henderson, the member of Parliament from the district in which they lived.

They asked him to bring the case to the attention of the British Government and have it investigated.

Mr. Henderson interviewed Sir Louis Davies at once and the latter proved a sympathetic listener. He took action without delay and cabled to the British Consul at San Juan for information.

Yesterday he received a reply from the British representative at that Spanish port. It stated that Halstead had been arrested for photographing the forts there.

He had been immediately arrested and brought before a court-martial for trial. He was sentenced to nine years imprisonment.

Efforts are being made to interest the imperial authorities in Davies' view of the matter and secure a mitigation of the sentence.

Insurgents to Attack Manila.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Hong Kong, May 17, 11:20 a. m—A report has reached here that the insurgent forces on the Phillippine Islands intend to attack Manila today.

While none of the details of the proposed attack are given, it is stated that the insurgents obtained arms from the arsenal at Cavite by permission of Rear Admiral Dewey.

Spanish Warships Sighted.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

New York, May 17, 10:30 a. m—It is reported that the Spanish warships have been sighted off Martinique and Jamaica. The report is still unconfirmed.

New York Troops Move.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Camp Townsend, Peekskill, May 17, 1:20 p. m—The Twelfth Regiment of New York volunteers left this morning for the front.

Illinois to the Front.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Camp Tanner, Illinois, May 17, 1:25 p. m—The first regiment of the Illinois volunteers left for the national camp at Chickamauga this morning.

Second Call Ready.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 17, 2:45 p. m—The Navy department refuses to give any information about the fleet. The second call for volunteers is ready for McKinley's signature. It doesn't specify the number of men or the term of service.

Important Events Happening.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 17, 2:30 p. m.—Important events are believed to be occurring. Even the Senators are not allowed to see the official despatches today.

Those Who Pass Will be Mustered In and Will Man the Badger.

Orders were issued last night on board the training ship Portsmouth of the Battalion of the East, Naval Reserves of New Jersey, at Haboken, for the 180 officers and men detailed to man the auxiliary cruiser Badger to report at headquarters at 8 o'clock this morning for the purpose of undergoing the physical examination required by the Navy Department. MORE SPANISH SPIES?

NO ASPHALT FOR SOME TIME TO COME.

Council Discusses Matter of a Permanent Pavement.

PIPES MUST BE LAID FIRST.

THAT MEANS THAT IMPROVEMENT WILL BE DELAYED.

This is Thought Necessary by the Street Committee So That It Will Not be Needed to Tear Up the Thoroughfares to Lay Pipes That Will Soon be Put Down—Councilman Runyon's Plan of Establishing a Fire House in the West End Goes Through—City Officials Invited to Memorial Day Exercises.

The business considered at the adjourned meeting of the City Council held last evening was of more or less importance and all the members were present except Mr. Hetfield, who was unavoidably detained.

Mrs. Vail and other residents of Johns street asked the Council to place two electric lights on that street. The Memorial Detail of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., extended a cordial invitation to the Mayor and Council to occupy a reserved box at Music Hall on Decoration Day. The invitation was accepted. C. W. Potter and others asked the Council to repair Fourth street from Park avenue to New street and establish the proper grade. A bill of $2,502.50 was received from Frank Hubbard for work done in connection with the work of the Martin Act Commissioners, such as making maps and surveys. This amount will eventually come out of the general amount realized from the collection of back taxes.

A communication was received from Mayor Fisk in which he stated that Florence McCarthy, one of the most efficient members of the police force, had resigned to enlist in the regular army. He said that the officer enlisted with his knowledge and approval and he recommended that the officer receive $60 pay for the month of May, and that his place be kept vacant for him until he returns. This action was concurred in by the Council and Mr. Barrows offered a resolution that the officer be given the balance of the year off without pay. The same was adopted.

Corporation Counsel Marsh made a statement concerning certain cases wherein the city is interested. He said that the case of Mrs. Sarah Milliken against the city for damages claimed owing to the proximity of the sewer beds to her property, would come up at the October term of court, as would also the case of Lucy Swan against P. S. Gibson. Regarding the report of the Martin Act Commissioners he said that he would be obliged to argue for the confirmation of the report.

Mr. Barrows made a statement regarding the matter of placing the electric light wires underground. He said that the Corporation Counsel had been very busy during the past few weeks with city matters and had been unable to draw up a suitable ordinance covering the case in question. He hoped to have the matter ready for the next regular meeting of the Council.

Mr. Barrows also reported on the matter of asphalting the streets in the business part of the town. He said that the telephone and electric light wires were yet to go underground and the curb connections to be made. In his opinion and that of the street committee the matter of laying a permanent pavement cannot be considered until this work is accomplished. He said that the Council fully realizes the benefits to be derived from such a move and are anxious to give the taxpayers and property-owners what they deserve. The matter was talked of during the first part of the year and it is the intention of the Council to make as much progress along that line as possible. On a motion offered by Mr. Barrows one crosswalk was ordered laid at the corner of Fourth and Liberty streets, and another at the corner of Plainfield avenue and Eighth street.

Other resolutions offered by Mr. Barrows were to the effect that the sewer bonds reported be filed, and that Monday evening, June 6th, be set as the time when the Council will meet to receive bids for constructing sewers for surface drainage. The plans and specifications are now on file in the City Clerk's office.

Mr. Runyon offered a resolution that an amount not to exceed $5,000 be appropriated for the purchase of a lot and the erection of a firehouse in the western part of the city, and that the fire and building committee be given

A LARGE FAIR TO BE GIVEN BY CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER.

The Affair Will Continue for Three Days and Will Have Many Pleasant Features to Amuse—Those in Charge.

One of the largest fairs ever held in this city will be opened on Thursday, May 19th, at 8 o'clock at No. 20 Willow avenue under the auspices of the ladies of the Church of the Redeemer. The ladies have had this bazaar in contemplation for some time and the results of their work, will, it is certain, be gratifying to all beholders.

There are six principal booths besides other attractions. On entering the eye of the visitor will surely be attracted by the display of sofa-cushions of all kinds and descriptions, presided over by Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey and Mrs. Frank Brown. Here all styles of pillows from the comfortable hammock cushion to the elaborate drawing room ornament may be procured. Bags are also very much in evidence here, hanging from every possible place and of every conceivable kind.

The doll booth decorated in pink presents a fascinating appearance, and here miniature ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, are seated about in graceful attitudes, tempting the money of the on lookers out of their pockets. Miss Wilson, Miss Barlow, and Miss Frances Phillips are here to attend to the comfort of these small people, and incidentally to take charge of the gains accruing from them.

The fancy table displays all manner of tempting and beautiful articles, and Mrs. Samuel Townsend, the chairman, has a corps of ladies assisting her, among whom are the following: Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. George Dupee and Miss Stevens.

Numberless rare and exquisite articles are on exhibition at the china booth where Mrs. Audsley and the Misses Audsley have charge.

A bower of green and white is the candy booth where the most delicious varieties of that article may be obtained. Here Mrs. Gilbert T. Rhoades with Miss Moore, Miss Josephine Brook and Miss Phillips as aides, supply the wants of the purchaser.

The lemonade booth is also in tempting proximity and is a charming picture. Mrs. Frank Rowley and Mrs. Demarest preside here, while Miss Virginia Hegeman, Miss Dora Waring and Miss Elizabeth Curtis hand glasses of the refreshing beverage.

Last but not least comes the refreshment room, where the visitor may enjoy a most delicious meal at a moderate price. Mrs. J. O. Stevens, assisted by Mrs. A. E Faber, Jr., Miss Davis, Mrs. Henry R. Phillips, Mrs. Brock and Mrs. Webb look after the comfort of the guests, while young ladies attired patriotically in red, white and blue serve the appetizing viands. Old Glory is prominently displayed about the supper room and the tasteful decorations are pleasing to the eye.

Grab-bags are also centers of attraction, and here articles of various degrees of value may be obtained by the payment of a small sum. Miss Clapp has charge of these entertaining features.

Visitors will all find amusement and pleasure at the bazaar which will continue through the afternoons and evenings of Friday and Saturday, May 20th and 21st. No admission fee will be charged. The proceeds of the fair will be devoted to the building fund of the parish.

HUNTERSTON OPENS TOMORROW.

Under New Management it Has Been Fitted With Many New Things.

The Hotel Hunterston at Netherwood, under the management of Messrs. Webb & Morrison, opens tomorrow for the season. The hotel has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, fitted up with new carpets, rugs, furniture, etc., and is in first-class condition. The plumbing has been done under sanitary inspection, which has delayed the work a little, but by tomorrow everything will be in first class order and ready for the guests.

The new managers have had considerable experience in conducting summer hotels, and have been in most all the prominent summer resorts in the northern States, which insures their success in the new venture. They have taken a five-years' lease of the hotel, and expect to run it through all seasons.

A special feature is the cafe, which is removed from the bar room, and where wheelmen and coaching parties can get anything a la carte all day long. The manager has already booked thirty five families, and more are expected by the first of the week.

PLUCKY LITTLE NATION.

WELL-KNOWN HISTORIAN DESCRIBES THE CAREER OF HOLLAND.

Closing Lecture of the Present Season for the Monday Afternoon Club Delivered by William Elliott Griffis.

The club year of the Monday Afternoon Club closed yesterday afternoon with a lecture on "The Holland of Today," delivered by William Elliott Griffis, the well-known historian, in Casino of the Union County Country Club. Mr Griffis might well be considered an authority on the subject of Holland; one of his best known books is "Brave Little Holland, and What She Taught Us," which has interested many readers in the plucky little Nation by the sea.

A Nation's present can only be explained by its past, and a considerable part of Mr. Griffis' lecture was devoted to a study of the causes which have made Holland what she is today. The long wars with Spain were described, and then the speaker dwelt with admiration upon the determination and perseverance shown by the Hollanders.

A picture of the little queen, Wilhelmina, had been placed on a stand near the lecturer, and he called attention to the many excellent qualities possessed by the young sovereign, and the warm love borne for her by her subjects. Wilhelmina, he added, comes of a race not only great, but good as well.

The odd costumes of the people, and especially the ponderous head-dress worn by the peasant women, were described, and stories told of their origin. Mr. Griffis spoke warmly in praise of the beautiful home-life general among the Hollanders, and of the influence the love of home and native land have had in the history of the country.

The wonderful excellence of the art of Holland was of course spoken of at length by Mr. Griffis. In painting nature and home-life, the Dutch painters cannot be excelled.

As a lecturer, Mr. Griffis is a pleasant, easy, informal speaker. With a bright, original manner of expression, and many little touches of humor, he easily held the pleased attention of his audience, and made the final gathering of Plainfield's largest woman's club a delightful ending to a year of absorbing and successful work.

AN ANNOYING WRECK.

TWO CARS BLOCKED THE EAST BOUND TRACK FOR THREE HOURS.

They Were Being Switched to Scots Press Works When They Jumped the Rails—East Bound Trains Were Delayed.

A small wreck occurred on the Central Railroad early this morning near the Berckman street crossing in this city which delayed travel over the road for three hours and caused some inconvenience to the trainmen.

About 5:50 this morning freight train No. 469, east bound, drawn by engine No. 401, Conductor Lucker, was crossing over from track No. 1 to No. 3 to put a loaded freight car on Scott's switch. While bumping along over the switches one of the cars jumped a frog and left the track, carrying a gondola with it. The east bound trains switched over here to track No. 2, and were a little late getting into New York. The damage to the freight car was slight, and the wreck was cleared away by 8:30 o'clock.

A May Walk.

A pleasant May walk was given last Saturday by Miss Deborah Winn and Miss May Walls, of the borough. The party started at 10 o'clock in the morning and spent the day wandering about the mountains back of North Plainfield. The young folks returned home at 7 o'clock after a day of great enjoyment to all. Among those in the party were Miss Marion Pierson, Miss Helen Pierson, Miss Mabel McGee, Miss Leontine Huntsman, Miss Bertha Hill, Miss Jessica Hill, Miss Anna Marquardt, Miss Henrietta Winn and Wm. McGee, Norman Hill and Wm. Pierson.

Sudden Death in Martinville.

Theodore Abbott, foreman in William Bartle's stone cutting establishment on Park avenue, received word this morning of the sudden death of his mother in Martinville, from a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Abbott was about sixty eight years of age.

At a Veterans' Reunion.

J. B. Huriburt, foreman of the job department of this office, and Louis M. Hummer, of the borough, who are spending several days in northern New York State, are today attending the reunion of the Fourteenth New York Volunteers at Utica, of which Mr. Huriburt is a member.

Walter Thompson, of East Third street, went to Sea Girt yesterday to enlist in the army.

IT WAS SMITH DAY IN SOMERSET COUNTY.

The High Mogul of the Family Was on Trial.

AN ECHO OF THE BIG PIGNIC.

PHOTOGRAPHER REGER DIDN'T OBEY ORDERS QUICK ENOUGH.

The Photographer Wanted to Take the Pictures of Some of the Smiths, But Isiah, the President and Patriarch, Said Nay, and Then Forcibly Removed the Offending Photographer From the Picnic Grounds—The Result Was a Suit and Damages for Reger—Case Heard on Appeal By Judge Bartine.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 17—The Somerset county court yesterday echoed an incident of the famous Smith picnic at Peapack, up in the hills of Somerset, last August, which served as a magnet to draw upwards of a hundred Smiths to the tribunal of justice.

The Smith family reunion is one of the great features that annually occur in New Jersey, and the event is attended by members of that family name that range from plain every day folks to United States senators and college professors. The re-union is under the direction of the Smith Association, of which Isiah Smith is president and patrairch. Naturally there are a large number of Smiths who attend the re-union that are easy game for all sorts of fraudient schemes, and as a result fakirs mix up pretty freely with the Smiths when they meet at Peapack. One of the supreme duties of the president of the Smith Association is to ferret out these fakirs and thus preserve the temper and morals of the great and glorious family. It was while engaged in what he considered this duty that Isiah became involved in trouble that resulted in his appearance as a defendant in Somerset court yesterday.

Henry Reger is a photographer living in Raritan. In the Smith reunion he espied a chance for a day's profitable business, as the Smiths are great for having their pictures "took" on occasions when they gather for a good time. Consequently Reger took his outfit and a tent to the scene of the Smith festivities that August morning. He erected his tent at a favorable location and was about to begin business when Isiah Smith cast his eagle eye over the landscape and saw the operation which Reger was to engage in. It is one of the unwritten laws of the Smith family reunion that no pictures shall be "took" by itinerant photographers, and President Smith immediately proceeded to Reger's tent and commanded him to pull stakes and decamp. Smith insisted that he had temporary authority over the land on which the tent was erected, and when Reger made no move to go, Smith tore down the tent and grabbing Reffer by the seat of the trousers soon had him a standing dejectedly in the road. In the scuffle that took place a lamp in Reger's dark room was overturned and set fire to the tent and material and a portion of it was consumed.

A few days after the picnic, Smith was made a defendant in a suit for damages by Reger. Reger was represented by Miss Mary V. Steele, the second woman lawyer in New Jersey, and after an exciting trial secured a verdict in his favor. Smith appealed to the county court and yesterday the case was heard by Judge Bartine, during which many Smiths were sworn.

At the conclusion of the testimony Judge Bartine said that evidently Smith had used undue force in ejecting Reger from the sight of the picnic, as there was no need to choke a man and burn his outfit to accomplish his removal. Judge Bartine, however, reserved his decision until a later date. In the meantime the Smiths of New Jersey are much concerned to learn what the outcome of the contention will be, as it will have an important bearing on how order at Smith picnics in the future is going to be maintained.

A Faithful Servant Gone.

The death of Julia Bannon, aged fifty-two years, occurred yesterday at 440 West Eight street. For twenty-five years she was a faithful servant and friend in the home of J. Evarts Tracy, and she was highly esteemed for her many excellent qualities. The funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Opposition to Martin Act.

Much progress is being made by the opponents to the findings of the Martin Act Commissioners. There is still an opportunity for those interested to join in the opposition.

THE INVASION OF CUBA

An Overwhelming Force Will Be Sent Immediately.

BLANCO IN SORE STRAIGHTS

With the Blockade Maintained Spanish Ammunition Would Soon Give Out—The President Will Likely Issue a Second Call for Troops.

Washington, May 17.—It can be stated on the authority of a Cabinet officer that the object of the new concentration order issued by the War Department is to arrange for the immediate occupation of Cuba as soon as reports shall have been received that the Spanish ships now in the Caribbean Sea have been destroyed.

To this end and owing to the fact that 30,000 troops will be sent to Manila, it is expected that the President will soon issue a second call for volunteers.

President McKinley has said rather sharply that he does not want to lose another opportunity to invade Cuba. When the moment arrives at least 60,000 American soldiers will be ready to pour into the island. This allotment will be augmented by 20,000 more, if, in the meantime Gen. Miles considers the increase necessary.

Havana will not be struck with a feeble blow. The attack upon the city as now planned will be sharp and terrific.

Ten million rations will be stored at Tampa before the middle of the week.

Blanco Short of Powder.

The Administration has reliable information that Blanco is short of powder and shot. With his present supply he could not maintain a fight for two days.

Making Ready at Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., May 17.—Final preparations are making on the transports at Port Tampa for the departure of an expedition. The little coast steamboat Tarpon is bringing water daily from St. Petersburg. It is being stored on the transports in big casks. A large force of men was engaged this morning in carrying provisions on board.

What Senator Hanna Says.

Cleveland, May 17.—In an interview here Senator Hanna says that every soldier who has been at Columbus will be rushed to Cuba as soon as Rear Admiral Sampson has destroyed the Spanish fleet. He says it would require 50,000 men to occupy Cuba, and that it is costing the Government $1,000,000 a day to prosecute the war even at the present stage.

The Volunteer Army.

Washington, May 17.—Seventy thousand volunteers have now been mustered into the service of the United States Government, and the larger part of these are ready to start immediately for the mobilizing point. A great many are already on their way, and from now on there will be a steady stream of soldiers traveling across the country and toward the Gulf, until the entire movement has been completed.

Assignment of New York Soldiers.

Washington, May 17.—The Sixty-fifth Regiment, of Buffalo, will come to Washington for camp life. The Ninth, Twelfth and Fourteenth, all of New York City, are to go to Chickamauga.

THE TERM OF ENLISTMENT.

Men May Be Mustered Out of Service at the End of the War.

New York, May 17.—The question as to the term of enlistment of recruits in the regular army has been settled by official communication as follows:

"General order, No. 40, War Department, U. S. A., May 10, 1898, authorizes recruiting officers to inform men enlisting or re-enlisting for the regular army that they may be discharged at end of war on their individual application.

"F. A. WHITNEY,
"Recruiting Officer, U. S. A."

This will be an important factor in obtaining recruits for the regular army, a branch of the work which the post recruiting stations are now giving their special attention. A man who enlists in the regular army now has the assurance that he can be mustered out of service at the end of the war by making a personal application for his discharge.

POLO WILL GET OUT.

Is Going to Leave Canada, but Not, He Says, Under Compulsion.

Montreal, May 17.—Senor Polo y Bernabe, late Spanish Minister at Washington, announced to-day that he would leave Canada on Saturday for Madrid by way of England. He says that he is not going because any compulsion has been used in the matter by the Imperial Government at the request of the United States, but because he is now ready to depart. He had hoped to get away last Saturday, but for certain reasons he could not.

Ohio Naval Reserves for Sampson.

Cleveland, May 17.—Acting Adjutant Gen. Kingsley, of the Ohio Naval Reserves, has been instructed by the Navy Department to arrange for the mustering in of two hundred men from the reserves. Engineers and seamen are especially wanted. The men will be assigned to Admiral Sampson's fleet.

The Ohio Naval Reserve consists at present of about 336 men and 24 officers. There are two battalions of two divisions each. The First Battalion is located at Toledo and the Second in Cleveland.

First New Jersey Gets Orders.

Camp Voorhees, Sea Girt, May 17.—Orders were received here for the immediate transfer of the First Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, to Washington. That the other regiments will be removed in accordance with instructions already given out there is little doubt.

The First Regiment is from Newark and musters the full legal quota. It is now commanded by Col. Edward A. Campbell. Full rations and equipments are being rapidly prepared. The regiment will probably leave to-night or to-morrow morning.

SULLIVAN THE VICTOR.

Defeats Sam Kelly at the Lenox Athletic Club Upon the Twentieth Round.

New York, May 17.—Last night saw the resumption of boxing in Greater New York at the Lenox Athletic Club. For months the sports had been awaiting this event, and every one in that line was present.

The drawing card was the twenty round bout between the featherweights, Tommy Kelly and Dave Sullivan.

The attendance when the principal bout was called was nearly 7,000.

Sullivan and Kelly entered the ring at 10.20. Sullivan's seconds were Jack Sullivan, Dan Donovan and Mike Gallagher. Kelly's seconds were Paddy Morgan, Tom West and Larry Burns.

The announcer said the original agreement was 118 pounds, to weigh in at 3 p. m. on the day of the fight.

When the men met Sullivan weighed in at 124 pounds, but Kelly was willing to proceed with the contest, notwithstanding the disparity of weights. Jimmy Dime, of Troy, was introduced as referee.

Sullivan was declared the winner in the twentieth round. Honors were easy throughout.

HETTY GREEN ASKED TO PAY.

Suit for $50,000 Begun by Her Former Lawyer.

New York, May 17.—The trial of the action brought by William H. Stayton, a lawyer, to recover $50,000 from Mrs. Hetty Green for legal services rendered her, was commenced yesterday, before Justice Bookstaver, in the Supreme Court.

Stayton claims that for nearly six years he acted as counsel for Mrs. Green, but says she refused to pay him for his services. He is represented in this suit by former District Attorney Delancey Nicol.

Mrs. Green, for whom Wheeler H. Peckham appears, denies that she is indebted to Stayton to any extent whatsoever.

Mrs. Green occupied a seat near the lawyer, and took deep interest in the proceedings in court. She wore a black beaded velvet cape and a bonnet trimmed with red velvet, and a large boutonniere of violets on her breast.

Telegraph Censorship in Force.

New York, May 17.—News concerning the movements of the American Army and Navy is not gaining much of a circulation outside the United States just at present, owing to the efforts of the Government officers. They do not want Spain to learn anything about any of our forces, and are taking care that nothing concerning them gets out over the cables.

Gen. Greely, Chief Signal Officer, who has charge of the [illegible] censorship in the [illegible] offices, and by his orders all [illegible] messages are held up as soon as presented.

Merritt May Stay at Home.

New York, May 17.—It is more than likely that Major Gen. Wesley Merritt will not go to Manila. Yesterday he said that he had informed the Secretary of War of his unwillingness to go with the command that he had understood was to be assigned to him. He belives the command not only inadequate, to his rank in the army, but entirely inadequate for the duty which it will have to perform.

Porto Rico Cut Off.

New York, May 17.—The Central cable office of the Western Union Telegraph Company announces that the Spanish Government of Porto Rico has prohibited the transmission of all messages to or from the United States.

The Cuban Blockade.

Madrid, May 17.—The Government announces that the blockade of Cuba cannot be recognized as effective, and hopes that the European powers and the States of Central and South America will refuse to recognize it.

Fleet Had to Leave Curacao.

London, May 17.—Advices just received here say that the Spanish warships left Curacao on Sunday at the request of the Dutch officers.

Admiral Cervera has touched at points where he could communicate with Madrid by cable. There is a cable station at Martinique and one at Curacao.

Seven persons were burned to death yesterday at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, including three nuns and Mrs. Dr. Chagnon, of Fall River, Mass. Five other persons are missing.

Secretary Day has instructed Ambassador Hay to procure all possible information as to the alleged massacre of American missionaries in Sierra Leone, with especial reference to the whereabouts of Mr. and Mrs. McGrew. The missionaries were all sent out by the United Brethren of Christ Mission, Dayton, O.

A BATTLE IMMINENT

Every Move of Spanish Ships Known to Our Fleets.

CLASH LIKELY ANY TIME

The Government Withholds News of Naval Movements from Correspondents, but Other Sources Are Drawn Upon, and the Public Is Kept Well Informed.

Washington, May 17.—Secretary Long has issued his threatened order to cut off all newspaper men from getting news except by official bulletin from himself. Naval officers all over the department have been forbidden to give out news or even talk to newspaper men. The officers are fretting somewhat under the imputation that they cannot be relied upon, and resent the official order forbidding them to talk to newspaper men or visitors.

The Navy Department is guarding most jealously the movements of our fleets. Commodore Schley and his Flying Squadron are at sea. Admiral Sampson is somewhere off the Haitien coast, presumably making his way through the Windward Passage into the Caribbean Sea.

This morning's dispatches indicate that it is expected that Admiral Sampson, if he has time, will go through the Windward Passage and take a position at the south entrance, which would enable his scouting vessels to give him warning if the Spanish fleet made for this passage, or if it turned toward Porto Rico through the Mona Passage. It is also the hope of the department that it may be possible for Commodore Schley to reach Cuban waters early enough to guard the Yucatan Passage at the west end of Cuba.

To Surround the Spaniards.

If Schley succeeds in reaching the latter location before the appearance of the enemy, and Admiral Sampson gets into the Caribbean Sea ahead of the Spanish fleet, it is calculated that the vessels of these two fleets will be so distributed as to keep the Spanish hemmed in from all forward movement, leaving open to them the alternative of engaging our fleet or retreating to Martinique. The department is proceeding on the assumption that the Spanish fleet is bound for Cuba, and has no intention of going to Porto Rico, both the Sampson and Schley fleets being sent to Cuban waters.

Swift scouts patrol the Caribbean Sea on the lookout for the enemy's ships. Should they sail around the western end of Cuba for Havana, there is Schley's squadron.

Should they strike for Havana by the eastern end of the island, by the Windward Passage, there is Admiral Sampson to intercept them.

Should they seek the southern coast of Cuba—there are the scouts to discover them and notify Sampson.

The main purpose is to prevent the enemy's fleet from reaching Havana. Once the Spanish fleet had connected with the powerful modern fortifications at Havana, and where the torpedo destroyers could operate to better advantage, the problem of destroying the Spaniards would have been more difficult.

As the several fleets are now located, according to the best report, it would be practically impossible to prevent the Spanish fleet at Curacao from forming a junction with the other Spanish vessels, if there are any at Martinique, and proceeding to San Juan.

News from the Oregon.

The Navy Department has been informed of the whereabouts of the Oregon, and has also heard news from the Spanish fleet, but nothing official has been given out.

The Oregon, however, is known to be out of harm's way.

NEW ARMY COMMANDERS

Gen. Graham to Command First Corps at Falls Church, Va.

Washington, May 17.—The President, Secretary Alger and Adjutant Gen. Corbin have selected officers to command the seven corps into which the army is to be divided.

The First Corps, at Falls Church, Va., will be commanded by Major Gen. William Graham, now commanding the Department of the Gulf, with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.; Major Gen. James H. Wilson will have command of the Sixth Corps, at Chickamauga, and Major Gen. Fitzhugh Lee will command the Seventh Corps, also at Chickamauga.

The other corps assignments have been provisionally made, but will not be announced until finally decided upon. The vacancy in command of the Department of the East, with headquarters at New York, caused by the appointment of Major Gen. Merritt as Governor General of the Philippines, will be temporarily filled by Brig. Gen. R. T. Frank, formerly colonel of the First Artillery and commander of the artillery school at Fort Monroe.

Brig. Gen. Francis L. Guenther has been assigned to temporary command of the troops concentrated at Washington for the purpose of organization.

SPAIN'S MANILA VICTORY?

It Was Elaborately and Officially Celebrated at Cienfuegos.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—Advices from Cienfuegos, Cuba, say the Spaniards at that place attended the chanting of a Te Deum at the principal church there in celebration of the "news" circulated by the Spanish Government to the effect that the Spanish forces had been "victorious" at Manila. When the first "news" was received at Cienfuegos from Madrid all the bells in the city were rung, and Gen. Pando, who was then there, and his staff, attended the Church of St. Sulpice in full uniform. In addition, a ration of wine was served out to the soldiers, and, though the American blockading ships were outside the harbor and meat costing two pesetas a pound, the city was gay and rejoiced at the announced "success" of the Spanish arms. Since then, however, ugly rumors of the defeat of the Spaniards have been in circulation; but, "officially," Spain has won a "victory" in the Philippine Islands.

HARVARD'S DELAYED DISPATCHES.

French Manager at Fort de France Says Capt. Cotton Used the English Cable to Washington.

Fort de France, Martinique, May 17.—The manager here of the French Cable Company explicitly denies the statement that a dispatch filed by Capt. Cotton, of the United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard, was delayed twenty-four hours at St. Pierre, this island. The manager explains the matter as follows:

"Capt. Cotton presented himself at the office of the company at St. Pierre and asked by what cable line cable messages were transmitted to Washington. When he was informed that such messages went by way of Fort de France and Hayti he refused to give us his dispatch because a Spanish torpedo boat was at that moment at Fort de France, and not taking into account professional secrecy, he told the American Consul, in the presence of M. Lalung, that, under these conditions, he preferred to give his dispatches to the English company, in spite of the delay of twenty-four hours which they would have to submit to on account of the accumulation of business on the lines of that company."

VICTORY FOR GOMEZ.

He Compels the Spaniards to Relinquish Forts and Retreat.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—In an engagement seven leagues from Cienfuegos last Monday Gen. Gomez defeated 1,600 Spanish troops and compelled the Spaniards to retire to the city.

The Spanish were also obliged to abandon the minor outer fortifications, and they notified the neighboring planters that they must protect themselves.

A fortnight ago Gen. Menocal passed Cienfuegos with 2,000 troops from Puerto Principe and Santa Clara on the way to invade Havana Province and co-operate in the protection of the American landing party.

Gen. Gomez is undoubtedly in possession of the Jucaro-Moron trocha, the most important one near Cienfuegos, as all the Spanish troops guarding it were recently withdrawn.

AMERICAN REPORTERS HELD.

Blanco Would Not Exchange the Two Newspaper Men.

Key West, May 17.—Lieut. Brainard, who took the auxiliary tug Uncas to Cuba under a flag of truce to secure the release of the scout Charles E. Thrall, and the artist, Hayden Jones, returned this morning. The plan fell through.

The Uncas entered Havana flying a flag of truce.

Her commander saw Blanco's aide, who said he had no authority to release Jones and Thrall without an application from the American Secretary of War or State. This the Uncas came back to obtain.

A cable message from Jones received here says he is comfortable. The circumstances permit of their being treated well.

CONNECTICUT TROOPS SLOW.

No Volunteers from That State Have Yet Been Mustered In.

Washington, May 17.—The slowness with which Connecticut is making up its quota of State troops has caused some remark at the War Department. Differences of opinion among the State authorities have arisen, and the result of this and other causes is that no soldiers have been mustered at Niantic, and not more than one-half of the required quota has even been passed upon by the mustering officer.

Representative Sperry and Col. Burpee, of the Second, called on the Secretary of War this morning for a conference. The Second is said to be entirely equipped for field service and the men are eager to go to the war.

Bitter Against Consul McGarr.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—The American refugees from Cienfuegos who came away from that place by the Adula have been released from quarantine. They reiterate the statement that Consuls McGarr and Casanova left, without notifying the residents of their departure, on the Beverley.

An English passenger on the Adula says McGarr "acted the part of a cowardly scoundrel." He came to the British Consul, Mr. Fowler, and said the Beverley's departure was a State secret and he must not let out what her mission was.

"He gave no notification to Americans, more than 150 of whom remained behind, who did not know what the vessel came for.

"Persons who knew and applied were allowed to go, but the majority did not know the vessel's object until after her departure."

Doubt a Second Fleet.

Washington, May 17.—The Navy Department takes with great allowance the report that the Spanish strategists have succeeded in sending a second squadron, under Admiral Villamil, to the West Indies, and that it also is off Martinique. Even if the alleged information did not bear the suspicious earmark of a Madrid date, the department would not be surprised to hear that Admiral Villamil, as well as Admiral Cervera, was with the Spanish force in the Caribbean Sea. The fact that the report came from Madrid satisfies the officials here that this is another Spanish ruse to centre our attention on Martinique, while their ships have passed westward.

Funeral of Ensign Bagley.

Raleigh, N. C., May 17.—The body of Ensign Worth Bagley reached here yesterday and was borne on the shoulders of a detachment of six men to the home of his mother. Along the route from Jacksonville handsome floral designs were presented.

The body lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol upon three gun cases covered with flowers. The capitol and all public buildings and stores were draped in mourning. Immense crowds viewed the body.

After funeral services in Capitol square, conducted by Dr. Daniel, of the Presbyterian Church, the body was laid to rest in the family plot at Oakwood Cemetery. The funeral procession was nearly three miles long.

THE COST OF THE WAR

Secretary Sherman Going to Alaska for His Health.

WILL RAISE SPANISH SHIPS

One Hundred and Sixty-five Millions Estimated as Required for the Volunteers a Year, and Seventy-six Millions for the Navy—The Senate Considers.

Washington, May 17.—Yesterday in the Senate, Mr. Allison (Rep., Ia.) estimated that the War Revenue bill as reported to the Senate by the Finance Committee would, independent of the Democratic amendments, produce $150,000,000 in annual revenue, and that the Democratic amendments would, if incorporated in the act, increase the amount to the extent of $75,000,000.

Mr. Allison said that Secretary Alger thought the war would cost for one year $165,000,000 for the army and volunteers. The Secretary of the Navy, for the same period, wanted $76,000,000.

This, Mr. Allison said, does not include the $35,000,000 already appropriated for war deficiency, the $50,000,000 for emergency defense, the $47,000,000 in the Navy Appropriation bill, or the $22,000,000 in the Naval Deficiency bill, pending in the house, making nearly $300,000,000 needed for war purposes. Even this was below the actual necessities, and did not include the cost of sending 15,000 men to the Philippines.

DEWEY WILL RAISE SPANISH SHIPS.

He Has Asked the Department for Wrecking Apparatus.

Washington, May 17.—The cable received by the President from Admiral Dewey was much longer than made public. The Admiral, after announcing that he was perfectly satisfied with the condition at Manila and was able to take care of himself, gave a long list of things which were necessary for him to have. He also stated that if wrecking apparatus were sent him he would be able to raise a number of the Spanish warships sunk during the battle. The Admiral thinks that there are several of the gunboats which can be easily be raised, repaired and made useful.

In view of this, the War Department has been hastening the preparations to dispatch the transports now on the Pacific coast to Manila, and they are expected to leave San Francisco by Thursday.

It is said at the Quartermaster General's office that the City of Pekin, with over 1,000 men aboard, will leave on Thursday. Brig. Gen. Otis is expected to go with the first detachment of troops for the Philippines, to be followed by Gen. Merritt, who is to be the commander in chief of the expedition and the Military Governor of the islands.

Gen. Miles has recommended to the President that two additional brigadiers also be sent, but their names have not yet been announced.

John Sherman Going to Alaska.

Cleveland, May 17.—In an interview here to-day, Senator Hanna said that ex-Secretary of State John Sherman will go to Alaska for his health about June 1.

COALING AT ST. THOMAS

Fuel Not to Be Delivered Without the Governor's Permission.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 17.—An official announcement just issued by the Governor of the Island of St. Thomas prohibits the delivery of coal to the warships of the belligerent powers without the permission of the Governor, who will determine the amount each vessel can receive, and who will supervise its delivery.

The British steamer Twickenham, which arrived here with a cargo of coal, has cleared. Destination unknown.

The Yale returned here yesterday and is now awaiting orders.

Shot at Spaniards.

Key West, May 17.—The Government tug Osceola reports that while cruising along the Cuban coast with the torpedo boat Ericsson on Friday afternoon they saw a large body of Spanish soldiers patrolling the shore about eight miles west of Havana.

Both boats sent in a fusillade of shots which scattered the troops. It is not known whether any of the soldiers were killed.

The Spaniards did not return the fire.

Wainwright Gets a Cruiser.

Washington, May 17.—The auxiliary cruiser Gloucester, formerly the steam yacht Corsair, was commissioned yesterday in command of Lieut. Richard Wainwright, who was executive officer of the battleship Maine at the time of the Havana harbor disaster. The vessel is now at the yards of the Quintard Iron Works, where she has been undergoing alterations for the past three weeks.

Alabama to Be Launched To-morrow

Philadelphia, May 17.—It only wants one day now to the launching at Cramps' ship yard, on the Delaware River, of the new battleship Alabama, which, if the calculating prophecies of experts are to be verified, will be the most puissant fighting machine of a navy that is to have a world wide power.

Precautions in the Canaries.

Liverpool, May 17.—The telegraph office at the island of Grand Canary, near the centre of the Canary Islands, the chief city of which is Las Palmas, has been seized by the Spanish authorities. All telegrams, except the barest commercial messages, have been stopped.

Senators Have Military Friends.

Washington, May 17.—Almost a quorum of the Senate visited the President to-day. Military appointments formed the general tenor of their remarks. They tender the services of enough officers to lead 780,000 men.

The Oregon Safe.

Key West, May 17.—It can be stated on authority that the Oregon is not coming North over the regular route, and that if the Spanish fleet is looking for the battleship it will not catch her.

Why is it that nearly all aged persons are thin?

And yet, when you think of it, what could you expect?

Three score years of wear and tear are enough to make the digestion weak. Yet the body must be fed.

In Scott's Emulsion, the work is all done; that is, the oil in it is digested, all ready to be taken into the blood. The body rests, while the oil feeds and nourishes, and the hypophosphites makes the nerves steady and strong.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

SPANISH WAR POLICY.

Changes in the Cabinet Mean More Active Hostilities.

Madrid, May 17.—Senor Moret, the Minister for the Colonies, confirmed the statement that any changes made in the composition of the Cabinet would be wholly in the direction of a more active war policy. He said:

"Recent events have greatly increased the war spirit of the nation, and the greatest reliance is placed upon Admiral Cervera's squadron and upon the skill of the Spanish Admiral. The latter is not hampered by instructions, and the details of his plans are not even known to the Ministers."

Senor Sagasta this afternoon visited the palace and formally handed to the Queen Regent the resignation of the Ministry.

The Queen Regent charged Senor Sagasta to form a new Cabinet. The Premier will confer with the presidents of the Chambers and with Senor Gamazo.

A communication has been sent to the Cabinets announcing the Cabinet crisis and asking them to suspend their sessions, pending a solution. Senor Sagasta believes the new Ministry will be formed by Wednesday next.

Orders have been issued by Senor Sagasta countermanding the reception which was to have been held to-day upon the occasion of the King's birthday, and he has instructed the Captains General in all districts not to hold their usual reception.

Capt. Gen. Blanco, in a dispatch from Havana, officially reiterates the Spanish version of the so called fight between the Spanish gunboats Conde de Venadito and Nueva Espana and vessels of the American blockading fleet. He claims the two gunboats engaged five American ships and forced the latter to retreat, adding:

"I obtained the results desired, namely, to attract as many of the enemy's ships as possible. Yesterday morning there were only three here, and now there are eleven."

Admiral Camara, the commander of the Spanish reserve squadron at Cadiz, has been recalled here to confer with the Ministers respecting his intended operations.

The newspapers express fear that a secret Anglo-American alliance already exists.

West Down in Collision.

Liverpool, May 17.—The Norwegian steamer Klondike, from Antwerp, was docked here yesterday with her bows badly damaged. The captain of the Klondike reports that on Saturday night, off Point Lynas, on the northern coast of Wales, his vessel was in collision with the British steamer Benholm, bound for Cardiff.

The captain says the Benholf was so badly damaged that she soon foundered and that twelve of her crew, including the master, went down with her. Nine of those on board the Benholm were rescued and brought to Liverpool by the Klondike.

Pennsylvania Governorship.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 17.—A dispatch from Avalon, N. J., where Senator Quay is spending a few days at State Senator Becker's cottage, says that after a conference with State Chairman Elkin, Senator Durham and other Republican leaders, the Senator pledged himself anew to the candidacy of William A. Stone for Governor.

State Chairman Elkin stated that Mr. Stone was sure to be nominated. He said 301 of the 362 delegates have been elected, and of this number he claimed 167 are for Stone. Of the 61 yet to be elected, he said 37 would be for Stone.

Princeton Gets $100,000.

New York, May 17.—By the terms of her will, filed in the Surrogate's office for probate, Annie S. Paton leaves $100,000 to Princeton University and $50,000 to the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital, of this city.

Mrs. Paton died at her late residence, No. 15 West Nineteenth street, on May 10 last. Her will was executed on June 25, 1897. The petition places the value of the real property at $40,000. The value of the personal property is not known.

Mrs. Cody to Be Tried in June.

Albany, May 17.—Mrs. Margaret E. Cody, charged with blackmail by the Gould heirs in connection with her unsuccessful attempt to prove that Jay Gould had married Mrs. Sarah Ann Angell, of Champlain, N. Y., in April, 1853, and to secure for Mrs. Angell a dower interest in the Gould estate, was arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Fursman, and pleaded not guilty.

Her case was sent to the County Court for trial in the second week in June before Judge Gregory.

Setback for Russell Harrison.

Washington, May 17.—Russell Harrison, son of ex-President Harrison, may not get his commission as Assistant Adjutant General. It was learned today that Senator Proctor will oppose his confirmation when the President's nominations are sent to the Senate.

It develops that Russell Harrison has not been on speaking terms with his father since the latter was married.

Those who were instrumental in persuading President McKinley to appoint young Harrison represented that he was in need of employment.

South Europe.

When the troops of a nation are ordered to discharge explosive bullets at its own subjects, things are in a bad way for that country. Italy is apparently on the verge of a revolution that may sweep the house of Savoy from its place and even compel Pope Leo XIII himself to seek asylum elsewhere. It is to be noted that the mobs that rose in the Italian cities and killed 1,000 people fired on monasteries and sacked them as freely as stores and factories. Not often has this happened in a Catholic country. When it has been done, it was the signal for a revolution so terrible and farreaching that no man now ventures to think what may happen in the immediate future. The leaders in the Italian disturbances are plainly those anarchists who would as willingly destroy church as state.

In Spain the condition of things is the same, though there it comes from actual poverty and from disappointment with the government. Italy is tottering; Spain is tottering. How is it in France? There is not much outward disturbance—yet. But those who have watched the third republic through its checkered career see signs that another revolution may be impending, with a dictator, emperor, heaven knows what, in the foreground. We sincerely hope otherwise, but can only wait and watch events.

The nations of south Europe, all of kindred race, languages and blood, seem rushing on to their ruin. Have they fallen into old age and decrepitude and are they sliding down the slope of time into decay, as the Chinese, Egyptians and so many others have done before them? Natural conditions are all in favor of the continuance of these south Europe nations. Their climate is so mild and healthful that southern Europe is the sanitarium for Christendom. Their soil is the most fertile, growing the fruits, flowers, grains and vegetables in abundance and variety unequaled elsewhere on the earth. Yet except France, the most northerly one of them, these beautiful countries stagnate and rot in ignorance, destitution and misrule. Has the finger of fate written their doom?

In all the three great divisions of the globe, on the other hand, in Europe, Asia and America, the nations owning the northern regions of the globe are rich, progressive and powerful.

The United States has done a bolder and more daring thing than even declaring war on Spain. It has snubbed a lord high Pooh Bah of the New York Four Hundred's most sacred and select circle, Duke Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont himself. Duke Belmont, actuated by a patriotic and patronizing desire to assist the United States in its present little embarrassment, offered to build a torpedo boat out of his own pocket, if not out of his own head, and lend it to the government for the war. Perhaps he wanted a torpedo boat for a pleasure yacht after hostilities cease, and so lent instead of gave the thing. The loaning of the craft instead of a gift of her outright was one string attached to the vessel. There was another. It was that Duke Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont himself should be commander of the torpedo boat. If Duke Oliver had said his wife would boss the yacht, the government might have thought twice before refusing the services of that redoubtable commander, but Duke Oliver himself—no! So our cruel and heartless naval department declined with thanks the brilliant offer of Duke Oliver. Never mind. The duke still has his valet and his beautiful clothes.

The barb wire scheme of defense was familiar to Weyler in Cuba. His trocha was made from barb wire. Among the equipments of our troops who went to Cuba was a consignment of 2,500 wire cutters to be used in demolishing the thing. Even flat on the ground, however, the squirming, tangling things would be apt to catch the boys' legs and tear their gaiters.

Dewey's battle in Manilla bay was the greatest naval victory of modern times and it will so stand for centuries. The destruction of ten Spanish warships and the killing of 800 Spanish seamen without the loss of a vessel or even a man on our side is something unheard of before in sea fight records.

The country is so much richer and more populous now than it was in 1861 that war taxes, whatever may be finally decided on, will bring in far larger revenues than they did then and will not be felt by the people nearly so much.

It is not often that an embarrassment of honors overtakes a man as it has done Senator Sewell of New Jersey. Between being a major general in the United States army and a senator in the United States congress it was hard to tell which he wanted the more.

A man who would rather serve his country as a soldier than as a congressman is entitled to credit. Such a man is Hon. James R. Campbell of Illinois, who resigned his seat in the national house of representatives that he might take part in the war.

The saddest fact connected with Admiral Dewey and Fitz-Hugh Lee is the number of homely and insignificant babies that will be named for them. This consideration is almost enough to keep anybody from being a great man.

REAR ADMIRAL W. T. SAMPSON.

Captain W. T. Sampson, acting rear admiral in command of the North Atlantic squadron, is an officer of impressive appearance and one who has the love and respect of every man on every vessel in his fleet. The portrait here presented is said to be one of the best ever made of this gallant sailor.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

There was a fashionable crowd at this wedding ceremony in Plainfield. The bride was a splendid specimen of the athletic woman; the bridegroom a little shrimp of a man with narrow face and retreating chin. Two ministers officiated; two prayers were offered.

"Two prayers aren't any too much for the poor fellow," said one of the ushers. "His wife swings Indian clubs."—New York Press.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

A man who wanted a drink attempted to enter a Park avenue saloon Saturday, but two large dogs which he had with him on a chain, pulled back so and were so determined not to go into the saloon that the man had to give it up. They must have been temperance dogs.

One of the sons of Captain Bennett, of Lincoln place, is a seaman on the New York, and the Captain was very much alarmed Saturday night when the report was circulated that the battleship had been sunk. Captain Bennett hurried to New York, traced the rumor, and telegraphed south to find out the truth.

* * * * *

Another sadder but wiser man is suing a New York matrimonial bureau for having failed to secure for him a $40,000 wife after he had put up the requisite fee for the purpose. Perhaps the most solemn feature of the case is his offer to produce fifty persons who have been similarly bamboozled by the same agency. What fools these mortals be!

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The fashionable event of the season will be the Red Cross Society Fund Benefit, announced for Thursday night at Music Hall. The indications are that the house will be filled, and as the object is worthy, the character of the entertainment above reproach, it goes without saying almost, that it should deservedly be so. Orders for seats continue to be filled at box office. Manager Maze Edwards announces that he will keep office open until 9 o'clock every evening to accommodate all desiring seats. The best artists of Weber and Fields forces assist in the entertainment.

Monday next the American Stock Company will make their first appearance at Music Hall.

"Way Down East" at the Manhattan in New York, is the only current attraction in New York that has passed the century mark. It gives no sign of waning vitality. Three times within the past week the crush has been so great that the musicians have been crowded under the stage. There has not, for the past fourteen weeks, been a night when "standing room only" was not placarded. There is a charm about this picturesque rural play, with its tender pathos and rollicking humor, that can only be broken by the advent of the dog-days. In fact, it could undoubtedly run straight through next season at this house, if Brady and Ziegfeld had not committed themselves to other new productions. Monday Archie Boyd appeared as Squire Bartlett, succeeding Burr McIntosh, whose private business interests demand retirement. Mr. Boyd is one of the most famous exponents of rustic characters of the stalwart, rugged type, having for many years played the roles created by Denman Thompson in "The Old Homestead" and James A. Hearne in "Shore Acres."

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Moffett to the effect that inasmuch as the city has purchased a liberty pole, and that Edward White has presented the city with a flag, that Decoration Day be the time chosen for the raising of the flag and that Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. Being Certain!

We know that many people who have bought Pianos from us have come here with the idea that, knowing nothing about Pianos themselves, they could put their trust in our judgment and feel safe.

Good reputation is a first requisite in business—especially a Piano business—and our reputation is so good that we have yet to hear of a buyer of one of our Pianos who wasn't perfectly satisfied.

Good Pianos only, and straight liberal methods of doing business, have built our immense trade.

LI HUNG CHANG'S FURS.

A Sable Skin That Surpasses Anything in Nature.

Li Hung Chang is believed to be the richest man in the world. This belief certainly gives credit from a glimpse at one portion of his invested capital which recently made its appearance in the city of London. Among other sources of income, the great Chinese satrap draws an annual tribute of precious furs from one of the northern provinces.

Li Hung Chang has immense warehouses in Pekin crammed with precious furs from top to bottom.

There is an immense demand for rare furs in China. A nation in which neither men nor women wear jewels, but which has an exquisite taste for personal luxuries, finds a substitute for jewels in costume. An Indian or Afghan prince will perhaps dress in white cotton, provided this be set off by some priceless gems on his sword, dagger and turban. A Chinese mandarin's sole jewel may be a few bits of jade or carnelian, but he makes up for this in summer by the richness of his silks, and in winter by wearing robes of furs so splendid that it needs a certain education to appreciate the full beauty of the costume. It has long been known that the Chinese furriers were the best in the world, and that except in the dyeing of sealskins, their treatment of the fur itself, especially in improving its tint and luster, was unrivaled. It was not, however, suspected that they could improve on the work of nature. An inspection of some of Li's furs recently sent to London showed that this was a task not beyond the art of the ancient civilization of the far East. There were three or four robes which raised a certain excitement of admiration, even among the purely commercial experts of the wholesale fur trade. One of these robes was constructed with a special object.

LI HUNG CHANG.

The aim of the Chinese furrier had been to make a skin of sable magnified to the size of the skin of a bear. In addition to creating a gigantic sable, this genius also wished that the animal should have fur with the hair lying all parallel; whereas in nearly every fur except that of the seal, when the long hairs are removed the grain and direction follow the anatomy of the body, and give an unevenness to the whole. To effect these objects the artist had cut out the "tit-bits" of sable skins, and divided these into tiny strips averaging from an inch to half an inch in length. These strips were all from the same part of the sable's body, ad were covered with fur of even length, luster and thickness. They were then sewn together with minute art, so that at the back the skin looked like a patchwork of tiny parallelograms like the squares on a fritillary flower, averaging from three to four in the square inch. In front the fur was absolutely uniform, homogeneous and apparently without seam or joining, the kind of giant sable skin which might appear in dreams as the ideal of a Russian bride's trosseau. But Li Hung Chang's furriers had produced something bettetr than this—a fur robe which can justly claim to be an improvement on anything that nature has given us in the rarest furs of beasts. Sable was again the material used. In this robe also the skins were divided, and rejoined so as to secure uniformity of tint, fur and setting. But in the robe so made the artist had inserted at intervals the skin of the sable's shoulder and forepaw. This, when cut out, laid flat and sewn together, with a little addition to the curves, forms an "ocellus" like a peacock's eye in sable damask, for the tint of the robe was uniform, and only the difference in the lie and texture of the fur produced the ornaments. The result was the creation of a sable skin, adorned at regular intervals with an apparently natural ornament of peacock's eyes, such as one sees in the tail of the white peacock, indicated by the same alternations of reflection and lights as in damask. The magnificence of this conception needs no comment.—London Spectator.

A Town Built of Salt.

In Galicia, in Austrian Poland, there is a remarkable underground city which has a population of over 1,000 men, women and children, scores of whom have never seen the light of day. It is known as the City of the Salt Mines, and is situated several hundred feet below the earth's surface.

It has its town-hall, theatre, and assembly-room, as well as a beautiful church, decorated with statues, all being fashioned from the pure crystallized rock-salt. It has well-graded streets and spacious squares, lighted with electricity.

There are numerous instances in this underground city where not a single individual in three or four successive generations has ever seen the sun, or has any idea of how people live in the light of day.

THE FRIGATE BIRD.

It Lives in the Upper Air and Sleeps Upon the Wing.

The frigate bird is endowed with magnificent powers of flight. His wings stretch to an expanse of about ten or twelve feet; his body is about three feet in length; his bill is very powerful, and his feet are webbed, but very small; but for these he has but little use, as his home is in the air, hundreds of leagues away from the land.

He is seen soaring high above the ocean; but on its bosom he never rests. When he seeks repose, he finds it aloft. His foot rarely touches land, except at the time for pairing, making nests and rearing young.

The expanse of his wing is so great and his body is so light that he can soar with little or no exertion. Still, it is difficult to see how this would enable him actually to sleep on the wing, as it is believed he does.

A closer examination shows, however, that his bones are hollow, and that there is a large pouch communicating with his lungs and with the cavities in the bones. This pouch he can inflate with air, and thus render himself buoyant; the sustaining power thus acquired, added to that of the wings, is sufficient to keep him up.

If his home be in the air, if he neither dives into the sea for fish, nor searches on the land for other food, whence does he derive his sustenance? Impelled by hunger, he descends from the lofty regions where it is his delight to dwell. Whether the sea be rough or calm, he glides along over the water, and any unwary fish approaching the surface is pounced upon instantly and swallowed.

But the bird has other resources; though he cannot dive into the sea to catch fish, he avails himself of the labors of birds that can. He watches one of them; sees it come out of the water and fly off with its prey. At once the frigate bird is down upon him with a swoop of terrific velocity. The frightened diver drops his fish in mid-air; the frigate bird poises himself again, darts down with another swoop, and seizes the fish ere it reaches the water.

CURE FOR HICCOUGH.

Accomplished by Pulling the Tongue Several Times a Minute.

In the last year a number of cases of prolonged and frequently fatal hiccoughs have been reported in the newspapers. Often, without any warning, persons of good health have started to hiccough, and have kept it up for weeks without cessation, until the exhaustion proved fatal. The physicians in charge have tried many things as remedies, but, as a rule, failed to accomplish anything toward controlling the disease.

Professor Lepine, of Lyons, France, has at last discovered a cure. A young soldier had contracted the disease, and was rapidly losing strength.

The new remedy consisted in pulling the tongue several times a minute, keeping it outside the mouth, and then letting it slip back again. This faithfully kept up produced a cure inside of twenty minutes. Hiccough, when continued, is a serious disease of the respiratory centre in the brain. These rhythmical tractions on the tongue seem to affect the respiratory centre in a peculiar way. There is a bunch of nerves at the base of the tongue which communicates directly with the nerve centres in the brain. When the brain centre is inactive it may be stimulated by pulling the tongue. It is inactive in cases of suffocation.

If a baby does not breathe properly when born, if the tongue is systematically pulled a few moments the baby will begin of its own accord to attempt to breathe. Pulling the tongue also helps by clearing the throat.

In cases of drowning it has been discovered that pulling on the tongue ten or fifteen times a minute acts as a more certain and powerful stimulus than any of the old methods, such as rolling the subject on a barrel, hanging him upside down from a meat hook, or "pumping" him with his arms, or blowing into his lungs.—Golden Days.

Parlez-Vous Telephone Wanted.

"We used to have the best fellow in our employ that I ever knew," declared the head of one of the biggest telephone exchanges in the country. "He could place more telephones than any other half dozen men in our employ, and I'll give you just one sample of his shrewdness.

"There was a wealthy old Frenchman with large interests that we wanted as a patron. After all the rest of our solicitors had called upon him we sent our best man. He learned that the Frenchman thought the telephone a great invention and a great money saver, but he could not be made to understand that it was adapted to any other language than English. He had to converse in French with many of his business friends and employees.

"All the others had tried to convert him, but 'Oily Slick,' as we had dubbed him, took the other tack and humored the old gentleman. He at once assured him that we had French receivers and transmitters, and immediately put up a temporary line, to show that he was not misrepresenting goods. When French was sent and received over the wire the result delighted the man of wealth, and 'Oily' actually sold two sets of telephones (one for English and one for French) for a dozen places where they could be made useful in the old man's business, charging $5 apiece more for the French than for the English. It was six months before the Frenchman discovered that he had a superfluous lot of telephones on hand. He laughed as heartily as any one and tried to hire 'Oily' to go on the road."—Detroit Free Press.

SPEAK OUT.

The Searchlight of Publicity is Pleasing Plainfield People.

Publicity is what the people want.
Let the public speak on the subject.
There has been too much claim—too little proof.
Claims made by strangers are not proof.
Claims endorsed by strangers are not proof.
There is only one kind of proof for a citizen.
The experience of people we know.
When friends and neighbors endorse,
Make public statement of their case,
There can be no question about such evidence.
This is the proof we have,
Which backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.
No other kidney pills, no other kidney remedy,
Can produce such proof.
Here is one case of the many we have:

Mr. John Lindsay, of 424 W. Front street, says: "From the effects of a bad cold which I contracted some years ago, I have been troubled more or less with attacks of backache which has caused me a great deal of suffering. My work compels me to do a great deal of stooping and bending forward which aggravated the trouble. At night I had to keep changing about first from one position then to another trying to find some way that I could free myself from the pain but it remained the same no matter what position I assumed. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend who had used them and I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. I found them just as represented and they relieved me in a short time. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone wanting a safe, reliable and convenient medicine to act direct on the kidneys."

AWFUL ALL ROUND.

There is a little maiden
Who has an awful time;
She has to hurry awfully
To get to school at nine.

She has an awful teacher;
Her tasks are awful hard;
Her playmates are all awful rough
When playing in the yard.

She has an awful kitty
Who often shows her claws;
A dog who jumps upon her dress
With awful muddy paws.

She has a baby sister
With an awful little nose,
With awful cunning dimples,
And such awful little toes.

She has two litle brothers,
And they are awful boys,
With their awful drums and trumpets,
And make an awful noise.

Do, come, I pray thee, common sense,
Come and this maid defend;
Or else, I fear, her awful life
Will have an awful end.

—Toronto Globe.

Fritz is a Graveyard Dog.

Fritz is not a prepossessing dog by any means. He is not a thoroughbred, and is not well groomed, but in his own line there is not a dog in the whole country like him. That line is graveyards, and Fritz is a "graveyard" dog. He has been to over 2,000 funerals, and will probably see as many again before he himself joins the great majority of dead canines.

Six years ago Fritz was born in the American Mechanics' Cemetery, at Twenty-second and Diamond streets. The exact place of his birth was under the little chapel where the last prayers are said over the dead, and in this melancholy atmosphere Fritz grew up. Fritz's mother disappeared after his birth and he was left alone. Since then his disposition has been melancholy.

Perhaps from disappointment, perhaps from a morbid taste imbued by his solitary life, Fritz at two years old began to attend funerals. No one objected, his behavior was above reproach, and gradually the picture of the little black and white dog, walking mournfully along in his favorite position just behind the coffin, grew familiar. Now it has come to pass that no funeral is complete without Fritz. Just as soon as the chapel bell rings, no matter where Fritz is, he rushes to the spot from where he knows the coffin will be taken. However excited he is, he never barks, and except when he is outside the cemetery, he never barks at all.

Usually, also, he lies down by the gravedigger when a grave is being opened, and a story is told of him by one of Superintendent Reel's men that during one rainy night Fritz's loud yelping, not barking, but wailing, was heard continually. No one paid any attention to it, but next morning Fritz was found beside a grave which had been made the afternoon before, and which had caved in during the night on account of the rain.

The best thing about Fritz is that no matter whether it is a $25 funeral, with just a hearse and no carriages, or a $250 funeral, with twenty carriages, he shows just as much respect for the dead in either case. He is not a snob by any means.—Philadelphia Press.

A Heroic Remedy.

There is a little boy in Colorado Springs who, according to Facts, likes to help entertain his mother's visitors, and eagerly listens to the conversation. Tommy also has an aunt of whom he is very fond and who has a bad cold, causing him much anxiety. A few days ago, while his mother was comparing notes on housekeeping with a friend, Tommy thought he heard something which would cure Aunt Susie's cold. About supper time he disappeared, which, however, did not excite any comment. The family sat down to supper and one by one the dishes were tasted and set aside until each member began to wonder what ailed the cook. Tommy's expression convinced them that he could throw some light on the subject, and when cornered had to admit that he had put red pepper into every dish while the cook was out, because Mrs. —— said red pepper was good for the ants, and he wanted to cure Aunt Susie.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat

A Child's Philosophy.

The children had come home from Sunday-school, where they had heard something, they did not know very clearly what, but something which made them think there might be something very unusual happening soon in the way of a sudden cessation of worldly activities and a putting on of celestal garments, the latter taking form in their minds as wings. So they went to mamma to talk it over.

"I don't think it would be nice at all," said the oldest little girl, referring to the wings; "just think of having to fly and not walking at all."

"But you could walk," said the practical little sister, "don't chickens have wings and don't they walk?"

PERSONAL INTREPIDITY.

Bravery of the Duke Charles of Bavaria in the Face of Great Danger.

The bravery of battle is surpassed in the quality and fibre of its intrepidity by the courage which faces a conflagration or a wreck, because the battle fervor is helped out by patriotism, esprit du corps, and other emotions which have a distinct place in the soldier's heart. The great fire at Paris, and particularly the heroic death there of the Duchess d'Alencon, recalls a brave exploit of this lady's uncle, Duke Charles of Bavaria, many years ago.

It was in 1823, and some sort of exceptional representation at the Residenz Theater at Munich had attracted a large and brilliant audience. Duke Charles was seated in the royal box. Suddenly an attendant rushed in and whispered excitedly:

"Your Highness, the theatre is on fire! Make your escape before the panic breaks out."

This alarming announcement did not cause a change of expression on the prince's face. First satisfying himself by a word of inquiry that the stage was really on fire, the prince rose, stepped calmly to the front of the box and said to the audience:

"I am informed that a fire has broken out on the stage. There is time enough for you all to get out before the danger becomes imminent; the only thing that you have to fear is a panic. I urge you, therefore, to quit the hall in the most perfect order, and I give you my word that if you do so you will all escape. To prove that I mean what I say, I shall now sit down and shall not leave my seat until the last one of the audience is out of the house."

Duke Charles then sat down as unmoved as if the performance was to proceed. The sight of his calmness reassured the audience, and the people moved deliberately out in an orderly manner; the flames burst through the curtain to the proscenium; the people looked at Duke Charles, who still sat imperturbably in his place; no one could make a cowardly rush in the face of such an example.

In ten minutes the house was entirely emptied, no one being hurt; Duke Charles was the last to go out. In another instant, the interior was all on fire and the house was completely destroyed.—Youth's Companion

NEVER SEES MONEY.

Yet a Business is Carried on Running Up to Many Thousands of Dollars.

At Indian Point, Siberia, the principal trader, Koharri, does a business of $100,000 a year and never sees a coin. Dr. Sheldon Jackson, agent of the Bureau of Education for Alaska, found him and says of him: "He has a little frame whale house filled from floor to ceiling with tobacco, flour and looking glasses, which he has obtained from the whalers and from which he supplies the country for hundreds of miles around. This man has been known to have as much as $75,000 worth of whalebone in his store at one time. He does a business of probably $100,000 a year, and yet not a single coin of gold or silver nor a single bank note or bank check is used nor are any books kept. All transactions are by barter, furs and whalebone being exchanged for tobacco flour and whiskey. This wholesale merchant of the North Siberian coast can neither read nor write, nor can any one associated with him. Although so wealthy, he lives in an ordinary tent and sleeps on the ground on a pile of reindeer skins."

Frances as Masons.

In Great Britain the craft is presided over by the Prince of Wales; in Sweden and Norway the Grand Mastership is held by King Oscar, who occupied that office before his ascension to the throne. As in the case of the sons and grandsons of the Queen of England, so are also the sons of King Oscar members of the craft.

In Denmark it is the Crown Prince who is the head of the Grand Orient while the late Emperor Frederick held the Grand Mastership of German Freemasons from 1855 until the time of his death. His son, although a Mason has declined to accept the Grand Mastership in succession to his father or to attend any lodge meeting since he became Emperor. In Austria, again Freemasonry is eschewed by the aristocracy and the reigning family, as it is also in Russia and Belgium, while in Holland the Dutch nobility are nearly all members of the craft.—Toronto Free Mason.

A Telling Advertisement.

On a telegraph pole in the suburbs of a New England village was tacked this notice: "Lost—Between here and the postoffice, a real lady's hair switch black mixed with gray with shoe string tide around one end and above which please return to the postmaster and get fifty cents with thanks of owner who needs it badly and will be thankful for the kindness of any Lady or gent who will return what cannot be of no use to them, but which is a needcessity to her."—Harper's Bazar.

Still Ominous.

"Hoy still they are!" remarked Mrs Fogg, apropos of the young couple in the next room.

"Yes," replied Mr. F., "it reminds me of my army days. It was always wonderfully quiet just previous to an engagement."—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Newealth—"And how is my daughter getting on with her music professor?"

Professor Da Capo—"Remarkably well. The only difficulty I find is in making her observe the rests."

Mrs. Newealth—"Oh, but she must. She has plenty of time!"—Punch.

SUN BONNETS FOR HORSES.

They are Worn During Hot Weather and Have Decreased the Mortality.

Horses in London wear straw hats during the warm season. For some time the English Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been agitating the question of protecting the heads of horses during the hot weather. This agitation has finally had a good effect, and nearly every horse that is compelled to draw heavy loads through the London streets is now protected from the sun's rays by a bonnet.

This plan has long been followed in France and the hat adopted in England is the same as that used in Bordeaux. It looks much like the straw hats familiar to visitors to American summer resorts and bathing beaches. The brim is wide and there are holes through which the horse's ears project. It is held in place by being tied to the bridle.

Manufacturers of straw goods are delighted with the innovation, as they have been kept busy all summer making the hats. They sell for a trifle, but such tremendous numbers are used that the total cost is considerable.

The mortality among horses has decreased greatly since the use of the hats became common. As the hats have high crowns, there is plenty of room for ventilation.—New York World.

STREET ARAB A GOVERNOR.

He Was Adopted by a Gentleman and Given a Fine Education.

John Green Brady, of Indiana, who has been appointed governor of Alaska, never knew his parents, says the Savannah News. He grew up a veritable street arab in the utmost poverty. In 1860 he was sent to Indiana with a carload of waifs. The car reached Tipton, a county seat thirty miles north of Indianapolis, and a number of the youngsters were committed to the care of residents. Judge John Green, a prominent citizen of the place, called for the "ugliest, raggedest and most friendless" in the lot. Jack, as he was afterward known, was promptly presented, and the Judge took the lad home. He appreciated his home and the kindness of his benefactors, and diligently applied himself to study. A course at the public schools was followed by a year at Waveland Academy, and that by four years at Harvard. After he had been graduated at Cambridge he was sent by Judge Green to England to pursue his theological studies. Returning to Tipton in 1876, the next year he went to Alaska as a missionary under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church, and he has since remained there.

New Way to Light Matches.

A profitable noonday pastime among the gamins who frequent the vicinity of the Reading Terminal never fails to draw a large and interested crowd, says the Philadelphia Press. One of the boys will lay ten matches in an even row on the hard asphalt. The heads of the matches all point the same way and the matches are about an inch apart. Then the youngster swings a cord on the end of which is fastened a piece of lead.

Swinging the cord rapidly, he handles it so deftly that he hits at will the head of each match and sets it blazing. He makes an agreement with the crowd that if he succeeds in igniting in this manner each of the ten matches without missing he is to have ten cents. Usually the business men who watch the performance are so well pleased that the gamin gets considerably more than a dime for his trouble and skill.

The Wrong Man.

"Hold on, gentlemen, before you adjourn; I notice that you elected Charlotte Corday as an honorary member this evenin'."

"That's all right, ain't it? She killed a man."

"Yep, it's all right that far. But th' man she killed was the biggest Anarchist in all France."

"Sho! you don't say! Gentlemen, I move that Mrs. Corday's name be stricken from the roll and thet we give her three groans. Carried."—Cleveland Leader.

A Precise Definition.

"Oi must confiss," said Mr. Rafferty, "that it ain't clear ty me what's meant by arbithration."

"It's a great t'ing," replied Mr. Dolan. "Oi'll explain it till yez. 'Spose two people hev a quar'l"—

"Which is liable to happen any day"—

"They call in three or four other people to take a hand and ixpress an opinion, an' the result is absolute peace or a gineral free fight, aythor of which is to be desired.—Washington Star.

An Unsympathetic Mood.

"Is it not sweet and inspiring," she said, "to stand on the shore where the waves sing eternally and gaze into the offing?"

"Well," replied the young man, who lacks sentiment. "I suppose that is enjoyable if you know how to appreciate it. But the last time I went to the seashore I didn't give much thought to the offing. What I wanted was an awning."—Washington Star.

Boozer (serving sixty days for the fortieth time)—Well, boss, dis is de way of it. If I keeps on as I have been, I'm doin' a life sentence on de instalment plan.

"What makes Bumply so down on the long distance telephone?"

"He called up a man in Toledo that owes him $2.50. They wrangled till it cost Bumply $13."—Detroit Free Press.

Wagner said that on Saturday morning, between 10:30 and 11 o'clock, he saw two men standing on the shore at Port Liberty and one of them was pointing in the direction of the powder boats.

He determined, however, to keep a close watch. About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon he saw the same men in the same place, looking in the direction of the powder boats. He was only about fifty yards away from them. He was about to question them when they turned and ran away in the direction of Jersey avenue, and were soon out of sight.

TWO LIVES RUINED.

Love, Whiskers and Sorrow This Young Woman's Lot.

Whiskers have prevented a marriage and practically ruined two lives in Butler County, Ky. This sad state of affairs is the result of a bride-to-be trying to make herself more beautiful. Instead of beauty she gained whiskers, long, black, luxuriant affairs, which would adorn a man as much as they distress the young woman.

Miss Belcher, of Bowling Green, read an advertisement in a metropolitan paper which extolled the virtues of a cosmetic, asserting that a single facial application would render the skin soft and smooth. She sent for the preparation, and when it came followed the accompanying directions.

A week passed. One morning when Miss Belcher took her customary matutinal glimpse of the looking-glass she noticed unfamiliar little black specks all over her face. Greatly distressed, she waited a day for developments. Horror of horrors! The next morning she found the specks were nothing less than the ends of countless black hairs that went on growing until they formed a heavy black beard. Almost crazed by this fact, Miss Belcher at first contemplated suicide. Then she was persuaded to have her face shaved, but the relief was only temporary, for the hair continued to grow.

At last she determined to live the life of a recluse. Her affianced begged her to marry him, but she steadfastly refused, and then declined to see him at all. This almost drove the young man insane, and he too retired from the world.

Physicians are unable to aid Miss Belcher. She has given them all an opportunity to try their skill, but each one has had the same experience.—New York Journal.

Complexities of Law.

Soon after Jim's admission as a learned counsellor, an old neighbor to give him a start gave him a lot of hard claims to collect, telling him he could have half that was collected. Jim soon received half that was due from one of the debtors and was called on a little later by his client for his share of the money. "Your half," said the astute lawyer. "I didn't collect your half. I only collected mine." The astonished old patron said, "Why, Jim, I don't understand such proceeding." But the lofty reply was, "There is a heap of law you don't understand. I tell you, old fellow, this law is a powerful thing."—Case and Comment.

The Lightest Known Solid.

The lightest known solid is said to be the pith of the sunflower, with a specific gravity of .028, or about one-eighth that of cork. The sunflower is extensively cultivated in central Russia, and various uses are served by its different parts, the recent discovery of the lightness of the pith essentially increasing the commercial value of the plant. For life-saving appliances at sea, cork has a buoyancy of one to five, while with the sunflower pith one to thirty-five is attained. About eight hundred cubic inches would weigh as much as one cubic inch of iridium, the heaviest metal.

Would Be Satisfied with Only a Text.

At the English Church Congress the Dean of Rochester told the following story: A country clergyman went away for his holiday, and a benevolent neighbor, who had a curate, took his Sunday duties. After he had preached his first sermon he remarked to the clerk of the vestry, "I am sorry that I gave you such a short discourse, but the reason is that a dog got into my study and tore out several leaves." The clerk gazed wistfully upon the speaker and said: "Oh, sir, do you think you could spare our parson a pup?"

A HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN TO GO TO CUBA.

Invasion to Be Pushed Forward Despite the Spanish Fleet.

General Merritt Has Secured More Regular Troops For Manila Expedition—The Spanish Cabinet Formed—Various Reports of the Locality of Spanish Fleet.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

NO DELAY IN INVASION.

The Cuban Invading Force Has Been Increased to a Hundred Thousand Men.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 18, 10 a. m—A stock of announcements and rumors from the War Department has attracted attention particularly in that direction today, and given the officials something to talk about.

It is difficult to keep up with the latest decisions regarding that projected invasion of Cuba. Rumors regarding the possibilities of its starting have grown so contradictory that few exactly know what is going to be done.

The statement was made this morning by an official high in power in the War Department that the preparations for the invasion will go forward and the movement started regardless of the movements of the Spanish fleet.

Then a change has been made in the strength of the army of invasion. Instead of the 25,000 troops that were to be sent, 100,000 soldiers will go to the island of Cuba.

It has been announced that General Merritt has won in his controversy with the War Department. He will secure that larger force for invading the Philippines that he demanded. The first installment of troops to be sent to Manila will consist of 11,000, and 14,000 more will follow.

The report that was in circulation yesterday to the effect that President McKinley was preparing to make a second call for volunteers was officially denied by Major General Miles.

There is a semi-official report that says that the Spanish fleet, whose movements have kept everybody guessing, is now at San Juan.

Captain Hart, the well-known filibusterer, will probably be pardoned at once. His pardon has now reached President McKinley, and only needs his signature to make it effective.

Washington, May 18, 1:30 p. m.—It is rumored in army circles that Roosevelt's Rough Riders will be ordered today to proceed immediately to Cuba.

It has been decided that the Pennsylvania troops are to go to San Francisco immediately ready for embarkation for the Philippines.

A report, not yet officially confirmed, is current to the effect that the Spanish fleet is heading for the harbor of Cienfuegos on the southern coast of Cuba.

From the Navy Department comes the statement that Rear Admiral Sampson has been instructed to cut the Cuban cable without delay.

The rush of office seekers still continues at the White House. President McKinley is besieged with requests for billets.

NEWSPAPERS TO BLAME.

Too Much Publicity Spoiled the Gussie Expedition Say Army Officers.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Tampa, Fla., May 18, 1:50 p. m—The colony of newspaper correspondents located here have been officially notified that in the future no mention must be made of small expeditions similar to that of the Gussie until success is assured.

They consider that success will be assured when the expeditions return and until then nothing must be said about them.

Army officers believe that the publicity given in advance to the Gussie expedition was largely responsible for the failure of the Gussie to land supplies.

The correspondents are warned that the papers publishing such stories before permission is given will be debarred from sending correspondents to Cuba with the army.

SALUTED THE SOLDIERS.

Troops Going South Cause a Demonstration to be Made in Dunellen.

Three train loads of soldiers from Camp Black and Camp Hempstead passed through here last night bound for the south. The soldiers were taken as far as Washington on the Central in three trains of fourteen cars each.

The troops were under the command of Col. Fred Grant.

Along the line there were demonstrations of a patriotic nature, but at Dunellen the enthusiasm of the people knew no bounds. Under the direction of Night Agent Charles Dunham, assisted by Arthur Vail and Paul Kratzel, the station was decorated with flags and lanterns and presented a gala appearance. The entire station platform was one great sheet of colored light, red and blue lanterns, and as the trains passed a few minutes behind each other fire crackers were exploded and a salute of twenty-one guns fired from a small cannon.

The soldier boys appreciated the reception, and although the trains went whizzing through so fast that only a glimpse of the station could be caught, they flung their arms out of the windows and waved their caps furiously. The first section passed Dunellen at 10:10, the second fifteen minutes later, and the third at 10:30. The run to Washington was made in good time, and this morning thirty-one of the empty coaches passed through this city on their way back to New York. Early this morning three more train loads of Massachusetts boys passed through this city.

THE FAULTS OF THE BUILDING ORDINANCE

Important Hearing in The Councilmanic Chamber.

CHANGING THE FIRE LIMITS.

PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN MAKE MANY SUGGESTIONS.

President Lounsbury, of the Board of Trade, Thinks That the Law Ought to be Abolished Entirely, as There are No Towns of Plainfield's Size That Maintain Any Such Restrictions—J. D. Runyon Advocated Several Changes—There Should be Greater Liberty on All Building Operations.

The building ordinance, enacted by the Common Council two years ago, which has been under the fire of severe criticism by builders and business men since it became a law, had its defects brought to the direct attention of members of the Common Council last night, when a hearing was given by the laws and ordinance and fire and building committees.

Though there are no classes more than architects and contractors interested in the law, only two representatives of those advocations were present at the hearing—B. Fosgate and William Brokaw.

The meeting was called to order by Councilman Runyon, as chairman of the fire and building committee. Mr. Runyon said that it has become apparent that the building ordinance is defective. E. M. Laing, as chairman of the committee from the Board of Trade, offered a resolution which was unanimously adopted at a meeting held by the Board on April 20th, that the fire limits be cut down to Central avenue, 150 feet south of the railroad, Watchung avenue and Green brook.

Mr. Lounsbury suggested that the fire limits be shortened, and that the building ordinance be abolished outside those limits. Mr. Lounsbury said that he had written to the city clerks of cities situated as Plainfield is, and depending upon their growth from the same sources as is this city, and read letters from the clerks at Montclair, East Orange, Orange and Elizabeth. There is no building ordinance in any of these cities except East Orange, which has an inspector and a fire ordinance which covers the city 150 feet away from the main streets. Mr. Lounsbury made a special point of Elizabeth, with three times the population of Plainfield, and with no building ordinance.

John D. Runyon offered the following suggestions: First, to reduce the fire limit; second, to establish open fire limits for those parts of the city which are situated within the fire limits, but which are in the open; third, to allow bay windows and small additions to be made to buildings to be built of wood, the additions not to exceed ten per cent. of the size of the original building; fourth to allow store buildings to be of larger size and a greater heighth but with an eight inch wall; fifth, to allow store fronts to be built of wood covered with metal, instead of brick, as now required; sixth, to permit some one or some committee to allow changes to be made in the ordinance when fire rules are not involved; seventh, to take and incorporate in the ordinance that the building ordinance is for the best interests of the people, not for the benefit of the insurance companies.

William Woodruff echoed Mr. Laing's sentiments. James Pope wasn't in favor of abolishing the ordinance, but thought it could be improved. He said people who are being compelled to connect with the sewer, ought to be allowed to build frame additions to their houses for that purpose, instead of being compelled to erect the structures of brick.

A. B. Thorn and William Brokaw thought the ordinance ought to be changed, and so did B. Fosgate. Mr. Lounsbury called attention to section 2, page 7, of the ordinance, where it requires brick walls which divide a row of houses to be eight inches in thickness and asked that that be changed. Mr. Fosgate thought that the wall was not thick enough, and said he would rather see it twelve inches thick.

"Yes," said Mr. Lounsbury, "that would be very nice if you wanted to discourage building."

Chief Doane, the building inspector, said that the ordinance was meant to protect the poor man who, if there were no ordinance and no inspector, would be imposed upon by unscrupulous builders, and said that the differences in cost between building a $1,200 house under the requirements of the ordinance and without it was

GREETING TO GRADUATES

ALUMNI RECEPTION FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Meeting of the Classes of '96 and '97 Held Last Evening and Details Arranged—300 Tickets Will Be Issued.

There is to be an alumni reception at the Commencement exercises of the Plainfield High School this year. That has been decided. And it will be on just as extensive a scale as last year.

A meeting of the members of the classes of '96 and '97 was held at the High School building last evening to take definite steps in the arrangement of the reception. As many of the members of both classes are out of town, the attendance was comparatively small. Miss Grace E. Overton, vice president of the class of '96, called the meeting together and acted as the chairman.

It was decided without a dissenting voice to have a reception at commencement time. Furthermore, it was decided that it should be held in the Casino the evening of Thursday, June 23d, from 10 until 1 o'clock, after the commencement exercises in Music Hall.

There will be 350 tickets issued. Each member of the graduating class will receive four. A similar number will be given to each member of the two classes, '96 and '97, who give the reception. The Juniors will receive no tickets according to the precedent set last year. There will be a limited number of subscriptions which will be disposed of among the rest of the alumni. The members of the classes of '96 and '97 will be assessed the usual amount.

Full power to arrange any other details that may come up was given to the finance committee which is composed of the following: Miss Grace E. Overton, '96, chairman, Miss Edith L. Pruden, '97; Miss Grace Crane, '97; Henry Eggerding, '96; Charles M. Dolliver, '96, and Raymond M. Carroll, '96.

The decorations of the Casino on that occasion will be patriotic and consist of flags and tri-colored bunting. The colors of the graduating class will be used to decorate the stage with. The decorating committee consists of Miss Miller, '97, chairman, Miss Grace E. Overton, Miss Clyde Burnett, Henry Eggerding and Raymond M. Carroll, of '96, and Miss Lilla Livezy, Miss Edith L. Pruden, Miss Grace A. Crane, Miss Emma Cutter and William VanAlstyne, of '97.

NO AIR IN DIVING SUIT.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH THAT JERROLD OLIFF UNDERWENT.

He is a Gunner on a Torpedo Boat in Newport Harbor and Went Down in a Diver's Suit to Recover a Torpedo.

Jerrold Oliff, son of J. H. Oliff, of 1,058 Arlington avenue, is an expert gunner in the navy. He has been stationed on one of the torpedo boats at the Newport navy yard.

Three weeks ago two torpedoes were lost overboard in the harbor. Now torpedoes are expensive things, and it was decided that they must be recovered if possible. A lieutenant and Gunner Oliff volunteered to go down, although they were not used to diving. Oliff had never been in a diver's suit before. They found one of the torpedoes but the other was gone. Then the lieutenant stopped his hunt and Oliff continued it alone. As he failed to come up at the usual time, his companions hoisted him up to find him unconscious.

The valves in the helmet had become disarranged and his supply of air had been stopped. He bled freely from the eyes and ears. His eyes began to swell and for two weeks he was temporarily blinded. He has now recovered sufficiently to write home. He is rapidly improving, and the physicians at the Newport hospital say that he will be all right shortly. It was a very narrow escape, however.

The Missing Wheel is Safe

A correspondent writes to The Press saying that if the small boy, who is bemoaning the loss of his wheel which he left on the La Grande avenue base ball grounds last Saturday, will call at his address, he may have his "Fowler." The correspondent remarks that it will perhaps teach him a lesson and his memory may extend over night hereafter. The owner of the wheel can learn the address by calling at The Press office.

LITER LOAF IS COMING.

BAKERS ARE TALKING ABOUT INCREASING PRICES.

They Claim That There is Little Profit in the Bread Business at the Increasing Price of Flour Nowadays.

A meeting of the bakers of the city and the borough was called for last night at Councilman Henry Liefke's store on West Front street, to formulate some plan for reducing the size of the loaves of bread, or raising the price a little so as to allow a reasonable profit on each loaf for themselves.

The meeting was attended only by half a dozen of the bakers, and no definite action was taken upon the matter. The other bakers in town will be seen today and urged to meet tonight or tomorrow night, when in the presence of a good representation of bakers, a plan can be settled upon agreeable to merchant and customer alike.

With the increased price of flour, the bakers claim they are losing money right along, especially on the small five cent loaves of bread. They say that in two five cent loaves of bread the customer gets half a pound more than in a ten cent loaf, so that it has come to the point where five cent loaves are sold almost exclusively, for customers readily see the difference.

Four or five years ago there was no five-cent loaves sold to amount to anything. But within that period, the small loaf has been coming into favor until now a sale of a large loaf is the exception, not the rule. Flour now sells at retail for $1.25 a twenty-five pounds, and about $8 a barrel. To be sure, the baker, purchasing as he does by the large quantity, buys at a lower rate than this, but at the rate flour is rising in price he will soon pay as much.

At the meeting last night it was suggested not only to do away with the manufacture of five-cent loaves but to make the seven-cent loaves a little smaller, keeping the ten-cent loaves up to their regular weight. This will be decided upon at the next meeting.

A prominent baker told a Press reporter this morning that the bakers did not want to take this step, but would prefer to let the price and the weight of the loaves remain where they are. But in most of the large cities changes have been made advantageous to the merchant, and they think it is no more than right that they should be expected to look out for their pocketbooks a little.

A JEHU'S BARN BURNED.

A DISASTROUS BLAZE IN THE WEST END EARLY THIS MORNING.

Cornelius Guinee the Sufferer — His Horse Escaped From Barn With Blanket Afire—The Beast to be Killed.

A disastrous fire occurred about 3 o'clock this morning in the frame barn occupied by Cornelius Guinee, the hackman, at the corner of Spooner avenue and West Fourth street. The building was entirely consumed, together with its contents, and the loss will amount to several hundreds of dollars.

The fire was discovered by Officer Meyers, who was patroling his beat in that locality. He sent in an alarm from Box 45 at 3:12 o'clock. The department was not long in reaching the scene of the conflagration, but had to lay 650 feet of hose to get to the barn with water, and in the meantime the fire fiend had done its work.

In the barn were two carriages, one of which had been painted; a ton of hay, harness and stable fixtures, a sleigh and a horse. All were burned except the horse, which broke out of his stable and ran out, his blanket all afire, and his body badly burned. Bert Littell, who was coming to the fire, caught the horse and tore off the burning blanket. The beast will have to be killed.

A chicken house next the barn containing a number of hens was not burned, and the hens didn't even get down off the roosts.

George Moore's barn, next door, was scorched and damaged to the extent of twenty-five dollars. Guinee's barn and contents were covered by $1,400 insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Heard About the Emerald Isle.

Last evening Rev. T. Logan Murphy, of Washington avenue, gave his celebrated lecture on "A Trip Through Ireland," before a large and interested audience. The views were very fine and Mr. Murphy's remarks were a pleasure to all. After the lecture ice cream and cake was served by the members of Mizpah Circle, King's Daughters, under whose auspices the affair was given.

James King, of Newark, who has been visiting Plainfield relatives, returned home this morning.

LITTLE EDNA'S END TOLD BY A SPLASH.

A Ten-year-old Girl's Sad Death By Drowning.

WAS FISHING IN THE BROOK

TUMBLE INTO THE STREAM THAT PROVED A CAUSE OF DEATH.

In Some Unexplained Manner She Lost Her Footing and Plunged Into the Water—Before Oscar Kryte Could Find the Submerged Body of the Child Life Had Taken Its Flight—Doctors Worked an Hour to Resuscitate the Child, But Their Efforts Failed—Playmates Gave the Alarm.

A sad accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the old Water street bridge over Green brook, as exclusively told in last evening's Press. Edna, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bailey, of Westervelt avenue, fell into the stream and was drowned. Physicians were summoned, but all efforts were unavailing, for life had sped while the little body was under the water.

The accident happened about 2:45 o'clock. Edna, with several other children, was playing around the bridge, which crosses Elm place near Brook avenue. Edna was fishing and sat on a part of the stone wall, holding her line. Several of her little friends were sitting or standing near. Suddiy there was a splash, and Edna had fallen into the water.

Mrs. Debaud, of Elizabeth, who was passing, saw the fall, but was so frightened that she is not able to say whether Edna fell from the stone wall or from the railing. Some think that the little girl was walking outside the railing and lost her balance, while others think that she was reaching out too far after her line, missed her footing and fell in.

The girl fell into the water from the northern side of the bridge. A colored woman, standing near, raised an awful shriek as the accident happened, which startled Mrs. Paul H. Loizeaux, of 1 Brook avenue, who was seated on her porch. Mrs. Loizeaux called her coachman, Oscar Kryte, colored, who was busy about the house, and sent him down to the brook to find out what had happened. Kryte plunged into the water without a moment's hesitation, although the water reached up to his chin and would have covered a shorter man, for the stream is over five feet deep at that point.

The body had come up to the top of the water twice, and the frightened children, who had flocked to the bank, and saw the lifeless form with closed eyes sink, were unable to do anything to rescue their playmate. When Kryte plunged into the water he began to feel about with his hands and feet. But not locating the body, he called loudly for a rake. It was brought to him, and in a few minutes the teeth became entangled in the girl's hair and clothing, and she was lifted to the surface of the water several yards below where she had fallen in. The limp body was taken home.

Some one had notified Mrs. Bailey, and and another had run after Dr. Cooley, who lives on Westervelt avenue, near where the accident occurred. The physician arrived at the same moment with the body, and efforts were at once begun to resuscitate the child. At first Dr. Cooley and Dr. Long, who had also arrived, thought the child still breathed, but after an hour's untiring effort the task was given up, and the girl was pronounced dead.

Phillip Giese, the mail carrier, started out on his wheel to find Mr. Bailey and acquaint him with the news. Going to the engine house Assistant Chief Martin told him that Chief Doane and Bailey were out somewhere inspecting houses together. Giese fortunately found the two on LaGrande avenue and hurriedly told the father what had occurred. The Chief and Bailey drove to the house as fast as possible, and reached home while the doctors were busy.

Edna was a particularly bright child, and was a twin sister to Willie, another child. The little girl had the whooping cough, and it was suggested that a paroxysm of coughing coming on had made her lose her balance.

A New Regular Policeman.

It is expected that at the next meeting of the City Council one new regular policeman will be appointed. The appointment has been looked for during the past few weeks, but there seems to be something in the way of the appointment.

MERRITT HAS TROUBLE

May Not Go to the Phillipines as Governor-General.

AN OLD SCORE WITH ALGER

Army Officers Seem to Uphold Gen. Merritt in His Criticisms of the Proposed Occupation of Manila More Men Should be Sent.

Washington, May 18.—Unless General Wesley Merritt denies or satisfactorily explains the interview or statement attributed to him in the New York papers as to his refusal to go with the expedition as now constituted to the Philippines, it may have most disastrous results to him. The matter was discussed by the president and Secretary Alger yesterday, after the cabinet meeting, and, while both were loath to believe that General Merritt ever said what the interview contained or intimated a refusal to accompany the expedition yet the president held that, in the absence of any denial, the silence of the general virtually admitted the truth of the statements. Until, however, General Merritt has denied or affirmed the article in the papers, nothing will be done. General Merritt is quoted as saying: It is not by any means a settled fact that I will depart for Manila at any time. The command they propose to give me is not adequate to my rank. Besides, I do not think that 15,000 men, including 1,000 regular troops, which it is proposed shall constitute the expedition, is at all sufficient for such an undertaking as the occupation of the Philippines, and I have asked the department for the number of seasoned men which I deem essential to insure any degree of success."

Refuse to Believe It.

The army officers, from the secretary down, refuse positively to discuss, or in the absence of any word from General Merritt to believe that he made the statements, especially as when the detail was offered to him last week he accepted it with avidity and declared it was just what he wanted. He at once came to Washington, and after a consultation with the secretary of war and General Miles, announced that he would go to San Francisco at once so as to be ready to leave for the Philippines. His alleged interview, therefore, is inexplicable and astounding. An officer of the army, no matter how high his grade, when ordered must obey.

There has been some talk here to the effect that the detail given to General Merritt by Secretary Alger was intended to humiliate the ranking major general. It is charged that Secretary Alger has been trying to repay old scores against General Merritt by ordering him to the Philippines.

This is utterly disproved by the facts, because when the command was offered General Merritt last week he accepted it gladly.

It can be stated on authority that Major General Miles, commanding the army, and Adjutant General Corbin, are in favor of giving Major Merritt as many regular troops as he deems necessary for the complete occupation of the Philippines.

With the same positiveness it can be said that they do not regard the statement made by General Meritt as in any way incompatible with his position as an officer. They believe that he meant only to express his serious concern on account of the likelihood that only a small number of trained soldiers would be allowed for the Philippines.

Merritt Makes Denial.

Washington, May 18.—This telegram was received by the secretary of war at 3 o'clock yesterday:

"Hon. R. A. Alger War Department:

"I desire you to know that the interviews published in the New York newspapers this morning are in every way incorrect and unauthorized. I had intended to take no notice of them, but I understand the articles are taken seriously in Washington.

MERRITT.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Reports of volunteers showed a mustering in of 80,134 men and 2,432 officers, with a total of 100,000 expected by the end of the week.

One-half of the bisected revenue cutter Gresham fell off a pontoon at Ogdensburg, N. Y., into the St. Lawrence river and sunk in twenty-five feet of water.

The statement cabled from London yesterday that Japan intends to protest against the seizure of the Philippines by the United States, with the co-operation of certain European powers, was not credited by the Japanese minister in Washington.

The Wilmington arrived at Key West and reported that she had sunk a Spanish derelict, evidently set adrift in the hope it would injure the blockading squadron. The Wilmington also reported that the light on Morro Castle had flashed last night for the first time since the blockade was established, and it was suggested that the Spaniards were expecting the Cape Verde fleet.

A STRICT CENSORSHIP.

Cable Regulations Put in Force by Gen. Greely.

Washington, May 18.—Brig. General Greely, chief of the signal service, and in charge of the strategic control of telegraph and cable lines, has adopted energetic measures to prevent the admiral of the Spanish squadron now in Caribbean waters, from keeping posted on the whereabouts and movements of United States squadrons, and of our prospective military and naval operations. He has telegraphed to the Key West manager of the Haytian Cable Company, forbidding the sending or receipt of any messages except official messages to or from the United States government disclosing the movements of our fleets and ships. The manager answered that the inhibition would be strictly observed. If Rear Admiral Sampson is in Haytian waters, as is conjectured, this cable restriction makes it impossible for his movements to become known, except to the government; or, if known, it is impossible to send out the information except through the government.

NOW TO ANNEX HAWAII.

Joint Resolution of Annexation Reported to the House.

Washington, May 18.—In the House of Representatives yesterday Chairman Hitt reported from the committee on foreign affairs the Newlands resolution providing for the annexation of Hawaii, with a recommendation that it do pass.

The acccompanying report is quite a lengthy document. It reviews the special seizures of the islands by the French and British forces and the negotiations covering half a century for annexation with the United States.

The strategic importance of the islands is set forth, and the statements of General Schofield and Admiral Walker to the committee last week are quoted under the heading "Risk of Delay."

COL. GRANT'S COMMAND STARTS.

Son of Famous General Goes With Incomplete Equipment.

Camp Black, May 18.—To the great surprise of everybody here Colonel Grant issued orders shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday for the 14th to break camp. No one believed this was probable.

The men were not ready to go South. The regiment was mustered in, but that was all. The equipment was sadly incomplete. Nevertheless Col. Grant directed Col. Holly to have a train here at noon to take his command to Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, whence they marched to the Wall street ferry.

COL. FRED GRANT.

The men, according to Col. Grant's plan, took ferry boats to Jersey City.

No blame can attach to the state because the regiment goes South not "completely equipped."

Colonel Grant is regarded as somewhat precipitous.

Accident to Cutter Gresham.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 18.—The bow portion of the United States revenue cutter Gresham shipped the pontoon yesterday and capsized in thirty feet of water. The two sections of the Gresham were on pontoons ready to leave for Montreal.

All the rations, mens' baggage, etc., were in the forward section of the boat, and are under water. The crew is safe. It will take a week to raise the bow.

The Gresham was cut in two in order to allow her to pass through the canals on her way to the Atlantic.

Food Very Scarce in Havana.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 18.—The Spanish troops in Havana have only one month's provisions, passengers just brought here by the French warship Feuilleton say. There are 10,000 regular soldiers in the city and 30,000 volunteers.

Rice is selling at $12 in gold a hundred weight, dried meat at $14 a hundred weight, and eggs at fifteen cents apiece.

The greatest distress prevails and the stores will soon be stormed by the hungry people.

Remember the Maine on Food.

St. Louis, Mo., May 18.—Capt. Duval of the United States commissary department has made a contract with local bakeries for 610,000 pounds of army crackers. This is equivalent to 30,000 barrels of flour. On each will be printed the words "Remember the Maine!"

Besides the big contract for hard bread, Capt. Duval has let a contract in this city for 28,000 gallons of vinegar.

The Philippine Disorders.

Hong Kong, May 18.—The British second class cruiser Pique has been ordered to the island of Iloilo, of the Philippine group, for the protection of the merchants whose lives and property are threatened by the insurgents.

Morro Puts a Light in the Window.

Key West, Fla., May 18.—The gunboat Wilmington reports that Morro Castle, at Havana, is again showing its lighthouse light, and naval officers believe the Spanish fleet is expected.

Gen. Lee on His Way to Tampa.

Richmond, Va., May 18.—General Fitzhugh Lee is on his way to Tampa, Fla., where he will take command of the Seventh Army Corps. He received orders to this effect from the war department last night.

SPANISH ARE ELUSIVE

Evidently Waiting For An Opening to Cuba.

ALL AVENUES GUARDED

The Spanish Squadron Has Long Eluded Our Warships, but it is Generally Conceded the Time of Battle is Rapidly Approaching.

Washington, May 18.—So far as open speech is an indication the war administration believes the enemy is about to cross the Caribbean sea to some Cuban port, presumably a southern port, Cienfuegos or Santiago, and they declare that Admiral Sampson, passing south by the windward passage, between Cuba and Hayti, will head off the Spanish fleet and give them battle before they can reach port. But it is a matter of common knowledge that if Admiral Sampson should intercept the Spanish cruisers off Santiago, they could turn tail and in a chase to Cienfuegos beat Sampson's slower vessels easily.

For that matter, having located the American pursuers and got them in the rear, Admiral Cervera might make a dash, for one of the Gulf cities, and by reason of the superior fleetness of his cruisers reach that city and do incalculable damage before his pursuers could catch up.

This is the situation which is puzzling the naval strategists at Washington today.

Commodore Schley is within easy access of Havana or the Yucatan channel between Florida and Cuba, while Sampson guards the approach from the east, leaving Commodore Watson and his fleet of gunboats, monitors, torpedo boats and lesser cruisers to maintain the blockade of Havana, Matanzas and other North Cuban towns, and if the enemy starts to walk into the net spread by Washington there will be a fight with little doubt as to the result. But the possibility of catching the Cape Verde fleet is not considered very promising by experienced naval strategists.

Spain's fleet can sail one-third faster than ours so once give it a start we can never catch it.

The Second Fleet a Myth.

After a deal of hard hustling in which cable despatches were exchanged between the war administration at Washington and its agents in a score of remote places all over the world it has been found that the stories about the appearance of Admiral Villamil off Martinique with a fleeet comprising the Spanish cruisers Cisneros Cataluna, Princessa de Asturias and several smaller boats, were false.

The three fighting ships named are all at Cadiz, and each is receiving some needed repairs. Admiral Villamil is subordinate to Admiral Cervera of the Cape Verd fleet. He is in charge of work similar to that of Commodore Howell's mosquito fleet and when the fleet left Spain was in command of that portion of it comprising the destroyers, auxiliaries, scouts and the like. All of his command except the three destroyers, returned to the Canaries the day the fighting ships sailed for America.

Anxious for a Meeting.

The ships of the American blockading fleet are keeping a vigilant watch for the appearance of the Spanish fleet and will not be taken by surprise should the Spanish men-of-war round Cape San Antonio, the western point of Cuba, and swoop down upon Havana. All our ships have been warned by Commodore Watson of the possibility of such a move, and sailors are kept constantly in the tops, where they can sweep the horizon for thirty miles, looking out for the first sign of a hostile ship.

All the naval officers on the blockade station are anxious for a meeting with the Spaniards, and when informed that the latest reports placed them off the coast of Venezuela they jubilantly declared that the enemy would be hemmed in between the Windward islands and the Yucatan channel, to be destroyed. The only fear expressed was for the safety of our ships blockading Cienfuegos. It is not doubted, however, that precautions have been take into safeguard our ships now on the southern coast of Cuba. The torpedo boats and fast yachts of the auxiliary fleet keep the blockading ships in constant communication with Key West, whence the movements of vessels are being directed.

Spanish News from Manila.

London, May 18.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says:

"Very conflicting news has reached Madrid from official and private sources concerning the state of affairs in the Philippines. Captain General Augusti seems confident that he will be able to resist the American war vessels for some time. His reports as to the dispositions of the garrisons and inhabitants are excellent. The principal difficulties are the rise in prices, the scarcity of provisions and the unsettled state of the interior of the country.

"General Augusti hopes to overcome these directly relief comes from Spain, if he is also allowed to promise to grant the natives a part of the reforms demanded by the leaders of the insurrection, which were submitted to Marshal Primo Rivera during his governor generalship. Spain is disposed to go far in conceding administrative and municipal reforms, but she cannot easily comply with the native aspirations as regards the vast property and influence of the religious orders in the Philippine and other archipelagoes.

Spain's Reserve Fleet.

Washington, May 18.—Dispatches from London say that the Spanish reserve fleet left Cadiz last Friday for the Canary islands. This is said to be a move in a bold plan of attack on our New England coast.

The fleet includes the first class battleship Pelayo, the formidable armored cruisers Carlos V, Cardinal Cisneros, Princessa de Asturias and the Catalina.

Another story is that the fleet has gone to the Canaries in preparation for the expedition to Manila by way of the Suez canal.

Washington authorities laugh at the suggestion that the fleet is coming this way. They say she is needed at home.

Two Ounces of Blood Daily

Are added to your veins by taking with each meal one of the natural iron Capsuloids made from the fresh blood of young, healthy bullocks.

The days are lengthening, the sun growing warmer, the air is being filled with particles of dirt when the snow melts, because the dirt of all kinds has been mixed with snow during the winter. You breathe in these foul particles, and these particles, and germs of disease which go with them, get through your lungs into your blood, and you become languid and bilious.

STOP AND THINK. To cure this languid, bilious state, you must have plenty of good, rich, red blood; that is, you must fill the blood with natural iron or Haemoglobin, then the germs already in, die off, and the new ones are killed the moment they enter the blood. To enrich the blood you must take Iron, for rich blood is only another name for blood loaded with natural iron. Do not take hard Iron pills and strong acid mixtures that ruin your teeth and injure your stomach and bowels. Instead, take the only known natural Iron medicine—that is, Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids. This is Nature's own iron, being extracted from the fresh blood of healthy young bullocks. It is exactly the same as that already in your blood. This natural Iron passes straight from the stomach into the blood, making it rich and pure, destroying the germs, oxidizing and removing the foul particles, and thus making your liver and stomach work perfectly, and so getting rid of all your biliousness and languid condition. They are the greatest blood enrichers ever prescribed by a doctor or offered to the public.

DR. CAMPBELL'S
RED BLOOD FORMING

OUR NEW BATTLESHIPS.

The Alabama Launched from Cramp's Shipyard.

Philadelphia, May 18.—The new battleship Alabama was launched at high tide to-day at the shipyard of William Cramp & Sons. Miss Morgan, daughter of Senator Morgan of Alabama, named the vessel and broke the customary bottle of champagne over her bow. No other ceremony marked the launching, as the war regulations do not permit of entertaining a large crowd in the shipyards by the Delaware.

The Alabama is one of the three first class battleships, identical in design, which were authorized on June 10, 1896, and is the first to be launched. The others are still about half completed—the Illinois at Newport News and the Wisconsin at the Union Iron Works in San Francisco.

In length the Alabama is 368 feet, 13 feet longer than the battleship Iowa. Her beam is 72 feet 5 inches; mean draught 23 feet 6 inches, and she has a displacement at that draught of 11,525 tons. She will have two vertical three-cylinder engines, driving twin screws, estimated to develop 10,000 indicated horse power, giving a maximum speed of 16 knots.

In guns the Alabama will be the equal of any craft now afloat; the main battery comprises four 13-inch guns, and fourteen 6-inch rapid-fire guns, while the secondary battery has sixteen 6-pounders, four 1-pounders, one Colt, two field guns and four torpedo tubes.

MACKAY—DUER WEDDING.

Ceremony Performed by Archbishop Corrigan at the Duer Home.

New York, May 18.—Miss Katharine Duer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Duer of 17 West 21st street, was married at noon Tuesday to Mr. Clarence Hangerford Mackay. Archbishop Corrigan performed the ceremony, according to the ritual of the Roman Catholic church, of which Mr. Mackay is a member.

Wealth and fashion of New York turned out in a way that it has not been represented at any marriage since Miss Consuela Vanderbilt married the Duke of Marlborough.

There were such noted New York families represented as the Vanderbilts, Astors, Sloants, Gdelets, the Livingstons, Van Rensselaers and Kings.

The presents were nearly all costly gems and precious stones. The Princess Colonna, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. John W. Mackay, his mother, presented the bride with a small fortune in jewels.

Envelope Companies Consolidate.

Worcester, May 18.—The consolidation of ten of the most prominent of the envelope companies of the country, representing 90 per cent. of the output of commercial envelopes, has been effected. The name of the consolidated company is the United States Envelope Company. The total capital is $7,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be in bonds and the rest in capital stock.

The Neutrality of Mexico.

City of Mexico, May 18.—Proclamations have been issued all over the country announcing the neutrality of Mexico between Spain and the United States, and efforts have been made to prevent its discussion. The conduct of the government is frankly and energetically impartial.

High Mexican military officials continue to comment upon the advisability of the United States landing troops in Cuba declaring it to be sound strategy.

TO BOMBARD HAVANA

And Occupy Cuba By a Land Force Right Away.

VIGOROUS WAR POLICY.

It is Believed that the Policy of Delay is Ended and that Immediate Measures Will Be Taken to Occupy Cuba and Reduce the Forts.

Miami, Fla., May 18.—The administration at Washington has ceased to act on the defensive. It will be aggressive from now on. Havana is to be reduced and Cuba invaded whether the Spanish warships in Atlantic waters are destroyed or not.

The first step in the new policy was taken yesterday. Commodore Watson has started for Havana with United States Squadron No. 3 to work in harmony with the squadrons under Rear Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley. It is a formidable fleet, capable of making a fight against the squadron under Admiral Cervera. But it is likely that it will join Commodore Schley's squadron, which is due off Havana. The combined fleet thus formed would be equal to a conflict with all the warships which rumor has placed in West Indian waters.

It is not expected that Commodores Schley and Watson will begin at once to bombard Havana. They are to wait, sleeping on their arms, so to speak, to meet the Spaniards if they make a dash to get under the big guns of Havana Harbor. If the Spaniards come there will be a great naval battle, the outcome of which can hardly be doubted. If the Spaniards do not come the bombardment of Havana will begin when the soldiers of the United States are ready to crowd Blanco from the rear of Havana.

In conjunction with the movement of Commodore Watson there is activity in the army, which indicates a speedy movement for the landing of troops. Perhaps they will go on Cuban soil under the guns of some of Commodore Watson's fleet.

Commodore Watson took his fleet from Key West singly. He has been coaling for several days and the fuel is piled high on the decks. His fleet consists of the powerful monitors Puritan and Miantonomoh, the cruisers Cincinnati and Helena, the auxiliary cruiser St. Paul, the torpedo boats Ericsson, Dupont, Foote and Cushing, and the gunboats Bancroft, Hamilton, Dolphin, Morrill, Eagle Hawk and Wasp.

This squadron would be able to dispose of the squadron under Admiral Cervera, probably, without the aid of the Massachusetts, the Texas, and the Brooklyn, under Commodore Schley. Cervera is supposed to have the cruisers Vizcaya, Maria Teresa, Cristoba Colon and Admirante Oquendo, and the torpedo-boat destroyers Pluton and Furor. But Commodore Watson hardly would like to meet Cervera if he has been reinforced by the cruisers Princess de Asturias, Cardenal Cisneros and Cataluna, the destroyer Terror and the torpedo boats supposed to be under the command of the torpedo expert, Admiral Villamil.

Any two of the three American fleets could dispose of the combined Spanish fleet. Any dash on the part of the Spaniards to get under the shelter of Havana's big guns will be interesting. Should the dash be made at night Commodore Watson's torpedo boats would have a chance to demonstrate their usefulness.

But the movement essentially is offensive, not defensive. It is to be followed by the invasion of Cuba, and the war is to be pushed to a speedy ending.

Delay No Longer.

Washington, May 18.—The president listened to-day to the most recent reports of the starvation and misery in Cuba. He expressed deep emotion at the recital and signified his determination to put an end to the conditions. The president hopes that the movement on Cuba may be begun by the end of this week.

Plans to convoy the troops without waiting for the capture or destruction of the Spanish fleet were discussed. The president told his advisers today that, fleet or no fleet, the operations in Cuba must begin, to carry out the humanitarian purpose for which this country entered upon the war.

Roosevelt Drills His Rough Uns.

San Antonio, Tex., May 18.—A column of 500 rough riders, uniformed in brown buck suits and leggins and wide-brimmed sombreros, was drilled for two hours yesterday by Theodore Roosevelt, lieutenant colonel of the First Volunteer Cavalry. He rode a handsome bay mustang which he bought this morning. Before closing the purchase he rode the mustang up and down a public street several times to try his mettle. The horse had a great deal of mettle, but Colonel Roosevelt mastered him. Colonel Roosevelt drilled his men enthusiastically, and gave the captains a great many pointers.

FOR 100,000 MORE VOLUNTEERS.

The President Expected to Issue a Call for that Number.

Washington, May 18.—The signs all point to a call by the president, to be issued to-day for one hundred thousand more volunteers. No new legislation will be necessary for this purpose as the "volunteer law" gives him the widest possible discretion as to the number of men he may call out. The Attorney-general gave the president his opinion on this point when the bill was examined by the cabinet before its approval.

Another Cruiser is Ready.

Washington, May 18.—The protected cruiser Newark has been remodeled and will be placed in commission at the Norfolk navy yard Saturday. She has a speed of 19 knots, is 4,098 tons displacement, and carries twelve six-inch rifles. Except the Philadelphia, she will be the last of the regular naval vessels to be commissioned during the war, all others now being in active service that can possibly be gotten ready. The Chicago and Atlanta are the only two others undergoing repairs and overhauling.

GLADSTONE'S END NEAR.

The Attending Physicians Expect His Death Within Twenty-four Hours.

London, May 18.—Henry Gladstone, third son of the ex-premier, left London for Hawarden by special train. He had been summoned to his father's bedside, as the venerable statesman is sinking rapidly.

Mr. Gladstone passed a bad night. His sleep was broken and he was much weaker this morning. At 4 o'clock yesterday he appeared to have weakened greatly since morning.

A bulletin issued by Mr. Gladstone's physicians at Hawarden says there has been a serious failure in his strength within the last six hours.

WILLIAM E. GLADSTONE.

His pulse is with difficulty perceptible at the wrist, his extremities are cold and very little nourishment can be taken.

It is the opinion of the doctors that unless there is a speedy and decided rally Mr. Gladstone cannot live twenty-four hours longer.

William Ewart Gladstone was born in Liverpool December 29, 1809. He entered Eton at twelve. He graduated from Oxford in 1831, with the highest honors. At twenty-two years of age he was returned to the House of Commons as a Tory from the borough of Newark. He became a Liberal between 1850 and 1860. He was made prime minister of England in 1868. He introduced the Irish Land Bill in 1870 and the Home Rule bill in 1886. The latter was defeated and Gladstone resigned. In 1892 he became premier again. In March, 1894, he resigned and retired after sixty-two years of active political life.

He was married in 1839 to Catherine Glynne, daughter of Sir Thomas R. Glynne. They were never separated for more than a day in nearly sixty years. They had eight children, five of whom are living.

NEW SPANISH TRICK.

Schooner Set Adrift by Blanco to Wreck Our Torpedo Boats.

Key West, May 18.—The gunboat Wilmington reported that yesterday she sank a schooner heavily loaded and set adrift by Spaniards to wreck our ships.

Captain Todd saw the schooner, which was of about sixty tons burden and dismantled, beating along toward Matanzas, in line of our ships. Car wheels and iron were on the deck, and if the wreck had struck a torpedo boat it would have sunk her. Wires were seen running along the schooner's side and it was feared to send a boat because of probable electrical arrangement and powder aboard. Consequently Captain Todd sunk her with four shots. The schooner disappeared amid the cheers of the Wilmington's crew. Every conceivable thing in the way of barrels and boxes floated away after the schooner went down. Captain Todd said it was evidently a new Spanish trick. The boat had probably been set adrift at Havana and had floated thirty miles.

Could Take Cardenas.

The Wilmington people said that Cardenas could have been taken on the 11th with 1,000 men, and the Winslow avenged. The city is still smouldering from the effects of the bombardment.

They heard that Blanco notified Madrid that the two Spanish gunboats in Cardenas bay were totally disabled by the American fire and that the town was at the Americans' mercy. The gunboats have not stirred since the bombardment.

BLANCO'S CONSCRIPTION ORDER.

What Refugees at Kingston Say of Conditions in Havana.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17.—The Cuban provisional government has directed insurgent sympathizers not to try to evade, in garrison cities, General Blanco's conscription order forcing into the ranks of the volunteers all males from 15 to 45 years of age. Refugees who recently arrived here by the French steamer Fulton from Havana, and who have since been released from quarantine, say that the Cubans in Havana are joining the volunteers by hundreds. Spain is thus arming enemies ready to rise at an opportune time and desert. The Spaniards in Havana, for a communal police purpose, spy out Cuban sympathizers and cause their arrest.

Our Agent Sees Gomez.

Key West, Fla., May 18.—The gunboat Wilmington brought former American Vice Consul Jova here. He is the bearer of important dispatches to this government.

Jova reached the Cuban coast on Wednesday in a small boat, with Pilot Daniel Broche and was chased by a Spanish gunboat, but escaped. He was joined by Cubans and reached General Gomez's camp in one day at Reforma Santa Clara. He stayed there one day and reports Gomez as anxious to know when the Americans will move on Cuba.

On returning ova had a small boat in hiding waiting for the Wilmington, when a Spanish gunboat appeared to head him off. The Wilmington frightened off the gunboat which at six miles began to fire furiously.

Jova says Spanish troops are all being hurried westward, as an American attack is expected there.

Spain's Last Naval Victory.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat has been at pains to look into the history of Spain in modern times and see what she has been able to do in the field of naval warfare. The editor finds that the dons gained their last victory at sea in the gulf of Lepanto, where, with the aid of two Italian fleets, they whipped and destroyed the Turkish navy. But that victory was in the reign of Queen Elizabeth and the fight of Lepanto occurred 327 years ago. Seventeen years after Lepanto, in 1588, that is, Philip II of Spain tried another great sea fight, this time with England. Its disastrous result is known to history in the tale of the destruction of the armada.

Next Spain lost Gibraltar, and she has been losing sea battles ever since. Judging from her history in the past three centuries, as recalled by the St. Louis editor, it ought to take about three months for us to whip the cruel and decrepit old country off the seas and give her such a thrashing that it will be three centuries more before she sends out another fleet. The Globe-Democrat says of the fight of Lepanto and after:

No naval victory has been gained by Spain since that day. Three centuries and a quarter have elapsed since the battle of Lepanto, but Spain never won another important fight on the water afterward. Since Lepanto Spain has on the ocean at one time and another fought England, France, Holland, the different parts of Italy, some of the various combinations of the German states and almost every other country in Europe, small and great, and most of the little nations of Central and South America, but she has won no battle which has had the faintest effect toward bettering her own fortunes or which has altered in even the slightest degree the general current of history.

Where the Lack Is.

Scribner's Magazine has an editorial on the inefficiency of people who work for other people. A lady pays $250 for a gown. It comes home half finished, rips out almost if she looks at it and is full of basting threads. She takes it back wrathfully to the man dressmaker and he bewails his luck and blames it all on "those girls" whom he hires to sew by the day. Her husband has the same kind of luck with the office boys or clerks whom he hires or the man whom he employs at $30 a month "and found" to till the ground on his country place. The story is the same throughout—hired persons will not do their work right.

The Scribner editor attributes this general failing to various reasons. One is ignorance pure and simple. The hireling people botch things because they do not know any better. Sometimes, too, he says, false pride, the feeling that they are above their work and as good as their employer, prompts them to slight the task.

The editor is wrong. The inefficiency of working people is due to lack of conscientiousness. They do not do their work right because they do not care for anything except to rush it through and get their money. If they can slight it and cheat the employer, that is so much gain to them. The worst of it is, too, that these hireling people probably perform their simple duties as honestly and efficiently in their lowly sphere as their employer does his particular so called higher duties on the superior plane.

The new law for the reorganization of the regular army does not change the number of regiments. There will still be 25 regiments of infantry, 10 of cavalry, 7 of artillery and the engineer corps of one battalion. But a regiment will now be divided into three battalions of 400 men each, making its complement 1,200 men instead of 1,000. Instead of 25,000 men the infantry regiments will contain on a war footing 31,800 enlisted men, the cavalry regiments 12,000, the artillery 16,457, the engineers' five companies, 752 men. The regular army, when on a war footing, will thus consist altogether of 61,009 enlisted men. For these 259 additional commissioned officers will be required. There will be places now for all those ambitious West Point graduates who have been pining in inglorious temporary retirement because there were no soldiers for them to officer.

The coaling question for Spanish and American men-of-war is met in a compromise way by Great Britain in her neutrality position. Under the regulations decided on by the British government a Spanish or United States warship may coal in British ports provided she takes on only enough to steam her to the nearest port belonging to her own country. Without special permission the same vessel will only be allowed to coal once in three months. Furthermore, men-of-war belonging to either of the belligerents will not be allowed to convey their prizes into British ports.

Mr. Hudor Genone, as he calls himself, is a deep thinker. In a late paper giving instruction to common minds on metaphysics and psychology Mr. Hudor Genone says, "My aim is to achieve the decentric parallax of opinion on the various segments of the moral circle." Oh, gracious!

An English nobleman, Captain Sir Francis Leighton, who has served in the British army in Africa, is one of the queen's subjects who have come to this country to offer their services to us to fight against Spain.

It is declared by those who ought to know that gas for use in cities is now made mostly from water and that very cheaply.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Speaking of the new Board of Freeholders, the Somerville Unionist-Gazette says:

"Augustus Mobus is a contractor, who resides in North Plainfield. He is a competent member of the Board. His term expires next spring, when he will probably be a candidate for re-election. He is a Democrat, though coming from such a strong Republican place.

"Joel Codding represents Warren, and is known from one end to the other of that dyed-in-the wool Democratic township. Joel is a good, solid man who says little, but does good work. Last year he was chairman of the committee on collector's accounts.

"Andrew Lutkins is the other Republican member of the Board, and he now begins his second term as the representative of North Plainfield township. Mr. Lutkins was formerly in the butchering business, and is well known in the borough. He made a good Freeholder during his first term, and will, doubtless, be an addition to the Board."

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

Uncle Sam has in his employ at Asheville, N. C., as mail carriers two brothers, both of whom are blind. They travel to surrounding mountain towns over rough roads without any guides, trusting entirely in the intelligence of their horses, and in the four years of their service neither has met with an accident.

Roundsman Christian Frederickson, one of the best officers in the police department, served eighteen months in the German Navy before coming to this country. He enlisted at the age of 22 years, and for eleven months was aboard a man-of-war in the West Indies. He says that many times the sailors have placed raw eggs on the deck, and the intense heat would cook them in a short while. Mr. Frederickson says that he enjoyed the life on ship board and that the men were well clothed and had the very best of everything to eat. As soon as he served the eighteen months and was discharged he came to this country, where he has lived ever since.

The New York Dramatic Mirror, on which Geo. Taggart, formerly of this city, is one of the principal writers, recently published the following:

The big stores of Greater New York and Chicago have been left behind in the race for supremacy in the novel advertising line by a dry goods dealer in the town of Plainfield, N. J. This twentieth century merchant had a grand opening a few nights ago, and he engaged a grand array of talent, consisting of George Thatcher and Ed Marble, and a brass band to entertain his customers. The Plainfield Press in its criticism of the performance contained the following: "The feature of the evening's entertainment was the appearance of the two famous leaders of minstrelsy, George Thatcher and his old friend, Edward Marble. They had a new string of jokes and gags ready for the occasion, and they kept their hearers in a perfect roar of delight. They rattled off funny stories for twenty minutes, and then said good evening amid a grand burst of applause.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Music Hall tomorrow night will undoubtedly be filled to repletion in aid of the Red Cross Society funds. A splendid programme is prepared and to add to its brilliancy, engagement was made yesterday with the Queen City Band for patriotic music. The leader, Mr. Benjamin LaVere, promises a fine selection. A few choice seats remain unsold on the lower floor and can be secured today at $1.00 each, but that all may have an opportunity to attend, seats remaining unsold tomorrow morning, will be sold at regular prices, 75, 50 and 35 cents, and at night the general admission will be 50c. on lower floor, and 20c. in balcony.

The essence of true artistic excellence, in a dramatic as well as vaudeville sense, is prominently displayed in the array of players that contribute in the "make-up" of this week's programme at Proctor's Twenty-third street theatre. The policy outlined by the management, in the line of quality, embodying refinement with attractiveness, is practically sustained in its weekly bill. The star feature of this weed's programme is the celebrated portrayer of broad Irish humor—in songs and dialogue—the inimitable Maggie Cline. This artiste holds position in amusements, essentially her own. Her style, unique and original, is distinctly her own; imitators have failed to develop and bring out, in their conception, the unexplainable quality, that makes Miss Maggie Cline's stage work so very attractive. She will make a new departure by the introduction of a quartette in her newly arranged specialty. This will be the fourth week of the pronounced success of the Edison War-Graph. Its series of timely films and patriotic views, makes it against the strongest of stage competitors one of the most entertaining numbers on the programme. Many new moving pictures will be introduced during this week, with the old favorites still retained.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Absorbs Like a Sponge

+AMOLIN+
the only
Odorless Antiseptic
Dress Shield

Destroys all Odor of Perspiration.

Praise Amolin Dress Shields as we may, their merits will hardly be recognized and appreciated until tried. They are so different from others covered with Amolin Lint that absorbs like a sponge, they are cool, comfortable and destroy all odor of perspiration. Amolin powder does the seemingly impossible. Destroys all odors instantly, yet is odorless itself and as harmless as dew. Used as a toilet or infant powder, or for chafing and prickly heat it is unequaled. It contains no talcum or other insoluable substances. We are sole agents.

AMERICAN WOMEN IN CONGRESS.

This Gathering Will Bring Together the Most Advanced Ladies in the Country.

Denver, Colo.—No event in many years has aroused such general interest throughout the country as the coming fourth biennial session of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will convene here on June 22. Extensive preparations are being made by the local committee to welcome the Eastern visitors and they are looking forward with eagerness and enthusiasm to the coming of this grand body of women.

It is not forgotten by the club women of Colorado that this gathering will bring together the most advanced women of the country, and that to them the Colorado woman will be of more than ordinary interest. As progressive women and voters the fame of the Colorado woman has gone abroad, and now she is determined to "put her best foot forward" and prove to the curious that she can vote, hold office, even come into close contact with politicians of dubious shade, and yet keep sweet, clean and womanly. The women of the west have a message for their sisters from the east and south charged with a mighty meaning; a meaning that, profited by and lived up to, will shake womankind from much of the narrowness of the past.

The officers of the General Federation of Women's Clubs are: President, Mrs. E. M. Henrotin, Chicago; vice-president, Mrs. Alice Ives Breed, Lynn, Mass.; recording secretary, Mrs. C. P. Barnes, Louisville, Ky.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Philip N. Moore, St. Louis; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Trumbull, Denver; auditor, Miss Annie Laws, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Alice Ives Breed, the vice-president, will appear at the biennial as candidate for the presidency to succeed Mrs. Henrotin. Club women will be interested to know something of the women, who have charge of the preparations for the great gathering. Mrs. G. W. Fisher, the chairman of the Entertainment Committee, is one of the wealthiest women in the West. She has a host of friends throughout the East and especially in New York State. Mrs. Fisher has chosen for her assistants women who are not only powers in the social world, but they have much to offer the biennial.

MRS. J. B. GRANT.

MRS. W. G. FISHER.

Mrs. Mahlon D. Thatcher, the president of the Colorado Federation, is much admired and beloved in the organization, to which she is loyally and unselfishly devoted. The wife of one of the state's wealthiest men, her distinguishing characteristic is a gentle and unassuming courtesy, which endears her to all. The federation, under her leadership, has increased to one hundred clubs, a number exceeding that of many States with a population much larger.

Mrs. James Grant, of this city, is the president of the local Biennial Board for the coming meeting.

Coca Tooth Paste.

Four ounces of powdered precipitated chalk, three ounces of powdered orris root, one ounce of powdered white soap, half an ounce of powdered cuttle fish, two drams of powdered carmine, half an ounce of tincture of coca leaves, thirty drops of oil of ligu, aloe, thirty drops of oil of peppermint, five drops of oil of castarilla, sufficient pure glycerine to make a paste.

A Peculiar Remedy.

He: "I think Dr. Jenkins will very soon have a large practice."

She: "Why?"

"He has just had a case in which he prescribed millinery for hysteria."

Helpful Items.

To keep milk good for several days a spoonful of scraped horseradish should be put into the pan.

Before serving watercress the cress should be carefully picked over and left to remain in salt and water for some time before serving it.

To assist the rising of cream, a small quantity of clear water, cold in summer and warm in winter, should be put into the bottom of the pan or basin in which the milk is set.

The brown stains on plates and pie-dishes caused by the heat of the oven can easily be removed by soaking in soda and water, and then rubbing with powdered bath-brick, or a few ashes from the grate. Afterwards rinse in warm water.

When a hot bath is given to a child for its health, it should not be allowed to remain in the bath longer than five minutes; as a general rule three minutes will be sufficient. On removing the child it should be carefully dried, and wrapped in a warm blanket.

A large newspaper will often answer one suffers from cold feet when travelling, a newspaper well wrapped around them will prove a great comfort. Paper is sufficiently impervious to keep the the purpose of a temporary blanket. If cold air outside, and to prevent the escape of the warm air from the body.

Ginger loses much of its efficacy with age, so that ginger which has been kept in the house for some time is worthless.

To clean wrought iron.—All wrought iron-work should be cleaned with a little drop of paraffin oil and soft rag.

Dainty Frock in Nun's Veiling.

Nuns' veiling in black, white and all the lovely shades of pink, mauve, green, blue and gray, promises to be extremely fashionable for dresses this summer. This material is particularly useful as it falls so easily into the graceful folds which are now so much the vogue.

For young girls gowns of this material are very youthful and becoming. A lovely frock for a dainty blonde is of a delicate shade of green, with trimmings of lilac. The waist, slightly bloused, has a round shirred yoke with neckband and ceinture of lilac velvet. Double epaulets and a frill at the wrist finish the shirred sleeve. Fine silk braid in green and lilac forms the decoration.

An Evening Gown.

Gowns for evening wear are particularly lovely this season. On these costumes elaborate decorations of chiffon are used, and sometimes compose the entire material of the gown. The embroidered variety of chiffon is especially pretty.

A dainty gown for a young debutante was composed of flowered chiffon over yellow satin. The corsage was quite decollete, the yellow satin artistically draped from the left shoulder. Part of the sleeves were of the satin, the ruffles over them of accordeon pleated chiffon. Another handsome gown in a delicate shade of green was richly embroidered with large white daisies having yellow centers.

Stuffed Sweet Potatoes.

Just now stuffed sweet potatoes are more palatable perhaps than the plain ones, which have lost their best flavor and grain. The potatoes should be made thoroughly clean by scrubbing the skins with a vegetable scrubbing-brush. After they are baked, one end of each is cut off, the inside then being removed with a pointed teaspooon, care being taken not to break the skins. The potatoes are pressed through a perforated potatoe-masher, and a piece of butter and about a tablespoonful to every potato of chicken, veal or boiled ham minced fine. The mixture should be highly seasoned before being packed away again in each skin, and the potatos returned to the oven for a reheating of about ten minutes.

Brass Clothes Trees.

Brass clothes-trees are late additions in the furniture shops. They have the advantage of weight, which gives them stability, a quality often lacking in the article. With them are seen, too, standing brass towel-racks. It has been supposed that this form of the rack was practically eliminated from use, and to have such made of brass does not commend itself especially. Wet towels, thrown over the brass rack, would soon work injury alike to themselves and their support. naphtha, says that she does it by draw-

MOULDING A SOLDIER

THE ENTIRE PHYSICAL ORGANISM TRAINED FOR ENDURANCE.

They Are Fitted to Stand Sleepless Nights and Poor Food and Still Be in Good Condition—This Instruction is Carried on Throughout the Army.

It is the generally accepted opinion in the army to-day that there is nothing which deserves more close attention, or which pays a larger interest in beneficial results, than the physical training of the individual soldier. Not that the subject was ever less important than it is to-day, but it has been only within the last few years that the army, withdrawn from small and isolated posts and concentrated in a great measure into large garrisons with gymnasium facilities, has been able to devote to this subject the careful and systematic attention it deserved.

Marshall Saxe sounded the keynote when he said "the secret of success in war lies in the legs of the soldier." And it might be added further that not only to the legs of the soldier should the commander look for success, but in the arms, the back, the lungs, in fact, the entire physical organism; for the endurance or lack of endurance of all of these may mean the difference between victory and defeat. All other things being equal, that army which can cover the greatest distance in the least time and with the least fatigue—that army which can stand sleepless nights and tiresome marches with poor food and poorer comforts, and still be in good physical condition, has its battles half won before the first shot is fired.

The only principle of strategy or tactics that old General Forrest, the Confederate cavalaryman, ever pretended to know was that of "getting the most men there first." And after all the volumes that have been written on these subjects have been simmered down and digested, the whole thing narrows down to pretty nearly that principle.

The problem then is how to "get the most men there first" and not have them exhausted when they do arrive. The only natural solution is, by uniform and systematic physical training, to render their bodies almost insusceptible to fatigue.

This system of progressive instruction in physical training is carried on throughout the entire army. An officer who has special aptitude for the work is put in charge of the course of instruction at each post, and together with his assistant, takes active part with the men in all the exercises. Drill halls or gymnasiums have been provided at a number of the larger posts. The drill hall at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, is a model of its kind. It is 100 by 200 feet, with hard clay floor and gallery at one end for visitors. Apparatus has been bought from time to time, so that in one end is a fairly well equipped gymnasium, leaving the main portion of the hall clear for the drilling of several companies at a time in all manner of calisthenics.

The system begins with exercises of the mildest nature, such as calisthenics, without apparatus of any kind. From these, dumb bells, Indian clubs, bar bells, medicine balls, running, etc., are taken up. When sufficient time has been devoted to the milder forms, the training proceeds to practice in vaulting, jumping, running fully armed and equipped, escalading, and finally exercising on the various gymnastic apparatus.

Though the rate of advancement may sometimes seem slow and tedious to those men who show special aptitude for athletics, they can put in as much extra time in the gymnasium as they desire. The system is not devised for the making of a few highly finished athletes, but for the training of the whole mass to as great a degree of proficiency as possible, just as a chain should be made strong, not by welding a few of its links to unusual thickness, but by distributing the metal as evenly as possible throughout the entire length.

After the course has been well entered upon, field days are held at the various posts, prizes of no small value being given to the winner of events. In some instances also athletic contests between teams from different post have taken place. The plan even of forming an athletic association composed of all the regiments of the army, with a grand annual contest at some central locality, has been seriously discussed and is not among the impossibilities in the near future.

Facilities for gymnastic work are being increased and improved as rapidly as possible at every post in the army. Any one interested in the work cannot but recognize the fact that such exercises not only build up the constitutions of the soldiers and render them insensible to fatigue, but by presenting a free and interesting diversion from the monotony of post life are powerful factors in keeping men from wasting their time in useless and possibly harmful amusements.

Verily, instead of being a passing fad, the system of physical training in the army has decidedly come to stay.—Illustrated American.

Like to Convince the Family.

An official if a bank in Tennessee says: "The German farmers of the mountains nearly all have a deposit in our bank, which ranges from a small amount to several thousand dollars. The deposit is a time one, that we pay interest on, and generally once in two years they draw all of their money out and take it home. In a week or ten days they return with their money, which they deposit again. Their reason for this is explained by the fact that they desire to take their money home and show it to their families as an evidence that they have it."

ONE WOMAN'S WIT.

How an Idea Added Materially to Her Success in Business.

A Washington modiste, who enjoys the patronage of many fashionable women in the official set, said recently that she doted her success exactly from the time she hit upon a little idea that being a novelty immediately won for her a reputation. "One night," she went on to relate, "I was finishing up a gown for a senator's daughter, and though I had tried hard to please my young lady, knowing if I succeeded it would be the means of increasing my business, the thought came to me that if I could make up the package and send it home with some stamp of individuality about it, it would be a feather in my cap. At that moment I was sewing hang-loops on the waist, and the great idea flashed through my brain. I jumped up, seized a candle and made for the cellar. Arrived there, I grasped a hatchet and knocked off a barrel hoop. Dividing the hoop in half, I hurried back up stairs with my embroyonic waist holder. It did not take me long to cover the curved stick with some pieces of material left from the gown and attach a ribbon and bow. It made a very dainty and useful accompaniment to the gown, and my customer was delighted. Wasn't it a happy idea? Why, I never send a gown home now without a pretty waist holder to match, and I put sachet powder in the hangers to increase their attractiveness. You have no idea how quickly the news spread that "Miss —— was such a clever dressmaker with such original ideas." I honestly believe my little barrel hoop creation procured me my present large business."—Washington Star.

ORIGIN OF THE CAKE WALK.

Formerly a Marriage Ceremony but Its Significance Now Lost.

The cake-walk proper had its origin among the French negroes of Louisiana more than a century ago. There is little doubt that it is an offshoot of some of the old French country dances. It resembles several of them in form. From New Orleans it spread over the entire South, and thence North. It was found of convenience to the plantation negroes. They were not wedded by license, and it was seldom that the services of a preacher were called in. At a cake-walk a man might legitimately show his preference for a woman, and thus publicly claim her for a wife. In effect the cake-walk was not different from the old Scotch marriage, which required only public acknowledgment from the contracting parties. So this festival became in some sense a wooing, an acceptance or rejection and a ceremony. This explains its popularity with the blacks, outside of its beauties, with the accompaniment of music, which is competent at all times to command negro support. Cake-walking has improved, as do most things that are constantly practised. It has lost its old significance in the South. Negroes now get married, when they marry at all, in white folks fashion. It has become, however, a pantomime dance. Properly performed, it is a beautiful one. The cake is not much of a prize, though the negro has a sweet tooth. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

HORSE WITH AN EYE FOR BUSINESS

Old Hector Wouldn't Allow His Master's Sickness to Stop Work.

A remarkable display of animal sagacity was given recently in Kensington by the horse driven by old Harry Pindle, an itinerant coal dealer. Harry has been a small dealer for years, and many a bucket of coal he sells to customers of twenty years' standing. Hector, the old bay horse, has been owned by Harry for several years, and, although he is old and lame, the animal serves his master well. Last week, while out with a load of coal, Harry was taken sick, and, leaving his six-year-old- grandson on the wagon, he went into a friend's house to rest. Now, Hector evidently got tired of waiting, for when Harry, who had become very sick, came out with his friend to be driven home the team was gone. Late that afternoon the grandson came home with an empty wagon and explained that Hector had gone over the regular route, and that the people who had been waiting for their coal came out and took what they wanted and paid for it. Harry became very ill and was confined to bed for over a week, but the supply of coal never stopped, as Harry's oldest son would load the wagon before going to work and the team would be sent in charge of the little boy. It has been proven since that old Hector never missed a customer along the route, and he is now pointed out as a remarkable horse. —Philadelphia Record.

A Tall Fish Story.

The following is vouched for by F. Makett, who lives in Leflore county, Miss., near Cane Lake. Mr. Makett went out a few mornings ago to a marshy place that had dried out on account of the continued dry weather, to dig fish bait, and while digging with a grub hoe, to his great surprise, instead of finding fish bait, he dug up a fine fish that weighed three pounds, and upon examination he found that in the mud for 100 yards around there was a great quantity of trout, white perch and bass. Mr. Makett carried home a half bushel of the fish, and now, instead of digging bait, he goes out every morning and digs a mess of fine bass. The fish are under the surface about ten inches.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Hendry.—"So you take stock in that yarn? Why, I wouldn't believe that story if I told it myself?"

Cowgage—"Well, in that case, neither would I."—Boston Transcript.

PHOTOGTAPHS IN COLORS.

Simple Method of Securing Very Pleasing Effect.

A recent American invention promises to make the coloring of photographs a very simple matter, even for the amateur, and no great artistic talent is necessary. By the process, known as the "Kalos art," ordinary prints may be made considerably more attractive at small cost and with no great expenditure of time. All that is necessary is a box of "Kalos colors," a dish of clean water and a camel's-hair brush and sponge. These colors are transparent, and the shades and lights of the photograph show through. Any desired tints may be secured by mixing or diluting with water. To color any print apply the shades with the brush and wash the surface of the picture with a wet sponge, so that all superfluous color may be removed. This prevents running and insures a more even distribution of the colors. Rinse the brush or the sponge in clean water, after using each color, sponge the whole picture after the coloring is finished. It is better to make the colors a trifle stronger than is desired in order to allow for a slight fading in the mounting process. The picture should then be allowed to dry thoroughly, so that the colors may become firmly fixed before mounting. These colored prints may be mounted on cards or transferred to glass, in imitation of porcelain paintings. The miniature may be set in pearl or gold for lockets, brooches, sleeve buttons, watch charms &c. This process is warranted to work on photographs of a gelatinous nature, and gives excellent results on platinum prints. Collodion prints may be colored by first giving them a gelatinous surface. This may be done by adding one-quarter ounce of water to one ounce of sheet gelatine, and the mixture heated until the gelatine is thoroughly dissolved; then, with a wide, soft brush, apply the dissolved gelatine to the film side of the print, giving it a smooth, even surface. Heat it gently over a lighted lamp until dry.—Philadelphia Record.

CAR STEALING AS A FINE ART.

Omaha Claims to Have the Most Expert Borrower.

When the traffic of a railroad is limited only by the number of cars it can get possession of the means of securing those cars are overlooked and only the end is considered. Thus it comes that in railroad circles it is rather an honor than a dishonor to be an expert car thief. Stealing a freight car is no more regarded as a crime in railroad circles than is stealing a base in baseball games.

The most successful superintendent of a car service is he who can, when his own supply of cars runs short, reach out and steal from other roads enough cars to meet the demand. To be sure, the theft is not a permanent one, as the cars are bound to be returned to the company that owns them some day. But when several roads are lying in wait to grab the same string of empty cars the one that succeeds in capturing it makes a borrowing that is pretty close approach to a theft. This procedure, however, is regarded as legitimate railroading under the conditions now existing in Nebraska, where the business of a railroad depends practically altogether on its ability to rush empty cars to the stations where there are thousands of bushels of grain awaiting shipment.

In this respect it is generally conceded that Omaha has the most expert superintendent of car service in the business. His is a western railroad, and a pretty big one. Just as soon as a string of empty cars come across the big bridge between here and Council Bluffs they are seized by this smooth borrower of cars, rushed out on his line filled with grain and returned here to be delivered to the railroad east of the river to whom the cars belong. That railroad cannot object very strenuously since it thereby receives the haul on the grain from here to Chicago, but it may be greatly embarrassed quite often when it thinks it has twenty or thirty empty cars in the Omaha yard and plans to send them west on some other line, only to later discover that they have been grabbed and hustled out on the western line that boasts of having the smoothest car superintendent in the United States.—Omaha Bee.

Servants of Olden Times.

Servants were servants away back in 1566, just as varied, in fact, as the woman who bossed them, and both were much as they are in this end of the century year. Servants were fined in those days for each trivial offence. A penny was thought enough to fine a servant who left open a door that should have been closed, and the same fine did service for missing family prayers, or leaving the beds of the house unmade later than 8 o'clock in the morning. The cook might have a beau, but she had to pay a fine every time he came, of 1 penny. If such rules were enforced now, madam would find herself without "lady help" in short order.

Five is the great sacred Chinese number. There are five virtues, five colors (yellow, white, green, red and black), five household gods, five planets (Saturn, Venus, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury), five ranks of nobility, five tastes, five cardinal points (the middle, east, west, south and north respectively), and five tones.

In one consignment, recently, a feather dealer in London received 6,000 birds of paradise, 360,000 birds of various kinds from the East Indies and 400,000 humming birds. In three months another dealer imported 356,398 birds from the East Indies.

OLD FIREMAN SICK.

George Butsche Seriously Ill at His Home on Lyman Place.

George Butsche, of Lyman place, one of Plainfield's oldest residents, is seriously ill at his home. Mr. Butsche is well advanced in years and he has seen his best days. His friends do not have much hope that he will recover. For years he was associated with the fire department and was at one time driver for No. 2 engine when the engine was stationed on West Front street where Stillman's new building is now located. He was considered to be one of the most careful and efficient drivers the department ever had. After his retirement from the department he engaged with Mr. Odam, the slater, and when able he assisted him in his work. He is a member of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. F., and the members are now looking after their faithful member. Dr. D. C. Adams is in attendance.

GENEROUS MAYOR WILSON.

Paid for Improvements for Two Church Properties Out of His Own Pocket.

During the last week the members and officers of Holy Cross church, at the corner of Washington and Mercer avenues, and Grace M. E. church on Park place, were much surprised at the sight of a gang of stone layers at work laying a fine flag walk over certain portions of the street fronting each of the edifices. As officers of neither church had ordered the sidewalks laid there was a good deal of speculation as to who was responsible for the improvement.

After diligent enquiry it was learned that the walks were being put down through the generosity of His Honor J. H. Wilson, who had intended that the information should remain sealed in his own mind and that of the contractors. But in someway the news leaked out and now the congregations of both churchs are very grateful to the Mayor for his liberal action.

Why He Was Welcome.

"Here, Harry, is a dime for you," said Mr. Harper, to the little brother of the one he loves. "Have you ever heard Miss Bessie say anything about me when I wasn't here?"

"Oh, lots of times," replied the sweet child.

"And what does she say, Harry?"

"She says she's always glad to have you come here when she's feelin' all wore out and tired."

"And," continued the delighted young man, "does she ever explain why she likes to have me come at such times?"

"Yes. She says you're so easy she can go to sleep and still keep you guessin'."—Cleveland Ledger.

WIT AND HUMOR.

"I'd like to know who is sending me these anonymous letters," said the head of the firm."

"A letter without any signature, of course. This makes the third I have received in two weeks."

"Perhaps," said Mike, "perhaps the poor man cannot write his name at all."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Could you learn to love me?" he asked.

"I don't know," she answered thoughtfully. "The cause of education is making great strides these days, and it is possible to learn 'most any old thing."—Chicago Post.

TALKED OF TEMPERANCE.

Interesting Christian Endeavor Service at Warren Chapel Last Night.

A very interesting Christian Endeavor service was held at Warren chapel last evening. The subject of the meeting was "Temperance," Mrs. Bach, a member of the temperance committee, had charge of the service and announced the various numbers on the programme after the opening exercises. There was a recitation, "Mamma, When will Papa Come," by Anna Bach; singing by the choir, "Down with the Evil and Up with the Right;" a soprano solo, "It Breaks my Heart Because I am a Drunkard's Child," by Miss Lillie Zeisz.

The address of the evening was made by Miss Carra Peck, a noted temperance speaker. She interested her audience very much in the cause of temperance and her remarks were listened to attentively.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the committee, which is composed of Mrs. W. A. Wilson, Mrs. Bach, Miss Kohler and Miss Mamie Wilson. All present voted the meeting one of the best held in a long time.

PROGRESSIVE WHIST.

ONE DRIVING ROD NOT ENOUGH.

An Accident That Happened to a West Bound Local Train.

There was an accident to the engine drawing the local passenger train west bound leaving Plainfield at 11 o'clock this morning. The accident occurred between Dunellen and Bound Brook, when one of the driving rods broke. An attempt was made to run the engine with one driving rod and it worked all right until the rod reached the top point. All the steam in the engine would not move the engine at that point. The train was delayed nearly an hour, when finally the train managed to reach Bound Brook where another engine was obtained.

HOOKED BY A COW.

A Peculiar Accident Reported From the Hospital.

Fred Hofer, aged about 53 years, residence unknown, was admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital last Saturday for treatment for an injured eye. It appears that a cow hooked Mr. Hofer in the eye, and the chances are that he will lose the sight. After he was admitted to the hospital he refused to have Dr. Ard operate on the eye. In consequence the man was allowed to go yesterday. It is thought that the accident occurred at New Market recently. The man is hardly able to see out of the eye at the present time. He has no regular occupation but goes about doing odd jobs.

SPORTS

AROUND THE BASES.

The High School second baseball team will play Leal's nine this afternoon.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team will play the second High School team Saturday afternoon on the LaGrande avenue grounds.

The Young Champions would like to arrange games with teams averaging thirteen or fourteen years of age. Further arrangements for games can be made with B. Edwards, 419 LaGrande avenue.

Manager Mumford is trying to schedule another game with the Seventh Regiment boys. They are anxious to come and if the team is not broken up before that time they will probably appear on the Oval July 4th.

McLarty will occupy the box for the Crescents Saturday afternoon. Mac is much improved over his last year's form and that means that he is playing a great game. Mac has a faculty of batting well that few pitchers show.

Metz, the new shortstop of the Crescents, was a decided success even if he was credited with one of the two errors made by the home team. He is a hard hitter and a clever base runner and it is a hard ball indeed that can get away from his grasp when it comes anywhere near him.

It is probable that Dissosway, who occupied the box for the Seventh Regiment team in last Saturday's game, may fill that position for the Crescents before the season is over. It is probable that he will be added to the Crescent team about July 1st and that he and McLarty will alternate in the box. Dissosway is a remarkably steady pitcher, hard to rattle and good for nine innings of hard play. He has a reputation of being one of the heaviest hitters on the Seventh Regiment nine.

Next Saturday afternoon will see the continuation of baseball at the Crescent Oval. On that day the Plainfield Crescents will play the All-Stars, of Brooklyn, the Catholic Protectory team, one of the best on Long Island. The team is composed of rattling good players who have been together long enough to understand the details of team work and to be thoroughly conversant with them. The game is called for 3:30 o'clock. Stages will run to the Oval from the North Avenue station, beginning at 2 o'clock.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Mrs. Lindsey Woolley, of New street, has purchased a new bicycle.

Wm. Martin won the road race to Metuchen last night, making the distance in eighteen minutes.

Dr. Ard, of Park avenue, is now riding a new Eldridge wheel, purchased of the local agent, Thomas Cuming.

Edgar I. Serrell, of Myrtle avenue, has purchased a '98 Cleveland wheel of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Co. It is the road-racing model and is enameled dark green.

Among the recent purchasers of Eldridge wheels are Hon. Charles A. Reed, L. R. Miller, of West Third street; Ole Johansen, of Scotch Plains; H. C. Runyon, of West Front street, and C. G. Wood, of the borough.

East Front street, between Richmond street and Scotch Plains, is now in excellent condition, better, in fact, than it has been for a long time. The wheelmen have discovered that fact and many nop choose that road for a short spin during the morning or evening.

GOLF.

The board of governors of the Park Club met last evening and decided, after hearing a report of the committee on golf, to establish a branch of golf in connection with the Park Club. No doubt the grounds owned by Charles Hyde will be leased to establish golf links. The new club now being an assured fact, there will be a meeting next Saturday evening when a definite organization will be effected.

Funeral of Henry Bender.

The funeral services of the late Henry Bender were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the German Reformed church, in the borough. Rev. George Hauser, pastor, officiated. There was a large attendance of the members of the Gesang and Turn Verein, who were present in a body. During the service the singing section of the German society sang several times. There was a very beautiful display of floral offerings. Those who served as pall-bearers were Michael Weber, William Gartner, John Bremmer, Harry Bummell and Max Wiertz. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Episcopal Confirmation.

Right Rev. John Scarborough will perform the rite of confirmation in the Church of the Heavenly Rest Sunday evening next at 7:45 o'clock. Six candidates will be presented by Rev. William R. Harris, of Bound Brook. The choral service will be rendered in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, weather permitting.

CABLE WAS NOT CUT; SANTIAGO BOMBARDED

A Great Naval Battle Is Expected This Week.

The Oregon Is Nearing Key West—Movements of the Fleets Shrouded in Secrecy—Gen. Miles Wants More Rifles—Montgomery Pursued Spanish Cruiser.

THE LATEST.

Three O'Clock.

TRIED TO CUT THE CABLE.

After Which The Americans Bombarded Santiago de Cuba.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 19, 9:30 a. m—A Havana despatch says that the Cuban port of Santiago de Cuba has been bombarded by the vessels of the American fleet. Slight damage is reported to have been done.

Washington, May 19, 10:30 a. m—Semi-official advices confirm the report of the bombardment of Santiago de Cuba. The report states that the bombardment was the result of an attempt to cut the Cuban cables that lead out of that harbor.

Rear Admiral Sampson was instructed by the War Department to cut those cables as soon as possible. He ordered the monitors Puritan and Amphitrite and the cruiser Minneapolis to proceed to Santiago and accomplish the work.

As the three American warships steamed towards the harbor, the forts on the shore opened fire on them with vigor. The small guns of the cruiser were the first to reply and then the big guns of the monitors were trained on the fortifications.

After a short engagement the American warships retired to the open sea after inflicting slight damage on the fortifications. While the report does not specifically state it, it is supposed that the cables have not yet been cut.

Santiago de Cuba is the capital of the province of that name, the most easterly one in Cuba. Santiago is a hundred miles from Cape Mayei, the extreme easterly point of Cuba. Santiago was at one time the capital of Cuba and is now second in political rank and third in commercial importance on the island. The harbor, although one of the best in America, is difficult of access, owing to the narrowness of the entrance. It is defended by four forts, which mount a number of modern guns beside some old ordinance.

NAVAL BATTLE THIS WEEK.

American Fleets Are Gathering South of Florida Where Spanish Fleet is Expected.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 19, 2:15 p. m—A great naval encounter between the fleets of America and Spain is expected to take place off the southern end of the Florida peninsula this week.

If the location of the Spanish fleet is known to the naval authorities, it has not yet been devulged. Great secrecy has been shown in the movements of the two American squadrons.

It is known that Sampson's powerful fighting vessels are somewhere in that vicinity and that Commodore Schley's flying squadron has either united with them or is cruising nearby.

Then the big battleship Oregon and her consorts, the Marietta and the Buffalo, have sailed in the direction of Key West and may be with either squadron.

It is believed that the administration has been starting unfounded rumors for the purpose of misleading the Spanish ships.

OREGON TO KEY WEST.

The War Department Wants More Arms and Ammunition —The Holland Purchased.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 19, 10 a. m—The Navy Deyartment is not telling everything it knows anymore. There is a strict silence maintained by all the officials there to the correspondents regarding the movements of the fleet.

The fact that a second cablegram arrived this morning from Captain Clark, of the battleship Oregon, is admitted, but the substance of it is still a mystery.

The navy officials even refuse to tell the whereabouts of the Oregon, Mareitta and the Buffalo. It is understood, however, that the Oregon touched at Barbados yesterday and was ordered to proceed immediately to Key West.

The officers and men have been ordered on board the sub-marine torpedo boat, Holland, and it is believed that the vessel has been purchased by the government.

Secretary Long, of the Navy Department, received a cipher message this morning that is supposed to have come from Rear Admiral Sampson. The officials would not confirm or deny the report.

There was a report in circulation this morning that Spain had through the instrumentality of Senor Polo secured a coaling station at Miqueion, a little island south of New Foundland, where France has a small colony. Little credence is given to the report here.

Major General Miles, commander of the army, has announced that he wants 130,000 Krag-Jurgensir rifles at once to equip the volunteer army with.

There was a stir in the war department this morning, when the rush order was sent out for thirty million more cartridges to be delivered as soon as possible.

Montgomery at Work.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 19, 2 p. m—The United States cruiser Montgomery skirmished with a Spanish cruiser off Nuevillas Light yesterday and chased the Spaniard into the harbor, crippling him.

The Spanish Fleet Reported.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Colon, United States of Columbia, May 19, 12:51 p. m—The newspapers here say that the Spanish fleet is near the coast of Costa Rica, one of the republics of Central America.

Charleston in Trouble.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

San Francisco, May 19, 2:30 p. m.—The cruiser Charleston was obliged to return to the Mare Island navy yard this morning owing to an accident to her machinery which will cause a slight delay.

The City of Pekin will be ready to sail tomorrow with three thousand troops and a large amount of supplies for Manila.

Artillery for Tampa.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

New York, May 19, 9:31 a. m—Battery M, Heavy Artillery, left Fort Hancock this morning for Tampa.

The Harvard Sails.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 19, 11:55 a. m—The auxiliary cruiser Harvard sailed from this port this morning. Her destination is supposed to be Hayti.

Fired On British Soldiers.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Gibraltar, May 19, 12:44 p. m—Several British soldiers, while boating yesterday afternoon, attempted to land on Spanish soil. They were fired on by a Spanish sentry and one wounded.

To Defend New York.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Philadelphia, May 19, 9 a. m—The monitor Janson, manned by the New York naval reserves, started for New York this morning where she is intended for the defense of the harbor.

Germans Neglectful.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 19, 12:49 p. m.—A Havana despatch says that the German warship Geier pointedly neglected to salute the American fleet on her arrival at Havana, but saluted the Spanish forts. Her commander visited Gen. Blanco at once.

THINNING OUT AT SEA GIRT.

Departure of the First Regiment Postponed Until Today.

Sea Girt, N. J., May 19.—Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock was the time set for the departure of the First Regiment for Washington. Col. Campbell and his officers had everything ready, when it was found that the regiment would not be ordered away until today. Col. Campbell has telegraphed for transportation, and as soon as this is arranged he will leave.

Col. Benjamin A. Lee of the Third Regiment said that he had received no word from the War Department as to when his regiment will leave Sea Girt. Col. Hine of the Second waits patiently for his instructions. They cannot come any too soon to suit him and his thousand volunteers.

Skirmish drills have become a feature of the camp. The companies are taken through woods and briars, over fences and ditches, and are brought back into camp after an hour or two of rough exercise. The company drills are carried on with the usual regularity.

The Governor has numerous applications daily from those who want to enlist in the army or who want to be assigned to some of the boats of the New Jersey naval reserves.

ON TO THE FRONT.

Three Train Loads of Soldiers Going South Went Through Here Yesterday.

Three train loads of soldiers passed through this city yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, en route for the south. The sections were made up of fourteen passenger coaches, two freight cars for baggage, and one palace car each. Great enthusiasm was shown by the spectators at the station, who waved their hats and handkerchiefs frantically.

Each train was decorated with flags, and one Cuban flag was displayed, at sight of which a faint hurrah went up from the spectators. The soldiers were from New York State, and came down in the boat from Albany Tuesday night. They were taken as far as Washington on the Central, then the engines were exchanged and the trip was continued over other lines.

Recruits Wanted.

Postmaster J. M. Hetfield received a department letter this morning containing a notice to be posted in the post-office lobby, asking for recruits for the United States army. The notice is issued by B. B. Hyer, recruiting officer at Trenton. The recruiting office is securing men for the Sixth Cavalry of the regular army. The term of service is for three years, although a discharge will be given at the end of the war if so desired. The full text of the notice will appear in tomorrow's Press.

Bismarck Ill.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Berlin, May 19, 1 p. m—Prince Bismarck was taken ill last night. Dr. Schwerniger, the royal physician, was hastily summoned.

A TEN-TRIP TICKET WILL BE AGITATED.

Thought That the Central Officials Will Grant It.

BOARD OF TRADE ASK FOR IT.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES WILL NOT COME VERY SOON.

Transportation Committee Made a Report Last Night and Said That Plainfield was Well Treated by the Central Railroad—It is Believed That the Ten-Trip Ticket for $3.75 will be Granted After Further Consideration — Committee on Sanitation Reported That the Plumbing Ordinance is All Right.

The question of city ownership of the water works opened up a lively discussion at the Board of Trade meeting last evening. There was little done at the meeting, however for many of the committees failed to present any report on important matters that had been referred to them.

The meeting was called to order by President F. C. Lounsbury. There were about twenty members present. A communication was read from the Grocers' Association saying that they would vacate their present quarters June 1st.

The first committee to present a report was the transportation committee. Former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., chairman of the committee, presented a verbal report. He stated that there had been a meeting of the committee last week when the various questions referred to it were discussed. In regard to the freight rates between Plainfield and New York, the committee was of the opinion that Plainfield was very favorably treated by the Jersey Central railroad. As regards the passenger rates, the committee thought that the Board was progressing too fast to ask so much of the Central at one time. The proposed ten-trip ticket for $3.75 the committee proposed to follow up, and believed that when it was presented to the railroad company again in the right light, the company would change its decision and grant the request.

Regarding the ordinances on plumbing, the committee on sanitation reported that each section was founded on sound principles. The committee reported that they had been unable to find the many things in the ordinance that had been objected to by the members although they had made diligent inquiry.

Harry C. Runyon stirred up the question of the opening of Madison avenue and called the attention of the Board to the fact that the committee to which the matter had been referred had done nothing. He was instructed to notify the committee.

President Lounsbury opened a discussion on the question of the city ownership of the water supply. He greatly favored it. Former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr., spoke in favor of the Plainfield Water Supply Company and said that the company had always done the right thing, and when its contract with the city expired, he believed that just as an advantagious contract could be made as before. The situation in Westfield was referred to and Mr. Lounsbury said that Plainfield did not want to get in the same position as that place and have the water shut off. Mr. Hegeman declared that a charter for a water works had been kicking about Plainfield for twenty years and nothing was done with it until outside capital stepped in and gave Plainfield the best water supply of any city or town in the State.

There was a lively discussion in which Mr. Lounburry said that while Plainfield was getting its water at favorable terms it could do even better if it owned its own water works.

After a little discussion of the approaching hearing of the Martin Act objectors, the meeting adjourned.

Stealing Flowers.

For sometime past residents of Duer street have been complaining about the loss of flowers from their yards. Someone has taken the pains to remove the flowers bodily from the beds and the residents are highly indignant. No doubt the matter will be attended to very soon and the guilty party will be brought to justice, for it is said that the party is known.

Closing of a Dancing Class.

Miss Elsie VanZandt's dancing class ended the season Tuesday evening. The winter has been a very successful one. After the usual dance at the Scribner-Green school, the members of the class and their friends who were present went to the home of Miss VanZandt, of Crescent avenue, were refreshments were served.

A VET OF SHOT AND FIRE

DEATH OF GEORGE BUTSCHE, WELL-KNOWN TO OLD PLAINFIELDERS.

Was a Member and Driver of Engine Company No. 2 From '68 to '92 When He Had to Resign on Account of Poor Health

Following the short sketch of George Butsche, the old fireman, which was given in The Daily Press of yesterday, came the death of this well-known Plainfielder. Death occurred yesterday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock at his home on Lyman place, where he was living with Mr. Odam. The news of Mr. Butsche's death was a great shock to his many friends who did not know of his illness.

Mr. Butsche was a veteran of the late war. He and Health Inspector Addis served together in the same battery. After the war he located in Plainfield, and on January 7th, 1868, he joined the Plainfield Fire Department. He remained a member and driver for No. 2 Engine until he resigned on January 7th, 1892. He resigned owing to failing health and because he could not stand the work. His wife died several years ago, leaving him entirely alone. Previous to the time he joined the Fire Department he worked for the late John Laing at his livery stable on West Front street. He was also employed by D. S. Roberts at his livery stable, and for a time he was coachman for Postmaster John M. Hetfield.

His latter days were spent in retirement at the home of Mr. Odam, and his pension as a veteran was his support. He received every care and attention at Mr. Odam's home, and during his last days he was made as comfortable as possible.

NO MORE 5-CENT BREAD.

BAKERS DECIDE TO HAVE SEVEN CENT LOAF TAKE ITS PLACE.

Definite Action Taken at a Meeting of the Bakers Last Night—They Say There is No Profit in Five-Cent Loaves.

The bread-eating public of this city and vicinity are to be treated to a change in the size and weight of the loaves which they buy. Henry Liefke and Stephen H. Schleif are at the head of the movement, and with the exception of one or two of the bakers, who will be interviewed today, all have expressed their willingness to agree to the proposition.

As was stated in yesterday's Press, the bakers are selling the five cent loaf of bread at what they claim is a small loss on every loaf, and it is intended to abolish these small loaves by organized action.

One of the bakers told a Press reporter this morning that in a five-cent loaf of bread there are between fifteen and sixteen ounces of weight. This means that the purchaser gets three ounces of bread for one cent. In a seven cent loaf there are between twenty and twenty-one ounces, but seven cent loaves are cheaper to make than the smaller ones for several reasons, and the bakers have decided to stop making the five-cent loaves and confine themselves to the manufacture of sevens and tens exclusively.

They say that with flour at four cents a pound, it is impossible to sell it baked as bread for five cents, taking into consideration the manufacturing cost unless they can reduce the cost of manufacture a trifle, as has been suggested.

If all the bakers agree upon these schemes, as no doubt they will, this new schedule goes into effect immediately. The weight of the ten cent loaves will remain the same, one pound and ten or eleven ounces.

PLAINFIELD CADET ADVANCED.

Ernest Rapalje Promoted from Corporal to Sergeant at Rutgers.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 19—The cadet corps at Rutgers College held its annual exhibition drill in the athletic grounds yesterday afternoon before a large audience. The cadetes made a very fine appearance. The drill was followed by a sham battle. Promotions were announced at the close of the drill. Ralph Titsworth, of Dunellen, was made a corporal. Ernest Rapalje, formerly a student at the Plainfield High School, was promoted from corporal to sergeant. There were a number of visitors present from Plainfield and Dunellen.

The cadets held their annual ball in the evening. It was one of the events of the college year.

Chose a Musical Director.

MECCA OF ENDEAVORERS

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION AT NASHVILLE IN JULY.

The New Jersey Delegates Will Travel in a Special Train, and After the Convention Will Visit Historical Places.

A lively interest is being manifested in the coming International Convention of the Christian Endeavorers at Nashville, Tenn.

The new Jersey delegation are particularly favored in having the best of all the trains that will run to Nashville. They will leave Jersey City at noon of July 4th, stopping at the principal cities on the line to pick up passengers. The train will be composed of sleeping cars, dining cars and a day coach. All meals en route will be served in dining cars.

The convention sessions will be held in the exposition building, located in the beautiful Centennial Park, and the programme as outlined promises the best convention yet.

Among many other points of interest to be seen in or near Nashville are the Vanderbilt and Fisk Universities, Fort Negley and Hermitage, the home and tomb of President Andrew Jackson.

The New Jersey party will travel both ways through the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, not only the most beautiful, but by far the coolest and most comfortable route to Nashville.

On the return the following stops will be made: A whole day at Chattanooga, where the entire patry will be taken in the morning in carriages to visit Orchard Knob, Mission Ridge and Chickannauga. The latter not only famous for the great battle fought there and the beautiful monuments erected by the various State, but also of great interest because of the vast body of troops that will be encamped there. Perhaps our own Jersey boys will be there at that time. After luncheon at the hotel, Lookout Mountain will be ascended by either the incline or railroad and a grand Christian citizenship meeting held on the summit of the mountain.

The next morning Natural Bridge will be visited, ample time being given to view the Bridge, Lost river and the numerous beautiful spots in the gorge. In the afternoon the famous Luray caverns will be visited. These alone are worth a journey across the continent to see. It is claimed, and justly, too, that in no other cavern in the world are such varied and marvelously beautiful formations found.

The entire trip will occupy ten days, which involves only an absence of eight days for business men. The trip will be a liberal education in itself. No one need be deterred from going by fear of excessive heat, as the statistics for the last ten years show an average temperature at Nashville, approximately the same as New York and Philadelphia, with a much less degree of humidity.

Plainfield Endeavorers and friends are fortunately within easy access of information, as the chairman of the transportation committee is E. E. Anthony, a resident of this city, and having been over the ground is thoroughly conversant with all the details.

BANISHED FROM SPAIN.

Miss Alice Gordon Gulick to Speak in the Congregational Church.

At the Congregational church Friday evening Miss AliceGordon Gulick, a missionary of the American Board, a member of the famous missionary family of Gulicks, will give an address, describing somewhat the life and the condition of the people of Spain. She will speak with authority, since she has spent more than twenty-five years at San Sebastian. The school of which she is the head, the International Institute, has felt obliged to move across the border into France on account of the hostilities between Spain and the United States. All will be welcome at the meeting who would feel interested to learn more about the enemy's country and the peaceful work that is being done there.

DAUGHTERS OF BRAVE ANCESTORS MEET HERE

Annual Spring Meeting of the Daughters of Revolution.

CASINO'S PATRIOTIC DRESS

VISITORS ENTERTAINED BY CONTENENTAL CHAPTER.

One Hundred Delegates and Fifty Invited Guests are Present, and Were Given a Luncheon at 1:30 o'Clock by Plainfield's Descendants of Revolutionary Stock—Address of Welcome Delivered by Mrs. J. K. Myers, Regent of the Plainfield Chapter—New York and New Jersey State Regents to Talk.

The annual spring meeting of the fifteen chapters of the Daughters of the Revolution in the State of New Jersey is being held in the Casino of the Union County Country Club in this city this afternoon, the one hundred delegates and fifty invited guests being entertained by the Continental chapter of this city.

The Casino has been draped with the Stars and Stripes and tri-colored bunting, while numerous relics, reminding the delegates of the fight for freedom which their ancestors participated in a century ago, were distributed about the room and gave a very patriotic air to the convention.

The delegates were met at the Central depot by Mrs. J. B. Dumont and Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, of the Continental Chapter, and escorted to the Casino, where they were received by the following committee of the chapter in this city: Mrs. J. K. Myers, regent; Mrs. D. H. Rowland, Mrs. A. G. Harmon, Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mrs. Charles A. Mann, Mrs. Fred G. Andrews, Mrs. Charles McCutchen, Mrs. Frederick Mead and Mrs J. B. Dumont.

At 1:30 o'clock the delegates and invited guests sat down to a luncheon, and an hour later the convention was called to order. An address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. J. K. Myers, regent of the Continental chapter. Mrs. David Depue, regent of the State association, made the response.

The principal address of the afternoon is to be given by Mrs. Donald McLean, of New York, Regent of the chapter of the Daughters of Revolution, of New York city.

It was expected that Gen. William S Stryker, of Trenton, would make an address to the delegation, but his presence at Camp Voorhees prevented his coming.

PLACE TO SPEND A VACATION.

Every Facility for a Good Time Afforded at the Northfield Camp.

Attention is called to the Y. M. C. A. encampment at Northfield, Mass., which is open from June 30th to September 1st. The camp is finely located and the total cost per week is only four dollars with four in a tent.

This affords a fine opportunity to young men to spend their vacation in a beautiful port of New England, and at the same time, to take advantage if they wish, of the notable conferences which are held at Northfield.

Married in St. Mary's

The marriage of Miss Kate Miller, of Cottage place, to George Bowers, of Elm place, was celebrated last evening in the rectory of St. Mary's church. Rev. Father McCormick, curate, officiated. After the ceremony the bride and groom went to the home of the groom where they will reside. The groom is an expressman doing business about the city. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Miller.

Couldn't Get in the Hospital.

An Italian, in the last stages of consumption, was brought to the hospital yesterday morning by one of his friends, who endeavored to persuade the matron, Miss Morse, to admit him. The man was from Bound Brook, and Miss Morse had to tell him that it was against the rules to admit patients from outside of the city, unless they had met with an accident on the railroad.

Hurt in a Cavein.

Antone Rosi, an Ialian laboror, was hurt Tuesday morning while digging a sewer trench in front of N. W. French's house of West Fourth street. The Italian is employed by A. B. Thorn, of Somerset street, and was in the deepest part of the ditch when the earth caved in on him almst burying him. He escaped with a sprained ankle.

Better Streets in the West End.

Since the Street Commissioner and his men have been at work in the western end of the city the streets are looking better. Front street, from Grant avenue on, will be an excellent boulevard for wheelmen.

OUR FLEETS COMBINE

Schley and Sampson and the Oregon Together.

LIKELY TO ATTACK HAVANA

The Oregon Made Quick Time in Joining the Fleets—Reports of Her Movements Have Been Purposely Misleading—Stringent Blockade Rules.

Washington, May 19.—It is reported that Commodore Schley's flying squadron has formed a junction with Admiral Sampson's squadron of armor-clads off Key West, and that the combined fleet will shortly move against Havana.

Commodore Schley's flying squadron is composed of the armored cruiser Brooklyn, flagship; the battleships Massachusetts and Texas, and the auxiliary cruisers St. Paul and Scorpion. The collier Sterling also left Hampton Roads with the other ships and should be in the vicinity of Key West.

The vessels composing Admiral Sampson's squadron are the armored cruiser New York, the battleships Iowa and Indiana, cruisers Detroit and Montgomery, the monitors Amphitrite and Terror, the torpedo boat Porter and the collier Niagara.

Gen. Tracy's Opinion.

Former Secretary Tracy was among the visitors at the navy department yesterday. He had a long talk with Secretary Long.

In discussing the war problem he said he is convinced that the Spanish fleet came over to this side of the water for the sole purpose of breaking the blockade off Cuba. Without pretending to be the custodian of any exclusive official information on the subject, General Tracy says the Spaniards are trying to establish direct communication with Blanco, and in spite of the mysterious movements of their fleet we should not lose sight of that idea.

Stringent Blockade Rules.

Key West, Fla., May 19.—Anticipatory of some important movement within a few days, more stringent rules have been laid down regarding the blockade of the Cuban coast by Commodore Watson.

This, too, in spite of the fact that the blockade has itself settled down to a dull routine that is decidedly irksome to the men on the ships that have been on duty off the coast for ten days to two weeks.

Evidently the Spaniards are expecting something as well as the Americans—possibly the arrival of their own fleet off Havana—for again last night, beginning at dusk, the light above Morro Castle flashed at thirty second intervals, as it was wont to do before war was declared, for the guidance of mariners.

Until night before last, however, since that time the beacon has not glimmered.

Oregon Made Fast Time.

The battleship Oregon is safe. She has evaded all the Spanish warships and has joined Admiral Sampson's fleet. This news has relieved the anxiety felt at Washington for her, and naval officers are much pleased.

According to information given out here and by Lloyd's agent, who telegraphed to London from Bahia, the Oregon sailed from that port early on Wednesday, May 11, presumably for Key West. The distance on the chart to Cape St. Roque, the most easterly point of South America, is about 700 miles, and from the cape to Jamaica, about where Admiral Sampson's fleet must be, is about 2,800 miles, or a total of 3,500 miles to be traversed by the Oregon before she could reach our fleet.

As it is just six days since she left Bahia, it is hard to figure out how she could have made the distance in so short a time. Even at a speed of fourteen knots it would take her ten days to make the distance.

The presumption is, in view of these facts, that the Oregon really sailed from Bahia several days ahead of the time announced in Washington and London; that news of her departure was purposely delayed to mislead the Spaniards.

As a fighting machine the addition of the Oregon to Admiral Sampson's fleet will be most welcome. It will enable him to leave the monitors behind and give him three first class battleships to use.

GUARDING THE METROPOLIS.

The Government Will Make Manhattan Island Impregnable.

New York, May 19.—United States engineers began to-day the construction of sand batteries at Seguine's Point Princes bay, on the site of the old quarantine and yellow fever burying grounds. The batteries will be the most powerful of their kind in the harbor. When completed they will be mounted with ten six-inch rapid firing guns.

The place where the batteries are being placed is within twenty-five feet of the main channel used by vessels going to Perth Amboy and navigating Staten Island Sound.

The new batteries at Ward's Point, Tottenville, the southwesterly end of Staten island, are rapidly nearing completion and will be ready for service within a week.

Sixty emergency contact mines were delivered at Fort Wadsworth this forenoon and are in readiness to be planted n the Narrows, from shore to shore, between Fort Wadsworth, S. I., and Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn.

A Big Tobacco Deal.

St. Louis May 19.—The Republic says to-day: "Indications point to an early consummation of the deal for the organization of the Continental Tobacco Company. It is understood that the capital stock of the new corporation will be fixed at $50,000,000, and that it will take in all of the big plug tobacco factories in the Unted States.

"In all probability St. Louis will be the headquarters of the new company, as it has been pretty definitely settled that Harrison I. Drummond, president of the Drummond Tobacco company of this city, will be president of the Continental."

A SHAKEUP IN WASHINGTON

The President Infuses New Life Into the Strategic Board.

Washington, May 19.—War plans for the army and navy will be mapped out in future by a joint board composed of both army and navy officers. The new commission will supplant the naval board of strategy, which will lose its identity this week.

President McKinley is responsible for the changed order. He has insisted that there shall be tangible results, or else a fixing of responsibility for the failure.

Administration heads responsible for the prosecution of the war found that the present personnel of the strategy board was not conducive to good results.

Three schools of strategy—the obsolete, the passive and up-to-date—were represented in the board, and the inevitable result was inertia, instead of action.

The new combination is expected to put in motion both land and sea forces.

MR. GLADSTONE DEAD.

Passed Away at Five O'clock this Morning.

Hawarden, May 19.—Mr. Gladstone died at 5 a. m. to-day, London time.

At the time the great statesman passed away there were gathered at his bedside all of his family, many of whom, including his faithful wife, have never left him since the crisis in his condition was imminent. The passing away of the master mind of European statecraft was painless and peaceful.

London, May 19.—At 5.30 last night it was said that Mr. Gladstone's strength was gradually failing, but that possibly he might yet linger for hours.

Mr. Gladstone's physicians announced that he remained in the same quiet and slightly improved state throughout the night until 4.30 o'clock, when his strength again diminished, his pulse became imperceptible and it was thought that he might soon pass away. He again rallied and was soon sleeping peacefully.

His family watched by his bedside alternately throughout the night.

Mr. Gladstone's London physician, Dr. Habershon, arrived last night.

His Aid to the Confederacy.

It was in the latter part of 1862 that Mr. Gladstone made, in his famous Newcastle speech, the one error with which his American admirers will allow him to be charged.

This was the declaration that Jefferson Davis had "created a nation." The wish which was father to this thought—namely, the disruption of a great commercial rival and the absolute surrender of the markets of eleven great states to the English manufacturer—was a natural if not a proper one in an Englishman. Mr. Gladstone laid himself open to the charge of disingeniousness when, five years afterwards, he sought to explain the speech in a letter which declared that he had thought that the North would be better without the South, and that the slaves would have been brought nearer emancipation by the success of their masters. Surely Lord Salisbury himself, the ex-president of the "Confederate Aid Society," could hardly have shown a more cynical contempt for American intelligence than this letter evinced. The emancipation to which Mr. Gladstone referred was, of course, that which the rebel government was, too late, prepared to give for English recognition.

BROOKLYN BRIBERY CASE.

Contractor Doody Testified He Paid $12,000.

Brooklyn, May 19.—Yesterday, in the official bribery case, Contractor Doody testified.

Doody furnished the evidence upon which the nine city officers were indicted, hence his appearance on the stand excited the interest of everyone in the court. Doody testified that he had known Deputy City Works Commissioner Fielding for twenty years. He then related how Fielding and those associated with him had plotted. The men whose names he mentioned in addition to Fielding's were Water Purveyor Oscar Knapp and Inspector Frederick Milne.

Doody testified that he first made overtures to Knapp about performing work which was not to be advertised for and that Knapp communicated with Fielding. When the preliminary arrangements between Knapp and Fielding had been made, Doody said, he then suggested that the names of his own employes should be used to put in bids.

Doody admitted that $21,000 had been paid by the city on this job, when $1,600 had been paid for a similar work the year before. This class of contracts which were given out without advertising were known to the inner circle as "invitation contracts," and on all these contracts, Doody declared, 10 per cent. was paid to Fielding and his associates.

Doody said that he paid the cash to Fielding by putting the money in one of the drawers of Fielding's desk while Fielding was seated at the desk.

Lawyer Paterson, on behalf of Fielding, then took Doody in hand and proceeded to put the witness through a rigid cross examination. In answer to questions put by Mr. Paterson the witness said he estimated that he had paid altogether $12,000 to Fielding as bribes.

BIG FIRE AT ATTLEBORO.

Four Jewelry Factories and a Number of Other Factories Destroyed.

Attleboro, Mass., May 19.—The fine three and four-story jewelry factories on either side of Mill street caught fire at half past twelve o'clock yesterday.

Three thousand skilled workmen are thrown out of employment. Four large factories, several smaller ones, a dozen or fifteen dwelling houses, four or five barns, marble works, carpenter shops and several other buildings of various character were destroyed.

The loss is estimated at $1,100,000.

MASSING THE TROOPS

Preparation For the Invasion of Cuba Next Week.

NO HELP FROM INSURGENTS

Once Started There Will Be No Halting Until the Force Landed Is Strong Enough to Invest Havana—Massing the Armies of 100,000 Men.

Washington, May 19.—It is now certain that the invasion of Cuba will not depend upon the meeting between Admiral Sampson and the Spanish fleet. By next Monday 100,000 men will be ready to start for the island.

Orders have been given Secretary Alger to hasten the mustering in of the troops with all possible speed, and to transport them to Chickamauga, Thomas and Washington camps, where they are to be held in readiness for immediate departure to Cuba.

This was stated in these dispatches yesterday. Secretary Alger says that he hopes to see the advance made next week, and that as soon as the forward movement is begun there will be no halting until the force landed is sufficient to invest Havana.

This movement, it is said, was decided upon when it was learned that the American fleets—both Sampson's and Schley's—were between the Spaniards and Key West. This removes the danger of an attack from the enemy, and the war board feels that the naval force is sufficient to guarantee continued communication with the base of supplies.

Every report from emissaries sent to confer with the Cubans bears out the first report of the incapacity of the Cuban army. The latest of these reports is from Lieutenant Rowan, who went to Garcia's camp. His report is to the effect that little aid can come from Gomez. Lieutenant Rowan describes the Cuban army as a number of bands of guerillas. He says the United States army alone will have to conquer the Spanish.

Invasion Perhaps Begun.

Washington, May 19.—Official messages passing between Washington and Tampa and Key West show that preparations for the movement of troops have almost reached the embarkation point. The newspaper sources of information were shut off at Tampa this afternoon. The censorship stopped all special dispatches. This forms an impression that the troops had begun to move.

The invasion is at hand. The loading of the transports is being rushed but the best information obtainable here is that the regulars have not yet gone on board, and may not do so immediately.

TO BUILD NEW WARSHIPS.

Bids Invited for Twelve Torpedo Boats and Sixteen Destroyers.

Washington, May 19.—Secretary Long has sent out a circular letter to all shipbuilders inviting them to participate in the bidding for the construction of the torpedo boat destroyers and torpedo boats authorized by the naval appropriation bill.

Sixteen destroyers and twelve torpedo boats are to be built. The money for their construction has become available, and the contracts will be let as soon as possible, so that there will be no delay.

Each destroyer must have a speed of twenty-eight knots and each torpedo boat not less than twenty-six knots.

All of the former must be constructed within eighteen months and the smaller craft within twelve months. This is the first chance that American shipbuilders have had to build destroyers.

PENNSYLVANIA TROOPS TO MANILA

The 10th Regiment of that State to Join the Philippine Expedition.

Washington, May 19.—The expeditionary force for the Philippines will be increased by the 10th Pennsylvania regiment. The 10th was known as a crack regiment in the National Guard of that state, and it is expected that it will prove as efficient for service as a regiment of the regular army.

This is the first action taken by the war department to strengthen the force to be sent to the Philippines, and is supposed to be due to the request of General Merritt for a more highly trained body of troops.

The orders for the Pennsylvania regiment to go to San Francsco have already been issued.

Proposed Exchange of Prisoners.

Washington, May 19.—The navy department is completing its arrangements to effect an exchange of prisoners, the purpose being to secure the release of the two American newspaper men, Thrall and Jones, now in Morro Castle, where they were lodged after being captured while attempting to make a landing on the Cuban coast. Two of the Spaniards now imprisoned at Fort McPherson, Ga., who were captured on the steamer Argonauta, one being the Spanish colonel, Cortijo brother-in-law of General Weyler, will be chosen for the exchange, providing the arrangements can be completed. The Madrid dispatch which seemed to indicate that the Havana authorities are disposed to regard the newspaper prisoners as spies, possibly may interfere with the exchange contemplated and the arrangements for which were made by the Uncas expedition.

Japan Will Not Protest.

Washington May 19.—Mr. Toru Hoshi, the Japanese minister, called on Secretary Day and denied to him the statements that Japan would or had protested against the occupation of the Philippines by the United States.

Mr. Hoshi afterward said for publication that the reports to that effect were based on nothing more than wild and unwarranted rumors.

New Assistant for Alger.

Washington, May 19.—Secretary Alger has sent to congress a draft of a bill to create in time of war a second assistant secretary of war, with a salary of $4,000.

The secretary urges the importance in this exigency of immediate action.

SPEAK OUT.
The Searchlight of Publicity is Pleasing Plainfield People.
Publicity is what the people want.
Let the public speak on the subject.
There has been too much claim—too little proof.
Claims made by strangers are not proof.
Claims endorsed by strangers are not proof.
There is only one kind of proof for a citizen.
The experience of people we know.
When friends and neighbors endorse,
Make public statement of their case,
There can be no question about such evidence.
This is the proof we have,
Which backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.
No other kidney pills, no other kidney remedy,
Can produce such proof.
Here is one case of the many we have:
Mr. John Lindsay, of 424 W. Front street, says: "From the effects of a bad cold which I contracted some years ago, I have been troubled more or less with attacks of backache which has caused me a great deal of suffering. My work compels me to do a great deal of stooping and bending forward which aggravated the trouble. At night I had to keep changing about first from one position then to another trying to find some way that I could free myself from the pain but it remained the same no matter what position I assumed. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a friend who had used them and I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. I found them just as represented and they relieved me in a short time. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone wanting a safe, reliable and convenient medicine to act direct on the kidneys."

PRIZE MONEY FOR DEWEY'S MEN.

$200,000 Will Be Divided Among the Members of Fleet.

Washington, May 19.—It will be good news to the families and friends of the men on Dewey's fleet to know that they have not been altogether debarred from naval prize money, and that they are to have something more substantial than a medal and the praise of their countrymen for the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Manila on May 1. The officers of the navy department have discovered that section 4635 of the revised statutes authorizes the payment of a bounty of $100 for each man on an enemy's ship of war that is destroyed in action. The reports from Manila are that the Spanish fleet was doubly manned, in the expectation of conquering the American fleet and requiring prize crews for the captured vessels. In this case it is likely that there were no less than 2,000 men in the Spanish fleet, which would mean an aggregate premium of $200,000 to be divided among American sailors. The naval officers are taking steps to ascertain the exact number of Spaniards on the eleven vessels destroyed as a basis for the payment to be made.

SPAIN'S NEW CABINET.

The Ministers Took the Oath of Office Last Night.

Madrid, May 19.—The members of the new cabinet took the oath last evening. Senor Sagasta will assume charge of the foreign portfolio pending the return of Senor Leon y Castillo from Paris.

The other changes in the ministry are Senor Aunon, minister of marine; Senor Gamazo, minister of public works, and Senor Romero Giron, minister of the colonies.

The Spanish cabinet is now constituted as follows:

President—Praxedes Mateo Sagasta.
Foreign Affairs—Fernando Leon y Castillo.
Colonies—Vicente Romero Giron.
War—Lieut. Gen. Corren.
Navy—Rear Admiral Aunon.
Interior—Trinitario Ruiz Capdepon.
Public Works—German Gamazo.
Justice—Carlos Groizard.
Finance—Joaquin Lopez Puigcerver.

Of the new ministers Senor Gamazo is leader of the right wing of the Liberal party. He was minister of the colonies in 1885 and 1886. Senor Romero Giron is one of Spain's most notable jurists, and Senor Aunon has won a reputation for his constant criticism of the conduct of affairs in the navy department.

COL. BRYAN BEGINS RECRUITING.

It Is Said that He Will Ask to Be Sent to the Front.

Lincoln, Neb., May 19.—W. J. Bryan began active work as a recruiting officer yesterday. Governor Holcomb has commmissioned him to raise a regiment of volunteers for the federal service. It is understood that Mr. Bryan will have a command and will ask to be sent to the front where his regiment can see active service against Spain.

In commissioning Mr. Bryan to organize a third regiment the governor said that the organization would be effected under the state law authorizing the organization of the National Guard, and the formation of companies throughout the state is expected to be made with a view to replacing the companies already in service. The commission comes at the personal solicitation of Mr. Bryan.

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE.

Comment of the London Papers on Its Advisability.

London, May 19.—The Times, commenting on the discussions in parliament and the Hispano-American situation, says:

The United States will regard with equanimity the threat of a general conflagration in Europe in which Spain would be reduced to the rote of subordinate actor. It is the danger of any consequence of this kind, indeed, that will make continental powers think twice and thrice before interfering in the Spanish-American quarrel."

The Standard this morning says:

"The contrast between the speeches of Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain has led to fresh rumors of cabinet dissension; but it appears probable that if any such differences existed they had reference, not to the general position of foreign affairs, but to the situation in West Africa and to the extent of the concessions it was advisable to make in order to establish a friendly understanding with France."

Connecticut Soldiers Disgraced.

Camp Haven, Niantic, Conn., May 19.—Privates Dagnan and Hackney, Company E, First Regiment, Connecticut Volunteers, were yesterday tried by a field court martial and found guilty of deserting their company at muster. The court sentenced the men to be stripped of their uniforms and drummed from camp.

Spain Gets Another Million.

Buenos Ayres, May 19, via Galveston.—It is announced here that the Spaniards of Argentina have telegraphed another million francs to Madrid as a war subscription and that the collection of money for the same purpose will be continued.

British Warships for Cuba.

London, May 19.—The admiralty has ordered the British warship Albert to proceed to Santiago de Cuba and the Talbot to Havana. Both of these vessels are in West Indian waters.

BOMBARDMENT OF SAN JUAN.

First Account of Sampson's Attack on the Spanish Capital.

Key West, Fla., May 19.—Dispatch boats which left Admiral Sampson's fleet after the bombardment of San Juan, arrived here yesterday.

In the attack it is said that the plans of the admiral were thoroughly carried out. The fleet steamed into the harbor and opened a tremendous fire upon the fortifications. Three times the warships made the circuit outlined in the official plan. The forts withstood the first round, but the Montgomery, from her station near Fort Canuelo, on Cabras island, wrought complete destruction. With glasses the officers of the Montgomery could see the occupants of the fort jumping over the walls and running away.

The Detroit, which went nearest to the Morro, had to train her guns at a high angle. Her shots, directed at the north side of the Morro, cut deep furrows in the face of the fortifications.

The Iowa, leading the fleet, delivered her deadly missiles with great accuracy upon Morro's northern walls.

The rest of the fleet fired in order, first on Morro and then on San Carlos, according to position.

On the second round the Spanish gunners were thoroughly awakened and stood by their guns bravely, keeping up a furious but aimless fire. From their firm foundation and high elevation they had a splendid opportunity to cripple our fleet; but the Spanish gunners seemed to fire regardless of aim and as if only desirous of emptying their magazines.

It was hoped that the Spanish fleet would emerge from the harbor as soon as the firing began, and there was deep disappointment in the fleet when the lookouts reported the harbor clear.

At the end of the third round the Monitor Terror failed to understand the order to withdraw, and engaged Morro Castle alone for half an hour.

The scene was intensely interesting but it was not so exciting as had been expected. The Spanish aim was so astoundingly bad that absolutely no anxiety was felt for our ships.

In fact, when the Spanish forts fired volleys which hid them in smoke, followed a few seconds later by the geyser like spouting and splashing not dangerously near the Terror, derisive cheers went up from the colored crew of the dispatch boat, standing in the bow of the latter.

The American warships sustained only trivial injury and lost only one man killed. After the engagement the north end of Morro Castle was in ruins, the Cabras island fort was silenced and the San Carlos battery was damaged.

No shots were aimed at the city and it is not known whether any damage was done there.

French Deny That Damage Was Done.

St. Thomas, May 19.—The Olinde Rodrigues, a French steamer, has arrived from San Juan Porto Rico.

She brought forty refugees from San Juan. They say the bombardment by Sampson's fleet was unexpected and without notice.

Five persons were killed and twenty-five wounded, the victims being chiefly civilians.

The refugees say that not a gun was dismantled and that small damage was done to the forts.

THE FIGHT AT CARDENAS.

Letter Received from an Officer of the Revenue Cutter Hudson.

New York, May 19.—An officer of the revenue marine to-day received a letter from one of the officers of the revenue cutter Hudson, which is now at Key West, describing the gallant action of the crew of the Hudson throughout the engagement with the forts and batteries at Cardenas. The letter states that in the early part of the engagement the men were calm, cool and collected. They aimed well and effectively and it was not until the shell which exploded on the Winslow and killed five men that the men on the Hudson lost their calmness. When they saw the mutilated bodies of the men on the Winslow they became frantic, and it seemed as though they could not load and fire quick enough. They fired 135 rounds in thirty-three minutes. The guns became so hot that the gunners could not touch them with their hands and manipulated them with their elbows. Many of them expanded and in some cases the shells went off prematurely, but, fortunately, not until the breech-locks had been closed. The men, the letter states, hesitated to stop when ordered.

National Guard.

The Ninth Regiment presented retiring Colonel Seward with a loving cup.

The Third Provisional Regiment of New York state troops was mustered in.

The First Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, has left Sea Girt for Washington.

The Seventy-first Regiment of New York has been camped in a pine grove at Lakeland, Fla., and all are reported well.

The Thirteenth Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, has been turned over to Comptroller, as city property, the regiment having been disbanded by Governor Black.

Singerly's Cashier Indicted.

Philadelphia, May 19.—The grand jury in the United States district court has found true bills of indictment against William Steele, who was cashier of the Chestnut Street National Bank, covering 122 counts. The defendant is charged with aiding and abetting the late William M. Singerly in misappropriating the funds of the bank, embezzling and making false reports to the comptroller of the currency.

Miss Alger Married.

Washington, May 19.—Miss Francis Aura Alger, youngest daughter of the secretary of war, and Charles Burrall Pike, of Chicago, son of Eugene S. Pike, were married at noon yesterday, at the residence of Secretary Alger.

President and Mrs. McKinley were near the wedding party during the ceremony, as were Vice President and Mrs. Hobart.

NO ENGAGEMENT YET

The Spanish Squadron Still Under Cover.

OFFICIALS ARE RETICENT

If the Government Knows Where the Enemy's Warships Are It Will Not Tell—Only Possible Means of Escape is for Them to Return to Spain.

Washington, May 19.—There has been no meeting yet between the hostile fleets in the neighborhood of Cuba. That was all that could be learned this morning at the navy department. If the navy department is aware of the location of the Spanish squadron it is carefully concealing the fact.

Naval officers are hoping that the Spanish squadron has really passed through the straits of Yucatan into the Gulf of Mexico, for in that case there is a reasonable expectation that by combined action on the part of Sampson and Schley, one starting at the Windward Passage and the Florida straits, and the other passing around to the south of Cuba and coming into the Yucatan straits, the Spaniards will be effectually snared.

The officers of the department are unable to account for the reports coming from several ports in the Gulf and the waters in the vicinity of Hayti that there was heavy cannonading on Sunday in that vicinity, for there is no report yet of an action and no American ships are known to have been in the localities named.

Quick Army Equipment.

Washington, May 19.—The senate yesterday went into secret legislative session upon the bill amending existing statutes so as to enable the commissary and ordnance bureaus of the war department to purchase supplies, shot and ammunition without the formality of advertising for bids.

Hawley of Connecticut refused to explain in open session the reasons for this bill but said he was perfectly willing to inform the senate in secret session of the urgent needs of the ordnance bureau. The truth is that while at war the United States is lamentably short on arms and ammunition, and under existing law the tedious red tape course will have to be pursued in order to obtain the necessary guns, shot and shell.

The senate agreed to adopt the conference report on the bill.

Merritt to Get More Troops.

Washington, May 19.—Major General Wesley Merritt has gained his point and between 4,000 and 5,000 regular troops will be sent to Manila in the army of invasion. General Merritt is here to confer with the president and Secretary Alger and will then be informed of the change in the plans. About fifteen thousand men will be sent under General Merritt, but this army of occupation will be increased very largely later on. Several regiments of regulars will probably be hurried from Tampa to join General Merritt's force.

The commissary general has arranged to send sixty days' provisions for 15,000 men with the army.

Yellow Journalist Barred.

Washington, May 19.—The news bulletin issued by the navy department contained the following items:

"An order has been issued by the navy department forbidding the presence of Sylvester Scovel, a newspaper correspondent, aboard vessels of the navy, or at any naval station, on account of his conduct in stowing himself away on board of the tug Uncas on the recent visit of that vessel to Havana, he having been refused permission to go on as a passenger.

Scovel is the star reporter of the New York World.

House Passes Pension Bill.

Washington, May 19.—An urgent deficiency bill carrying $8,437,032, mostly for pensions, was agreed on by the house commmittee on appropriations to-day and passed by the House. The bill carries $8,070,872 for payment of pensions and other items of small amounts, including expenses of United States courts and clerical force and printing for the war and navy departments.

Wanamaker's Regiment Will Be Formed

Philadelphia, May 19.—Former Postmaster General Wanamaker, who, in his crusade against existing political methods in Pennsylvania, has not forgotten his patriotism, will begin the work of recruiting the regiment of infantry which at the beginning of hostilities with Spain he announced he would raise, equip and send to the front.

Recruiting oces will be opened in various places in West Philadelphia and Kensington.

Mr. Wanamaker wishes to get a thousand picked men, every one approaching as nearly as possible physical perfection, and preferably all men with few ties. To that end the examination will be very strict.

Changing Inauguration Day.

The joint resolution which passed the senate making presidential inauguration day May 4 instead of March 4 will meet with much favor throughout the country. It passed the senate by more than the necessary majority. It will be two years at least, however, before the amendment to the United States constitution becomes part of the supreme law of the land. After being put through congress and, receiving the president's signature, it must be ratified by the necessary majority of all the states. Many of these have only biennial legislatures, and next winter will be the off year with a number of them.

The reason for the change is the very bad weather which frequently afflicts presidential inaugurations on the 4th of March. Custom requires that the president in taking the oath shall stand bareheaded at the east front of the capitol in the presence of 200,000 of his fellow countrymen, more or less, who wait to see how he does it. If the skies weep, they must stand under dripping umbrellas and run the risk of getting colds and pneumonia. It is not uncommon for deaths to result from the exposure to weather endured by zealous citizens anxious to see the show. This was especially noted following Cleveland's second inauguration, when the rain was heavy enough to float an ark.

March is on general principles the worst month in the year in this Union, even in localities so far south as Washington. We ought to have sunshine and blue skies for our presidents when they are inaugurated to make up for some of the disagreeable things they have to encounter afterward. The American people will therefore quite largely favor changing inauguration day to the merry month of May. The only objection we have heard offered is from a disgruntled citizen who said that making May 4 inauguration day would keep congress hanging around Washington two months longer.

Unique Military Company.

On the whole, one of the most remarkable military companies in the volunteer army is that organized in New Orleans under the name of the Times-Democrat Rifles. The war fever caught the staff of this able journal from the city editor down to the office boy. With the modesty characteristic of newspaper men everywhere, The Times-Democrat staff elected themselves officers, leaving outsiders to come in and occupy the two or three places left for private soldiers. The captain of the Times-Democrat Rifles is the night editor of the paper, while the city editor and his assistants are the lieutenants. The mail clerk, telegraph editor and machinist are the three sergeants in the order mentioned. There seemed thus no officer's place left for the reporters, but they elected themselves corporals to a man and all are happy. There is in connection with this gallant company one fact which will make it invaluable on the field apart from the manly qualities of the men themselves. This is that the members are every one yellow fever immunes. They can go alike with the native Cuban into the most dangerous districts and escape infection.

In all the army there will be no braver, shrewder troop than this, and their newspaper brethren hope they will come back safe and every one a colonel. But who is going to get out the paper? Will they lock up the office and put this notice on the outside, "Closed till after the war?"

We are making history so rapidly now that events even of a month ago are far-away back numbers. Still a bit of back history which is intensely interesting is recalled by Dr. Shaw in The Review of Reviews. The people of this country believed that the president's war message was going to congress for certain Wednesday, April 6. It did not go till Monday, April 11. Dr. Shaw claims it to be a fact that the message was held back at the request of Pope Leo, who earnestly desired to make one more effort to bring Spain to time. There was nothing discreditable in our government's granting this request. The point objected to by Dr. Shaw, however, is that the American people were kept in ignorance of the real reason for the delay. There was no reason why they should not have been told, especially as the bankers of Wall street and of the money centers of Europe knew of the fact and used it to their advantage. The Review says: "European governments are adepts at the game of diplomatic mystery, but our government at Washington is not organized for that kind of business. With us nothing succeeds half so well as downright frankness."

The leading character sketch in Stead's next Review of Reviews will do up "Uncle Sam." 'Tis well. Stead's most brilliant historic faculty is his imagination, and here it will have boundless play, unhampered by clumsy facts. W. T. Stead's heart is right; his imagination is as brilliant and roaring as the vasty deep, his discriminative faculty not worth a Spanish promise.

When a man makes a place for himself, a place is always immediately made for him. Thus an additional rear admiralship, making the whole number seven instead of six, was created by congress for George Dewey.

At any rate Spain goes down fighting like a rat every inch of the way.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

Mrs. Bertha Smith, who received her fifth divorce in Topeka the other day, became quite angry when the court mildly inquired for what cause the first four divorces had been granted. "I can't remember, judge," she remarked. "You can't expect me to keep track of every little thing like that."

The bill included several recitations by George Vanderhoff, "Scene in the Lone Turret," "Rebecca and the Templar," from Ivanhoe; "Miss Sneveller's Benefit," Dickens; "King Robert, of Sicily," Longfellow, and selections from the poets, both humorous and serious, the whole concluding with a highly graphic and humorous sketch from the Peekskill papers, all of which was given for 50 cents.

MARRIAGE BELLS IN MAY.

CHARMING CHURCH WEDDING AT SCOTCH PLAINS LAST NIGHT.

Miss Sadie Walpole, Daughter of Robert Walpole, Wedded to William Edwin Bacon, a Haverstraw Business Man.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 19—All Scotch Plains turned out last evening to do honor to one of her most charming daughters, Miss Sadie Walpole, who was joined in wedlock to William Edwin Bacon, of Haverstraw, N. Y.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Robert Walpole, and has a host of friends here and in Plainfield. The groom has visited here frequently and is also well-known.

The ceremony was performed in the Methodist church at 7 o'clock. The friends and relatives crowded the sanctuary which was fairly transformed with its profuse floral decorations, which mainly consisted of palms.

At the appointed hour the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father while the wedding march was played by Miss Eva Baker. Her gown was of white organdie over white silk, entrain, while the bridal veil was caught up with a bunch of lilies-of-the-valley. She carried a handsome bouquet of white roses.

The bride was preceded by the bridesmaids, Miss Bertha Berry, of Brooklyn, and Miss Emma Clark, of Scotch Plains, and the two flower girls, the Misses Edith and Flossie Demarest, of Plainfield. Miss Berry was prettily gowned in white organdie over pink silk. Miss Clark's gown was of white organdie over blue silk. The flower girls, who were nieces of the bride, were dressed in white organdie and carried baskets of white carnations.

The bridal party was met at the altar by the groom and the best man, De Witt House, of Haverstraw. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Woodruff, of Dover, N. J., assisted by his son, the pastor of the church.

The ushers were Frank Allen, of Scotch Plains, and Chauncey Colthar, of Plainfield.

The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were handsome pearl stick pins. The groom presented the best man with a scarf pin.

After the service, a reception was held at the home of the bride from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. The happy couple stood in one corner of the parlor with a large American flag draped over their heads and received the congratulations of their many friends. The house was prettily decorated with palms and wild flowers. Refreshments were served to the guests in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Bacon received many handsome and useful presents, including cut glass, silver-ware, furniture and the like.

The happy couple left the house amid a plentiful shower of rice and old shoes and drove to the Fanwood station where they took the 10:28 train for New York, and subsequently Niagara Falls and other points west.

They will reside at Haverstraw, N. Y., where a furnished home awaits them. Mr. Bacon is employed in a large dry goods house in that city.

Guests were present at the reception from Haverstraw, Brooklyn, New York, Plainfield and Scotch Plains.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

the only Odorless Antiseptic Dress Shield

Destroys all Odor of Perspiration.

Praise Amolin Dress Shields as we may, their merits will hardly be recognized and appreciated until tried. They are so different from others—covered with Amolin Lint that absorbs like a sponge, they are cool, comfortable and destroy all odor of perspiration. Amolin powder does the seemingly impossible. Destroys all odors instantly, yet is odorless itself and as harmless as dew. Used as a toilet or infant powder, or for chafing and prickly heat it is unequaled. It contains no talcum or other insoluable substances. We are sole agents.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

The girl of the summer of '98 to be strictly up-to-date must have a separate outfit for every occasion, whether it's for golfing, bicycling, boating or any of the numerous sports now included in the athletic girl's category. Not only must the suit be different but all the accesories, including shoes and hat, are made on altogether separate lines for the various occasions.

But in spite of this outlay of sporting togs which constitute such a large part of the wardrobe, it is the dainty gowns to be donned for the ball or dance in the evening and which are included in the trunks of even the most masculine girl, that certainly get the most attention.

These gowns are not by any means a small item. The materials which compose them are so gauzy and perishable that it takes quite a number to get through a season at mountain or seaside. But the girl of high ambitions and slender purse need not tremble at this prophecy; for there are many materials which can be bought at quite a reasonable figure and when daintily made and trimmed prove quite an excellent substitute for the filmy confections of chiffon and gauze.

And certain it is that on no garment does the present mode of lavish decorations show to better advantage. Whether tucks, flounces or embroideries are employed, all are in good taste and tend to make the gown more attractive.

The skirts of these frocks are all made dancing length, and when composed of some very transparent material have an underskirt of soft silk. Stiff linings are never employed as the aim of nearly all the summer gowns and especially those intended for evening or party wear, is to have a graceful, clinging effect. In many cases fine lawn skirts in dainty shades take the place of the silk petticoat and prove very effective. These skirts are always gored; when they are made with the Spanish flounce, the latter is cut on the straight while the very narrow ruffles are on the bias.

The round waist is the style most preferred this season for dancing dresses, though this style is not very becoming to a full figure. The fullness is all brought to the front leaving the sides and back perfectly smooth. These corsages are in nearly all cases made decollete while small puffs or merely straps over the shoulders are used in lieu of sleeves. White suede gloves reaching nearly to the shoulder are considered in best taste, although any of the dainty shades matching the gown are allowable.

A great variety of girdles are worn and in spite of the fact that the long sash has been doomed it is safe to predict that many of these airy accesories in chiffon and net will be worn this summer with the lovely evening gowns.

A very simple gown of embroidered chiffon has the bodice made in surplice fashion, the material arranged in narrow puffings and trimmed with bouillonnes of white chiffon. Plain white chiffon is also employed to fill in the top of the corsage. The small puffs which constitute the sleeves have ruffles of the material over them and a smart bow of orange colored ribbon is fastened at the left shoulder. The skirt mounted on a silk lining is finished at the bottom with three ruffles headed with a chiffon ruche.

Another lovely gown of rose colored crepe de chine has the corsage made perfectly round and slightly pouched in front. A crushed belt of black velvet girdles the waist and gives the finishing touch.

A pretty model is of soft cream silk sprigged with coral. The gored skirt is made perfectly plain and is worn over a silk petticoat. The corsage has a round decolletage and is trimmed on the right side with three overlapping revers of coral satin covered with cream lace. A sash of black chiffon girdles the waist and fastens at the left side with a knot and graceful long ends.

Fans for the summer are medium sized and of spangled mousselaine de soie in white and colors. The dainty Empire fans are still very popular and the pretty Renaissance models of white bolting cloth on which are Cupids flying, with wreaths of flowers strewn here and there are particularly fascinating.

Fashionable Dress Goods.

Vienna cashmere in exquisite tones and semi-tones, as fine and soft of surface as India silk, is made into ideal gowns for demi-dress wear. Some of the models are combined with faille or taffeta the shade of the cashmere, others are decorated with silk gimp, ribbon, milliners' folds, ruches, or gathered or pleated frills, and most of the newest gowns of this material have knee-deep skirt trimmings. For a figure not too tall, a skirt of fine sheer cashmere, accordion pleated its entire length in black, gray, or cream white, is a very pretty and graceful one to select to wear with fancy waists of every kind and color.

A Good Suggestion.

The suggestion was made by a teacher at a housekeeping class that an old scrap or peach basket lined with paper muslin, whose smooth finish would shed the dust particles easily, is of great value to the chamber-maid, as she goes through the rooms brushing up a little here and there. Into such a basket the dustpan can be frequently emptied, and the former can finally be carried off without losing its contents, as often happens where a roll of paper is used.

An old rusty pen left in the ink-bottle will be of service in attracting the corroding matter from other pens in use.

A Stylish Calling Gown.

Embroidery continues to be greatly in favor on many gowns, and few costumes are complete without a touch of it.

An effective visiting gown is here shown, composed of a medium shade of gray smooth faced cloth, elaborately embroidered. The skirt has the popular dip in the back, which is left perfectly plain. Panels of embroidery decorate either side of the front and are bordered with bands of velvet, which grow wider toward the bottom of the skirt. This mode of trimming is also carried out on the bodice, forming a jacket effect. The close fitting sleeves are elaborately embroidered and finished with a cuff of black velvet. Black velvet also constitutes the girdle which fastens on the left side with a dainty buckle.

Where Needles Are Made.

English needles are now sold all over the world, but their manufacture, after being kept secret for many years, was taught to us in 1650 by Christopher Greening. At Redditch alone twenty thousand people make more than one hundred million needles in a year, and, as they are made and exported so cheaply, England has no rival in the industry, and to all intents and purposes monopolizes the trade. In the old days needle-making killed tens of thousands of operatives owing to their inhalation of fine particles of steel, but an invention by which an air-blast drives away the filings from the grindstone, has removed this danger, and the occupation has in consequence become absolutely safe. One of the most interesting of the processes in needle-making is the drilling of the eye, and it is the boast in one factory that one of the drillers is so expert that he can perforate a hair and thread it with itself. Another very interesting fact in connection with the industry is that whilst all the ordinary needles used in America are supplied by Great Britain, nearly all the sewing-machine needles used in Great Britain come from America.

Why Rain Falls.

The reason why rain falls is that whenever warm, vapour-laden air arrives in positions where it gets rapidly chilled, the vapor falls through the cold air to the earth, cold air being unable to support as much floating vapor as warm air. A hundredth part of a grain of aqueous vapor over the amount that the air will support is sufficient to cause rainfall. Any chill will produce rain. It occurs when a moist warm wind blows in from the ocean upon cold stretches of land, where dense vapor-laden winds are pressed up the slopes of abruptly-rising hills, and whenever warm ocean winds are mingled with cold blasts in the various movements of the atmosphere. Even a cold dry wind may bring on rain, if it blows suddenly upon a mass of warm and vapor-saturated air.

The Triple Cape.

The triple cape promises to be very popular this season. Besides being a very handy garment it has a natty, stylish appearance. These capes are made quite short, barely reaching to the elbow.

An attractive model of tan smooth faced cloth has each cape outlined with a narrow cording. Three rows of stitching is also employed for a trimming. The capes could be either lined with silk or for summer wear it would be better to merely face the edges.

The hat worn with this cape of black straw has a rolled brim and is turned up at the left side and trimmed with three tips and an aigrette.

Gas-burners should now and then be cleaned out with a piece of wire or a long pin to clear out any impurities or dust accumulation.

Dirschau. Beim Untergang des amerikanischen Kriegsschiffes „Maine" ist auch ein aus dem Kreise Dirschau stammender junger Mann zu Tode gekommen. Es ist der Sohn eines früher in Brust wohnhaften, unter dem Namen der „lahme" Truczynski bekannten Lumpensammlers, der vor etwa fünf Jahren nach den Ver. Staaten auswanderte, aber auch dort sich nur kümmerlich ernährte, so daß der Sohn sich für die amerikanische Marine anwerben ließ. Bei der Katastrophe der „Maine" wurde der junge Truczynski zwar aus dem Meere herausgefischt, er starb aber wenige Tage darauf.

Da die Bemühungen des Gerichtsvorsitzenden, den Mann von der Eidespflicht zu überzeugen, vergeblich waren, mußte auf seine Vernehmung verzichtet werden und der Mann wurde dem Militärgericht zur Bestrafung überwiesen.

HARDY LITTLE PONIES OF ICELAND.

They Are Marvels of Strength and Endurance.

If the camel is the ship of the desert, the Iceland pony is the cab, train, omnibus and tramcar of the wonderful country to which he belongs. To begin with he is a misnomer. He is not a pony, in the ordinary sense of the word; he is a horse; in bone and sinew, in strength and endurance, in manners and deportment—a horse in everything, in fact, except inches; and a sober, steady, hard working horse, too. He is very "multum in parvo," a concentrated essence" of horseflesh. He can swim like a fish, climb like a goat, and jump like a deer. He sticks at nothing, and takes every variety of travel—bog, lava bed, sand, bowlders, and grass mounds—with undisturbed equanimity. If he has to ford one or two rivers, with strong currents flowing girth-deep, it is all in the day's work. Only give him time and periodical halts for refreshment, and he will do his fifty miles per day, and thrive upon it.

Their paces are fast, considering the size of the animal, a journey of thirty-two miles being often done in six hours or less, with heavy baggage. They trot, canter and gallop, but the pace most esteemed by the natives is the amble or "skeid," in which the fore and hind legs on a side are advanced simultaneously, giving a running action, very smooth to the rider. A good "pacer" is considered very valuable, and often sold for a high price. Some of these ponies amble so fast that they keep ahead of another going at a hand-gallop, and they maintain the pace for a day's journey under a weight of eleven to fourteen stone. The pony begins work at six or seven years. He works well up to twenty years and over, and often remains fairly sound to a ripe old age. He feeds on the fat of the land in summer, and in winter, if his owner is poor, must live on his wits and his stored condition.—London Globe.

BANJO MUSIC HIS REQUIEM.

Request of a St. Louis Expert Results in Remarkable Funeral Services.

The banjo as the source of music at a funeral was the idea carried into execution at St. Louis. The obsequies were those of Edward McBride, who, although only twenty-one years old, was noted the country over, as being with one exception, the only person in the world who could play the overture to "William Tell" on the banjo.

McBride's illness dated back two years, and so great was his love for the banjo that he refused to give it up, though by so doing he could prolong his life. During his sickness his musical friends were in constant attendance upon him, and to them he made the singular request that marked his funeral as one of the strangest that ever took place.

One Sunday McBride said to his father that he would like to arrange for the music at his own funeral, and, this being agreed to, he asked that Professor H. J. Isbell, S. M. Stringer and Albert West, who are experts on the banjo, should play whatever selections they chose before his body should be taken to the cemetery. Both of these singular requests were carried out.

There were twenty or thirty persons gathered in the little parlor when the banjo trio entered, and, taking their seats near the bier, played "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," and a selection from "Bohemian Girl."

These were favorite tunes with the dead musician, and the beginning and close of the last rites to his memory.—New York Journal.

HIGH MASS ABOARD.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE IN THE HARBOR OF HONOLULU.

First High Mass In the History of the American Navy Was Chanted on the Baltimore—Fine Singing of Twenty-five Monastic Priests From Honolulu.

Memorial services have been held in churches of all denominations throughout the United States in honor of the men who passed with the Maine, and there have been many requiem masses in the Roman Catholic churches for the repose of the souls of the men who went down in the battleship. But high mass ashore and high mass afloat are two very different matters. The writer happened to be present at the only high mass of the Roman Catholic church that was ever celebrated on an American man-of-war. There are two Roman Catholic chaplains in the United States navy, and each of them recites the low mass of his creed aboard his vessel every Sunday morning, as well as on the holy days of obligation. These masses are in general pretty well attended by the enlisted men of all manners of religious belief, and the officers not infrequently attend the masses in a body. But it was on the United States cruiser Baltimore, when that fine vessel was anchored in the harbor of Honolulu in January, 1896, that the first high mass in the history of the American navy was chanted.

The Baltimore, on her way from China to the United States, with her "homeward bound" pennant streaming 200 feet in her wake, steamed into a terrific typhoon a few days after leaving the coast of Japan, and, hove to and wallowing in the thick of it for eight days, came near foundering. When she rounded Pearl Harbor point, on the island of Oahu, and crawled to her anchorage in the harbor of Honolulu, she was a pretty rusty looking craft, with her cutters stove in, her davits twisted and torn off, her chain rails carried away and her fighting tops lowered to the deck to prevent excessive rolling. Officers and men were glad to get into port, for their danger had been of the most imminent. Two seamen had been carried away by green seas that washed the high standing topgallant foks'l, and there were a lot of broken heads, ribs, legs and arms among the men forward. The ship's carpenter, a warrant officer, died of his injuries the day the Baltimore steamed into Honolulu harbor and was buried in the beautiful Nuuanu valley of Honolulu, under the shadow of the Punchbowl, with naval honors.

The chaplain of the Baltimore was a young Roman Catholic priest, a scholar, an athlete and a finished man generally, born and educated in Maryland. He decided to have high mass as a special ceremony of thanksgiving on the Sunday following the Baltimore's casting her mudhook in the harbor of Honolulu. This was as impressive a religious ceremony as any ever seen or heard in a great cathedral. It was celebrated on the ship's wide and long berth deck, forward. The carpenter's gang built an altar especially for the occasion. Some of the men got shore liberty and gathered the gorgeous wild flowers that bloom in the woodlands around Honolulu. Then they decorated the altar, which, when its ornamentation was completed, was a wonderful blaze of color. Two young apprentice boys served as acolytes, habited in cassocks and surplices. The fact that these two chubby boys strove to be consistent and emulative ruffians under the ordinary conditions of man-o'-war life did not militate, in the minds of the uniformed worshipers, against the impressiveness of the mass which they served. Nor did the rattling of the double irons of the half dozen prisoners, confined up forward in the "brig," in full view of the congregation, have any disconcerting effect.

Nearly all the officers and men of the ship's company of four hundred and odd crowded down the berth deck ladders to attend the mass. The mess benches of the men were the seats. The officers were in their full dress uniforms, and the men wore their mustering clothes. Besides the ship's company, about 100 of Honolulu's most notable society attended the man-o'-war mass.

The Baltimore was a flagship, and the music of the high mass, which was one of Mozart's, was under the direction of the ship's bandmaster, who utilized the services of his fine string orchestra to render the music effectively. But the real feature of the music was the singing of some 25 Roman Catholic priests, bearded men of a monastic order, with its Hawaiian headquarters in a monastery on the outskirts of Honolulu. The chaplain had invited these priests to assist him in the celebration. They were all trained singers with noble voices, and their music had the effect of the male choir heard in the Sistine chapel in Rome. One of the monks presided at the small cabinet organ. The young chaplain was a fine baritone singer, who easily discounted all of the wardroom officers in the singing of "deep water, heavy weather" songs at the mess table after dinner. He sang the difficult mass well, and the swelling answers to his intonations by the choir of priests were beautiful and inspiring. Naval officers of experience in every quarter of the world afterward declared that they had never heard such music before. Three of the trumpeters of the band sounded the "Sanctus" and the "Te Deum."

Only about one-third of the members of the crew present were Catholics, and not more than a fifth of the ship's visitors from Honolulu belonged to the church of Rome, yet the enthusiasm of all after the ceremony was over was remarkable. It appeared that the bearded priests who assisted in the chanting of the mass were very rarely seen by the residents of Honolulu, one of the requirements of their order being that they keep to themselves.—Washington Star.

"THE CHURCH WILL LIVE."

Mgr. Conaty Says She Is Credited With Marvelous Success In This Century.

All expression or conjecture as to the future of religion, philosophy or politics, at least in their relations to peoples, is more or less futile and likely to be presumptuous and vain. We cannot fully discern the causes of events already accomplished, much less foresee the happenings of tomorrow in the acting causes of the present hour.

In the course of the century now ending the church has been face to face with mighty movements, intellectual, moral, social and political, yet she is credited with marvelous success. Criticism has not weakened her foundations, science and philosophy have not changed her dogma, neither has any phase of politics affected her constitution. In the struggle some of her children have fallen away, but many others have been attracted to her fold. She enters the new century with an organization thoroughly perfected, a hierarchy fully developed and activities capable for all demands.

The ideas characteristic of this century are liberty, progress, science, justice and equality, but these have been exaggerated and led astray, for they have been divested of divine authority and supernatural life. In their true nature all these ideas are essentially Christian. Never was the church better equipped to meet the demands of the modern spirit, to guide science, illumine the intellect and save society. Outside the church there is a cry for that Christian unity which the church alone possesses. The hopes of the new century are centered in the unity of the one true church. The aged pontiff, who has added luster to the century now closing, shows the way to success by the re-establishment of Christian life in civil and domestic society, in rulers and in people, because true life can come to us only through Christ. The church of Christ will live. The century will be great if it seeks for guidance at her hands.—Mgr. Conaty in New York World.

CUBA AND THE CHURCH.

Sympathy For the Patriots From a Catholic Source.

Cuba has been a chronic victim of a foreign occupation, with all the abuses and miseries that such occupation implies. This blighting colonial system of Spain is drawing near its end. The Cubans will soon be free to govern themselves. It will be better for them and for the church in the island. The church is Catholic, not Spanish, and it is time she should be disassociated from the odium of Spanish rule in Cuba.

But, say some, the Cubans cannot govern themselves. The fact that they established a government that has withstood successfully the power of Spain for three years is evidence to the contrary. But even if in the beginning they could not govern themselves well it is certain that they could not govern themselves worse than they have been governed by a greedy set of Spanish officials. When things are at their worst, any change is for the better.

The same objection was raised against the Mexicans when under the leadership of a Catholic priest they revolted against Spain, and yet there is not in the world today a more prosperous country than Mexico. The Mexicans did not lose their Catholic religion when they threw off the Spanish yoke, nor will the Cubans.—New York Freeman's Journal.

What We Owe to the Catholic Craft Guilds.

In the course of the learned article on "Craft Guilds In the Fifteenth Century" which he has contributed to the current issue of the Dublin Review the Right Rev. Abbot Snow brings out a point which has perhaps been never yet sufficiently emphasized. It is this: Investigation of the influence of the craft guilds makes it tolerably certain that many of the characteristics that distinguish an Englishman—his sturdy independence, his commercial enterprise, his dogged determination, his capacity for government, his self dependence and love of freedom—took their rise in guild life in mediæval times. The guilds were not merely instruments of national progress, but were specially valuable as a means of training the workers and implanting in them habits that make for greatness.

Catholic Notes.

Prayers were offered in the church of the Immaculate Conception, Minneapolis, by Father Keane for the repose of the soul of Frances E. Willard.

The archbishop of Valladolid, Spain, declares in a pastoral letter that there is no hope in any one of the parties of Spain, and the only hope is in penance and prayer.

Bishop Matz has recently returned from a year's sojourn in Mexico, where he assisted several bishops of that country in their episcopal functions, confirming over 72,000 persons during his stay in Mexico.

During the period of nearly 20 years of his reign Leo XIII has seen 121 members of the sacred college of cardinals pass away, the latest being the archbishop of Messina, in Sicily, Cardinal Giuseppe Guarina, who died in September.

The Right Rev. William Vaughan, bishop of Plymouth, England, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his ordination recently and was the recipient of a letter from the pope congratulating him on the occurrence. Bishop Vaughan is the uncle of Cardinal Vaughan and is in his eighty-fifth year.

The famous singer of the Sistine choir, Signor Mustafa, whose wonderful voice has often been spoken of in print, recently completed the sixtieth year of his connection with that choir, and the occasion was made very enjoyable for him by his friends and admirers, who celebrated it in a becoming manner.

DREAMER AND SCHEMER.

Napoleon Thought He Could Win Glory in Mexico.

When the Mexican empire was planned our civil war had been raging for nearly two years. From the standpoint of the French rulers, the moment seemed auspicious for France to interfere in American affairs. The establishment of a great Latin empire, founded under French protection and developed in the interest of France, which must necessarily derive the principal benefit of the stupendous wealth which Mexico held ready to pour into the lap of French capitalists—of an empire which in the West might put a limit to the supremacy of the United States, as much as counterbalance the British supremacy in the East, thus opposing a formidable check to the encroachments of the Anglo-Saxon race in the interest of the Latin nations—such was Napoleon's plan, and I have been told by one who was close to the imperial family at that time, that the Emperor himself fondly regarded it as "the conception of his reign."

Napoleon III labored under the disadvantage of reigning beneath the shadow of a great personality, which, consciously or unconsciously, he ever strove to emulate. But however clever he may be, the man who, anxious to appear or even to be great, forces fate and creates impossible situations that he may act a leading part before the world, is only a schemer. This is the key to the character of Napoleon III. and to his failures. He looked far away and dreamed of universal achievements, when at home, at his very door, were the threatening issues he should have mastered. The story is told of him that one evening, at the Tuileries, when the imperial party were playing games, chance brought to the Emperor the question, "What is your favorite occupation?" to which he answered, "To seek the solution of unsolvable problems." It is also related that in his younger days a favorite axiom of his was: Follow the ideas of your time, they carry you along; struggle against them, they overcome you; precede them, they support you." True enough; but only on condition that you will not mistake the shrill chorus of a few interested courtiers and speculators for the voice of your time, nor imagine that you precede your generation because you stand alone. He dreamed of far-away glory, and his flatterers told him his dreams were prophetic.—Cornelius Stevenson in Century.

WAX FIGURES FOR SHOW WINDOWS.

A Knowledge of Anatomy, Drawing and Modeling Required to Make Them.

"How long does it take to make one of these?" said the manufacturer in response to an inquiry. "Well, it depends entirely upon circumstances. It is not a mechanical operation, the finishing off of a wax model as true to life as this," and he pointed to the bust of a laughing child whose rosy neck and bright eyes were framed by clustering curls. "To make these one must have studied anatomy, as well as drawing and modeling. We begin in the same way as a sculptor would to make a statue. After the wax has cooled, the eyes are put in, the face is 'made up' as theatrical folks say, and the wig is fastened on, and the wooden body is shaped. We make all our hands and feet from life, and they cost about $10. If we have an order for an entire figure, we always model it from life. The life-size wax figures of infants are among the finest things we manufacture, and they add much to the attractiveness of a show window, as was illustrated last winter, when a Washington street retail dealer displayed one during the holiday season. The head and shoulders, such as are seen in the milliner's windows, cost from $40 to $45. The wig makes considerable difference in the price, as we use the best hair, and it is expensive, especially the natural blond, which is scarce. The children's heads cost $20, or thereabout.

"All the finishing off imaginable," he continued, "would not make a figure stand the test of a season behind the glare of a glass unless the wax has a natural pink tinge. The reason some of the models look so deathly is because the wax is bad and not properly colored. We use beeswax, slightly colored, and flesh tints are put on in addition."—Boston Transcript.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS.

No Alarm Need be Felt as to Their Encroachment on Men's Work.

Hon. Carroll D. Wright, in his article in the Chautauquan, "Are Women Hurting the Chances of Men in Business?" makes the following assertions:

"The fact is absolutely demonstrated that the proportion of females in all occupations followed is gradually increasing, and that women are to some extent entering places at the expense of the males. A closer study of all the facts, however, shows that while the statement just made is true, women are more generally taking the places of children. Through the influence of a higher intelligence and the action of law, the number of children employed in manufactures is constantly decreasing. In 1870 the percentage of children of the whole number of persons employed in manufacturing was 5.58, while in 1890 the percentage was only 2.66. In very many classes, as children have been excluded through law and other influences, adult women have to some extent taken their places. There need not be any alarm, therefore, as to the encroachments of women upon the occupations held by men."

"Your husband seems to be a victim of the tobacco habit."

"No. I'm the victim; he thoroughly enjoys it."—Chicago Record.

CYCLING COMMENT.

William Buckley, of Scotch Plains, has a new wheel which he purchased from the Bard Cycle Company.

William H. Rogers, the North avenue wheelman, has sold Spalding wheels to several riders in Westfield and Bound Brook.

Among the recent purchases of Eldridge wheels are A. J. Beal, of Netherwood; Charles Hearst, of Netherwood; George W. Logan, of Bound Brook; George A. Bornann, of Carlton avenue, and L. B. Miller, of West Third street.

AROUND THE BASES.

T. Lyons, of this city, the well-known short stop, will be given a trial on the Mt. Vernon A. C., at Mt. Vernon, Saturday. He made such a good showing at Newark Sunday afternoon, at centre field, that the manager of the Mt. Vernon team decided to give Thomas a trial.

GREAT DAY FOR THE EXEMPTS.

Pleasurable Visit to the State Convention at Perth Amboy.

The State Exempt Firemen's Association met in Perth Amboy yesterday, and held one of the most enjoyable conventions. About 200 delegates were present.

The Plainfield delagation, composed of President Auguste Saltzman, Chief Doane, Edward Mosher, Edward Vermule, Daniel Littell, Edward Flannery, G. Thorn and Joseph Blimm, went over in a stage leaving early in the morning, with the exception of V. W. Nash and E. M. Laing who drove over in a buggy.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, August Salzman, of this city; vice-presidents, B. L. Bower, Montclair; H. C. Scrott, Trenton; Joseph Burns, Perth Amboy; Theodore Eyers, Morristown; Walter Moore, Hackensack; Alfred Radler, Newark; James P. Barret, Guttenburg, and Cornelius K. Leslie, Trenton; treasurer, Thomas Leather, Jersey City.

This makes the third term for Mr. Salzman as president. D. Littell was made chairman of the Legislative committee.

After the election the committee took a recess. Dinner was served to all the delegates and city officials.

A big parade followed the dinner, which was an elaborate affair. President Salzman and Chief Doane were honored with seats in a coach along with the members of the Common Council. The city was decorated with flags and bunting, and had put on a holiday appearance. A grand ball closed the day, but the Plainfield delegation did not remain to this.

NO LICENSE FOR ROONEY.

Summit Republicans Accused of Getting Up the Remonstrance.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 19.—Judge Vail yesterday refused to grant a renewal of the license of Thomas F. Rooney, of Summit, and closed his place for one year.

Rooney's cafe was one of the most elaborate in Summit, and the headquarters of Democratic politicians of that town. At the spring election Summit, for the first time in some years, went Democratic, and there was a big jollification at Rooney's.

This, it is said, angered certain Republican politicians of that town. Their first move was to get up a remonstrance, signed by 363 residents of Summit, claiming that Rooney's place was too near the public school, and was not necessary, anyhow, in that locality. Mrs. Catherine Morrisey's hotel, near Rooney's, was also included in the protest, but the objectors withdrew their protest against Mrs. Morrissey's place, and her license was granted yesterday by Judge Vail.

In giving his decision against Mr. Rooney the Judge said the license was denied because there were enough drinking places in Summit, and Rooney's was not a necessity to the inhabitants.

WAR PRICES FELT IN PRISON.

Middlesex County Sheriff Made Appeal for More Money to Feed Convicts.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 19—When the Board of Freeholders met yesterday Sheriff George J. Litterest made complaint that because of the war he was unable to give the prisoners in the Middlesex county jail sufficient food. The sheriff has been allowed $1.75 a week a head to feed the prisoners. In addressing the Freeholders, he said that within a year the prices of some articles had almost doubled and were constantly increasing.

Potatoes and meat, he said, were higher priced than a year ago and prices were still rising. The price of bread had gone up and the weight of the loaves had come down, so that he had to buy more than he used to and pay more for them.

Upon the Sheriff's representation the Freeholders increased the allowance to $2 50 per head a week.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES.

Henry T. Smith Accused of Disorderly Conduct by His Wife.

Henry T. Smith, of Westervelt avenue, is being tried in the City Court this afternoon on a charge of being disorderly and annoying his wife. The alleged disorder occurred Sunday, May 1st, when Mrs. Smith and her children were returning from Grace P. E. church. She says that her husband stopped her on Watchung avenue, near Second street, and called her a "hypocrite" and said she was "no Christian" in a loud tone of voice.

The plaintiff's witnesses were Mrs. Charles E. Ryder, Mrs. Smith's daughter, Constable Rockofellow and the plaintiff herself. Reed & Coddington are prosecuting, and Codington & Swackhamer are Smith's lawyers. The jurymen are John Johnson, Harry Marshall, J. C. Pope, J. Harry Manning, John H. Doane, Edward Cleverly, Thomas A. Cuming, J. P. Laire, J. Hervey Doane, W. W. Warnock, M. Coyne and John McVey.

LUNCHEON FOR OLD GRADUATES.

Mrs. Wm. C. Hubbard Entertained Classmates of Ten Years Ago.

Mrs. Wm. C. Hubbard, of 427 West Seventh street, gave a delightful luncheon at her home today, when she entertained her classmate graduates of the Plainfield Seminary. It is the tenth anniversary of the graduation exercises, and a reunion in honor of the event is being given by Mrs. Hubbard. There are six members of the class, but only five members were present. Those present were Miss Kenyon, Miss Tracy, of Plainfield; Miss Cook, of Bound Brook; Miss Smith, of Newport, R. I., and Mrs. W. C. Hubbard. The absent member is Mrs. Parsons, of Chicago. The prevailing colors were green and white, and the table was decorated with colors as far as possible. The reunion was marked by an exchange of experiences and reminiscences of former days.

Awheel to See Soldier Boys.

Ted Overbaugh, Frank Nelson and Howard Thompson started last night at midnight for Sea Girt on their wheels where they intended to visit Camp Voorhees and the Plainfield contingent among the boys in blue. It was their plan to reach the camp early this morning, spend the day there and return in the afternoon. As nothing has been heard from them since the heavy thunder storm that occurred at 2 o'clock this morning, their friends are wondering whether they have recovered from their drenching.

Saved the City Cost of a Trial.

John Kavanaugh, of Grant avenue, who was to have been tried this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Council rooms on a charge of illegal liquor selling, at the last moment saved the city the cost of a trial, by appearing before City Judge DeMeza this morning at 9:30 o'clock and entering a plea of non vult. The plea was accepted, and Kavanaugh will be sentenced on Saturday.

Mustered in Company H.

Three more Plainfield boys have joined the ranks of the volunteer army. Yesterday, Charles Flynn, John McCormick and John Sullivan, all of this city, successfully passed the physical examinations and were mustered into Company H, Third Regiment of the New Jersey Volunteers, now encamped at Camp Voorhees, Sea Girt.

Class Day to be Observed.

The graduating class of the Borough Public School will observe class day this year, and it will probably be held Tuesday, June 21st, two days before the commencement exercises. This will be the first observance of the kind in the history of the school, and efforts are being made to have it a complete success.

—A young man named VanNess, of this city, came near being drowned in the New Brooklyn pond Monday night by the upsetting of a boat.

—The removal sale of Doane & Edsall is drawing to a close, and those who wish to secure bargains in good shoes, had better speak quick. The last installment of several back spring orders will be put on sale tomorrow.

STRANGE SCAVENGERS.

How the Markets of Charleston, S. C., Are Kept Clean.

Charleston, S. C., has the most primitive and peculiar scavengers in the world. Hundreds—it seems thousands—of carrion crows or buzzards, in the very early morning, swoop down upon the historical old city from the tall palm or palmetto forests which skirt the western suburbs.

In the waking hours any passengers entering Charleston on the Columbia express can see huge black lumps fall from the trees about. They never hit the ground. Out in the open these black lumps gather in a struggling flock and flop their way over toward the custom house. They are buzzards. While the twilight is yet gray these vulgar birds go to the city market and infest it for an hour or two.

A stranger who did not appreciate the health value of these buzzards is liable to kill one of them. Then he is liable to be fined $10, for the city does not allow its curious scavenger birds to be destroyed with impunity.

The Charleston market is a noted place in the South. It runs from Market street to the water's edge, and is the main thoroughfare for the crowd of pedestrians who come and go from the harbor boats. It is a novel sight to see the hurrying feet of workmen treading their way carefully among these wild birds gathered there by the hundreds like domestic chickens, they stand about, and, like domestic dogs, they watch for every piece of waste as it is dropped from a meat block. One would hardly think, as he pushes the big birds out of the way, that these same feathered things roost in the forest, and are tame nowhere else. In the markets they never attempt to steal meat from the counter.

Going through the three or four blocks of the big market one morning the writer counted over 300 of these buzzards walking about as nonchalantly as though it was their own poultry yard. They will not get out of your way. They fight every dog or cat that attempts to run in opposition, and will scramble with a man or child who competes wtih them for a fallen scrap of meat. But they keep the Charleston markets clean, perfectly clean. As a result of their thorough scavenger work this is the cleanest and healthiest meat market in the world.

In consideration of their assistance in keeping the city clean the muncipal council has made it an offense to injure or kill one of them. An offender not only had to pay $10 fine, but usually gets a free lecture on the laws of health and the value of the buzzards as assistant members of the local board of health. By an hour after sunrise the birds have all left the city. It is for this reason that the visitor to the city, who usually gets up after that hour, and strolls out later, never sees this extraordinary sight of wild birds acting as market scavengers.—Washington Star.

AN OCEAN TROLLEY LINE.

For Carrying Lumber Aboard Large Schooners.

An ocean trolley line, which reaches nearly a quarter of a mile over the sea, conveying either passengers or merchandise, is one of the curious sights to be seen at Bear Harbor, on the Pacific coast, not far from San Francisco. While the ostensible object of this strange trolley is the carrying of lumber from the rocky highland aboard the big schooners which form the ocean terminus of the line, dozens of lumbermen ride in a basket attached to the suspended cable on a wheel.

Of course, there is no electricity used in connection with this novel trolley. The power of gravity does most of the hard work. The lumber schooners come from the Mendocino County ports. Until a year ago they were loaded by the slow process of lighters plying to and from the wharves. By the new trolley system lumber in any quantity can be carried from any island point over a long and high railroad bridge to a sort of cage, where the wooden cargoes are stacked, and thence to the deck of each ship. The trolley line is thrown from the lumber cage to the vessels by means of a rope shot from a mortar.—New York Evening Journal.

Educated Tinkers Needed.

A leading Austrian paper calls attention to the fact that Bulgaria would offer a much larger market for agricultural machinery if there were some reliable repair shops for such machinery in the country. If there is but the smallest repair work on such a machine to be done nobody can be found to do it, and in many cases German experts have been called for. The Economical Society of the Bulgarian capital has submitted a memorial to the government asking for the state appointment of some 75 to 100 capable mechanics able to do this kind of work. The ministry supports this scheme, and decided that these mechanics should have to instruct in the first place the rural population in the application of improved agricultural machinery and implements.

This impetus will doubtless result in a large increase of the imports of all kinds of agricultural machinery.—Philadelphia Record.

A JAPANESE WALT WHITMAN.

A Budding Poet of the Orient Accused of Imitating Our Western Sage.

Yone Noguchi, a young Japanese living in California, and educated in this country, is beginning to be recognized as a true poet. He has been accused of imitating Walt Whitman; but as the Chrysanthemum, a Japanese-American publication of San Francisco, says "Coincidence is not necessarily plagiarism, and Poe and Walt Whitman borrowed from the vague Orient."

Noguchi's muse is much influenced by Buddhism, and naturally he has the spirit of the Far East. The poetry of the young Japanese shows every now and then the crudities of youth and breaks out occasionally into a morbidness such as is found in the poems of all young men with the "divine afflatus," whether they are born in Japan or London.

Noguchi is a prolific writer; perhaps it would be better if he wrote less and devoted more time to "polishing up" what he did write. An example of how much young poets all over the world are akin is afforded by a recent poem of Noguchi's called "The Night Reverie in the Forest," recently published in the Chrysanthemum.

He begins as follows:

'Buy my tears that I sucked from the breast of Truth—tears, sister spirits of Heaven's smile!" sobs the Wind.
Thou pale Wind, tear-vender of the hideous night, no one welcomes thee with thy unsold tears!
Thou Gypsy-Wind, my fellow-wanderer who fears light, cease thy plaintive strain of the sweet home, ever lost!

At the end he wails:

Make my grave under the greenest grass, and carve this line: "Here sleeps a nameless poet."

Now there never was a youthful poet in the world who at some time did not express a like desire. Of course the fulfillment of the wish is the last thing the young man wants, but he takes the greatest possible satisfaction in persuading himself that he does.

Yone Noguchi has the true poetic touch and apparently a future before him which will prevent his self-selected epitaph from appearing on his tombstone. Here is a poem of his from the Chrysanthemum called a "Fragment":

Oh, weariness, where my soul sobs in ecstasy! The gray-robed fogs stray as fairies from a forgotten grave.
Ah, my heart throbs on in fantastic dream as when my love's shadow
sweetens me!
The sun has sunk. The unresting silence fills the heart of Eve, who begins to sob under the mantle of night.
, a shadow of the star, guard the earth, a shadow of the Heavens, with the power—an echoed power of God.

Wouldn't Take His Case.

When Lincoln became a lawyer, he carried to the bar his habitual honesty. His associates were often surprised by his utter disregard of self-interest, while they could but admire his conscientious defence of what he considered right. One day a stranger called to secure his services.

"State your case," said Lincoln.

A history of the case was given, when Lincoln astonished him by saying,—

"I cannot serve you; for you are wrong, and the other party is right."

"That is none of your business, if I hire and pay you for taking the case," retorted the man.

"Not my business!" exclaimed Lincoln. My business is never to defend wrong, if I am a lawyer. I never undertake a case that is manifestly wrong."

"Well, you can make trouble for the fellow," added the applicant.

"Yes," replied Lincoln, fully aroused, "there is no doubt that I can gain the case for you, and set a whole neighborhood at loggerheads, I can distress a widowed mother and her six fatherless children, and thereby get for you six hundred dollars, which rightly belongs as much to the woman and her children as it does to you; but I won't do it."

"Not for any amount of pay?" continued the stranger.

"Not for all you are worth," replied Lincoln. "You must remember that some things which are legally right are not morally right. I shall not take your case."

"I don't care a snap whether you do or not!" exclaimed the man angrily, starting to go.

"I will give you a piece of advice without charge," added Lincoln. "You seem to be a sprightly, energetic man. I would advise you to make six hundred dollars some other way."

Names for Groups of Animals.

Sportsmen have shown considerable ingenuity in designating groups of different animals. The following is a list of the terms which have been applied to the various classes: A covey of partridges, a nide of pheasants, a wisp of snipe, a flight of doves or swallows, a muster of peacocks, a siege of herons, a building of rooks, a brood of grouse, a stand of plover, a watch of nightingales, a clattering of cloughs, a herd or bunch of cattle, a flock of geese, a bevy of quails, a cast of hawks, a swarm of bees, a school of whales, a shoal of herrings, a herd of swine, a skulk of foxes, a pack of wolves, a drove of oxen, a sounder of hogs, a troop of monkeys, a pride of lions, a sleuth of bears, a gang of elk.

To Serve Passengers Quickly.

There is a convenient arrangement in many railway stations in Germany. Passengers for suburban stations, instead of going to the regular ticket office and standing in line for several minutes, sometimes so long that they miss their train, can go to an automatic box and by dropping a nickel in the slot, or a coin equivalent to the amount of the fare can supply themselves with a ticket in an instant. There are rows of these boxes erected against the wall in convenient locations. The name of the town is painted in large letters, and underneath the price of the ticket. Platform tickets, for the convenience of those who wish to accompany their friends to the train are issued in the same way.

ACTIVITY AT KEY WEST.

The Rigid Censorship Will Be Continued Until Cuba is Taken.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 20, 12 m—The greatest activity is in evidence on the vessels of the United States navy that are lying in this port. Preparations are being made to sail at once.

It is expected that the fleet of Rear Admiral Sampson, wherever it is, will sail this afternoon to meet Admiral Cervera and his Spanish ships.

The report of the arrival of the Spaniards at Santiago has heated the blood of the American sailors to the boiling point, and they were wild for the fight to open.

The burning of the Evening Post tent here, on which was displayed the Spanish flag, is universally commended. There were three hundred soldiers concerned in the burning, but it probable that they never will be punished.

The pilot boat Glance collided with the patrol boat Sarasata last night and the latter was sunk.

It is believed that Gen. Shafter will release the boy Garcia this afternoon, who was arrested on the suspicion of being a Spanish spy. The officials have been convinced of his innocence.

The newspaper corresdondents have been notified that in the future all dispatches must be approved by Lieutenant Miley, on Gen. Shafter's staff. The rigid censorship will continue until Cuba is taken.

FRANCE MAY SUFFER.

Americans Refuse to Give Their Support to the Paris Exposition.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 20, 10:05 a. m.—The talk in official circles today was to the effect that a complete understanding exists between the Government of the United States and England. It was spoken of as a tacit offensive and defensive alliance.

Warm assurances of the friendliness of the French people to America was made this morning by Robineau, the correspondent for the Paris Tempe and Matin in Washington. He assures the Americans that all Frenchmen, except holders of Spanish bonds, are friendly.

Robineau has discovered that the hostility of France has seriously menaced the success of the international exposition of Paris in 1900.

A French firm wrote to a prominent Cincinnati house regarding the exposition. The Cincinnati firm answered in reply that as France has shown herself so decidedly unfriendly to Americans since the beginning of hostilities they declined to have anything to do with the exposition.

Insurgents Active.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Port au Prince, May 20, 2:20 p. m—Gomez, with 15,000 Cubans is closing in on Havana. The advance guards are led by the Negro Chief, Quixtin Bandiea.

While on the march they routed eight hundred Spaniards. Santiago is wildly excited. Garcia menaces the town withfive thousand men, cutting off all the sources of supply.

It is reported that the Spanish warships have been sighted off Yucaton, accompanying three large transports laden with troops for Havana. The French cruiser Fulton is at Santiago.

More Enemies For America.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 20, 1:25 p. m—It is announced on good authority that President McKinley regards France and Germany as foes and that he is preparing for any event that may show their true colors.

He is said to have conclusive evidence that both of those nations have been secretly aiding Spain.

Spanish Fleet Bound For Havana.

WORTHY WOMEN WILL HELP THE SOLDIERS

Daughters of the Revolution To Be Assessed $1 a Piece.

MAKE ARMY LIFE BRIGHTER.

PATRIOTIC RESOLUTIONS PRESENTED BY MRS. FLORENCE HOWE HALL.

The New Jersey Chapters Believe This to Be a Just War, Waged in the Cause of Liberty and Humanity—Great Pleasure Expressed With the Friendly Relations With Great Britain—Mrs. Donald McLean Urges the Women to Aid in the Work of Making Life Easier for the Men as They Did in '76.

The Daughters of the American Revolution from all over New Jersey came to this city yesterday afternoon to attend the annual spring meeting of that organization which was held in the Casino of the Union County Country Club. Dames with the bluest of blue blood coursing through their veins, whose ancestry can be traced back to remote times in American history, mingled freely, and the patriotic symbols displayed on every side of the hall corresponded well with the illustrious people congregated there.

The guests from out of town began to arrive at 1 o'clock. The delegates were met at the station by Mrs. J. B. Dumont and Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, of Continental Chapter, this city, and taken to the Casino, where they were received and shown to their places by a committee of ushers consisting of Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Mrs. John Gray Foster, Miss Dumont, Miss Ethel Holmes and Mrs. Frank Clawson. Luncheon was served it 1:30, after which the convention was convened and called to order by Mrs. D. A. Depue, of Newark, State Regent.

The most important item of business to come before the meeting was the adoption of a set of resolutions, but before they were presented, Mrs. Donald McLean, Regent of the Daughters of the Revolution, of New York city, spoke. Mrs. McLean's address was brimming over with patriotism, and was applauded again and again. In speaking of the present war, Mrs. McLean said that the Daughters ought to be willing to endure a heartache and a headache occasionally, because they are engaging in work for the loved ones at the front.

"Were this war a fair one between Spain and her colonies," said the speaker, "the United States would not think of interfering. My sympathy goes out to every mother whose son has gone to the front, but what mother would refuse to send her boy, if she knew he was to come out a hero?

"Every individual daughter and mother wants to do her duty here at home. It is for the women to spring forward now, and wave the flag over the heads of our noble soldiers. This is not a war for dominion. Liberty was not placed in New York harbor to enlighten only New York, or these United States, but the entire world. Let us not forget that Cuba has a flag, even though it is a little one with few stripes and only one star. Are they to be left alone because the big flag has no sympathy for them?

"We must show the world that the spirit of our Revolutionary heroes is still alive. The women of New York and New Jersey are to glow in a sunburst of humanity until we attract the attention of the world to that highest glory, the stars and stripes."

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall said that "We have marked with sorrow that set of people who seem to have lost faith in their country, is policy and its officials. At this time we admire the British lion, and would feel honored to shake his lordly paw instead of twisting his tail as we did a century ago. America has said to the oppressor, 'Thus far shalt thou go and no further.'"

Mrs. Hall then introduced the resolutions which were debated upon and passed. They are in substance as follows:

Resolved, That the Daughters of the American Revolution feel the deepest sympathy for the oppressed of all nations, especially the Cubans, and while they deplore war, feel that this is, on the American side, a just and lawful one. Resolved, That we do all in our power to mitigate the evils of war, and that we ask our State regent to take such steps as she sees proper for this purpose, and that each chapter be asked to contribute at least one dollar a head, to be sent to the State regent and forwarded to Washington for the relief of sufferers. We express great pleasure at the friendly attitude of Great Britain, and the valor of our

WARREN CHAPEL ENDEAVORERS IN EXISTENCE A DECADE.

Chapel Hung With State Society Colors—Addresses by Active Christian Workers—Gift for the Organist.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel celebrated its tenth anniversary last night, and made the occasion a pleasant one.

The chapel was hung with the State colors, black and yellow, and the colors of the local union, white and green. American and Cuban flags were displayed, and a group of potted plants and blossoms were arranged in front of the pulpit platform. The speakers were Rev. J. O. McKelvey, Rev. John T. Keer, of Elizabeth; Mr. Lake, of Dunellen; Miss Florence G. Hawkins and E. E. Anthony. President Theodore Martin opened the meeting.

Rev. Mr. McKelvey welcomed the Endeavorers and their friends, and then said he had been delegated to present Miss Margaret Sheppard, the organist, with a little token of appreciation from the members of the society. The gift was a sum of money. Miss Cortwright gave a piano solo, and Miss Catherine Deicke read the secretary's report. The treasurer reported that the receipts during the past year had been $27.66; the expenditures $20.03, leaving a balance of $7.63. E.C. Martin, of Putnam avenue, rendered a pleasing vocal solo, and after this Miss Jennie Smith, president of the Junior Band, gave a brief sketch of the society, in which she said they had 64 members and that they had given $48 during the past year for missions.

Miss Hawkins spoke upon the lookout committee, which she said was the most important committee of all. E E. Antnony's theme was the prayer meeting committee, in which he urged prayer meeting committee members to insist upon the meetings being begun at 8 o'clock. Mr. Anthony was followed by Rev. Mr. Kerr, who delivered the address of the evening, and spoke about the necessity of living up to the Christian Endeavor pledge During the evening a choir of young lady members of the society sang several hymns, and Mr. Smith rendered a violin solo. The sociable which followed was attended by nearly all who were present at the exercises. Ice cream and cake were served.

IN THE PRIME OF LIFE DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

Dr. Manning Passed Away After an Hour's Illness.

FATAL STROKE OF APOPLEXY

HAD BEEN BUSY WITH HIS PRACTICE UP TO TIME OF ILLNESS.

He Had Been Complaining of a Slight Illness, but was Feeling in Good Health When Stricken With Fatal Malady—Some Delay in Securing Medical Attendance—Blood Vessel Bursted at Base of Brain—Dr. Manning Born on Plainfield Avenue and Received a Fine Education—Leaves Widow and Daughter.

A sad and sudden death occurred last evening when Dr. Andrew Manning, of Madison avenue, passed away after an illness of only an hour. His death was wholly unexpected, and the sorrowing household has the sympathy of a large number of friends, who feel deeply the bereavement to the wife and the Doctor's family, which for the first time has been broken thus.

Dr. Manning was in excellent health yesterday. About three weeks ago he had an attack of the grip and a little neuralgia, but was not ill long, and had been attending his patients as usual. Last evening about 8:30 he complained to Mrs. Manning of an intense pain at the base of the brain, which, becoming more painful, at last compelled the Doctor to yield to his wife's entreates, and to lie down on the lounge. As Mrs. Manning helped the Doctor to a comfortable position on the lounge, he seemed to collapse, and immediately became partly unconscious, which was no doubt due to the intense pain he had been suffering.

Mrs. Manning became alarmed, and a message was sent for Dr. M. S. Simpson, who lives opposite. Dr. Simpson was out, but Mrs. Simpson telephoned to Doctors Boone and Endicott, and sent for Dr. Manning's brother-in-law, Postmaster John M. Hetfield, who lives on West Fifth street. When Mr. Hetfield arrived, the physicians had not yet come, so he went for Dr. M. B. Long.

The physicians soon arrived, but could do nothing to save the patient's life. He lingered in a partly conscious state until 9:44 o'clock when he breathed his last. Death was due to apoplexy, say the doctors, by a blood vessel bursting at the base of the brain. The case is a peculiar one. It was remarkable that the deceased lingered so long.

Dr. Manning was born January 6th, 1861, on Plainfield avenue, where his father, Joel D. Manning, his mother and two sisters still live. He was educated partly in Rutgers College at New Brunswick, studied medicine with Dr. Burlingham, a former Plainfield physician of prominence, then entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, where he graduated in 1883. He was head surgeon in Charity Hospital, New York, for some time.

Dr. Manning established a practice here, being formerly located on the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, in the old house situated where Rockfellow's grocery store now stands.

In June, 1894, he married the youngest daughter of the late Levi Hetfield, and has lived in the old Levi Hetfield house on the corner of Madison avenue and West Fourth street, for several years. He leaves one child, a daughter two years old.

About ten years ago Dr. Manning had a stroke of apoplexy, which made him an invalid for several months. Since that he seemed to have improved, and to have regained his proper health.

The funeral will be held Monday afternon at two o'clock from the house, and interment will be at Hillside.

INDICTED MAN ARRESTED.

Frank Hollenbeck Must Stand Trial on Charge of Stealing

Frank Hollenbeck, of Netherwood, was indicted by the Grand Jury at the last term, and must stand trial on a charge of stealing brasses and iron from the cars of the Central Railroad. Hollenbeck was arrested some time ago and held to await the action of the Grand Jury by Justice Moffett.

Hollenbeck was locked up last evening by Sergeant Kieley upon a warrant from Elizabeth. The most important witness against Hollenbeck is his brother-in-law, James Fillmore, who has turned State's evidence to save himself.

—Tonight the committee having in charge the erection of the liberty pole will meet and complete all arrangements for its erection.

EFFORT FOR A CHURCH

ELABORATE AFFAIR ARRANGED BY THE REDEEMER SOCIETY.

A Spacious Residence Transformed Into a Bazaar Under the Direction of the Ladies of the Above Church Society.

The members of the Church of the Redeemer are just now making one grand effort to get a sufficient amount—$1,500—with which to erect for themselves a commodious house of worship. They have arranged a fair and bazaar, which opened last evening at 22 Willow avenue, between Washington and Sycamore avenues, and the opening night was a success in every sense. The spacious residence has been made to look very beautiful inside through the efforts of the women in charge, while on the outside there are a number of American flags, which arrest the attention of passers-by. Patriotism is displayed on every hand in the various rooms and booths, for the American flag is pre-eminent in every nook and corner.

In addition to many side attractions there are six booths. One department is devoted to a display of sofa cushions and there is such a variety that everyone can be suited both in style and price. Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey is in charge of this booth, assisted by Mrs. F. S. Brown, Miss Rebecka Lloyd, Miss Colton and Mrs. Burr. The doll booth is surely one of the most attractive at the fair. There is displayed every conceivable kind of a doll, from 5 cents to $8. There are dolls from all nations and in all kinds of dress. Already many of them are sold. Rev. Mr. Downey has named one of the prettiest of them, and the successful guesser will get the fair creature. Great artistic taste is shown in the arrangement of this booth by Miss Minnie Wilson, chairman, assisted by Miss Barlow and Miss Frances Phillips.

One of the largest booths is that one devoted to fancy goods. This is truly an artistic creation. At this booth you can find a host of pretty articles all useful and ornamental. Mrs. Samuel Townsend is in charge assisted by Mrs. George P. Dupee, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Clapp, Miss Stevens, Miss Lloyd and Mrs. Curtis.

There is a china booth where one can purchase lots of pretty and dainty things of a useful and ornamental character. Mrs. Audsley and Miss Audsley are in charge of this booth. A candy booth filled with lots of sweets is in charge of Mrs. Gilbert T. Rhoades, assisted by Miss Moore, Miss Josephine Brock and Miss Phillips.

The lemonade booth is located in the spacious hallway and is very handy for all Mrs. Frank Rowley and Mrs. Demarest preside, while Miss Virginia Hegeman, Miss Dora Waring and Miss Elizabeth are efficient assistants.

A tempting place is the refreshment room, where a sumptuous repast can be obtained for 50 cents. The menu is extra fine and well served. Mrs. J. O. Stevens has charge and is assisted by Mrs. A. E. Faber, Jr., Miss Davis, Mrs. Henry R. Phillips, Mrs. Brock, Mrs. Webb and Mrs. G. F. Edwards. Supper is served from 6 to 8 o'clock in the evening by young women attired in costumes of red, white and blue.

Miss Clapp has charge of the grab-bags and for a small sum one can obtain articles worth double the price asked. There are many other attractions such as a comic art gallery, where a person can try their luck in selecting their favorite friends.

William Moore has kindly consented to give a phonograph entertainment every evening, and this is a rare treat for he has one of the best machines and his selections are up-to-date.

The fair will be continued this afternoon and evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening. No admission fee will be charged. The following committees have been appointed by Rev. Mr. Downey, rector of the church, and they are serving faithfully: Executive—Rev. Mr. Downey, Mrs. G. P. Dupee, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. H. R. Phillips, Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Mrs. Clapp, Mrs. A. E. Faber Jr., Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. G. T. Rhoades and Mrs. Brock; treasurer—H. R. Phillips; appraising — Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. H. R. Phillips. Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. G. P. Dupee, Mrs. A. E. Faber, Jr., Mrs. J. O. Stevens; construction — Capt. G. F. Edwards, A. E. Faber, Jr., W. F. Smith, E. A. Sprowl; decorations—Mrs. H. R. Phillips, Mrs. A. E. Faber, Jr., Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Maurice A. Audsley, W. F. Smith, Berthold Audsley. Below are the names of those serving on the reception committee: Mesdames W. M. Downey, G. P. Dupee, H. R. Phillips, A. E. Faber, Jr., Charles Matthews, Frank

RED CROSS BENEFIT WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Music Hall Filled With a Fashionable Audience.

PATRIOTIC DECORATIONS.

MULTITUDE OF LITTLE AMERICAN FLAGS HELD BY AUDITORS.

The Theatre Filled With an Aristocratic Audience Who Made the Affair, Given Under the Auspices of Mayor Fisk and a Large Number of Prominent Citizens, a Great Social and Financial Success—Many Soul-Stirring Features of the Programme and the Audience Frequently Deeply Stirred.

It was a great concourse of the good folk of Plainfield that assembled in Music Hall last evening at the Red Cross Benefit entertainment. All society stepped in to help out such a worthy cause and made the occasion one for a patriotic display. It is, indeed, many moons since Music Hall has seen such a dress parade of fashion's foremost followers. Socially and financially the benefit was a grand and glorious success.

With such patronage as the Red Cross benefit received, it is not difficult to understand its decided success. Society circles took up the movement, backed as it was by Mayor Charles J. Fisk and a score of the leading citizens of the town, and that ensured an attendance that filled the hall.

The new city flag, the gift of Edward White, and an immense flag that once waved over the Standard Oil Company's building in New York, and is now owned by O. T. Waring, were draped to the sides of the proscenium. Smaller flags were used to cover the front of the boxes in artistic folds, while a great array of tri-colored bunting was stretched about the railing to the balcony.

But the greatest decoration of all was the multitude of little American flags fluttering in the erratic breeze of the numerous fans that tried vainly to reduce the humid warmth of the atmosphere. Everybody was given a little flag on entering the hall and they were universally worn. Then, too, the National colors were worn in other ways by many.

The orchestra and dress circle were filled even before the appointed hour. It was a decidedly warm evening. Outside the lightning flashed warningly, but the rumble of the thunder was drowned by the busy hum of conversation and the rustle of silken gowns and lace fans. The balcony was comparatively empty and the "gallery gods," who so often make their presence decidedly felt, were conspicuous by their absence.

The entertainment itself was very good. It was given by a troupe of Weber & Field's specialists who include some of the best talent on the vaudeville stage in New York. The performance was essentially of the vaudeville order. There was an abundance of fun, some of it of a rollicking variety and the audience was treated to a good laugh.

The Queen City Band was present and rendered an overture and several other selections. The band gave one medley of patriotic songs that touched the popular chord. When the inspiring strains of the familiar "Star Spangled Banner" rang out, the audience rose as one being and remained standing until it was completed. Some of the spectators so overflowed with patriotism that they joined in the chorus of some of the stirring airs.

The rain providentally slackened just before the entertainment came to an end, and when the large audience left the hall and hastened homeward, they found the air clear and cool and the rain over.

Interred in the Borough.

Mrs. Sutton, who died in Brooklyn a few day ago, was buried this morning in the North Plainfield Cemetery. She was the mother of Mrs. W. C. Smith, of Grandview avenue. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. H. W. McKane, pastor of the Christian church, and were very impressive. There was a large attendance of relatives at the grave.

Reform Club Meeting.

The usual Thursday night meeting of the Reform Club was held last night. The meeting was opened by William B. Ayres, and then was taken charge of by Michael Maclay, Noah Pike, M. Armstrong, Charles Raybert and John H. Sayers, all of whom spoke. Mrs. Richard Pope gave a piano solo and Mrs. Anderson a cornet solo.

Miss Butler, of SanFrancisco, is visiting at the home of her brother-in law, Dr. E. W. Hedges, in this city.

NO NEWS OF BATTLE

Fleets to Be Rearranged to Meet Spanish Squadron.

PHILLIPPINE EXPEDITION

Preparing to Divide Vessels Now in Cuban Waters and Caribbean Sea Into Three Fleets—Preparations for the Expedition to Manila—Cuban Invasion Plans Also Being Forwarded—Policy of Secrecy Already Showing Good Results.

Washington, May 20.—The rumors at the navy department that Admiral Sampson had located the Spanish fleet, and that a battle had occurred, has not been confirmed from any authoritative source.

It is known that the navy board is preparing to divide the vessels now in Cuban waters and in the Caribbean sea into three fleets so as to be ready for any move the Spaniards may make. The monitors will evidently watch Havana and perhaps Cienfuegos. The heavy battleships will also be on guard and the cruisers and fast going vessels will be formed into a flying squadron to discover the Spanish fleet, if it is not soon destroyed by Admiral Sampson.

The Cuban Invasion.

The navy department is just as well pleased to have Admiral Cervera and his fleet remain away from Havana and the neighborhood of Key West until after the invasion of Cuba is completed. If the fleet is cruising around on the southern coast of Porto Rico, San Domingo or even Jamaica, Admiral Sampson with his vessels, which are supposed to be guarding the Windward Passage, can easily prevent the Spaniards making a dash for Havana.

The Philippine Expedition.

The debate in the secret session in the senate yesterday over the delay in sending aid to Admiral Dewey has had the effect of hastening this expedition. The war department was busy rushing orders to San Francisco to get the troops started. The result is that the first portion of the expedition will start to-morrow under General Otis, and the second under General Merritt will leave as soon as possible.

The preparations for the starting of the Cuban expedition were also greatly advanced to-day, and to-night Major General J. C. Breckinridge, accompanied by Major Garlington and Lieutenant Colonel John Jacob Astor, inspector general on General Miles's staff, leave for Chickamauga to inspect the volunteer troops that are now there, in anticipation of ordering them at once to the coast to be ready to start for Cuba.

Advantage of Secrecy.

It was said at the war and navy departments to-day that the officials are much better satisfied with the general situation at this time than they have ever been before, and that the policy of observing the strictest secrecy as to the movements of vessels is resulting advantageously.

It is the belief at the department that at the present time Admiral Cervera is no better informed as to the movements of our fleets than we are as to his whereabouts.

The officials are gratified that we have at least one fighting vessel the location of which is unknown to any one outside the authorities.

Absence of information as to the whereabouts of the Oregon is likely to embarrass the Spanish admiral in his movements and if he has no suspicion whatever of her presence it may prove disastrous to him.

The Threat Against Our Coast.

Officials refuse to discuss the report from Montreal, by way of London, that the Spanish have secured from France a coaling station at St. Pierre, Miquelon, near New Foundland. It is said that the state department has received more or less authentic information that the Spanish are endeavoring to arrange to take coal at St. Pierre, but the report is causing no concern. It is not believed that the enemy has any intention of sending the Cadiz fleet to make a demonstration against our coast.

For France to transfer a coaling station nto Spain and permit Spanish warships to take coal there during a period of war would be an act of hostility toward the United States for which it is not believed France would be held accountable.

VOLUNTEERS AT MOBLIZING POINTS

Nearly Ninety-Six Thousand Volunteers Have Been Mustered Into Service.

Washington, May 20.—More than 50 regiments of the volunteer army have either started for or reached the mobilizing points to which they were directed to proceed by the secretary of war. Fifteen or twenty other regiments have reported their readiness to start for such points.

In order to avoid confusion at the camps and any congestion in the railroad traffic, the war department officials are deferring giving orders for a number of the volunteer regiments to start. The volunteers mustered to date number 95,900 men.

All the regiments which were directed to go to San Francisco, except those from North and South Dakota, have left their local rendezvous for the Golden Gate. The greater portion of the men composing these organizations are destined for the Philippines.

To Exchange Prisoners.

Washington, May 20.—The state department has received a telegram from Alex Guilon, British consul general at Havana, about the exchange of Thrall and Jones, American newspaper men for two of the Spanish officers in confinement at Atlanta. The telegram follows:

"All arranged. You can send prisoners at once. Please wire me day and hour of departure from Key West and probable arrival off Havana. Immediately flag is discerned Spanish steamship, with Thrall and Jones, will be sent out to meet and exchange."

John Jacob Astor Sworn In.

Washington, May 20.—John Jacob Astor, who was appointed inspector in the army, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, was sworn in at the department yesterday.

FOR WOMEN NURSES.

United States Government Has Secured a Steamship for Service in Cuban Waters.

New York, May 20.—The government to-day purchased the steamship John Inglis, of the Maine Steamship Company, for use as a hospital ship. She is 300 feet long, 46 feet beam and 3,000 tonnage. Her speed is fifteen knots an hour.

On board the boat will be placed the first women nurses enlisted since the civil war. They come from the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

The ship will be fitted to carry 500 sick. She is practically a new boat, having only been placed in service last year.

The first six women nurses enlisted in the United States service since the civil war will be recruited to-day. They are all employed in the hospital at Baltimore.

They will be placed aboard the new hospital ship as soon as she can be transformed.

Large numbers of male nurses have been enlisted by the hospital department at the Army building in this city. They are principally from the New York, Roosevelt, Flower and Bellevue hospitals. Many will serve as pharmacists, druggists, etc.

All applicants have to undergo the strictest physical examination and the hospital department is as particular in this respect as is the recruiting department of the regular army. Not the smallest physical defect is overlooked.

SENORCASTILLO DECLINES.

Present Spanish Minister Will Not Enter Sagasta's Cabinet.

Paris, May 20.—Senor Leon y Castillo has refused to accept the Spanish foreign portfolio in the new Spanish cabinet.

The unexpected action of Senor Castillo in declining to accept the onerous responsibilities attaching at present to the position of trustee of foreign affairs is a serious blow to Sagasta, and it is difficult to see how it can fail to add greatly to the general feeling of insecurity and unrest. The position in which Sagasta is left is a delicate one indeed, and it will evidently require the most adroit management to avert another crisis.

Senor Sagasta had sufficient difficulty in forming this last cabinet. Castillo was informed yesterday of his appointment.

He is now Spanish minister to France and from the first had been opposed to entering the reorganized cabinet.

The cabinet will present itself to the chambers to-morrow, when Senor Romero y Robledo will ask for a statement on the crisis.

To Attack Our Coast.

London, May 20.—A dispatch to the Star from Montreal says Senor Polo has secured, by cable, a coal depot near St. Pierre and Miguelon, the French colony off the south coast of New Foundland, at which the Cadiz squadron will coal, previous to attacking the Atlantic seaboard of the United States, while the Cape Verd squadron, commanded by Admiral Cervera, draws off the squadrons commanded by Rear Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley.

The Western Tornado.

Rockford, Ill., May 20.—Eleven persons are known to have been killed and two score badly injured as a result of a destructive tornado which swept over Ogle county Wednesday evening. The storm came from the southwest and was from 300 to 400 feet wide. It levelled everything in its path, demolishing hundreds of farm houses and barns and killed much live stock.

Three Unknown Steamships Sighted.

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 20.—Three unknown steamships passed outside this harbor to-day, bound northwest. They would not signal. The three ships were evidently loaded with coal and it is believed they are a part of the Twickenham coal fleet, which is to supply the Spanish warships.

New Strategy Board in Sight.

Washington, May 20.—The report that the present strategy board is to be succeeded by a new board is received with approbation in this city.

It is understood that the new board will be composed of both army and navy officers. The present board consists only of members of the navy.

No Plug Tobacco Trust.

New York, May 20.—The rumored formation of a huge corporation to control the output of all the plug tobacco factories in the United States is denied by Harrison J. Drummond, the president of the Drummond Tobacco Company of St. Louis.

SCHLEY MOVES AWAY

The Flying Squadron Has Started From Key West.

DESTINATION UNKNOWN

Barges Heavily Laden With Coal Awaited the Fleet — Other Vessels at Key West—The Story That the Mangrove Had Been Captured Proves to Be Untrue—Tug Leyden Has Left on Another Cuban Expedition.

Key West, May 20.— The flying squadron under Commodore Schley, which reached Key West yesterday, left there this morning.

Fleet Was Expected.

The movement of coal laden vessels on Tuesday led many to expect the early arrival of either the flying squadron or Admiral Sampson's fleet, or both. The big barges, with 1,000 tons of coal on board, left the government dock for the entrance to the harbor, and three large schooners, also coal laden, anchored close to the St. Paul, which was in about the same position off the bar that the flagship New York, with her consorts, the Iowa and Indiana, occupied when here.

The big collier Merrimac, with 4,500 tons of coal on board, was also waiting here, not having discharged her cargo.

Other Vessels at Key West.

The following United States warships were at Key West when Commodore Schley's squadron was sighted:

Monitors Puritan and Miantonomoh.

Gunboats Machias, Castine, Helena, Newport, Wilmington and Bancroft.

The auxiliary cruiser St. Paul.

The mosquito fleet vessels Wasp and Hawk.

The troopship Panther, with marines and state troops aboard, besides Miss Clara Barton.

Torpedo boats Rodgers, Dupont, Winslow and Cushing.

Revenue cutters Hamilton, Blake and Windom.

Lighthouse tender Suwanee, now doing naval duty.

Dispatch tugs Samoset, Osceola, Uncas, Nezinescott, Algonquin, Sioux and Tecumseh. The last three have had their orders to New York cancelled.

The Dolphin, after coaling, proceeded down the coast Tuesday afternoon.

Another Cuban Expedition.

The tug Leyden left Monday on another expedition.

The Mayflower, flying the flag of a service officer, under Commander McKenzie, is guarding the Havana blockade.

A story was current here that the lighthouse tender Mangrove had been captured, but Captain Forsyth says that, so far as he knows, there is no truth in the report.

SHELLING SANTIOGO DE CUBA.

Our Warships Batter Morro Castle While Attempting to Cut Cable.

London, May 20.—Three American warships bombarded the Morro Castle at Santiago de Cuba yesterday.

The American ships shelled the port in order to cover the attempt to cut the cable which runs from Santiago de Cuba to Kingston, Jamaica.

The line was the main dependence of Captain General Blanco, and enabled him to communicate with Madrid. His dispatches were sent from Havana overland to Manganilla, and there put on the cable.

It was known here that Admiral Sampson had ordered two weeks ago that the cables including that at Santiago de Cuba, be cut, and the captain general had taken measures to prevent it. So a stout resistance was offered when the American warships approached.

Only slight damage was done to the castle, and it is not known that any of the American vessels was badly damaged. Few details of the bombardment have reached here.

Quiet Along the Coast.

Key West, Fla., May 20.—Morro light is still burning at night and absolute quiet prevails along the Cuban coast.

The rumors of heavy firing off Cardenas on Monday had their origin in the target practice of some of the gunboats on the hulk of a sunken schooner between Cardenas and Matanzas.

Hard to Demolish Fortifications.

Key West, May 20.—A naval officer who saw the bombardment of the forts of San Juan de Porto Rico by the fleet of Rear Admiral Sampson, said:

"The most remarkable feature about the bombardment was the escape of the fleet with so few casualties. The enemy's fire was heavy and continuous, and the elevation of their batteries gave them a tremendous advantage. How they missed hitting the ships no one understands. Their shots fell all around and their guns had capacity for twice the range, yet they only landed two projectiles with any serious effect.

"The San Juan affair strengthens the opinion that the demolition of well placed fortifications is a hard task for even the strongest battleships."

Montgomery Tries Long Distance Firing

Key West, May 20.—A small Spanish gunboat was sighted near Nuevitas light yesterday. The Montgomery was ordered to chase her and drove her into one of the shallow bays along the shore.

The Spaniard got behind a point of land and as the Montgomery could not follow, she laid off and had some target practice.

The spars of the gunboat were all that was visible and the range was a long one. After firing a number of shots the Montgomery was ordered to abandon the chase.

Spanish Fleet at Santiago.

Madrid, May 20.—A cable message received here direct from Santiago de Cuba, fully confirms the rumors which had been coming in all day by asserting positively that the Spanish fleet, under Admiral Cervera, has arrived there without accident.

Key West, Fla., May 20.—A report has reached here from Kingston Jamaica that the Cape Verd squadron had been sighted off that island.

ACTIVITY IN WAR DEPARTMENT.

The Rush for Staff and Other Appointments—Gen. Lee Going to Tampa.

Washington, May 20.—There was another crush of visitors at the offices of Secretary Alger and Adjutant General Corbin in the war department to-day. In consequence the officials had little time to attend to ordinary business matters, including regulations for the organization of the brigade of engineers, which is to consist of not exceeding 3,500 men, and the formation of the immune regiments, provision having been made by congress for enlisting 10,000 men who are safe from yellow fever infection.

Companies of electricians and telegraphers, consisting of sixty-one men for each division of the army, are also to be formed. For the latter General Greely, chief signal officer, has submitted a plan, which awaits the approval of Secretary Alger.

The secretary, it is expected, will soon take steps providing for the enlistment of the immunes, so that they may be available as early as possible for active work in the field. Many applications by persons anxious to undertake the raising of regiments of this class of men have been received at the department, and in some cases the applicants have gone so far as to begin work on their own responsibility, trusting to the department to approve their efforts and grant them formal permission to have the men enlisted into the service of the government.

Major General Fitzhugh Lee, who is to command the Seventh Army Corps at Tampa, Fla., was busily engaged at the department this morning making arrangements for the detail of officers to his staff. He hopes to have them completed so as to be able to start for the South to-night.

General Wesley Merritt, commanding the Department of the East, with headquarters at New York, who is to command the expedition to the Philippines is expected here for a consultation with the president and secretary of war before his departure for the coast. Every detail for this expedition is being hurried forward, and the first of it will be on its way to Manila within a few days in command of Major General Otis.

INVASION OF CUBA.

What Gen. Miles Says About Immediate Movement.

Washington, May 2.—General Miles is quoted on the subject of the Cuban invasion as having said to a friend:

"The army is not now in shape for the invasion of Cuba, and a great deal of hard work will be necessary before it can be put in proper condition for such a campaign. It lacks discipline, and in fact is deficient in a little of everything that enters into the proper equipment of an army for actual campaigning. Better raw material for a magnificent army was never collected together, but more than that is required for effective operations in a hostile country under adverse climatic conditions."

The general did not name any time for throwing the army into Cuba, but it was very plain from the general tone of his conversation that several weeks must elapse before the volunteer army will be ready for the real business of war. By that time the rainy season will be approaching its worst, and epidemics, if there are to be any, will have developed in Havana and elsewhere in Cuba.

Daily, almost hourly, news is expected from one or the other of our naval commanders which will make the advance by land practicable. But till it comes the idea of throwing a huge body of untrained volunteers into the breach for any other purpose than to let the intelligence of the movement go out and lure the Spanish fleet to the coast of Cuba, is not seriously entertained.

NINE WARSHIPS SIGHTED.

Were Seen Off Nova Scotia, But Were Too Far Away to Be Recognized.

Halifax, N. S., May 20.—Nine warships, moving in a southerly direction, were sighted at 2.30 o'clock yesterday off the coast of Lunenberg county, 75 miles to the westward of Halifax.

The nine ships were seen from Round Hill, at the entrance to Gelson's Cove. They were then off Indian Island, near Cape Lahave, and so far away that it was impossible to distinguish their colors. The ships were moving along at a steady, rapid speed, close together.

The distance of the ships from the shore is estimated at from four to five miles. The identity of the fleet may become known later when sailing vessels coming into Nova Scotia ports report passing close to them.

GUARDING U. S POWDER MILLS.

Four Hundred Pennsylvania Troops Watching Factory in New Jersey.

Dover, N. J., May 20.—The United States Powder Works, several miles from this city, are now guarded by United States volunteers. The works are extensive. Besides the factories where the powder is made, there is an immense storehouse. It is from the latter place that the forts in New York harbor are supplied with ammunition and the shipments from the works are very heavy.

The Second Battalion of the Second Infantry, Pennsylvania Volunteers, is camped about the works. The men occupied nine cars. There are in all nearly 400 men. They were assigned to guard the government powder plant and will remain in this vicinity indefinitely.

The men brought their tents and supplies with them.

New England Coast Patrol.

Provincetown, Mass., May 20.—The cruiser Prairie arrived here yesterday. Her boilers, which are in an exposed part of the ship, are being barricaded by 200-pound sand bags as a protection against possible shots.

The cruiser San Francisco is also here. The unusual activity on board induces the belief that possibly the ships may be preparing for a move South.

Lee and Sartoris.

Washington, May 20.—The president yesterday sent these nominations to the senate, among others:

For first lieutenants, Algernon Sartoris of the District of Columbia and Fitzhugh Lee, Jr., of Virginia.

GLADSTONE'S DEATH

All England in Mourning Over the Event.

FUNERAL MAY BE PUBLIC

The Announcement in the House of Commons—Proposal for a Monument at Westminster—Public Feeling Profoundly Stirred—A Dispatch from Ambassador Hay—Utterances of Leading British Journals—Telegrams of Sympathy.

London, May 20.—The House of Commons was crowded yesterday, and when the speaker, Mr. William Court Gully, called upon the government leader, A. J. Balfour, the first lord of the treasury, all present uncovered their heads. Mr. Balfour said:

"I think it will be felt in all parts of the House that we should do fitting honor to the great man whose long and splendid career closed to-day, by adjourning. This is not the occasion for uttering the thoughts which naturally suggest themselves. That occasion will present itself to-morrow, when it will be my duty to submit to the House an address to the queen, praying her to grant the honor of a public funeral, if such honor is not inconsistent with the expressed wishes of himself or of those who have the right to speak in his behalf, and also praying the queen to direct that a public monument be erected at Westminster, with an inscription expressive of the public admiration, attachment and high sense entertained by the House of Mr. Gladstone's rare and splendid gifts and devotel labors in Parliament and in the high offices of state. Before actually moving the adjournment, I have to propose a formal resolution that the House to-morrow resolve itself into committee to draw up an address, the contents of which I have just indicated."

After a word of assent from Sir William Vernon-Harcourt the Liberal leader, the resolution was adopted and the House adjourned.

All the newspapers this morning came out with special editions, in heavily leaded borders, announcing the death of Mr. Gladstone.

Though the news of Mr. Gladstone's death, which took place at 5 o'clock this morning, spread rapidly, it was the tolling of the Hawarden church bell which carried the sad tidings to every home in that vicinity. The members of the family were summoned at 2 a. m. owing to the perceptible sinking noticed by the medical watchers. From that time until Mr. Gladstone passed peacefully away no one left the death chamber. The only absentee was little Dorothy Drew, who had tearfully complained that her grandfather did not recognize her. The old coachman, who had been unable to be present when the servants bade farewell to the dying man, was summoned, and remained to the end with his master.

The end was the most peaceful imaginable. There was no sign of pain or distress. Mrs. Gladstone clasped her husband's hand and occasionally kissed it, while the Rev. Stephen Gladstone read prayers and repeated hymns. The nurse in the meanwhile bathed the brow of the patient, who showed gratefulness. The only other evidence that Mr. Gladstone realized his surroundings was when his son recited the Litany. Then he feebly murmured "Amen." This was the last word spoken by him. Then came the gentle, almost imperceptible cessation of life in the midst of his son's prayer, after which the family slowly left the room taking Mrs. Gladstone, who was induced to lie down, and who soon slept quietly.

At 8.20 a. m. Dr. Doble took his leave of Mrs. Gladstone and returned to Chester. Dr. Doble said he had been assisting Dr. Bliss and Mr. Henry Gladstone to draw up a statement of Mr. Gladstone's last hours which would soon be ready.

Mrs. Drew, Mrs. Henry Gladstone, Mrs. Stephen Gladstone, Miss Helen Gladstone and others attended early communion this morning at Hawarden church, conducted by the Rev. Stephen Gladstone. The ordinary service was prefaced with selected prayers from the burial service.

The following was received at Hawarden from the United States ambassador, Colonel Hay:

"To the Right Honorable Herbert Gladstone:

"I beg to present to all your family my heartfelt expression of sympathy at your personal loss, and at the same time to reverently congratulate you and the English race everywhere upon the glorious completion of a life filled with splendid achievements and consecrated to the noblest purposes.

"JOHN HAY."

The queen and the Prince of Wales received early intelligence of Mr. Gladstone's death, and immediately sent expressions of condolence to the widow.

Many telegrams of sympathy are constantly arriving at Hawarden Castle. President Faure of France was among those who telegraphed condolence.

Will Not Bombard Canaries.

London, May 20.—The agent in the Canary Islands of a Liverpool firm writes that the British consul there has been informed that the United States will not bombard the Canary Islands. This determination is the result of an arrangement between Great Britain and the United States whereby, while Great Britain remains neutral, the United States will abstain from such a bombardment, which would mean great destruction to British property in the Canary Islands.

Dynamite Guns For Cuba.

New York, May 20.—The quartermaster's department of the regular army has arranged for the shipment of three big dynamite guns and three caissons for the use of the army of invasion to Cuba. The destination of the shipment is Tampa, Fla.

Bismarck Ill.

Berlin, May 20.—A dispatch to the Kleine Journal from Friedrichsruhe, says that Prince Bismarck is ill, and that Dr. Schweninger has been summoned by telegraph from Berlin.

OFF FOR MANILA.

Gen. Merritt Leaves for Washington on His Way to the Philippines.

New York, May 20.—General Merritt, accompanied by his aides-de-camp, Lieutenants T. B. Mott and Henry C. Hale, left Governor's Island for Washington at midnight, where the day will be spent in discussing with the officers of the war department the final plans for the expedition to Manila which General Merritt is to command. The party will probably leave Washington for San Francisco to-morrow night.

A stop of a few hours may be made en route, probably at Chicago, between trains. Aide-de-Camp Strothers, who was recently nominated as an officer of engineers, with the rank of major, will remain at Governor's Island for a day or two, but will follow General Merritt and his party to San Francisco by the end of the week.

No special formalities will attend the turning over of the command of the department of the East to its new commander.

Lieutenant Hale says that he has tabulated a list of the various detachments of volunteers that are to be assigned as reserve guards to the harbor and coast fortifications of the Department of the East.

He said, however, that it was not definitely known just what regiments or batteries would be assigned from the several states that have been called upon to furnish troops for that purpose.

When the state authorities have designated a regiment or battery in response to the call, its commander will report as ready for duty to General Frank, and will probably be directed to proceed with his command to Hempstead, where the reserves are to be mobilized.

MORE SPANISH DEVELTRY.

Attempt to Blow Up Magazine at Camp Dewey Near Boston.

Boston, Mass., May 20.—A dispatch from Camp Dewey, at South Framingham, says there is great excitement at the camp over an attempt reported to have been made last night to blow up the magazine.

The attempt occurred shortly before midnight. Private J. Tracey of Company H was on guard at the magazine post.

A few minutes before midnight Tracey challenged a man with dark, swarthy features, close to the magazine, and before he realized what the man was about the latter had dodged under his gun and grappled with him.

Both men went down in a heap. While on the ground Tracey shouted for the corporal of the guard, who, with another guard, rushed with all speed to the spot.

The culprit, however, was too quick for them and escaped.

CUBANS NEAR SANTIAGO.

Insurgent Forces Raiding Within Six Miles of the Town.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 20.—Refugees who arrived here to-day from Santiago de Cuba, on board the steamer Aduia, say the insurgent district commanders in Eastern Cuba are moving nearer to Santiago de Cuba. Brigadier General Mindez, by orders of General Calixto Garcia, has brought insurgent forces from the extreme east to the neighborhood of Caimanero, on the south coast, and Brigadier General Castillo of the insurgent army has shifted his command to within twenty-five miles of Santiago de Cuba.

Small insurgent bands engage in nightly raids past the outlying garrisoned towns, to within about six miles of Santiago. They retire without pursuit after their forays. The concerted design is to cut off the food supply of the city and produce the effects of a siege.

CHARLESTON RETURNED TO PORT.

Back at Mare Island With Her Condensers Out of Order.

Ballejo, Cal., May 20.—The cruiser Charleston which sailed yesterday for Manila with ammunition and supplies for Rear Admiral Dewey, anchoring last night in San Francisco bay, was back yesterday at her berth at Mare Island navy yard with her condensers out of order. The cruiser steamed about the bay all day yesterday out of sight of San Francisco, while her compasses were being adjusted and cargo trimmed. When everything was in readiness for a start on the long journey, the condensers were found to be out of order. The accident was trivial and the Charleston will make another start in about two days.

Did Not Salute Our Flag.

Madrid, May 20.—It is announced in a dispatch received here from Havana that the German warship Geier has arrived there. The dispatch says:

"She did not salute the American squadron either with her guns or flag, but she paid the usual salutes to the forts here and her commander landed and visited Captain General Blanco, Admiral Manterola and the president of the colonial government. The visits were lengthy and were marked by extreme cordiality. The Spanish authorities returned the visits."

Oregon at Barbadoes.

Washington, May 20.—The Oregon yesterday stopped at Barbadoes for despatches. Captain Clark notified the navy department of the arrival of the battleship in good condition and received orders to proceed as rapidly as possible to Key West.

It is expected that the Oregon will reach Key West Tuesday.

Harvard Steals Away.

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 20.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Harvard has suddenly darted out of this harbor and there is much speculation as to her destination. She got away without being followed, for the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror is still coaling to-day at Fort de France.

Arrival of the Columbia.

New York, May 20.—The United States cruiser Columbia, which has been doing scout duty off the coast, steamed into the Narrows this morning and dropped anchor off Tompkinsville.

Prize Ring Murders.

Since the beginning of this year two men have been killed while engaged in prizefight exhibitions and two others nearly so. Both the killings were attended with circumstances peculiarly horrible and revolting to any mind except that of a brute. The first prize ring murder of this year, that of Henry Braun, occurred in March at Trenton. The second prize killing came off at Columbus, O., where the "Omaha Kid" beat the life out of George Stout by the application of John L. Sullivan's favorite blow, which the ex-champion himself describes as "hitting him under the jaw." The thump which finished Stout was so awful that it caused blood clots on the brain. The murdered man's head hung limp and wabbly while his friends rubbed and slapped him and tried to brace him up and make him fight again. Nothing more ghastly or frightful was ever witnessed anywhere. Yet this fight was strictly a "glove contest," in which the men never hurt each other—oh, no!—and it occurred, moreover, under a permit from the mayor of the capital city of Ohio.

Whether prizefights are more bloody, brutal and dangerous than they used to be or whether mankind is growing weaker one cannot say, but it is certain that prize ring killings are becoming more and more numerous. Eight men met their death in the prize ring in 1897, all of them but one in the United States. This was two more than in all the three years before. In 1893 there were five. For five years previous to 1893 there were, all told, seven. Up to 1876 deaths in the prize ring were comparatively unknown, but since then they have been increasing so rapidly that it is time for civilized people to put the weight of a powerful public opinion upon these contests and suppress them altogether.

Gambling and drunkenness attend these exhibitions on the outside of the ring and beastlike ferocity inside. We consider a Spanish bullfight as the most savage spectacle witnessed among the entertainments of civilized people, but it is no whit worse than a prizefight between human beings. It is not even so dangerous to human life as an American prizefight, if recent contests between human animals in this country are fair samples. Such contests are no proof, either, of manly courage or power.

So far as can be judged on the face of it, the agreement entered into between Russia and Japan concerning Korea is quite as favorable to Japan as to Russia. By this protocol both nations mutually engage to refrain from all interference in the internal affairs of the Hermit Kingdom. Neither will give advice or assistance to Korea, even if applied to by her, without notifying and consulting the other contracting power. Recognizing the heavy commercial and industrial interests of Japan in Korea, Russia further binds herself alone to do nothing that will prevent the growth and development of this trade. This is not at all magnanimous on the part of Russia when we remember that Japan fairly whipped China and was as fairly entitled to take on herself the whole suzerainty of Korea. Still, considering that Russia might have driven Japan out of the kingdom altogether, the concession is something. We may now hope that the civilizing and industrial development of Korea will proceed henceforth by orderly stages.

It is not well or wise for England and Russia to quarrel. From present indications there are to be three great nations on the globe. They are England, the United States and Russia. Awakened Russia is making such strides in civiliation that it will not be long till she is abreast of us. The United States does not want to feel that in order to be friendly with her good friend Russia she must show the cold shoulder to England. It has been long since we have heard much of Russian political cruelty and outrage, and these will become less and less as the people become enlightened and the authorities learn that neither violence nor trickery is necessary to govern a civilized nation. There is plenty of room in Asia for both Russia and England. It is manifest that they will divide it between them practically if not by actual annexation. Let them now agree to do so in a friendly way and cease to watch each other with hostile suspicion.

A woman writer suggests that where men clerks, telegraph operators, etc., desire to enlist and serve their country in the ranks their places be filled with patriotic women who will discharge their duties while they are in the field and turn their desks over to them when they return. There is much in this suggestion. Patriotic women always wish to do something for their country, and here seems an efficient way of gratifying their desire. During the civil war hundreds of places were opened to women that their sex had never filled before, and the same course can be taken with equally good results now.

A cable dispatch says that James Gordon Bennett's yacht was chased by a Spaniard while bearing its owner on a pleasure cruise along the Mediterranean shores. How dare the Spaniards chase James Gordon Bennett's pleasure yacht? Do they not know they might be called to account for violating the law of neutrality? None could mistake James Gordon Bennett for an American.

MAP OF PUERTO RICO.

Puerto Rico is one of the Spanish West India Islands. It is 90 miles long from east to west and 36 miles broad. The island is about 1,000 miles southeast of Cuba. Puerto Rico was discovered by Columbus in 1493. In 1509 it was invaded by the Spaniards, who exterminated the natives, 700,000 in number.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

The pastor of a St. Louis (Mich. church astonished his congregation on Sunday last by making this announcement: "Remember our quarterly meeting next Sunday. The Lord will be with us during the morning service, and the presiding elder in the evening."

Hundreds of ambitious youngsters, imbued with military ideals, scarcely allow the mind to harbor the thought of their ever becoming students at West Point—the possibility of gaining admittance seeming so small. But if there is a boy in North Plainfield smart enough to beat every other boy in examination in the Third Congressional district, he will find it the right avenue to West Point, and perhaps future glory in serving his country. Congressman Howell, who represents the Third district, has a cadetship at West Point at his disposal and he has decided to award the honor to the young man who is best fitted for the place by real merit. To arrive at a just decision a preliminary examination will be held at New Brunswick May 26th by the County Superintendent of Monmouth, Middlesex and Somerset counties. Now here is a great chance for some future citizen of the borough. The military spirit and ardor is marked among the North Plainfield public school pupils, as shown in their admirable cadet company, and as for all-around intelligence we think the borough boy is as well equipped as any of the youngsters in the the Third district. There is no reason why that cadetship shouldn't come to North Plainfield.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

There must be a cause!

There must be a reason for our unique position in New Jersey. With countless competitors in the field, you would expect that the business of one or two of them would nearly approach in size the business of the largest, but the truth is that ours is many times larger than any other single one.

One of the causes is that we sell Pianos that we know are the seven best, in their different grades, that America produces—CHICKERINGS, GABLERS, HARDMANS, VOSES, STERLINGS, STANDARDS and HUNTINGTONS. These names are a cause unto themselves.

PATRIOTIC WOMEN OF AMERICA.

They Make Great Sacrifices for the Good of the Cause.

The rich women of America are about as patriotic as the men, and the best evidence of this was in the recent tender of $100,000 by Miss Helen Gould. It is said that President McKinley has acknowledge the offer of the money, but was forced to decline it and his suggestion of presenting a ship will probably be adopted. Miss Gould, it is said, stands ready to contribute this should it be necessary, but does not expect a long war.

"Miss Gould always feels that her wealth is a trust given into her hands and not something to be spent in a frivolous way," said a woman yesterday who knows a great deal about many charitable schemes which never reach the general public. "She considered a number of plans and finally decided, with her usual good sense, that she had better give the cash direct to the Government."

MISS CHANLER.

Margaret Livingston Chanler is the one other conspicuous example of the patriotism shown by young women of wealth and social position, in this crisis. Miss Chanler volunteered her services to the Red Cross before the

MISS HELEN GOULD.

Government made any ruling about the services of women nurses, and there is every prospect that she will see plenty of actual service before hostilities are over. Clara Barton says the Red Cross will soon be called upon, and that it will be the judge of what nurses it will send out.

Miss Chanler will go at once to the front with Clara Barton and Mrs. Lesser and, although not a trained nurse, will probably be taken to Cuba before any of the other volunteers, on account of her knowledge of the Spanish language. Miss Chanler offered her services in the most modest way, saying that she was willing to do any service no matter how menial.

The whole Chanler family has figured conspicuously lately in war matters. William Astor Chanler, the brother of Miss Margaret, is fitting out a regiment. Her sister, Mary Elizabeth gave up a society wedding last week and was married very quietly, in order to make sure that her brother and sister would be present, as she feared that both might be called to the front any day.

For Summer Wear.

Red and white foulards are likewise shown among popular summer styles. Red is a trying color indeed when the sun blazes down day after day and the eye seeks relief from all things and colors suggestive of heat. A white and geranium-red foulard on a cool summer afternoon, or worn on the gray sea-beach is, however, attractive enough on a youthful form. On a Paris moled in red satin, foulard-patterned, with a straggling design in valley lilies and anemone blossoms, the loose-fronted bodice opens over a full blouse vest of tucked lisse, with alternating clusters of the narrowest black velvet ribbon in rows of three between the tucking. A touch of black velvet at the throat, waist and the wrists, with pleated lace frills beyond, completes a very stylish gown. The skirt is trimmed with flounces of the foulard.

The Advanced German Woman.

Women in Germany seem to take up many extraordinary occupations. According to recent statistics, there are in the happy Fatherland three "lady chimney-sweepers," fifty-three female slaters, seven women workers in armoury, nineteen clockmakers, fifty road-makers, one hundred and forty-seven tinkers, three hundred and seventy-nine blacksmiths, three hundred and nine masons, and two thousand marble workers. There are even some who work in quarries and sewers. This says a great deal for the energies of German women, and perhaps not quite so much for the energies of German men.

Potts—"Especially when no one will laugh at his jokes."—Indianapolis Journal.

Care of Children.

Children should never be rocked to sleep, as rocking has a tendency to send the blood to the head. A child should be put into its cot awake, and so get accustomed to go to sleep alone.

A simple remedy to prevent constipation in children is to give them a drink of warm water the first thing every morning. Half a teaspoonful of almond oil given occasionally is also good for the same purpose.

If an infant's food should get burnt in the making it should never be used, as it is sure to upset the child.

A child in convulsions should be put into a hot bath to cover his whole body up to his chin. Cloths dipped in cold water and vinegar should be applied at the same time to the head. If a bath is not at hand, rub the spine briskly for several minutes with the fingers dipped in brandy or other spirit.

Try and bring up your children to sleep in the dark, as it is much better for the eyes. Never let a child's bed be opposite the window as the bright light falling on the face while asleep is very bad for the sight.

The habit of eating between meals is not a good one and should never be allowed, as it not only spoils the natural appetite but also deranges the stomach.

If a child swallows a coin or button, &c., and it should stick in the child's throat and seems likely to choke it, try and pull it up with your fingers. If this is impossible make the child swallow a piece of hard crust, which is sure to send it down. Do not give emetics or aperients.

Infants should never be allowed to see objects too close to their faces, as it is apt to make them squint. Cases of squinting can often be cured by covering the stronger eye, thus making the weaker one do its work.

When anything gets into the eye it should be removed by using the end of a tightly rolled paper spill, which has been softened by chewing. Hold the lower eyelid down, and remove any dust, &c., then bathe the eye with warm milk and water.

Odd Method of Washing Clothes.

The washing of clothes varies in every country in the world, but the hardest-worked washerwomen are the Koreans, for the Korean men wear voluminous pantaloons and dresses. The women wash the clothes in cold water, generally in running streams and pound them with paddles until they shine as if they had been starched. In Egypt the men usually do the washing standing at the edge of a pool or running water and slapping the wet clothes upon round smooth stones. French women wash their clothes in the same way, although, as a rule, they kneel to their work. This beating upon stones makes many holes in the garments, especially as the dirt is frequently literally pounded out with other stones or wooden paddles. The Japanese method of washing clothes appears as singular to us as do the majority of their customs, for they rip their dirty garments apart for every washing, while their ironing consists of spreading the clothes out on a flat board which is leaned against the side of the house in order that they may be dried by the sun, which takes all wrinkles out of the thin material. Washing in the land of the chrysanthemum done out of doors, the Japanese washerwomen using a tub that is about six inches high and is about the size of an English dish-pan. As a rule the clothes are simply rubbed by the hand until they are clean, but when they are particularly dirty soap is used—and Japanese soap is full of grease—and the clothes are stamped upon with the bare feet. Chinese girls wash in the some way, as also do the Scotch washerwomen, although in larger receptacles.

For Summer Wear.

The Spanish flounce is shown on a great many of the summer dresses now on view in the large establishments. A dainty gown of mauve foulard had the skirt made with a flounce, with three tiny ruching of the material above it.

The blouse, made with a slightly pouched front, had a plain yoke of white satin bordered by a ladder of violet velvet baby ribbon, mounted on white satin ribbon. Straps of wider velvet, held by jeweled buttons. The leg-o'-mutton sleeves had pointed lace trimmed epaulettes. Handsome sash of mauve satin ribbon, with loops and long ends on the left side. The large lace hat, mounted on fine wires was trimmed with ribbon to match girdle.

Coffee Frosting.

A coffee frosting that can be used for cream cakes, eclairs, or light cakes, is made by steeping one-quarter of a cupful of coffee in half a cupful of water and straining it. Two tablespoonfuls of this liquid with a cupful of powdered sugar produces the frosting. It may be said in this connection that a bottle of coffee extract is an excellent addition to the summer outfit. If one is camping out or living picnic fashion in a summer cottage, the extract will serve many useful purposes. It has been found to do admirable service, too, in supplementing the very weak coffee of the average village boarding house.

To Know Horseradish.

The difference between horseradish and the poisonous aconite root is that the horseradish has a square-looking or blunt-end, while the aconite is pointed. The latter, too, has a number of little fibrous roots projecting all down its sides; the radish has just a very few. All parts of the aconite plant are dangerous. Its common name is monkshood.

Dresden. Der Export aus dem Dresdener Konsularbezirk nach den Ver. Staaten stieg im letzten Vierteljahr gegen die gleiche Zeit des Vorjahres von $246,399 auf $255,295. Darunter befinden sich für $115,495 künstliche Blumen, deren Ausfuhr, da die Verbindung ihres Produktionsortes Sebnitz mit dem Zittauer Konsulat zu weit ist, immer mehr in Dresden beglaubigt wird. Ohne diese künstlichen Blumen würde Dresden einen Rückgang von $8897 zu verzeichnen haben. —Der neue Hauptbahnhof Dresden-Altstadt wurde dieser Tage in seiner Gesammtheit dem öffentlichen Verkehr übergeben.

Chemnitz. Dieser Tage wurde in der Nähe der Stadt Geringswalde der entsetzlich verstümmelte Leichnam der 20jährigen Tochter des Streckenarbeiters Riebel aus Aschershain aufgefunden. Der Hinterkopf der Leiche ist zertrümmert und der Unterleib zerstückelt. Die fehlenden Theile wurden an einem Baume hängend vorgefunden.

Großenhain. Im Eisenwerk Gröba wurde jetzt eine dort noch nicht vorgekommene Arbeit beendigt, nämlich die Sprengung eines 160 Centner schweren Amboses mittelst Dynamits. Zum Gießen dieses Kolosses hatte seiner Zeit ein besonderer Ofen erbaut werden müssen. Bei der Sprengung wurden durch jeden Schuß Stücke im Gewichte von 20 Centnern abgesprengt.

Leipzig. Hier ist der Gedanke aufgetaucht, dem Leipziger Studenten Goethe an dem in's nächste Jahr fallenden 150. Geburtstag des Dichters ein Denkmal zu errichten. Ein solches hätte seine gute Berechtigung, denn in Leipzig hat Goethe seine Studien begonnen und drei Jahre hat er der hiesigen Universität angehört.—Dieser Tage wurde hier unter großer Betheiligung die Grundsteinlegung des deutschen Buchgewerbehauses vollzogen.

Tharandt. Der auf hiesigem Kalkwerke beschäftigte Arbeiter Herfurth aus Hintergersdorf wurde auf einem Brennofen todt aufgefunden. Herfurth hatte sich am Abend spät an den Oeffnungen der Oefen zu schaffen gemacht, ist ausgerutscht und in einen derselben hineingestürzt, wobei er an den ausströmenden Gasen erstickt ist.

Thüringische Staaten.

Arnstadt. Ein Willibald-Alexis-Denkmal soll hier, wo der berühmte Romandichter sich ein anmuthiges Heim geschaffen hat und wo er auch gestorben ist, errichtet werden.

Coburg. Neulich Vormittags 11 Uhr läutete der Glöckner auf dem Judenthurm am Judenthor die eben abgelaufene Stunde ab, als plötzlich der etwa 10 bis 15 Pfund schwere Klöppel der Glocke unter lautem Krachen mitten unter die aus der Schule kommenden Kinder auf das Pflaster herabsauste. Es ist ein wahres Wunder zu nennen, daß kein Kind erschlagen wurde. Der Klöppel war geborsten.

Greiz. Die Schlächterwittwe Hetzheim wollte Selbstmord verüben und stürzte sich aus dem zweiten Stockwerk ihres Wohnhauses auf die Straße. Ihr 25jähriger Sohn Bernhard tödtete sich daraufhin durch einen Stich mit einem Fleischermesser in's Herz. Die Wittwe ist schwer verletzt.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Dieser Tage explodirte im Freihafen am Dresdener Ufer der Kessel einer Dampfwinde. Ein Heizer wurde schwer, zwei Personen leicht verletzt. Schwere Eisentheile des Kessels wurden hoch in die Luft geschleudert und fielen etwa 50 Meter von der Unfallstelle nieder, ohne weiteren Schaden anzurichten.—Hier kenterte bei der Probefahrt Herrn Jockels Segelkutter. Jockel und zwei Personen, welche die Fahrt mitgemacht, fanden dabei ihren Tod in den Wellen.

Bremen. Der auf der Schichau-Werft in Danzig neuerbaute Riesen-Lloyd-Dampfer „Kaiser Friedrich" mußte auf der Fahrt von Danzig hierher wieder umkehren, weil sich bei der Fahrt ein Schaden an der Maschine gezeigt, der an Ort und Stelle von der ausführenden Werft noch gründlich ausgebessert werden soll.

Lübeck. Der Bürgerausschuß hat 3,500,000 Mark bewilligt zum Bau des Elbe-Trave-Kanals im Baujahre 1898—99. Der Bau ist weit vorgeschritten. Während des milden Winters wurden die Arbeiten auf der ganzen Strecke fortgesetzt, und große Strecken des Kanals sind schon fertig und befahrbar. Die bei Krummesse nach einem besonderen Verfahren errichtete erste Schleuse wurde in den letzten Tagen einer Probe unterzogen, die zur vollsten Zufriedenheit ausfiel. Es wird nunmehr auch mit dem Bau der übrigen Schleusen begonnen werden. Da der Kanal mehrfach die Bahndämme der Lübeck-Büchener und Berlin-Hamburger Bahn durchschneidet, so sind große Brückenbauten erforderlich, die sämmtlich noch in diesem Jahre vollendet werden sollen. Der Bahnverkehr wird während der Bauzeit über große Umgehungsdämme geleitet. Nach dem jetzigen Stande der Arbeiten wird der Kanal voraussichtlich im Jahre 1900 eröffnet.

Lesson For the Week Beginning May 22. Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M. Topic, Honoring Father and Mother.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Ex. xx, 12; Eph. vi, 1-4.

Reverence is the cornerstone of character. No brilliancy of genius, no combination of other excellencies are a substitute for it. Its lack is fatal to all nobility of sentiment and action.

It develops largely under the relation of parent and child. Protection and love are given on the one hand, gratitude and reverence are naturally returned on the other. A parent should be worthy if he is to be held in reverent affection. He stands in the place of a giver of life and a guide. Age, experience, unselfish devotion, deep regard for truth, right and goodness—all these the child has the right to expect to find in the parent. The child needs training in all things—training in the right direction. All ways are open. Only one is safe and best. Which that is he does not know; the parent should know. The way of uprightness is often tiresome and dull; the child gets weary, impatient and perhaps rebellious. The parent should be persuasive, patient and persistent in leading in the paths of right. Hands, feet, eyes, ears, tongue, mind and heart of the child all need steady teaching. No one ever comes quite as close to the child's life as the parent. No other one ever seems so great and good, so wise and true and courageous. The child learns God best through the character of father and mother, and worship is the tribute of love and reverence to recognized worth.

No parent should allow a child to be disrespectful. But every parent who demands respect from the child should be first worthy of it. It is useless to expect politeness from a child to whom you have first been disrespectful. Deceive a child and he will learn the lesson quickly. Don't expect truth from him after that. A lie told in fun is remembered longer than one told in earnest. Play the fool with him once, act the untrue part, and your boy will ever remember the fool and knave element in you and refuse to respect it and you.

The noblest position possible to man is that of father, but whoever allows himself to take that place puts himself under obligation to know the duties of fatherhood and to faithfully perform them.

The purest, sweetest earthly condition is that of motherhood. No one else holds influence so potent. Whoever allows herself to be placed in the relation of mother owes it to herself and all the world, most of all to God and her child, to know what a true mother should be and then to be such.

No one has a right to be irreverent. Each owes it to himself to be respectful and so respectable. "Why do you lift your hat to that person?" "Because I must be a gentleman." Because God is worthy and we wish to be worthy of Him we must ever be gentle toward all men and give reverence to whom reverence is due.

In China.

Ten years of hard work in the far east and then a few months of rest and recuperation in the home land is the record of Rev. Don W. Nichols, a true friend of the League. His home was Louisiana, Mo., and it is now Rinkiang, China. Last year, while at home on furlough, he and his wife and children did much to interest the chapters in the west in our work among the Chinese. Lectures in costume, stereopticon views and curios brought graphically before the minds of hearers the conditions and needs of that far away people.

China is specially prominent at present in the affairs of the secular world. The movements of the nations of Europe are watched with keenest interest. It is an opportune time to bring before the League our own work in that vast empire. Our boys and girls' schools, medical work, leagues, colleges, theological schools and evangelistic work are of thrilling interest.

Personal activity is necessary in religious life. We must exercise or die. The minister cannot do your praying, speaking or giving, nor can any one else. It is not so much that the world needs to hear you as that you need to speak for your own good. Use the power you have, or soon you will have no power to use. In religion, as in animal life, unused organs decay and are lost.

"If a new convert does not get his lips open in some devotional meeting during the first 30 days after conversion, he will be quite sure to be tongue tied through life." So says Pastor Cuyler, and true it is. If you have any religion to speak of, then speak of it.

"Advice chills," says Gladstone, but example inspires. Real leaders never say "Go," but always "Come." Jesus says, "Follow Me." He goes and shows us how.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 22. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Christ our model.—Math. x, 24, 25; John xiii, 12-15. (A union meeting with the juniors suggested, to be led by the junior superintendent.)

Christ not only lived to work out God's plan of redemption, but also to give His followers the pattern of a perfect life. His life is the only perfect life that has been lived, and must be taken as a model by all who would live in such a way as will please God the Father.

It was divinely intended that Christ's life should be a model for all Christians. His life is stated to be an example for us, and we are commanded to do as He did, even to have the same mind as Christ had. After washing the disciples' feet, that He might teach them humility, Jesus said, "I have given you an example that ye should do as I have done to you." In John xv, 12, He says, "This is my commandment, that ye love one another as I have loved you." In exhorting servants to suffer patiently the abuses of masters Peter says, "Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example that ye should follow His steps." Scripture thus conclusively proves that Christ's life was intended to be a model for all Christians. How important then to know what Christ did. How can we follow in His steps if we are not acquainted with the pathway that He trod? How can we do what He did unless we know what He did?

But we are not only in our actions to take Christ as our model, but we may also expect to be treated in the world as Christ was treated. The world persecuted and abused Christ. It maligned and ridiculed Him. Can we expect less from it? Naturally not so. Christ was Master, we are disciples; Christ was Lord, we are servants. Can disciples expect better treatment than their master received or servants than their lord? They would be foolish to do so. "The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord." Christ then should be our model in the reception of the adverse treatment and misrepresentation of the world.

The aim of every Christian Endeavorer should be to be like Christ. Christlikeness is Christianity. The more like Christ we are the better Christians we are. A Christian life is a Christ life. How can we become most like Christ? By having Christ dwell within us and make our lives His life. When puzzled as to how to act, we may well try to find out what Christ would do, and then do that, but the best way to live like Christ is to put self out of our lives and to let Christ into them, to surrender ourselves so absolutely to Christ as to no longer live, but to have Christ live in us. If we get Christ's spirit within us, we cannot but have a Christ life without us. Let us take Him as our pattern and model. At every step of life let us ask, "How would Christ walk?" At every moment of decision let us ask, "What would Christ do?" Then let us do it.

Bible Readings.—Math. v, 21-26, 48; vi, 9-15; xi, 28-30; Luke vi, 40; John xv, 1-12, 18-27; I Cor. xi, 1; Eph. iv, 31, 32; v, 1-5; Phil. ii, 1-11; iii, 14-21; Col. iii, 1-7; I Pet. ii, 21; I John ii, 1-6.

Follow Me.

Christ demands an open loyalty. Every call of His is a call to confession of Him. "Follow Me" was the message which the fishermen of Galilee heard and heeded. They left their nets and followed their Master. It was open following, not secret love. Matthew at the publican's bench heard the same message, and Capernaum's custom house had a vacant office after that call. "He forsook all and followed Him" is the simple yet significant symbol of confession. "Come after Me," says Christ to every disciple. Show your colors, declare your convictions, manifest your love, confess your loyalty. Christ demands positive allegiance as a proof of discipleship. Compromises never count in Christ's school of Christian life. "No looking back" if you would be fitted for the kingdom of God.—Christian Intelligencer.

The Father and the Son.

There is but one God. We must hold fast to that truth. This God is love. In our human thought love implies a beloved object. Therefore from eternity God generated the Son, who is the express image of His person. In the beginning this expression of Himself existed—this Logos, which we translate Word. It is the self revealing aspect of the divine self. It is that in Him which can be manifested. We know that the undivided ray of light can, without ceasing to be light or effulgence, manifest itself as color. Yet light and color are not two things, but one. So Father and Son are not two essences, but one.—American Friend.

Unrecognized Answers.

Sometimes by unrecognized answer God makes reply to special prayer. You pray, and apparently nothing comes of it. But as the days go you find that surely something has come of it. The causes for your trouble have dissipated slowly perhaps, but steadily and really. You have been answered, though at the time you knew it not.—Wayland Hoyt.

All One.

I will account no sin little, since the least works out the death of the soul. It is all one whether I be drowned in the ebb on shore or in the midst of the deep sea.—Bishop Hall.

Christ the Hope of Glory.

Christ in thee the hope of glory.
Shout His praise from sea to sea.
Tell with joy the gospel story—
How from sin He set thee free.

Christ in thee the hope of glory.
Let thy life the story tell
How in trials and afflictions
Jesus doeth all things well.

Christ in thee the hope of glory.
Let it thrill thy soul with love;
Let it make each moment brighter
With a radiance from above.

THE BETH BOOK.

The Author of "The Heavenly Twins" Writes Another Novel.

"Madame" Sarah Grand, for somehow we do not say "Mrs." Sarah Grand has, as far as the name goes, a kind of imperative sound, because it is associated with that pompous King Louis XIV., called in history "le Grand."

If Mme. Sarah Grand as a writer of very remarkable romances is known to the world, her individuality is not.

Francis Elizabeth Cook was born in England, and, strange to say, her family were Irish Quakers. Her girlhood was spent in Yorkshire. At a very early age she married an officer in the English Navy, who was a widower with two children. As Mrs. McFall she followed her husband's fortunes and spent her young married life in various foreign countries. As a girl she wrote verse and stories. Her first accepted story was for an English juvenile publication, "Aunt Judy." Sarah Grand as a pen name she assumed at the start. "Ideala" was published in 1888, followed by "Singularly Deluded." There is good evidence that although at the outset her fiction drew attention, Sarah Grand found some difficulty in placing "The Heavenly Twins" with a publisher. In 1893 the fastidious Spectator wrote a full column about "Ideala," and in the same year The London Chronicle gave "Singularly Deluded" much praise. This latter book was published by the Blackwoods. The romance which brought the author most conspicuously before the public was "The Heavenly Twins," issued first by Cassell in 1893. Sarah Grand's last work is "The Beth Book," just issued by the Messrs. D. Appleton & Co.

Sarah Grand is a remarkably handsome woman, with light hair, blue eyes, and of a commanding presence. The name she has selected is the one used exclusively by those who are her intimates, and she signs "Sarah Grandt" to all her correspondence.

EIDER DUCK FARMS IN ICELAND.

About 10,000 Pounds of Eiderdown are Collected Annually in Iceland.

All accounts formerly given about eider ducks say that nests are robbed of their down twice, the duck supplying it each time from her own body; The third time the drake gives his white down, and this is allowed to remain. Now it is stated, however, they follow this custom no longer but wait until the little ones are hatched. It has been found that the birds thrive better and increase faster when they are allowed to live as nature meant them to do. So now the poor mothers are no longer obliged to strip themselves of all their down to refurnish their despoiled nests. Sometimes if the quantity is very great a little may be taken, but enough must be left to cover the eggs when the duck leaves her nest for food.

About 10,000 pounds of eiderdown are gathered annually in Iceland, 7,000 being exported to foreign countries. Formerly the peasants used to receive over 21 shillings a pound, but the price has now fallen to half that amount. The peasants seldom receive money and are obliged to barter their down for merchandise furnished by the Danish merchants at the little settlements at the fjords. A pound and a half of down is enough to fill an ordinary bedpuff. These very comfortable articles are found in the guestroom of every Icelandic farm, however poor and small it may be.—Good Words.

The Czar's Car.

The height of luxurious traveling has been reached by the czar and czarina. The empress' private car is upholstered in pale blue satin. The electric lamps are all in the form of lilies, and it contains writing and tea tables made of mother-of-pearl. The nursery is the next apartment, and is as comfortable and handsome as the same rooms in any of the czar's palaces. There are dining rooms and drawing rooms and several sleeping apartments; in fact, this train is a miniature palace. The wheels are covered with india rubber tires.—Tit Bits.

F. V.—Humph! What becomes of them when they grow up?

A.—Well—er—they mostly become ward politicians and do the vote-counting and office-holding.—New York Weekly.

AROUND THE BASES.

A long flag staff stands in the Crescent Oval now. Last week Manager Mumford had the American flag hoisted there with the Cuban flag underneath.

O'Brien, the new center fielder for the Crescents is a great ball player. He was on the Princeton 'varsity team while he attended that college and afterwards played on the famous Manhattan College team with Collins. He has a great record as a batter and base runner.

Tomorrow sees the second game of the Crescents on the Crescent Oval. Their opponents will be the All-Stars, of the Catholic Protectory at Westchester, N. Y. The Crescents will line up about the same as last week, except that McLarty will be in the box. It is expected Cooney will be at his old position at third and O'Brien will occupy one of the fielding places.

Frank Denckiau snapped his chain while scorching home with the "Pumptown" division.

May Bid on Trolley Franchise.

Elizabeth, May 20.—Bernard M. Shanley, of Newark, and Comptroller Albert B. Carlton, of Elizabeth, visited the camp at Sea Girt Wednesday, but their trip was not one for sightseeing only.

It is reported on good authority that they went to have a long talk with Governor Voorhees in regard to the trolley line that is projected from Elizabeth to Plainfield, along Westfield avenue. It is said the Consolidated Traction Company, or rather the North Jersey, in which they are interested, intends to make a bid for the franchise.

JURY IN PITCHED BATTLE

TURNED THE COUNCIL CHAMBER INTO CUBAN NAVAL SCENE.

Morro Castle Was Constructed Out of Benches and Then Vigorously Bombarded—Jury Disagreed in Smith Case.

Morro Castle was bombarded, captured and destroyed in right royal fashion last evening in the Council Chambers. The jurors in the trial of Henry T. Smith were locked in there, and as they could not go to Morro Castle to bombard it, that famous Spanish fort had to come to them.

Yesterday's Daily Press told of the opening of the trial in the Council Chambers. After a recess at noon until 1:30 o'clock, the trial was continued before City Judge DeMeza. The prosecution continued its case and produced a number of witnesses, principally to tell of the actions of Smith in the past. A great deal of testimony that did not apply to the case was presented.

At 4 o'clock the defence was made. It was to the effect that Mr. Smith, who was accused of insulting his wife on the street Sunday afternoon, did not use any profane or indecent language nor make any disturbance by speaking loudly.

At 5 o'clock, S. S. Swackhammer summed up for the defence in an eloquent speech, and then W. A. Coddington made a strong appeal for his client, Mrs. Smith, the complaintant. The Judge charged the jury and they retired at 6 o'clock.

The first ballot showed the jury seven to five in favor of acquittal. Then followed arguments and the vote was changed to eight to four, which remained to the end.

It grew warm and tiresome waiting in the Council Chambers and some of the more energetic planned for a little excitement. Little missles began to fly and the most dignified were kept busy dodging them. Then three of the jurors entrenched themselves behind a pile of benches and chairs which was immediately pronounced Morro Castle. Then the bombardment began and the cheers of the combatants could be heard a block away.

The battle was directed from the deck of the flagship, New York, some unimaginative person might have called it the Judge's desk.

Judge DeMeza came at 11 o'clock and finally allowed the jury to go home and announced their result as a disagreement.

General William S. Stryker, adjutant general of New Jersey, was expected to be present, but was detained at Sea Girt. Mrs. Stryker was present, however, and spoke a few words.

The session was opened with the singing of "America," and closed with the "Star Spangled banner. During the afternoon a chorus of ladies, Mrs. Brooks, Miss Hardenburg, Mrs. J. K. The decorations of the Casino were very elaborate and called forth much praise. The stage had been completely hidden by a great American banner, arranged so as to represent a tent, and the electric lights, which were half hidden by the folds of the flag, lent a subdued light to the scene. In front of the tent there were stacked muskets, a sword and two antique looking drums. Beside these the walls were bright with flags and spring blossoms. All the ladies present wore the colors, bronze and blue.

The guests came from all over the State. Foremost among them was Miss Eliza Sandford, of Bloomfield, and of Nova Caesarea Chapter, a daughter of a genuine soldier in the Revolution. Among the other regents present were Mrs. D. A. Depue, of Newark, State regent; Mrs. Borchelin, of Newark, regent of Nova Caesarea Chapter; Mrs. John Moses, of Trenton, regent of General David Foreman Chapter, and vice president of the Colonial Dames; Mrs. Alexander Jamenson, of Laurenceville, regent of Trenton Chapter; Mrs. Moore, of Haddonfield, regent of the chapter from that place; Mrs. J. A new Georgia poet "is in our midst." He sends this charming lyric to the Constitution with the statement that it is "one of a thousand" he has written, but the first he has ever submitted for publication. It is as follows:

"My love has eyes that are as blue
As I am when a note falls due;
Her face with love lines abounds;
I think she weighs 200 pounds.
Her smile far more than gold is worth;
'Tis wide enough to light the earth!
I hear the falling of her feet
A hundred yards adown the street;
She sets my happy heart to drumming,
And the whole world shakes when She's coming!"

PLANS TO BE SECRET.

McKinley Taking Furtner Precautions to Keep Them Quiet.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 21, 12 m.—The chain about the war secrets of this nation is slowly but surely tightening. After the rigid censorship over the press despaptches from this country, the official circle of confidants is drawn nearer.

President McKinley this morning established a censorship over his cabinet. Hereafter only Secretaries Long and Alger of the Navy and War Departments, respectfully, will be cognizant with the war secrets.

Another new policy has been announced. Secretary Long will grant no more permits to vessels of any nation to enter ther harbor of Havana under any circumstances.

This action is a result of a united formal protest on the part of the officers commanding the blockading vessels. They have been very much opposed to the policy which allowed information to be carried to Havana right under their very guns.

There was a general smile among the officials of the navy department at the report that a Spanish fleet was to sail to relieve Manila. Secretary Long said that he believed the alleged Spanish Manila expedition is a myth.

Gen. Merritt has not yet left for the west, but is still in consultation with Secretary Alger in regard to the details of the Manila expedition.

Chatanooga, May 21, 12:50 p. m—The train containing the First Missouri volunteers going through here to the national camp at Chickamauga was wrecked this morning.

A fast passenger train ran into the special train at Roseville station, five miles from here at 9 o'clock this morning.

The cars were heaped around and the tracks torn up. Five privates of the Missouri regiment were killed and twelve badly injured.

Spanish Report That the Insurgents Have United Against America.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 21, 12:26 p. m—A Havana despatch says that the insurgents have declared in favor of Spain making common cause against America.

The fortress San Juan at Cartagena exploded yesterday killing ten Spanish soldiers. Sixty-two were injured including the governor of the port.

Cartagena is one of the principal Spanish seaports on the Mediterranean Sea. It is on the southeastern coast of that country.

The officials here persist in claiming that Spain will soon have the active assistance of one of the Continental Powers, presumably Germany.

An official despatch from Havana says that the American warships have arrived and are remaining some distance from the port.

VICTORY IS ASSURED.

Everybody at Key West Is Confident As to the Result.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 21, 2 p. m.—It is known here that Rear Admiral Sampson's plans to capture and destroy the Spanish fleet are complete. No doubt is felt as to the result.

It is not generally believed that the Spaniards are off the southern coast of Cuba. The exact position of Sampson's fleet cannot be made public now, but there is no occasion for anxiety about any of the American ships.

There is much excitement here. A general feeling prevails that the expected battle will be the beginning of the end of the war.

Naval officers here say that Sampson's plans cannot fail and that the Spaniards cannot escape. In official circles it is believed that Spain will begin negotiations for peace in thirty days.

OREGON WITH SAMPSON.

The Battleship is Officially Reported to Be Safe With Sampson's Fleet.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 21, 1:32 p. m.—In Congressional circles it is now confidently asserted that Congress will not vote a cent toward the representation of the United States at the Paris Exposition.

The Navy department has announced that the fleet commanded by Rear Admiral Sampson has just received a large supply of coal and ammunition. The Paris joined the fleet yesterday and delivered the supplies.

An official despatch says that the battleship Oregon and the gunboat Marietta have joined Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet, while the dynamite cruiser Buffalo is on her way to Key West for repairs and armament.

COUNTY TROLLEY PLAN IS DELAYED.

Experts to Estimate the Cost of Widening Avenue.

$400,000 MAY BE REQUIRED.

CONSIDERABLE DIFFERENCE OF OPINION AS TO THE EXPENSE.

Board of Freeholders Will Appoint Three Experts on Property Valuations, Who Shall be Independent Citizens in No Way Connected With County Affairs, to Go Over the Route and Make an Impartial Estimate—Names to be Submitted at Next Meeting—Director Names Committees.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 21 — The Union County Board of Freeholders, at its meeting held Thursday afternoon, took up the subject of the county trolley road from Elizabeth to Plainfield. There seemed to be a difference of opinion as to what the cost of the undertaking would be. The citizens' committee seemed to think it would cost about $400,000 to widen Westfield avenue to 100 feet and pay for the property that would have to be condemned to furnish the additional land needed.

Finally a resolution was passed instructing the Road Committee of the board to select three experts on property valuation, and also on road building, who shall be independent citizens, in no way connected with county affairs, to go over the route and make an impartial estimate of the cost of the contemplated improvement. The names of these experts are to be submitted to the board at its next meeting, and the latter reserved the right to accept or reject the selections made by the committee.

It now begins to look as if the proposed widening of Westfield avenue would not be commenced before next fall, owing to the way the matter drags along.

The following committees for the year were appointed by Director Hubbard: Collector's bond, Adams, Miller, McCandless; publication, Hulskamper, Adams, Swain; settle with collector, Poll, King, Brucklacher; auditing account, King, Poll, Burnet; lunacy, Miller, Tier, Swain; stationery, King, Wahl, McCandless; discharged prisoners, Wahl, Robison, Higgins; public grounds and buildings, Farrel, Tier, Scudder; jail improvements, Tier, Wahl, Higgins; settle with sheriff, Robison, Tier, Scudder; miscellaneous, Hulskamper, Erlich, Scudder; legal questions, Erlich, Robison, King; appropriations, Farrell, Hulskamper, Poll, Brucklacher, Burnet; county roads, Poll, Hulskamper, King Swain, Burnet.

It is resolved that the poor committee report at the next meeting the names of three experts to ascertain the cost of moving houses, establishing grades, etc., in the proposed widening of Westfield avenue for the purpose of selling the franchise to build a trolley line from Elizabeth to Plainfield, a distance of twelve miles. The three commissioners when selected will act in conjunction with the two engineers already appointed.

The semi-annual visit of the grand officers of the Royal Arcanum to Greenbrook Council took place Thursday evening. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed. Speeches were made by most of the visitors and several of the home council. The honored guests were Grand Orator James Rodger, of Cranford; Grand Warden Wm. E. Collins, of Fanwood; Grand Sentry James Abbott, of Arlington; Deputy Grand Regent Samuel Drummond, of Bound Brook; Deputy Grand Regent S. K. Messick, of Cranford; Horace I. Bowne, of Hoboken, member of the grand committee on state of the order; Past Regents A. W. Rand and M. L. Bullock, of Plainfield Council.

SPANISH ARE IGNORANT.

OUR ENEMIES VIEWED IN A NEW LIGHT BY A MISSIONARY.

Mrs. Gulick Has Labored Among Them for Years and She Says Religious Bigotry Prevails Among the People.

Those who were present at the Congregational church last night, listened to a very interesting address by Mrs. Alice Gordon Gulick, upon Spain, and were acquainted with some facts about that country which were new to them. Mrs. Gulick, who is an American, was sent to Spain by the American Board in 1871, and since that time has been laboring among the Roman Catholics there.

Mrs. Gulick spoke somewhat as follows: "At the present time Spain is continually in our thoughts. For twenty-six years we American missionaries have been trying to make American people think of Spain, but with varying results. But now I am sure, from the interest being awakened in the people of that country, that we are to receive that help for which we have long prayed, and that Americans, who stand before the world as her sworn enemies, will yet gladden the heart of the Lord by a great work of evangelization there.

"When we first reached Spain we found dence ignorance, principally among the women, but also extending to the men and priests of the Roman Catholic church. The Virgin Mary is worshipped almost exclusively, and thirty years ago it was a curse in Spain to possess a Bible. These last thirty years have been ones of deep spiritual growth, and the year 1868, when religious liberty was declared, was like a second reformation.

"Spaniards are not the cruel and blood-thirsty people American generally believe them to be. There are thousands among them who deeply deplore the condition of things in Cuba, and many of them bemoaned their lot when they were sent to that island with Butcher Weyler, who, by the way, is part German. These people would be willing to sacrifice Cuba if war could have been averted. The men in Spain are mostly all free thinkers. They are breaking away from the church, leaving the women to stand by it."

Mrs. Gulick told several incidents connected with her work, which is especially among the children, whom the missionaries get into their schools and while giving them an education, instill into their hearts a love for pure religion. Mrs. Gulick said that the American teachers have been very successful with their pupils, and many of them, among the girls, have taken high honors.

Preceding the talk Mrs. M. E. Dwight read an account of the work done by the Women's Association, under whose auspices the speaker was present, which was very interesting. Mrs. B. T. Barnes and Mrs. Dwight also rendered a duet on the organ and piano.

Vicious Minds and Hands at Work.

Chief Grant was notified this morning of a miserable piece of work performed by persons unknown last evening in front of Trinity Reformed church. The bricks recently laid next to the church were rooted up and a large dead tree placed in front of the Sunday-school room. Such pranks in front of a property dedicated to God are, to say the least, despicable.

Nurses Will be Graduated.

Next Thursday evening, May 26th, at 8 o'clock, Miss Messler and Miss Palmer, nurses at Muhlenberg Hospital, will be graduated from that institution. The exercises will take place at the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbylerian church.

Mrs. Odgen, of New York, is visiting relatives on Park avenue.

WITTY IN INTRODUCING.

E. E. ANTHONY'S BRIGHT REMARKS AT A CHURCH CONFERENCE.

Unique Supper Given to the Workers, After Which Came Entertaining Addresses—Rev. Mr. Schenck's Remarks.

A unique supper and conference was held by the officers and teachers of the Sunday-school of Trinity Reformed church last evening in the lecture room of the church. A routine business meeting was the first thing on the programme, after which all present were invited to partake of a Biblical supper, so named because the names for the good things provided were selected from the Bible.

About twenty-five persons set down to the table. Superintendent E. E. Anthony presided at the head of the festive board. At the conclusion of the repast, Mr. Anthony made a few happy remarks and introduced the speakers on the programme by his original wit and humor. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the church, was the first speaker. He congratulated the officers and teachers for the very excellent work accomplished in the past. He said he appreciated the earnest efforts put forth to assist him in the work of building of the kingdom of God. Other speakers were F. C. Adams and J. P. Laire.

Mr. Anthony introduced F. E. Smith as his right hand man, although he sat on his left at the time. Mr. Smith spoke words of congratulations and remarked the feeling of unity existing among the workers in the school.

Mr. Anthony said there was only one Tier in the school and it was not the desire of any to shed that one. He then introduced Mrs. Joeephine M. Tier, who said that by reason of being the oldest member in the school she ought to be excused from making any remarks. After a few more pleasantries Mr. Anthony made a few closing remarks, and the officers and teachers adjourned to the church parlors where a consecration and praise service was held.

Those who arranged the supper and served it were Miss Mabel Wilson, chairman; Miss Backer, Miss Mobus, A. K. Willett and Fred Horn, while Mrs. E. E. Anthony assisted greatly in making the affair a success.

IN THE CITY COURT.

A Number of Small Cases Brought Before Judge DeMeza.

Mrs. Annie Richter, of Arlington avenue, has promised not to annoy Mrs Annie Erbeck, or to allow her children to do so, and has given a bond for $200, to be forfeited if she does not keep the peace. Under these circumstances Mrs. Erbeck has withdrawn the charge and peace once more reigns on Park avenue.

The sentencing of John Kavanaugh, who pleaded non vult to selling liquor illegally, was laid over this morning until Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Speculation is rife as to the dose Kavanaugh will receive.

The case of the Board of Health against Peter Robinson, colored, in the city court, went over for one week.

The case of Mrs. Patrick Dunavan against her husband, whom she charges with beating her, has been laid over indefinitely.

Mischievous Boys These.

A. E. Bushnell, of 104 West Fourth street, has complained to Chief Grant about a gang of young hoodlums who persistently annoy him and his family by ringing the door bell and stopping up the key hole with putty. Mr. Bushnell lives in one of the flats over Rockfellow's grocery store. One lad was caught playing his pranks some time ago, and was warned not to repeat them. The police will watch the lads, and arrest the first one they catch up to any such mischief.

The Prosperous Epworths.

The annual State convention of the Epworth League Societies, held in Millville this week, showed the young Methodists to be in a very prosperous condition. The number of Chapters within the two Conferences is 491, an increase of 36. The membership is 31,154, which, including the Juniors, makes the total nearly 50,000. Miss Ida Angleman, of Plainfield, was elected a fourth vice-president.

Bought Thoroughbred Horses.

Newton B. Smalley, A. I. Smalley, D. W. King, A. C. Vail and Fred Williams, all of the borough, went to New York yesterday and each purchased a thoroughbred horse. The animals arrived in Plainfield at 5 o'clock this morning. Some good records may now be looked for at any time.

Engagement Announced.

The announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Maud French, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. French, of Craig place, to Harlan E. Snodgrass, second son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Snodgrass, of Central avenue.

THE CIVIL WAR FEVER.

PRESENT ENTHUSIASM IS WEAK COMPARED TO THE EARLY SIXTIES.

Spirit of the People in Those Days Was Much More Intense Than Now—Graphic Descriptions of Stirring Scenes.

Accurate, concise and decidedly entertaining was the lecture on "A New York Boy's Recollections of the Last War Fever" delivered by Dr. Robert R. Doherty, of Jersey City, in Vincent chapel last evening.

Dr. Doherty recalled many of his personal experiences to illustrate his talk. He told of the open fields then where the Fifth Avenue Hotel stands now and how cows were pastured there. He told of the great gathering places, Castle Garden, the Academy of Music and Cooper Union.

The spirit of the people in those days he described as being very different from that of the present day. Nobody, he said, would believe at the beginning of the Civil War that there really would be war. They did not believe that any State would secede until Carolina did. Then they did not believe that the others would follow until it really came to pass. The present war enthusiasm, as compared with that of '61, he characterized as the "milk and water" order. There was a sternness and graveness in that day that was not to be seen now.

He told of how the different regiments marched through New York at the beginning of the war, and how he as a lad had watched them go. He described the march of the Ellsworth's Zouaves down Broadway in a very graphic manner, and told how women, and even men, had rushed out and embraced them as they marched gallantly by.

His lecture was listened to with great interest. At is close a collection was taken up for the benefit of the Sunday-school library.

UNION COUNTY PRISONERS PLEAD.

One from Plainfield Among Those Arraigned at Elizabeth.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 21.—A number of prisoners were arraigned in the Union County Court yesterday to answer to indictments found against them by the Grand Jury.

Charles Jones, the Newark and Elizabeth check swindler, was arraigned on four charges. He pleaded guilty to larceny and of trying to swindle James J. Potts, an Elizabeth coal dealer, and not guilty to the other two complaints. He was remanded for trial next Monday on these counts, and will be sentenced May 25th for the others. It is said, meanwhile, that other charges will be made against him.

John W. Foster, of Summit, pleaded not guilty to wife-beating, and his trial was fixed for May 25th. Joseph Kent and Barney Donnelly for the highway robbery of Herman Miller, pleaded not guilty. Their trial will take place week after next.

Frank Hallenback, a Plainfield junk-dealer, was indicted on two charges of receiving stolen goods, and gave $500 bail to appear May 25th for trial. Hallenback has twice served a term of one year in State prison for the same offence.

CARELESS CONDUCTOR TO BLAME.

Started the Car Before Miss Milligan Could Get Off.

Miss Elizabeth Milligan is confined to her home at Washingtonville as a result of an accident she met with last Tuesday while attempting to alight from a trolley car in Brooklyn.

She took an open trolley car of the Fulton street line and rode as far as Grant avenue. There she signalled the conductor to stop. She had reached the step and was about to get off when the conductor pulled the bell and the car started.

Miss Milligan was thrown to the asphalt sidewalk, striking on the back of her head. Her foot caught in the step and she was dragged twenty feet before the screams of the passengers warned the motorman that there was trouble. Miss Milligan was assisted to her home, where she is now under the charge of a physician.

A representative of the trolley company has been to see her and try to settle the damages before any suit is started. The company admits that the accident was due to the negligence of their employes.

$5 for Fast Driving.

Fred Brimble, of the borough, was arrested last evening charged with fast driving in the borough. The event occurred last Wednesday, but the marshals could not catch him at the time. This morning he was arraigned before Recorder Long and fined $5, which he promptly paid.

Plainfield is Healthy.

The Board of Health report that at the present time this city is very free from contagious diseases.

CONSTABLE STEWARD COULDN'T BE FOOLED.

Arrested a Man Who Has Been Loug Sought For.

IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

SA.D HIS NAME WAS TOM GREEN WHEN IT IS TOM CALLAHAN.

In Company With James Kelly He Assaulted Two Hebrew Peddlers and Then Escaped Through a Back Door While the Officers Entered the Front of the Building in Which They Were Working at Stirling—Constable Steward Couldn't be Deluded and so the Assailant is Now Awaiting Trial.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 21—Last summer two harmless Hebrew peddlers were assaulted without provocation near Washingtonville. They were coming along Somerset street which leads to Plainfield when two men sprang at them and gave them a severe beating. The two perpetrators of this crime were alleged to be James Kelly and Thomas Callahan, carpenters employed at Stirling. Ever since then the Somerset county authorities have been on the lookout for the two men but they have succeeded in evading them until this week. Now both are lodged in the county jail here.

After the victims of the unprovoked assault had recovered sufficiently, they appeared before Justice Speer at Washingtonville and warrants were issued for Kelly and Callahan. It was not until last October, however, that an attempt was made to arrest them.

Constable George Steward, of Washingtonville, took the warrants and went over to Stirling where the men were employed on the new silk mills. The men were said to be desperate characters and so Squire Havey, who indorsed the warrant, rallied a little force of constables and marched to the mills. As the little band of the representatives of the law marched bravely up to the mills Kelly and Callahan saw them and departed by the back entrance. After searching the premises, the Squire finally sighted them disappearing down the railroad track, waving a taunting farewell.

The loss of the culprits has rankled in the mind of Constable Steward ever since, and so, Monday, having heard that Callahan was in Bernardsville, he determined to catch him all alone. He drove over to that place and found where Callahan was working. Somebody pointed him out, for Steward had never seen him before.

The constable walked into the building where Callahan was working and dropped his hand on the carpenter's shoulder.

"Look a here, Tom Callahan, I want you," remarked the constable.

"You've got the wrong man, boss," blustered forth Callahan. "I ain't Tom Callahan, I'm Tom Green."

"Come off, Tom," laughed the constable, "You can't fool me that way. Why, I've known you all your life."

The constable's little game worked to a charm and Callahan succumbed.

"Well," he ruefully remarked, "I suppose my jig's up." He told his employer that he had to go to Somerville, and departed, quiet as a lamb.

Yesterday, Constable Steward located Kelly at Summit. He drove over there and with the assistance of the local authorities, captured him without trouble. He was taken to join his companion in the county jail.

They will probably plead non vult to the charge of assault and battery and will be sentenced next week.

Pony Took a Little Journey.

Last Wednesday a small pony belonging to Mrs. D. W. Pond, of Fifth street and Watchung avenue, and kept on a farm at Oak Tree owned by Mr. Poole, strayed away and wandered as far as the gypsy camp on Park avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Smith, Jr., of Watchung avenue, were passing in a wagon at the time and the pony persisted in following their carriage. The pony went all the way home with Mr. Smith and the latter placed him in his barn. Mr. Smith intended to advertise his find in the paper, but learned later that Mrs. Pond's animal was missing. He called on her and explained the circumstances and the pony was finally returned to its proper place.

Married in New York.

The marriage of Miss May Hubbard, of East Second street, to Charles Deuscher, is announced. The marriage was celebrated last Wednesday in New York city. The bride and groom are now enjoying a wedding trip in New York State. The groom is employed by Cobb & Williams, steam fitters, of New York, and both he and his wife are well-known young people in this city.

THE SPANISH FLEET

Not Believed That It is at Santia De Cuba.

REASONS FOR DOUBTING

Spain is Anxious to Spread the Story—Statement Not Credited by Washington Officials Who Believe that the Spanish Admiral is too Shrewd to Be Caught in Such a Trap—Cuban Delegation Inclined to Credit the News.

Washington, May 21.—The report that Admiral Cervera's fleet is at Santiago de Cuba is not credited here in the best official quarters. The disbelief rests upon three foundations: First, the inherent improbability; second, the service from which the news originally proceeds, and last but by no means least, the too obvious anxiety of the Madrid government to spread the statement abroad.

The inherent improbability of the news was well expressed by a naval officer of experience this morning in the remark: "We are not engaged in a war with children. Cervera is no fool, and only a fool would let himself be bottled up in Santiago or any other harbor."

Moreover, it is impossible to see what good end could be gained by making a visit to Santiago. The east end of the island is absolutely cut off from the west end. There is no longer any rail communication, and the mountain districts in the provinces of Santa Clara and Puerto Principe are infested with rebel bands, all mounted, armed well enough for guerilla fighting, and able to subsist on the country. There is no such thing as breaking through anywhere, even if supplies could be taken over the mountain roads. And with the exception of medicines and money, it is hard to see what relief could be brought to the army in Havana by such a route.

It was published everywhere yesterday that certain warships whose name and nationality could not be ascertained had been sighted off Santiago and the supposition is that these have been taken for the Spanish squadron. As a matter of fact, they were probably our own vessels, coming in for the purpose of cutting the telegraph cables, in accordance with the general plan of isolating Cuba.

While the reports from Madrid that the Spanish squadron is at Santiago, are received with some misgiving, yet the officials of the Cuban delegation here consider the reports accurate, as they bear out what these officials pointed out when the Spanish fleet first reached Martinique, as the probable course the Spanish admiral would take. Being well acquainted with the Cuban coast, its facilities for landing, provisioning, defence, etc., Secretary Quesada said at the outset that Admiral Cervera would seek to evade the American fleets and by a circuitous route would make for Santiago. This, Mr. Quesada pointed out, was the natural move by which the Spanish admiral would escape a battle and would be most secure in making a landing on Cuban soil. The present reports appear to bear out this theory.

Mr. Quesada said to-day that the Spanish admiral would find himself seriously handicapped at Santiago. It will be useless for him to attempt to land provisions and supplies to succor Blanco at Havana, as there is no railroad communication between the two places, and an overland trip would take six weeks or two months. Besides, Mr Quesada says the Cuban troops overrun the eastern end of the island surrounding Santiago, and it would be impossible for Spanish supplies to be carried overland through a country filled with Cuban bands. There are said to be about 3,000 Cuban troops in the immediate neighborhood of Santiago, but reports recently brought to Cuban officials here show that they lack ammunition sufficient for an effective assault on Santiago.

If the Spanish fleet is at Santiago, Mr. Quesada says about all it can accomplish is to secure a base of operations in a fairly well fortified harbor and to lay in coal from colliers which are said to have preceded the fleet.

MILES AND LONG CONSULT.

Relieved to Be Making Preparations for the Carrying of Troops to Cuba.

Washington, May 21.—Miles has had another long consultation with Secretary Long, and these repeated meetings are construed here to mean that a point has been reached in the campaign where the army finds it necessary to call upon the navy for convoys to take troops to Cuba. It is realized that this work is extremely hazardous at present. Convoys always are exposed to destruction at the hands of a determined enemy, and with a squadron of fleet Spanish cruisers and torpedo gunboats of great speed lying in wait somewhere near Cuba, nothing but the most formidable convoy such as would be afforded by all of Sampson's and Schley's ironclads, save the monitors, would suffice to give a reasonable degree of protection against attack.

There are indications that the military expedition will make its real start from Key West unless the atmosphere clears through the destruction or disappearance from Cuban waters of the Spanish fleet. If the start is made from Port Tampa, the ships with their heavy loads of troops and stores will be exposed to attack almost thirty hours, not allowing for the possibility of spending much additional time off the Cuban coast waiting for an opportunity to land. On the other hand, if the start is made from Key West, the final stage of the journey will be reduced to the daylight hours of one day.

Hanged Sagasta In Effigy.

Saratoga, May 21.—At Whitehall, Washington county, yesterday, an effigy of Premier Sagasta suspended from the top of a thirty-five foot pole, was found by French-Canadians who sympathize with Spain. They tore down the effigy and burned it in the public square. Americans are aroused and trouble may ensue.

TO CRUSH ADMIRAL CAVERA.

Sampson and Schley Rushing to Battle With the Sneaking Spanish Commander.

Washington, May 21.—Owing to the strict censorship it is impossible to get official news of the movements of Admiral Sampson's fleet. It is, however, believed here that the squadrons of both Sampson and Schley have sailed from Key West to run down the Spanish fleet.

The squadrons of Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley are still under orders to "find the Spanish fleet and destroy it."

They are separated by a distance from Santiago, going by way of the north side of Cuba, of 700 odd miles, and by way of the south coast of nearly nine hundred miles.

No additions have been made to the Spanish fleet from the account given by the captain of the Adula at Kingston, Jamaica. He reports seven warships in the squadron he passed—four large ones, the Vizcaya, Oquendo, Colon and Maria Teresa—three smaller ones, the destroyers Furor and Pluton and probably a transport.

New Division of the Fleets.

President McKinley has directed a reorganization of the fleet, and it has been suggested that the combined vessels of Sampson's squadron and Commodore Schley's original flying squadron be reorganized in three divisions. One division, consisting of the monitors and one battleship, should maintain the blockade at Havana; a second division would be detailed as a flying squadron to guard the Atlantic coast, and a third to give battle to the enemy in Cuban waters.

Santiago bay is reached by a very narrow and treacherous passage guarded by one of those "Morro Castles" which seem to be located at every harbor in the Spanish Indies.

This is an old-fashioned fort on the hill at the east side of the harbor entrance, where the passage is only 180 yards wide, but during the delay of the past few months it has been strengthened in more more modern style, and several Krupp guns which had lain unmounted in the forts for years have been put in position commanding the passage.

The city of Santiago lies at the head of the bay, six miles from Morro Castle. The land side is protected by earthworks and small artillery, and the harbor was mined shortly after war became inevitable, and there were 5,000 Spanish troops there at last accounts.

ANOTHER SPANISH PRIZE.

One of Our Steamers Makes a Capture.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 21.—One of the scouts attached to Admiral Sampson's fleet has captured a Spanish gunboat. This news was brought here today by the steamer America. Her captain reports that while off Cape Moysi yesterday he sighted either the St. Louis or St. Paul towing a Spanish gunboat.

Washington, May 21.—As the St. Louis has two six-inch and four five-inch guns, as well as a number of small ones, it is believed at the navy department that she was the one which effected the capture.

M'COY THE WINNER.

Sets the Decision Over Ruhlin in a Spirited Contest.

Syracuse, May 21.—Kid McKoy won his battle with Gus Ruhlin last night, but it was the hardest struggle the Kid ever had, and the longest contest in which he has ever engaged.

At the close of the twentieth round Ruhlin, bloody, battered and half blinded, stood grim as a stuck ox and shot cyclonic blows in at his nimble adversary. The latter was still active, but plainly tired, and was apparently glad the battle was over.

McCoy had cut the gigantic Ohioan into ribbons and pounded his face to a jelly, but Ruhlin's rock-bound physique and Spartan courage kept him on his feet to the gory close. In fact Ruhlin had a decided advantage in the last few rounds, and his supporters loudly shouted that he would have won in a finish fight.

McCoy gave a marvelous exhibition of scientific boxing, and Ruhlin showed an astonishing amount of courage. In fact his stubbornness and grit won for him the unstinted applause and hearty sympathy of the 4,000 persons who witnessed the combat.

TO PUSH THE WAR

Vigorous Policy Instituted By the New Spanish Cabinet.

ADMIRAL CAMARA'S FLEET

The New Minister of Marine Has Injected the Greatest Activity in His Deparment It Is Said He Has Received Offers of War Munitions from Many Quarters—The New Minister Talks of the Valor of the Cavite Victims.

Madrid, May 21.—Admiral Camara, the commander of the Cadiz squadron, is here, receiving instructions relative to the destination of his ships, which, it is explained, "depends upon the requirements of the war."

The new minister of marine has injected the greatest activity in his department. It is said he has received offers of war munitions from many quarters.

It is evident the new Spanish cabinet intends to push the campaign vigorously, and, it is added, the ministers "will also negotiate actively with foreign diplomatists to protect Spain against a combination of her enemies." It is understood that Senor Leon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador at Paris, who was offered the portfolio of minister for foreign affairs by Senor Sagasta, will remain at the French capital in order to "continue important negotiations which are now pending."

In taking possession of the admiralty, the new minister of marine made a patriotic speech to the assembled officers, during which he recalled "the splendid example set by our sailors at Cavite in dying for Spain."

Lieutenant Arturo de Carantha, the former Spanish naval attache at Washington, has arrived here. He is quoted as saying he was closely watched in Canada by agents of the United States government.

Advices from Manila say the situation there has improved. Captain General Augusti, it is added, has regulated the price of provisions. It is also reported from Manila that the foreign colonists have sent the captain general expressions of sympathy with Spain. This is markedly the case with the German colony, and the action of the Germans is said to be due to orders received by the German consul from Berlin.

BOUND FOR WASHINGTON.

Vice-President of the Provisional Government to See President McKinley.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 21.—Senor Domingo Capote, vice president of the Cuban provisional government, and formerly one of the ablest lawyers in Havana, has landed from an open sailboat on the north side of Jamaica near Falmouth. With him was Gervasio Sabio, a sea captain.

Senor Capote is on his way to the United States to consult with the American government. He is understood to have full powers to make an important treaty. He and Captain Sabio are now in quarantine.

Senor Capote's mission is not to supercede Senor Estrada Palma, who has the full confidence of the Cuban government, but it is felt that the vice president of the Cuban republic can more effectively present certain views of the Cuban chiefs.

STRENGHTENING DEFENCES.

Spaniards Have Erected Twelve Batteries Since the Declaration of War.

Key West, May 21.—There has been surprising energy on the part of the Spaniards since the declaration of war in strengthening the defences of the city of Havana.

A month ago there were only two batteries within three miles east of the city. There are fourteen now. The shore looks to be almost one continuous line of earthworks, and they are growing larger and stronger daily. To the westward new earthworks are also going up.

Cubans Honor Marti.

New York, May 21.—Cubans in this city are happy to-day in the fact that the memory of Jose Marti the promoter of the revolution, who was killed in battle May 19, 1895, has been suitably honored.

In Chickering hall a meeting was held in honor of the dead patriot, at which Senors Paraza, Heredia and others spoke eloquently in praise of him.

Many well known Americans took part in the proceedings.

Monument to Patriots Unveiled.

Charlotte, N. C., May 21.—A magnificent monument to the signers of the Mecklenberg declaration of independence was unveiled here this morning in the presence of a tremendous crowd. Among the prominent people present were former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, a descendant of one of the signers of the declaration, who was orator of the day; Governor Atkonson of Georgia, Governor Ellerbee of South Carolina, and Governor Russell of North Carolina; Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and Mrs. D. H. Hill.

Trained Nurses for Gen. Merritt.

New York, May 21.—Two trained nurses will accompany General Merritt's expedition to the Philippines, the entire expense being borne by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid. Both are graduates of the Mills Training School for Nurses at Bellevue Hospital.

When it was announced that General Merritt was to command the expedition, Mrs. Reid offered the services of the nurses. It was accepted and the men are now on their way to San Francisco to report to the medical officer on the general's staff.

Patrol Boat Sunk in Collision.

Key West, Fla., May 21.—The pilot boat Glance ran into and sunk the patrol boat Saraosta at 4 o'clock this morning. The Saraosta took fire before going down. All her crew were saved. The collision occurred inside Fort Taylor.

ANALYZING FRENCH SENTIMENT.

French Peoples Sympathy With Spain Said Not to Be General.

Paris, May 21.—A high official, who is in daily contact with M. Hanotaux, minister of foreign affairs, and who reflects M. Hanotaux's opinion, said in the course of an interview:

"There is certainly a feeling of sympathy toward Spain in the higher circles of society, especially the aristocracy, but it is not general, although some cranks, with an eye to notoriety, have started public subscriptions for the Spaniards. To the above may be added a large section of the burgeoise, who have invested two thousand million francs in Spanish securities.

"With regard to the Franco-American relations, false news from many quarters during the last few days has led public opinion astray, but a few words suffice to expose the inanity of these accusations against France. The Lafayette incident was quite comprehensible under pressure of the work being done by the United States.

"As for Martinique, what happened to the dispatch of Captain Cotton of the Harvard was no fault of ours, and one torpedo boat is there for a few hours only, while the Harvard is there for a week."

ENGLAND'S PACIFIC FLEET.

Naval Stations to Be Strengthened—Developments Expected.

Vancouver, B. C., May 21.—The British fleet in the Pacific is to be strengthened to a considerable extent during the next few months. The Temerarie, the first battleship to be permanently stationed here, is being fitted out at Portsmouth and will sail shortly for Esquimault, and the big cruiser Warspite is also to be sent to join the Pacific fleet.

The fleet is to be strengthened by replacing some of the smaller cruisers with larger ones, the second class cruiser Artheusa being now on her way here to relieve the third class cruiser Icarus.

In the south the battleship Iron Duke is to be stationed at Coquimbo.

Among naval men the opinion is rife that England is about to make a move in the Pacific that will startle the world, or if not this, that she is preparing to meet a contemplated move of other big powers.

MADRID WILD WITH JOY.

News of Cevera Safely Reching Santiag de Cuba Arouses Intence Enthusiasm.

Madrid, via London, May 21.—The news that Admiral Cervera has eluded the American fleet and succeeded in reaching Santiago de Cuba with his ships, has caused enormous enthusiasm here.

Immediately upon the receipt of this information the queen regent telegraphed her congratulations to the minister of marine.

Within a short time the news spread throughout the city and all Madrid swarmed into the streets, parading and cheering.

Orders have been sent to Admiral Cervera to coal his ships and make the necessary repairs at Santiago de Cuba and then proceed with all speed to Havana.

He was instructed to run the American blockade at all hazard, fighting his ships if necessary.

FEARS FOR THE COAST.

Spain, Fearing an Attack, Strengthens Her Defences.

London, May 21.—Advices received here indicate that Spain, fearful of an attack on her coast by the United States, has displayed the greatest activity in strengthening her defences.

It is announced that at the cabinet council on Thursday it was decided to strengthen at once the garrison and defences in the Canary and Balearic islands. Those at Ceuta, Morocco, which is opposite to Gibraltar, also will be made much stronger.

The decision of the cabinet is remarkable, as it has been thought by Spain up to the present time, that the United States had no idea of bringing the scene of war into the Mediterranean.

POSSIBLE UPRISING IN CHINA.

Disturbing Condition Reported from the Yangs-tse-Kiang Valley.

Tacoma, Wash. May 21.—Late Oriental papers state that there are many indications of rebellion in the Yangtse-Kiang valley owing to the unsettled industrial conditions. The Kolao-Hui, a formidable anti-foreign secret society, continues to increase its numbers. The real ruler of Yang-tse-kiang valley is stated to be Cheng Chih Tung, viceroy of Hunan and Hupep, who is disgusted with the weakness of the Pekin government, and is winking at the organization and prospective arming of the Kolao-Hui society.

Many missionaries in that section are thought to be in danger of death.

Boston Bark Spartan Long Overdue.

Boston, Mass., May 21.—There is much apprehension in shipping circles concerning the safety of the bark Spartan, now long overdue on a passage from Perth Amboy, N. J., for Bath, Me. The bark landed a cargo of about 1,200 tons of coal at Perth Amboy and left there April 22. She has never since been heard from, although ordinarily the passage from Perth Amboy to Bath should not take over a week. The Spartan is commanded by Captain Anderson, a well known sea master. She carried a crew of about twelve men.

Rebellion Feared at Samoa.

Vancouver, May 21.—Advices received by steamer tell of a very critical state of affairs in the Samoan islands, where another native war is believed to be inevitable. The rebels are hoisting their flag in defiance of Malietoa's government.

Things have now been brought to such a state that war would be welcome. Another report says the rebels have also raised their flag at Leulumoegan.

Camp Dewey Men to the Front.

GLADSTONE EULOGIZED

Memoirs and Reminiscences Are Flooding the Press.

HIS RESTING PLACE

Dean Bradley Selects the Naive of Westminster Abby as the Most suitable Spot—Almost Every Court in Europe Has Wired Condolences—Vice President Hobart's Tribute—Funeral Will Probably Take Place Tuesday.

London, May 21.—The universal expression of grief and sympathy at the death of Mr. Gladstone gathers volume hourly. Memoirs and reminiscences of Mr. Gladstone are flooding the press, which everywhere shows column rules reversed. Almost every court in Europe has wired condolences.

Vice President Hobart wires the Daily Chronicle as follows: "Not even in his own land was Mr. Gladstone more highly esteemed and venerated than in the United States. His death has been well nigh a national calamity to us; and it occurred at a time when our people are closely drawn by ties of sympathy and mutual interest toward the nation to which his long career of public usefulness was so generously dedicated."

The body was removed to the large bedroom to-day and placed in a palm oak coffin surmounted by an oak cross, extending nearly the whole length of the lid. At its foot will be the inscription. Three panels are on each side, the center of each being of raised dark metal.

The date of the funeral has not been fixed, but probably Tuesday will be chosen. The preparations continue for a burial at Hawarden. Up to last evening the family had received no notice of the national funeral, which will be voted in Parliament to-day. The general opinion favoring an interment in Westminster Abbey, the family will probably give way to the national request. Mr. Gladstone did not leave any wishes on the subject. Dean Bradley of the Abbey has selected the Nave as the most suitable spot.

The House of Commons was crowded to-day and the members were generally attired in black. All the galleries were full.

The House went into committee to consider the address to the queen in regard to the interment of the remains of Mr. Gladstone in the Collegiate Church of St. Peter at Westminster, otherwise Westminster Abbey.

A. J. Balfour, the government leader and first lord of the treasury, in spite of the weakness of his heart, which is officially acknowledged, was able to move the address, although it is said he will probably have to take a holiday immediately. He introduced the subject with a lengthy eulogy of the deceased, speaking with evident emotion, and concluded with formally moving the presentation of the address to the queen. The Liberal leader, Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, seconded the motion.

Mr. Balfour's speech was remarkably eloquent and displayed great good taste, while Sir William Vernon-Harcourt's eoniums of his dead leader were delivered in a more glowing style. The Liberal leader's voice thrice broke with emotion, and he was compelled to pause and wipe his eyes.

Mr. Dillon was in his most oratorical style, and when he described how Mr. Gladstone's sympathies were unbounded by nationality, and embraced the oppressed of all races, the Irish benches responded with murmurs of assent.

Telegrams continue to arrive in great numbers at Hawarden Castle from all parts of the world. Mrs. Gladstone is as well as can be expected.

The czar to-day telegraphed to the widow, in English, saying: "I have just received the painful news of the decease. I consider it my duty to express my feelings of sincere sympathy on the occasion of the cruel and irreparable bereavement which has befallen you, as well as the deep regret which the sad event has given me. The whole civilized world will beweep the loss of the great statesman, whose political views were so widely human and peaceful.

"NICHOLAS."

MISS CISNERO'S ROMANCE.

To Wed a Former Cuban Banker Who Aided in Rescuing Her From Prison.

Washington, May 21.—Evangelina Cossio y Cisneros, the young Cuban girl, is soon to wed Carlos Carbonel, the former Cuban banker, who was yesterday nominated by President McKinley to be a lieutenant and aide on the staff of Major General Fitzhugh Lee.

When Karl Decker went to Havana with the express purpose of liberating Miss Cisneros, he found a trusted lieutenant in the person of Mr. Corbonel, although, like Mr. Decker, he was at the time unacquainted with the fair young Cuban.

When the night of the rescue from the Havana prison came, Mr. Carbonel was at Decker's side during the entire affair. To Carbonel was entrusted the duty and privilege of accompanying the girl to New York.

Companionship between the two natives of a common clime soon ripened into love, and the usual details of courtship followed, with the result that the wedding will shortly take place, probably before Lieutenant Carbonel shall be ordered into the field, although no definite time has been decided on by Miss Cisneros, her guardian, Mrs. Logan, or the groom to be.

Losing control over your nerves?
Are your muscles becoming exhausted?
You certainly know the remedy. It is nothing new; just the same remedy that has been curing these cases of thinness and paleness for twenty-five years. Scott's Emulsion. The cod-liver oil in it is the food that makes the flesh, and the hypophosphites give tone to the nerves.

THE WAR REVENUE BILL.

Committee Finds It Necessary to Make Additional Amendments.

Washington, May 21.—The senate committee on finance finds it necessary to make additional amendments to the war revenue bill before proceeding further with the measure, and an adjournment of the Senate will be taken until Monday in order to allow the committee to devote the entire day to-morrow to this work.

A session of the committee was held to-day, but there was not sufficient time to reach a conclusion, and this meeting was given over to a discussion of the changes necessary and in trying to arrive at an understanding of what should be done to perfect the bill. There is no division of party lines on most of the changes required, as they are largely of a technical character.

The most important change which has been urged, and which now seems likely to be made, is that altering the tobacco schedule. It looks as if the House rate of twelve cents a pound will be restored on manufactured tobacco, and as if there also would be a change in the schedule as it affects cigarettes. There are some technical errors to be corrected in schedule B regarding proprietary medicines. The question raised here is as to the time the stamp should be affixed, and there is much difference of opinion on this point.

There is also a desire to have mutual life companies exempt from some of the requirements of the provision in regard to the insurance organizations, and a movement to restore the House provision relating to building and loan associations. These and probably other matters will be considered at to-morrow's meeting.

It is said by members of Congress that they are now receiving more letters from retail druggists than any other class of revenue bill remonstrants. The druggists do not want to have to stamp their goods in stock, because the sale of many proprietary medicines is so slow, but they are willing to have the tax assessed on the goods as sold, and put the stamp on at that time. The bill in final shape will doubtless provide that goods in stock need not be stamped. This is the import of the Senate amendment.

TROOPS FOR MANILLA.

Four Transports Will Leave San Francisco To-morrow or Sunday.

Washington, May 21.—Admiral Dewey's urgent request to hurry troops to Manila has aroused the war department to the greatest energy since the war began.

Eight thousand troops will sail from San Francisco to-day or to-morrow.

Four transports will carry the troops. Two of them will be the City of Pekin and the Australia. The cruiser Charleston will act as consort.

The policy of the government, influenced by Admiral Dewey's request to use all haste and General Merritt's statement, has further broadened the scope of the expedition to Manila. Thirty thousand troops will be sent, if necessary. General E. S. Otis will command the first expedition.

Hundred Thousand Strong.

Washington, May 21.—General Corbin announced that the number of volunteers mustered into the service of the United States had now passed the 100,000 mark. The states in which the mustering of the quota of troops has been completed are as follows: California, Colorado, Georgia, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Texas, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

This leaves but 25,000 to be accepted under the call of the president.

The country is humming with trains carrying troops to the various camps of mobilization. Reports at the adjutant general's office show that fifty-seven regiments were on cars hurrying to the destinations to which they have been assigned.

Army Matters Before Military Committee

Washington, May 21.—The House committee on military affairs directed Chairman Hull to call up Monday a bill providing for the pay of volunteers for the interval between their enrolment and muster into service. Also the Senate bill providing that officers of the regular army may accept positions in the volunteer service during the war without losing their relative ranks in the regular army.

Volunteer Coast Defenders.

Washington, May 21.—Soon after the Senate convened yesterday, Mr. Hale, Republican of Maine, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, favorably reported from the committee of the House a joint resolution providing for the organization and enrollment of an auxiliary naval force, which shall form an inner line of defence. An amendment by the Senate committee provides that the force shall not exceed 3,000 men. The resolution was passed.

An Arctic School.

The schoolhouse that is nearest the north pole of any on this globe belongs to the United States government. It is at Point Barrow, in that far northern latitude where the American whalers are imprisoned in the ice and where there is only daylight for a couple of hours in midwinter.

The interesting native people called the Innuits live in villages scattered through northern Alaska. They are not a swarthy, squat people like the Eskimos of Greenland. On the contrary, they are a noble looking race, many of them more than six feet high and finely formed. They used to be prosperous, but the white man has invaded their country, captured the food and fur bearing animals and the whales and is even depleting their waters of the fish which form so large a part of their subsistence. The idea of Dr. Sheldon Jackson is that the introduction of great herds of reindeer through Alaska will preserve the Innuit race. They ought to be preserved certainly for their virtues, for a more honest, gentle and at the same time brave and manly race never lived. In winter they inhabit caves dug in the warm earth.

When the school was opened at Point Barrow, it became very popular almost at once. Old and young Innuits swarmed to the building. They came between 5 and 7 in the morning and remained all day, so anxious were they to learn. The teachers find that in one winter the Innuit children learn to read, write and speak English. It is to be observed, however, that a winter up there is considerably longer than it is in this part of the country. The young Innuits are very clever at drawing and on the whole are quite as intelligent as the average white American young one. These people can be far more easily civilized than the red Indian. We must not let them perish.

In the Sudan.

The stirring times in our own land have caused us to almost lose sight of the brilliant progress made by the British up the Nile and the consequently nearing doom of the Mahdi. The job General Gordon should have been helped by the British government to finish 14 years ago will be completed this year. Stranger even than the spectacle witnessed in the fighting on the Afghanistan border was that in the battle in which the dervish camp was attacked and routed by the English. The prophet's forces had come out from Khartum in the name of God to defeat the infidel invader. On the dervish side the hordes of fierce, swarthy barbarians waited in camp. On the British side the army marched up the Athara river to meet the dervish. The attacking army was picturesque in the extreme. It was made up almost equally of three races of men, and they all were full of valor and steadied by discipline. There were the British force with its serried ranks of white men, next the slender brown Egyptians, whose ancestors drove Moses into the Red sea, and finally the native Sudanese, thick lipped, woolly haired negroes. The trouncing this three branched host of fighting men gave the Mahdi is one he will not forget. Before midsummer the railroad to Berber will be completed. Then the final fall of Khartum will be only a matter of a little time.

An invention has been perfected for use among army bicyclists that is available and most desirable for civilian wheelmen also. The one thing lacking in the perfection of the bicycle is that when a rider wishes to stop to admire the scenery along the road or to swallow a cooling soda he must always be at the trouble of dismounting and mounting again, which in a small space is not always easy or convenient. The invention mentioned consists of a rest which can be utilized in a moment and which will keep the wheel steady in its place without falling over while the soldier cyclist can without leaving his seat load and fire his rifle as long as he likes. With this attachment one need not brace his bicycle against the curbstone, lean it against a tree or the side of a house or lay it sprawling upon the ground. He will simply adjust the said rest, which when not in use is fastened to the crank axle, and sit firmly and safe upon his bicycle till he is ready to move. The rest weighs a pound.

It is gratifying to know that by order of congress the ordinary seamen who participated in the great fight at Manilla will also each receive, as well as the officers, the bronze medal awarded to those who gained the victory. It is worth risking one's life and shedding one's blood to gain that medal. So long as the country stands these medals will be preserved by the families and descendants of Dewey's men. They are worth more than all the crests and coats of arms put together of the so called noble families of Europe.

By the recent order of the war department a regiment of volunteers will now be accepted as soon as its organization is complete in any state and it will be sent at once to the rendezvous designated without waiting till other regiments are filled and equipped.

The senate committee on naval affairs has been ordered to get information looking to the establishment of coaling stations in foreign waters for our naval vessels. Yes; it was high time.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

One of the best newspaper headlines we have seen lately appeared in Wednesday's Plainfield Press. It was, "Leiter Loaf is Coming—Bakers are Talking about Increasing Prices."—Cranford Chronicle.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

Michael Watson, the famous, Mike who has clashed numberless times with the police of Plainfield and always came out on top, paid a visit to The Press sanctum the other day to take exceptions to the report published about the trial of his brother Malachi for selling liquor illegally. Michael related the historical fact that there were Indian tribes, gypsy tribes and tribes of animals, but in all his born days he had never known of genuine civilized American families being called tribes. Therefore he did enter a most emphatic protest against the Watson family being called a tribe. Michael embarrassingly said that he had consulted his lawyer about the use of this word tribe and its application to himself and brother, and the legal gentleman had advised him to demand a retraction. Michael also said that his brother had never given a bond of $500 to keep an orderly place.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

On Monday evening next the American Stock Company will open for three nights and Wednesday matinee in a repertoire of plays. The opening bill will be "A Soldier's Vow," a strong comedy drama. It touched the Civil War, and tells a story of love and loyalty, interspersed with bright comedy and songs. This is the first visit of this well-known stock company to this city, but from all accounts it will prove one of the best attractions that have played this section this season, and will be a welcome treat to our theatre goers. The popularity of the American Stock Company, together with the popular prices 10, 20 and 30 cents, and matinee for 10 and 20 cents, is certainly an incentive to pack Music Hall to its capacity at each and every performance. There will be a special lady's ticket on Monday night. Holders of special tickets will be entitled to the best seat in the theatre by purchasing one 30 cent ticket.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Absorbs Like a Sponge

the only
Odorless Antiseptic
Dress Shield

Destroys all Odor of Perspiration.

Praise Amolin Dress Shields as we may, their merits will hardly be recognized and appreciated until tried. They are so different from others—covered with Amolin Lint that absorbs like a sponge, they are cool, comfortable and destroy all odor of perspiration. Amolin powder does the seemingly impossible. Destroys all odors instantly, yet is odorless itself and as harmless as dew. Used as a toilet or infant powder, or for chafing and prickly heat it is unequaled. It contains no talcum or other insoluable substances. We are sole agents.

"Oh, yes," he replied, "I have met him frequently on the frontier. Gordon W. Lillie, or Pawnee Bill as he is better known in the west, now has a large ranch in Oklahoma, at which I was once a guest. He was made White Chief of the Pawnees and commanded a company of Pawnee scouts who did splendid service for the Government. Afterwards, as Maj. Lillie, he was given a battalion of Indian police, or cavalry. The Major is one of the most noted characters of the west."—Cleveland, O., World.

Three ways

in which you can get a Piano from us:

ONE.—You can pay cash for it, and thus save the slight additional charge for time payments. The house that says: "No extra charge for instalments" is insincere; it has a lower price for cash, or else it doesn't want to sell except on time.

TWO.—Easy time payments; in most instances a first payment of TEN DOLLARS will secure a Piano at once. Later payments according to your ability.

THREE.—You can rent a new Upright of your own choosing at as low as $4. per month, and if you decide to purchase within a reasonable time we'll allow all the rent you have paid.

All three ways are good ways.

Silk Skirt for Dressy Wear.

Silk petticoats still hold first place in the line of underskirts and a dainty one for dressy wear is indispensable in every well-dressed woman's wardrobe. A lovely example is of rose pink and pale green striped taffeta, made quite tight fitting around the hips but flaring considerably at the foot. The bias flounce is elaborately trimmed with ruchings of white lace, which is arranged to form points on the flounce.

When many underskirts are worn they no longer all of them reach to the waist, as that would make the hips too large. The undermost skirt only reaches to the waist or better still, to the edge of the corset, and is then covered from below the hips downwards with as many skirts as one may wish, each skirt edged with a row of lace.

The Popular Corsage.

For the woman possessing a full figure the gowns to be worn with a vest are much more becoming, though not as novel as the round waist made with a yoke which is now so much the vogue.

A gown which is particularly stylish in appearance is made to be worn with a vest. Its material is a moderately smooth cloth in a medium shade of blue. The novelty of the corsage is the revers which are made to come to a point on each side of the vest. The smallest and largest revers is of black velvet while the one in the middle is of white cloth. The vest of cream colored embroidery is draped in the center with white chiffon.

Novel Rose Colored Frock.

The number of different styles in fancy waists is simply wonderful. Each day brings forward something new and the latest are fully as dainty as their predecessors.

An original and striking gown is of figured rose colored challie. The bolice is particularly fashionable, having the becoming surplice effect, opening over a guimpe of tucked silk muslin. The corsage, made with a slightly bloused front, has a full piece of the material brought from the right shoulder to fasten on the left side below the bust under a large ribbon rosette. Two finely pleated frills trims the surplice. The sleeves slightly fulled over a tight lining, have a small puff at the shoulder.

Stripes in Favor.

Bayadere stripes are greatly in evidence among the new fabrics for spring and summer gowns, these pretty effects appearing among the dainty textiles like crepe de Chine, etamine grenadine, and batistes, as well as in the fine of heavier weaves in light wool, and silk and wool mixtures, and the diaphanous muslins, chiffons, and other transparent fabrics used alike by modeste and milliner.

The prevailing style of bodice in thin gowns is the plain back with a little fullness at the belt, a medium chiffon or lawn tucked and trimmed with lace insertion. The sleeves may be of white, too, if you like. A frill of lace, embroidered batiste, or ruches of the muslin finish the shoulders.

Parasols are Smaller than Last Year.

Never were parasols so sumptuous as those now being exhibited for early summer. The style seems to be to have them much smaller than in former seasons and many of them are tub shaped. Another fad of the moment is for grotesque handles for umbrellas and parasols. Heads of animals are especially high in favor and these are realistically colored, save only the cat, that feline example finding expression in a pretty brown stained wood.

Among the novelties one of the most attractive is of white silk with ruching of black chiffon around the edge. Another style which is very popular is of pale pink silk trimmed with tiny white satin ribbon ruffles all the way up to the top. A pretty parasol is of cream duchesse lace made over a bright foundation. Coaching and carriage parasols are made to match the dress with which they are worn and are certainly very dainty and smart.

A pretty rosette usually finishes the top of these parasols and another is put inside to match the outer one. On the best made models the rods are covered with narrow silk ribbon.

Hints for the Home.

Mattresses, pillows, and bolsters should be periodically sent to the cleaners to be taken to pieces and cleaned. It is not good for health to use them for years uncleaned, as most people have them.

Do not let your neighbors have to complain of your gate squeaking for want of a few drops of oil applied to the joint. It is a most aggravating noise.

No other large city is as quiet as Berlin. Railway engines are not allowed to blow their whistles within the city limits, and the man whose wagon gearing is loose and rattling is subject to a fine. Strangest of all, piano playing is regulated in Berlin. Before a certain hour in the day and after a certain hour in the night, the piano must be silent in that musical city. Even during playing hours a fine is imposed for mere banging on the piano.

New Use for Bird Cages.

A gentleman who went out with Stanley to Africa, took with him a number of bird cages, in which he hoped to bring back some specimens of the rarer birds of the interior. Owing to the death of his carriers, he was obliged to throw away the bird cages with a number of other articles. These were seized by the natives in great glee, though they did not know what to do with them; but they eventually decided that the small circular cages were a kind of headgear, and, knocking off the bottom, the chiefs strutted about in them with evident pride. Another chief, thinking himself more wise than the others, and having seen the white men feed at table out of dishes, thought they were receptacles for food, and took his meals from one, ceremoniously opening and shutting the door between each mouthful.

Spiral Railway Tower.

A spiral railway tower is being planned as one of the features of the forthcoming Pan-American Exhibition at Niagara Falls. The building will be erected on Cayuga Island, and the general design is as follows: A steel skeleton tower, about 500 feet high and 30 feet diameter at the base, and 50 feet in diameter 400 feet above the base. Around the erection, supported by strong brackets, a spiral railway will be constructed, which will pass ten times round the tower in reaching the 400 feet platform. The motive safety appliances will be used in connection with the track. The spiral railway will be double, providing for independent up and down tracks, 20 feet apart. It is estimated that this

Tulle Veils for the Bride.

The bride who cannot wear an heirloom of lace for her wedding veil may console herself that inexpensive tulle is much more effective and becoming. In arranging this, one point should be born in mind by the hair-dresser of the bride, be she professional or the deft-fingered sister or friend who often elects to perform this gracious service on that momentous occasion. No matter what the prevailing coiffure is, the hair should be dressed high to hold the veil. A low arrangement may be more becoming without the veil, but it will be found that only a high effect is possible with the tulle drapery.

To Remove a Splinter.

A bit of home surgery practised when a splinter is driven into a child's hand particularly deep is its extraction by steam. A bottle with a sufficiently wide mouth is filled two-thirds with very hot water, and the mouth is placed under the injured spot. The suction draws the flesh down when a little pressure is used, and the steam, in a moment or two, extracts inflammation and splinter together. This is very efficacious when the offending substance has been in for several hours, long enough to have started up some of its evil consequences.

A French doctor has invented an electric helmet, inside of which is a small motor that vibrates strips of steel, the motor making 600 turns per minute. This whizzing is supposed to cure nervous headache, and put the sufferer to sleep.

Bayern.

München. Welcher Andrang zum Postfache in Bayern herrscht, geht aus einer Bekanntgabe der Direktion der bayerischen Posten und Telegraphen hervor, wonach eine Aufnahme von Anwärtern für den mittleren Post- und Telegraphendienst voraussichtlich erst wieder im Jahre 1901 stattfinden wird.—Die Zahl der im städtischen Leihhause zu München verpfändeten Fahrräder nimmt ganz ungewöhnlich zu, so daß, wie Rechtsrath Heilgemayr im Magistrat mittheilte, in der Leihanstalt München 22 etwa 1400 Räder versetzt sind. Heilgemayr beantragte daher, für diese Fahrzeuge einen Aufbewahrungsverschlag mit 3800 Mark Kostenaufwand herzustellen. Der Antrag des Rechtsraths Heilgemayr wurde angenommen.

Lohr. Das dem Schiffer Molitor hier gehörige große Marktschiff gerieth beim Anfahren auf einen Anker bei der hiesigen Brücke und wurde leck. Die ganze Ladung, bestehend in Zucker, Bier u. s. w., ist bis auf einen geringen Theil verloren, da das Schiff auf den Grund gerieth.

Nürnberg. Die Terrainspekulation hat sich hier in einer noch nicht dagewesenen Weise entwickelt. Die Landleute in der Umgegend machen hierbei sehr gute Geschäfte, da Aecker von keineswegs guter Qualität zu Preisen angekauft werden, die man noch vor wenigen Jahren für rein unmöglich hielt.

Pfaffenhofen. In der Arlmühle vergnügten sich sechs Knaben mit Kahnfahren und kamen dabei in den sogenannten Mühlschuß; plötzlich schlug das Fahrzeug um und die sämmtlichen Insassen fielen in's Wasser. Während sich vier retten konnten, mußten der 12jährige Amtsgerichtsdienerssohn Feichtner und der 13jährige Postbotenssohn Moser ihr Leben einbüßen.

Prien. Neulich in der Morgenfrühe erschlug ein Schreinergehilfe mit einem Holzprügel seinen Nebengehilfen im Bette. Dieser war sofort eine Leiche. Der Thäter wurde verhaftet.

Regensburg. Einer der gefährlichsten und gefürchtetsten Wilderer der Regensburger Gegend, der 28 Jahre alte Maurer Andreas Marchner von Graß, wurde von der hiesigen Strafkammer wegen unberechtigter gewerbsmäßiger Jagdausübung und Widerstands gegen Forstbeamte zu einem Jahr sechs Monaten Gefängniß und Stellung unter Polizeiaufsicht verurtheilt.

Tölz. Das Hotel Kaiserhof ist um 180,000 Mark an einen Herrn aus Stuttgart verkauft worden, und das reizend gelegene Restaurant Kogel hat eine Weinwirthswittwe aus Augsburg um die Summe von 42,000 Mark erworben.

Würzburg. Der unterfränkische Weinbauverein beschloß in seiner Generalversammlung, sich an der Pariser Weltausstellung des Jahres 1900 nicht zu betheiligen. Interessant war die Mittheilung, daß der Weinbau in Unterfranken seit dem Jahre 1838 um fast 70,000 Morgen, nämlich von 121,000 auf 52,000 Morgen zurückgegangen ist.

[OFFICIAL]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, held on Thursday, May 5th, 1898, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present except Freeholder Swain—1.

The minutes of the previous meeting, (reading of bills being omitted), were on motion approved as read.

The minutes of the adjourned meeting of April 14, 1898, were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From John C. Blore, as follows:

May 4, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—I beg leave to tender you herewith a renewal of my bond as warden of the Union County Jail. You will observe that it bears date, February 1, 1898, which is the date of the expiration of my previous bond, and is conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of said office for such time as I may hold the same. Trusting that it will prove acceptable to your honorable body, I remain,

Yours truly,
John C. Blore.

Freeholder Bruchlacher moved that the communication and bond be received and referred to the legal questions committee. Freeholder King asked if such a reference wouldnot act as a recognition of Mr. Blore's status as warden of the jail.

The motion on roll-call was lost by the following vote, viz: Ayes—Freeholders Brucklacher, Burnett, Clark, King and Miller, 5. Nays—Director Hubbard, Freeholders Ehrlich, Farrell, Krouse, Littell, Ogden, Robison, Roll, Tier, Wall, 10. Not voting—Freeholder Hulskamper, 1. Absent—Freeholder Swain, 1.

Disbursements.....	484,620 60
Balance in banks.....	$ 30,319 19

(Signed),
George W. Littell,
Benjamin King,
Henry Krouse,
Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Farrel. the report was received and placed on file.

By the committee on Legal Questions.

May 5, 1898.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Regarding the claim of Mr. Jesse Hazel, we would respectfully report that we have inspected the premises where the alleged accident occurred and find a good roadbed at that point, of from twenty-five to thirty feet in width, and fail to see how the county can be liable for any accident occurring thereat, and would recommend that the County Attorney notify the attorney for the claimant that the County of Union disclaims any liability by reason of the accident.

Respectfully submitted,
Christian Ehrlich,
John H. Tier,
John Farrell,
Jacob Brucklacher,
Committee.

Freeholder Clark moved that the report be received and recommendation adopted. Which was so ordered without dissent.

Freeholder Brucklacher asked if the county road committee had any report to make on the Westfield avenue trolley road matter.

Freeholder Roll replied that the committee was not yet ready to report in full. However, the committee with the engineer, had gone over the route in question, and maps prepared by the engineers were ready He moved that the Board take a recess of twenty minutes in order that members might examine said maps and have the same explained by the engineer who were present. The motion was adopted without dissent.

After recess, roll-call showed all members present, except Freeholder Swain, 1.

Freeholder Robison moved that the report made by Mr. Roll be accepted as a report of "progress" on behalf of the county road committee, which was so ordered.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Ehrlich:

Resolved, That the committee on Rahway drawbridge be empowered to make a contract with George W Heath as bridgetender for one year, commencing May 1st, 1898, at a salary of $200 per annum, payable quarterly.

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll-call it was unanimously adopted.

By Freeholder Tier:

Whereas, The Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union do not recognize John C. Blore as warden of the county jail; therefore be it

Resolved, That the bond this day submitted by said Blore to this Board be forthwith returned to him by the clerk of this Board, together with a copy of this resolution.

Freeholder Robison moved the adoption of the resolution.

Freeholder Brucklacher objected. He did not think that the passage of the resolution was necessary as the matter had been disapproved of by the action of the Board on Mr. Blore's bond

Freeholder Robison stated that in justice to both Mr Blore and the Board the resolution was he thought a proper one, as the matter was one that should be disposed of either one one way or the other at once.

By request, County Attorney Coddington gave it as his opinion that the retention of Mr. Blore's bond by the Board would be a recognition of Mr. Blore as warden of the jail.

The resolution was then on roll-call adopted by the following vote, viz:

Ayes—Director Hubbard, Freeholders Ehrlich, Farrell, King, Krouse, Littell, Miller, Ogden, Robison, Roll, Tier, Wahl—12

Nays—Freeholders Brucklacher, Burnett, Clark, Hulskamper—4

Absent—Freeholder Swain—1.

By Freeholder Littell:

Resolved, That when this meeting of the Board adjourns, it will adjourn to meet on Tuesday, May 10, 1898, at 2:30 p. m.

On motion of Freeholder King, the resolution was adopted without dissent.

Freeholder Littell said that he had been informed that "blue prints" of the engineer's maps for widening Westfield and North avenues, could be procured, and he suggested that three (3) of such "blue prints" be procured for each member of the Board, at a cost not exceeding $20.

Freeholder Farrell moved that the sum of $12 be expended for the purchase of said "blue prints," which motion on roll call was adopted unanimously.

JUGGLED THE SPINAL CORD.

Remarkable Feat of a Surgeon Performed to Remove the Effect of a Bullet.

Dr. J. W. Norris, of Palmyra, Mo., is able to say that his spinal cord has been lifted entirely out of place, examined and put back again without permanent injury resulting

An instrument of the most powerful X ray type had failed to locate a bullet which had been fired into Dr. Norris's back, and so he was taken to the Baptist Hospital in St. Louis. Here the doctors said the chances were that his life could be saved if he could endure the operation to which medical science has given the frightful name of laminectomy. Dr. A. C. Bernays performed the operation.

The patient, although he knew the operation was a life and death matter, was cool and collected. An anaesthetic was administered. Gently the patient was placed in position, and in less time than it takes to tell it the keen knife in the hands of Dr. Bernays had made its way through the flesh. Finally the backbone was reached and the flesh on each side of the long cut was laid back, exposing seven or eight inches of the vertebrae to view.

The delicate work of removing quarter sections of the joints in the backbone so as to expose the spinal cord began. With an instrument made for the purpose Dr. Bernays cut out a thick wedge-shaped section of one of the backbone joints, leaving exposed plainly to view the spinal cord, inclosed in its filmy sac. Another and another of these wedge-shaped pieces were taken out, until about five inches of the spinal cord were exposed to view, sections of bone having been taken from four of the vertebrae.

The lungs and heart were both perceptibly affected, and the patient for a time seemed on the point of collapse; but the dangerous symptoms ceased, and the operation was then proceeded with. It was found that the damage done by the bullet resulted from its passage through the bone, and that the ball itself was not affecting the patient in any way. Finally, Dr. Bernays lifted the spinal column entirely out of its bed in the bone a distance of five inches.

It was found that the ball, in its passage, had pressed a portion of the bone into the spinal canal in such a way as to press heavily against the spinal cord and was the probable cause of the total paralysis of Dr. Norris's lower limbs. This obstruction, which was about the size of a pea, was removed with a sharp bone chisel and forceps. As the bullet was not thought to be doing any damage, it was not removed.

After the bony obstruction in the spinal canal had been removed, the spinal cord was put back into place, the vertebrae were replaced, the flesh put back and the incision sewed up. The operation took just one hour and a quarter, and after it was over the patient recovered sufficiently from the shock to carry on a conversation.

SOME QUEER FUELS.

In Egypt Dried Mummies Are Used for Running Trains.

Some of the materials used for fuel in various parts of the world seem extraordinary. In certain shoe-making towns in Massachusetts, such as Lynn, there are some very poor people who burn nothing else but leather chips from one end of the winter to the other. They get them from the factories by the wheelbarrow load.

Such chips, of course, smoulder with a great deal of smoke. They form incandescent masses which have to be broken up from time to time with the poker.

In Egypt it is said that mummies, chiefly those of cats, ibises and other animals held sacred by the ancient inhabitants have been employed for running trains between Cairo and Alexandria.

Dried fishes, particularly the salmon, have been, and perhaps are to this day, employed to some extent as fuel by the Indians in parts of British Columbia. They contain enough oil and muscular fibre to burn well.

A Rich Gift to the Queen.

The Parsees of Bombay have sent as a gift to Queen Victoria a casket representing, in rich gold and silver embossed work, an old Persian palace. On the palace are seen in relief Persian figures in ancient national costume, while the antique batons or maces with bull's heads, the old-fashioned war clubs, form the extreme corners of the casket, which is about twenty inches long, half as wide and half as high. The miniature palace is crowned with three figures symbolic of Parsee worship. They are pure gold. A Parsee king is praying before a fire altar, and in the center is seen an angel. Kneeling elephants form the four feet of the casket, tracing an allusion to the period when, driven from Persia by the worshippers of Islam, the Parsees found a resting place in India.

SPORTS

AROUND THE BASES.

Manager Mumford, of the Crescents is in hard luck. He made great preparations for the baseball game today only to find that his efforts were in vain. This morning he received the following telegram from the manager of the All Stars who were to play here this afternoon:—

"Cannot get team together. Sorry to disappoint. John F. Leary."

Mr. Mulford called up Leary on the telephone and begged him to bring some kind of team, but Leary said that it would absolutely impossible. Mr. Mumford tried to get a game with some other team but could not so the game is postponed.

The Plainfield Law Debating Society now sports two baseball teams, composed each of six members of the organization. The first team is captained by V. Willie Nash, and the other players on the nine are Fred Van Liew, David Wyckoff, Charles Dunlap, Herbert Rockfellow and Harvey Linbarger. The second team is made up of Rufus Larew, captain, Kenneth Anderson, Edward Baker, Harry De Meza, Claude Rosebury and Charles McCann. The first game will be played on the morning of Decoration Day.

BASKET BALL

The Elizabeth teachers' team is trying to arrange a game with the girls of the senior class of the Plainfield High School.

The basket ball game between the girls of the Plainfield High School and of Cranford, which was to have taken place this afternoon, was called off. There was a long series of negotiations which ended in nothing. The weather is really too warm for play, but the Plainfield girls were still anxious to have one more chance at the Cranford team on the grounds of the latter's choosing so that they might not have the excuse of being unable to play on strange grounds. The Cranford team wanted to play in the gymnasium of the Cranford Athletic Club. They would not agree to outdoor playing, which was also viewed with disfavor by the Plainfield team. There was some difficulty in getting the gymnasium for the afternoon. The Plainfield team agreed to any afternoon or Saturday morning. Then the Cranford girls suggested Saturday evening and that the game be followed by a a dance The Plainfield basket ball players did not like that plan, so the Cranford management sent word that the game will have to be postponed until next fall when the teams hope to meet again.

GOLF.

This afternoon the monthly handicap golf contest is taking place on the Plainfield avenue grounds.

GRANTED TROLLEY FRANCHISE.

The Westfield Solons Allow the Application of a Private Corporation.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 21.—At the meeting of the Township Committee last evening A. A. Gaddis, of the Elizabeth and Westfield Street Railway Company, asked that the trolley franchise now pending before the Committee be taken from the table and put on a second and final reading.

A lengthy discussion followed, the Committee wanting an amendment inserted compelling the company to build a cross-town line from Mountainside to Rahway. Mr. Gaddis stated that the cross-town line would no doubt be built at the time the other line was constructed, but that it would be impossible for that company to insert such a clause.

On motion of Committeeman Harpen the ordinance was taken up for a second reading. Chairman Embree voting against it. On motion of Committeeman Dennis it was accorded a second reading. On motion of Committeeman Harden the franchise was granted on a final reading.

A PECULIAR SECT.

They Believe in Running Away to Some Lonely Place When About to Die.

A curious sect in Russia is that known as the Runners, because its members run away like a sick animal to some lonely spot to die when disease overtakes them. Another is known as the Runner-Smotherers. When any member of this extraordinary sect is seized with a mortal or supposedly mortal illness, instead of being allowed to run off to die he is put out of the world by a woman whose title is the smotherer. The ceremony is, for safety's sake, generally performed, not in the victim's house, but in the common praying room, a secret room conveniently situated to escape the prying eyes of authority, and provided with numerous exits in case of a surprise. While psalms are sung and the censer swung, the old woman who usually holds the honorable office of smotherer performs her task with a small cushion held over the sick person's nose and mouth, the body being afterward secretly buried in some remote spot, whither it is conveyed under a load of some innocent matter, such as hay.—New York Tribune.

Conflicting Legal Styles.

A good anecdote is told of the two celebrated barristers, Balfour and Erskine. Balfour's style was gorgeously verbose. Erskine's on the contrary, was crisp and vigorous. Coming into court one day Erskine noticed that Balfour's ankle was bandaged.

"Why, what's the matter?" asked Erskine.

Instead of replying, "I fell from a gate," Balfour answered in his usual roundabout manner:

"I was taking a romantic ramble in my brother's garden," he said, "and on coming to a gate I discovered that I had to climb over it, by which I came in contact with the first bar and grazed the epidermis of my leg, which has caused a slight extravasion of the blood."

"You may thank your lucky stars," replied Erskine, "that your brother's gate was not as lofty as your style, or you would have broken your neck."—San Francisco Wave.

ANTIPATHY AMONG ANIMALS.

Different Species of Beasts Entertain a Dislike for Each Other.

The likes and dislikes of animals are unaccountable. Some horses take a violent prejudice against certain men, even though they are treated kindly and though the man's moral character is fair. Between the cat and dog there is a violent antipathy, which, however, is not infrequently displayed by mutual respect, and even affection in exceptional cases. The elephant hates dogs and rats. Cows dislike dogs, and so do sheep, and, what seems stranger, are particularly partial to bears. On the other hand, horses loathe and detest camels and refuse to be decently civil to them after long acquaintance. They even hate the place where camels have been, which seems to be carrying race prejudice to an extreme. —Hartford Courant.

Sherman Teased His Physician.

Once when Gen. Sherman had been under the care of a physician for some time, he said:

"Doctor, I don't seem to be getting any better, for all your medicine."

"Well, General," replied the doctor, jocosely, "perhaps you had better take Shakespeare's advice, and 'throw physic to the dogs.'"

"I would, doctor," replied the sick man, as he turned his head on the pillow—"I would, but there are a number of valuable dogs in this neighborhood." —San Francisco Argonaut.

Another Theory About the Fly.

Three times science has revised its explanation of how a fly crawls on the ceiling or a window-pane. Originally the fly was said to have air pumps on its feet, but this was disproved when the insect ran up the side of an exhausted glass receiver. It was asserted next that the fly's feet exuded a gum, but now the discovery is announced that a tiny drop of water instead of gum, combined with capillary attraction, affords the true answer to the problem. In other words, the tickling sensations of a fly are imparted by a sort of moist brush on its feet. —St. Louis Globe Democrat.

GREAT BATTLE COMING; CUBANS GROW ACTIVE.

Nothing Definite From the Fleets in the West Indies.

The Insurgents Are Reported to Have Attacked Spanish Forces on North and South Coasts—Another Prize Captured—Italy Declares Blockade Ineffective.

INSURGENTS AT BATTLE.

They Drove Spanish Troops Along the Coast Toward Havana.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Key West, May 23, 12:36 p. m.—Key West is in a state of general expectancy. Nothing definite has yet been heard from the fleets. Only two ships are here now and they are coaling as rapidly as possible.

The British steamer Ardanmor was brought in this morning by the armed tug Osceola while attempting to run the blockade with a load of cattle and lumber.

A press despatch boat arrived in port this morning with an account of an engagement between the Cuban insurgents and the Spanish troops.

The battle took place on the coast fifteen miles west of Mantanzas in plain view of the ships of the blockading squadron.

There were about 300 men engaged on each side. The firing continued until after dark. Next morning a squadron of Spanish cavalry and a battalion of infantry were observed retreating along the beach in the direction of Havana.

It is believed that the Cubans are pushing rapidly toward the coast with the intention of joining the American forces when they land.

INSURGENTS ARE ACTIVE.

They Attacked a Spanish Garrison Near Santiago de Cuba.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Madrid, May 23, 10 a. m.—The Spanish government is preparing another fleet of twelve ships for coast defence. The ships will be mostly auxiliary cruisers.

A despatch from Havana says that the insurgents attacked the Spanish garrison at Palmo Soriano, twenty-five miles northwest of Santiago de Cuba.

The insurgents were reported to be in force and used rapid-fire guns. They are reported to have been repulsed with slight Spanish loss. The firing from the rapid-fire guns was wild.

WHERE ARE THE FLEETS?

Invasion of Cuba Is Again Said To Be Near At Hand.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Washington, May 23, 11:20 a. m.—The uncertainty about the present location of the fleet of the Spanish Admiral Cervera and the American warships under Rear Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley still continues.

If the navy department does know anything about them, it has not devulged the information to the public. The three fleets are gathered somewhere in the West Indies and a meeting and subsequent engagement seem imminent.

Military experts believe that this week will see the army of invasion at Havana or on its way there. It is known that the Government was in a position to transport twenty-five thousand troops from Tampa to Cuba in thirty-six hours.

Some experts are inclined to believe that a portion of the troops have already started and that the information is being kept back by the federal authorities until the expedition shal have safely been landed.

A shipment of 150 thirteen-inch projectiles have been ordered to Key West at once. It is suposed that they will be used for the big rifles on the Oiegon which is expected to reach that port in twenty-four hours.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance at Hand.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

London, May 23, 12:05 p. m—The Vienna correspondent of The Daily Telegram says that confirmation has been given from well-informed quarters to the rumor that the friendly advances of England to Japan had already achieved tangible results.

It is believed that an Anglo-Japanese understanding has been reached comprehending the consequences of the Spanish-American war as establishing the balance of power in the Orient.

The Dixie Ready for Action.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Newport News, May 23, 10:07 a. m. The auxiliary cruiser Dixie sailed this morning. She was manned by the Maryland Naval Reserves. She carried a thousand six-inch shells in her magazine. The gun decks had been strengthened with steel plates.

New York Cavalry Leaves.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Jersey City, May 23, 10 a. m—Troops A and C, of the New York volunteers, boarded a special train on the Jersey Central railroad at seven o'clock this morning for Falls Church, Va.

To Coal at St. Pierre.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

St. Pierre, Martinique, May 23, 12:23 p. m.—The Spanish consul here was notified this morning that Admiral Cervera's fleet would return here to coal. An unknown warship was seen off the southwest coast.

The Government declares that the Spanish ships shall not coal in this harbor. The English collier, Twickenham, is waiting here with a supply of coal for the Spanish.

The Oregon at Key West.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

New York, May 23, 1:21 p. m—A special to the New York Tribune from Key West says that the battleship Oregon has arrived there.

New York, May 23, 2:30 p. m—The report that the Oregon has reached Key West has been confirmed.

Italy Shows Her Hand.

(From the Union Associated Press.)

Paris, May 23, 1:30 p. m.—A despatch from Rome says that Italy has protested against the Cuban blockade declaring it ineffective.

THE WRATH OF SPAIN MAY EVEN PRAISE GOD

Blessings of Tne Present War Dwelt on in the Pulpit.

REV. MR. SCHENCK'S WORDS.

TREATMENT IS SEVERE, BUT BENEFITS WILL COME TO SPAIN.

The Reverend Speaker Says That Spain's Cup of Iniquity is Full—Her Victims Cry Not in Vain Now, and in Losing Some of Her Land Spain May Find Its True Life and Bring About a Happy and Contented People—Blessings Will Come to Cuba in Her Independence and Freedom.

"The Blessings of the Present War" was the subject of a soul-stirring and patriotic sermon preached by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday morning. The edifice was filled with worshippers who listened attentively to the earnest words of the reverend gentleman. Dr. Schenck's text was the 10th verse of the 76th Psalm, "Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee; the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain."

In opening the discourse the speaker said that there is no more definitely proven fact than that God is able to make the wickedness of man illustrate His mercy. The wrath of man gives occasion for great deeds on God's part—deeds which will bring Him praise and honor. The fall of man was most disastrous, but it became the occasion of redemption. The persecution of the church in all ages was heartless, but it caused its world-wide extension.

The corruption of the church led to the reformation. The people of God, therefore, are not to be terrified by the show of wrath. Let them rather praise God for the blessed alchemy by which He transmutes the wrath of man into the praise.

Their principle, continued the speaker, finds a present-day illustration in the events which are absorbing so much of our time and interest. There is another tide to the present war than that of its actual and possible evils. God can make even the wrath of Spain to praise Him; He can bring blessing out of calamity.

Noting the possible blessings, the speaking said, first that benefits would could come to Spain. The treatment is severe but it is the only kind that will avail. There are some some sores that cannot be poulticed. The surgery of the sword is sometimes necessary to a nation's life. The crisis in Spain's affair has been reached, her cup of iniquity is full. Her past and the present interest against her. Her victims of her cruelty and rapacity, constituting an innumerable host, cry out against her. From the land of Mexico and Peru; from the half of Europe; from out of the Netherlands; from the battleship Maine and from Cuba there comes the protesting spirit. But her victims cry not longer in vain; her Nemesis is overtaking her. But even in disaster there may reside a blessing. In losing her land she may find her true life in the supremacy of law, in commercial and agricultural prosperity, in a happy and contented people in freedom of the press, speech and religion.

Again blessings will come to Cuba in her independence and freedom. That little isle, which Columbus pronounced "the fairest the sun shone upon," will quickly survive when the heel of the oppressor is no longer upon its neck. Cuba asks for nothing more than a chance. Untold wealth lies unturned and unextracted in her soil. The people desire to govern themselves in a manner congenial to the majority, with only those burdens of taxation which progress entails. That which has made our nation great will raise Cuba from the prostration of weakness, animate her with noble impulse, develop her in virtue and goodness—the religion of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Again, the United States shall not go unblessed. Unselfishness and magnanimity shall have their reward. The war will bring a blessing to us in the shape of a survival of national consciousness—of an awakening of national life and energy. It will arouse us from the sluggishness which a period of peace and prosperity always begets and imparts purpose and aim to our life.

It will weld our people together in one bond of union and patriotism. Already it has given an armistice to the strife of class against class. Rich and poor, capital and labor, corporate and private interests vie with each

BIG SCRAP AT 'PLAINS.

A PARTY OF PLAINFIELDERS THROWN OUT OF EMERY'S HOTEL.

People Coming from Church Subjected to the Disgraceful Scene—A Club Used With Bad Effect on Some Heads.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 23.—A gang of sporty men from Plainfield, whose visits to this place every Sunday are very regular for the purpose of quenching their thirst with the fiery liquor or amber-hued beer, became involved in a loud mouthed scrap at Emery's hotel last night, and as a result the peaceable and law-abiding citizens of the 'Plains were subjected to a decidedly disgraceful and unseemly scene.

The scrap occurred about 9 o'clock, just after the churches had dismissed their congregations, and many worshipers on their way home were subjected to hearing the vile talk and cursing which was screamed out in their anger. The Press correspondent does not know just how the scrap commenced, but from the manner in which Emery ejected the crowd into the street the Plainfielders must have been the aggressors.

The Plainfielders were thrown out into the street in an unceremonious manner, and in the melee a club was used with rather painful effect on several heads, one man in particular receiving several bad cuts. After indulging in many threats the Plainfielders left.

The people of this place are thoroughly disgusted at the manner in which the Union county authorities permit the continual violation of the excise laws on Sunday, the 'Plains seeming to be the mecca to which a large number of drinking men wend their way every Sabbath. It is generally conceded that Proprietor Emery conducts as orderly a place as anyone does who caters to a Sunday trade, but such scenes as that of last night cannot occur often without some sort of a vigorous protest being made.

CHURCH FREE OF DEBT.

FIRST M. E. SOCIETY CLEAR AWAY A $2,000 OBLIGATION.

Besides That Sum the Members Also Contribute $1,000 With Which to Make Some Repairs That Have Long Been Needed.

The indebtedness of the First M. E. church was entirely cleared away yesterday and a sufficient amount raised to also provide for a number of necessary repairs. An indebtedness of $2,000 has been hanging over the church for some time and it has been the wish of the members of the church to raise enough money to pay it off for some time.

About three weeks ago, it was deemed that the proper time had come and the matter was agitated. The trustees decided that it was necessary to make some improvements in the building itself. The church is one of the most poorly lighted in the city. It was the wish of the trustees to substitue electricity for gas. It was also considered necessary to wire Vincent chapel for electric lights at the same time.

Heretofore hand power has been used to move the organ pump. It was in the line of economy to put in a water motor. At the same time the church will be connected with the city water sytem. Necessary repairs will also be made to the organ when the motor is placed in position.

The committee of the trustees has been at work among the members of the church securing subscriptions. The repairs were estimated to cost about $1.000, making a total of $3.000, which they wished to raise.

At the close of the service yesterday morning, the matter was brought before the congregation. Already over $2,000 had been pledged. A number of new subscriptions were also given, making a total of $3,067.25 pledged. There are still several more of the congregation who are to be heard from and it is expected that the amount will reach $3,100.

The committee in charge of the repairs will then issue specifications at once and the contract for the repairs will be given out.

WILL ASSESS AT REAL VALUE.

Somerset Board of Assessors Don't Care to Meet the Grand Jury.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 23.—A meeting of the Board of Assessors of Somerset county was held in this city Friday morning. A resolution was passed declaring that all property should be assessed at its true and proper valuation. This action was taken as a result of the presentment brought against the Board of Assessors of Bergen county for not doing so.

Rev. Mr. Menger, of Philadelphia, will preach in the German Lutheran church on Grove street tonight.

A FIGHT FROM WAR TALK

NICK KELLY WAYLAID AND BEATEN SATURDAY NIGHT.

Kelly Thought to Have Struck Lewis Durand Several Days Ago for Having Said Something About England and Ireland.

Because Lewis F. Durand was outspoken in his loyalty to the United States, and made use of an expression more forcible than polite in regard to England and Ireland, he was struck in the face by some hot-headed foreigner in a saloon a few nights ago. Durand was not able to tell the City Judge who had struck him, when he was arrainged in the City Court this morning, but Nick Kelly accused him and Thomas and Phil Sheridan with waylaying him in the Boulevard Saturday night and assaulting him on the supposition that Kelly was the guilty one.

It was about eleven o'clock when the alleged assault occurred. Officer Myers was patroling his beat near Plainfield avenue and Third street. Suddenly he heard the sounds if a struggle, and then he saw Kelly on his back on the ground with the two Sheridan boys and Durand on top of him. All four were arrested and locked up to await the arrival of the judge this morning.

Durand was loud in his denials of having been anywhere near the fight, and claimed that he had nothing to do with it. But Kelly and Myers both declared that Durand was the one who struck the first blow so the Judge pronounced him guilty. The two Sheridan boys were fined $10 each, and sentence in the cases of Kelly and Durand was reserved for one week.

NEW KLONDIKE TOWN.

MISS BOARD EXPLAINS ABOUT HER GREAT SCHEME.

The Venturesome Metuchen Lady Will Establish and Name a Town After Herself—No Liquor to be Sold There.

Miss Mary M. Board, the woman lawyer, of Metuchen, who is organizing a party of women to invade the Klondike region and help establish Board City, named after herself, has interested a number of venturesome Plainfield women in the scheme and Saturday night she delivered an address in the Revere House before an audience that contained the wives of a number of influential and wealthy New York business men. Though it is said that there are several Plainfield women who are contemplating joining Miss Board's expedition, there are others who will not go but will lend financial aid and influence to the scheme.

Miss Board displayed maps of the proposed Board City, situated in the Copper river region, and explained how she intended to make the place a model and successful one for a mining region. Miss Board said that it was her intention to populate Board City with the better class of people and to keep out the rough element. One of the strict regulations of Board City, she said, would be the prohibition of the sale of intoxicants, as she considered that the sale of liquor was one of the most evil effects of towns established in mining countries. It was her plan to organize a public school the first thing on her arrival in the Klondike region, and thus make it a center of the respectable and substantial gold hunters.

DR. RAYMOND PREACHED.

Former Plainfield Pastor in the Crescent Avenue Church Pulpit.

Dr. V. V. Raymond, president of Union College, formerly pastor of the Trinity Reformed church, preached in the Crescent Avenue church yesterday at morning and evening services. For his morning sermon he had a double text taken from John: "Come, let us go hence," "Many things have I yet to tell you which ye cannot bear to hear now." A number of his Plainfield friends were present at both services and were glad to greet him at the close of the service. He expressed his pleasure at being in Plainfield once more and referred to the many happy times that were associated with the place in his mind. He was looking well.

Ross Berates Officer Cash.

William Ross, the Park avenue restaurant keeper, was arraigned before the City Judge this morning charged by Officer Cash with calling him vile names and with cursing and swearing around his restaurant. Ross pleaded not guilty and his trial was set down for next Monday morning. Ross claims that Cash stands around his place of business all day long just to see and hear what he can.

—The Junior Endeavor Society will visit the Senior Society of Trinity Reformed church tonight at their meeting. Visitors are always welcome.

HYMEN'S MAY DUTIES.

FINISHED THE WORK WHICH COY CUPID STARTED.

Two Employes of the United States Wedded at the Same Moment Yesterday Afternoon to the Girls of Their Choice

Cupid makes his appearance in some very strange places sometimes and during the past few months has been lurking around the United States Express Company's office in this city. During his stay there he captured two hearts, and yesterday afternoon there were two weddings as a consequence. The grooms were William J. Hartpence and William Albert, both drivers for the company.

The hour set was 3 o'clock, and at that hour two ministers were officiating and two pairs of hearts were made to beat as one.

The wedding of Miss Christina C. Svenson to William Albert was solemized at the home of the groom, 340 East Fourth street, by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church. The bridemaid was Miss Kittie Albert, a sister to the groom, and the best man was Randolph Giles, one of the groom's fellow workmen. The bride was prettily dressed in white satin and chiffon and the bridemaid wore white organdie over blue. The bride carried white bridal roses and the bridemaid lilies-of-the-valley.

The couple have taken up their residence with the groom's family. The presents given to the young couple were very nice. Chief among them was a handsome clock which the employes of the express office gave.

William J. Hartpence and Miss Edith May Weigman were married by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, at the home of the bride's mother, 681 West Front street. The bridemaid was Miss Lillie Weigman, a sister of the bride, and the best man was John Utzinger. The bride was dressed in white, as was the bridemaid, and both carried white flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Hartpence will live at the home of the groom. Mr. Hartpence has been employed by the express company for three years.

$1000 FOR NEW CHURCH

SUCCESS OF FAIR GIVEN BY CHURCH OF REDEEMER WOMEN.

The Receipts Were $1,100 and Expenses Estimated Not to Exceed $100—Most Popular People Determined by Votes.

The fair and bazaar held last week for the benefit of the Church of the Redeemer came to a close Saturday evening. It was a great wonderful success throughout. The attendance during the various days was large. There were about three hundred suppers served in the dining room. One of the great successes of the affair were the concerts given by Mr. Moore on his phonograph. These concerts netted about $16.

In the contests there was much excitement. Mrs. Phillips was presented with the painting by Mr. Jefferson, she being voted the most popular woman in Plainfield. E. L. Suffern was voted the most popular man and was presented with the pastel donated to the fair by John Wanamaker.

In the bean guessing contest Mrs. Charles Matthews won the handsome picture of the battleship Maine. In the contests in guessing the names of dolls, Mrs. Clapp secured one doll whose name was "Mabel." Mr. Audsley secured the other doll by guessing the name of "Alice." The large doll being voted for was won by Miss Kate Barlow. She received over three hundred votes. About $75 was realized at the doll booth. In all about $1,100 was taken in at the fair, and it is believed that $1,000 will be profit.

Saturday evening the vestry of the church gave a dinner to Bishop Scarborough. There were several Plainfield clergymen and their wives present. At the service in the Church of the Redeemer yesterday morning Bishop Scarborough was present and gave the collection toward the New Church building fund. The new church is now practically an assured fact and the workers feel well repaid for their earnest efforts and labors.

CHANGE OF CURATES AT ST. MARY'S

Father McCormick Exchanged Places With Father Westman at Jersey City.

Father McCormick has had comunication with Vice President Hobart concerning his appointment as chaplain on one of the battle ships, and while nothing definite has been settled in regard to it, it is thought that Father McCormick has gone to Jersey Cith the idea of being near the navy yard in case the appointment comes.

Yesterday Father Westman, of Jersey City, who has been sent to take Father McCormick's place, as curate of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, officiated at the services of the church. Father McCormick has been sent to a parish in Jersey City.

U.S. BECOMES A POWER BY SPREADING GOSPEL

Rev. J. W. Richardson Preaches a Strong Sermon.

ATTACKS MONROE DOCTRINE

SAYS THAT IT STANDS IN THE WAY OF CHRISTIAN PROGRESS.

In This War God's Design is Shown in the Victory of Dewey, and Out of the Conflict a Republican Form Government Will be Shown the Superior of a Monarchy—He Says "For the Sake of Gospel the time Has Come for Us as a People to Lay Aside the Monroe Doctrine and Become a Power."

Rev. J. W. Richardson, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, preached such an excellent sermon pertinent to the present situation of affairs existing between Spain and this country, last Sunday, that at the earnest request of the members of his church he repeated the sermon last evening. The pastor chose his text from the Book of Jeremiah, and made some startling statements as to the future of this land. Mr. Richardson spoke somewhat as follows:

"The law of divine action upon nations has undergone a material alteration since the time of Jeremiah. Every nation has a character just as an individual has, and under the control of infinite justice will come under the judgment of a just mercy seat. Natural destruction is the culmination of all wicked nations, but if a nation repents and turns to God she averts the punishment. Human history demonstrates these facts. Egypt had that chance, but the empty plains and deserted cities testify to the fact of God's wrath.

"That God is still guiding the keels of ships and the movement of armies is shown on every side. Prior to 1861 how the pulpit and the polititions lifted up their voices against war; but there had been a series of crimes committed and the cry was for justice. In 1861 we as a people were politic but not repentent. Some impulse stirred the South and they fired the first shot. Until Lincoln issued the emancipation proclamation our armies were not victorious.

"Emerson truly says that America is only another name for God's best opportunities, and it is because of this condition that America is engaged in another war. The hour has struck and God takes hold of the national instrument and guides the ship of state.

"In this war God's design is shown. Spain became the mother of superstition and fostered evil traits for centuries. She has perpetuated the cock and bull fight; she laughed at a reaping time. In 1800 Spain possessed a great portion of the world; in '98 years she has lost all except Cuba and Porto Rico, and by 1900 it is possible that she will have lost even the home land.

"In that battle at Manila the mines were exploded before the American ships had reached them, and the Spanish gunners shot wide of their marks. The hand of God managed the men in that battle, who were but instruments in His hand to carry on a purpose for which he has been fitting the world through this country for ages. Out of the present war God's hand will weave a divine pattern. We can put eleven millions of men in the field and in a few years could build a fleet that would defy the world. In this war God is going to show the superiority of the republican form of government over the monarchial. The nations of Europe are on the eve of a gigantic struggle against the power of monarchs, and we are to be a terrible example, especially as in a few hours, as it were, America took her place at the side of the Six Powers.

"Then again this war comes just as the door of the world is about to be shut against the Christ, and we will have a part in spreading the Gospel to those nations that know Him not. For the sake of the Gospel the time has come for us as a people to lay aside the Monroe Doctrine and to become a power in the world."

A Bad Tumble.

Frank Denicklau, of Hall's pharmacy, met with a serious accident yesterday morning while wheeling on Watchung avenue near Fifth street. Several spokes in the front wheel of his bicycle broke, which threw Denicklau almost directly under a rapidly-moving trolley car. He was unconscious when picked up, but soon regained his senses and patched up the cuts on his face and wrist with court plaster.

FOR DEWEY'S RELIEF

Three Shipments of Men to Sail To-morrow For Manilla.

BUSY DAY AT WASAINGTON

Lively at Army Headquarters—Preparing for the Dispatch of Troops—Steamships City of Pekin, Sydney and Australia to Be Employed as Transports—War Board Expects Naval Engagement Between Sampson and Cervera to End the War.

Washington, May 23.—Army headquarters was as busy yesterday, as on week days, as the moving of large bodies of men gives scant time for Sunday rest. An extended dispatch was received from San Francisco, giving the final details of the embarkation of troops for the Philippines next Tuesday.

It is stated that the City of Pekin, the Sydney and the Australia would sail on that day with the first regiment of California Volunteers, the first Oregon Volunteers, one officer and fifty men from the heavy artillery of the California Volunteers, making in all 125 officers and 2,400 men, under Brigadier General Thomas Anderson. Though General Anderson takes charge of this command, it is understood that General Otis, who is in San Francisco, will accompany the expedition.

The Pekin was originally secured by the navy department, but as she is so large and serviceable as a troop ship the army is using her in conjunction with the navy. Besides the troops she will carry supplies and ammunition for the navy.

General Miles spent the morning in his office but in answer to inquiries said there was nothing to announce as to his own plans or the concentration of troops in the South.

Secretary Alger called at the White House at half past ten o'clock and was with the president for fifteen minutes.

Secretary Day and Assistant Secretary Cridler were at the state department part of the day, but it was said by those in authority that no word of importance had been received from our consular officers in the West Indies. They would be about the first to report an engagement in that locality.

The rumors of a great naval battle, current last night, were disposed of by the navy department early to-day in the following official bulletin:

"No truth in the published statement concerning an engagement off St, Nicholas Mole, Hayti, in which twelve ships were sunk."

This was posted not only for general information, but also to quiet the alarm among relatives and friends of those on board the American ships. As a rule, the department adopts the cautious phraseology of stating that no official information has been received, but to make assurance doubly sure in this case, the department declared there was "no truth" in the reports. This indicates that the official information is such as to warrant the statement that the American and Spanish squadrons have not met.

It is evidently the view of the war board that an engagement, if it can be brought on, will be decisive of the whole war, and there is no purpose to allow such momentous results to go off on a fluke, or on a too precipitous move in deference to the public pressure for results, but to move firmly, yet cautiously, and insure a victory when there is a fight.

Cadiz Fleet Still at Home.

London, May 23.—A British steamer just in from Cadiz reports having seen Admiral Camara's fleet, the Spanish reserve squadron, moored in that harbor.

Workmen were engaged on all the ships of the fleet, one of which, the armored cruiser Carlos V, had damaged boilers.

This was nine days ago, and it will take at least a fortnight before the Carlos V will be in shape again to put to sea.

This report settles the rumors of the Spanish reserve fleet having been sighted off the West Indies or New Foundland.

"Rough Riders" Are Ready.

San Antonio, Texas, May 23.—The strictest military discipline prevails at the camp of the "Rough Riders" here, and Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt will go into the field with a well drilled body of men. He is indefatigable in keeping the men at work, and the "Fifth Avenue" contingent has to do its full share. No passes are given except to men who have been on guard duty twenty-four hours or who have good excuses for getting out of camp.

J. Lorimer Wordin, son of Daniel T. Worden, of the New York Stock Exchange, and Roscoe Channing, the Princeton football player, are the latest prominent men to enlist.

TO RETAKE MANILA.

The Big Cruiser Passed Trough the Golden Gate Yesterday Morning.

San Francisco, May 23.—The Charleston is well on her way to Manila.

The big cruiser passed through the Golden Gate at twenty minutes past eight yesterday morning, after having been anchored in the stream all night. She adjusted her compass at an early hour, and then passed up the bay through the Raccoon Straits, and passed the docks on the northern frontage of the city.

Every steam vessel in the harbor blew au revoir to Captain Glass and his crew. None of the forts in the harbor saluted the vessel, but the demonstration made by the 6,000 soldiers gathered at the Presidio was tremendous.

Never has a war vessel leaving this harbor received such a send off as was given the Charleston, which was the first of the American fleet to be built on the Pacific coast. She was launched from the Union Iron Works in this city ten years ago, and was one of the "nest eggs" of the present American navy.

PHILIPPINES TO BE HELD.

General Merritt To Be Clothed With the Powers of a Colonial Governor-General.

Washington, May 23.—The permanent possession of the Philippines is strongly indicated as the determined policy of the United States in the action taken by the president in two important matters, following closely in the line of the extraordinary development which the project to reinforce Admiral Dewey has assumed in the last two weeks, the strength of the military expedition in that time having been raised from 5,000 to 15,000 men, while the proportion of regulars to volunteers was maintained at one-third, largely through the efforts of Major General Merritt.

The second important development in the Philippine matter to-day related to the scope of the authority which General Merritt will exercise when he reaches the islands. In addition to his military authority as commanding general of the recently organized army department of the Pacific, he is apparently to be clothed with powers similar to those exercised by a governor general in foreign colonial establishments. The state department, under the direction of the president, has been engaged for several days preparing elaborate instructions for General Merritt, which are regarded as strictly confidential. Both Secretary Alger and Secretary Long have been frequently consulted in regard to these instructions, which are understood to attach certain plenipotentiary attributes to the commanding general.

The difficulties attending the dispatch of the Monterey to a base fully seven thousand miles from home are serious but the navy department is fully prepared to overcome them. The Monterey's total bunker capacity is 230 tons, and with this amount of fuel she is capable, under natural draught, at a speed averaging from eight to ten knots, of accomplishing two thousand miles straightaway.

It will be possible after leaving Honolulu to take advantage of the numerous small islands extending in a chain fully 2,000 miles to the westward of the Hawaiian group and to lie to in their lee and recoal from the collier.

The arrival of the Monterey at Manila, together with the rehabilitation of the forts at the entrance of that harbor, which will be speedily accomplished when General Merritt's advance guard reaches there, is relied on to make the American position in the East impregnable to any force which Spain can spare from the defence of the peninsula.

The Monterey is at present commanded by Lieutenant Commander James William Carlin, who has been attached to the vessel as executive officer almost continuously since she was placed in commission, over five years ago. He succeeded to the command when Captain Clark was suddenly detached six weeks ago to bring the Oregon around to the Atlantic.

SPANISH FLEET SHORT OF COAL.

When They Reached Curacoa the Sailors Had Had Nothing, but Beans to Eat for Five Days and Coal Was Badly Needed.

Port au Prince, May 23.—Rear Admiral Osbon arrived here on the Dutch steamer Prins Frederik Hendrik, from Curacoa, where he met the Spanish fleet, consisting of the cruisers Vizcaya, Infanta Maria Teresa, Equidibo (presumably the Almirante Oquendo) and the Cristobal Colon and two torpedo boat destroyers.

The Spanish squadron took on three hundred tons of bad coal and one hundred tons of provisions and left Curacoa on Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. At half past ten o'clock they could still be sighted steaming westward.

The ships have little or no coal and scant supplies of provisions. The allowance to the men of the ships' crews for five days had been nothing but beans.

The torpedo boat destroyers are almost empty, and in such condition that they would be unable to do much damage.

It is the general belief here that the battleship Oregon by this time has joined Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet, enabling him easily to be victorious over the Spanish fleet.

FORTS SHELLED AT NEUVATIS.

Gen. Blanco Wires News of a Bombardment by the American Fleet.

Madrid, May 23.—An official dispatch from General Blanco says some American warships shelled the forts guarding the water approach to Neuvitas, Province of Puerto Principe, on Thursday night last.

Nuevitas, otherwise Las Nuevitas del Principe, is a small town on the northeast coast of Cuba. It is the port of Puerto Principe, capital of the province of that name, and is situated about 52 miles by rail from the city of Puerto Principe.

The harbor is about fifteen miles in length and about seven and a half miles broad. It is approached by a passage known as the Puerto de Nuevitas, which is about three-fourths of a mile wide, on an average.

The population of Nuevitas is about 2,000 souls. Nuevitas would seemingly be an excellent place to land troops for the purpose of advancing on the city of Puerto Principe, which is the center of the province of that name and commands that part of Cuba.

Puerto Principe has a population of about 30,000 and is one of the most important cities in Cuba.

To Cut the Galveston Cable.

Madrid, May 23.—The information received here as to the whereabouts of the Spanish Cape Verde squadron is contradictory. The government maintains absolute secrecy on the subject. But, it is officially declared, if the Americans cut the Cuban cable, the Spaniards will retaliate by cutting the Galveston cable, so as to interrupt Southern Pacific communication.

General Shafter Assumes Command a Tampa.

General Shafter has assumed command of the Fifth Army Corps, composed of the regular and volunteer troops stationed at Tampa and vicinity.

ARMY WAITS ON NAVY

Admiral Sampson Will Be Given the First Chance at Spaniards.

THE CABINET CENSORED

The Oregon Reports that She is Ready for Business After Her Cruise from San Francisco—Scions of Noble Sires seem in Favor With the Administration—Harrison and Blaine Sworn in—Department Officials Will Not Talk.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—Naval officers in this city believe that the greatest crisis of the war is near at hand.

The belief is growing that the Spanish and American fleets are gradually nearing each other and that before many more days have passed news will be heard of a great conflict.

From what leaks out at the navy department, despite the strict orders in regard to secrecy, it is evident that unless the plans of the administration are upset, Admiral Sampson will soon encounter Admiral Cervera.

Oregon in No Need of Repairs.

The reports to the department from the Oregon show that she needs no repairs to her machinery after her 13,000 miles' continuous run.

The Buffalo, which came with the Oregon from Brazil, is to be overhauled at Newport News, furnished with armor, given a good battery of five-inch guns and altogether made a very effective modern cruiser. This will take about two months.

Harrison and Blaine Sworn in.

Major and Inspector General Russell P. Harrison of the volunteer army and Assistant Adjutant General James G Blaine have taken their oaths of office at the war department. It is said that Mr. Blaine has been assigned to the staff of General Merritt, in which case he will accompany that officer to the Philippines.

No News Given Out by Navy Department

The navy department gives out no news touching the movements of the American or Spanish squadrons. What the officials most fear is the effect that might be produced upon our people by greatly exaggerated and misleading reports from Spanish sources of some great naval engagement in which the Spaniards would claim a victory. It is realized that first news of an engagement in the neighborhood of Cuba or to the eastward may reach the United States through the Spanish cables via Madrid, and these are almost certain, no matter what the result may be, to make such a claim for victory for the Spanish side as is even now put forth by the Spaniards in Havana in the case of the battle of Manila bay. Obviously the only manner in which the truth could be discovered would be through our own official reports.

President McKinley has established a "censorship" over the cabinet. Hereafter only Secretary Long of the navy department and Secretary Alger of the war department are to possess the war secrets. The other members of the cabinet are to know only such news as the president and his war aids may think advisable to tell them.

Army Will Wait An Navy.

General Miles says that nobody knows when the invasion of Cuba will occur. He says that this will depend entirely upon the developments in the navy and repeated the statement made frequently before that the army is waiting for the naval branch.

As soon as the Spanish fleet is safely out of the way there will be no more delay in sending troops to the island.

Before surrendering command of the department of the East General Merritt formed a plan of the troops that should occupy Camp Black. He chose the three remaining New York regiments, and three from Pennsylvania, making six troops, or about 7,000 men for the encampment.

General Merritt concluded his business at the war department Saturday noon and at 3 o'clock began his journey to San Francisco. There will be between 1200 and 1,500 men in the first detachment to go, and General Anderson will proceed at that time.

Spanish Warships Not Allowed to Coal.

There is nothing to report as to the movements of the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror, and the hospital ship Alicante, which are still at Fort de France. The Spanish consul there made a desperate attempt to allow the British steamer Twickenham to discharge her coal cargo or to supply the Terror and Alicante with coal, but the government positively refused to allow this to be done.

Sampson Places More Scouts.

Key West, May 23.—The departure of the Bancroft, the Castine, the Helena and the Wilmington under "hurry orders," is taken by naval men to mean that Sampson has thrown out a second line of scouts to the southwest, where the Cincinnati and Vesuvius are supposed to be watching the Yucatan channel.

Old pilots here believe that the Spanish fleet might easily work west without being discovered and be able to break the blockade if the fleet arrived before Sampson or Schley.

Venezuela Honors Harrison.

Washington, May 23.—Ex-President Harrison has, it is learned upon high authority, been selected by the government of Venezuela as counsel to represent it before the board of arbitration appointed to settle the historic boundary dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela.

War Does Not Increase Bread Rate.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—Complaints are going up all over the country because the bakers are raising the price of bread. Some have attributed this to the war, but Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson says the cause of it lies in the fact that the world's last wheat crop was short something like 400,000,000 bushels.

VAN WYCK SWEEPS THE DECK.

Knocks Out Chief McCullagh and Two Republican Commissioners.

New York, May 23.—Mayor Van Wyck's summary action by which the two Republican police commissioners, Phillips and Hamilton, and Chief McCullagh were decapitated, Saturday, promises to raise a merry row.

It is generally understood that the remaining appointment to fill the board will fall to some one who can be classed as a Brooklyn Republican.

The Republican leaders, however, are quoted as saying that they will repudiate any man who is appointed except on the suggestion of the organization, and that they will decline to name anybody for the place.

If any man is found who will accept the office under these conditions, say the politicians, the organization will politically declare that it will not stand for any of its acts.

Recent events lead to the belief that negotiations were under way before the mayor's axe fell to give one of the police commissionerships to ex-County Clerk Jacob Worth or ex-Sheriff Billy Buttling of Brooklyn.

The selection of Worth would be particularly distasteful to Platt and his followers because of Worth's open advocacy of the nomination and election of Seth Low.

Senator Platt met some of his lieutenants at he Fifth Avenue Hotel last night. Fred Gibbs, Lou Payn, Reuben L. Fox, secretary of the state committee, Judge Clarence Meade, and Postmaster Van Cott were among his callers.

During the evening Former Commissioner Hamilton and ex-Chief McCullagh dropped in.

The leaders roundly denounced Mayor Van Wyck, and it was said a line of action was suggested by which the Republicans could get square.

The Platt faction of the Republican party will make a desperate effort to depose Mayor Van Wyck by appealing to Governor Black, who has that power.

The Republican "boss" is enraged over the mayor's abrupt removal of his police commissioners. It is said he will attempt to have Governor Black call an extra session of the legislature, and bring charges against the mayor for violating the spirit of a bi-partisan police board, whereby he may be suspended from office for thirty days.

Tammany fears that he might be able to have a bill put through taking the police management out of the hands of the mayor.

FALL RIVER MILLS SHUT DOWN.

500,000 Spindles Idle Owing to Depression in Print Cloth Market.

Fall River, Mass., May 23.—More than half a million spindles are idle in this city to-day caused by the shut down of the Merchants', Sagamore No. 1, American Linen and the Fall River Iron Works mills.

Managers who have been advocating a shut down for some time are growing uneasy at the gloomy optiook in the print cloth market. The easy money market which prevails now is a primary cause in keeping a number of manufactories running.

At least four, and, unless all New England curtails production, probably an increased number of manufactories will not lessen the output during the summer months, as they harbor a hope that the general prosperity of the country will surely be reflected shortly in the cotton goods market. Some mill men are accepting limited contracts at figures netting little or no profit, but which enables them to meet the pay roll.

APPEALS TO BURGLARS.

Senator Mason, Robbed of Jewelry, Pleads for Its Return.

Washington, May 23.—The house of Senator William Mason of Illinois was entered by burglars last night and jewelry to the value of nearly $4,000 stolen. Not a clue to either the burglars or the jewelry has been obtained. This evening Senator Mason issued to the burglars a characteristic appeal, which he hopes will be heeded. It is as follows:

"To the gentlemen who robbed my house last night:

"I will pay in cash more than anyone else for the watch and pin you took last night and give you my word and honor that you shall not be prosecuted for the taking of them. The pin has a portrait of my little son, who died years ago, and it was, as was also the watch, a present to me. You can communicate with me by mail or in person, and you

Dynamite Meant for Troop Trains.

Oakland, Cal., May 23.—The discovery of a stick of dynamite at the Emeryville station is causing the police and railroad officials much anxiety. The dynamite was found hidden among some rubbish and is now in possession of Division Superintendent Aglar. Much significance was attached to the discovery, owing to the fact that nearly every day trains loaded with troops are passing through that locality on their way to San Francisco.

CUBAN OFFICIAL TALKS

Senor Capote Vice-President of the Republic Here.

WANTS ENTIRE FREEDOM

Says Outside Control Will Not Be Tolerated—Expresses the Gratitude of the Cuban People Toward the American Nation for Procuring Them Their Liberty but Is Surprised at the Slowness of the Operations.

New York, May 23.—The Herald publishes the following interview with Senor Capote, vice president of the Cuban republic, who is now on his way to Washington:

"I desire you," he said, "to thank the great American people and their government for the resolution they have made to free us from the tyranical rule of Spain. The people of Cuba believe in the good faith of the people of America. They believe in their honesty of purpose to free Cuba, and are confident of their ability to do so, but it must be borne in mind that the loadstar of the Cuban is not merely freedom from the dominion of Spain but independence from outside control, however benificent that control might be, and absolute non-interference by others in the management of our own affairs. 'Cuba free and independent is the watchword of Cuban liberty.

"We in Cuba have been somewhat surprised at the slowness as yet of the operations, but we are content to wait, believing the delay has been part of the plan of the American commanders and that the future will show the wisdom of the course adopted.

Suffering of Spanish Soldiers.

"I do not believe the war will last long. Our spies in the Spanish camps report great misery, starvation and discomfort among the troops. The Spaniards are morally defeated, and a decided movement will bring thousands now undecided to our camp. I cannot, of course, say what will be the result of the objective point, but I can say that a definite plan has been decided upon, and only awaits the word to be set in motion."

The Herald's correspondent gave Senor Capote the first detailed news of the Manila fight. He had heard only Spanish versions, and said:

"It is a great victory—a noble victory, worthy of American sailors and their traditions. I only wish news from Sampson will be equally good. My visit to Washington is partly financial, partly political. I cannot say what it is, but it is connected with the internal organization of the island, and for the co-operation of the American forces. I shall not interfere with Senor Palma, but my visit will enable Washington to know exactly my government's views, with the view of a firm mutual understanding."

Insurgents Awaiting Our Army.

"The Cuban commanders await some decisive step on the part of your generals. If you can open up and maintain communication with the Cuban armies and give us a plentiful supply of arms and ammunition we will free Cuba without the loss of an American soldier.

"Our position on the field is precarious. For lack of supplies we cannot concentrate our troops. Our camps shift from place to place according to food conditions. We are hampered and embarrassed for lack of ammunition. We cannot arm the men we are able to put in the field.

"Open up communication, give us arms and supplies and we ask no more.

"As to the eventual settlement of the island, when the war is ended and when the last Spanish soldier has left Cuba, the work of the provisional government will be ended. The people of Cuba, whatever their class or sympathy, will then say how we shall be governed. There will be no reprisals, no confiscation, no distinctions. The past will be forgotten in hopes for the future.

"As to the present military situation, we are awaiting the development of the American plans. General Garcia is at Battamo, and can concentrate 10,000 to 12,000 troops around Santiago in a few days' time to protect an American landing. General Rodriguez, in the west, can throw 15,000 troops to assist in an assault on Havana.

"Lieutenants Fremont and Rowan have put the plans of your war department in Gomez's and Garcia's possession. These have been modified by our commanders, and have gone back for acceptance and execution. I expect a definite movement very soon.

POLO FINALLY GETS OUT.

The Spanish Minister at Last Ends His Vacation in Canada.

Montreal, Juebec, May 23.—Senor Polo, ex-Spanish minister to Washington, and party, sailed on the steamship Dominion Saturday for Liverpool, en route to Madrid. It is understood Senor du Bosc, ex-charge d'affaires at Washington, left the boat at Quebec and will either remain there or return here. A United States secret service man was also a passenger.

Blanco Sends Rosy Reports.

Madrid, May 23.—A dispatch from Havana announces that two American warships shelled Guantanamo on Friday without doing any damage. General Blanco won another "victory." He says the American ships, "in order to deceive the garrison, hoisted Spanish flags, but were immediately recognized and repulsed.'"

General Blanco also reports that the Spanish soldiers have defeated several insurgent bands in the provinces of Matanzas and Havana. As usual, several insurgents have been killed.

Six Prize Ships Condemned.

Key West, Fla., May 23.—In the United States court, Judge James W. Locke presiding, six of the Spanish ships seized as prizes were adjudged to be legal prizes and were ordered sold at auction.

EDWARD BELLAMY PASSES AWAY.

The Author of "Looking Backward" Dies After a Lingering Illness.

Springfield, Mass., May 23.—Edward Bellamy, author of "Looking Backward," "Equality," etc., died at his home in Chicopee Falls Sunday morning.

Mr. Bellamy had been ill with pulmonary trouble for a long time. His labors on his book "Equality," undermined his health. When his illness assumed a very serious phase last fall, Mr. Bellamy went to Denver, Col., to live with his brother, Frederick P. Bellamy, thinking the Colorado climate would prove beneficial. When he saw that his death was but the question of a few weeks, he returned to Chicopee Falls, his old home.

It is rare indeed that a man's name becomes a household word and remains so for ten years, on the reputation of one book. "Looking Backward" was the popular success of the year in which it was published, 1887, and there has been a steady demand for it ever since. The book has had an enormous sale, so great that it has been estimated that the copies sold would make a ring around the earth, placed side by side. Mr. Bellamy never traded on his sudden popularity. He did not bring out a slipshod book in six months and sell it on the strength of the first success. He wrote nothing for ten years and then he produced "Equality," a sequel and continuation of "Looking Backward."

Mr. Bellamy was born in 1850 at Chicopee Falls, Mass., which has always been his home. The village is now absorbed into the city of Chicopee. He lived in his old home, which was long the home of his father before him, a plain, comfortable house. His father was a Baptist clergyman, very highly thought of in the town.

Mr. Bellamy entered Union College, in Schenectady, but did not graduate. He spent a year in Germany and then studied law, but never practiced. Instead he became a newspaper man, afterward a literateur. He was a member of the staffs of the New York Evening Post, the Springfield Union and other papers.

His earliest works were "Doctor Heidenhof's Process," "Miss Ludington's Sister," and many short stories in leading magazines.

These works all possessed distinct literary value, especially the short stories, many of which were exquisite, but all have been overshadowed and forgotten in the success of "Looking Backward."

Mr. Bellamy was one of the most modest and retiring of men. After his first phenomenal success a thousand opportunities for notoriety were afforded him. Offers for lecture engagements, requests for magazine articles on his own subjects and at his own terms, inducements to send his old stories afloat upon the full sea of public favor—all were declined.

He used everything in an effort to benefit the struggling masses and died as poor as he was before he achieved his great success. Much of his money was expended in an effort to make a practical demonstration of his socialistic ideas, by means of a colony which he founded.

Notorious All-around Thief Caught.

Philadelphia, May 23.—Joseph Killoran, alias Joe Howard, one of the most notorious bank robbers and all around thieves in the country, and one of the three men who made a daring escape from Ludlow street jail, in New York on July 3, 1895, has been captured in this city. When caught Killoran was in the active pursuit of his old vocation, stealing.

Joseph Killoran is a New Yorker by birth and comes from a good family. At the time of his parents's death he, with his brothers and sisters, inherited considerable property but his share was spent in gambling and riotous living.

Through gambling he became acquainted with professional thieves and when his money was gone he joined a party of pickpockets.

Only Athletes Need Apply.

Boston, Mass., May 23.—To-morrow morning Robert Treat Paine, Jr., will open an office and begin the enlistment of men for a provisional company, to be ready at any moment to respond to the call of the government. Util they are called they will serve the state as defenders. Mr. Paine has advertised for strong, athletic men, from twenty-one to thirty years of age and over 5 feet 7 inches in height. He expects to have no difficulty in raising the company.

An order regarding provisional companies has just been issued by the adjutant general, and provides that the state armories will be at their disposal.

Whaling Fleet Reported Lost.

San Francisco, May 23.—Much concern was caused in maritime circles here by the receipt of a letter from Afognak stating that a man had just arrived there bringing the distressing news that he was the only survivor of the whalers who have been imprisoned in the ice all winter.

Pope Orders Strictest Neutrality.

Rome, May 23.—The queen regent of Spain having personally appealed to the pope to command the clergy of Spain to obstain from all Carlist agitation, the pope to-day replied to the queen that he would compel the observance of the strictest neutrality.

A Secessionist Regiment.

One of the strangest scenes in our American history, a scene that those who witnessed it, and especially those who took part in it, will never forget, occurred at the New York state volunteer encampment at Camp Black, on Long Island.

Among regiments ordered into camp was the Thirteenth, New York national guard. Under the new battalion arrangement of the troops it is necessary for some of the old regiments to lose their organization and become parts of other regiments. Of course, while this would not be pleasant, no true soldier or American who loved his country would hesitate one moment to obey if it fell to the lot of his company to become part of another regiment than the one to which he originally belonged. A soldier's first duty is obedience. The Thirteenth New York of Brooklyn was one of those whose fate it was to give up their regimental organization for the efficiency of the service. At once the men, headed by officers who thus doubly disgraced themselves, rebelled and refused to go to war if they could not preserve their regimental form. They sulked and proved refractory. Finally all who would not volunteer individually were sent out of camp and home. A third of the regiment elected to obey orders and serve in the war wherever it was considered best to place them. In presence of the whole camp the rest were ordered from their quarters and were marched off toward home. Amid the jeers and insults of the other soldiers they walked out. A thousand men whistled the rogues' march after them. "Cowards, dogs, traitors!" yelled hundreds of voices. Hisses and curses followed them. Men picked up potatoes, tomatoes, onions from their mess cans, chunks of earth, anything, and hurled the missiles after the departing Thirteenth. They endeavored to explain after they had sulkily crept back home that they would have been glad to go under their own officers, that they had spent $5,000 for pictures, carpets and chairs for their armory and these would have all been lost if they had given up their regimental organization.

Well, they saved their pictures, their carpets and chairs.

But so long as the last man of that crawfishing regiment survives he will be pointed at as one of those who were drummed out of Camp Black to the tune of the rogues' march, the fire of rotten tomatoes and the curses and hisses of their comrades. Were their carpets and chairs worth such a prize?

It is likely that more than one important modification will be made in the United States constitution in the next few years. One of these will be the changing of presidential inauguration day from March 4 to May 4. The other change, a resolution providing for which has already passed the house of representatives, will be an important one, modifying not only a form, but a principle. It is significant indeed that the national house has voted its approval of the proposition to elect United States senators by popular vote instead of by the state legislatures. Most significant of all is the fact that the original resolution reported to the house, which left it optional with the voters of a state whether they would elect their senators directly or allow the legislature to do so, was amended so as to compel the election of senator by popular ballot. This change shows that the democratic and republican idea of government by the people is growing stronger instead of weaker in our country. The founders of the government, enlightened and generations ahead of the thought of their time as they were, could not quite get it into their heads that the people of a country could manage their own business. Results have shown that the people of this country at any rate are intelligent and patriotic enough to elect the right kind of rulers and that they may be trusted altogether. If they cannot, then they do not deserve good lawmakers and officials.

Some Americans have had hard thoughts toward the railroad companies of this country. These companies have now, however, undertaken a work which will go far to earn them the full forgiveness of all who have held a grudge at them. They are raising a fund by voluntary contribution among themselves to build and equip a first class battleship and present her to the United States government. This is noble and patriotic and is helping the government just where it needs help most. We suggest, however, that instead of a battleship the railroads make it a splendid, first class, fully equipped cruiser which will travel as fast as one of their own trains. If we had a couple of these swift cruisers now on the Pacific coast, vessels as fast, say, as the Paris, it would not be so long till Dewey could be assisted.

If any friendly nation's stores, factories, ships or subjects are injured by the United States in the fight against Spain in the Philippines or elsewhere, these nations may be assured they will get full pay for all such. Unlike Spain, Uncle Sam pays his way, if not as he goes, at least very soon after he has passed by.

Before all we are Americans, loyal to our country. Our souls glow with pride in our beautiful flag, our hearts go out with it over land and sea, wherever it may be in the utmost parts of the earth.

MAJOR GENERALS OF VOLUNTEERS.

President McKinley has selected Generals Fitzhugh Lee, James H. Wilson and Joseph H. Wheeler as major generals of volunteers. The three have records for conspicuous service during the Civil War. General Wilson served on the Union side, while Generals Lee and Wheeler battled for the Southern Confederacy.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News, but Just as Interesting.

Saturday Justice Austin, of the borough, went to Somerville to get his papers to practice as a justice of the peace in Somerset county for another term of five years. This makes the fifth time that the justice has gone through this form, and he has served the people of Somerset county now for twenty-five years as justice of the peace. Justice Austin is now entering upon his twenty-sixth year as justice.

Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, of Scotch Plains, has purchased for presentation to Rear-Admiral Dewey, a Barye bronze, an eagle perched on a rock, and with a dead heron at its feet. Dr. Coles selected the bronze because he regarded it as typical of Dewey's victory at Manila. The eagle is the American emblem, and the heron is reputed ignoble and cruel, using the dagger-like bill upon friend and foe to torture rather than to slay. According to the English naturalist, J. G. Wood, a tame heron, upon being placed in an aviary with five owls, totally blinded four and destroyed one eye of the fifth. Rear Admiral Dewey's name and that of the vessels under his command will be inscribed on the bronze. It will be placed on exhibition at Tiffany's in New York today.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

"A Soldier's Vow" is the title of the play which the management of the Stillman Music Hall announces for this evening. The American Stock Company will comprise the interpreters of this well fashioned piece, players of distinction, well known to the theatre-going public of Plainfield.

Tonight is lady's special ticket night. One paid ticket at 80 cents will entitle the holder to one extra lady's ticket to the best seat in the house.

There will be a matinee Wednesday to accomodate those living at a distance, the prices being 10 and 20 cents. The attraction is of the highest order of excellence in every essential, and the moderate low prices indicated should pack the theatre to its utmost capacity.

Manager Maze Edwards has effected an arrangement with Mr. Benj. La Vere, director of the new Queen City Band, of Plainfield, for a series of weekly band concerts to take place at the Music Hall through the summer months. The first of the concerts will take place Thursday night of this week, on which occasion the band will have the assistance of Prof. P. Ludwig Conde, violinist, and Prof. Wm. N. Bartow, solo cornetist. An unexcelled programme of musical gems will be offered, including all the latest popular and patriotic airs. All who have heard the Queen City Band are loud in praise of the excellence of its work. It was a feature at the "Red Cross" benefit last week. It is composed of local people and should have the support and patronage of our entire community. General admission will be 15 and 25 cents and reserved seats can be obtained for 35 cents.

Pawnee Bill's Show.

Pawnee Bill's combined shows gave two performances here yesterday, and we have never seen larger or better pleased audiences at any exhibition in this city. The Mexican Hippodrome races are exciting and wonderful, and the reproduction of the Mountain Meadow massacre and a vivid and most realistic drama of life in the land of the setting sun, was well worth double the price of admission. The lassoing of wild buffalo and long-horned Texas steers, the rifle shooting of Miss May Lillie, the wonderful performance of riding and driving at the same time, 35 wild mustangs, are all grand features. This show has the reputation of performing all it advertises. It deserves it.—Rochester, N. Y., Herald.

—The Twilight Social Club of this city will give a grand picnic in the Crescent Rink May 30th, (Decoration Day), afternoon and evening, and the committee in charge will use every effort in their power to make it pleasant for all who attend. The music will be under the direction of Prof. Rogers.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflammed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
